Stewart Will Face Murder Trial In U.S.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Aug. 4.—(C. P. Cable)—Having decided not to appeal a court decision ordering his extradition to the United States to answer a charge of murder, the self-styled Robert Jones, erstwhile steward on the Liner Lady Nelson, is being turned over to United States authorities.

A long legal battle over, the question of extradition ended last month when Magistrate K. Vincent Brown decided that "Arthur C. Wilson and Robert Jones have been shown to be one and the same person." Wilson had been sought by Texas police since last November, when the nude body of Mrs. Irene Debolt was found in the desert near Van Horn, Texas. Previously, it was said, she left her home in Cleveland with Wilson, also a resident of that city.

ENGLAND'S 'FIREBAND' DEAN MAY TAKE FLING AT POLITICS TO CLIMAX CAREER AS CRITIC

Dean Inge Recently Gave Up Office in St. Paul's Cathedral.

CRITIC FOR DECADES.

By HARRY LEVIN
Central Press Canadian Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 4. — "Gloomy" Dean Inge, who recently gave up his office in St. Paul's cathedral, is seriously thinking of becoming a candidate for parliament.

All England probably would view with a kind of fascinated horror the spectacle of the doleful churchman standing up in the House of Commons in an official capacity and blasting forth again at some sentimental or traditional fancy that the dean thinks is "baloney," to use a slang phrase.

Critic for Decades

Reverend W. R. Inge has been calling many things in the world "baloney" in his acid and witty style for a couple of decades. There are two men in the world whom people like to see in verbal action. One is the dean and the other is George Bernard Shaw, fellow countryman of Dean Inge.

But because the churchman has gone about in his official garb of black leggings, silk hat, clerical collar, with an open frock coat disclosing his robe and umbrella in hand, his performances in wit and denunciation have always enjoyed more audience and response than the white-bearded Irishman.

During America's prohibition era, after returning from a tour in the States, the dean confessed to reporters that "he was quite glad to get back to the deanery's cellars."

The dean is famous for a dry and venomous humor that whirls dizzily. He is an ultra-Conservative, harking back to the puritanism of Oliver Cromwell, but even for stupid reactionaries he holds no brief.

Democracy a "Nightmare"

If he wins a seat, most observers are agreed as to where "the firebrand" will stand. He despises trade unions and socialism. Democracy for him is a "nightmare, and has looted the accumulations of Queen Victoria's reign." Like many other brilliant European thinkers, he believes the white race is doomed by the yellow.

For Germany, he long has had much admiration. Its government under the ex-kaiser, he believes, was the best in the world.

For the "mob," he has only contempt. Long working for advancement of eugenic societies, he blames most of the world's miseries on the lack of check on the birth rate of the lower classes which continue to propagate and increase the number of "ignorant people."

Despite his resignation from St. Paul's, he continues to preach and the crowds flock to hear him. Almost stone-deaf, the thin-lipped dean reads his sermons from the pulpit, almost completely indifferent to his surroundings or to the mood of the congregation.

And though he despises the "mass" ideas on the left, his biting tongue also untwists for the right partisans. Capitalism, imperialism, the idle rich, the pompous clergy, government, anti - vaccinationists, whippings in school—all come before him for comment and disposal.

SIXTY PERSONS ATTEND MEETING

PLEASING PROGRAM.

LIFFORD LINE, Aug. 4. (Examiner Correspondence).—Over sixty ladies gathered at Fleetwood United Church on Wednesday afternoon for a rally of the Women's Associations of the Fleetwood, Yelverton and Bethany churches.

Mrs. Tisdale, president of the Fleet wood branch, acted as chairlady for the opening excercises, while Mrs. McCabe, president of the Yelverton branch took charge of the program, which was contributed by the visiting branches. Miss Sarah McMullen of Bethany read the Scripture lesson which was followed by a short address by Rev. Mr. Paton expressive of commendation of such gatherings, emphasising the welcome extended by the president to the large assemblage of ladies.

The Yelverton Womens' Association rendered a beautiful chorus. Mrs. Walter Rowland gave an excellent reading. A duet by Misses Emma Henders and Laura McGill of Yelverton was much enjoyed. Mrs. J. Lawzon contributed an appropriate reading. A ladies quartette from Bethany including Mrs. Ryley, Mrs. Monk, Misses Frances McKinnon and Verna Belle Lee rendered a touching number. Mrs. George Wilson of Yelberton gave a delightful reading. Miss Verna Belle Lee and Francis McKinnon gave a vocal duet. A reading by Mrs. Thompson of Bethany was much enjoyed. The Yelverton quartette favoured with a pleasing number. Mrs. Harold Stinson of Yelverton contributed a splendid address on temperance.

A memory contest in which a number of articles placed on a tray were to be innumerated following a view of same, was much enjoyed by the ladies and was sponsored by Mrs. Hugh McGill of Yelverton. Mrs. Ernest Cornell, a visitor at Fleetwood, won the prize for the contest.

The Fleetwood ladies then invited their guests to a dainty supper served on attractively laden tables on the church grounds. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the hostess society for the enjoyable get-to-gether of the branches. Following supper a general social time was enjoyed in happy conversation among the large group Mrs. Tisdale invited the Fleetwood branch to come to her home for

Is Now More Powerful Than Emperor

PRESIDENT AND CHANCELLOR ADOLF HITLER

The once humble house-painter of Munich, Germany, is today more powerful in his country than any emperor or leader in the history of the German nation. On the death of President Paul von Hindenburg, Hitler assumed the post of presidency without relinquishing his chancellorship. This added power makes Hitler supreme in the Reich, giving not only control over the huge army of Nazi storm-troopers, but over the standing army of 100,000 picked men, said to be the finest army in the world. A mere six or seven years ago, Hitler started the National-Socialist (Nazi) party with but 13 followers. How quickly history moves!

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

138 Antrim St., City.

Your handwriting delineates you as a person who is trying to do the best, and the right thing, but due to circumstances of health and environment is finding it quite a difficult task. I admire your courage, and appreciate your confidence. You need have no fear about your future ability, for one who is really trying to learn the intricacies of household science should experience no great difficulty in obtaining the ultimate outcome of the desire. The wish to do comes first as a natural sequence, then the acquiring knowledge to obtain the wish is the next step, and after that the realization of ones hopes and dreams. So I should most certainly say that you will be successful. Night classes will commence soon at the vocational school, and I am sure that you will not regret any time which you spend upon the subject which you so much desire to learn.

The question of health is one which should also occupy a great portion of your time and thought, for you are very nervous and easily upset by prevailing conditions at present. Your family doctor, I am sure, would advise you in this respect. Nerves can and do upset the whole constitution, and should be regarded as important.

In answer to your other question concerning children, I would say yes definitely, but only after your health has been brought up to par, for when one's nerves are on edge, one cannot tolerate noise, and impatience follows, then the poor little innocent creatures are blamed for many things which are really the outcome of exuberant youth, and not from any naughtiness.

You did not give me a birthdate, month or year, so I am unable to tell you your numerological number, lucky months or days.

Mr. Victor Joseph Coombes,
143 London Street, City.

Your handwriting portrays a rather versatile nature. You seem to make up your mind what you want to do, and then all of a sudden you are off at a high rate of speed deeply interested in something else. You have many artistic tendencies, and I really think that that is the cause of your versatility, for most artistic people are temperamental in one way or another. Your type as a rule love art and beauty and are quiet by nature, often termed secretive by those who do not understand this type of nature. They are affectionate and make loyal and sincere friends. You should possess much ability to do intricate work with your hands as your brain and hands work in perfect sympathy with each other (that is when there is no noise around you) for you would be mentally upset when noise prevailed. Many people who write like you do, become authors or excell in any literary line, but you would find that your talents would not develop unless you try to develop the spiritual side of your nature. You are very energetic, but your fighting spirit is soon overcome if discord is allowed to predominate. Your birthsign is Taurus the Bull. You are ruled by Venus. Friday is your lucky day, with May or July as the most fortunate months. The Emerald is your birthstone. You should try to avoid any excess of eating or drinking, and the best months from which to choose a life partner would be: Libra, Scorpio or Capricorn. Libra is from September the 24th to October 23rd. Scorpio is from October 24th to November 22nd. Capricorn is from December 23rd to January the 20th. Your numerological number is 4. This number reflects the analytical mind, and shows that you will do business just for the sake of doing business, even when business is not at all essential. Your type usually are builders of property, and are ambitious. Many engineers and mechanical men are to be found with this number and vibration. Your destiny number is 5, and gives you an inclination to be restless, a spirit of adventure and if not guarded against a gambling trait. Natural salesmen are to be found among the fives, and they usually learn very quickly through experience, but not from books, because they will not sit still long enough to concentrate. However, as the talent number which belongs to you is a 2, it counteracts many of the above qualities, and gives you a power to control, and influence others either by good or evil. Your personality number is a 6, and creates reliability. This with your four birth path number makes you a type of person who should develop gradually into something strong, dependable and courageous.

Miss Pauline Watley, Campbellford, Ont.

Your handwriting reveals many interesting characteristics. It portrays the ability to develop excellent housekeeping qualities as you become more mature in years. Your type as a rule are quite difficult to understand, due to a tendency to let the feelings become deeply hurt over slights which were not intended to hurt. I think that you will find at these times, you allow yourself to become morose and sullen, desiring to be let alone, because you are not inclined to tell others exactly how you feel when hurt in this manner, yet, when hurt without due provocation, you are given to argumentativeness and will 'stick' to your point, even after you have found out that your point is wrong. You are quite honest, and often seem to hurt the feelings of others through your outspoken words.

Your type usually have excellent memories, and when relating incidents are apt to provoke your listeners, through too strict attention to detail, and your friends wish that you would hurry up and get to the main subject. You should possess many qualities which would lend interest to teaching, especially to small children, for your type as a rule love little children instantly. Your own nature requires a lot of love, and you will do many things for any person who praises you or gives you a friendly word of encouragement. You will no doubt admit that you are fond of good clothing, moderate in your choice of colors, and have the ability to make your own wardrobe when you have the material with which to do so. You would be punctual in keeping appointments, but would not try to arrive too soon.

You are born under the sign of Pisces the Fishes, and you are ruled by Neptune. Your most fortunate months for the commencement of important projects would be May and June. Your best day would be Saturday. You did not give me the year of your birth so I shall not be able to grant your request and give you a numerological number. Your writing, if in ink, would portray designing ability as in dressmaking, so that characteristic is quite in keeping with your general mental ability. One of your keen mentality should never be at a loss for something to say, and that something would be quite interesting.

Audrey Cunningham, Crow Bay, Ont.

Your handwriting expresses openheartedness, a rather talkative nature which is most humorous at times. You should be a very friendly person and enjoy out-of-door recreation. You have rather too much imagination, but even this, if led in the right direction, might benefit you later on. That long lower loop attendant to your letter 'g' in the word Cunningham, depicts a desire for leadership, and a keen interest in recreative sports. Dancing, swimming or any other exercise which means deportment would cover this characteristic. You are quite changeable, but most interesting. I should say that you were a person who could be happy in almost any environment provided you were comfortable, for you DO love comfort. Your writing in ink might portray a few different characteristics, but the shaping and formations of the smaller letters would be about the same. It would be only the downstrokes which would differ in thickness. However, as this is a minor characteristic, and usually pertains to one's health, the above delineation must be as correct as possible. Your type are usually best adapted to home life, but could do equally well in business if under kind supervision.

Mrs. Jane Ritchie, Crow Lake, Ont.

Your writing as portrayed for analysis, illustrates an excitable nature, rather given to doing things on the spur of the moment, usually through insight or intuition. You either like a person very well, or dislike to the same extent. You are the type of person who should attain leadership through circumstances of birth, or in other words: leadership belongs to you as a natural birthright. You are generous and forgiving, but woe-betide the person who misuses your trust, for that, you could never forgive or forget. You are open and above board yourself, and perhaps say things in your outspokenness which 'rub' people the wrong way, but that is as part of your nature, as I said before. "You like or dislike". You could be fond of music, flowers, and literature of a light type. You would become easily impatient with reading of a deeper nature. You enjoy conversation, and dearly love to express your point of view, yet you are not too set or stubborn to allow another person the privilege of gaining a point under discussion. Then you can laugh and be merry at the other person's success. I should say you were an agreeable person, adaptable and kind. Generosity seems to be your biggest fault.

SLOW RECOVERY IN MARKETS FOLLOWING SETBACK IN JULY

Canadians Anticipating Early Bullish Developments in United States Centres.

GOLDS LEAD COMEBACK.

(By Alex Pringle, aCnadian Press Financial Writer)

TORONTO, Aug. 4 (CP) — Still groggy from last week's pummelling, stock markets staggered through the opening sessions of August, slowly gaining strength and the week closes with the almost inaudible suggestion heard here and there that there may be a bull market in the Fall months after all. The drubbing given stock prices in July destroyed any such hope in many stock trading circles.

The market shake-down in the closing week of July took stock averages back to the level of last October, thus making a double bottom for the reaction from the last bull movement. Following a couple of days of quiet contemplation, a slow recovery set in, and, with intermittent halts, has been making some headway.

Canadian markets appear to be anticipating early bullish developments in the United States for the stocks of several industrial groups and the gold mining companies, all closely allied with the New York market through interlistings, have been in better demand in the last few sessions. The week closes with the report again in circulation that new inflationary measures will be resorted to as affording the only means of handling of the U. S. Government's rapidly growing debt.

Take Things Easy

Canadian markets are satisfied, like business in general, to take things easy in the holiday season, but many brokers expect to see, in the event of a new downward drift in New York or even a horisontal market action. Canadian prices pull away from those of the New York board and register values more in keeping with the general improvement in Canadian company earnings.

The gold mining stocks led in the recovery this week though the distillery issues and Ford "A" on the industrial section were not far behind. Dome and McIntyre each gained $3, Lake Shore and Hollinger about $1.50 each and Noranda also added $1.50. The other base metal stocks lagged behind.

Distillery shares moved ahead $2 to $3.40 on good volume. The idea got about again that a cut in the U. S. import duty on liquor will be announced shortly.

A BEAUTY SPOT ON THE KAWARTHAS.

The lakes in all their beauty stretch
Beneath the summer skies,
The elm trees nod their pondrous heads
At all the passers-by.

As carelessly I glance around
These balmy August days,
The beauty of the scenery
Arrests the idle gaze.

For most attractive is this place
In mid-vacation time,
When all the trees are decked in green
Along the water-line.

When little birds of every name
Are flying to and fro
In glad confusion, 'round their nests,
Built in the reeds below.

When fishes splash about in glee,
Showing their pretty fins;
When turtles revel in the mud
And frogs and water-hens.

Where hales from all four compasspoints
A pleasure-seeking crowd
That even for a few short weeks
To stay with us is proud.

I only wish that all the world
Could gaze upon the charms
Existing on the Pigeon border
And adjoining farms.

Don't say that I exaggerate,
That no such place can be;
To prove my every word is true
Just simply come and see!

Miss K. Twomey.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (CP).—"Sistie" Dall, President Roosevelt's grand-daughter, here to see the World's Fair, spent part of her time n a barber's chair. Observed 'Sistie': "I don't like braids. They fall in my soup."

Back In Power

THREATS SENT 5 MILLIONAIRES

POLICE ON TRAIL.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4 (AP).—A gang, known to police only as "The Trio," is being sought in connection with an extortion plot directed against five millionaires, among them William F. Gettle, Beverly Hills oil magnate, who was kidnapped last May and freed without the payment of ransom.

The search for the gang was disclosed to-day as investigators of the District Attorney's office and United States postal inspectors attempted to trace letters in which $60,000 in cash was demanded of the five business men.

Besides Gettle, the men who received the threats were Alexander Pantages, film impressario; E. L. Doheny, Oil king; J. J. Doyle, oil and fight promoter; and Ors Monnette, vice-president of the Bank of America.

The first extortion letter was delivered to Monnette, Thursday. A few hours later another was delivered to Pantages. Yesterday, Doyle received a letter. Neither Gettle nor Doheny were approached, so far as is known, but their names were mentioned in the other missives.

Police said none of the five intended victims was greatly alarmed but all had taken adequate steps to protect themselves. Some officers were inclined to view the whole affair as the work of cranks.

MacDonald Gives Museum Old Will

SYDNEY, N. S. Aug. 4.— (C. P.) —A crude antique grist mill which decades ago provided sturdy pioneers of Pictou County with their first grain after a plague is now in the possession of the Scottish Pioneers' Museum at Green Hill Look-out, the gift of Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain.

The Premier, visiting the Pictou Museum a few days ago was deeply impressed with the display of relics of trail-blazing days. Before leaving he made a generous cash contribution with the request that something historic be purchased and placed on display in commemoration of his visit.

"Ah, this country is so much like Scotland!" The distinguished statemai said on arrival at Sydney, last night. He and his daughter Isbbel had feasted on Mirrored Lakes, winding rivers, fertile farm lands, scenery on their first motor trip through Cape Breton Island.

Fatal Disease Spread Laid To House Fly

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Aug. 4. — (A. P. — The common house fly was blamed to-day by the Health Department for the spread of a form of dysentery which killed five children in a week and sent three score to hospitals for treatment.

Dr. Edward H. Balmon, chief of communicable disease division of Health Bureau announced his belief that the fly had carried the germ, the flexnor strain of bassilus dysentery, to widely scattered homes of the city.

To-day he issued a warning to residents to screen houses, and particularly food from the flies. A germ bearing fly he declared, can transmit the disease by contact with food or directly to a person.

Indians, Eskimos, Trappers, Prospectors Troop To Cameron Bay For Arctic Picnic

CAMERON Bay, N.W.T., Aug. 4. (CP).—Without worry of unemployment or threats of war, the northland's motley throng to-day celebrated the greatest event of the summer—the Arctic picnic.

Under a never-setting sun, Indians, Eskimos, trappers, traders and prospectors trooped into Cameron Bay, 1,100 miles northwest of Edmonton, for the big celebration. Royal Canadian Mounted Police were on hand to join in the fun, and so was Lord Duncannon, son of the Governor General of Canada.

Lord Duncannon flew into Cameron Bay from Fort Smith, N.D.T. along with Captain C. H. 'Punch' Dickins, famed flier of the north's air trails. His aides were with him and they all joined in the merry crowd that started its 48-hours of frolicking.

Rugged miners, scarlet-clad police, trappers and traders joined the Indians and Eskimos in plodding the trails, winding over the water routes and portages to join the celebration.

Conspicous in the gathering were the Dog-Rib and Yellow-Knife Indians, possessors of the rugged land before advent of the whiteman.

Honey Production Increases For 1934

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—(CP).—Increase in honey production for 1934, is indicated in a report from the Ontario Department of Agriculture, made public today.

The season has been more favorable to the industry than early conditions indicated, says the summary, and the estimated light crop per colony for the year is placed at 82.9 pounds per colony, compared with 82.6 in 1933.

Prices of this year's crop show an increase of about 50 percent over last year, according to a survey among 300 representative honey producers throughout the province.

Winter kiling losses suffered by commercial keepers have been replaced rapidly through purchase of package bees, says the report, but the "small'er bee-keepers as a class suffered considerably heavier losses, and in a great many cases entire apiaries were wiped out."

As a result, production of comb honey, produced mainly by the smaller keepers, will show a heavy reduction.

DRAG FOR BODY.

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 4.— (C. P.). — dragging operations were continued to-day for the body of Oshayi, aged 24, believed to be the second victitm on Friday of the canal waters, who was apparently drowned early last evening near Lincoln Street bridge while swimming.

James Goring approached the spot where Oschayi is thought to have been but three was no sign of the swimmer. Clothes found on the bank were later identified by friends.

Nearly 100,000 persons are now employed in Sweden's wood and paper industry.

Militia with fixed bayonets and machine guns patrolled the streets of Kohler, Wis., "model industrial town," under martial law, after two strikes were killed and 37 injured when a walkout by hundreds of employees of the Kohler company several weeks ago, reached a bloody climax during encounters with 400 armed special police. Here are scenes from Kohler, showing top left, one of the wounded in the battle's wake; top right, armed special guards driving away pickets; bottom, militia marching into the Kohler plant.

HYDRO INQUIRY HALTS 2 WEEKS

Slaght Completes Evidence and Tilley for Defense Asks Adjournment.

PROCEED AUGUST 14.

TORONTO, Aug. 4 (CP) — The Royal Commission probe into the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission's acquisition of Ontario Power Service Corporation assets to-day entered a long adjournment till Aug. 14.

The investigation was adjourned yesterday after Arthur G. Slaght, K.C., Royal Commission counsel, indicated he had completed all the evidence he intended to submit and after J. C. McRuer, K.C., Hydro Commission, said he had nothing further to offer at the moment.

W. N. Tilley, K.C., counsel for members of the late Ontario Government, said he was not then ready to proceed and indicated he will spend much of the adjournment searching for documentary evidence to submit on behalf of his clients. He did not indicate whether he would call witnesses.

Evidence at yesterday's hearing centered around granting by the Hydro Commission of a contract under which it was pledged to buy 100,000 horsepower of electrical energy from the Hudson Bay Power Company, which subsequently became the O.P.S.C. Soon after this contract was granted, the O.P.S.C. floated a $30,000,000 bond issue.

It is the contention of Mr. Slaght and Mr. McRuer that the company could not have floated the bonds had it not obtained the contract.

EUROPEAN WRITERS DEPLORE DOUKHOBOR TREATMENT HERE

NEED SYMPATHY.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN
By Central Press Canadian Writer

PARIS, Aug. 4.—When Mr. Grote Stirling, Conservative member of Parliament for the Yale division, during the debate on the disfranchisement of the Doukhobors in British Columbia, declared that the farmers near the Doukhobor settlements out West went in fear of life and limb and that their children and young people dare not use the roads for fear of molestation, he did not astonish many of us who consider ourselves friends of the Doukhobors. We have grown rather accustomed to hear such things said about the Doukhobors. As a matter of fact, Canada is rapidly gaining the unenviable reputation abroad of persecuting the Doukhobors. The files of international peace societies and kindred organizations in Europe are full of pathetic complaints from the Doukhobors themselves, while the literature dealing with their "persecution' is growing. I merely refer to Rev. Barthelemy de Ligt's new book: "The Persecution of the Doukhobors in Canada"; Theodore Tosworthey's "Up Among the Doukhobors", published by the Society of Friends (Quakers), and Dr. Albert de Jong's "The Treatment of the Doukhobors in Canada." These documents do us no credit. If a tenth of the charges made in these books can be substantiated, the condition of the Doukhobors in the Dominion is deplorable and the fault is not theirs, but largely ours.

Will Not Bear Arms

The Doukhobors as a Christian sect which took the command of Jesus not to kill quite seriously and who were admitted to the Dominion on the distinct understanding that they would not be called upon to bear arms, deserve our entire sympathy. That they have not become completely integrated in our national life, which is the charge most frequently formulated against them, is not due to unpatriotic sentiments, but because we have completely failed to understand these people. Sicking policemen on harmless and defenceless Christians who come out of a totally different milieu than that from which most Canadians emerge, is a procedure unworthy of a great nation.

These people have been heavily persecuted for ages. They are therefore inevitably extremely sensitive and even suspicious. I know full well there was no intention to lure the Doukhobors over to Canada to have their particular religious views changed by the employment of force or the threat of force. But the chicanery used in their case by the authorities, the uninterrupted slander spread about them, about people who are absolute believers in, and practisers of, non-violence, has reached a point where the patience of Christian onlookers must soon come to an end. The police is not a fit agency to deal with the Doukhobors. An ecclesiastical commission consisting of members of the Protestant churches should be appointed to look into their claims and grievances.

An utterly simple people, largely inarticulate through their inability to express themselves fluently in the English language, and yet a people who had undergone the fiercest persecution at the hands of a bigoted and almost medieval Czarism, who remained loyal to their convictions, their Christian convictions, are not to be treated as blackguards and highway robbers by anyone calling himself civilized.

Believe Divine in Man

They called themselves douchobortsi, sons of freedom, or pneumatomagoi; that is "those who wrestle with the spirit." They were influenced by Mennonites and Quakers. In their views we see a new apparition of the gnostic tradition, although in much simpler and much more rational form. According to these people, there slumbers a ray of divine light in every soul. God is born in us in a miraculous manner, they claim. He lives, is crucified and dies, arises from death and ascends to heaven. It is a spiritual process that is enacted in the mystic depths of every soul. They believe that there is much of the divine essence in every man. Hence the Doukhobors have an infinite reverence for every human being; a belief in human dignity in the sense that Tolstoy and Einstein and Gandhi meant it.

This is the chief characteristic of their world outlook. That they do not want their children to have an Anglo-Saxon education is due to the fact that they fear a contamination with what they consider the poison of nationalism and militarism. That they have long resisted assimilation in the body national, is due to the consideration that they are but temporary sojourners on this earth and that their real fatherland is God's heaven.

Strip as Religious Gesture

With all this goes a stubborn attachment to their religious folkways, I would call them. The Czar and all his cossacks could not beat and torture that attachment out of them. The spectacle of men and women utterly loyal to a Christian way of looking at the world is so rare in our time that I should not think we, of all people, want to lend our hands to harassing them any longer and goading them into our violent resistance by ridicule and harsh measures. It is true that in their fight against the things of this world they employ means which give offence to many, although these means, considered without prejudice, have a deep significance. In order to show how serious they take the belief in non-violence, they undress at times before God and man. They completely synthetize themselves at such moments physically with their spiritual conception. They expose themselves literally in absolute confidence to God's care and protection. They have no weapons, they have nothing, only God. The Hon. W. R. Motherwell was therefore perfectly correct when, in the debate I mentioned, he considered the shedding of clothing a religious gesture. Stripped of everything, nothing remains but "the Christ, the absolute light," which dwells in their bodies as in a temple. That's their belief. Let us not forget in this connection that nudity always had a deep significance. Isaiah walked naked in the streets of Jerusalem. Christ hung naked on the cross ad His monst loyal followers considered themselves "clothed only with defencelessness."

Deserve Investigation

A German newspaper which recently had an observer in Canada had to admit that the Doukhobors live an exemplary moral life. That paper stated nevertheless that they cut the breasts off their women. Most of the time we hear nothing but suggestive references to their nudity. We are made to believe that the Doukhobors are a backward, immoral gang, which rejects the advantages of a higher civilization and which excludes itself by their exhibitionism from the pales of culture. The sons of freedom reply to this that they are misunderstood and that the sensuous man is blind to the spiritual light.

Saints Take 13-5 Game From Clerks

CAMPBELLFORD, August 4. — (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) —Falling before an onslaught of six runs in the fourth innings, the Clerks went to defeat before the Saints, last evening, when they played a scheduled fixture in the Campbellford League, before a large crowd of fans on the high school grounds.

Standing second and third in the league with but a slight margin, these two fast moving aggregations battled for a place in the play-offs with great zest and put up an excellent exhibition of ball, with the Saints getting the edge on the play by a 13-5 count. Opening the game with a one run lead, the Saints did excellent work, with Danny Flit on the mound twirling in excellent style. The Clerks fell down with loose outfielding, which weakened their game and gave their opponents advantages of which they took advantage.

The teams:

Added Protection For Canal Bridge

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 4.— To ensure the safety of pedestrians using the Campbellford bridge, the government is making added protection to that span of the bridge which is controlled by the Trent Canal. It is understood that iron rails will be affixed to the steel frame of the bridge at each end, and that spanning both sides of the bridge, dividing the foot path from the bridge proper, cables will be strung, fixed to the steelwork, which will prevent foot passengers from crossing or jumping out into the path of wheeled traffic.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing mars the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light
No unjust word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind.

MILLBROOK BRANCH

MILLBROOK, Aug. 4. (Examiner Correspondence).—A group of women gathered in a home on Monday afternoon, most of them members of a Women's Institute, and in the course of conversation heard a complaint from one of the number on the subject of "Other Peoples' Things." This particular member of the party had as her grievance a recent guest in her home who had carelessly set a wet glass on the polished surface of the walnut dressing table in the spare room—"leaving a mark that I am having difficulty in entirely removing. It was inexcusable too, because I have two small asbestos mats with the nicest crocheted covers for the very purpose of taking care of wet glasses, a vase of flowers, or anything of that sort, in my guest room."

The general opinion seemed to be, as the subject was pursued and several others spoke of similar troubles from the carelessness that apparently characterizes some folk with "other peoples' things", that our treatment of the belongings of others is really a revelation of ourselves. One lady who was known to have a good many summer visitors spoke scathingly of the careless staining of some of her linens, either at the dining-table, or covers in her guest room, or even the dainty cloth kept on the porch table, having all suffered from this habit "of laying things down without looking to see if there was danger of a nasty mark showing where the article had found a resting-place."

The grievance of another was the lavish use of towels in the bathroom: "Just because I provide plenty it seems as though they never try to use only what are necessary, which, of course, is the purpose for which I put them there, and against which I have certainly no grudge. My guests know that I do my own washing, and the use of a fresh towel every time they rinse their fingers means unnecessary laundry, and expresses selfish thoughtlessness on the part of anyone, in my opinion."

It was pointed out by one of those present, however, that a guest may err on the other side, especially the transient visitor. "A recent visit of a friend to my home illustrates what I mean: I left her to wash her hands while I made tea, and she did not even use the guest towel I provided for the purpose; when she had gone I wondered in vain which towel she did use, and had to put two or three in the wash before I intended to, just on account of her mistaken carefulness."

"The person who will litter a room, leave orange peel, or such like, in the guest room, or otherwhere in the home, or in the car, during the course of her visit; who will even leave such refuse in a railway train or drop loose papers, etc., on the streets, or in stores, shows conclusively that she has little thought for the general good. She would never use her own belongings as she uses those of her hostess, or even of the boarding-house or hotel where she may be staying; and certainly she would never be so wasteful of hot water, soap, or electricity in her own home as she often is in others," apparently summed up the discussion.

The lack of proper home training in early years was unanimously blamed for anyone growing up with an utter indifference for "other peoples' things," and an appreciative use, rather than abuse, of the things provided for daily comfort taught by the mothers continually to their growing families, in their own homes and thus assured of the habit when in any other, was strongly emphasized before the little group finished their tea and their discussion, and wended their way to the several homes.

What had thus been discussed in an informal social way the Institute members decided to have a feature of the next program at their W.I. branch meeting.

PRICE OF BEER NOT BE LOWERED HOTELMAN SAYS

Big Overhead to Meet and There is Only a Small Profit.

CONDITIONS REVIEWED.

Women Patrons Are Exception Rather Than the Rule.

Widely divergent views on the open sale of beer and wine are to be found locally. They range from the hearty approval of the beverage room patron to the undisguised dismay of the die hard temperance crusader and cover a wide range of opinions in between.

One fact remains. The beer is here, and is now being handled in the beverage rooms of six hotels within the city, the last of which started business yesterday afternoon following receipt of a license earlier in the day. Largely increased business is also reported by the Brewery Warehouse.

First to receive a beverage room license immediately following effect given to the amended legislation by the Hepburn administration, the management of Empress Hotel had the monopoly of beer sales for the first couple of days and before closing time on both occasions had sold out.

Some of the rush business was naturally diverted to other channels as further licenses were granted, and coupled with the fact that the novelty of the situation is now beginning to pall business is stated to have settled down to more even tenor.

Hotelmen Pleased

So far as the licensed hotelmen are concerned they see in the freer sale of beer and wine a source of salvation to their businesses which have been admittedly hard hit particularly in recent years. Generally speaking the beverage rooms are well conducted in accordance with the regulations, and while isolated instances of slackness have been observed they have been virtually unavoidable in view of the large volume of business transacted during the course of the first week.

One prominent hotelman, who is practically representative of the trade locally in reply to The Examiner stated, "There is not a chance of prices being reduced. We have a big overhead to meet and there is but a small margin of profit."

While he would not admit that there is a spread as between the price charged by different beverage rooms, it is learned by The Examiner that there is a five cent spread between the price for a quart bottle of beer. Prices for this commodity range from 20 to 25 cents a quart bottle.

While beer on draught is ten cents per glass at each of the six establishments, the sizes of the glasses range at different places from eight ounce to twelve ounce capacity.

Women The Exception

One of the striking contrasts between the beverage rooms in this city and those in larger centres such as Toronto for instance, is the fact that women patrons are the exception rather than the rule. Local beverage rooms are being almost solely patronized by the male of the species, appearance of a woman being the subject of surprised comment.

While it is almost impossible to estimate how many local men have found employment as a result of freer sale of beer and wine, due to the fact that many have found work as an indirect result, it is safe to state that the situation has created jobs for several men. The Brewery Warehouse increased its staff by three men, the management report, while each of the hotels have found occasion to employ at least one or more barmen and waiters.

One of the chief objections which Chief Constable Samuel Newhall sees in the lessening of restrictions, is the ability of persons to purchase wine through the Liquor Store without a permit. He is not so apprehensive regarding the freer sale of beer.

While admitting that offences of drunkeness in public have been on the increase latterly, the authorities have been inclined to be lenient taking the view that such offences might be overlocked until the new regulations came to be fully understood by the drinking public.

Magistrate's Warning

Drunkeness in public is not to be tolerated any more, however. Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., made that quite clear when in court the other morning he announced that he intended stepping up fines for this offence by gradual degrees until offenders would be penalized the maximum of fifty dollars provided for under provisions of the Liquor Control Act. He was determined he stated that Peterborough should be maintained as a "decent place."

He left no doubt as to the earnestness of his threat when in conversation with a reporter he expressed general disapproval of the loosening of regulations permitting wider sale of beer and wine on the grounds that beverage rooms were being patronized by a class of people who could ill afford to spend money on drink.

When asked for his opinion of the question as president of the Chamber of Commerce, John R. Marshall said it was rather too much of a political question for an organization like the Chamber to express any opinion. "If evil results should arise as a result of the amended legislation," he remarked, "I think it might be likely that the Chamber would be justified in seeking to have such evils remedied. But until then our organization would take no part in the question one way or the other. There are always two sides to every question and there is a wide difference of opinion as to whether open sale of beer and wine is right or wrong."

A Backward Step

"A good many of us feel it is a step in a backward direction," the Rev. Ralph D. Wright, President of Peterborough Ministerial Association stated when invited by The Examiner to comment on the question. He made it quite plain however that he was not seeking to interpret the general opinion of members of the association. Indeed he stated quite definitely that he did not know what the general opinion might be. The association might discuss the question as by that date they would have a chance to see how the situation was working out locally.

Personally, the Rev. Wright felt, "it would have been better for the sale of alcoholic liquor to have been controlled as formerly."

One cleric who was asked by The Examiner what he thought of the new regulations briskly replied, "It

BUGLE AND DRUM LED CANADIANS TO DEATH, GLORY

looking down. The watchful shadow of a Black Prince was over Crecy. There were Angels at Mons. And with their tattered standards the Old Contemptibles held on while the world marvelled. As they had gone, so the first Canadian Division was on its way....

Troops to our Empire true,
Faring to Flanders,
God be with all of you
And with your commanders.

Bugle and drum brought marching men to Stonehenge. No lust of conquest animated them, nor the pageant of war. Banners they unfurled, but as the Empire went into the war, so they went into it "slowly and sadly." Brave were their trappings; martial their music; light-hearted their bearing. But that which lay ahead was grim beyond human experience. Behind lay anxious hearts.

Battle

Bagpipes at St. Nazaire. Troop trains and shattered roads. Reserve areas, forward zones, support lines, comunication trenches, parades and parapet, wounds and Blighty, wounds and death, and the slow blooding of the First Division. Waves of green-grey uniforms. Waves of poison gas. But at Ypres, 1915, the channel ports were saved and the name of Canada flared into glory.

A Second Division....a Third Division....a Fourth Division.... and the Canadian Corps came into being. Vimy Ridge and Passchendaele left it with "tranquil courage" ready for annihilation in that grim March of 1918 when a desperate enemy made his last bid for victory. And so to the Last Hundred Days when, as "spearhead of the Allies", General Sir Arthur Currie and his Canadians led the van, and a shattered world found peace.

For the Empire

Around the world a bugle and a drum sang jubilant for Empire. From the Canadian Rockies over the Pacific to New Zealand and the blue mountains of Australia; over the Indian Ocean to the Himalayas; from the Himalayas to a peak in Darien; and so to the white cliffs of Dover, victory pealed—once. Then ,wistful the bugle, muffled the drum. Here was not triumph but sorrow. This was the blood price of admiralty. This was the paying. Here, everywhere, "a naked sword brooding on the bosom of a cross." In his majestic place, an Unknown Warrior slept companioned by kings. Behind pride was grief, and behind rejoicing tears.

Remnants Return

Units returned to Canada with their tattered, triumphant standards—and their long roll calls of the missing. Of the 33,000 Originals who had assembled at Valcartier "having a rendezvous with death at some disputed barricade," only a remnant remained. Of the hundreds of thousands who followed "grown cold to death and dead to pain because of one green, winding lane and one blue, limpid stream," not one returned without some wound of body or mind. Of over 600,000 total enlistments, a third had suffered casualties. Fifty-seven thousand had been killed in action or had died of wounds. And these were the youth and the early maturity of Canada, the essence of her heritage. The very lane brooded and in the flow of her many waters was the appeal to distant waters:

Flow, softly, softly, Marne and Meuse;
Tread lightly all ye browsing sheep;
Fall tenderly, O silver dews,
For here my dear love lies asleep.

Bivouac and Memories

Today, veterans of the Canadian Corps bivouac at Toronto. For three days they commemorate "far off things, and battles long ago." They come from all over the continent in their thousands, wearing decorations, bearing wounds. Their great Commander has passed to the other side. They have faced the disillusionment of peace, and even bitter poverty in the exhausting struggle for civil re-establishment with the courage that is their signal distinction.

Peace be with you, Gentlemen of the Canadian Corps, and easier years, won from the distant bugle and drum, with the knowledge of a fine thing, finely done.

Washing a teacup scientifically free from grease to satisfy one European scientist calls for a trained chemist and may require an hour to do so.

Moved by Fairman, seconded by Brooks, that the firemen be granted the use of the town hall to hold a dance or concert, proceeds to go towards buying new equipment. The council then adjourned.

He was born in Scotland at Newluce, Nov. 22, 1872, and spent nine years in Canada, coming to Lakefield two years ago. As a member of the Lakefield Curling Club and interested in other activities in the village he gained a wide circle of friends.

He is survived by his wife and six sons—Thomas, James, Patrick, Alex, Gilbert and Jack; and six daughters — Betty, Mary, Agnes, Margaret, Essie and Mrs. Carmen Payne.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon with a service at 2 p.m. at house and interment in the Lakefield cemetery. Rev. W. R. Archer of the Lakefield United Church will officiate.

Campbellford May Have Beverage Room

CAMPBELLFORD, August 4 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Although no definite action has as yet been taken, agitation is rife among many Campbellford citizens, for the sale of beer in the town, which itself is a local option centre. It is understood that steps are being taken for the circulation of a petition to secure the necessary twenty-five per cent of the voting population of the municipality, to enable the civic authorities to settle the matter at the polls, and if rumor has it right, this petition will be presented at the next meeting of the town council, which will be on Tuesday next. If the voting public of the town went in favor of the sale of beer, it is felt it would not be long until a vendor's store would be established in Campbellford.

U.S. TO THWART FOOD "CORNERS"

Wants No Wildcat Speculatino as Aftermath of Drought Disaster.

KEEPING PRICES LEVEL.

Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (A.P.)—The United States government disclosed plans to-day to thwart wild cat speculation or "corners" in the country's food in the aftermath of the drought disaster.

Perhaps the most potent weapon is power under the agricultural adjustment administration to buy surpluses of farm commodities for future use, thereby striking a blow at any attempt to kite prices because of relative scarcity. The foods thus bought by the government could be disturbed to the needy, resold through commercial channels or shipped into drought areas where needed.

For the immediate future, officials predict that supplies will be ample and prices relatively low. This is due to heavy marketings, particularly of livestock which the drought threatened to kill.

Through the winter, though, the normal reaction would be smaller food supplies and higher prices.

The administration will try to level off this variation, guarantee ample supplies for all sections and prevent wide fluctuations in prices.

"Security lies somewhere midway between glut and scarcity," said Victor A. Christgau, acting farm administrator.

SIMON DENIES JEWISH ORIGIN

MANY JEWS HIS FRIENDS.

LONDON, Aug. 4 (C.P. Cable)—Sir John Simon, British Foreign Minister, denied to-day he is a Jew. Sir John wrote the denial to a correspondent who had drawn his attention to statements current in Britain and abroad that the foreign minister was of Jewish origin.

At the same time Sir John expressed hope his denial would not be distorted to make him appear sympathetic with anti-semitism, an attitude he regards as "un-English" and which he "utterly condemns." The minister's correspondent had mentioned reports that Sir John's ancestry had powerfully influenced the national government since he became foreign minister.

"I am just an ordinary Briton of Aryan stock," wrote the minister. "There is no Jewish admixture whatever. My mother was from an old English family and my father was Welsh. I count among my friends English Jews whose British outlook and patriotic services should put their critics to shame."

DISMISSAL OF ALL MAGISTRATES PLACING COURTS IN NEW SYSTEM

Many of Present Magistrates Will Be Re-appointed, Newspaper Claims.

END LACK OF UNIFORMITY.

TORONTO, Aug. 4. (CP). — A plan which would mean dismissal of all magistrates and "re-engagement of a much smaller number corresponding to the 'stipendiary' magstrate of the Old Land," is being formed by Hon. Arthur W. Roebuck, Attorney-General of Ontario, the Toronto Star says it learned to-day.

The newspaper says it is understood many of the present magistrates will be among those appointed on the new basis.

"Mr. Roebuck's plan," says The Star, "will end the lack of uniformity in the present system. In cities like Toronto, the municipality pays the entire salary of the magistrate. In smaller places, province and municipality contribute a salary while in a few places the fee system still holds.

"The drastic transformation of the system which has existed since Ontario was Upper Canada will not impose any additional financial burden on the province. The Magistrates will be much fewer in number and efforts will be made to change the law which awards fines levied on infractions of provincial statues to the municipality in which the conviction is registered.

"The law can be amended with consent of the Federal government. Thus the Attorney-General's Department would receive fines imposed for breaches of the Liquor Control Act for example."

The legislative buildings were closed to-day and Mr. Roebuck, away from home, could not be reached for comment on the statement.

Obituary

Followed by a very large concourse of friends and relatives the remains of Mary Ann Crowley, widow of John Shaughnessy, who predeceased her about five years ago, were conveyed from the family residence, 169 Albertus street, to the Church of the Sacred Heart on Friday morning, where requiem High Mass was offered by her pastor, Rev. J. J. O'Brien, assisted by Rev. C. J. Moloney and Rev. Vincent Rishea.

A profusion of spiritual and floral tokens in tribute and the presence of an unusually large gathering at the home and church gave silent testimony of the high esteem held by the deceased in the city, where she has resided for some years, and from the country where she was born and lived until her retirement to the city.

Mrs. Shaughnessy was the last surviving member of the family of James F. Crowley and Catherine Leahy, and leaves to mourn her loss four sons, Joseph of Western Canada, Vincent, Leo and James of this city, and four daughters, Mrs. William Boyle, Genevieve and Marie, of Peterborough, and Mrs. William Brennan and Norah of Winnipeg, as well as twenty-three grandchildren.

Mrs. Vincent Shaughnessy sang "Thou Art My Hope Dear Sacred Heart" during the mass.

Rev. V. J. McAuley of Ennismore, preached an inspiring sermon on death and resurrection and the consolation to a family to have had a good Christian mother to guide them through the trying years of their life. Rev. J. V. Corkery recited the prayers at the graveside, assisted by Rev. C. J. Moloney and Rev. V. J. McAuley.

Honorary pallbearers, all lifelong residents of deceased, were: Abe Rose, Dennis Shaughnessy, Florens Driscoll, Samuel Redmond, Edward Lynch, John McMartin.

Active pallbearers, all nephews of the deceased, were: Ray Rose, John F. Shaughnessy, Alphonse Coughlin, John Crowley, Joeph Shaughnessy, John Shaughnessy.

Noticed among the large number of friends and relatives from a distance who attended the funeral were: Mrs. J. J. Carley of Toronto, Messrs. T. and J. Corkery, Miss Mary and Margaret Corkery of Harwood, Dr. Bart Leahy of St. Paul, Minn., Misses A. and M. Guiry of Lindsay, Miss A. Guiry of New York. Miss Mary Corkery of Trout Creek. Sister Justina of North Bay. Sisters Mary of Victory and St. Clement of Lindsay.

MRS. BLANCHE GOODIER

Duchess of York
July 27, 34

To the Sporting Editor,
Peterborough Examiner,
Dear Sir:

I thought as we were nearing our destination and this has been a voyage of unusual description, some of your readers might be interested in a few of the bright lights of our passage over. We left Montreal at 9.30 a.m. Standard time on Friday, July 21 and we had on board the whole of the managers and team of the British Empire Games.

We were given a great send off at Montreal. It provided a sight not soon to be forgotten for those privileged to witness it. Hundreds of people on the dock as the ship was about to lease a volume of cheer's rent the air and thousands of yards of ribbons of all colors were thrown both from the docks and ship. In the blazing sun it made a very pretty sight. The number of officials and competitors on board were:

Officials	20
Competition Girls	42
Men	68
Other tourist passengers	190
Cabin passengers	154

Also quite a number of third.

Needless to say those on board at once got down to having the time of their lives, especially did that apply to the Tourist classes in which I was travelling. Every day we had the opportunity of seeing the most of the competitors in action in some form or other and I can assure you it made the pulse beat just a little faster to see 42 of Canada's best picked sporting girls in shorts going through a very thorough and vigorous training under the direction of Miss Fanny Rosenfield. Then came the men under the different trainers and then we had a number of boxing bouts, one of the high spots was the wrestling which was of a very high order. Several were of the opinion the best exhibition of that form of sport they had ever seen.

In talking to some of the officials they thought that on the whole they would render a good account of themselves. The high spots seem to be:

Girls Events — Hurdles, sprints, swimming, diving.

Men's events—Sprints, ¼ mile, 1 mile, marathon, wrestling.

We had a concert on board, the collection amounting to nearly $40. I enclose a program.

Now we are nearing Liverpool after a very pleasant and memorable trip. The team will not likely come back together, so in saying good-bye and good-luck to Canada in the Empire Games 1934, I remain,

Yours truly,
CHARLES E. COLEMAN.

EAST CITY MAN DIES ON STREET

RETIRED FARMER.

Patrick Tangney, 74, of 420 Rogers street collapsed and died while out walking on Rogers street shortly before ten o'clock this morning, a few blocks north of his own residence. Death was stated to be due to a heart condition.

Mr. Tangney was a native of Douro Township where he was engaged n farming for many years. After coming to live in the city he followed employment as a carpenter before retiring some years ago. He was predeceased by his wife and the only relatives surviving are stated to be nieces and nephews.

Out for a walk this morning as was his usual custom, Mr. Tangney collapsed outside the home of Mrs. Cornelius Heffernan, 531 Rogers street. Mrs. Frank Guerin was going over to her neighbour's house to use the 'phone, according to Mrs. Heffernan, when she saw Mr. Tangney drop just as she was about to enter the house.

"I called Dr. F. O'Reilly and Dean O'Sullivan," Mrs. Heffernan stated, "and also notified city police."

Mr. Tangney, with blood streaming down his face from the injury sustained when he crashed to the sidewalk, was carried into the house, where he died shortly after the arrival of the doctor and priest.

Acting Coroner Dr. Herbert N. Young later authorized removal of the body to Lane and Eano's undertaking parlors. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

Policeman Skeptic Tries Respiration And Saves Lad Pronounced Dead 2 Hours

—The boy was deadE.mfc0 -ion T

MANHASSET, N.Y., Aug. 4 (AP) The boy was dead. The doctor said so. The coroner concurred. They called the undertaker.

Everyone in the crowd that gathered on the dock when the lad, Stanley Kadluboski, 10 years old, was hauled from Manhasset Bay early last night agreed. No one can stay under water ten minutes and live.

John Symes of the Nassau County Police was present. At police school he had paid attention to the course on life saving.

As they waited for the hearse, Symes stepped forward.

"Let me show you fellows how they taught us to save lives at police school," he remarked.

The policeman bent over the body of the boy who had been pronounced dead two hours before. The steady pumping of arms, the pushing of chest began. Artificial respiration.

A few minutes later the boy, holding in his left hand a certificate stating he departed this life at 7.25 p.m., was shaking hands with the coroner.

PAPEN VOICES HIS CONFIDENCE

New Minister to Austria Sure Hitler Will Uphold Hindenburg Aims.

GRAVE HOUR.

(By Guelther Beaukdert, Associated Press Foreign Staff).

NEUDECK, Germany, Aug 4. — (A. P.). — Confidence in Adolf Hitler as "the leader of new Germany" was expressed to-day by Franz Von Papen, until recently vice chancellor and a critic of extreme Nazism, after a visit to the death bed of President Paul Von Hindenburg.

Von Papen said Hitler would serve as "a trustee of President Von Hindenburg's noblest tradition and history who will continue the work to which the life of the sainted field marshall was devoted."

The statement was regarded as reassuring to Nazi. Since Von Papen had been considered a leader of conservative Germany.

He was named special envoy to Austria by Hitler last week.

But a note of apprenhension was sounded to-day as Germany, irrespective of religion and race, mourned her beloved Paul Von Hindenburg.

Gohannes Adolf Cardinal Bertram in a message at Breslau ordering church bells rung in tribute to the dead President said:

"In this exceedingly grave hour our prayers that gracious God may grant our people and our Fatherland days of happiness and inner and outer peace are more earnest than ever."

A death mask of Von Hindenburg was taken by Prof. Joseph Thorak of Berlin. The body of the old a warrior-statesman lies in a huge room of his estate here, awaiting burial.

The booklet is entitled, "Price Spreads and Mass Buying; an Explanation of the work done and results achieved by the Special Select Committee of the House of Commons."

The sub-titles say: "Deplorable Conditions in some businesses revealed. Hon. H. H. Stevens declares he will 'never rest' until remedies are found. Does not care what happens. Wages cut when fabulous profits made. Minister of Trade and Commerce issues warning of gravity of outrageous situation and danger to our constitutional structure."

The Price Spreads Inquiry is far from through, but the Minister of Trade and Commerce has very definite views on what has been revealed so far, and these he proceeds to elaborate somewhat. He assails the methods of certain well-known firms which were investigated before the committee and denounces financial customs and the effect upon agriculture and workers of over-capitalisation.

After reviewing the evidence in the outstanding cases in the inquiry and making comments in passing, Mr. Stevens concludes that if the Conservative idea is to survive, "It must finds its influence in the home and on the farm where real opinion is made."

FIRST BRITISH ROCKET POST

Two British Philatelic journals, Stamp Collecting and the Philatelic Magazine, tell the story of the latest method of carrying mail. Philatelists of the future will probably have something entirely different in the line of covers to look forward to, and try to acquire.

It is difficult, at this time, to even hazard a guess as to the possibilities of rocket mail, or the time it will take to perfect the system to the point where it may be used with consistent success. However, the story of the first attempt should prove interesting and informative, and a brief outline as told by the British Magazines follows.

First Trial a Secret.

The first experiment in the transmission of mail by rocket post in Great Britain, was carried out with the utmost secrecy two miles from Rottingham, on Sussex Downs.

Six people assembled at dawn on June 6th, 1934. They were: Herr Gerhard Zucker, young German inventor; C. H. Dombrowsky, his British representative; Robert Hartman, press agent; S. Sherman, photographer; Moore Raymond, London Daily Express, and Albert Harris, of the Philatelic Magazine. No one else saw the flight.

A secret explosive charge had to be prepared, and the difficulties in arranging for this necessitated absolute secrecy. German authorities would not allow the original fuel to be exported to England, and it was necessary to postpone the flight on two occasions, owing to fuel difficulties. Eventually a substitute, though much less powerful, was prepared by Messrs. C. T. Brock & Co., English firework manufacturers. Herr Zucker was doubtful as to whether this substitute would be sufficiently powerful to prove effective.

Before sunrise the little party of six were assembled on the hilltop, making preparations for the flight. The launching rack, fifteen feet long, was bolted together and placed in position, and to test the direction and force of the wind, a preliminary charge was fired from an ordinary rocket stick. Then the final preparations for firing the mail-carrying rocket itself were made.

The Launching.

For want of better lubricant, the runners of the rack were greased with butter; then the nose of the canister was unscrewed and the mail carefully packed in three cavities surrounding the central tube. The explosive cartridge was inserted, the wires attached, and Herr Zucker waved everyone back while he stood some six feet away with the battery, which would fire the detonator.

He pressed the button. The response was a hiss which developed into a roar as the rocket gained momentum, and the first rocket-mail in Great Britain crossed the sky in a trail of smoke.

Herr Zucker was delighted. With a charge much less powerful than that with which his German experiments had been carried out, he had been more successful than he had anticipated. The rocket was recovered and a second discharge made which proved equally successful.

Souvenir Labels.

The mail used in these trial flights was "franked" with Apex Exhibition labels, which had been overprinted in two curved lines "Rocket Post—First British Flight." The number of labels over printed was 6,000, in six different colors, The total number used in the flight was 2,864, all being on covers. The bulk of the balance have been destroyed.

A special "frank" and "cachet" were placed on each cover, and in addition to the label, they also carried ordinary British postage stamps of various amounts to cover airmail, express, and ordinary delivery. After they were recovered from the rocket, they were taken by motor to Brighton Post Office and despatched in regulation manner. All covers bear a postmark of June 6th, 1934.

Future Plans.

Herr Zucker is now concentrating his efforts on perfecting a more powerful British explosive. His next rocket is to be English made, and will be 17 feet long and 5 feet in circumference.

It will land by parachutes, which will open automatically as the rocket starts to fall. He proposes at an early date to take this new rocket to the Isle of Wight and send mail across to the mainland. If successful, this will be the first mailrocket flight across water.

Ultimate plans are for a cross-channel service, between Dover and Calais, a distance of 21 miles, which would be covered in about two minutes. Then such things as ship-to-shore service, inter-island service and so on will be attempted by Herr Zucker, who is buoyed up by the promise of the British postmaster-general that if the practicability of rockets can be demonstrated, he is prepared to consider their sue.

Fashion Service

The cape ties in such a smart and youthfully becoming way. Otherwise the dress is quite simple, and the easiest thing in the world to make. The front seaming that bursts forth in an inverted plait at the hem, is very slimming.

It's a dress you can wear for so many occasions during the summer.

Dotted, floral or striped chiffon cotton voile, striped handkerchief finish lawn or linen print is very lovely for this model and inexpensive.

Style No. 2844 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39-inch material with ½ yard 35-inch contrasting.

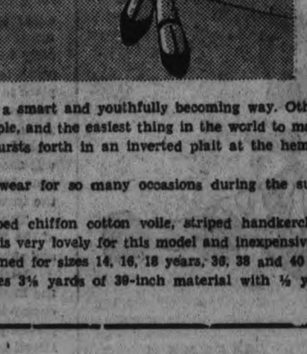
CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

WONDERFUL LUCK PLUS—

Against normal efficient play the declarer of many hands cannot fulfill his contract unless he has wonderful luck, plus—a favorable distribution of adverse holdings and a definite plan of action. Here is such a hand. Look it over to see (even double-dummy) that 4-odd at spades is not easy to make. It certainly needed the plus—to win game. My partner, Hal Sparkman, of Dallas, Tex., sat South and dealt the hand.



Bidding went: South, 1-no trump; North, 2-spades; South, 2-no trumps; North, 3-spades, resolved to bid that suit as long as voice lasted; South, 4-spades, ending the auction.

The opening lead was the K of hearts. Dummy won, as there was no object in passing up the trick. There were visible just 9 tricks; 6 in trumps, with an added trick for each of the 3 aces held by dummy. Things appeared blue for the declaring side. There was only one thing to attempt—a squeeze for the added trick needed to fulfill the contract. It would be wonderful luck to find the honors divided right for the purpose, and normal defensive play which would not remove dummy's ace of clubs, when diamonds were led, to attempt the squeeze later on.

Dummy's K of spades was led. East's lone ace put that player in, and back came the Q of hearts, winning the second defensive trick. I ruffed the third lead of hearts. The Q of spades picked up the last outstanding trump, but a single trump was left in dummy for exit.

The 9 of diamonds was led, seeking a cover. This did not materialize. West won with the J, and made the natural return lead of the K of diamonds, which dummy's ace took. That trump exit from dummy was just what was needed to continue the squeeze. My J of spades overtook dummy's 9, at the eighth trick. West let go a club, and so did East. The next three leads were trumps. East let go the last diamond and two lowest clubs. Dummy discarded its lowest club and its useless diamond, on the first two spade leads. When East bared down to the 10 of hearts and the Q of clubs, dummy's last heart was discarded, leaving only the A-10 of clubs there. West let go two clubs on the first two spades led, then at the eleventh trick. West had to let go the last diamond, leaving my 8 good, or had to bare the K of clubs, making good both of dummy's ace and 10 of clubs. The squeeze yielded the game which had been bid. After the return lead of diamonds by West, nothing could have prevented me from fulfilling the contract undertaken.

BE BEAUTIFUL

A famous Fifth avenue perfumer, who concocts the most delightful fragrances, recently gave a cocktail party at his salon for the members of the press. At this party, however, the ladies were regaled with perfumes rather than cocktails. And the most notable feature of the event was the introduction of a new and delightful "perfume bar".

This perfume bar, which would delight the heart of any woman, is patterned after regular liquor bars. It is perfectly appointed and stocked with attractive flacons of perfume in every conceivable size and shape. There are cards with the different perfumes and their combinations listed, just like regular wine lists. And there are also tiny receptacles for the perfumes to be mixed in.

That idea of mixing perfumes, of course, isn't really a new one. Even 'way back in the eighteenth century, King Louis XV. had his own treasured perfumes that he mixed to suit his moods. But in those days, perfuming was an art, and women were more skilled in using perfumes advantageously than they are today.

One thing that every woman should avoid doing, whether she mixes her own perfumes or just sticks to one individual fragrance, is using her perfumes too lavishly. There's a certain hardness and lack of good taste about the lass who smells blatantly of some strong scent. Moderation is half the secret of success in perfuming, you know. And a drop of perfume can prove far more devastating than a dousing.

Some women apply their perfumes too lavishly because they do not understand how delicate the sense of smell is. The nose becomes bored very easily, and you grow less and less aware yourself of the perfume you are using. And so the risk always is that you will apply more and more of it. Other people, however, who are not constantly in your company, are perfectly aware of your fragrance, even though you cannot smell it yourself. So always use your perfumes in moderation, and the resulting delicate fragrance will add greatly to your charm and allure.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Screens serve the purpose of protecting persons from draughts, and light, and they also can be used to shield a view and permit circulation of air. It is of this latter type that I would speak, since in summertime draughts of air are sought, not shunned. The screens are wanted chiefly for use in bedrooms and sleeping quarters, which may be on piazzas. The fact that light is shut off or at least dimmed by the screens adds to their desirability, since light streaming in on a sleeper is apt to waken him.

* * * * * * *

The latest thing in these screens which permit circulation of air and protection from views as well, is the model with shutters similar to out-of-doors blinds, or of inside Venetian blinds. These screens are of wood, and come in two and three-fold styles. A decorative panel occupies the lower portion of each folding section, while above for nearly or quite half the section there are slats introduced. These permit air to circulate through them, and this feature brings the screens into summertime furnishings.

* * * * * * *

Before a window, the screen dims the bright light which would come into the room otherwise, and yet does not form a blank wall against breezes. Before a door from a hall into the room such a screen cuts off the sight into the room and of its occupant, and yet air can enter, and draughts prove refreshing. When a room has but one window and the door has to be shut lest passers by see right into it, the wind has to be strong from the direction of the exposure if the room gets enough ventilation in summertime. It is easy to see how welcome one of these ventilation screens is.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Several years ago a woman was examined by a physician, who, as he removed his stethoscope from her heart, said very dramatically, "My! What an interesting heart!" From that minute on this woman has gone to doctor after doctor, all of whom assure her that she has no heart disease. But whenever she is told this, she simply repeats, "If I have no heart disease, why did Dr. Blank say that I had an interesting heart?"

Well, I suppose it is natural to blame the doctor for things like this, but he might hvae said it for any variety of reasons. He might have said it because it was a perfectly normal heart, or just because he couldn't think of anything to say. At any rate, a suggestion of this kind starts a train of sequences which is often very distressing. The worst thing about it, of course, is that the patient is unable to believe any doctor she goes to, and one wonders why she goes to them. Even if someone told her she had heart disease, she probably would not believe him now.

Functional disease of the heart is very common. Like most functional disease, it is far commoner than organic disease. One of the best books on diseases of the heart starts out with the dramatic announcement, "Most heart disease does not exist." What the writer means is that most people who complain of their hearts, or who think they have heart disease, have perfectly normal hearts. We hear a great deal about heart strain or athletic heart, but it is very difficult to say in any individual case that the patient is suffering from heart strain or from strain due to athletics.

Palpitation or consciousness of the heart beat may occur without any heart disease whatever. In fact, it is the rule, that if palpitation occurs, there is no organic heart disease. The patient with organic heart disease is usually sublimely unconscious of the fact that he has a heart at all. Gas in the stomach, or the large intestine pressing up on the diaphragm, will cause consciousness of the heart beat.

The use of tobacco in excess causes an irregularity of the heart in which a beat is dropped every so often, which is almost invariably made known to the patient. It stops, however, as soon as the excessive use of tobacco is stopped.

Another common condition is pseudo-angina, or alleged pain in the heart People with this condition make themselves miserable supposing that they are going to die suddenly. And yet, careful examination reveals no indication of true angina at all. Even if it were present it would not merit the amount of concern such people give themselves. Every physician knows patients who have had more or less severe attacks of angina for years and still do a full quota of work in comfort between the attacks. Sudden death, as a matter of fact, would be a blessing to patients with heart disease, who often have to suffer a long-drawn period of invalidism in bed.

The treatment of these conditions consists simply in trying to persuade the patient that he or she has a perfectly sound heart. This is, by no means, an easy thing to do. People cling to their symptoms, and the conviction that they are beset by heart disease, with a tenacity that would make you think it was a desirable situation.

Jewel Box Colors Enliven Fall Modes

By ADELAIDE KERR

Associated Press Foreign Staff

PARIS, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The colors of a jewel box set against a background of dead black marked a salon full of women's winter costumes displayed in a Paris fashion centre today.

A bright, medium green called onyx green; sapphire blue and ruby red were mingled with black in a wide variety of day costumes.

There was outstanding use of velvets, including lyon, cotton and ribbed fringed shimmering artificial silks for both day costumes and evening gowns; also brilliant imperial satins, crackle crepes, failles, and wools woven with shaggy cellophane.

Although many frocks of satin crepe followed the narrow silhouette, others, fashioned of stiffer fabrics such as velvet faille, had skirts falling in soft fullness from the waist, making them fairly wide and necklines universally high.

Coats of sapphire velvet, onyx green, black, oxford and gray wool, furred in black, topped the black frocks while dresses of red velvet or green satin were worn with black coats.

Spinach Ring.—For a large ring mold you will need three pounds of spinach. Cook until barely done, drain and chop finely. Season with salt and a bit of onion juice. Beat up two eggs, add one-half cup mayonnaise and the juice of one lemon. Fold into the spinach which must be quite dry, spoon into the buttered ring mold and set it in a pan of hot water to bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven. A similar mixture may be baked in remekins or a shallow casserole.

Berry Pie.—Line a pie plate with crust, fill with fresh berries, sprinkle with sufficient sugar to taste and dot with butter. Crisscross with the pastry, and bake in a hot oven.

Holds Solution?

Princess Maria, youngest daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, may hold a romantic solution to the problem of keeping Austria independent of Germany. It is rumored that were she to marry Archduke Otto, the young pretender would be elevated to the throne of the Hapsburgs, by force if necessary, from which his ancestors ruled Europe for more than 800 years.

BRONZE TABLET.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 4.—A bronze tablet was unveiled in memory of the late Thomas H. Thompson and his family at the Thompson Memorial Park in Madoc, at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. After a concert which was played by the Citizens Band of Belleville under the direction of Bandmaster R. Hinchey has been enjoyed, Mr. J. Rutherford, president of the Madoc Community Club, spoke briefly.

"The citizens of Madoc should be proud of such a splendid park and of the generosity of the late Thomas Thompson who gave the grounds and the Women's Institute who with the assistance of the people of the town and the surrounding district were able to put up a splendid soldiers' memorial.

Mr. Rutherford called on Mr. George West who spoke of the interest that the late Mr. Thompson took in his home town. He was instrumental in the securing of the Madoc Armouries, in obtaining the first paved road, and he assisted in the planning of the new fair grounds. Mr. West then asked the reeve, Mr. C. Wallbridge, to accept this splendid bronze tablet suitably engraved in honor of the late Thomas Thompson, his wife and family. Mrs. Jules Bentley of Belleville, daughter of the late Mr. Thompson unveiled the tablet Mrs. Robert Bristol and Mrs. C. N. Whytock were the representatives of the Women's Institute. The members of the council present were the reeve, Mr. C. Wallbridge, Councillor W. J. Hill and Councillor D. Blue. A large crowd was present for the ceremony. The meeting was closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. Thompson served his community many ways, playing a prominent part as cheesemaker and buyer, and being reeve of Madoc, warden of the County of Hastings and member of the Dominion House of Commons for North Hastings for two terms.

"At our home there is always a supply of gunny sacks, so this spring when the living room chairs required recovering I put the gunny sacks to good use. I ripped, laundered, dyed and sized a stack of them. I colored them a deep green, ironed them while damp, then cut and sewed my covers. With a cheap, cream sateen I lined the chair coverings. These made one of the loveliest furnishings I have ever had, and certainly the least expensive. The gunny sacks may be dyed any color darker than their original hue.

The Conny Smythe string of two-year-olds accompanied by the older Exhibition are the latest arrivals. They just got in from Detroit after a very unsuccessful campaign at that point and they will likely do better at Hamilton as the Mountain city plant was always Connie's lucky spot. Exhibition finished a bangup second in his last start at Henry Ford's city and should be capable of winning his first start here if not spotted too high.

But platers when well matched can provide just as many thrills in the horse race game as the best horses in the world. The rule in regard to dead heats is that the entire straight pool is divided among those holding straight tickets on both horses, so the boys who wagered on either one to win were able to cash in.

Gehrig Overtakes Foxx in Struggle for Major League Homer Honors.

YANKEES WIN 5-1.

Carl Hubbell Hurls Superb Ball to Shut Out Philadelphia 2-0.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer)

One greater hitter and a couple of pitchers who are at least threatening to approach greatness received the plaudits of big league fans to-day for feats which overshadowed the unchanged status of two close pennant races.

There were Lou Gehrig, off on a streak of home runs and ordinary hits that had him ahead of Babe Ruth's record circuit-swatting pace; Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, with a new season's record for consecutive pitching victories, and Carl Hubbell, with 22 successive scoreless innings on the hill written into the books. All three figured yesterday in victories for Yankees, Tigers and Giants which left Detroit a game ahead of New York in the American League race and the Giants three games up on Chicago in the National.

Gehrig, who has made seven straight hits and reached first base nine times in two days, smacked his 34th and 35th homers against the Athletics yesterday as the Yanks downed Philadelphia 5-1.

The feat put Lou ahead of Jimmie Foxx by one blow in the current race, depriving the A's of the top place for the first time, and also put him ahead of the pace Ruth set in 1927, when he established the major league record of 60 homers. That season Ruth hit his 35th on Aug. 5.

Gehrig's hitting, which accounted for four runs, was combined with a brilliant pitching feat by young Johnny Allen, who had a seven-hit shutout in hand and had whiffed 13 Philadelphians when he was forced to retire because of a cramp in his arm with two out in the ninth.

Rowe pitched almost faultless ball for seven innings to win his 11th straight victory and his 15th of the season, surpassing the streak Dizzy Dean made earlier this year. He gave just one hit, a single by Jimmy Dykes, and three walks. Vic Sorrell followed with hitless hurling for the last two innings. The Tigers backed them up with a 16-hit slugging attack, featuring a six run outburst in the fifth, that won the game 14-0.

Phillies Lose 2-0

Hubbell, who blanked the Phillies Sunday and followed with four scoreless innings against Boston, turned in his second straight whitewashing of Philadelphia, 2-0. He gave only six hits and no passes in a duel against the Chickasaw Indian rookie, Euel Moore, who lost out when Johnny Vergez socked a homer with one aboard in the fourth. It was Hubbell's 15th triumph.

Lonnie Warneke of the Cubs was the third hurler of the day to turn in victory No. 15 getting credit for the Cubs' 3-4 triumph over Cincinnati when he speared in a relief role following Pat Malone and scored the winning run himself when Tuck Stainback sent him home with a single.

19th Win For Dean

Jerome (Dizzy) Dean of the Cardinals, leading big league hurler, recorded his 19th triumph against four defeats but did it less impressively as the Cards trounced Pittsburgh 9-3. He granted 11 blows but contributed a double and a triple to the St. Louis total, scoring twice.

Monte Pearson of Cleveland collected his 14th triumph as the Indians broke a three-game losing streak with a 6-4 decision over St. Louis. Pearson granted only six hits but passed six and only the Indians' ability to bunch hits off George Blaeholder won for him.

The Red Sox and Athletics in the American League and Braves and Dodgers had the day off, the latter pair putting off their game to create a Sunday doubleheader.

Decides Johnson Fight Jefferies Square

JUICY APPLE OF FISTIC GAME IN 1910 TURNS SOUR ON JEFF

Billy Delaney, Ex-Handler for Jeffries, Responsible for His Dethronement From Heavyweight Chair — Throws Scare Into Johnson With Barrel of Six-gun.

The big apple of the fight game of 1910 proved to be a mealy piece of fruit from which excreted oppressive odors that were so fromageous they would rival a dark room of limburger cheese, each piece many months over ripe.

* * * * * * *

Jim Jeffries was defending his title from Jack Johnson, that colorful colored fighter, and by the time the fight was two weeks away the only people who didn't know it was fixed where Eskimo hermits and sunken mermaids.

* * * * * * *

The fight, between these two heavyweights was scheduled to take place at the Old Arena on Valencia Street, San Francisco. When Jeffries and Johnson were all set to sign the documents in New York, the governor of that state, because he was an honest man, refused to allow any signing to be done so the heavies up and went to Jersey were they put their mark on the dotted line.

* * * * * * *

The governor's reason for putting his veto on the transaction was that it was all pre-arranged. It may have been this fact that caused Jeffries, Johnson and companies to make such a day out of it when they finally did sign.

* * * * * * *

In Jersey they had a whole raft of "hangers-on'" with them which is usually the case, George Considine (Corbett's manager), Tad Dorgan, Ike Dorgan, Hype Igoe (sports writer, still is)—and the party floated in an abundance of wine.

* * * * * * *

To prepare for the fight in San Francisco, Jim Jeffries trained in the Santa Cruz mountains, that is he was supposed to be training. However, he had along with him Nat Goodwin, the great comedian, and husband of Maxine Elliot, and Walter Kelly, the monologuist, just to keep him entertained. (He should train when the fight was in the bag for him).

* * * * * * *

Two weeks before the fight everybody knew Johnson was going to lay down to Jeffries, including the governor of California who, on finding out, immediately disallowed it.

* * * * * * *

So the fight was shifted to Reno, Nevada. Johnson's training camp was at Rick's roadhouse, a place which you may know, and Jeffries did his prepping work, such as it was, at Moana Springs.

* * * * * * *

Most of the champion's training consisted of climbing through the hills to hunt, aided by John Barleycorn, who accelerated him somewhat.

* * * * * * *

However, just when Jeffries figured everything was okay, his ex-handler put a crimp into all the plans. Bill Delaney, the man who made him, had fallen out with Jeffries over money matters and naturally was out to get revenge.

* * * * * * *

A few days before the big battle Delaney made his way to Johnson's camp and politely but firmly told Johnson if he didn't fight on the level he would be gracefully filled with lead. Now, Mr. Johnson was very fond of life, enjoyed it immensely as later articles will reveal, so he decided Delaney was right and he would box on the square.

* * * * * * *

Quite frightened, the colored boxer hastened over to the Jeffries camp and told the later the fight was on the "up and up."

* * * * * * *

Was Jim's face red. Here he had been laying around in the hills doing himself more harm than good. So his 35 years or so of age felt quite old when he heard he didn't have the fight cinched. It so happened that Jeffries had about every prominent member of the fight fraternity around him—Jim Corbett, Farmer Burns, John L. Sullivan, Fitzsimmons, Ketchel, Sharkey, etc.—but they couldn't help him at that stage.

* * * * * * *

However, in spite of the upset in the pre-arranged dope, the fight went on and Johnson's own words will give you a good idea of it. He said afterwards:

* * * * * * *

"This is the happiest moment of my life. I could have taken Mister Jeffries into camp anytime I wanted to, but Jeffries said many nasty things and I wanted to even up old scores. In the second round the hardest blow in the fight landed on Jeffries. I crippled him. After that Jeffries was easy.

* * * * * * *

"You see, I licked Jack Jeffries, Jim's brother, and that made Jeffries doubly sore, so that there was nothing left undone to get me. After I cut him almost to ribbons, I asked Tex Rickard early in the fifteenth round to stop the fight, as I thought I was about even with him."

* * * * * * *

So that's how the fight finished in the fifteenth round for Johnson, and Jeffries was so battered in the face he was hardly recognizable.

CLUBMEN HOLD INTERMEDIATE CHAMPIONSHIP BY DEFEATING ELECTRICS IN FINAL SERIES

FINAL SCORE 4-3.

Moore and Rogers Top Winners at Bat—Corbett is Main Hitter Losers.

Cogs won the Tip Top Tailors' trophy, emblematic of the E.P.L. championship, for the second straight year by squeezing out a 4-3 win over C.G.E. last night at the Exhibition Grounds. A large crowd saw Cogs take their fourth playoff game in a row to retain possession of the intermediate title and the right to represent this city in the O.B.A.A. playdowns. It was a good ball game with the Electrics going down fighting.

Casey Masterson proved too much for C.G.E., his fast-ball hurling holding them to five hits and sending five back on strikes. Between his fielding and his pitching, the losers had little chance. McGillen started strong for C.G.E. but was bumped for three hits in the second which, with three miscues, meant three runs. He left in the fourth after being hit twice in a row, and Barry finished in good style, giving one hit and fanning one. The fielding of both teams was spotty.

Corbett was the main hitter for the losers with two in three appearances. Busby got a fine triple, with Hatton and Weir the other clouters. Moore and Rogers topped Cogs at bat with two hits each in three times up. Cadd hit a double and Masterson a single. The fielding of Weir and Saunders for C.G.E., and Masterson of Cogs was outstanding. Corbett and Moore pulled off smart catches.

Electrics Tally First.

C.G.E. tallied in the first frame when Weir singled, moved up when a batter was hit and scored from there on an error. Cogs got three in the second. Cadd doubled, went to third on an error and home on Moore's hit. Rogers was safe on a fielder's choice that put Moore out, Rogers stealing second. He went to third as Mein reached first on a miscue. Mein stole and both raced home on Masterson's single.

Tie Count in Fourth

The Hatton crew made a strong bid in the fourth and tied it up with two counters. Saunders was safe on a fumbled ball and went right around on Busby's triple to deep centre. The latter scored on Corbett's single. The Clubmen won out in their half of the fourth with one run. Moore singled and went to second when his hit went through the outfielder. He tallied on Rogers' clean drive to centre. With a man on second for C.G.E. in the last inning, Masterson bore down to throw the first one out himself and fan the next two.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor: Stoney Lake.

Well, Mac, I'm glad to be up here for a while where ball games don't explode in your face, being kinda fed up seeing Mister Lee's talent getting bumped off on the home pasture. If this here 1934 squad wasn't the best road team we've had in years we would be so far down the Central ladder that we'd be voting for 4 teams to get into the loop playoffs. The boys has done so well on foreign cushions, however, that they're still well up in the running, in spite of the fact that they been shellacked 8 times in 8 starts before the local customers.

Saturday's ball game with the Oshawas looked to be in the well-known bag for the Petes until Mister Deyell pitched the wrong kind of a ball in the 9th frame. Up to that stage the Petes had accumulated some 4 runs, while the best the Motorists could collect from the elongated Mister Deyell was 1 marker, and for frame after frame they hadn't been able to get a hired hand as far as the 1st pylon. With 1 gone in the 9th, Mister Matthews of the visitors got on the runways with an anemic infield single that should of been gobbed up. Mister Elliott slapped an honest-to-goodness blow, and Mister Deyell issued his 1st Annie Oakley of the pastime, densely populating the cushions. That wasn't so good. The next gent to appear at the home plate was Mister Peg Hurst, the diminutive centre fielder. Now Mister Hurst has the reputation of being a sucker on a hook or a fish for a curve, which means that he's helpless on a ball that takes a queer quirk. On a straight 1 he is something else again, and unfortunately Mister Deyell gave him a straight 1, and more unfortunately Mister Hurst picked that moment to show that if they were going to feed him fast balls 8th place in the batting order was no place to chuck him. He just poured the pine into that cripple and the ball game went riding out over Mister Dallin's head into the long grass at the left field fence. In simple terms, this Hurst person socked a homer with the bases full, and a little simple arithmetic will show anybody who is at all curious about the affair that by the time Mister Hurst followed his three pals across the home station the invaders was in front 5 to 4.

The Petes made a feeble effort in their half to pull the game out of the fire, but they were still dazed by the echo of that 4-run blow and subsided quickly.

Mister Abbie Rose, a veteran performer in these parts, went to the mound for us after Mister Hurst's colossal clout and stopped the enemy in their tracks. If he'd of gone in just 1 batter sooner he'd of probably saved the game, but that's second guessing. Anyway Mister Deyell had what it took to hog-tie Mister Hurst, but he didn't use it—and he's not the 1st pitcher and won't be the last to lose a ball game by chucking in the wrong ball. It was a tough brake for the big boy, who had given 1 of the best pitching performances of the season up to that fatal lapse.

Well enough for that. Mon. everybody's public enemy, the Kingston Ponies, is here, and if they's anybody the home fans like to see get knocked off its them same Ponies. Mon.'s game should provide a peppery afternoon for the stay-at-homes. As for me, I'm sorry to miss it, but the call of the wilds has got me, old-timer.

No fishing bulletins this time, but mebbe some next week. Meanwhile take care yourself and don't drop into 2 many plas night.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

DIEGEL MEETS SUDDEN REVERSE IN SECOND ROUND AT LAKEVIEW

Tommy Armour Shoots a 73, Three Over Par, for 142 Total.

IN CANADIAN OPEN.

(By A. E. Fulford, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, Aug. 4 (CP)—Lou Diegel, from Philmont, Ohio, who kidded his way to a 76 in the first round of the Canadian open golf championship, was on the spot today as they started the third round of the 72-hole competition. Diegel flopped badly yesterday, taking an 82, a duffer's score. It was the most sensational reversal of form that the Canadian open has ever seen.

Diegel as he started out to-day was five strokes behind Tommy Armour, the dour Scot, who has won the Canadian open championship only once, and has ideas about bettering Diegel's mark of winning the championship four times.

Armour shot a 73 yesterday, three over Lakeview's par 70. But it was good enough with his 69 to give him a score of 142. Tommy had been in his stride in the first round and shot a 69.

Armour shot careful golf yesterday while Diegel, excited by the large gallery and his 65 of the day before, made all sorts of mistakes. His drives were well off and when he did get to the green, it took him three or more to get down.

Behind Armour, as they started out to-day, were Herman Barron of Port Chester, N.Y., and Bill Mehlhorn of New York City, both with scores of 145.

Leading Canadian

The leading Canadian was Jack Littler, 26-year-old professional of the Rivermeade Club, Ottawa, who played the best golf of anyone yesterday. Littler's 69, one under par, tacked on to his 77 of the round before, gave him 146.

The young amateur that Vancouver sent down to the eastern tournaments, indicated he was as good as anything the East could produce. Ken Black, Vancouver, shot a 70 yesterday, exactly par, after feeling out the course with a 78 on the first round. It was Black's initial effort down East and he led the amateur golfers of the country at this stage.

MISHAPS RIDDLE WASHINGTON AND NEW YORK YANKEE RANKS

Presidents of Both Major Leagues Plea for Speedier Games.

FANS EASILY BORED.

The Detroit Tigers, speeding to what they believe will be their first pennant since 1909, are afraid of one thing—injury to Bengal regulars.

So far this season the injury jinx which has cut down many a good team in mid-season ere this, has realy been on the side of the Tigers.

First, the Washington Senators ran into one of the most devastating series of mishaps and hurts that ever knocked a championship club cold. Injuries riddled the Washington lineup. They collapsed and drifted out of the pennant race almost before it began.

With Washington out of the way Old Man Injury turned his attentions to the New York Yankees and, within a few weeks' time, the Tigers' most serious rival lost Babe Ruth temporarily from a leg injury, Earl Combs permanently from a skull fracture and even Lou Gehrig was beaned.

Now, fear the Tigers, it may be their turn!

Pleas for Speedier Games

Since becoming president of the American League, William Harridge has made repeated efforts to speed up the playing of games. His is the theory that slow games are detrimental to attendance because the fans become bored.

Now, John Heydler, National League president, joins the movement to cut playing time, urging umpires, managers and players to avoid every possible waste of time.

The action of Messrs. Harridge and Heydler is to be cheered.

A ball game is a ball game, whether it consumes an hour and three-quarters or three hours.

For long the men who produce baseball games have shown a fine disregard for the customer's time. In no other amusement or entertainment field is this true. Show producers, movie makers, magazine publishers and others are constantly attempting to cut down the time necessary for their customers to digest their products.

But baseball club owners, umpires, managers and players have always acted under the apparent assumption that it made no difference whether the fan who supported their enterprise ate a cold or hot supper, got home in time to mow the lawn or so late that the moon was up.

Harridge and Heydler know better. They realize that a bored customer easily becomes a lost customer.

And baseball has lost too many customers since the depression began, to risk any additional drain on attendance.

Watch For 20-game Pitchers

A veteran sport writer dropped in to enthuse over the manner in which many a major league batter is hammering horsehides these hot days.

"I wouldn't be surprise," he said, "if the major league batting averages attains a new high this season."

He may be right. Anyway, he should have stopped talking there but—

"And what's more," he continued, "I also wouldn't be surprised if there is somewhat less than a half-dozen major league pitchers who achieve 20 or more wins this year."

Whos!

Evidently he had not studied the weekly hurling statistics as closely as he might have, for it's a remarkable angle to the current major league campaigns that, while the batters are enjoying a great year there are also many pitchers who are enjoying their best season. Leading the parade are Dizzy Dean, Cardinals, and Veron Gomez, Yankees, both having a chance to attain 30 victories, though that is doubtful. Schoolboy Rowe, of the Tigers, also has a faint chance to make it 30.

Two other Tigers, Firpo Marberry and Tom Bridges, can make it 20. Also working toward that golden mark, are Lon Warneke and Guy Bush of the Cubs, Fred Frankhouse of the Braves, Charley Ruffing, Yankees; Tex Carleton of the Cards; Carl Hubbell and Hoi Schumacher, Giants; Mel Harder and, maybe, Monte Pearson, Indians. Even the Phillies believe they have a 20-gamer in Curt Davis, which would be a tremendous novelty for the Quakers.

It's a pretty good guess that instead of less than six there will be more than a dozen 20-game winners in major league spangles before world series time.

Petes Have Chance To Take Top Berth

The holiday ball game here Monday will see Kingston Ponies clash with the Petes at three o'clock in Riverside Park. It is a regular scheduled Central League contest and may change the standing considerably. With a win, Kingston can crawl up to just half a game back of the local outfit, whereas if the Petes cop it, they will either be in first place alone or else just half a game back of Belleville—depending on what Belleville does to-day with Oshawa. It is the closest race in years in the O.B.B.L. and every game is important. For this reason, both teams will be in there battling bitterly for a win Monday.

Neither Coach Joe Daley nor Coach Knotty Lee has announced his starting twirler yet. Both have several flingers ready to step in. Kingston may trot out the veteran Ted Gallagher. Otherwise, it will likely be Yammy Jamieson. Kitchen, Deyell and Calladine are all set for the home task. Both teams will be at full strength and ready for another of those Kingston-Peterborough ball fights. A large holiday crowd is expected.

The E.P.L. little world serial came to an abrupt ending last night. It wound up with Manager Doug Hatton of C.G.E. waving weakly at a whistling third strike pitched by Casey Masterson. The score was 4 to 3 for Cogs, and it was their fourth straight win in the series. It was also their second straight title, and they retain possession of the Tip Top Tailors' cup. Manager Dorsey Davis and his squad haven't lost a game this summer. It got so that a tie game looked like a losing streak for them. They did well, but will hardly go as strong in the O.B.A.A. playdowns. But who knows?

• • • • • • •

The boys dished up a smart tussle before a good crowd last night, and after it was over the losers ankled over to Cogs' dugout and slipped 'em congrats, along with three or four cheers. It's been a good series, and while Cogs won four in a row, three of them were mighty close and interesting. C.G.E. fought gamely to the end but were outclassed. The rival players bore no hard feeling at any time—just the usual amount of razzing during the game. Even the umps were treated as human beings!

• • • • • • •

Casey Masterson was the Clubmen's hero yester e'en. He pitched a fine game to give five hits and fan five, with no walks. He also batted in two runs and had nine fielding chances without a slip. His support was fair. McGillen and Barry did the losers' pitching, the latter making the better showing. Their backing was no heck, either, though Saunders and Weir were oke. Davis batted for Billingsley in the fifth just to get into another game so he could qualify for the O.B.A.A. playdowns. He drew a walk and immediately put another runner in for himself. A nice short ball game he played! And now Cogs will sit back—with some practising—till the Lakeshore League winner is declared.

• • • • • • •

Kingston Ponies tangle with the Petes at three bells in Riverside Monday afternoon. The Ponies are right on our heels and seem to have snapped out of their slump. And, then, the Petes haven't been doing so well at home this season, so anything may happen in this ball game. The fact that it is between these rival players—who actually dislike each other—and the fact that it is an important holiday game should mean a real crowd of fans on hand.

Orphans and Brintons meet tonight at six in Central, this being the second game of the softball semi-finals. Brintons took the first and, if they cop tonight's, they'll step into the finals Tuesday against Johnston's Tires. If Orphans win, a third game will be played Tuesday. Don't think there aren't hard feelings between these two outfits, Brintons and Orphans! The Carpetmen figure they were put on the spot by the other clubs, including Percy Harrison's, and they are out to knock them off in two straight. Maybe Currie and Shine will hook up again in a heavers' duel. Bert Deck and his Tiremen will be somewhere in the crowd watching with much interest.

The shouting and the clamor following the latest squabble of the merry men softballers seems to have died down to a few mutters. It will go the way of all arguments, we suppose, just dying a natural death. We have a sneaking suspicion that most of the gents that guide the up-and-down fortunes of this circuit get a huge kick out of these committee-room battles. Anyway, most of 'em chuckle about it later. The last argument is over and the majority of officers have forgotten it. Since the playoffs are going ahead okay, the hatchet may as well be buried—and not in anybody's noggin, either! We did hear a rumor that Secretary Leether, fed up on the whole business, intends resigning. We don't think the other officers should accept his resignation. Another meeting to deal with this matter—if it's true—and a little show of sportsmanship all around, and he should be induced to carry on.

There was supposed to be a grand men's softball game in Oshawa last p.m. between New Service and Langleys. The winner would be practically assured of entry into the O.A.S.A. playdowns, as the Oshawa loop calls for the team leading in the standing on the 15th to represent the Motor City. Well, to make a short story shorter, New Service took Langleys to the cleaners, 26-1 (Note: This "to the cleaners" crack is supposed to be a joke as both teams represent laundries or something). Da Preem Whitely, star flinger for New Service, made saps out of the opposition, said opposition being run by our sports-writin' friend on the Oshawa Times. How you doin', pal? So, if the local winner knocks off Lindsay, we'll see plenty of Mister Whitely.

This weekend is no holiday for this sports' department—not by a gallon jugful. In fact, we don't know how we'll cram all the accounts of sporting events into the paper Tuesday. Today, we have bantam and juvenile ball games, a senior tilt in Napanee, and men's softball, not forgetting tennis today and Monday. On Civic Holiday, there is a county cricket semi-final of Peterborough in Toronto, a senior ball game in Riverside, Bridgenorth softball tourney, and maybe other events. Oh,yes, and no less than four regattas throughout the district over the week-end. Holiday? Yeah, but not for sportswriters.

Rumor Has Chabot Goalie For Maroons

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—(C.P.) — The search by Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League for a goaler was rumored here yesterday to have turned toward Lorne Chabot, who minded the nets for the Canadiens last winter.

Refusal of Alex. Connell, Ottawa, to accept an offer by Maroons spoiled the plans of Tommy Gorman, astute manager, who believes a goaler is more than half a hockey team.

Canadiens have recalled Wilf Cude from Detroit, and this has lent support to the idea Chabot may be sold. Officials of neither the Canadian nor the Maroons would discuss the report yesterday.

Chabot was with Toronto Maple Leafs when they won the Stanley Cup two years.

Mack Denies Story Trouble With Foxx

NEW YORK, Aug 4. — (AP) — Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, laughed tonight at recurring rumors that he was about to sell his great firstbaseman, Jimmie Foxx, to Detroit Tigers, or that he had had recent arguments with the home-run star.

"There is absolutely nothing in it," he said with a chuckle. "You mustn't worry about such rumors. You'll be hearing them for the next twelve months anyway, probably until 1936, but its safe to say that even then Jimmie Foxx will still be with my ball club."

MAROONS AND RANGERS TO TRAIN AT WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21. —(C P)— Montreal Maroons and the New York Rangers, National Hockey League entries, will train here next fall, it was announced yesterday. The Ranger squad will report by Oct. 12 and the Maroons by Oct. 15.

Negotiations also are under way for a pre-season exhibition series here between Chicago Black Hawks and the Rangers and Maroons.

Thursday—Nationals vs. Cogs.

The A.S.A.A. nine lost both their games this week, losing to the Orioles last Monday and dropping Friday's tilt with the Cogs by default. The Nationals and Albions staged a grand battle on Wednesday night, the Nats finally squeezing out a win to stay in the hunt for a play-off berth.

Next week's games will see the schedule wound up and as these tussles will decide the first and second place play-off berths for the second half two great battles are looked for. A win for the Orioles and Cogs will give the latter undisputed possession of first place and will leave the Albions, Nationals and Orioles tied for second place. If, however, the Albions and Nationals win their games the Orioles will be eliminated and the other three teams will be tied for first place.

SILVER SLIPPERS By Temple Bailey

READ THIS FIRST:

Joan Dudley, vacationing in Maine with her wealthy aunt, Adelaide Delafield, is engaged to marry Drew Hallam, man of the world who is twice the age of his fiance. Mrs. Delafield becomes restless and decides to leave the log house, run by Penelope Sears, a widow, where she, Joan, Hallam and his sister, Nancy, have been stopping. Drew disapproves when Joan dons an apron and helps Penelope in the kitchen. They go out to dance in the moonlight. The party leaves the summer resort and start by motor for Granitehead. Caught in a storm they stop at Portsmouth. They meet a Mrs. Carter and her daughter, Rose, an old sweetheart of Drew Hallam. Rose decides to accompany them to Granitehead, her mother and Mrs. Delafield going on by train. When motor trouble develops, Drew and Rose go to telephone for help. While searching for them, Joan sees a man in a boat who warns her against the approaching storm.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 6

Along the rocks at Granitehead ran a primitive boardwalk. It connected one hotel with another, and between the hotels were small tea rooms and libraries and all the little places of trade patronized by summer guests and open only during the hot season.

At the end of the boardwalk, however, where it ascended a steep promontory was a shop which was open all the year. A sign above the doorway said:

GILES ARMIGER—
RARE BOOKS

In the window of the shop were displayed a few volumes of current fiction, whose gay jackets were in sharp contrast to the dark leather of the old books back of them, and to the dim prints and somber steel engravings.

Set low in the window, as if it modestly refrained from competition with the more aristocratic commodities of letters, was another sign. There was no name on the modest sign. It simply read:

SHOES MENDED

The shoemaker's shop was reached from the outside by a winding path up from the lower road, or indoors by a flight of stairs down from the bookshop. It clung thus to the side of the rock like the nest of some timid bird. Its windows faced the open sea, and, indeed, the view of the water was so wide and free that one looking out had the sensation of being on the prow of a ship and sailing forward. Within the shop, there was for furniture a cobbler's bench, a set of shelves on which were set forth shoes to be mended, a table piled with more shoes, and a modern machine for stitching leather. On the outer sills of the windows, beyond the screens, were boxes of growing plants, snapdragons and pentulas and painter's-brush—their pink and white and lavender blurred this morning by the gray slant of the rain which had beaten the waves into stillness and had shut people up in their houses.

The storm had, too, stopped business on the boardwalk, so that it was after 10 before the owner of the bookshop arrived. He called a greeting down the stairs and when no answer came he descended them, showing himself in the doorway as rather tall and shapeless in a yellow slicker with an oil-skin hat pulled over his nose.

There was a rustle in a corner and out came an old sea gull, raising its wings in an ecstasy of welcome. White of breast, keen of eye, it had a sort of wild dignity which made it impressive in spite of the dragging pinion which held it to earth and kept it from the flashing flights of others of its kind who, even in the rain, dipped and rose, or hung suspended above the sullen surface of the sea.

"All alone, Pete?"

Old Peter stretched his neck and seemed to listen. There was a step outside.

"Scripps is coming," Armiger said, and the door opened.

The man who entered wore no hat or raincoat. He nodded to Armiger and stripped off his worn leather jacket and threw it in a corner. There had been a time when Scripps' leather jacket had been worn for more spectacular uses—when he had flown high in the air above other seas than this—above war-swept zones. Then one day his wings had been broken by the guns of enemy planes. He had come down, as old Peter had come, to walk henceforth with men who had no wings. To mending shoes, because when the doctors had diagnosed his case they had spoken of nerves and the necessity of doing something with his hands. "No more law books," the big specialist had said, "it would be wiser to learn a trade if you don't think it beneath you."

Scripps had spoken with bitterness. "Beggars can't be choosers. I'll mend shoes. My great-grandfather was a cobbler. There were many cobblers in Granitehead, and nobody was ashamed of it."

Stephen Scripps and Giles Armiger had come from France together. There had been things overseas which had drawn them close. Their asset was now a friendship which touched the skies, their liabilities that they had the strength of only one man between them. Giles always spoke of his own perfect physical condition with a note of apology. "I seemed to bear a charmed life, Scripps. It wasn't fair when the rest of you had to suffer."

Yet Giles had fought through four years of it, and he had come back with the marks of it on his soul. Never again would there be the radiance, the youth, the gayety. Never again, perhaps, the hope, the ambition. When his friend, Stephen, had elected to mend shoes, Giles had said: "My grandfather's library was his pride. He bought rare books. I'll sell them."

So here were the two shops, Scripps safely hidden in his, his sign in his friend's window. Armiger happy among his books. Or as happy as a man can be who through four years has seen horrors.

Scripps said now: "Dilly came over this morning. I met her at the landing. She'll be up here at lunch time. She has brought a cake. She remembered your birthday."

"How's the baby?"

"Much better. That's why she could come. She left her with William."

"Nasty weather for her to be out."

"Dilly doesn't mind rain any more than a little duck. She said the storm of yesterday blew things about a bit. Carried one of her Plymouth Rocks out to sea, and she had to row to the rescue."

They laughed at the picture of Dilly in pursuit of her wind-blown biddy, then Giles said: "It was a dreadful storm. It caught me on my way down from Gloucester. I've never seen blacker clouds, coming up from the west, with a green tint, like a tornado."

He seated himself on the edge of the table and swung a foot. "Just as the storm broke a girl appeared on the rocks above me. She was all in white and with that blackness back of her the effect was tremendous . . . like something supernatural . . . or like that statue, you remember, we saw in France, when the smoke drew away and it stood out against the dark . . ."

"I don't want to remember," said Scripps. "I don't want to remember anything, in France."

"I know." Giles shelved the dangerous topic and went on with his story. "Well, I saw that the storm was about to break but the girl didn't, and I waved a warning. She began to run and her white cape billowed up about her like wings . . ."

He stopped suddenly and sat staring into space.

Scripps glanced at him and said, drily, "An angel visitant?"

"Yes, something like that. You needn't try to be funny about it, Scripps."

"I couldn't be funny. But I'm not quite sold on angel visitants."

"You have no poetry in your soul."

"Well, why should I? I deal in shoes."

"There aren't any slatterns in Granitehead."

"Oh, well, have your way about it," Armiger stood up, undisturbed by the argument, "and just for that I'll leave you to Peter's company. I'll be down when Dilly comes. It's raining hard again, thank heaven. I shall have a peaceful day with no barbarians to bother me."

The barbarians were, it may be said, certain of the summer people who haunted the boardwalk. They bought of Giles not because they cared for old books, or fine bindings, or the association with rare minds of other ages, but because they felt that something which must be paid for by checks of three figures should be worth having. Few of them knew the difference between Ben Jonson and the incomparable Samuel; had never read Keats or heard of Fanny Brawne. They stared blankly when one spoke of Pepys, and refused utterly to enthuse over Shelley even while they bought him. Giles, lacking the commercial mind, would have preferred to keep his treasures rather than have them go to those who had no real appreciation of their value. "I have patience with ignorance which seeks knowledge," he told Scripps, "but not with these literary upstarts who buy books as they would bonds."

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, August 5

Sunday's horoscope holds auguries of many pleasant, prosperous and progressive occurrences, especially for the church and state, the clergy, magistrates and all in positions of power and prestige. In turn these will be found approachable and friendly in all channels of service and lively social intercourse. It is auspicious for applying to these for counsel, solid co-operation and support in the attainment of many cherished hopes and wishes.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a very progressive, prosperous and happy year, with the fortunes increased (probably by speculative enterprise), the personal popularity and standing enhanced and a definite advance upon the goal of high ambitions. It is a time for pushing for these.

A child born on this day may be unusually talented and efficient, with large ambitions, and many friends who will promote its fortunes and its happiness.

For Monday, August 6

Monday's astrological forecast is a very favorable and interesting one, with the prospect of a sudden change of benefit, which may create new interests and fresh environs. Also there is a sign showing a definite stabilizing of the fortunes and accumulated possessions, either through some avenue of solid investment or through the friendly hand of an elderly person or institution. But in the making of contracts have an eye to a trivial loophole for disappointment or delay.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of profitable change, calling for new surroundings and probably interests. But the real fortune will be stabilized or increased either through investments or the friendship of elderly persons. Landed possessions, property or other accumulations should increase.

A child born on this day should be an original and independent as well as profound thinker, succeeding in life through its talents as well as responsibility.

Hornsby's Hustlers Fool The Baseball Experts

When Rogers Hornsby told the baseball experts in the south during spring training that his St. Louis Browns wouldn't be last they just laughed. But now, with only one .300 hitter (Catcher Rollie Hemsley) and no such star collection of pitchers as other teams boast, Hornsby has led his team to the top of the second division in the American league and his hustling ball club is threatening to go higher before the campaign ends. The development of Jack Knott and Buck Newsome to help the veteran pitchers, Irvin Hadley and George Blaeholder, has helped the St. Louis cause.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK - - By R. J. Scott

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

By HARRISON CARROLL.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4.—With the heat wave that has beleaguered the middle west, finally striking Hollywood and boosting filmdom's thermometer to 95 degrees, the stars are going in for a new fad—night flying' Lured on by two weeks of brilliant moonlight, the air-minded celebs are flocking to nearby airports where both private and rented planes are in demand. Skylarkers reports a 20-degree drop in temperature at a height of 6,000 feet over Hollywood.

Evelyn Venable

Though not so cooling, even in the upper altitudes the forest fire which raged on Mount Lowe and nearby slopes also attracted the attention of the nightflyers' Evelyn Venable, Anna May Wong and Gertrude Michael recruited a party at Paramount and flew over the conflagration. The sky-going is rough over the fire area, but the unusual spectacle is attracting many planes.

CRITICS OF Hollywood who still insist that filmdom isn't trying to clean up should see what is really going on. Some of the precautions approach the point of absurdity. That script change in the Cantor picture, for instance.

Originally, the background action for a scene (it's a harem) was described: "Several girls in diaphanous robes are doing a gay dance."

Someone got censor-conscious and the description now reads:

"Several girls are doing a dance to waltz-time."

A NEW PAUL MUNI will be revealed today on the screen of the Regent Theatre, when this star's latest Warner Bros. production, "Hi, Nellie!" has its first showing there.

Not only a new Paul Muni—but an astonishing one. This forceful dramatic star, whose former pictures, such as "I Am A Fugitive From A Chain Gang," "Scarface" and "The World Changes," have been screen sensations in the realm of the serious and the tragic, has at last turned to comedy. And what a comedian he is, you'll have to discover for yourself.

Glenda Farrell is seen opposite Paul Muni as a girl reporter with whom he is in feuds until the exciting climax. Others who turn in notable performances are Ned Sparks, as a gloomy reporter; Donald Meek, Edward Ellis, Kathryn Sergava, Hobart Cavanagub, Doug. Dumbrille and Robert Barrat.

PREVIEW REPORT.

Harold Lloyd's new picture, "The Cat's Paw," finds the star leaning more towards story comedy and less towards gags. The film, shown to an almost entirely newspaper and Hollywood audience, disappointed a few, but the burden of comment was enthusiastic' Incidentally, the film should square any lingering prejudice that the Chinese may have over "Welcome Danger", where a Chinaman was made the villain. In the new picture, Harold, as a returned missionary who is elected reform mayor on a fluke, enlists the aid of his friends in Chinatown to clean the city of gangsters' A unique third degree staged in a cellar in the Oriental quarter is a hilarious climax to the fun. Watch Una Merkel in this one. She delivers a swell comedy performance.

KNICK-KNACKS—

Evelyn Venable says there'll be no marriage for her even after she comes of age. She means with Hal Mohr, of course. The youthful actress is busy at present on a play about Joan of Arc. Says it will be good, too . . . Whimsical folk, the stars. A half dozen big names from Paramount turned up on Central avenue for a ball promoted by Oscar, the studio bootblack. Joe Penner did a number, Gordon and Revell played and sang their songs, and Libby Taylor (Mae West's colored maid) wowed the crowd with a dramatic sketch . . . Joan Crawford, Harold Lloyd, Laurel and Hardy and Irvin Cobb all were box holders for the charity polo game staged by the Uplifters and the Junior league . . . Ruby Keeler denies there is anything to that baby adoption story for the present. If she and Al ever do take a youngster, nobody will know about it, she insists. . . . And Bill Powell's son and namesake is off to the High Sierras for a summer camp.

DID YOU KNOW—

That Henry Wilsoxon, whom they will be whooping about when "Cleopatra" is released, played 150 stage and screen roles during his six-year stay in London?

CRICKET

LATER STARTING HOUR

LONDON, Aug. 4 (CP Cable).—It was officially announced to-day that the final cricket test match between Australia and England would start a half-hour later each day, play starting at 11.30 a.m. each day, instead of 11.

RIFE MEETS OPEN MONDAY

TORONTO, Aug. 4. (CP).—More than 300 of Canada's crack marksmen were preparing to-day for the 60th annual meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association over Long Branch ranges Monday, finishing touches to the ranges were made to-day for the shoot, preluds to the Canadian "Bisley" the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meet at Connaught ranges, South March, near Ottawa.

CURRIE CUP RACES

MONTREAL, Aug. 4. (CP). — Yachtsmen from Toronto, Kingston and Montreal will vie to-day as dinghies speed over the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club course at Dorval, on Lake St. Louis, in quest of the Currie Cup. The cup was presented in 1922 by George B. Currie for competition between the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto, the Kingston Yacht Club and the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club. There will be three races for the trophy, crews changing boats after each event.

LEAFS MAY TRAIN AT GALT.

GALT, Aug. 4.—(C.P.)—At the Kiwanis Club luncheon yesterday, an intimation was given it was quite probable the Toronto Maple Leafs would do their fall training in Galt this year. The Kiwanis Club has had a proposition submitted to them whereby, for their support, they would share in the receipts of a game at the close of the training season, between the Leafs and another N.H.L. team. Arrangements have been completed for the use of the arena and the local golf links and all that remains to be settled is that of accommodation.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Number 370

It's surprising how few golfers encourage their children to take up the game.

I'm sure that there are thousands of boys and girls who would be just as enthusiastic over golf as they are about baseball and tennis. And they'd be getting plenty of good exercise in the best of surroundings.

Here's the outstanding point in favor of starting the youngsters—every youngster taking up golf while able to learn through imitation is destined to become a good player.

Nearly all of the champions started at a very young age.

Give your child a chance to join the group you may have despaired of reaching.

MADOC COMMUNITY CLUB HOLDS CELEBRATION AND STREET DANCE

GAMES, RACES, FOLLOW.

MADOC, Aug. 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—Madoc's big celebration and street dance was held on Wednesday afternoon, the first half holiday of the month.

Shortly after one o'clock the calithumpian parade was started with R. P. Wellman and K. Mulrooney on their prancing steeds, and gaily apparelled in brass helmets and red coats, followed by the Belleville Band.

The Community Club float came next, with two cars driven by J. K. Rutherford and H. Bailey. Above these and borne by the cars was a large banner proclaiming "The Community Club Welcomes You." Next came A. Bird's float, decked in blue and white streamers. R. O. Riordan's float followed, also decorated. Next came Mr. Coy's car, with a trailer labelled "McCoy's Greasy Pig. You catch the pig, we pay for the hide."

Then came a float, "Everybody Works But Father," advertising Madoc Bakery, with H. Govier very much at his ease and smoking, while a bevy of pretty maidens cooked and scoured and cleaned in a bower of evergreens and bunting.

Ladies Represented

Wedlock's firm was represented, also Dafoe's Hardware, and George West's men's clothing store. The Rebekahs were represented by a delegation of ladies in a car decorated in old rose and green. The Women's nstitute car, well trimmed in blue and old gold, carried the executive committee.

The Massey-Harris float deserves special mention, as the machinery was all kept in motion by efficient industry. Mrs. Wellman tended a cream separator, while Mrs. Corrigal looked as if she might be very much at home in the haying field, and Mrs. Hulin had busy hands at work also.

Frank Smith, C. R. Johnston, and D. Blue had gaily decorated cars. Arkell's float advertised the coming Hawaiian concert and contained many of our budding musicians.

Bristol's car proclaimed the founding of that business in 1856, while Whytock's float spoke of 75 years in business and displayed a generous load of sugar and flour, while busy employees distributed samples of corn flakes, etc.

One of the most unique of the floats was that of Gunn and Jack. Two trailers were drawn by a decorated car. Each trailer contained a canoe, well equipped. The first canoe was occupied by P. Gunn with ready rifle awaiting the wary deer or other game. V. Jack occupied the other, and was supplied with rod and line, on which was an immense eel—a piece of rubber hose.

W. J. Hill and other citizens followed to complete the lengthy parade. Starting at Smith's garage they turned the mill corner to Durham, and down Durham to Munro's garage, then turned to wend their way up St. Lawrence street and the Queensboro road to the Fair Grounds, where much amusement was provided by a ball game between Tweed and Madoc and by various games and races.

In the ball games Springbrook lost to White Lake, 17-6. Tweed, 12; Madoc, 2. Tweed, 10; White Lake, 7; giving Tweed the cup.

In the evening the first event was a band concert in Memorial Park, when a memorial tablet was unveiled by a daughter, Clara (Mrs. Jewell Bentley) of the donor of the park to the community.

Playground Intended

The Reeve, C. M. Wallbridge, in the speech of presentation, reminded the boys and girls that Mr. T. H. Thompson, in presenting the park to Madoc's citizens had in mind that eventually the south end of the park might become a playground well equipped for the sports of boys and girls, and that the bronze tablet now presented by the Community Club was intended to keep the memory green and to remind the coming generation of the thoughtful generosity of one who ever had the welfare of the children and citizens of Madoc at heart.

The band and citizens then assembled on Front street, where space had been roped off, and much merriment was had at games of bingo and ringing the duck.

Later, street dancing was indulged in for many hours. Music for square dancing being supplied at the upper corners by violin, guitar and mouth organ, while at the south end the band supplied music for those wishing to dance the round dances.

WILLING WORKERS CONDUCT SOCIAL

Rush Point Sunday School Class Affair Draws Splendid Crowd.

RUSH POINT, Aug. 4. (Examiner Correspondence) The Girls' Sunday School class, "The Willing Workers" of the Rush Point Church, under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Curtis, deserve much credit for the splendid lawn social and program at the church on Wednesday evening.

The tables were beautifully arranged and the large crowd present for the occasion enjoyed the abundance of good things set before it. The choice of colours in table decoration, the arrangement of flowers and the lighting facilities (common lanterns dressed with dainty tissue paper shades) all showed wonderful artistic thought and care.

Miss Corinne McArthur, as president of the class, took the chair, and made a very pleasing chairman's address.

The items on the program were as follows: Opening chorus by the class "Old Rugged Cross"; comic reading, Miss Mae Seeney; vocal solo, Miss Luella Keating; recitation, Betty Gaynel Petherick; violin solo, Miss Helen Buchanan; reading, Miss Corinne McArthur; vocal solo, Miss Jean Pollock; reading, Miss Jeanne Blakely.

At this point in the program the lucky ticket was drawn and Mr. James Ketchen of Havelock became the possessor of the quilt previously made by the girls' class at the regular meetings. The sale of tickets amounted to $13.10 and the gate receipts for the social were $10.

The girls sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and the successful evening was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

Obituary

MRS. ROBERT MEIKELJOHN

BONARLAW, August 3. — The death occurred on Thursday of Mrs. Robert Meikeljohn, relict of the late Robert Meikeljohn, in her 81st year, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sanford Meikeljohn, 9th line of Rawdon. The deceased has been confined to her bed for the past few weeks.

GARNET H. KIDD

The death occurred at Merid, Saskatchewan, recently of Garnet H. Kidd, a native of Dummer Township. Stricken with a heart seizure Mr. Kidd died suddenly in his 47th year.

Since going to Merid, where he settled in the Spring of 1910, Mr. Kidd had established a reputation in the community as an industrious farmer and merchant. He was widely respected by all who knew him.

Surviving is his widow, and daughter June, two sisters, Mrs. Harry Henning, of Indian Head, Sask., Mrs. William Watts of Port McNichol, Ont., and three brothers, Ernest Kidd, of Herschel, Sask., Herbert Kidd, of Peterborough, Ont., and Everett H. Kidd, on the farm near Peterborough.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence by the Rev. F. Yates, B.A., of Alsask, and interment was made at Mantario, Saskatchewan.

In making reference to the passing of Mr. Kidd, the Alsask News, of July 26th, states in part:

"Mr. Kidd was one of the first to introduce tractor farming to this district. He also made a specialty of poultry farming. Later on he took over the Eyre Store and post office, as well as his farming operations. He was an active member of the Wheat Pool and the local Grain Growers' Association, and one of the prime movers in the community project which has now become Mantario-Eyre Park.

"Always genial and full of fun the late Mr. Kidd was popular with young and old alike, and although during the latter part of his stay in this neighborhood more occupied with the commercial side of life, the family never dropped the neighborliness of a brother farmer."

Reduction of interest rates in Mexico has doubled industrial loans in three months.

GREAT AL. G. BARNES CIRCUS—BIGGER, BETTER, DUE WEDNESDAY

The circus!

Transported aboard three special trains with employees numbering 1,080 people, in addition to 108 advance men, an official of the circus here to-day furnished some statistics. Hundreds of draft horses are carried; and innumerable head of ring stock. Twenty-two tents covering 12 acres of ground are used to house the transient city. There are 200 performers, representing 18 foreign countries. Sixty riders headed by the "Poodles" Hanneford family of equestrians will be seen along with Al G. Barnes' 40 dancing horses and 40 dancing girls. The Clarkonian troupe of aerialists, who perform high up in the dome of the "big top" will thrill and amaze in equilibristic work. Sixty acrobats and 60 clowns will also be a part of the super program.

For more than a quarter of a century the Al G. Barnes has excelled with its trained wild animals. More than a score of international wild animal trainers will be seen. Foremost among them will be seen Mabel Stark, who has returned to America after fresh foreign triumphs. For this season she is presenting a group of 17 Royal Bengal tigers in a display of courage, daring and patience.

The "Fiesta of the Rio Grande," a gorgeous processional fiesta with the charm and romance of old Spain, a glorious fairyland spectacle of pantomime enchantment, will open the circus performance as a prelude. Superb beyond belief, indescribable, a triumph among colossal productions, it is to-day sweeping all before it with its all-powerful appeal and the very vastness of its character. It is the crowning spectacle in the long, eventful career of Al G. Barnes. One thousand men and women, horses and animals participate in the stupendous spectacle. Great companies of trained singers, orchestras of vast size, grand golden-tongued organs, cymbals and trumpets will be heard. Seventy thousand dollars was expended on wardrobes for this gorgeous prologue pageant.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p.m. The doors will open at 1 and 7 p.m. to permit an inspection of the zoological collection or to enjoy a concert of popular and operatic music by Prof. Redrick's military band.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Prices were unchanged on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday, Trading was quiet.

On the butter market, fresh No. 1 continued to be quoted at 19c to 19½c a pound in cartons or less. Small lots to retailers were 20c to 21c a pound for solids, and 21c to 22c for prints. Receipts were 1,487 boxes.

Cheese prices were steady, Ontario colored being 10¼c to 10¾c a pound, and Quebec cheese 9¾c to 9¾c a pound. Arrivals totalled 5,415 boxes.

On the egg market, graded shipments in cartons or less were quoted at 21c to 22c a dozen for A-large, 20c to 20½c for A-medium, 18½c to 19c for "B," and 18c to 18½c for "C". Receipts totalled 2,097 cases.

Potatoes maintained their level of 50c to 60c per 80-pound bag for new Quebecs.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Succumbing to the weight of persistent profit-taking sales on price advances, the wheat market turned downward at the last yesterday.

Rallies which in the ebd failed to hold were due largely to the fact that Canada's 1934 wheat crop was estimated here today at as low as 350,000,000 bushels, whereas a month ago the Canadian Government figures indicated 350,000,000 bushels.

Besides a next season repetition of this year's crop failure in the United States winter wheat belt was authoritatively predicted today unless there is a radical improvement of moisture supply within the next six weeks.

Despite strength in the corn market, wheat closed easy ¼c to ½c under Thursday's finish, corn ¼c to ¾c up, oats ⅛c to ⅜c down, and provisions showing 2c to 12 gain.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 4.—Leadership given by strong Liverpool prices was nullified by heavy selling on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. Wheat futures prices, after early advances had been wiped out, closed ½ clower to unchanged, the October option at 86⅞c; December, 90⅛c and May 78⅜-94c.

An unexpected advance in the English market of ⅛d-¼d failed to do more than lift local values at the opening. After futures were run up more than a cent, successive waves of profit-taking erased the gains and halted each attempt thereafter at an upward drive.

Futures lacked strong support throughout the session export sales were small, approximating only 900,000 bushels, and foreign importers appeared satisfied with their purchases of the previous two days, which aggregated more than 2,000,000 bushels of Canada's wheat.

Trading in cash grains was slow, a reflection of the temporary lull in foreign demand for wheat, and spreads on most grades closed practically unchanged. Coarse grains futures were featureless, closely following the trend of wheat.

GREAT WARRIOR BORNE TO GRAVE ON GUN CAISSON

60 MILES OF TORCHES.

Pause Made at Knoll Where Marshal Directed His First 1914 Victory.

By GUENTHER BEUKERT
Associated Press Foreign Staff

TANNENBERG, Aug. 7.—(A P) — Onto the field on which he rode to his greatest triumph, Marshal Paul Von Hindenburg rode for the last time today on a flag-draped gun caisson.

Through a 60-mile lane of flaring torches, the body of the late president was taken from his home at Neudeck, first by a motorized escort and at the end by infantry and cavalry forces, to his last resting place.

Just as daylight was spreading through the eastern sky, outlining dimly the ancient forests and fields, the cortege stopped at a knoll outside the village of Froegenau.

He it was that Marshal Von Hindenburg and his staff directed the winning battle against the Russians, in August, 1914, at the start of the World War. Here it is that a simple monument commemorates that generalship.

Only five minutes they paused silently, then went on to the National Memorial at Tannenberg, where the coffin was placed in the hall of commanders to await the ceremonies.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler, Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Colonel Oskar Von Hindenburg were there for the start. Goering placed flowers, a tribute from the German government, on the coffin.

Members of the family had said their last farewell to the patriarch in his study, where the Reverend Mr. Doernitz, pastor of The Holy Trinity Church which the president attended, spoke brief consoling words.

Battalions Stand Guard

The coffin was borne out and placed near two flags of the Reichswehr (regular army). Three Reichswehr battalions formed a wide circle about the manor. Beyond them stood the inhabitants of nearby towns and villages.

Helmets and hats were removed, and the pastor offered a prayer:

"And now we bid farewell to the

ROEBUCK TAKES INTEREST IN GIRL WORKERS CASE

States Eaton Company Refuses to Compromise When 38 Employes Quit.

PROTESTED PAY CUT.

No Reply Given Minister After Second Letter Urging Negotiations.

TORNTO, Aug. 7. (CP).—Efforts to effect a settlement of the dispute between the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., and some 38 women factory workers who have been locked out following their refusel to accept a cut in wages, are being made by Hon. Arthur Roebuck, Attorney General and Minister of Labor.

Asked about his action in the matter to-day Mr. Roebuck said one of his first acts as Minister of Labor had been to ask the company to meet him with some sort of compromise. They had replied that the girls had left of their own accord and had been warned they would not be taken back. The company further stated it would be subversive of discipline if it now changed its position.

Mr. Roebuck said he had pressed the company further and had canvassed every possibility without success. The company would do nothing.

Notwithstanding this failure he had written the company again last week suggesting a conference between representatives of the company and the employees. He had offered to provide a meeting place and a secretary and to send a representative of the Labor Department to act as chairman or in any other capacity. As yet he had had no reply to this proposal.

200 TRAPPED FAR DOWN MINE

French Victims Imprisoned as 20 Poles Cut Off Power, Food.

PROTEST FIRING OF PALS.

LENS, France, Aug. 7 (AP)—Two hundred miners were trapped today in the 1,000-foot level of a coal mine where they were imprisoned yesterday by a group of 20 Polish miners protesting against the discharge of two comrades.

The group blocked the galleries and cut air, water and electricity connections, entirely paralyzing the mine.

A foreman, who descended the shaft last night to negotiate a relief, was also held below.

Heavy police guards surrounded the shaft, but communications ceased at 10 p.m. yesterday.

The 200 miners had gone down the shaft unsuspectingly, but when they left the elevator at the 1,000-foot level the rebellious group suddenly rushed them, barricaded the galleries, and cut the power lines.

In the scuffle, the miners escaped into other galleries from those in which they originally were imprisoned but they all had been a day and half without enough food and water, and the lack of ventilation was regarded as a serious danger.

CAR IS WRECKED DRIVER INJURED

Manilla Farmer Had Close Call Early Sunday Morning.

TO FACE CHARGE.

William Cobourn, 35, Manilla farmer, probably escaped death early Sunday morning when his car crashed through a guard fence and hurtled down a 20-foot embankment of the Otonabee river at the end of Dublin street due to the strength of the wire fencing. The strong, webbed fencing became wrapped around the front wheels of the car- preventing it from diving into the river.

Completely wrecked, the car landed on its top less than a foot from the river's edge. Cobourn was removed from the vehicle through the smashed windshield by police, who were called to the scene by Alderman Fred Tuggey.

Dr. J. M. O'Brien treated him for minor mouth and head injuries and he was removed to St. Joseph's hospital. It is expected that he will be released from hospital within a day or two and, according to police, he will then face a charge of operating a car while intoxicated in magistrate's court.

Alderman Tuggey was aroused from sleep by the noise of the crash. Believing the car had gone into the river, he called police and the fire department immediately to assist in the rescue.

J. J. Duffus' wrecking truck worked for two hours on Sunday before succeeding in removing the wrecked vehicle from the river bank. The car was described by auto mechanics as being fit only for the "wreckers."

20 Timber Leases Headed For The Axe

TORONTO, Aug. 7. (CP).—A Toronto newspaper to-day says it learned that 20 northern Ontario timber companies now in debt to the Ontario Government more than $1,000,000 will have their leases cancelled as soon as Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Lands and Forests and Northern Development, returns from the by-election in Kenora. It was expected this woud be about the middle of August.

"Many of these companies," said the paper, "have paid nothing to the provincial coffers for several years."

Highball Flavor

CARDROSS, Dumbartonshire, Scotland, Aug. 7. —(A. P.)— The British drought is rapidly making this village the most popular spot in Scotland.

There's whiskey in its drinking water—and the drinking water is free.

When the town's water reservoir went dry from lack of rain reserves were brought from other points in the Great Oaks in which this region abounds. It abounds in them because they are used for maturing whiskey, the Scotch variety.

Local temperance organizations protested strenuously against having to drink water with a distinct highball flavour but the village authorities answered that the water is perfectly safe.

LAD 13 ADMITS SHOOTING CHUM

Pressed by Sudden Urge He Claims While Awaiting Mother From London.

KNEW GUN LOADED.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7 (AP) —With the words, "It seemed like a devil guided me," Billy Atares, 13-year-old "problem child" confessed, the State's Attorneys' Office said, that he slew Raymond Wylder, 11, of Auburn, Ill., and with a shot gun August 3.

"I knew the gun was loaded when I took it on the hill and when I shot Raymond Wylder, something got hold of me and made me pull the trigger," State's Attorney Greening quoted him as saying.

Billy is locked up accused by a playmate, Jack Beam of Auburn, where Billy was visiting for the summer, of having shot Raymond because he had "squealed" on a robbery in which Billy allegedly had a part.

Mrs. Ray Kenoff, Billy's mother, is expected to arrive to-day from London, Ont.

While awaiting his mother's arrival, Billy talked freely about the shooting and repeated his admission that he was responsible for the slaying. Kenoff, Billy's stepfather, is a Chicago taxi driver.

The boy is held without bail on a murder charge, awaiting grand jury action. State's Attorney Alfred H. Greening has not indicated what action might be taken, other than indictment and trial, but arrangements are being made for the boy's examination by Dr. Paul Schroder of Chicago, a State criminologist.

Two Police and Over 35 Neighbors, Fire Rangers Join Posse.

MISSING 10 DAYS.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—(C.P.)—All the resources of the Ontario Government, together with the aid of settlers and fire rangers, have been thrown into the search for a man named Edwards, who has been mssing for ten days and is believed to be lost in the bush in Garrison township about 20 miles east of Matheson

Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Lands and Forests, who is now in the notrh, received an appeal from Sadie Edwards for assistance in finding her husband. He at once communicated with General Victor Willams, commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, and officials of the Lands and Forests Department and immedate steps were taken to aid in the search.

Hon. Arthur Roebuck, Attorney-General, co-operating with General Williams, said he had learned two provincial constables had been engaged on the search along with between 35 and 65 private individuals and fire rangers since the man's disappearance was reported.

If the ground within a reasonable distance of the point where Edwards was known to have been has been covered without success, it has now been decided to engage a number of experienced bushmen to join in the hunt and Inspector Elliott of the Provincial Police has been supplied with funds for this purpose.

NEIGHBORS SAVE MOTHER OF NINE

Prevent Her Being Sent to Jail for Facing Water Employee With Gun.

PROTEST TO ALDERMAN.

READING, Pa. Aug. 7. —(A P.) —Loyalty of neighbours and friends has saved Mrs. Mary Bates, mother of nine, from jail for defending her home's water supply with a brick and a shotgun.

There was no money to pay the water rent, and she had an infant child to care for, so Mrs. Bates went to the door with a brick in her hand when Joseph Miller, reading suburban water company employee, came to shut off the service.

There was still no money when Miller called again, and the baby was still to be cared for so she met him this time with a shot gun.

To Alderman Frank J. Prinz went Miller, asking that Mrs. Bates be ordered to post bond to keep the peace.

To Mrs Bates hearing last night went 150 neighbours and friends.

When Alderman Prints ordered Mrs. Bates to post $300 bail or go to jail. The neighbours shouted protests and she was allowed her freedom.

EMPIRE POOL, Wembley, England, Aug. 7.—(C. P. Cable) —Phyllis Dewar of Moose Jaw, Sask., became the Empire's swimming queen today by winning the 440 yards free style final at the British Empire Games. Yesterday the girl from the Canadian prairies won the 100 yards free style title.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WHITE CITY STADIUM, London, Aug. 7—(CP Cable) —Harold Webster, 40-year-old Canadian scoutmaster from Hamilton, Ont., won the 26 miles, 385 yards classic marathon of the British Empire Games today in two hours, 40 minutes, 36 seconds. It marked one of the few times Webster had competed against an international field.

The modest Canadian veteran, who ran Dave Komonen, North American champion, into the ground in the Dominion's trial grind early this summer, set up a new Empire Games record. The old mark of two hours, 43 minutes, 43 seconds was established at Hamilton in 1930 by Dunky Wright of Scotland.

Webster's triumph in the most glamorous of all athletic events climaxed a brilliant track and field rally by Canadians today after England had mopped up victory after victory. Sam Richardson, 16-year-old Toronto schoolboy, stunned the White City audience by winning the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet, 6¼ inches.

Wins Javelin Throw

Robert Dixon of Vancouver won the javelin throw for Canada tossing the spear 196 feet, 11 inches.

Webster finished three-quarters of a mile ahead of Donald McNab Robertson of Scotland who finished second. Wright, veteran little defending champion, was third. He crossed the line more than 15 minutes after Webster had gone to the dressing room. Wood of England was fourth and Tiny Percy Wyer of Canada was fifth. Short of Wales took sixth place.

Following is a list of the first six finishers and their times:

Webster, Canada, 2:40:36.
Robertson, Scotland, 2:45.08.
Wright, Scotland, 2:56:20.
Wood, England, 2:58:31.
Wyer, Canada, 3:00:40.
Short, Wales, 3:02:56.

Admiral Tyrwhitt Claims Fleet Too Small—Canada Needs More Protection.

TORONTO, Aug. 7. —(C. P.). — More than 50,000 veterans returned to their homes today, carrying vivid memories of the Great Canadian Corps Re-Union when they clasped the hands of "Buddies" of war days and staged an event that will live long in the memories of Toronto citizens.

Special trains sped from the Union Station, crowded with men from all parts of the Dominion and from the United States. Farewells were shouted parting handshakes made and the boys of the trenches parted to return to everyday tasks

Two noted warriors also prepared to leave the city with their wives after journeying across the ocean to be present when the boys of Flanders gathered in the greatest meeting of veterans since war days. They were Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt, famous British sailor and Field Marshall Viscount Allenby, liberator of Palestine.

Viscount Allenby was forced to take a complete rest in Hospital but it is expected he will be able to leave shortly for home.

Sir Reginald, his wife and Lady Allenby yesterday were guests of honor at a huge civic luncheon. In his address the Admiral recalled his days aboard the fighting ships and declared the air force would never supplant cruisers of the open seas. cruisers, he maintained, were the "eyes of the fleet."

He recalled the slogan of Admiral Sir Charles Beresford, "if you want to be at peace, be prepared for war," and declared that in his judgment it was the finest insurance this magnificent country could possibly have." Ships had been scrapped since the war years and not replaced. In 1914 Britain had three times the number of ships than at present.

More Cruisers Needed.

More cruisers were required and he said he was pleased to hear there was "a rumour" the cruiser strength was to be increased from 50 to 70, the figure set by Lord Beatty as the minimum for ade-

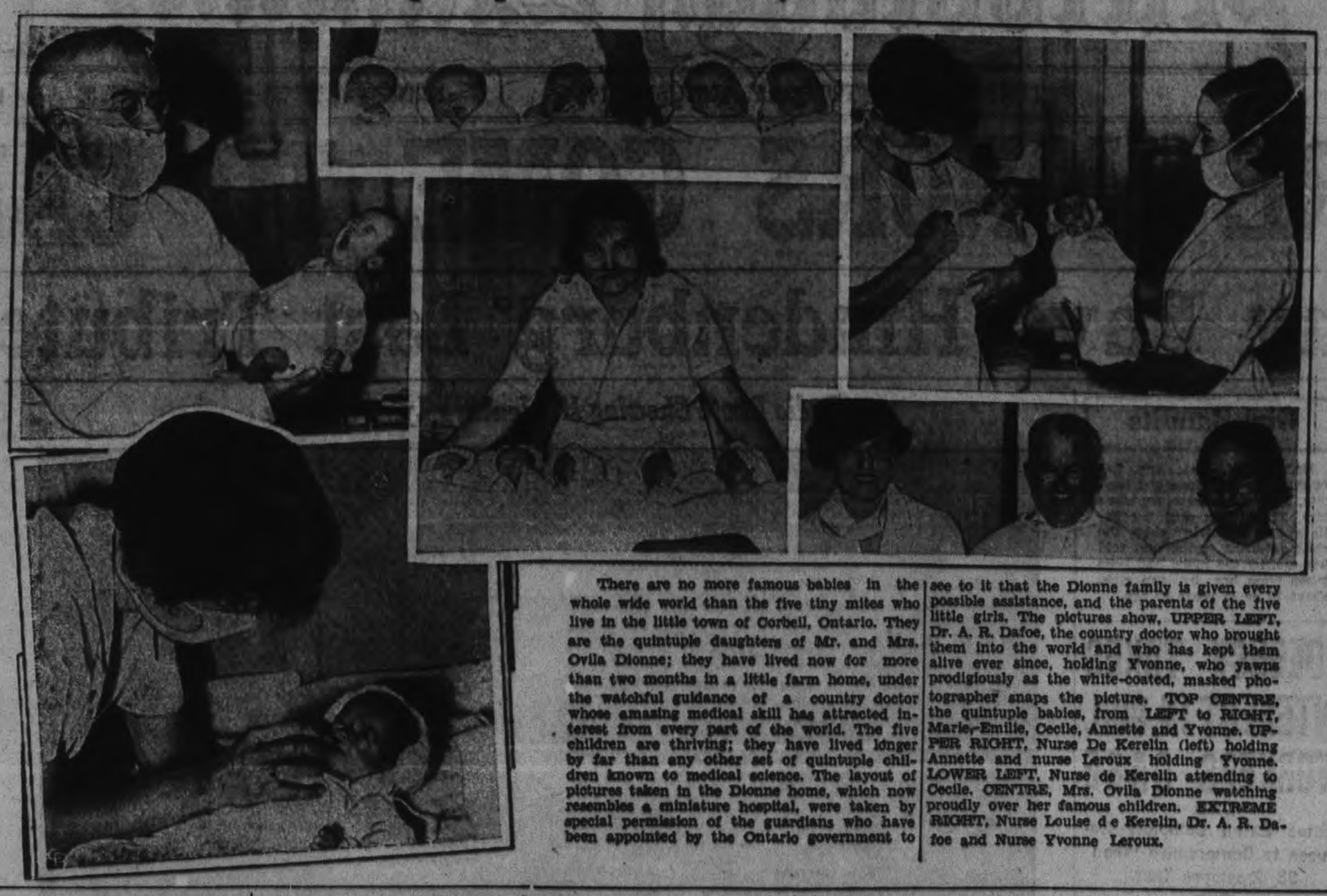
Famous Dionne Quintuplets Hale and Hearty After Two Months of Life



There are no more famous babies in the whole wide world than the five tiny mites who live in the little town of Corbeil, Ontario. They are the quintuple daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ovila Dionne; they have lived now for more than two months in a little farm home, under the watchful guidance of a country doctor whose amazing medical skill has attracted interest from every part of the world. The five children are thriving; they have lived longer by far than any other set of quintuple children known to medical science. The layout of pictures taken in the Dionne home, which now resembles a miniature hospital, were taken by special permission of the guardians who have been appointed by the Ontario government to see to it that the Dionne family is given every possible assistance, and the parents of the five little girls. The pictures show, UPPER LEFT, Dr. A. R. Dafoe, the country doctor who brought them into the world and who has kept them alive ever since, holding Yvonne, who yawns prodigiously as the white-coated, masked photographer snaps the picture. TOP CENTRE, the quintuple babies, from LEFT to RIGHT, Marie, Emilie, Cecile, Annette and Yvonne. UPPER RIGHT, Nurse De Kerelin (left) holding Annette and nurse Leroux holding Yvonne. LOWER LEFT, Nurse de Kerelin attending to Cecile. CENTRE, Mrs. Ovila Dionne watching proudly over her famous children. EXTREME RIGHT, Nurse Louise de Kerelin, Dr. A. R. Dafoe and Nurse Yvonne Leroux.

Honest Hijackers

TIFFIN, O., Aug. 7 (C.P.) — Hi-jackers started carrying two slot machines from Gordon Keifer's gasoline station and Keifer protested that some of the money in the machines belonged to him.

"How much?" asked the robbers.

"Five dollars," Keifer estimated.

The hi-jackers tossed him a $5 bill and drove away with the machines.

ROAD FOREMEN ARE APPOINTED

Three Patrolmen Are Appointed For Highways in District.

TWO ARE FIRED.

The change in government at Queen's Park has resulted during the past few days in two more local employees of the Highways Department being discharged: The men fired are: William Millen, patrol man on No. 7 highway, and John Heaslip, patrol man on No. 28 highway.

They received official notice on Friday from W. L. Saunders, resident engineer, of Port Hope, of their discharge. No reason for their dismissal was given.

Three men have been appointed already to replace them. They are: James C. Campbell, of Baliboro, former U.F.O. candidate, who was an active Liberal worker in Northumberland County in the last election, and Bruce Bell and William Telford, both residents of the Chemong Road.

Mr. Campbell will patrol from Port Hope to Peterborough; Mr. Telford the road from Fowlers Corners to Peterborough to Burleigh Falls, and Mr. Bell from Peterborough to Marmora.

TRAIN VICTIM BURIED

BRANTFORD, Ont. Aug. 7. (CP) Funeral services were conducted to-day for Walter Cooper, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cooper, who was fatally injured early Sunday morning. The young man was killed at Hamilton when he fell from the top of a freight car. Fred Smith, Mick Martinow and John Angelo, all Brantford youths, were companions of Cooper. The four were on their way to visit Angelo's brother at Crystal Beach.

100 ARE SLAIN IN ARAB-JEWISH ALGERIAN RIOTS

Women and Children Among Dead as Troops Are Rushed.

STORES BURNED, SACKED.

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 7. —(AP) — Religious riots between Arabs and Jews which have cost an estimated 100 lives appeared to be dying out today.

Authorities poured troops into the city and claimed the situation is well in hand. Forty persons are under arrest and will be tried summarily.

All but three of the identified 26 dead were Jews. The exact number of victims is impossible to ascertain at present, as the rioters carried off a number of dead and wounded. Women and children were among the slain.

Many Jewes have fled the city. Martial law prevails, and Sengalese troops patrol the streets here and in the nearby Port of Philippeville. Machine gunsoverlook strategic points in Jewish quarters.

Persistent troubles for three days and nights, despite the efforts of Moslem and Jewish leaders to make peace, were attributed by some sources to 'Red' agitators seeking to turn the riots into a revolution.

Troops and police combing the narrow and tortuous stre . of Constantine were guided by military planes circling overhead. Arabs were driven from Jewish quarters.

The centre of the city looks as if it had undergone a war-time bombardment. Five large buildings were burned, a shortage of water preventing firemen from extinguishing the flames.

Sidewalks were strewn with torn and broken merchandise from sacked stores and were dotted with pools of blood.

The Arabs set fire to the buildings after (they claimed) a Jew had reopened the fighting by firing on them yesterday afternoon.

VON HINDENBURG GIVEN EULOGY BY ADOLF HITLER

Claims Warrior Opened Doors to Representatives of German Resurgence.

REVIEWS HISTORY.

(By Louis P. Lochner, Associated Press Foreign Staff).

TANNENBERG, Germany, Aug. 7. — (A.P.). — His voice wracked with emotion, Adolf Hitler preached a eulogy at the bier of his predecessor, the late President Paul Von Hindenburg, declaring Von Hindenburg "opened the door to the representatives' of the German resurgence. He was understood to be referring to the Nazi movement.

The Chancellor, praising the man who served Germany as Field Marshall when he himself fought as a Lance Corporal, said: "twice in the life of a soldier honorable mention come to him alone—after a great victory and after death."

Hiteler then reviewed Von Hindenburg's eventful life, beginning with his baptism of fire at Koniggrats and through the war of 1870.

"His name was like that of uncounted thousands of officers— unknown to the great mass of the people 44 years later remembered Von Hindenburg's name the clouds of war hung over Europe.

In the worst of these times Kaiser Wilhelm called upon Von Hindenburg to take over the supreme command of the ahmy. Six days later guns were booming and three days later church bells rang in celbration of the victory of Tannenberg.

"The might of Von Hindenburg and his army threw back the greatest military power in the world, here in East Prussia. Unfortunately, he was called too late to head all the armies of the Reich. Nevertheless, for two years more he inspred that army to unexampled victories.

"The unfortunate end of the war can under no circumstances be charged against him. It merely passes judgment on the inability of the politcans of that day.

"Called To Victory."

When, in 1925, the German people could find no better man than the Field Marshall-General to

A number from here motored to Bowmanville park on Wednesday afternoon and attended a mosts enjoyable Sunday School picnic under the auspices of the Ballyduff Presbyterian Church. The young people took great interest in viewing the various caged creatures and in enjoying the many amusements provided by the park. A good sports program and a delightful picnic supper made the occasion all that could be desired.

On Thursday afternoon a number of men and a few ladies gathered at the home of Mr. George Chapman, who has made an addition to his barn. The new building was raised and considerable supplementary work executed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, Eighth line, have rented a portion of the farm owned by the latter's brother, Mr. E. Lathangue, at Lifford, and will move into residence with him and his sister as soon as circumstances permit.

A few from here attended the field day in Bethany on Thursday afternoon and report a splendid exhibition of hard ball put up by six teams.

The Sunday evening services in connection with Janetville United Church are proving a worth-while attraction to the young people of the surrounding community. They are being held at McArthur's Landing, Lake Scugog, with the new pastor, Rev. H. C. Wolfrain, in charge. The choir is assisted by the orchestra in their anthems and in leading the large congregations in the singing of the hymns.

Grace Brown, who resides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hannah, Janetville, had the misfortune to break her arm in two places and dislocate her wrist while helping Mrs. Hannah to start their car. The victim was immediately taken to Lindsay hospital where Dr. Shier took an X-ray. The patient is progressing favorably.

Mrs. Ormie Wright and baby, of Kitchener, were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leander Werry.

Mrs. Ernest Cornell, of Niagara Falls, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Clare Staples and other relatives here.

A Surprise

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7 (C.P.)— Lost and found department clerks at the Union Station opened an unclaimed bag and out scooted diamond-back rattlers, water snakes, cotton-mouth mocassins, blotched water snakes, baby ribbon snakes, a couple of terrapins and three turtles, 21 head in all.

The St. Louis zoo got bag and contents. The clerks hope it was their last round-up.

Veterans Bon-Fire Lights King-Yonge

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—(CP)—Veteran members of Canadian wartime units here for the Canadian Corps reunion, staged a huge bonfire at the corner of King and Yonge streets, center of Toronto's business district, early today as a climax to a night of pranks.

They garnered city wastepaper boxes and garbage cans for blocks around, piling them high upon one another. They even stopped delivery trucks carrying morning papers to the suburbs, commandeering the paper as fuel. And as the flames leaped upward the veterans whirled around in a dizzy snake dance, cheered on by onlooking civilians.

OMEMEE TAKES SENIOR HONORS AT BRIDGENORTH

Home Teams Capture Intermediate and Junior Softball Honors.

SUCCESSFUL TOURNEY.

Sixth Line Secures Top Place in Battle for Girls' Championship.

The cream of the softball talent in the district, numbering nineteen teams, invaded Bridgenorth yesterday for the Annual Softball Tournament, and entertained a large crowd of fans with a program of hard-fought games, that finally wound up after seven o'clock in the evening. Omemee men topped the senior section, Bridgenorth won the intermediate, and the Bridgenorth juniors took the championship of the series for boys. Keene, Omemee and Sixth Line battled for the honors in the girls' division with the latter team defeating both of the others.

Omemee, Warsaw and the Bridgenorth seniors were the three entries in the highest class, and the first two tangled in the initial tussle with Bridgenorth getting a bye. Tom Parsons had too much speed and control for the Dummer squad, and his Omemee battlers stretched four hits into seven runs, the bingles including a homer and double by Tom Pogue. Sinclair pitched for the losers who hit safely five times but were not able to get their total of runs past three. C. Clements led at bat with two doubles.

In the finals Floyd Parsons did the hurling for Omemee against the Bridgenorth squad, which was actually a pick-up team of city league players, led by the redoubtable Fred Scates, who performed on the rubber. Parsons gave a great display of hurling, fanning eight and allowing five hits. His teammates played fine ball behind him to rob the locals of numerous scoring chances. Scates fanned five in the first three innings to hold the visitors scoreless, and seemed headed for the laurels until his teammates kicked in with four glaring errors in the fourth and fifth, and the opposition chased five markers across. The losing pitchers sent two more batters out swinging before the game ended, but his team couldn't do anything

Otto Italy Bound— Rumors Say To Wed

BRUSSELS, Aug. 7 (A.P.) — The Archduke Otto, claimant to the throne of Austria, left his Belgian exile by automobile to-day. It was announced that he was headed for Italy to join his mother, the Empress Zita, who has been there for the last three weeks.

Otto's trip was considered by informed quarters to be connected with matrimonial rather than political plans.

He is expected to reach Italy this week-end, driving through Luxembourg to Switzerland. His baggage was sent direct by railroad.

In the last few years, Otto's name frequently has been linked in the suggestions of matrimonial plans for the Princess Maria, the youngest of the four daughters of the Italian royal family. She is now aged 19, two years younger than Otto, the uncrowned King of Hungary. Reports of their engagement were denied last October.

Good Ball in Intermediate.

Seven entries in the intermediate class for men produced some of the best ball on the bill. Curve Lake vanquished Warsaw in the first tussle 12 to 9, while Reaboro fell before the classy performing of the Nationals 12 to 5. Keene men took Simpson's team into camp handily 12 to 8. Curve Lake hit tough opposition in the second round when they met Bridgenorth and went out of the running on the small end of a 8-1 count. Keene also faded from the picture in the second game bowing to the Nationals 7-6.

Nationals and Bridgenorth, the two survivors battled in the last game, which saw the local Southend League entry fold up before the superlative pitching of Ron Morris, right hand speed ball artist for the village squad. He sent ten out swinging in the seven frames, allowed just four hits, three singles and a triple. Ernie Reynolds pitched for the Nationals, fanning four and was nicked for ten bingles, two of these being homers by Jeff Hardill. Len Forsyth connected for a double and Morris hit safely four times:

The teams:

Nationals: S. Clark, cf; J. Reynolds, 1b; B. Higgins, rf; E. Reynolds, p; I. Pearson, c; H. Gibson, ss; C. Smith, lf; J. Copping, 2b; R. Pearson, 3b.

Bridgenorth: Forsythe, 2b; Morriss, p; Hardill, 1b; R. Jopling, ss; Clarke, 3b; W. Jopling, cf; B. Jopling, rf; Connors, c; Wice, lf.

Bridgenorth boys turned aside all opposition in the junior section, which attracted six entries. In the first round a team managed by Len Thomas eliminated the George Street nine, while the Bridgenorth entry swamped Warsaw juniors 17 to 0. The Bowlers had the best of the argument with the Wildcats, winning 18 to 14.

Bowlers drew a bye in the last round and rested while the Bridgenorth crew proceeded to clean up on the Thomas entry, who dropped the semi-final argument 14 to 11. The last tussle was a real battle, both teams performing in classy style, but the Bowlers lacked the scoring punch in the final frames while the Chemong team played sparkling ball behind Amphford's hurling to clinch the verdict.

The teams:

Bowlers: Ford, c; Watson, ss; Thirnbeck, cf; Hopcroft, p; Kent, 2b; Burnham, 3b; McQuarrie, 1b; Cassie, lf; Bowler, rf.

Bridgenorth: White, ss; Archibald, cf; Filliman, c; V. Amphford, 2b; Kelly, 1b; R. Amphford, p; Gemmell, 2b; Merwin, rf; Rex, lf.

Good Showing.

Keen interest was shown in the ladies' softball, but the playing was somewhat below the usual standard dished up by league teams. Keene and Sixth Line teams up in the first game, but the latter crew had only two of their regulars and were no match for the Liners who hit hard and often to stage a 14 to 8 victory, behind the pitching of Agnes Weir and Lil Bowie.

The second and final game was a free hitting duel, Sixth Line finally winning 21-19. Omemee scored eight in the first, four in the second, one in the third and chased six more over in the fourth. The Liners nabbed three in their first time up, but staged a great rally in the second when they added ten runs, due mostly to the wildness of Jean Hickson who walked six. They came back in the third to count seven times, and got their last one in the fourth. Merle Bell took over the pitching for the winners in the third and gave a good performance.

The teams:

Omemee: M. English, lf; J. Hickson, p; E. Morecombe, 2b; E. Bigelow, c; L. Trollop, rf; P. Bigelow, ss; E. Brown, 1b; J. McNevan, cf; J. Parsons, 3b.

Sixth Line: J. Richardson, rf; M. Bell, 1b, p; A. Weir, p, ss; I. Davis, 3b; D. Tucker, lf; M. Payne, 2b, 1b; J. Clarkson, cf; L. Bowie, p, ss.

Keene: Mary McCarthy, p, c; W. Edwards, ss; M. McCarthy, cf, p; D. Edwards, c; I. Nelson, 1b; B. Brown, 3b; M. Hope, lf; K. Edwards, 2b; G. Whalen, rf.

Blood Soaked

Tannenberg is a blood-soaked battleground. In a conflict between German and Polish knights July 15, 1410, won by the Germans, 10,000 of the 20,000 combatants perished.

Twenty years ago the battle against the invading Russians turned the whole district into a vast cemetery, with 12,000 of both sides buried in Tannenberg cemetery. Seven thousand of them were Russians.

quate protection of Empire coasts and trade routes.

Canada, he continued, should have more sea protection as she was an outstanding mineral producer which "feeds practically half the world."

"The Dominion, he said, had very little protection by sea as there were only five ships in the North Atlantic fleet.

Messages came from the King and the Prince of Wales, thanking the veterans for their loyal messages.

Parting Scenes

Toronto business district returned to normal to-day, the sound of marching feet, war songs and cheering veterans gone. Scenes never equalled occurred in the heart of the city last night as the soldiers joined in their farewells.

Street cars were stopped, automobiles shoved about and traffic completely paralysed by veterans who swung red lights obtained from construction jobs as they joyfully "directed" the traffic.

They bid adieu to the French village with its estaminets and cafes by demolishing the whole structure. Buildings fell before the whooping celebrants. Pianos which a few moments before rang with strains of war melodies were prey to the throngs. And then the march on the city began.

Dancing and singing the veterans swarmed across town, one of them in a beaver hat, spurs and "shorts." They perched atop autos and street cars. They bounced policemen on their shoulders. In one case a car containing three girls was lifted bodily and carried down the street. Those who took the fun in good humor were allowed to pass, but the veterans made merry for quite a while with the folk who objected to their pranks.

A member of the Scots Greys mounted a charger—a truck garden horse—and advanced on the King Edward Hotel. He won the first trench and plunged down the corridors but the elevator found the horse balky and the rider had to retreat amid bugles and cheers.

Wide Open

"Crap" games were held at the main intersection of downtown Toronto. Pianos were piled onto street cars and the veterans banged out their songs. Guns from in front of buildings were rolled down the street and trained on hotels in "beer" raids. The town was captured."

One of the most impressive events of the reunion was the military tattoo at Riverdale Park where pipe, brass and bugle bands were massed under the direction of Captain John Slatter of the 48th Highlanders.

The light from torches flickered over the park as the bands played martial strains, greeted with earshattering applause from the thousands who crowded the hillsides.

Opened the Door

"It was under his presidency that preparations could be made for the resurgence of the German nation; it was he who opened the door to the representatives of that resurgence. In his name, a union was achieved between the past and the future.

"Twenty years ago the bells of Germany rang out the name of Von Hindenburg. Now, as we return to the scene of his great achievement, the bells again are ringing in his honor.

"The soldiers and the flags hold eternal parade. The German people, however, will make a pilgrimage to the dead hero, to gather the new strength the times need.

"Our Field-Marshal has gone into Valhalla."

Chancellor Hitler closed his address eulogy with a raised voice trembling with great emotion.

Then came "The Song of the Good Comrade" and played with it was "Deutschland Lied," the Nazi "Horst Wessel Sang."

The air reverberated with the booms of the honor salutes which were fired amidst the strains of the military marches of the regiments with which Von Hindenburg had been identified.

master of this house."

A tattoo sounded, and a gun carriage, drawn by six horses, came to the door. Six officers lifted the coffin, covered by a black and white German war flag, on the limber.

The procession, headed by seven army colonels carrying the field marshal's baton and tokens of honor, started down the long avenue of ash trees. The only sound to be heard was the soft rolling of drums.

Behind the gun carriage rode members of the family and the staff of the Neudeck estate, and high military officers. As they proceeded, the sweet refrain of "Jesus Meine Zuversicht" was heard. The onlookers wept silently.

About a mile from the estate, the first stop was made, the coffin being transferred to a motor gun carriage.

The cortege rumbled at a slow pace through the many villages, where the country folk watched.

The torches along the countryside attracted droves of deer and they pressed near to the highway, as if to bid their farewell to "Der Alte Von Pressuenwald," (the old man of the Prussian Forest) who was a patron of German forestry.

Thousands Line Route.

On toward Tannenberg the cortage rumbled, with church bells tolling in every village and the throngs dispersing silently in the hush that followed the cavalcade. Hundreds of thousands—peasants, town folk, men, women and children—had waited from noon to night to see the sight.

Two miles from Tannenberg, the motor escort of 20 motor-cycles was displaced by the infantry and cavalry. They came to the war memorial at 5:15 a.m. (11.15 p.m., Monday, e.s.t., where the coffin was laid in the Hall of Commanders.

Von Hindenburg's last march was ended.

Regatta Crowd Hit By Small Twister

JUNIPER ISLAND, Aug. 7. — Scores of spectators were thrown into a panic when a vicious whirlwind swept through the crowd attending the Juniper Island regatta yesterday afternoon. A canoe was sucked up from a dock and hurled into the water and a woman lost a pair of spectacles in the rush to escape the twister's path but no extensive damage resulted.

Appearing out of a comparative calm, the origin of the twister was a mystery. It struck the east dock as the events of the day were getting under way and passed on so quickly that only those of the crowd who stood in the immediate vicinity knew of the occurrence. Many women screamed as they made modest efforts to prevent their clothes being torn from their bodies. The canoe flung into the lake was retrieved unharmed.

4 BEER PARLORS OPEN IN LINDSAY

Police Forced to Warn One Hotel Manager After Late Revelry.

ONE DRINKER FINED.

LINDSAY, Aug. 8.— (Examiner Correspondence). —Two more beer parlors—one at the Central Hotel and one at the Royal Hotel—received their authority on Saturday to sell the beverage, and promptly opened for business. That meals thatfour local hotels have now beverage rooms. Saturday night was a lively one, according to reports, the revelry being kept up on the streets until long after midnight. Two of the hotels closed their beverage rooms around eleven o'clock, but two kept open until the legal closing hour. Chief of Police Lawlor was on duty until after midnight, and picked up two men who were too exuberant. One, R. McDonnell, was caught drinking from a bottle of wine on the street and was yesterday morning fined $10.00 and costs by Magistrate Jordon.

There is a strong resentment against the conduct of those who pour out on the streets from certain beverage rooms and make the night hideous by their shouting, etc. The police were obliged to go to one hotel on Saturday night andl read the riot act to the manager. It appears that after the beverage room had closed, a great many of the frequenters still hung around the hostelry and were quite noisy. The manager of the hotel was informed that it was his duty to clear the premises of these individuals.

A police officer informed the Examiner that the majority of the men hanging around certain beverage rooms were on the relief list last winter and a great many were at present unemployed.

Owing to the situation which has developed at Minden village as a result of the disturance staged by road workers, the authority to sell beer in the village hotel has been cancelled.

The local Welfare Board in its report on activities during the past year announces that the Board took care of 4867 persons from the start of December, 1933, until the first of May, 1934, at an average cost per month of $4.02. The total expenditure was $19,549.14. The Board spent $7432.81 on groceries and $6,973.42 on fuel.

A proportion of the money required for this work was obtained from public subscriptions. There were subsidies from botoh the Federal and Provincial Governments totaling $12,572.65. The Booard reported a credit balance of $744.33, and was able to repay to the town treasurer a $500.00 subscription made by the town council.

The marriage was solemnized at the George Street United Church, Peterborough, on Saturday by Rev. J. E. J. Millyard, of Gladys Robinette Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armstrong, of Burnt River, and Alfred Maxwell Hodgson, of the Lindsay Police Department, and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hodyson of Burnt River. The bride wore a gown of satin crepe and carried a bouquet of roses. The young couple was unattended. They left on a motor trip to Ottawa, Montreal and eastern points. The various departments of Lindsay's municipal governments made a presentatiton of a solid walnut table and chair to Constable Hodgson during the week.

Mad confusion ruled over the Chicago Board of Trade as the world flocked to the pits to buy grains. All future options of the five major grains—wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley—edged to seasonal high marks. European buying again was an active factor in the upsurge.

MILK PRICE CONTROL.

The establishment of Ontario's Milk Control Board predicates the inability of milk producers to manage their own industry by mutual agreement. In its primary objective it seeks to obtain for dairy farmers adequate and fair prices for their product, their investment and their work.

In the ordinary business practice, selling prices are based on production costs plus overhead expense, and includes a profit for the manufacturer or merchant, as the case may be. If that system prevailed in the local dairy industry, and also in other branches of agriculture, farmers would probably have no complaint about their financial returns. Apparently they have been compelled by circumstances, and their lack of agreement and unity, to submit to conditions which have operated reversely to general methods of business.

It seems that the revenue to milk producers has been determined, not from the cost of production and marketing, but from the basis of the consumer's dollar. In other words, the selling price was fixed largely as a result of the dairy farmer's weakness as a bargaining group, a consequence of their disunity, and after they had paid out of the selling price the charges for handling their product, they might have some profit left.

Crop conditions this season have been so adverse that the prospects of the dairy farmer have become decidedly unfavorable. Insufficient rain has left the pastures brown and dry, and there has been only scanty after-growth of clover in the meadows. The hay crop is below average, and some farmers are said to have been forced already to feed grain to their stock, and grain prices are likely to be higher as a result of the setback caused by the severe winter.

Some bright spots appear on the agricultural horizon, but increased cost of milk production seem to be looming in the months ahead. And if that occurs, the dairyman's profit, at the current selling price of milk, may be entirely wiped out.

Such is the argument presented by the milk producer who welcomes the intervention of the Milk Control Board. This body was organized by the Hon. T. L. Kennedy, and has received the endorsation of his successor, Hon. Duncan Marshall. Legislation has been passed with the objective of securing for dairymen a fair price for milk.

The board prefers the course of recognising agreements entered into by producers on the one hand and distributors on the other. It has the power to cancel the provincial license of any vendor whose selling price of milk tends to break down a fair and adequate price charged by the majority of distributors. And municipalities are expected, if not yet required, to recognize the Milk Control Board's license to local vendors.

The board has full authority to protect the interests of the milk producer, but has prudently delayed to exercise that authority without first giving distributors every opportunity of forming price agreements that are satisfactory to the dairy farmer.

COBOURG'S KILTIES BAND.

If Peterborough's Council were to undertake an expenditure of $3,500 on a modern shell bandstand similar to the fine structure formally opened in Cobourg's lake front park by Mayor John Delanty Sunday night, watch dogs of the treasury, official and self-appointed, would set up a howl requiring no glorified sounding board for its broadcasting.

The building of a shell stand in this city would be classed as "rank extravagance in such times as these," throwing the taxpayers' money away, and other changes of the familiar condemnation under the general grouping of deliberate wastefulness.

Cobourg has constructed a beautiful and highly effective shell stand for its Kilties bandsmen at a cost of approximately $3,500, of which $600 was provided by the municipality, a large part of the expense being arranged as relief work and paid for through the good offices of Fred. J. McArthur, ex-M.L.A.

A crowd estimated at three thousand, possibly more, from all parts of the district, including Peterborough, enjoyed Sunday night's program. The consensus of the visitors was genuine apprecation and commendation of Cobourg's enterprise. In its municipal affairs the town sounds many a discordant note, but the whole community is proud of "Joe" Golding's Kilties, with a pride that is personal and direct.

Musicians are a sensitive species. They can't flourish on neglect. They need a sympathetic and musically intelligent audience to evoke their ability. In providing a new bandstand of shell design, Cobourg has supplied a setting that will undoubtedly inspire the Kilties to better programs than they have attempted in the past. And every bandsman realises that the shell accentuates the slightest blue note.

Cobourg is to be congratulated on the musicianship of its Kilties and upon the evidence of its willingness to give them such an effective background. The interest the town has manifested in this organization will eventually kindle emulative effort elsewhere in the district.

AFTER THE CORPS REUNION.

With the capture of Toronto added to their list of victories, 70,000 men of the Canadian Corps return to their homes to-day after the brief but magnificent reunion which concluded the Queen City's series of centennial year celebrations.

The assembly of this host of veterans of every branch of the Canadian Expeditionary Force can never be exactly duplicated in the spontaneity of its spirit of fellowship, in its memorial tribute to the shadowy, invisible comrades who trooped back in their legion from graves in far places, and in its eloquent significance of the numbers, the power and the glory of the men who won for Canada a new and higher dignity among the nations of the world.

Toronto was an easy conquest, both from within and without, for these bemedalled civilians. They were men after her imperial heart, and their presence warmed her sensibility of pre-eminent loyalty among the cities of Canada. What other community so well deserved the honor of promoting and witnessing this amazingly successful pageant of remembrance and re-dedication?

After the bright glow of the idealism of these days, reflected from the shining purpose of those war years when the world was to be made "safe for democracy" and a "worthy place for heroes," this host of veterans returns to face the realism of problems, created during their long absence overseas—the machine age flaunting its speed of production in the bewildered eyes of manual workers, prodigious debts partly due to profiteering when wealth was unconscripted; a new youth demanding rightful place in the scheme of things, money receiving rewards out of proportion to its service, poverty and want amid abundance, strange political ideas stirring at home, and war clouds rumbling over old battlefields of Europe.

Possibly the desire to escape from it all, even for a few days, may have been a minor influence bringing the thousands of veterans together. They paid for security and content and better things and they held for us all the age-old freedom of our race, but the social and economic order they left in older lands from 1914-1918 has become confused and out of joint.

That shadow of new problems to be solved vanished for a few days in the bright glow of reunion in Toronto, but it awaits them when they get home again. If it could be embodied in corporal form it could be put to rout by the veterans, as Macbeth vaunted in the lines, "Approach me like the Hyrcan tiger."

Wrestling with economic theories and airy formularies is not the job of soldiers, and as civilians they seek the orderly, disciplined way that served them in the field they knew. In that discipline they have the co-operation of every sincere Canadian, and in the phrase of "muddling through" we should be able to emerge from the relief stage of our present confused condition without resort to any of the extreme expedients to which the veterans are avowedly opposed.

PROTECTION'S PROGRESS.

When the British Government and people started on the easy descent to the protective system, they protested that they would never go fast or far. They started out with a mild Safeguarding Industries Act. It placed what we should call in the United States a very moderate duty on dyestuffs and optical glasses and a few other things. Moreover, they set up a body something like our Tariff Commission, which was always to make careful and scientific studies before allowing any protective taxes to be levied. But the inevitable rake's progress soon began to show itself. The attempt was made, and still is made, to mask protection under the method of quotas, and other devices. The president of the Board of Trade is announcing new ones every few days. Finally all disguise has been thrown off, until Mr. Lloyd George could say, as he did a few days ago: "We have become a protective country." Thereupon this old and militant Free Trader added:

> "I have always said that if you were going to protect one industry, you must protect every one of them. If protection is justice, then it is equal justice for the farmer as it is for the great manufacturer of the North."

With this admission, that stout and convinced protectionist newspaper, the Morning Post of London, made great play. It professed to hail him as "a long-lost brother." Maliciously recalling some of his old diatribes against monopoly and the landlords, it explained his change by the fact that he himself has now become a squire. If he has no pheasants to preserve, he has at least mangel-wurzels to be protected from unfair foreign competition. From this one case, learn all. It shows plainly how protection once let into the blood of the economic system proceeds to infect the whole of it. Great Britain fancied that she could or would escape the evils written so long in the history of American protection. But now she is embracing them, one by one. The last stage of the process is beginning to show itself, when groups of manufacturers, as well as of farmers and other special interests, are making united and threatening demands upon Parliament and the Government. Thus for the British, too, the bottom of the protectionist Avernus is nearly reached.—New York Times.

AUSTRIA IS PIVOTAL.

It is not enough to say that Austria's little Chancellor Dr. Dollfuss, having sown the wind of dictatorship, has reped the whirlwind of revolution. Nazi "putsch" in Austria has long been feared primarily because of its repercussions on the rest of Europe. Austria remains one of Europe's pivotal states. Austria's internal politics has for the last eighteen months been largely influenced by international politics. Germany has hoped to annex Austria by means of the Nazi party in Austria. Italy has sought to prevent this union with Germany. France has toyed with the idea of a Hapsburg restoration to prevent the "Anschluss." Czechoslovakia and Yukoslavia have opposed this move as a threat to their own independence.—New York Herald-Tribune.

RUSSIA—TRADE WITH U. S.

ON JULY the 15th, 1934, an inside view of the Trade Relations between the United States of Soviet Russia and the United States of America found its way into the newspapers of Russia. The Economic Review of the Soviet Union is the source of the news. A few copies of this Review reaches the United States.

May the 27th, 1934, was the tenth anniversary of the organization of the Amtorg Trading Corporation. This Corporation handles the bulk of the trade between the United States and Soviet Russia. It may be news to some of the "Examiner" readers to know that regular trade relaions were established between these nations in 1924. Study the growth of trade since that date. Russia is an increasingly great market for United States products. Canada might well avail herself of the same market for many of her products.

	Imports from U'S.S.R.	Exports to U.S.S.R.	Total trade
1925	13,236,673	68,906,060	82,142,733
1926	14,121,992	49,905,642	64,027,634
1927	12,876,791	64,921,693	77,798,484
1928	14,024,525	74,091,235	88,115,760
1929	22,551,434	85,011,847	107,563,281
1930	24,385,786	114,398,537	138,784,323
1931	13,206,392	103,716,832	116,923,224
1932	9,735,431	12,640,891	22,376,302
Totals	$144,427,953	$642,667,915	$769,095,868

The growth in imports from Soviet Russia to the United States in ten years is startling. They increased from a little over $24,000,000 to $144,000,000. And the exports from the United States to the U.S.S.R., increased from a little over $20,000,000 to over $642,000,000. The 1934 will go far beyond any of the previous ten years. This trade stride is worth study.

HOLLAND LINES UP WITH MILITARISTS.

WAR is the heaviest debt making burden of the nations. War equipment is soon out of date. Mass warfare is rapidly changing. One air fighter with explosives or with the death ray would welcome the opportunity of attacking the enemy massed as armies fought in the Great War. No little nation has any business with war. Instead of counting the number killed in action, extermination will be the report.

There is one nation in Europe that ought to have learned that war is disaster. Holland has been heralded to the world as a land blessed with peace. The world has not known that ever since the Great War, Pacifism in Holland has been termed disloyalty to the State. Young Hollanders are compelled to take military training. The schools make it a requirement. Among the leaders in the church and in public life there are those bold enough to challenge the right of the State to have authority over the conscience. Twenty-six have gone to prison rather than submit. This is a most important matter. When the State lifts itself above the conscience, extreme nationism becomes a religion. Whether a man shall fight or not fight is a matter of conscience. Over the conscience no State has authority. This assumed authority of the State is Nazism. If it were not for the stout resistance of the Catholic Church in Italy, Fascism would demand supreme authority over the consciences of the Italians.

For the Pacifists, Holland until recently, had special prisons. They were not herded with the common criminals. That treatment has been discontinued. Their prison sentence is now served with murderers and other desperadoes. In Holland there are fifty-seven peace organizations. To belong to any one of them disqualifies for a civil position.

U. S. LABOR STRIKES.

THE Codes of the N.R.A. have not prevented frequent labor strikes. Toledo, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Portland and San Francisco have been scenes of exciting conflicts. Labor and employee have been arrayed in hostile camps. Both were determined. But labor has won some important concessions. The whole American social and industrial unit is undergoing a wholesome change.

The strikes in the cities mentioned above were different from those pulled off in American cities in the past. The issues around which the conflict raged were basic. The disagreement was not about how much an hour, nor about how many hours' These former demands were seldom mentioned. Collective Bargaining and Union Recognition were the crucial problems.

An agreement was reached wherein organized labor was guaranteed the right to participate independently as an organization in all matters that affect the workers. An advance has been made in the status and power of wage earners. Industry must heed the independent voice of the employee.

That this should be a prerogative of the wage earner has long been in the mind of labor. The N.R.A. awakened anew the longing. The National Government has at last explicitly conferred the right of collective bargaining, and the right of the employees to form their own unions.

The strikes in these cities were not in the nature of a revolution. The strike was a democratic uprising. The rights secured are for the welfare of all employees, and of the whole social unit'

Hastings Hotels Await Licenses

HASTINGS, Aug. 7.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The two local hotels which have applied to the Liquor Commission for authority to sell beer by the glass were still waiting for licenses on Saturday night.

Both Eddie Jones of the Clarendon and John Condon of the Royal are of the opinion it will only be the matter of a short time until their licenses arrive. But the wets of the village and district are none too highly pleased with what they call tardiness of the commission.

The work of renovating the beverage rooms in both hotels has been completed and everything prepared for the opening.

Hastings Brigade Halts Grass Fire

HASTINGS, Aug. 7.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The local fire brigade were called out on Sunday afternoon to a grass fire east of the Fowlds power house. The fire had been burning for the past three weeks and had eaten its way into the sawdust. The high wind of Sunday looked as if it would fan the fire into a serious blaze, so the brigade gave the spot a real drenching.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

"THE DOUBLE SHUFFLE"

On this date in 1858 there took place in the Province of Canada a ministerial change which has been described ever since as the "double shuffle." The Macdonald-Cartier government had been defeated in the Assembly on the choice of Ottawa as the capital. John A. Macdonald, having referred the matter to Queen Victoria for decision, and her majesty having selected Ottawa, felt that the government was in honor bound to stand by the royal mandate. On July 28 the Assembly carried a motion that Ottawa should not be the capital by a vote of 64 to 50, whereupon the ministry resigned.

Sir Edmund Head called on Hon. George Brown to form a ministry, which he did on August 1, but the next day the Assembly voted nonconfidence in the Reform cabinet. Thereupon the new ministers asked the governor-general for a dissolution, but this being refused Mr. Brown and his colleagues resigned. Sir Edmund re-called John A., but in order to avoid the need of going to their constituencies for re-election if the ministers took new oaths of office they exchanged portfolios. George E. Cartier became the nominal premier, instead of Macdonald.

This subterfuge, of course, exasperated the Reformers, but the law officers of the crown and other authorities declared that the procedure was constitutional, and the "double shuffle" stood as a peculiar illustration of how tricky politicians, can manipulate things to their taste. Poor George was premier for only three days and a half. That is why his ministry is known as the 'short administration."

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

VERMILION, ALBERTA.

There is no authentic version for the origin of the word Vermilion as applied to the town and the river. The town took its name from the river, but how it originated is a mystery. It was known as Vermilion river as far back as 1800.

Presumably the name was given the river by the Indians from the fact that before the white man sold them paints, the Indians colored their faces with a red earth found in the vicinity in large quantities.

The Cree name for vermilion is wee-ah-mun, and they called the Vermilion river Wee-ah-mun Seepeesis, or Vermilion Creek, seepeesis being the diminutive of seepee river.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

. . . . . .

The other day a friend asked me if I could stand some frank criticism. . . . I said I could. . . . But as I said it I had a crinkly feeling at the back of my neck and I knew I wasn't telling the truth.

I reminded myself of a dog growling in his throat at a strange noise outside the house.

I used to write poems, but I gave it up. . . . Now I am amazed at all those people who aren't really poets either but who get so much pleasure out of writing poems. . . . And I envy them, too.

I read the other day that a man is old when his thoughts more often are in the past than toward the future. . . . Is that true?

When I was about nine years old I threw an orange at a Chinese vegetable man and he chased us down the alley. . . . I was proud of that then, but I am ashamed now.

I like a blackbird with a scarlet splash on his wing. . . . Also seals barking and diving from a rock off shore. . . . And meadow larks singing on fence posts.

You ARE beginning to get old when the noise of children at play annoys you.

Pester me to read a book . . . and I'll find half a dozen excuses for not reading it.

Confession: I don't really enjoy gardening.

I remember the scandal in our town when a middle-aged woman married a very young man. . . . It was freely prophesied that the marriage wouldn't last and she'd be sorry. . . . But it did, and she wasn't.

I know a man who is a great fisherman. . . . But he doesn't like fish and wouldn't think of eating them.

If you haven't a "common streak" in you, I think you are missing a lot of the joy of life.

H. E. Scott of Rochester caught a 17-pound lunge Saturday while fishing in Stoney Lake. . . Much adverse criticism is being heard now of some of the newly-paved streets, including George street south, which is said to be uneven.

Yesterday's war despatch stated the Germans had suffered heavy losses by the Belgians at Vise and Liege, and that Germany is threatening to declare war on Italy unless that county joins her. . . . Eight local young men left with the Cobourg artillery last night fro Quebec.

R. McKnight Breaks Collar Bone In Race

MILLBROOK, Aug. 7.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Reg McKnight met with an unfortunate accident at the picnic held at Memorial Park, Orono, on Thursday when, through a fall when taking part in a three-legged race with Ed Williams as his partner, his collar bone was fractured and his right shoulder dislocated. Dr. H. A. Turner is in attendance. Convalescence will necessarily be slow in character.

Russell Sutton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Sutton, also met with a painful injury when struck by the metal seat of a swing when it came back toward where the little lad was standing. His forehead was badly cut, but medical examination showed that no stitches were required to close the wound.

Hecklers nearly broke up a meeting in Drogheda, Irish Free State, during a speech by Minister for Defense Frank Aiken, and police had to force them to leave to save them from the Minister's supporters.

FIRST C.C.F. WOMAN ELECTED ONCE HEADED PEACE LEAGUE

By Central Press Canadian.

VANCOUVER, August 7. — The first woman elected in Canada on the C. C. F. platform, is Mrs Dorothy Gretchen Steeves, who came to Vancouver as a war bride in 1919. She was returned to the provincial legislature in the North Vancouver by-election following the death of H. C. E. Anderson, C.C.F. member for that riding. She defeated the Liberal candidate by more than 500 votes.

Mrs. Steeves, a lawyer in her own right, was born in Amsterdam and met her husband in Holland during the war when he, a Vancouver school principal, was an interned prisoner of war. They were married and she came to Canada to make her home.

President Peace League.

In Holland sh took an active interest in the Women's International League for Peace of which she was named president. After her arrival in Vancouver she became interested in the League of Nations Society and was secretary of the branch at the coast.

When the C. C. F. movement took a strong hold in British Columbia prior to the provincial election last fall Mrs. Steeves was enlisted as a leader of women interested in it. She was an unsuccessful candidate in Point Grey Vancouver, where three Liberals were returned, but did not give up her campaigning for the new party. As a result she was chosen to represent the C.C.F. in the by-election.

THREE FAMILIES LEFT HOMELESS NEAR GRIMSBY

OCCUPANTS PENNILESS.

HAMILTON, Aug. 7.—(C.P.) — Three families were left homeless and other possessions destroyed this afternoon when the Alonzo Beamer homestead, of North Grimsby township, built more than 100 years ago, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

The building is located on the mountain top south of the town of Grimsby.

The present occupants of the place were Paul Sawchuk, his wife and five children, John Feronuk, his wife and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Klopotyk.

The three families were joint owners of the property and were working it on shares.

The chicken house, pig pens and other outbuildings were destroyed but fortunately the wind was blowing in the opposite direction to which the barn is situated. Sawchuk, who lost $100 in cash besides his clothing and that of his family, said: "I've not even a five cent piece to my name, all I have left are the clothes on my back."

HEAVY BUYING IN GOLD SHARES

Activity Centres Mostly in Dome, Hollinger and Secondary Issues.

PRICES GENERALLY HIGH.

TORONTO, Aug. 7 (CP).—The motion that more inflation was coming in the United States brought heavy buying in the gold shares, particularly Dome and Hollinger and the secondary issues today on the mining section of the Toronto Exchange. Prices were generally higher at the close. Base metal and silver stocks also closed slightly stronger.

Accumulation of Dome in the first hour of trading pushed the price up to $44, but it weakened under profit-taking to close at $43 up $1.75. Hollinger held steady at $18.50, up 15 cents, Lake Shore added $1.25 to close at $52.75, Wright Hargraves gained 50 cents to $9.50, Bralorne 25 to $16 and Teck Hughes 10 cents to $6.65.

Interest was more apparent in the base metals. Noranda closed 31.50 higher at $41.50, Hudson Bay was down about 25 cents.

The Great Bear Lake issues accounted for the bulk of the business in the silver stock. Eldorado held a 5-cent gain at $2.80, while Bear Exploration and White Eagle both weakened narrowly.

Little Long Lac failed to hold an early gain of 20 cents, while small gains were retained by San Antonio, Sylvanite, Macassa, God's Lake and Read Authier.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Many stocks are cheap right now but they may become even more attractively priced before the fall advance gets under way. Meanwhile, there is little prospect of an immediate run-away market on the up-side and therefore traders should buy only on reactions and not more than half of requirements.

The market will undergo a severe test this week. Whether the October lows will be broken by both industrial and rail averages remains to be seen. If these resistance limits are sufficient to the occasion, chart followers will turn bullish, but should the lows be violated additional selling will follow.

Under present circumstances it would be best to confine purchases to mining issues and so-called inventory stocks.

BROKERS' OPINIONS.

New York, Aug. 7th:

Waldo Young says: "The stock market yesterday had the carry-over of selling from Saturday that was to be expected. Support for the rails appeared during the forenoon sinking spell and industrials were supported about as anticipated midway between the one and two points down from Saturday's close. After the close came the announcement of a 50-cent extra dividend for General Motors. The stock market should open strong today, but in view of the failure of last week's market rally, it is not safe to figure on too much of an extension of yesterday's up-turn so far as the general run of stocks is concerned, unless there is special news of stimulating character. The conspicious strength in golds Saturday was sustained yesterday and moreover silver shares came to the fore and outdid the golds.

Considering the decline yesterday in government bonds and the softness of the dollar in terms of European currencies, it would not be difficult to initiate another period of inaction psychology.

C. D. Barney: "We would not in general make any long-range speculative committments until the market has definitely proved its ability to establish a strong secondary basis."

W. J. Wellman: "We cannot help but feel that many opportunities have been created for selective purchases in the better class of stocks."

WINNIPEG GRAIN GAINS AT CLOSE

Export Demand and Continuation of Drought Conditions Drives Prices Up.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7 (CP).—Dollar wheat bounded into the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, hovered for a while and then flitted away as prices receded slightly from the top points.

Export demand and continuation of drought conditions drove prices upward and despite the recession at the close, net gains of 3 1-8 to 3 1-4 cents were registered. The high point showed gains of 4 5-8 cents. Futures closed with October at 93 1-4 cents, December at 94 5-8 and May at 98 1-2.

It was the May option that touched the dollar mark. Whirled upward in heavy buying in the first hour, prices kept moving into higher ground until the May future was selling at a dollar even. It was the highest peak since July 18, 1933, when it sold at a top of $1.04.

MOUNTAIN CITY VETERAN SETS GRIND RECORD

All White City rose in a frenzy of excitement as Webster entered the stadium. He had shaken off the big pack and was on his way to victory. Terrific applause greeted the Canadian veteran who was strong and unsmiling.

As Webster ran out the necessary lap and a half inside the stadium, a band struck up the Maple Leaf Forever. No one in the giant bowl sat down until the Canadian had crossed the finish line. He took it easy completing the first lap, then put on a fine burst of speed with which to finish.

Webstear was not at all distressed. No contender was in sight when the Hamilton ace surrounded by cheering, back-slapping Canadian athletes and officials went to his dressing room. Robertson, the popular favorite and champion of Britain in 1933-34, was also unaccompanied and receieved a big cheer.

Sets Double Record.

Jack Lovelock, the great New Zealander, set a new British and Empire record in winning his specialty in 4 minutes, 12.8 seconds. The British pressed hard on his heels, S. C. Wooderson, finishing second, six yards behind Lovelock, and Jerry Cornee, third

M. C. Nokes, of England, defending champion, won the hammer throw at 153 feet, 3½ inches, breaking his own Empire mark. George Sutherland of Calgary, was Nokes' only dangerous foeman and the Canadian's best throw measured 151 feet 8 inches.

F. A. W. Sweeney of England made it a double sprint triumph by winning the 220 yards finish. Frank Nicks of Halifax was sixth. Sweeney won the 100-yard dash on Saturday. Elsie Hiscock accomplished the same feat in the women's division, capturing the 220-yard final in the amazing time of 25 seconds flat to beat Eileen Meagher of Halifax by three yards.

S. C. Scarabrook retained the two mile steeplechase title for England. The Mother Country runners placed 1-2-3-4, and Earl Moore of Hamilton, Ont., was fifth.

Phyllis Bartholemew of England captured the women's broad jump with a leap of 17 feet, 11¼ inches. Evelyn Goshawk of Winnipeg was second at 17 feet, 9 inches.

Marjorie Clark of South Africa and Betty Taylor of Canada halted the British drive momentarily by staging a great duel in the women's hurdles final, Miss Clark winning by a scant two feet in the British record time of 11.8 seconds. The race was one of the closest in the games. Mrs. Roxy Atkins of Toronto was fourth and Alda Wilson of Toronto fifth.

But England came right back with a decisive win in the men's 440 yards relay. A team anchored by Sweeney led Canada to the tape by six yards in 42.2 seconds, equalling the Empire record made by Canada's 1930 team. Bert Pearson, Nicks, Allan Poole and Bill Christie won second place.

Wins Thrilling Struggle

England won a thrilling struggle with Canada in the men's mile relay and another Empire record was lowered. The Britons covered the distance in 3:16.4. Rathbone gave England a slender lead on the first leg, beating Bill Fritz by about a yard. John Addison of Victoria overtook Blake, however, and sent Art Scott away with a two-yard lead.

On the third leg Stoneley made up the lost ground, handing Rampling the baton two yards ahead of Ray Lewis. Lewis put up a brilliant fight. He overlook Rampling at the last turn only to have the Briton pull away on the stretch and win by three yards.

LONDON, Augu. 7 (CP Cable).—Kent defeated Somerset by an innings and 14 runs, and Leicestershire defeated Northampton by five wickets in first-class county cricket matches concluding to-day. All the other fixtures were decided on the first innings.

Rain robbed the Australian cricketers of an almost certain victory in their three-day match with the Glamorgan Country side concluding to-day. Stopping play before the Aussies could retire the county side.

Scores. — Australians, 440 for seven, declared (Woodful 226 not out, Kippax 77); Glamorgan, 112 and, following on, 198 for five (O'Reilly seven for 37, and four for 41).

Between them, the teams earned about $100 out of the special prizes offered by Glamorgan tradesmen to encourage a spirited match, with awards for boundary hits and the like.

LIGHT SETBACKS IN OIL ISSUES

SLOW TRADING.

TORONTO, Aug. 7 (CP). — The Industrial Section of the Toronto Exchange was unable to get up any steam today, trades going through at a slow pace with prices barely steady. The close found light recessions predominent in the oil, distillery, brewery, utility and miscellaneous groups, while the food, steel and construction stocks had fractions to the good.

Traders were slow to get into action following Monday's holiday. Only about 10,000 shares changed hands. Dividend action on International Nickel brought in a fair turnover in that issue at a small advance and smelters was up at the close. Ford "A" reacted a half point.

In the brewery group, Brewing Corporation, common and preferred, and Canada Malting sold off narrowly.

In the foods the Loblaw stocks, Weston's Common, National Grocers Pfd. and Western Canada Flour Pfd., closed higher. The construction stocks were up in Canada Cement, Canada Dredge and Gypsum.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP).—Quiet selling unsettled the stock list today. Prices were firm at the opening, but selling set in shortly thereafter. Movements were generally erratic. Metals and other groups displayed resistance at times.

Union Pacific lost 4 points. General Motors held a fractional gain. U.S. Smelting was unchanged, while U.S. Steel, American Telephone and Dome lost ground a point each. The late tone was irregular. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

SARREGUEHMINES, Sear Ter.—Five men charged with espionage to-day were sentenced to three years' imprisonment, 2,000 francs fine and five years parole requirement after serving sentence. Only two of those sentenced were in court. The other three are in flight and were sentenced by default.

THREE GENERATIONS VIE FOR KING'S PRIZE HONORS

Grandfather, Aged 80, Shoots Against Both Son and Grandchild

AT BISLEY RANGES

Bisley Camp—Three generations of the famous Fulton family have entered for the most coveted award a marksman can win—the King's prize.

They are: George Fulton, grand old man of Bisley, nearly 80, winner of the prize in 1888; his son, Sergt. Arthur Fulton, winner in 1926 and again in 1931, and Robin, aged seventeen.

Grandson Robin, keen-eyed and steady-handed, has never shot in the competition before, but with youth on his side he hopes to turn the teachings of his grandfather and father to good account—and beat them both.

Another competitior is a man whose false teeth are lodged in his stomach. He is Major F. S. Bapty, a renowned marksman, late of the Indian Army. He swallowed his false teeth recently. An X-ray photograph revealed them in his stomach.

A few hours later he turned up at Bisley for his marksman's ticket.

He is entered for all the main events this year, including the King's prize, the Prince of Wales' and St. George's trophies, and is not going to let his accident stop him.

He has to diet carefully, however, and must eat only soft foods.

For the two weeks' meeting here half a million rounds of ammunition have been stocked. Afterwards the lead from the bullets will be dug out of the butts behind the targets. Last year twenty tons of lead were recovered in this way.

BREAD AND CHEESE ENJOYED BY HORSE

Won't Train, Squats on Shelf But Wins Big Money

Market Harborough.—Brown Jack, the most popular racehorse in England, is reported to be about to retire. It is expected that he will be trained for hunting next season.

Brown Jack at ten years old is a queer horse. He refuses to train, he eats bread and cheese, and in his box he squats on a shelf. But he has won $115,000 in stakes. He cost $2,500 as a three-year-old.

MISSING RACING BIRDS VALUED AT $1,000,000

Are Thought To Be Dodging Fog Somewhere Near Cornwall Coast

London. — Somewhere between a town in the centre of France and their homes in London, the Midlands and the north of England are missing pigeons valued at $1,000,000.

They were liberated at Marennes on Saturday morning for a race across the English Channel to this country, and when the time limit expired on Monday night, only a few of the birds had reached their lofts.

When they were released there was a westerly gale blowing, and the pigeons had to fight this all the way to the coast.

Over the Channel there was a north-easterly wind with a thick sea mist.

Dodging the Mist

Pigeons will not face fog, but always try to fly round it, and it is believed that this accounts for the failure of so many of them to arrive at their lofts.

"While it is true that very few of the pigeons which started from Marennes have arrived home," one of the fanciers said, "they cannot be described as lost.

"No doubt in dodging the mist, they were carried to the westward by the strong wind, and landed exhausted in Cornwall. Most of them, I am sure, will be home again."

STOWAWAY ON FERRY SEES LITTLE OF SEA

Dad to Make Boy "Pay" For Return Fare

Southend.—A desire to sail the sea drove John Kirkland, 11, to stow away on board the Royal Daffodil, outward bound (or so he hoped) from Southend pier, and hid behind a coil of rope for the great adventure.

Alas! for boyish hopes, the boat was only on a prosaic voyage, her last of the day, with passengers to Sheerness and Chatham.

The stowaway was discovered on the way across the Thames estuary, long before he had crossed the horizon of his dreams.

Next morning he was returned and met by his father, who had five shillings to pay for the return fare, board and lodging.

Kirkland senior explained to his son that the five shillings would be extracted from him in a very unpleasant manner. But Kirkland junior was game to the last. His last overheard observation as he was led away was: "What, only a dollar!"

FAMED DANCER'S END GRIEVES POOR PARENTS

Dolly Trevor, Once a Maid, Attained Stage Ambitions and Wealth

London.—East and west met in the Westminster coroner's court. It was a strange linking of a humble workmen's street in Poplar, E., with New Cavendish St. W., and its luxury dwellings.

Rebecca Ellen Hopgood, aged 28, a handsome dancer, had lived in both. She died after falling from her horse in Rotten Row, and at the inquest a verdict of "accidental death" was returned.

Her luxury flat in New Cavendish St., W., is locked and untenanted. And there is desolation in her parents' home at Prestage St., Poplar, E., which she left six years ago, taking the stage name of Dolly Trevor.

Her father and mother are mourning the death of the daughter who had been a stranger to them for so long.

T. H. Hopgood, the father of "Dolly Trevor," is a Thames lighterman. He always insisted that his wife and other children should not seek out the child who had made her own way in the world.

Mr. Hopgood explained the family sacrifice to me as we sat and talked in his Poplar tenement dwelling.

"Dolly had made a way for herself," he said sadly. "She had risen above us. We are only poor working-class people. She had gone to another world years ago. We never saw her. But she did not forget us. June 1 is Dolly's birthday, and my own as well. On that day every year a telegram would be addressed to me. It always read: 'Happiest birthday greetings to dad from Dolly.'"

Self-taught, Dolly Trevor, once a chambermaid, fulfilled her ambitions to be a famous dancer, by hard work. After her continental tours, she was able to speak four languages.

YOUNG WOMAN BALKS AT PARTIAL SCALPING

Turns Down $250 After Learning Surgical Details Of "Grafting"

Sydney.—Details of an offer of $250 and payment of medical expenses made by a theatrical artist to purchase 12 inches of scalp, a strip 6 inches by 2 inches, from another young woman to replace portions of the first woman's scalp damaged in a motor smash, have been revealed.

Negotiations followed the appearance of the following advertisement in a newspaper:

"Wanted, brunette give portion of scalp for grafting. Compensation and expenses."

Some of these were that after being scalped, she would have to have a forearm strapped over her head for 10 days. It would be necessary for the donor to remain in bed for about six weeks to ensure a successful graft to the scalp of the recipient.

For a period, both donor and recipient would be strapped together while the tissus were uniting.

WIFE WORTH $18.75 MONTHLY PLUS KEEP, JUDGE DECREES

Motorist Whose Car Killed Woman Must Pay Widower

LOSS TO BUSINESS

Berlin.—What is an industrious wife worth? This was the problem which the court at Naumburg has had to solve.

A butcher's wife was killed by a motor-car, and the husband, estimating his loss of her services and society at an amount equal to $18.75 a month, sued the car-owner for a permanent income of that amount.

He argued that he had now to pay for the work formerly done by his wife and, because the work now was not as good, his business receipts had fallen.

In giving judgment for the amount claimed, the judge said: "It is necessary to take into consideration the fact that the claimant has been deprived of the constant and unlimited help of an assistant in home and business, and that a stranger taking her place would not have the same knowledge of the business and customers."

He decided that the wife was worth $18.75 a month above and beyond her keep.

Blame Foot Scalding on Oath Of Angry Peddler

Norwich.—Fear of a gipsy's curse is to-day compelling many a housewife to keep her doors locked and bolted.

The scalding of a Norwich woman's foot by the overturning of a boiling kettle started the scare. "It was the gipsy's curse," said this woman, "that made the kettle fall over. She cursed me when I shut the door on her, and the next minute the boiling water peured all over my foot."

The story spread, and the housewives at first paid the gipsy peddlers three or four times the value of the goods they offered.

Then the gipsies, who are sursounding the town in caravans, became bolder in their demands and muttered threats of a curse if the demands were not met. "If you shut your door on a gipsy you will be forever cursed," they said.

After hearing this for some days, Norwich housewives have become almost afraid to answer the door.

MAY STOP RACE CARS TESTING UNOFFICIALLY

Authorities Consider Ban After Death of Kaye Don's Mechanic

Douglas, Isle of Man.—Now that the trial of Kaye Don has ended, it is stated in racing circles that the authorities will decide to prohibit the use of racing cars and racing motorcycles on the roads out of official practice hours.

Kaye Don was sentenced by Deemster Farrant to four months' imprisonment for the manslaughter of his mechanic, Francis Taylor, while practising out of official hours for a car race.

An appeal was lodged, and after being in custody for a few hours Kaye Don was released on bail.

The authorities for many years have given a great deal of latitude to the drivers and riders from all parts of the world who come over to take part in the races.

For both the long-standing motorcycle races and the car races of the past two years there are official practice races, for which the roads are closed. In addition, a tradition has grown up that any driver or rider who wished to make additional trials could do so without any risk of serious consequences.

FEARS MISSING BRIDE 'STOLEN' ON JOURNEY

Husband Seeks Divorce Naming Unknown Englishman As Co-Respondent

Paris.—One of the strangest cases of railway "lost property" ever known has been reported to the authorities here by M. Edouard Deval, a young French engineer from Marseilles, whose complaint is that his bride was lost or stolen on their honeymoon trip from Marseilles to Paris.

On the journey, the Devals made the acquaintance of a fellow-traveller, an Englishman giving the name of Browning. The young bride appeared to be attracted by the conversation of their travelling companion, her husband claims.

She and the Englishman were talking in the corridor when the train made its first stop. Soon afterwards the husband noticed that they had disappeared.

A search was made and it was learned that they had left the train. At first it was assumed that they had descended and been accidentally left behind.

Further inquiries revealed that they had taken another train a few minutes later on the opposite platform, and that the Englishman's baggage had been removed to the second train.

Though a search is being made for them all over France, the police believe that they have gone to England together.

M. Deval is suing his wife for divorce, naming the unknown Englishman as co-respondent.

BRITAIN'S TINIEST BABY LIVES ONLY ONE WEEK

Weighed Only One Pound at Birth, Little Chance From First

London.—The smallest baby ever born in Britain died after living for seven days.

She weighed one pound when she was born.

Her mother was Mrs. Prynne, wife of Mr. Joseph Prynne, a commercial traveller, of Brunswick St., Hackney Rd., London.

On Sunday of last week twin daughters were born to Mrs. Prynne after seven years' married life. They were her first children.

Feed Naturally

One of the babies weighed one pound and the other three pounds, and both were being fed naturally. Since their birth they had been making good progress, the one-pound baby gaining eight ounces in a week.

The doctor who attended Mrs. Prynne said: "It is remarkable that a premature baby weighing one pound at birth should have lived even so long. The twin sister is doing well."

KING RECALLS WINS AFTER THREE YEARS

Greets Mother and Babes Again Without Hesitation

Edinburgh.—Holding a three-year-old twin by each hand, a woman was one of a crowd watching the King and Queen when they visited the Royal Botanical Gardens.

Suddenly the King, smiling broadly, walked across to her. "Ah! Here are the twins!" he said, and started talking to the mother—Mrs. Scott Witt.

The twins then were in a perambulator.

CHARGE FLYWEIGHT CHAMP. BIT PIECE OUT OF MAN'S EAR

Police Insist Jackie Brown Face Trial—Victim Claims Bribe Promised

DESIRES TO FORGET

Manchester.—Jackie Brown, the world's flyweight champion boxer, was committed for trial from Manchester police court, accused of having bitten a piece out of the ear of Louis Tarchman, of Lower Broughton.

When Brown appeared in court early in July, counsel for the prosecution said that Brown had since "played the part of a gentleman," and had paid Tarchman handsomely for all the injury done to him.

In those circumstances the bench were asked to dismiss the case. The magistrates adjourned the case for consultation with the police.

It was announced later that the director of prosecutions had decided that the case must go on.

Ellis Davies, appearing to prosecute, said the police objected to the warrant being withdrawn.

So much publicity had been given to the case that it might be thought that a rich person could get off scott-free, he said.

A further charge, in addition to that of assault, had now been brought against Brown under the Offences Against the Person Act, and to this he pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Jalland, who appeared for Tarchman, said the complainant had instructed him that he desired to offer no evidence, and he still instructed him to that effect. Tarchman's desire was to let bygones be bygones.

Replying to Mr. Davies, Tarchman said he had been promised $1,000 by Brown's foreign manager if he would withdraw his case against Brown.

He was in court on a witness summons. Brown's attack was absolutely unprovoked, he said, and he denied that he had taunted Brown.

Brown, who pleaded not guilty and reserved his defence, was allowed bail.

PETITE BRITISH STAR IS HOLLYWOOD BOUND

Carol Coombe Weighs Just 98 Pounds, But Is Clever

London. — Carol Coombe, who is one of the tiniest of film actresses, weighing barely 98 pounds, leaves for Hollywood on Saturday on a seven-year contract with the Universal Company.

They may lend her to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play Little Em'ly in "David Copperfield."

Carol is the daughter of a self-made man, Sir Thomas Coombe (Australian theatre magnate, among other things), and she set out three years ago to become a self-made woman.

There were times in London when she was sorely tempted to write home to Australia for help. Selling razor-blades at Olympia was one of the shifts that enabled her to resist.

With work as a film "extra" she felt she was making progress. Then she was picked out for better and better parts.

At last she had money enough to cable her proud but anxious parents that she had made good. Her latest stage hit was as the innocent schoolgirl in "Finished Abroad."

QUILTS ON 104TH BIRTHDAY

Auburn—Mrs. Sarah Musgrave, of Auburn, Australia, recently celebrated her 104th birthday. She was the first white child born in one of the far distant inland districts when settlement was scattered and sparse. She was active and alert on her birthday, working on a patchwork quilt.

PETS ATTEND FUNERAL

Waltham Abbey.—Two great danes, with black ribbon on their collars, and two Shire horses—animals of which he was fond—followed the coffin of Hans Larsen to the grave.

WHITE WOMAN LIKES LIFE AMONG "BLACKS"

Understands Aborigines After 34 Years in Their District

Adelaide.—Mrs. Daisy Bates, a cultured, vivacious Irish woman who first went to Australia as a magazine writer, has spent the greater part of 34 years among the aborigines or "blacks," as they are called.

For the last 15 years she has lived with them in their crude camp at Ooldea, a "tank" stopping place on the transcontinental railway, far removed from the amenities of civilisation. She understands their methods of living, mental processes, superstitions, ceremonies and longings perhaps better than any white man who has ever lived, and claims that she has found happiness among these most primitive of all humans.

BIG SWIMMING POOL FINISHED AT WEMBLEY

Holds 700,000 Gallons and Has Two Acres of Glass

The building alone covers two acres of ground and is entirely of reinforced concrete. It has no steel girders and its 240-ft. roof span—80 ft. bigger than the main hall at Olympia—rises to a height of 90 ft., without a pillar to uphold it.

It is erected on the cantilever principle—the first time such a feat has ever been attempted. Five and a half inches are allowed in the roof for expansion and contraction.

16 Ft. of Water

There are two acres of glass, and outside that two acres of ground for sun-bathing. It is the largest covered bath in existence, though its 200 ft. by 60 ft. looks almost insignificant, sunk in the floor of the vast hall. At one end it is ankle deep and at the other there is 16 ft. 6 in. of water.

The pool holds 700,000 gallons of water and takes seven nights to fill.

An apparatus for raising waves sends surf up the steps on to the broad sides where bathers may sit and be swept by breakers as on a beach.

The filtering plant is the biggest ever, too. It will filter, sterilize and return 700,000 gallons of water every four hours. Port lights under the water illuminate the pool.

Seating for 12,500

There are restaurants, bars, shower-baths and a flooding chamber. The normal 5,000 seats can be quickly increased to 8,000, or to 12,500 for a boxing match. In the winter the pool may become a vast ice rink.

It has all been built in record time to house the Empire Games aquatic, boxing and wrestling events.

BRITISH GIRL DOCTOR HAS BRILLIANT RECORD

Pretty and 23, She Wins Many Prizes at Medical School

London.—A pretty girl of 23, Miss Jessie Roughton Browne, listened modestly at the Royal Free hospital, London, to a long recital of her remarkable successes at the outset of her career as a doctor.

She is also the central figure of a hospital romance, as she is engaged to Dr. Norman C. Parfit, who was formerly senior resident doctor at the hospital, at which the London school of medicine for women is located.

Miss Browne, a daughter of the late Dr. A. H. Browne, of the Church Missionary Society, met Dr. Parfit while she was a student at the hospital. She lives with her mother at Beckenham.

Her Sheaf of Prizes

Professor Filon, vice-chancellor of London University, handed her a number of prizes and certificates at prize-giving, including:

Gwendolen Lynn prizes for medicine and surgery.

Evans prize for obstetrics.

Prize for forensic medicine and toxicology.

Richardson-Kuhlmann prize.

Dean's medal for clinical medicine, and certificates for ophthalmology, public health, diseases of the ear, nose and throat, children's diseases, dermatology and treatment of venereal diseases.

Miss Browne has also won the London University gold medal for the M.B.B.'s examination.

Dr. Parfit told a reporter that theirs was a romance of the Royal Free hospital.

"Dr. Browne," he said, "has not taken up a practice yet, but our marriage will not be allowed to interfere with her career."

MODERN "PRINCE CHARMING" WEDS GIRL ONCE FOUNDLING

A Rich Argentine Woman Adopted Bride in Childhood

"HAPPY EVER AFTER"

A fairy-coach waited on a modern Cinderella here and drove her away to happiness with her Prince Charming.

He is the Duke of Luynes, Prince of Neufchatel and Valleugin, Duke of Chevreuse, Duke of Montford, Count of Dunois and Viscount of Chateaudun. These are only some of his titles.

Cinderella's real name is simply Juanita Dicas Unsue, and even that she owes to her foster mother. For Juanita was a foundling.

Fifteen years ago she was a curly-headed babe of three with the sweetest of smiles, toddling around an Argentine orphanage. Now she is one of the most beautiful girls in France.

Became Inseparable

While she was in the orphanage, a rich Argentine woman paid it a visit. Juanita clung to the visitor so bewitchingly that the rich woman was touched.

She took the child away for a week and then found she could not part with her.

So Cinderella, who had watched the rich little girls from the window of the orphanage, became a rich little girl herself.

Enter Prince Charming! The moment he set eyes on beautiful Juanita, the couple's fate was sealed.

Cupid had his way and, as a result, there was such a wedding as even fairyland might envy.

Cinderella and her prince are both quite certain they'll "live happily ever after."

LITTLE RELICS FOUND OF ANCIENT SACRIFICE

Temple in Carthage Reveals Children Were Offered

Algiers, Algeria. — Burned bones of children believed sacrificed for the Goddess Tanit, virgin Queen of the Moon and Heavens, have been unearthed at Carthage by Father Lapeyre, director of the Lavigerie Museum.

Father Lapeyre announced he found the bones in vases during excavations on the site of the Temple of Tanit in the ancient city. He said some of the bones were of babies a few months old. Some others belonged to children of 12.

TEMPLE OF 700 B.C. UNEARTHED IN IRAQ

Khorsabad, Iraq—Excavation of a large temple and magnificent sculptures at the site of the Palace of Khorsahad, built by King Sargon of Assyria, has been reported by Dr. Henry Frankfort, director of the University of Chicago institute's Iraq expedition.

The temple, 420 by 250 feet in area, was dedicated to Nabu, god of scribes and historians. It was connected with Sargon's palace by a fine stone viaduct. The central shrine, where the statute of the god stood, has been uncovered.

The stonework on either side of the steps leading to the platform bears inscriptions, among them a prayer of Sargon to the deity.

Remarkable carved ivories which ornamental wooden caskets were found in the temple.

Bronze door hinges, with embossed and engraved designs of bulls, men and mythological creatures have also been discovered.

TURKISH POPULATION NOW 50 P.C. LITERATE

Kemal Pasha's Government Has Made Strides in Education

Ankara, Turkey.—Illiteracy is being combated by the Kemalist government. According to the last census, in 1927 only 10 per cent of the Turkish population was able to read. It is estimated that, at present, about half of the population is literate.

Aside from normal school activity, progress is chiefly due to the work of adults' evening schools, which were organized when the Latin script was introduced four years ago. Education in the army, where the young recruit is acquainted in a course of three months with reading, writing and arithmetic, also has done much to diminish illiteracy.

Primary education is obligatory. Great stress is being laid in all schools on physical culture for boys and girls alike.

Education is free of charge and even in government boarding schools no fee for the maintenance is made.

Internal reforms of Hikmet Bey, energetic minister of education, leave no doubt that it is not the facade only which is being changed. He has ruthlessly dismissed more than thirty professors of Istanbul university as not corresponding to modern standards of science.

Most of them have been replaced temporarily by foreign scientists. Other experts have been invited from abroad to serve in high and secondary schools.

'WIZARD' BEATS FUTURE KING

Bucharest.—Prince Michael, the heir-apparent to the throne of Roumania, has missed being top of his school by half a mark. After a neck-and-neck struggle with his comrade Cernovodeanu, known as "The Wizard," he was nosed out of first place at the last minute.

HATS FROM TYROL ARE RAGE IN PARIS

Austrian Disturbance Felt in French Style Circles

Paris.—The Austrian disturbances have laid their mark on Parisian fashions. A prominent modiste displayed to-day a group of Tyrolean hats strongly reminiscent of those worn by Prince Ernst von Starhemberg and other Austrians as the last word in feminine headgear for the fall.

An early display of 1935 styles show many felts turned up in back and down in front with very high pinched crowns trimmed with paint-brush feathers, like those worn by Tyroleans.

They are in browns and greens, trimmed with feathers of yellow or burnt orange, some of which are placed in back and others swooping down in front, adding a brilliant touch of color.

Most hats are pinched over the face, though others are rolled sharply up in back and front and extended eight inches on the sides. Numerous three-cornered marquise shapes are seen, also five-sided large berets.

BANDIT'S NAME SAME AS CHINESE GENERAL

Hankow, China. — Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, deposed war lord of Manchuria, thought it was bad enough when he had to take a job of chasing bandits in Honan. But when he heard the bandit chief had the same name as he it was too much.

Chang is the surname. The marshal's given name means "excellence." Dropping the letter "l" from it branded the bandit as "learning to be a wolf."

THINKS RECTOR CURSED HER RINGS GONG ON SEEING HIM

Woman, 70, Involved in Strange Dispute With Minister

THREE-YEAR FEUD

Great Sutton, Essex.—A seventy-year-old woman and a minister who has placed her under a curse because he believes she is "possessed of a devil," are the figures in a strange dispute in this little village.

They are the rector, the Rev. T. R. C. Williams, and Mrs. Turrant, his neighbor.

Every day of the week except Sundays Mrs. Turrant beats a brass gong with a garden fork each time she sees the rector.

"I never miss giving him a tinkle on the gong," she said, "and I shall do it till I die.

"Three years ago a woman friend of mine died. She wanted to be buried by a friend of hers, the Rev. Noel Lambert.

"When the funeral arrived at the church here, it was found that the doors were locked.

"I ring the gong to remind the rector that he refused to allow the woman inside the church for her last service before the grave."

Raised His Bible

"In favor of Mrs. Turrant," the rector continued, "all I can say is that she is undoubtedly possessed of a devil.

"I met Mrs. Turrant some time ago in the main street. I was dressed in my ecclesiatical garments and carrying my Bible. She spoke to me in her usual manner.

"Raising my Bible, I cursed her in my priestly capacity, saying: 'In God's name I curse you for an evil tongue.'

"That curse is all the action I propose to take in the matter. It was a curse given with all the authority and power that I have for giving a blessing."

AEROPLANES HELD UP BY LOCUST CLOUDS

Pests Are Menace to Aviation In South Africa

Capetown. — Locust clouds are among the handicaps to South African aviation.

John Williamson, pilot on the air line between Capetown and Windhoek, capital of the mandated German Southwest Africa, ran into a grasshopper swarm near Gogabis, through which he flew for fifty miles. The engine revolutions declined as the propeller chewed through them. When he landed at Gogabis the engine was covered with a cake of locusts baked in oil.

DOESN'T LEAVE HOUSE FOR 26 LONG YEARS

Peekskill Man Finally Emerges To Complain on Neighbor

Peekskill, N. Y. — John J. Morrissey left his home at 146 Washington St. for the first time in 26 years to appear at the office of Police Justice Joseph M. Fox. Mr. Morrissey, though not ill or incapacitate, "just didn't care to go uptown."

Morrissey has had frequent arguments and disputes with Ethel C. Purdy, who operates a restaurant adjoining his property. Morrissey alleges that noise at the restaurant disturbs him. Mrs. Purdy countered that at the "slightest provocation Mr. Morrissey calls the police."

Charles E. Doyle, Morrissey's counsel, drove his client on a tour of the town, pointing out the changes made in the last 20 years.

"The town hasn't changed much," Mr. Morrissey declared on his return to his home for a stay of perhaps many more years.

MODERN BRONC-BUSTER BELIES SWASH-BUCKLING HERO OF OLD

Herman Linder, Champion Cowboy, Has Been Participating in Rodeoes for 5 Years.

STILL HAS "NERVES."

By DICK MATTHEWS
Central Press Canadian Correspondent

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 7—Romantic ideas of hard-drinking, quick-shooting swash-buckling "Riders of the Plain" are somewhat dispelled when you meet Herman Linder, slim 145-pound world's champion all-round cowboy. Linder never has carried a gun, seldom drinks and is a softly spoken smiling young chap of 26.

Although he has been active in rodeos for but five years, participating in his first big stampede in 1929 at Calgary, Linder's training started in early boyhood. He first spurred the heavy flanks of a viciously-bucking bronc at the age of 13.

Herman has won championships at Boston, New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cheyenne, Pendleton and Denver in the States, and in Canada at Calgary, Vancouver and Winnipeg. Climax to his career came last year in Madison Square Garden, New York, when he won the world's bareback bronc-riding championship with which went a silver-inlaid saddle and $2,000. The saddle is his most prized possession.

Rode After Injury

Skill, the "tricks of the trade" that come with experience, are the attributes to success in the business of bronco-busting as in any other, says Linder. But outside of actual competition the master cowhand gets little practice at his dangerous trade. First time he decorated a steer—transferring from the back of a galloping pony to the neck of a steer and attaching a scrap of ribbon to the beast's horn—was at a small-town rodeo.

Linder was injured in Tex Austin's rodeo at the White city, London, England, a sprained ankle forcing him from competition before reaching the finals. Little better than three weeks later he won his fourth consecutive Canadian all-round championship at Calgary, doing the first riding and roping following his injury before grandstand thousands.

Roping is not Linder's favorite event and he admits there are others faster than he. Contrary to belief that a whistling 10 or 15 foot loop is used in roping, Linder says loops four or five feet in diameter are favored. Jake McClure, one of the world's best ropers, uses a loop barely three feet across. Usual casting range is 20 feet in the arena, although on the range 40-foot casts are not considered long.

Never Trusts Broncos

"Nine out of ten broncos are naturally mean," Linder informed me, "and you have to be constantly alert. You're asking for trouble if you walk behind a bronc, for he'd as soon kick your head of as look at you. In the arena it's different, for the bronc's one idea is to dislodge you. I've never seen a horse deliberately attack or trample a rider after he has been piled (bucked off) although I understand there have been such cases. The odds are against it."

Linder likened his sensations while sitting on the back of a quivering bronc waiting for the "break" from the chute into the arena, to those of an athlete in an important game—dry mouth, moist palms, a tensed feeling in the pit of the stomach. "But once I'm out there my one thought is to stick to the back of that bronc," he confided with his naive, small-boy smile.

"Sure I've been piled," he admits. "The rider who hasn't never lived."

Although not so well-ordanized in Canada as in the United States there are companies which specialize in the gathering of broncs for the big stampedes. Their activities extend all over the republic, from Mexico to the international border. That the quest for broncs is a difficult one is gathered from the fact that Linder says not one horse in a thousand is a really good "professional" bucker. A good string of animals is highly-valued and given best of treatment.

Saw Rider Killed

Linder scoffed at the idea of "cruelty" to animals in a rodeo. "They fare much better than they do on the range," he says.

He has seen scores of stampede accidents and witnessed the death of one rider, but of this he would not talk. Linder's most severe injury was a broken collarbone suffered at Calgary when his bronc jumped the arena fence but fell with Herman in attempting to clear another.

Herman's sunny smile faded when we asked about insurance. "No, I can't get a cent of insurance; all I have at present is some which I took out when I was a boy of 16. But I'll fix that up when I retire."

We asked how his wife regards his dangerous career. "She's ready to call it quits any time I am, but she doesn't raise any objections." His German parents, Herman, Sr., and Mary, feel the same way about it.

Risking his life in rodeos is more profitable than cow-punching, he admits. It nets him an income of from $5,000 to $8,000 a year.

He salts much of his earnings away in anticipation of the day when he will leave thed anger and excitement, the dust and noise, the glamour and crowds behind and confine his riding and roping to the home range.

1,080 PEOPLE ARE WITH CIRCUS OF AL. G. BARNES

Bigness is Keynote Throughout of Famous Al. G. Barnes Circus.

IN KINGSTON TO-DAY

Tomorrow is circus day!

A city within a city comes to Peterborough for a one-day stop; a city which has a population of some 1,080 people, hundreds of horses, caravans of camels, three herds of elephants and countless other specimens of wild animal life, in nearly half a hundred cages.

It will come here upon its own three special trains of double-length cars, all loaded to the very brim, travelling from Kingston, Ontario, where the circus is exhibiting today.

The "City of White Tops," which flits about the country, has its own postmaster, garage, physician, lawyer, drug store, detectives, barber shop, wheelwright and blacksmith shops, and all the other things that go with a well-regulated community.

It is an itinerant affair that for the greater part of a season visits a new town each day and detrains, erects its canvas city, delights multitudes, and then entrains and skips away to other towns and cities, there to repeat the operation. Reference is, of course, made to the Great Al G. Barnes Circus which will tomorrow keep open house here with performances at 2 and 8 p.m., doors being opened at 1 and 7 p.m. The tents will be erected at George Street entrance to Exhibition Grounds.

Largest Circus Ever

It is a far cry back to the circuses of boyhood days, from this super-circus formed through the present coalition, and while statistics don't mean much, it is enough to say that this enormous amusement enterprise is altogether the greatest circus ever devised.

"Bigness" is the keynote throughout. Twenty-two tents of varying size are erected to house the enterprise, the biggest of these, the main tent, or "big top," seating thousands. The increased size of this circus has meant the elimination of the street parade, every ounce of horse and man power now being required to get the circus installed and ready for its two daily performances.

A Fairyland Spectacle

"The Fiesta of the Rio Grande," a gorgeous processional fiesta with the charm and romance of old Spain, a glorious fairyland spectacle of pantomine enchantment, will open the circus performance as a prelude. Superb beyond belief, indescribable, a triumph among colossal productions, it is today sweeping all before it with its all-powerful appeal and the very vastness of its character. It is the crowning spectacle in the long, eventful career of Al G. Barnes. One thousand men and women, horses and animals participate in the stupendous spectacle. Great companies of trained singers, orchestras of vast size, grand golden-tongued organs, cymbals and trumpets will be heard. Seventy thousand dollars was expended on wardrobes for this gorgeous prologue pageant.

Then follows the trained wild animal acts presented within a great steel arena. These include 20 mixed forest and jungle bred royal Bengal tigers educated by Miss Mabel Stark, daring and intrepid trainer. Queen of wild animal trainers. It will be shown just as presented at Madison Square Gardens, New York City last Spring at the opening of the circus season.

Maj. Robt. Thornton, accounted Europe's foremost horse trainer, will introduce three rings filled with superby trained stallions imported to America from Europe. Lorraine Casteel's troupe of highly trained dogs will afford amusement for the juveniles; groups of trained seals and 21 elephants presented in a group formation by Walter McClain; the Artist and Model horses, ponies, monkeys, dogs, posing with pretty girl models; trained geese and what not.

There will be performances at 2 and 8 p.m. The doors to the big show will be open an hour earlier to permit an inspection of one of the world's largest traveling zoos, or to enjoy a concert of popular and operatic music by Prof. Chas. Redrick's military band. Reserved and admission tickets will be on sale all day tomorrow at Bond's Drug Store, corner Hunter and George streets. On the show grounds, the white ticket wagon will be continuously accessible for the sale of reserved seats. General admission tickets will go on sale at the red ticket wagon simultaneously with the opening of the doors.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Mrs. Joseph White, Lakefield, Ont.

Your handwriting as deciphered, illustrates a rather nervous disposition. You do not want to appear nervous, and so you seem to grit your teeth, and do many things which your better judgment tells you would have been well let alone, and which cause an inward physical disturbance which undermines your strength. Your 't' bars reveal normal will power and determination. But! You DO find it difficult to make yourself complete tasks at times, don't you? Your imagination sometimes gets the better of you, but when one becomes as tired physically as you do, that is quite a natural consequence. You have artistic ability (not necessarily painting), and I think you would carry out this characteristic in your household surroundings and interior decorations and furnishings. In community affairs, there would be no one more adapted to the supervision of plans than yourself. Your moral code is sincere and loyal. I would suggest that you try to obtain more rest in the future, and do not be coaxed into driving yourself too severely, for once one's health is below par, it is difficult to see the bright side of things, and then one is apt to lose one's priceless sense of good humor.

Mr. Tom Mahoney, Clysdale, Post Office, Ont.

Your handwriting delineates you as versatile, but very interesting. Your mind is keen and retentive, but at times seems rather too set. This characteristic would no doubt lead your friends to think that you are stubborn, but I prefer to think that you know your own mind, and adhere strictly to your point of view. Your health does not appear to be very robust, and nerves play strange tricks with the imagination. Your 't' bar crossing illustrates pliable will power, that is to say, you CAN be very determined, or you can also be just as adaptable and kind as could be desired.

Mechanical instincts show themselves in your square-set writing, but farming would offset this admirably. Generally speaking, you are a diligent worker, but do not like to be 'driven'. You would be very kind to animals, and might be interested in stock breeding. Another outlet for your working ability would be daily labor in a creamery or cheese factory. If you have any special ambition about which you would care to question me, I shall be glad to answer you, but prefer that you write in pen and ink next time, and state the date upon which this delineation appears in print.

Your handwriting reveals conservative qualities. You are not in the habit of confiding your troubles to the whole world, as it were, yet, deeply appreciate the confidence of others who desire to express their hopes and fears to you. You are reserved, but not too much so. You are thrifty and yet on the other hand if you had the wherewithal, you would spend lavishly. Your 't' bar crossings, in the words 'Anthony and Kenneth' illustrate excellent will power and very good determination. The 't' at the termination of the abbreviation 'Ont.' shows persistent endeavour, and I feel certain that you work hard and with exceptional merit, on whatever task it is your lot to be engaged. Your capital 'J' portrays an interest in out of door recreation, but I do not think that you would care to expend too much energy in this direction. Your disposition should be fairly even, and so your friends know you for your true worth. You don't say one thing and mean another, unless to prevent trouble. Engineering should interest, but as this is such a large field from which to choose a vocation, there is no necessity to mention one specific line. In your love life, you would be most sincere and devout, but could become very jealous of the favored one.

Mrs. Katie Smith, Norwood, Ont.

Your handwriting designates you as a very friendly good natured person, yet you have a splendid mind of your own, and enjoy doing the things that you like best to do, if "let alone". There are times when you just can't be bothered to attend to detail, and you require relazation of a pleasant nature. Perhaps puttering about the garden, or sewing pretty things. This is as it should be, and people would do well to encourage you in these traits in preference to trying to prevent you doing as you desire. You are somewhat given to nervousness, and should not be hurried. I should say that you were very humorous, but rather reticent about expressing this humor when in certain company. You have artistic characteristics, and you enjoy music.

Your 't' bar crossings reveal a fair share of will power, but it does not make you what is termed dominant or stubborn, and no doubt perhaps you wish you had a great deal more of it at times. Your disposition is usually about the same, but you are inclined to worry too much about things, especially about the financial end of affairs. The only weak characteristic that presents itself in your writing, is doubting your own ability, and so putting off doing things till some one else has made use of your ideas. You are not too talkative, yet really do find that a friendly conversation has an inspiring effect upon you.

Mrs. D. Lamont, 1195 College St., Toronto.

Your handwriting illustrates a friendly disposition, and I am rather afraid that you are too impulsive in your generosity. You have quite a number of artistic tendencies, which no doubt allow you to make excellent use of your time. You are inclined to be outspoken, and sometimes your friends wonder why you let yourself say the things that you do, but as they are really honest opinions, and 'straight from the shoulder' as it were, I see no reason why you should keep all these thoughts to yourself. Your 't' bars express persistence, and the ability to force yourself to complete tasks, though tired out physically. Your capital 'L' reveals common-sense imagination of a very practical type. This characteristic should enable you to plan ahead, or visualize the outcome of future work. Your disposition is changeable, and you do not always feel quite as well in health, which is why you change so frequently. Your type as a rule cross many bridges before reaching them, and so cause nervous tendencies which deplete physical energy. Deep breathing out of doors will do much to overcome this tendency, and bring you renewed health for the future. You should enjoy your friends, but would have to revert to 'types' for real happiness, for some people would create a natural tendency to provoke you, though not intentionally.

Hundreds of Austrian Nazis Face Firing Squad

Reg Dixon Captures Canoe Sailing Honors

DON FITZGERALD TAKES TROPHY IN ANNUAL DINGHY SAIL EVENT

Several Hundred Persons See Keen Competition in Crow's Landing Regatta.

CHOPPY COURSE

(By A Staff Reporter)

CROWE'S LANDING, Aug. 7.—Reg. Dixon, Canada's sailing representative in the 1932 Olympics, captured Stoney Lake's premier canoe honors when he finished with a one-mile lead over the field in the annual canoe sail at the Crowe's Landing regatta on Saturday. Don Fitzgerald of Oak Ridge Camp captured the Fitzgerald Cup, a new annual challenge trophy, by a handsome win on the dinghy event.

A crowd of several hundred gathered from the Upper Stoney Lake region watched the regatta. A choppy waves blown up by a stiff wind down the course made things difficult for the canoeists and particularly the motor boat racers but failed to lower the grade of competition. The field of competitors included representations from Chemong and more southern ports on Stoney Lake but, as in other years, local talent composed the largest group.

Five entrants started out in the canoe sail, one lap on a three-mile course. Don Star took the early lead but upset on a jibe near the end of the first leg. In the long buck on the second leg, the four remaining canoes spread out, Dixon taking a lead which he never lost. Perrin Rork enjoyed a lead of almost a mile over the nearest of the other craft as he finished in second money.

Leads Field Over Course

Don Fitzgerald crossed the starting line first and led six craft over the entire six-mile run in the dinghy race. With an eye on the stiff wind prevailing, he sailed under canvas and enjoyed a facility in manoeuvring which the others lacked.

Bill Willoughby pressed the leader hard during the greater part of the run but failed to make up a disadantavge he suffered on the buck into the wind on the second leg. He finished in second place, the field well spread out behind him.

Drake Jopling, Ross Pulkinghorn, Doug McPherson, Ted Hiland and Ward Wright were conspicuous among the visiting competitors in the paddling and swimming events. Among the locals turning in outstanding performances were Tommy and Jack Lown of Toronto, Jack Porch, Jack Pokhorn, Clifford and Stanley Corbett, Mary Roxborough, Margaret Lundy and Marion Noridge.

Judges were Perrin Perk, Norwood; R. B. Lee, Owen Sound, and Gordon Fraser, Toronto. John Roulston, Toronto, served as clerk of the course. Mr. Lee and Mr. Rork alternated as starters.

Bass Leaps In Boat At Blairton Bay

DAVID ROGERS AWARDED HONORS IN ANNUAL KAWARTHA REGATTA

Local Youth Amasses Total of 18 Points to Capture Ryrie-Birks Trophy.

BEATRICE GRIER 2nd

LAKEFIELD, August 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—Kawartha Park lived up to the meaning of its name with its "bright waters and happy lands" on Saturday, when the annual big family gathering was held; the occasion being the annual regatta.

The committee, which consisted of a group of the young men of the Park, with Joe Swanson as its efficient convenor, carrier on the best tradition of Kawartha Park events. The tntries on Saturday were good in nearly all the events and, considering the heavy wind which so often blew across the course, there was surprisingly little fouling.

Two races were arranged for adults and were called the "old timers' races." There was plenty of merriment over the youthful appearances of most of the entries. However, the age limit merely stated "over sixteen."

The war canoe race between the Park boys and the Rotary boys was very close indeed, the "Parkers" winning by a matter of a few inches only.

The girls' war canoe race with crews captained respectively by Alice Townsend and Kay Coulter also had a garrison finish.

Wins Ryrie-Birks Cup

The prizes were presented directly after the regatta by Mrs. Townsend. The premier prize is, of course, the Ryrie-Birks Cup, which is awarded year by year, to the boy or girl winning the highest number of points. This year the cup was won by David Rogers of Peterborough with 18 points, and the runner-up was Beatrice Grier with 16 points. Last year's winner was Madeline Charlton. A hearty cheer followed the prize giving, as a tribute to the excellent work of the regatta committee and the officials who had so faithfully fulfilled their duties.

DRAMATICS TIE TANNERS SQUAD

Nine All Draw Gives Former Crew Chance in Hastings Play-offs.

HOMER BY CAVANAUGH

HASTINGS, Aug. 7.—(Examiner Correspondence).—In one of the best games to date in the local softball league the revamped Dramatics held the classy Tanners to a nine-all draw. The Dramatics who had little success in the first half of the schedule have made several changes in their line up and if they keep up the same brand of play that they showed in this game they wont be the door mat for the balance of the season.

Gibson on the mound for the Dramatics had seven strikeouts to his credit and was touched for ten hits, three of them being for the circuit, Stickles getting two and C. Scriver the other. Hahn on the mound for the Tanners pitched consistent ball throughout, getting five strikeout sand allowing twelve hits, one a homer by Cavanaugh.

The race for play off positions is tightening up and every game means a lot to each club.

KEEN COMPETITION IS SEEN IN JUNIPER AQUATIC EVENTS

Herb Cardwell of Wallace Point is Winner of All-Around Championship.

LARGE ENTRY LIST

(By a Staff Reporter)

JUNIPER ISLAND, Aug. 7.—Folks around Stoney Lake put on their best sport togs and journeyed by motor boat, paddle and oar to Juniper Island yesterday afternoon to see the most heavily-contested card of aquatic contests in years run off. It was the ever-colorful occasion of the annual Juniper Island regatta.

A half dozen seemed to be a minimum number of entries for any of the fourteen events, among whioh were a comprehensive variety of canoe races, two swimming contests and a seven-in-a-skiff race. In the seven-in-a-skiff event forty-nine paddlers in seven boats took part. Forty paddlers in twenty canoes fought it out in the mixed tandem. Double heats were necessitated on several other occasions by the numbers of entries and tie finishes.

Regatta Champion

Herb. Cardwell of Wallace Point, one of a large group of contestants visiting from other aquatic centers, captured the prize symbolizing the all-round championship of the day. He beat out Drake Jopling of Chemong, the runner-up, with eleven points as compared with Joping's four, the points having been garnered in seven designated championship events on wins and placings. Important also in the Rice Lake Aquatic Association representation were Mrs. Cardwell, Pat and Lillian McClellan and Bill Taylor among others. Drake Popling had his regular corps with him—Madge, Phyllis, Perry, Jack and Ralph Jopling, Art Wood, Ross Pulkinghorn and Doug. McPherson. Ruth Gouinlock, Sam and Jerry Sherrin, Billie MacKenzie, Bill Hewitt and Bill Wotherspoon were a few of those who strove gallantly to uphold the honor of the local group.

Bill Wotherspoon won a creditable victory in the upset and portage race, one of the most spectacular events of the afternoon. Fourteen paddlers started out from the main dock at the sound of the starter's gun bound for a rock about 100 yards distant. At a second signal they were required to upset their canoes and re-embark and, on reaching their goal, carry the craft over the rock before making a return. It was a wild scramble. Bill Taylor placed second with the pack at his heels, several lengths behind the winner, however.

Battle in Tandem

The men's tandem canoe event proved a battle. With twelve canoes reporting at the starting line, the field was divided for two heats. Ted Hiland and Jack Jopling took the first heat by a nose in a fast finish. Cardwell with Tayor beat out Art Wood and Perry Jopling in the second after a stiff battle. The final of the event proved a race that brought spectators to their toes. Cardwell and Taylor took first money over the Jopling-Wood combination with a margin of a few inches gained only in the last few strokes.

Mr. and Mrs. Cardwell worked hard for their victory over the twenty crews in the mixed tandem number. Drake and Madge Jopling, in placing second in the final gave them a stiff run. Two upsets near the starting line featured the four-in-a-canoe race. The triumph of a crew of youngsters—Ross Pulkinghorn, Ted Hiland and Doug. McPherson, captained, however, by veteran Jerry Sherrin—was somewhat a surprise.

Judges were Gerald Wood and Dr. A. W. McPherson of Peterborough, Don Fitzgerald and J. H. Renwick of Toronto and George Gillett of State College, Pa. Terry Hall, Peterborough and Col. J. E. Osborne, Toronto, were the announcers and Paul Dodworth, Pittsburgh, with Jim Wood, Peterborough, handled the starting guns. Russell Dodworth, secretary-treasurer of the Stoney Lake Aquatic Association sponsors of the regatta, acted as clerk of the course.

King Edward Nine Wins Sloppy Game

King Edward School defeated St. Peter's, 20 to 12, Saturday in the first of the three-game bantam playoffs. It was a sloppy fixture with the Saints booting the ball all over, and five pitchers seeing service—none of them having much luck stopping the rival hitters. The southenders had the better of the argument, getting five runs in the fifth and six unearned markers in the next frame. Creighton had an unassisted double-play to his credit. Next game will be Wednesday at 5.45 in the Riverside Park. The teams:

AMATEUR TOURNEY AT QUEBEC LINKS

Large Field Expected for Canadian Amateur Golf Championship.

By H. M. PETERS
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.—(C.P.) — French Canada's premier golf club, as noted for the sportiness of its course as for the delights of its cuisine, stands ready to entertain the cream of Canada's amateur golfers.

For the first time in its history the beautiful Laval-sur-le-Lac course, built on rising land on Isle Jesu, near Montreal, will be venue of a national championship when the Canadian Amateur tournament is held there during the week of Aug. 13-18. The 36 hole medal play for the interprovincial championship and the Willingdon trophy will be held Aug. 13. These teamsmen get into the Canadian amateur the following day.

The entry list, expected to approach 250 crack players, including the best Canada can offer and many from the United States, will find itself facing a difficult layout as it goes out in the match-play tournament. The 1934 competition marks a departure from all previous ones in that the medal-play qualifying round has been dropped.

It was a fitting gesture, in a year in which French-Canada is variously celebrating its colorful history, that the Royal Canadian Golf Association allotted the 1934 tournament to Laval and officials of the club have responded by presenting a course perfectly ready.

Although needing heavy rain, as do all Montreal courses this year, the layout is in excellent shape with the green carefully tended, only occasional brown spots through the fairway testifying to parching the course suffered during a severe dry spell in July. The turf assures excellent lies while tees and greens glisten a bright emerald.

Par Hard to Beat.

A 6,433 yard course from the back tees, with a par 71 that has never bowed in competitive play, Laval offers a wide variety of holes, including an unusual number of five one-shotters, all offering difficulties to strokes of less than strict accuracy.

The course is approximately 17 miles from Montreal by highway and is also reached by train. Crowned by an excellent clubhouse, it stretches over rolling land and is one of the most heavily wooded courses in the district.

Canadian National Exhibition authorities, in answer to an oft-repeated question, point out that the grandstand seating accomodation is 18,600 but what with standing room in the structure and in the paddock almost 24,000 spectators have watched the pageant on one night.

PICOBAC

A FRIENDLY SMOKE

Mr. PICOBAC Sketched from Life

"Before I started to smoke Picobac I didn't have the friends I've got now. I tell you there's nothing like a pipe of Picobac for making you feel friendly towards folks.

"And when you feel friendly towards them why they just naturally feel friendly towards you.

"Picobac is what I call a friendly smoke. It's always friendly. It doesn't change.

"Because it's a fully matured Burley, aged for at least two years in wood and the pick of Canada's Burley crop.

"There's no bite to Picobac, you understand. Fill your pipe with Picobac and pass your pouch to the man next you. You will be on friendly terms right away. Because Picobac is certainly a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke.

"And don't forget, you get more tobacco for your money . . . Good for making cigarettes, too."

VENDORS MEET DISTRIBUTORS

Satisfactory Solution of Milk Situation is Expected.

NAME COMMITTEE.

Prospects of a satisfactory solution to the milk situaton in the Peterborough district seemed bright as a meeting of more than forty vendors and distributors gathered in the Department of Agriculture Office, last night. A committee to study the matter of uniform milk retail prices and an improved price to the producer was selected.

A good feeling seemed to prevail through the conference. Each group in the milk business—the producer the producer-vendor, the raw milk distributor and the pasteurized milk plant as well as the cheese makers—was well represented. Talk at the meeting was general and no agreements were reached but it is confidently expected that the committee will have some practical recommendations to submit by Friday evening of this week.

The committee, including more than a dozen men was chosen with a view to the fair representation of the various groups. It is understood that eight producers and five distributors are acting on the committee.

HOWSON MOTORS SELLING HUDSON

Hudson Built Line Now Being Handled by Hudson Motors.

IN LOW-PRICED FIELD.

Howson Motors, 396 Water street, Peterborough, have been appointed new dealers in this area for the 1934 Hudson-built line, according to the announcement to-day of Ross Mackinnon, general sales manager of Hudson-Essex of Canada Limited.

A phenomenal success throughout the Dominion, as indicated in the retail delivery orders, the 1934 made-in-Canada Terraplanes and Hudsons have met with the approval of the motorist and automotive engineer alike for outstanding performance, economy of operation, long life and ruggedness.

The 1934 Hudson-built line is the most extensive in the company's history, the Canadian motorist being able to choose from thirty-three separate body designs, all offering a wide range of color choice.

The new 6-cylinder Terraplanes are in the lowest-price field; the Hudson 8-cylinder cars are in the lowest price straight eight range. Recently, new convertible couples were added and have already become popular.

Latest addition to the Hudson-built line is the new Challenger series of Terraplane sixes. Already meeting with the high favor of Canadian motorists, these models are $45-$60 below the lowest delivered figures on the earlier Terraplanes. The newly-introduced models in the Challenger series have full-sized bodies on a 112-inch wheel base and are notable for Terraplane record performance, large and roomy interiors, 80 horse-power motors, unit-engineering and a high ratio of power to weight.

WREATH LAID ON CENOTAPH

Synonemous with the service of remembrance being held at Toronto on Saturday in connection with the great Canadian Corps Reunion, the members of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, or at least all that was left of them, placed poppy wreaths on the Legion cenotaph and also on the civic war memorial.

Captain James Abraham, who had charge of the brief services, deposited the wreaths, "in profound and loving memory of our comrades who gave their lives for Canada and the Empire."

ONLY ONE MOTOR ACCIDENT

The holiday week-end passed quietly here. With the exception of the car which early Sunday morning tried to dive into the river at the Jack's, there were no motor accidents, police said.

There were no arrests and nothing new requiring Magistrate Langley's attention today.

Weddings

HUTCHISON—COOK.

The marriage of Hilda Frances, daughter of Mrs. Cook and the late Mr. Thomas J. R. Cook, to Scott J. Hutchison, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchison, Peterboro, was solemnized at the Church of the Messiah, Toronto, by Rev. A. Brierly Browne. Only the immediate relatives were present. The bride wore her travelling dress of printed crepe with three-quarter coat of navy blue taffeta, large navy felt hat, and corsage of Butterfly roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ronald Laurence, as matron of honor, who was gowned in powder pink crepe with matching hat. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses. The best man was Mr. John Hutchison, brother of the groom. Following the ceremony the bride and groom left by motor for Montreal and Quebec. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison wil reside in Toronto.

COWLING—SARGENT.

A pretty holiday wedding took place at half past two o'clock yesterday afternoon in Trinity United Church, when Bertha Madeline, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sargent, of 488 Sherbrooke street, became the bride of Mr. Percy R. Cowling, Phm.B., of Bowmanville, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cowling of Hampton, Ontario. The Rev. F. M. Wootton officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was becomingly gowned in asure blue crepe with taffeta jacket and matching hat. She carried a bouquet of Butterfly roses.

Miss Grace Sargent, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a pretty frock of beige and pastel figured chiffon with matching accessories and bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mr. Harry Cowling, Phm.B., of Toronto, was groomsman for his brother.

Ushers were Master Jack Cowling and Kenneth Harrison.

After a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cowling left on a motor trip to the Highlands of Haliburton, the bride travelling in a gown of brown and white triple sheer crepe with brown jacket and matching accessories.

On their return they will reside in Bowmanville.

BLAKELY—WOOTTON.

The spacious drawing room of Trinity Church Parsonage, the home of the Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Wootton, was a scene of beauty and color on Monday, when their daughter Frances was united in marriage to Mr. Clealan Blakely, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Blakely, of Picton, Ontario. The ceremony took place in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the young people. Lovely summer flowers and ferns made a most effective decoration and the alcove, in which the bridal party stood, was transformed into a bower of beauty.

The bride, dressed daintily in pure white mauseline de soie with bridal tulle veil attached to the lace cap with orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of Butterfly roses and baby's breath, entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Alma Blanchard. Her attendants were Miss Ruth Grimmon of Picton, dressed becomingly in maize chiffon and carrying an old fashioned nosegay, and Miss Jean Wootton, also charmingly gowned in chiffon of a delicate pink shade, and carrying a nosegay. Mr. Jack Blakely, of Picton, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The Rev. F. M. Wootton, assisted by the bride's brother, the Rev. A. M. Wootton, of Tyrone, Ont., performed the ceremony. During the signing of the register, Miss Helen Wootton sang "O Promise Me," with Miss Blanchard at the piano.

Immediately following the ceremony, a very informal reception was held, Mrs. Wootton wearing a gown of figured sheer with corsage in matching tones, and Mrs. Blakely in white crepe with corsage of mauve sweet peas. The luncheon was capably served by Miss Ruth Sutton and Miss Ruth Barnes of "The Gingham Dog" Tea Room, assisted by Miss Edith Williams of Picton, and the Misses Katherine Hodgson and Doris Bannister of Peterborough. The bride's table was very attractive with sweet peas in delicate tones and tulle.

Later the happy young couple left by motor for Quebec city and other points. Mrs. Blakely travelled in a most becoming blue ensemble. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Blakely will reside in Picton, Ontario.

BACON—BOTHWELL

A pretty wedding took place at two o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Luke's Church, when Eleanor Winnifred, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Bothwell of 351 Armour Road, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bacon of 202 Edinburgh street. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. G. J. Bousfield, assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave, D.D.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely frock of blue chiffon organdie, a large picture hat of ecru lace straw, blonde shoes, hose and gloves. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and gypsophila.

The bridesmaid, Miss Iva Campbell, cousin of the bride, was gowned in mauve net, with white hat, shoes and gloves, and bouquet of American Beauty roses and gypsophila.

Mr. Jack Marshall was groomsman.

Miss Lily Bacon, A.T.C.M., A.D.C.M., sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding music and Mrs. James A. Young, aunt of the bride, sang "All Joy be Thine."

After the church ceremony, an informal reception was held at the bride's home, with immediate relatives as guests. Decorations were in green and white, with a profusion of flowers, and the bride's table, centered by the cake, was done in flowers on a lace cloth.

After a fortnight's absence on a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bacon will live at 199 Hunter street.

For travelling, the bride wore a yellow crepe ensemble trimmed with brown taffeta, a brown hat and brown gloves, shoes and bag.

The young people received many gifts. The gift of the bridegroom to the bride was a pair of pearl earrings, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet and to the best man an engraved silver cigarette lighter.

Strong Financial Position of City Is Praised by Thomas Bradshaw

Peterborough's strong financial position was praised by Thomas Bradshaw, of Toronto, president of the North American Life Assurance Company, and one of Canada's outstanding financial leaders, who was a visitor here over the week-end.

Mr. Bradshaw, who recently conducted an investigation into the financial position of Winnipeg and reported on a system to overcome the financial plight of the Western metropolis, paid a friendly visit to Mayor Denne. During his conversation with the Mayor, he said, "I want to congratulate you and the city's other leaders on the splendid financial position of Peterborough." In his opinion the city's business was being administered most efficiently and he stressed the fact that the Council has refused for the past two years to issue any debentures, but rather attempted to reduce the city's debt.

VOICE OF PEACE A GAIN RINGING OVER GERMANY

Linked With the Call is the Old Claim of Equal Armament Rights.

WAR GUILT LIE REJECTED.

German Writer Pictures England Preparing Against France.

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

BERLIN, Aug. 7. — (C P Cable). —The voice of peace again rings through Germany. From Chancellor Adolf Hitler downwards, the desire of Germany to live in peace with her neighbours echoes across the Reich. And with the peace call is linked the old claim of equal rights in armaments.

Day by day newspapers recount in brief the events of 20 years ago. One illustration shows a detachment of laughing young troops leaving for the front in cars chalked "Paris" and "London." The German war-guilt "lie" is bitterly rejected.

The Kaisers View.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung reprinted a proclamation issued 20 years ago in which the Kaiser declared: "since the Reich was founded 43 years ago it has always been my earnest effort and that of my ancestors to preserve peace, and in peace to advance our vigorous development. But the enemy denies us the result of our labor.

"Conscious of our responsibility and strength we have hitherto borne with all open and secret enmity from the east and west and from the other side of the sea. Now they would humiliate us, so the sword must decide. In the midst of peace an enemy falls upon us. To Arms! Irresolution and delay would be treason to the fatherland. We shall defend ourselves to the last breath of man and beast."

In the Voelkischer Beobachter, General Von Taysen, after describing how the world is piling up armaments, declares Germany cannot rest until she has at least obtained the right to a certain defensive equality in armaments. In England, Von Taysen writes, "the armaments machine is going full swing." He outlines what he calls the British "five-year war-plane program," adding Britain is constructing 20 cruisers and increasing land army material. "Against whom are these new armaments directed?" he asks.

Directed Against France

Those who contend they may be directed against Germany can only come to such a conclusion if their nerves are affected, declares Von Taysen. "At bottom," he concludes, "these armaments are naturally directed against France. "Yes, English anxiety is so great today that it is the view of many it was only to sweeten its own refusal of a dangerous friend that London recommended us to place ourselves under the protection of a new Franco-Russian military alliance."

The above is a scene of the funeral procession.

Threatened Boycott Compels Hollywood Clean-Up

Hollywood is finding detours around the slums of sin for its queens of the screen following threatened boycott by the League of Decency and other church groups campaigning for a curb on sex exploitation in the movies. Projected pictures in which sex appeal specialists above were to appear in glamorous roles and glorifications of the underworld, are reported under revision and several of them have been cancelled. For instance, Norma Shearer, criticised as naughty in "Riptide", is due now for a nice part in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Movie magnates are worrying about how to cast Mae West, Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, Jean Harlow and Marlene Dietrich, others who have been starred in the primrose path of pictures.

Finds Hollywood Quite Easy To Crash

The golden gates of Hollywood are not hard to crash, if the experience of Ketti Gallian, above, exotic Franco-Italian actress, is a precedent. After seven months of intensive training Ketti is cast in a star role with Spencer Tracy in "Marie Galante."

PETERBORO CLUB ELIMINATED IN THE COUNTY SEMI-FINALS

Local Cricketers Suffer Their First Setback of the 1934 Season.

FINAL SCORE 258-83.

This match in the semi-final round of the county cricket championship was played on the ground of the Toronto Cricket Club at Armour Heights, Toronto, on Civic Holiday, Aug. 6. The locals met opposition of a much higher calibre than that of their previous opponents in the county series, and suffered a very severe defeat; the final score being Waterloo, 258 for 7 wickets (declared), Peterborough 83. The local team have no alibi and were fairly and squarely beaten by a team which was better at all points; but the difference in the teams was not so great as the score would seem to indicate. It is a truism that missed catches lost matches, and Peterborough paid dearly for their errors in that respect. Bolland, the Waterloo high scorer was missed when he was 6—he got 67 more himself and stayed in while 200 were made.

Mawhood won the toss and sent Waterloo in to bat; the first and second wickets fell at 43, and four were out for 96, but on McLeod joining Bolland, the Peterborough bowlers and fielders had a rough time. McLeod hit very hard and with Bolland took the total to 205, before he was stumped by Mawhood off Wild for 70, which included 3 sixes and 9 fours. On Butcher joining Bolland the score was taken to 256 and the innings declared closed. Bolland carried out his bat for 73, having batter for two hours and twenty minutes.

Make Poor Showing

The Peterborough bowlers had a poor time as the bowling figures show. Dyer bowled no less than 29 overs and was never freely scored off, but he had no luck.

Peterborough opened with Worrall and Burks and the latter was severely hit on the arm in the first over and had to retire. Worrall was out to a brilliant catch at slip. Mitchell got his leg in front of a straight one, and Gore shared Worrall's fate, and three good wickets were gone for 10 runs.

On Binks (who was able to resume) and Hamilton getting together, there seemed a probability of a good stand; they were playing confidently and beginning to score well, but at 63 Hamilton was bowled for 26. On Dyer's dismissal at 79, three more wickets fell at the same total. And the innings closed for 83. Binks played good cricket and kept up his wickets at a critical time, but could get no one except Hamilton to stay with him.

Though defeated on Monday, the local club can be well satisfied at getting as far in the competition as they did—this was the first defeat of the season. Their opponents had the advantage of being members of a four-town league, with a regular schedule of matches at Waterloo, Galt, Preston and Hespeler.

15-Year-Old Lad Five Pound Bass

Victor Coleman, 121 Brock street, 15 year old youngster, did well by himself in the field of angling over the week-end. Yesterday he landed a large-mouth green bass in Pigeon Lake which sagged the scales to the tune of an even five pounds.

The lad was still fishing with a bamboo pole when he hooked the big fellow. After a short four-minute struggle, he yanked him out without ceremony. To-day he is investigating the cost of taxidermist services.

ENDEAVOR BESTS STORM

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (A.P.)—T. O. M. Sopwith's America's Cup challenger, Endeavour, already has had a chance to prove her seaworthiness and has come through the test with flying colors.

In a radio message to the Associated Press, the Endeavour's captain described the terrific storm the craft enocountered over the weekend.

"During the gale we encountered Saturday morning," the message said, "we had to slow down to about five knots for 36 hours. During that time the Endeavour proved herself to be a good sea boat. She did not take many heavy seas on board, but plenty of spray."

DROUGHT IN U.S. HITS MISSOURI

Worst in History, Dry Spell Has Seared Every County.

12,000,000 ACRES USELESS.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 7 (A.P.)—Starving and thirsty livestock, parched pasturelands and brown fields of corn and other row crops mark the drought's effects in Missouri and Arkansas.

With the exception of a small area in the southeastern part of the state, the devastating hand of the drought has reached its searing fingers into every section of Missouri.

In Arkansas, most of the heavy crop damage is confined to western and northwestern counties.

Describing the present drought as the worst Missouri ever experienced, R. A. Logan, senior statistician of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, said it had extended to more crops than any previous one.

More than 12,000,000 acres of pasturelands in the state have been made useless for grazing.

Forty-three counties in Arkansas have been designated as emergency drought areas, 11 of them in the primary class. It is reported that 5,000 families in those counties are on drought relief. The government is expected to start buying cattle this week.

NEW CLUB PLANE

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 7.—(C.P.)—A new light aeroplane, gift of the federal Department of Aviation, arrived here recently for the Brantford-Norfolk Aero Club, according to C. E. Wilmot, president. It has a steel fuselage and is slightly more powerful than the one the club already possesses.

Pattullo Is Stalling, Federal Relief Offer

VICTORIA, Aug. 7 (C.P.)—The British Columbia delegation received a courteous hearing of its case for better terms under confederation and disposal of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, Premier T. D. Pattullo stated to-day following his arrival from Ottawa where he conferred with the Dominion Government.

Touching upon relief, the premier said some assurance was given the dominion would consider loans to the province to finance provincial programs of public works in provincial and municipal localities though to what degree or on what terms had not been decided.

Mr. Pattullo said he had not yet signed the agreement under which the dominion offered British Columbia a flat sum of $150,000 per month as the federal contribution to unemployment.

Heads of the nine provinces may reassemble in Ottawa in October for discussion of suggested changes in the British North America Act, the premier said. If they did so, it would be at the invitation of the Dominion.

ROOSEVELT ON DROUGHT TOUR OF NORTH DAKOTA

Enroute with President Roosevelt to Washington, Aug. 7.—(A. P.). — President Roosevelt brought his drought inspection trip into North Dakota to-day with the announced resolve to make "every ounce of water" falling in the northwest "count before it makes its way down to the Gulf of Mexico."

Amid the steam shovels and dredges on the newly commenced Fort Peck, Mont., dam in the Missouri river, the President voiced this purpose late yesterday to a crowd of workers and citizens of these parched fields.

The drought, apparently spreading, occupied almost full attention of Mr. Roosevelt as he rode through the barren, dusty fields of the northwest. Relief experts carried late reports to him.

COMMEND ME TO GOD'S MERCY HINDENBURG CHARGES CHAPLAIN

I Wish No Eulogy, No Glorification at Funeral Were Statesman's Last Words.

READS 27TH PSALM.

TANNENBERG, Ger., Aug. 7 (A. P.)—Paul Von Hindenburg's charge to his army chaplain was:

"I wish no eulogy, no glorification at my funeral; only commend me to the mercy of God."

This as told to-day by the protestant chaplain, the Rev. Mr. Dohrmann, in his funeral oration for the late president.

The brief eulogy was based on a text which Von Hindenburg himself selected, from revelations 2:10: "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life."

Into this theme Mr. Dohrmann wove other bits of scripture, pictured the faith of the hero of Tannenberg in the words of the warrior King David.

"The Lord is my light and my salvation: whom shall I fear?" He read from the famous 27th psalm. "The Lord is the strength of my life: of whom shall I be afraid?"

"The Lord is gracious and full of compassion; slow to anger and of great mercy," came from the 145th Psalm, and from the 77th: "thou are the God that doest wonders; thou hast declared thy strength among the people.

The whole life of the president, he continued, was one of faith and faithfulness— a faith that keep him free from bitterness and cynicism, despite disapointment had imbued in him a belief in a better future.

Two Are Arrested Still Is Seized

LINDSAY, Aug. 7. — Constable Woods, R.C.M.P., Lindsay, and Constable Allen, R.C.M.P., Cobourg, arrived here last evening from the north country having in custody Walter Duffy and William Cooper, of Norland. The officers also had in their possession a worm and a quantity of mash which they seized in the woods two miles north of Norland this morning. The officers had been in that locality for a week on a still hunt and finally rounded up the two men. They were lodged in Lindsay jail and will come up for trial on Tuesday. For some time road workers in the northern camps have been supplied with moonshine and the officers claim that in the seizure and arrests made today they have located the source of supply of the illicit liquor.

The narrow collar and jabot frills create a long graceful bodice line. The center panel does the same for the skirt.

The sheer cotons as handkerchief-finish lawn prints, wrinkle-resistant voile prints, crinkled or plain linen prints, pastel tub silks, etc., are charming mediums for a frock of this type.

Then again, it is smart carried out in dark sheers in plain or print for town wear.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Baked Potatoes Stuffed Eggs
Green Peas
Berry Pie Tea or Coffee

The stuffed eggs in this menu take the place of meat. You may add more protein by serving cheese with the pie.

Today's Recipes.

Stuffed Eggs—Six hard-cooked eggs, one tablespoon vinegar, one-half tablespoon salad oil, two tablespoons deviled ham or one tablespoon anchovy paste, one-half teaspoon mustard, one-half teaspoon sugar, pepper, salt, paprika. Cut the eggs in halves crosswise. Remove the yolks and mash. Add the other ingredients, mixing the dry seasonings together before adding. Refill the whites and arrange on lettuce or cabbage leaves.

FACTS AND FANCIES

They Wash Easier.

Before attempting to wash a meat grinder, run some bread through it to clean out meat particles. Then use a stiff brush to wash it.

When washing dishes which have contained gravy or other greasy substances, add a few drops of ammonia to the water. It will facilitate washing and eliminate the odor of grease. Then rinse thoroughly.

Dishes soiled by eggs or milk should be washed first in cold water, but greasy dishes should be immersed at once in hot water.

Apple Flip-Flaps.

Core, pare and chop three sour apples and mix with one cup of fine granulated sugar. Have ready a batter made with three-ourths cup of flour, sifted with one teaspoon of baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt, and stir into a mixture of one beaten egg and one-fourth cup of milk or milk enough to make a drop batter. Stir in a scant tablespoon of melted butter. Mixt the apples with the batter until every piece is coated, then fill into greased baking cups and steam for 30 to 40 minutes. Or they may be baked in a quick oven for 20 to 30 minutes or until firm and brown on top. Serve with cream or fruit juice.

Glazed Carrots.

One or two bunches carrots, two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons sugar, dash nutmeg. Scrape and slice the carrots. Cook with as little water as possible and keep covered until tender. Most of the water should have evaporated by the time they are cooked. Time of cooking depends upon the quality of the carrots, from 20 to 30 minutes. Add seasonings and cook two to three minutes until sugar melts.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

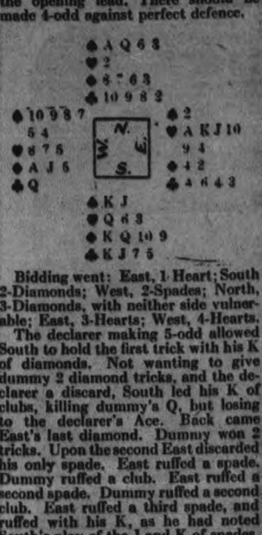
STUDY THIS HAND.

On account of the difference in scoring, bidding in money games and duplicate games frequently goes differently. Duplicate has no bidding to the score and no rubber game to save. Each hand is in itself a contest. The play, however, goes alike in both games. Many a player has greatly benefitted both his bidding and play by studying duplicate hands afterwards, selecting those where different scores were made on the same bids, against the same opening leads' Every table in a recent duplicate match played East's hand for 4-Hearts, against an opening lead of the K of diamonds' One table made only 3-odd. Another won 5-odd. The rest just went game. Study the best play of both declarer and South, after the opening lead. There should be made 4-odd against perfect defence.



Bidding went: East, 1 Heart; South 2-Diamonds; West, 2-Spades; North, 3-Diamonds, with neither side vulnerable; East, 3-Hearts; West, 4-Hearts.

The declarer making 5-odd allowed South to hold the first trick with his K of diamonds. Not wanting to give dummy 2 diamond tricks, and the declarer a discard, South led his K of clubs, killing dummy's Q, but losing to the declarer's Ace. Back came East's last diamond. Dummy won 2 tricks. Upon the second East discarded his only spade. East ruffed a spade. Dummy ruffed a club. East ruffed a second spade. Dummy ruffed a second club. East ruffed a third spade, and ruffed with his K, as he had noted South's play of the J and K of spades. South discarded his last club. When East led a club, South won with his Q of hearts, taking the second and last trick for his side, as East immediately spread his hand which contained only winning hearts.

The East player who made only 3-odd won the opening lead with dummy's Ace of diamonds. The second trick he won with his Ace of clubs, and led back his last diamond. South's Q won the trick. South led his J of spades. North won with his Ace. The 2 of hearts was led. South's Q won over a finesse of East's 9. South led back a trump. Dummy's 7 won the trick. East discarded a club on dummy's good J of diamonds. The declarer ruffed a spade, dropping South's K. Dummy's last trump was used to win a club lead. The defenders won 1 spade, 1 heart, 1 diamond and 1 club, defeating the contract a single trick.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Everyone who goes to the seashore wants to have some sort of beach supper or picnic while there. Sometimes an elaborate meal is brought down, and again some of the main food is cooked after getting to the beach. A steak broiled over live coals never tastes better than when cooked and eaten on the shore—provided no sand gets on it. I remember one experience when the person broiling the steak let it slip, and all the wiping of sand even washing in the drinking water, could not get the grit out. So be careful not to have such a thing happen when you attempt to cook on the beach. It should be remembered that permits for beach fires must be obtained before making them.

* * * * * *

The fire over which such cooking is done can be on a portable camp stove bought for the purpose or be over driftwood coals, over which the grill brought from the oven at home is balancedsecurely on rocks or heaps of stones piled each side of the fire. Wait until there is a good bed of coals before starting the broiling. Bacon can be pan broiled in a frying pan on the grill. Potatoes can be roasted before the fire if turned frequently, or they can be covered with hot ashes and allowed to roast in them. It takes time to cook potatoes thus and they should be started long enough beforehand for the meal not to be kept waiting for them. Or the potatoes can be par-boiled or partially baked at home and the cooking finished by the camp fire.

* * * * * *

One of the simplest of beach refreshments is a marshmallow roast. There may be nothing but marshmallows roasted over the coals. Toasting forks are better for the work than pointed sticks although both are used to hold the confections over the coals until delicately browned. It is not too easy to brown the marshmallows without burning them. Some skill in turning them at just the right time is needed.

* * * * * *

While the party may go under the name of a marshmallow roast, sometimes a light supper preceeds the toastings of the candy. Sandwiches, and olives or some sort of pickles, fruit and the toasted marshmallows are sufficient. Lightly salted crackers go well with marshmallows, as also do plain chocolate bars.

Your Health

By DE LUCAN CLENDENING

The lovely Irene Dunne, who is one of Hollywood's best golfers, as well as one of its most gracious hostesses, is never the least bit afraid of close-ups when she's working in a picture. Irene's skin is smooth and lovely, and even the most exacting of close-ups fails to reveal any flaws in her complexion. She takes excellent care of her skin always. And she attributes its soft smoothness and creamy whiteness in part to the oatmeal bags she uses to cleanse her skin during the summer months.

I'll admit that it's not exactly an easy task to keep the skin soft and smooth during hot weather. For in sticky, torid weather, the face generally must be washed quite frequently. And such frequent ablutions tend to remove the oil that keeps the skin pliable. Exposure to the summer elements also does its part in making the skin seem dry, rough and leathery.

However a great deal can be done to keep your face smooth and youthful looking, if care is taken in its cleansing. Caustic soaps are too harsh for use on the tender facial skin. And they are particularly harmful when used on a sensitive and abnormally dry skin. No soap containing an excess of alkali should ever be used on such a skin.

If you really do not feel clean without using soap and water on your face, however, I would suggest that you combine your soap with meal, and use it as a real bag in the same manner that Irene Dunne does. Slice a small cake of pure castile soap into very fine shavings and place the flakes in a receptacle. Then add to them a cup of ordinary fine oatmeal and half a cup of almond meal, and mix the ingredients thoroughly. When the soap shavings and meals have been satisfactorily blended, transfer the entire mixture to a small cheesecloth bag and sew it shut.

Each time that you wish to cleanse your face then, don't grab a cake of harsh soap. Instead, simply moisten your cheesecloth bag and scrub your skin with it. Not only will all dirt and grime thereby be removed from the skin, but the soluble oils in the meals will also help to keep the skin soft, smooth and velvety.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Hair

Glenda: A side part would be better suited to you than a center part. A long evening dress will indeed help to add to your apparent height.

Double Chin

Peggy: You will find full information on eradicating a double chin in my "Beauty Culture" booklet. This booklet also describes the salt water treatments for falling hair, an excellent dandruff remedy, and the hot oil shampoos for thickening and reconditioning the hair.

Pigemnt Cells

Mrs. Downs: The pigment cells of part of your hair have probably been injured, and no longer function. You might have the light streak dyed to match the rest of your hair.

Neck

Loretta: My method of eradicating a double chin, and making the neck firm and youthful, is too long to print here. However, it is contained, along with the method of dimming wrinkles, in my "Beauty Culture" booklet.

Nails

Nettie R.: Massage warmed olive oil into the base of each nail nightly. This will help to alleviate the ridges and correct the brittleness.

Bathing Eyes Daily With Eyewash Adds to Beauty of Jean's Orbs

That very sweet lass, Jean Parker, whose dark, deep, pansy-velvet eyes made a definite etching on your memory when you see them, always advocates bathing the eyes with a good eyewash every morning upon arising. Jean prefers an eye cup for this purpose, although she considers swabbing the eyes with the solution effectise, too. But there's one thing she warns against when using an eye cup—and that is, using the same solution for both eyes. For by so doing, the impurities of one eye may easily be transferred to the other.

Jean's certainly right about that. But the sad part of it is that so many gals neglect to cleanse their eyes entirely. Jean's warning would be most appropriate if cleansing the eyes was a common practice. But unfortunately, it isn't.

Jean Parker

However, it really should be. For any lass who desires bright, lustrous eyes should realize that she can't have them if she neglects the cleansing of her orbs. A large amount of dust and grime accumulate in the eyes each day, in this busy, smoky world. Some of the particles are so tiny that they don't cause actual discomfort. They lodge themselves under the eyelids, and we may be totally unaware of their presence. But unless these particles are washed away daily, the eyes may become red, inflamed and bloodshot.

Any eyewash, to be safe and effective, must be free from all germs. It should be very mild and soothing to the eyes. The boric acid solution that Jean Parker advises is most commonly recommended as an eyewash. To prepare it, one teaspoon of boric acid should be dissolved in a glass of tepid sterilized water. The best way to administer it is, as Jean says, with an eye cup, which fits right over the eye. Another eyewash that can be used with safety is boiled water to which a bit of salt—just enough to make the water taste faintly salty—has been added' The plain water causes a smarting that the salt allays. It has the same effect as tears, Nature's own eyewash.

Cosmetics

Mrs. Rose: I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge, light slipstick, and brown eyeshadow cream would blend harmoniously with your coloring.

Long Molded Lines For Evening Gowns

[By Mart Elizabeth Plummer]

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP).—Evening dresses for Fall have an aristocratic air, and make women look as thin as reeds. They are long, molded affairs, mainly in satin, metallic cloth and velvet. Usually the main part of the dress is perfectly plain except for a snug narrow belt at the waist.

Those cascades of last season that ripped down the backs of skirts are gone, and trains too, are vanishing, although many gowns trail slightly in the back.

The gown flares slightly near the foot, and often is slashed several times.

Evening gowns of this type were shown in Nettie Rosenstein's Gold and White Salon. There were several coral and rosy Orange gowns; a stunning red velvet, with a two-tone chiffon velvet which looked like blue over pink.

The decolletage, judged by this collection, is low—a wide, waist-deep triangle in the back. It may be deep and wide in front, fairly high and straight, or a modest V.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

HAMILTON Jockey Club got away to a wonderful start on Saturday. The weather was ideal and the attendance was far above expectations and on Monday things were even better, so no matter how they turn out the balance of the week, they are sure of a successful meeting due to these two large opening day attendances. Old Mr. Gaiety has enjoyed a long rest and should come back during the present meeting. He has shown fine form in his recent workouts. The McLaughlin stable are sure to win a heat with Bud Royal, a two-year-old who finished second on opening day. Circulet is also in rare fettle and will have no trouble in a Canadian bred sprint.

The new track at Providence is just knocking them dizzy. Even with their large, commodious plant they are having difficulty trying to take care of the numerous customers. Rube Marquard the old New York Giant, left hand pitcher is one of the head men in the mutuel plant. He has organized a ball club from the mutuel employees and has challenged the jockeys to a game some evening. He says he will attend to the pitching duties himself. Bylona won here the other day but the price was very short so they will step her up in company and get a far better pay off as she is at the top of her form right now. MacAdam is a fast trick and will be a winner at this place before many moons.

THEY ARE still talking of running another meeting at Fort Erie, utilizing the Devonshire charter which was inactive this year. We don't think the government would stand for this as the law clearly states that fourteen days of racing during any one year is all for any track and as Fort Erie already have had fourteen days on their own charter we don't see how they can get around it. However the lawyers may find some way to allow it to take place and if they do it will prove a great boon to the horsemen. There are still a number of horses training at Fort Erie so it looks as if they have hopes of the plan materializing.

The Saratoga meeting is going along in fine style. The annual yearling sales will soon be on and Harry Giddings will most likely persuade R. S. McLaughlin to get the cheque book out and purchase a few good ones like he did one year ago. Some of the finest thoroughbreds in America have been purchased at these sales.

Before a holiday crowd of twelve hundred fans in Riverside Park yesterday, the Petes shut out Kingston, 5 to 0, to move up to a game behind the league-leading Belleville team. It was a snappy fixture, with Archie Deyell hurling four-hit ball, and his teammates giving him fine support at bat and afield.

The Ponies were never in the picture, though there was always the possibility of a Kingston rally to keep the fans excited. Deyell never allowed two hits to a frame, and not a man reached third. He only fanned two, while walking three, but had the visitors grounding out or popping up regularly. He also hit in two runs and had six chances in the field.

Yammy Jamieson was not as effective as usual, allowing ten hits while fanning three and walking one. His support was good. The Petes bunched hits in three frames and played smart baseball to garner their runs, whereas Deyell and his comrades bore down hard whenever the Ponies got a runner or two on the paths.

Ike Batten had a perfect day at bat with a triple and three singles in four appearances. Hollingsworth and Ash hit safely twice each. None of the Ponies got more than one bingle, Joyce clouting a double. Boyd, Smith, Quinn and Stone went good for the losers defensively, while Ash starred with nineteen chances for the Petes. Batten and Murray also played a good game in the field, and Konopka robbed Kingston of several hits but his sore arm accounted for two bad throws.

Foley got on a fielder's choice in the first, went to third on Murray's hit and home on an error. The Petes got another in the third on Batten's triple and an out. Two counted in the fourth. Ash singled and went to third as Whatley was safe on an error. Cy stole and both scored on Deyell's single. The last run came in the seventh, Hollingsworth singling, being sacrificed and tallying on Batten's bingle.

Four Empire Swim Titles Come to Canada

He Flies Through the Air With the Greatest of Ease

The difference between English athletes and those from the United States seems to be clearly shown in this picture. Long has it been said that the English athlete enjoyed the games, win or lose, the American only if he can win. Of course, Jack Lovelock, Oxford's famous miler, is winning from Bill Bonthron of Princeton at the games in England. But note the happy expression on Lovelock's face as he flies through the air with the greatest of ease whereas Bonthron, while he too flies, finds it not so easy. Oxford and Cambridge defeated the Americans in the meet.

ALBANY SENATORS THREATEN LEAFS' HOLD ON THIRD RUNG

Trounce Boonemen in Both Ends of Double-header on Latter's Grounds.

BEARS BOOST LEAD.

(By the Associated Press)

Wherever they may wind up in the final standing, Albany Senators definitely have clinched their right to be known as the surprise club of the International League.

Picked for a berth somewhere deep in the second division, the Senators have played far beyond normal expectations almost from the start of the season. They ousted Montreal Royals from fourth place more than a month ago and now are threatening Toronto's grip on the third rung.

They trounced Toronto in both ends of a double bill yesterday and now trail the Leafs by only four games, most of it in the winning side of the ledger. Ed Chapman's seven-hit hurling, backed by his mates' 12-hit drive on Fred Blake gave the Senators an easy 8-2 victory in yesterday's opener but they had to fight hard to win the second contest, 2-1, although Walter Beck allowed only two hits. Joe Mowry's double in the seventh and last frame sent Beck home with the winning run.

Bears Boost Lead

Newark edged out Buffalo Bisons, 6-5, to boost its lead over idle Rochester Red Wings, second-place holders, to 5½ games. As the scoring was concentrated in the third, fourth and fifth innings and the Bears' gained the edge with a three-run splurge in the third. Olson and Carnegie clouted homers for the Bisons and Joe Jenn for Newark. Carnegie's round-tripper was his 18th of the season.

Ten hits and 11 passes off four Syracuse hurlers gave Montreal Royals an 11-7 triumph and enabled them to regain possession of fifth place after having it for a day with Buffalo. Billy Rhiel cracked out a triple and come run, driving in five runs. "Pete" Bair's three singles set the batting pace for the Chiefs who outhit the winners, 14-10.

APPS RETAINS POLE VAULT CHAMPIONSHIP FOR CANADA

Jim Worrall Takes Second Place in 120-yard High Hurdles Event.

CANUCKS LEAD SWIMS.

(By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer).

WHITE CITY STADIUM, London, August 7.—Canada pulled in behind Old England yesterday in the race for British Empire Games track and field titles, finding strength where it was least expected. It was England's day, but two Dominions, Canada and South Africa, made notable advances.

One of the few championships won by a Canadian at the 1930 Games at Hamilton, Ont., was retained by Sylvanus Apps of McMaster University, Hamilton, who pole-vaulted 12 feet 9 inches to beat off his only serious challenger, Sunny Gilbert, also of Hamilton. Apps scored the Dominion's only victory at White City.

But while British women completely dominated the feminine division, forcing Canada's highly-rated brigade into retreat, male wearers of the Maple Leaf came from virtually nowhere with some sensational performances. Jim Worrall, lanky Montreal hurdler, and Bob Rankine, stubby distance runner from Preston, Ont., played hero roles.

Worrall Surprises

Worrall scored an unexpected place in the 120-yard high hurdles, taking second to England's Don Finlay, who won the event in 15.2 seconds. Art Ravensdale of Hamilton was regarded as Canada's only hope in the short hurdle, but the former Cobourg schoolboy was knocked off his stride when F. H. Viljoan of South Africa fell across his lane in the final and placed fourth.

Except for this accident, Worrall and Ravensdale probably would run two-three behind Finlay, who never was in danger. The Briton hurdled beautifully to earn the title Lord Burghley won for England at the first Empire Games. Worrall finished three yards behind him. Pilbrow of England was third, inches ahead of Ravensdale.

The Canadian contingent had scarcely finished cheering "Long Jim" when Rankine started out to cut down a brilliant field in the six-mile run. The Preston campaigner had placed a good fourth in the three miles Saturday and the longer distance favored Lloyd Longman of Toronto and Roy Oliver of Halifax.

Rankine kept a few yards behind the pace-makers until the last mile, when England's favored trio, A. W. Penny, Jack Holden and A. F. Purse, cut loose with a brand of speed designed to wilt the field. It worked on them all except Rankine. The Canadian had as much sprint in his system as Penny and far more than Purse and Holden.

Empire Pool, Wembley, England, Aug. 7 (C.P. Cable).—Canadian swimmers went on a mad victory spree in Wembley's new $750,000 Empire Pool last night, smashing the water supremacy of England and South Africa damaging blows, and emerging with four titles, more than any other part o fthe Empire held title to at the two-thirds mark.

Topping off victories by Phyllis Dewar of Moose Jaw, Sask., in the women's 100 yards free style final, and 18-year-old Judith Moss of Winnipeg in the spring-board diving, Canadian national relay teams staged a record-breaking onslaught that lifted the Dominion definitely in the lead.

There remains only one more swimming programe, and Canadians performed so creditably in heats yesterday that there was every indication it would be another gala night for the boys and girls from the other side of Atlantic. No Canadian water team ever did so well before in international competition.

Ryan Beats Pirie

A thrilling succession of Canadian triumphs came on the heels of an equally exciting series of eyelash defeats. Noel Ryan, a grim and worried champion from Australian, had put on a rousing come-back to win the men's 500-yard free style final from his youthful challenger from Toronto, Bob Pirie. Ryan was beaten by Pirie in a preliminary heat Saturday.

In the final the famous waterman from the other side of the world saw Pirie slowly and surely cut down a lon g lead Ryan built up in the early stages of the race. It was all the Australian could do to stay in front. But he did it and beat Pirie by a yard and a half in 15 minutes 25.4 seconds, breaking the Empire record Bob set two days ago.

England On Top

LONDON, Aug. 7.—(C.P. Cable.)—With her big forces making a fine showing everywhere, England piled up an impressive point-total on the second day of the British Empire Games yesterday, leading her closest rival, Canada, by a safe margin. The following Canadian Press compilation is based on the 10-5-4-3-2-1 system of scoring:

Total points: England, 262; Canada 163; South Africa, 74; Scotland, 68; Australia, 56; Jamaica, 10; British Guiana, 10; Wales, 8; Northern Ireland, 6; Rhodesia, 7; New Zealand, 4.

YANKS-TIGERS FIGHT TO END

Although New Yorkers Favored to Win Chase After Ding-Dong Schedule.

OPEN DATE MONDAY.

The American League chase still is a ding-dong fight between Mickey Cochrane's sensational Tigers and New York Yankees with the odds favoring the former. Cochrane has been getting great pitching and terrific hitting right along and the club's fighting spirit has been one of the major surprises of the campaign. The Tigers lead the Yankees by one game right now and have no intention of letting this advantage slip through their fingers.

If the Yankees, rated the best club in the league on paper, fail to win the flag as predicted in the Spring forecasts, they can lay the blame squarely upon their own inability to win in the West. No Yankees team in recent years has looked quite so helpless beyond the Alleghanies as has the 1934 outfit from the banks of the Harlem.

After yesterday's open date, both leagues were to resume play to-day. The National League pairings sent St. Louis against Cincinnati in a doubleheader, and Chicago against Pittsburgh, New York against Brooklyn, and Philadelphia against Boston in single games.

In the American League, the Yankees were booked for a twin bill at Washington. The other pairings were Detroit against St. Louis, Cleveland against Chicago, and Boston against Philadelphia.

An information bureau for the free distribution of literature and a directory of private residences where Exhibition visitors can be accommodated has been opened at Yonge and Wellington Sts., Toronto. Courteous attendants will be glad to assist you. Drop in for a rest.

GIANTS FAVORED TO CLINCH TITLE

Even Break in Last 50 Contests Would Give Terry Clan 91 Victories for Year.

HOLD 3 GAME LEAD.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer)

Nobody yet has conceded the National League pennant to Bill Terry's men of destiny, otherwise New York Giants; but neither has any rival arisen to challenge their bid for a berth in the World Series again.

Holding a three-game lead over Chicago Cubs to-day, the Giants had only 50 more games to play, 26 at home and 24 on the road. A set of 16 battles in the West represented the only really gruelling part of the club's remaining program.

An even break in their last 50 contests would give the Terrymen 91 victories, the same total with which they won the flag last season. With Carl Hubbell back in shape and Mel Ott, Terry himself and the whole team hitting well, the Giants are reasonably justified in their belief that they will do much better than that.

The club owes its present exalted position in the standings to a steady, consistent brand of ball that neither the Cubs nor St. Louis Cardinals have been able to match. The Giants' best winning streak of the year has been no more than five victories in succession, but they have hit no extended slumps, either.

SIX-RUN SPLURGE IN SEVENTH GIVES ORPHANS 16 TO 10 WIN

Heffernan, Miller and Cadd Leads Winners at Work With Bat.

EVENS SEMI-FINALS

Nine fighting Orphans came from behind in the last few innings of Saturday night's game at Central and pounded out a 16-10 win over Brintons to even up the series in the semi-final playdowns of the men's softball loop. The Waifs had two big frames the fifth in which they notched six runs to go out in front after trailing up to that time, and the seventh wherein they scored six more to make the verdict certain.

Shine started for the winners but failed to show his usual stuff on the ball and was replaced by Heffernan, who was not much better, and Shine was again forced to go to the mound but this time, after his mates had given him a lead, he pitched splendid ball to hold his opposition well in check for the remainder of the contest and earn himself a victory. Currie, for the losers, had an off-night, the Orphans taking kindly to his offerings and hitting them to all corners of the field, while H. Dormer, who replaced him, fared little better.

Heffernan connected for three hits out of five times at bat while Miller and Cadd each had home runs to account for a majority of the runs scored by Orphans, Williamson and Playford were the most prominent of the Carpetmen with the stick, between them collecting 4 of their team's twelve hits.

The fielding by Orphans in the early part of the game was decidedly off-color but they managed to tighten up the latter part of the contest and protect their lead. The southenders displayed nice fielding, grabbing off the only double play of the game in the second inning, the play going from G. Dormer-to-Newson-to-Smith. Pat Calladine dropped several throws in the last frame that accounted for many of the Harrison gang's runs.

FLOCK OF ERRORS

With Bill Calladine hurling two-hit ball and his teammates hitting Lefty Dorey hard, the Petes beat Napanee, 11-2, in an exhibition game in Napanee Saturday. Car trouble held the locals up and the game was over an hour and a half late. A good crowd stayed for it. The Gibbard crew had a flock of errors that figured in the scoring while the Petes played snappy ball back of Calladine till the ninth. The homesters did not get a single off Calladine till the eighth when Blazetich homered under the scoreboard. Dunn scratched a hit in the ninth.

BACHELORS ARE 191-49 WINNERS

Benedicts Are Easy Victims in Local Exhibition Cricket Match.

Owing to the defection of the Toronto Cricket Club the local club were left without a fixture and a match was fixed between those time-honored contestants, Married vs. Single and the Bachelors put it over the Benedicts in fine style, the final score being, Married 49, Single 191. Married batted first and except Smith (13) made a feeble resistance. In the field there was smart work by Wedlock and a splendid running catch in the long field by Dinesen. Colbran and Grimshaw opened for the Bachelors and upon Colbran's departure at 16, Archie Hamilton joined Grimshaw and played splendid cricket. The Married's total was soon passed and the total reached 94 before Grimshaw was out, but Hamilton went on batting freely till with the total at 171 he was bowled out by Dyer for 97, being very unfortunate in not reaching the coveted 'century.' He was batting for 1 hour and 30 mins. and hit 4 sixes and 10 fours, punishing Worral to the extent of 22 in one over. Grimshaw also played a sound innings of 31, and it is unfortunate that this young all-round player is said not to be qualified for the county match.

Hamilton's is the highest score made at the Oval for many a year. Perhaps some old timers may recall a higher one.

Lots doing in sports over the holiday weekend, as a glance through tonight's paper will show. In men's softball, Orphans went to town and evened their semi-final playoff series with Brintons by a strong finish to win out 16-10. Currie, H. Dormer and then Currie again were used by the battling Brintons to try to stem the tide but 'twas no go; while the Waifs worked Shine, Heffernan and Shine again in an effort to pull the fat out of the fire—which they did. The final game will be tonight at six in Central, winner meeting Johnston's Tires Thursday night in the first of the final five-game series.

Over at Riverside Saturday, Herb Ralph's juvenile Terriers cleaned up on C.G.E. intermediates, 14 to 5, both Left Billingsley (of Cogs) and McGillen twirling for the losers. They booted the ball around much worse than the kids, who hit hard, fielded well and received pretty fair pitching. Terriers go to Oshawa this evening for the first game of the O.B.A.A. playdowns. We haven't heard when the return affair will be. A third game, if necessary, will be staged on neutral grounds.

Max Cotton—last year's singles tennis champion of Peterborough—retained his title Saturday by beating Walter Jackson in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2 and 6-4. Cotton was at top form and proved too much for the gallant veteran. He flashed an amazing turn of speed, used his long reach to advantage and wore Jackson down with fine placements. The breaks went against Walter to some extent, that stiff wind not doing his lobbing game a bit of good. In junior men's singles, thirteen-year-old H. Cutting turned in a fine display to defeat R. White, 3-6, 6-3 and 6-3.

The Petes kept right on Belleville's heels in the hot old O.O.B.L. race by blanking Kingston, 5-0, here before a fine holiday crowd yesterday. Depell was going great guns and handed out a stingy four hits, while his pals hit Jamieson hard and dished up some dandy defensive play. Ike Batten was the wagon-tongue hero with a triple and three singles in four times up. Now, maybe Ike will quit cracking: "We don't have the times we used to have, eh, boys?" Fred Ash turned in one of his spectacular games at first, besides getting two hits. The rest of the squad also went good. In fact, it was a doggone nice, snappy tilt to watch—and the first home win since we licked Oshawa here July 11th! This week and next should about tell the tale of the playoff teams, the schedule ending Sept. 3rd.

Saturday in Napanee, Bill Calladine pitched two-hit ball to give the Petes an 11-2 win in an exhibition tilt. He was not nicked for a safety till Blazetich homered in the eight. Another hit came in the ninth. Meantime, the Petes played grand ball and walloped Dorey hard to make it a tough day for a good crowd of rooters. They had waited nearly two hours, as the Petes had car trouble and were quite late. The Lee gang stepped in there without a warmup and proceeded to treat Mister Gibbard's hopefuls like just another intermediate team. The Gibbardmen didn't help their own cause any either, kicking the spalding all over the place.

King Edward knocked off St. Peter's, 20 to 10, Saturday in the first bantam baseball playoff game— and a pretty sloppy affair it turned out to be. The pitching wasn't so hot and the fielding was decidedly cold, especially by the losers. They play again tomorrow eve at 5.45 in Riverside Park, and a third game if necessary next Saturday. There will be no junior O.B.A.A. team here this summer, although Peterborough is eligible to enter one. At the first practise called recently, only a few turned out and, as the time is too short to mess around now, the loop executive decided to let this section slide.

Nineteen teams took part in the annual Bridgenorth Softball Tournament Monday, a good entry. There was a big crowd on hand and some smart games dished up. None of the senior men's teams from here entered on account of their own league playoffs. Omemee copped the senior event, Bridgenorth took the intermediate and junior, and Sixth Line won out over the gals' section. Quite a few local players participated. Those in charge certainly put this affair over successfully from year to year.

Three regattas were run off in a big way around the district over the week-end, some keen competition marking all three despite the choppy courses. And they drew large crowds of lovers of these aquatic affairs. They were the Crowe's Landing, Stoney Lake and Kawartha Park regattas. The children's one at Juniper Island Saturday was postponed, but will be run off in the near future. Accounts of all three appear elsewhere in The Examiner tonight.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Terrier Juveniles Take 14-5 Triumph

Terrier juveniles were too much for the C.G.E. team of the E.P.I. taking them into camp Saturday afternoon at Riverside by a score of 14-5. Anderson pitched nice ball for Terriers during the 7 innings he worked and McIlmoyle, who relieved him, also looked well but Billingsley and McGillen, who did the elbowing for the Electrics were pounded hard by the heavy hitting younger crew.

Thorburn and Kingdon with three hits apiece led Herb Ralph's outfit at bat while Corbett for the losers collected himself three safe bingles. The fielding by the C.G.E. gang was very bady, nine errors being charged against them, this being one of the main reasons that caused their defeat. On the other hand the juveniles fielded rather well having three misplays, which were not of the costly variety, but reeling off the only twin-killing of the contest, the play going from Kingdon-to-A. Clark-to-Thornburn to retire the side in the eighth inning.

The teams:

C.G.E.: Weir, 1b; Hatton, c; Hiller, ss, 2b; Billingsley, p, rf, p; Busby, lf; McGillen, rf, p, rf; Barry, cf; Saunders, 2b, ss; Corbett, 3b.

Terriers: G. Clark, lf; Kingdon, 2b; A. Clark, ss; Thornburn, 1b;

Western Finalists Tie Soccer Series

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7 (C.P.)—Fortified by a return to form that gave them an even break in their three-game series here Prince Albert City Reds, far western titleholders, sought rest to-day in preparation for the fourth game with United Weston, Manitoba champions, for the western Canada soccer championship.

A drilling attack gave the Red Shirts a 3-2 victory in the third game here last night. Three goals in rapid succession in the last 15 minutes of the first half gave the northerners a sufficient margin to pass them into the fourth game. Weston won the first game 2-1. The second resulted in a scoreless tie.

Handicapped by an injury to Allan Hodgert, their starry little centre-forward, Weston went down gamely for the win that would have given them the western title.

COTTON HOLDS SINGLES TITLE

1933 Champion Defeats Walter Jackson in Straight Sets 6-4, 6-2 and 6-4.

PLAYS BRILLIANT GAME

Max Cotton defeated Walter Jackson Saturday in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2 and 6-4, to retain his city singles tennis championship for another year Cotton, playing at the peak of his form, was brilliant both in hard drives from the baseline and almost faultless net play. Jackson also played a hard-hitting game, placing his drives deep in the corners and coming to the net for pretty placements down the sidelines. However, Cotton's uncanny reach and dazzling speed spelled defeat for the veteran who fought stubbornly, going down to defeat only after a hard fight. On the play, he deserved at least one set but the breaks went against him and the strong wind played havoc with his lobs.

Cotton took the first four games with terrific drives and placements on Jackson's lobs. The veteran steadied down and dominated play then to win four of the next five games, but Cotton held in service in the tenth to win, 6-4. The younger player again took a 4-0 lead in the second and then games followed service with Cotton winning, 6-2. Jackson could not cope with his younger opponent's all-around play at this time. Max took the first two games in the third set with the next four following service. In the seventh, he broke through again and Jackson rallied valiantly to take Cotton's service and hold his own. The champion put on the pressure at this point and held his service to win the set and match.

Defeat Kirkwood Brothers

J. Donaldson and J. Bell upset the Kirkwood brothers in doubles to win, 4-6, 6-4 and 6-2. J. Kirkwood's frequent errors turned the tide in favor of Donaldson and Bell who played a steady game despite the high wind. Mr. and Mrs. Langley defeated Miss B. Scott and G. C. Scott, 7—5, 3—6 and 6—3. In junior men's singles, H. Cutting, aged thirteen, played a hard-hitting placing game to defeat R. White, 3—6, 6—3 and 6—3.

SILVER SLIPPERS By Temple Bailey

READ THIS FIRST:

Joan Dudley, vacationing in the Maine woods with her wealthy aunt, Adelaide Delafield, is engaged to marry Drew Hallam who is twice her age. Leaving the resort run by Penelope Sears, a widow, Joan and her aunt, Hallam and his sister, Nancy, decide to go to Granitehead. On the way they meet Rose Carter, a former sweetheart of Drew, and her mother, who decide to accompany them. At Granitehead there is a bookshop owned by Giles Armiger, below which is a shoemaker's shop run by Stephen Scripps. They has become fast friends in France. As a result of his war experience, Scripps was obliged to turn from law to a trade and his friend, Giles, remained close by. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

Having doffed his slicker, Giles proceeded to set the shop in order. He worked swiftly and competently, and as he moved about, he gave an impression of strength and vigor exceeding any demands made upon it. One felt he should be now, as he had been in France, in command of men, rather than selling books over a counter. He had a well-knit, slender frame, small hips, broad shoulders. His features were clear-cut, his eyes keen and brown. His small mustache was darker than his hair which was ruffled up on his head and of a reddish-brown.

As he worked, he whistled under his breath. He felt an unusual lightness of spirit. There were days when he was deeply depressed. Days when it was difficult to preserve a cheerful front before Scripps. Which must be done, of course, lest Scripps descend into the depths.

His whistling ceased as a customer entered. He went forward to find a girl in a green raincoat. A small green hat was pulled down over her eyes. She had left outside a dripping umbrella.

"Are you the shoemaker?"

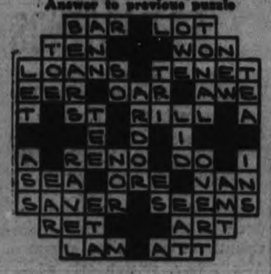
"No. But I look after customers."

She handed him a parcel, "I want my slippers mended."

He took off the paper. Silver ones! Small and exquisite. "What's to be done to them?"

She showed him. "I caught the heel.

Answer to previous puzzle



I was dancing in the woods."

Dancing in the woods . . . and she was all in green . . .

He said before he could stop: "You're not a dryad?"

She drew back a little, her eyes startled. "I don't know what you mean."

He laughed, "I'm sorry. Perhaps I shouldn't have said that. But dancing in the woods! Not many people do."

Her voice was cold. "How silly I must have sounded."

"You sounded—superlative."

She hesitated for a second, then found herself smiling. He seemed a gentleman. And his manner was not in the least presumptuous. "It was a heavenly dance," she confided.

"I am sure of it."

"Moonlight," she vouchsafed further.

"And for a partner—a faun . . ."

Another moment's hesitation, then with a thrill in her voice, "And for a partner—Apollo ——"

Oh, could anything be better? To have her meet his thought like that. And who could have expected this out from the boardwalk on a rainy morning? He said with eagerness, "Your silver shoes will shine among Scripps' seaman's boots and slattern's slippers."

"Scripps?"

"My friend, the cobbler. His shop is downstairs."

"Oh . . . will you tell him then that there's a torn place on the other shoe? And may I have them by Tuesday night? There's a dance on then and I'll need them."

She would, she continued, call for them. She was at the Wind and Wave and would like the walk. And when she had said that, she glanced around the shop and decided: "While I am here I might as well buy a book."

She wandered over to the tables and began to read the titles, and it seemed to Giles watching her as if every time she moved a light followed her, like the light in the theater thrown on the leading lady. He found himself saying things over in his mind, like: "She walks in beauty."

The girl held up a popular novel. "How about this?"

He shook his head. "No . . . It's not a book for dryads—it is for satyrs and people with machine minds."

"How do you know I haven't a machine mind?"

"One can judge of these things quickly."

"But you've seen me only once."

"I've seen you twice."

She looked at him in astonishment, "When was the other time?"

"Yesterday in the storm. You were on the rocks near Gloucester."

"Were you the man in the boat?"

"Yes."

They stood silent for a moment. Each felt, perhaps subconsciously, the significance of this meeting. Then Giles spoke: "You have no idea how amazing you were against that black sky. With your white cape blowing, and the sea surging up below you. When I was a little boy I had a picture of an angel on a rock. I always liked to look at it." His eyes as they met hers held a glint of laughter in them which robbed his words of any suggestion of sentimentality.

She smiled back. "Angels on rocks make me think of tombstones."

"Do they? They make me think of Revelation."

They talked of the storm after that, and she told him of her flight through the wood and her fears. Then he chose a book for her and wrapped it up. "Before you go, won't you let me show you one or two things you'll like? I have a copy of a letter from Keats to Fanny Brawne. My grandfather made the copy himself from the original, and I was lucky enough to have it left to me. I wouldn't sell it for a fortune, but now and then I let somebody look at it."

He drew out a chair for her, then brought the letter. While she read it, he stood leaning against the table. It was the one beginning, "My sweet girl," and ending, "Ever yours, my love." Joan bending above it read with breathless interest. Giles thought her very pretty, with the deep rose of her cheeks, the length of her dark lashes, the brightness of her hair as it showed beneath her green cap.

When she raised her eyes there was a light in them like the glow and shine of candles in a sanctuary. With keen intuition Giles told himself, "She is linking some experience of her own with that letter."

The thought weighed on him. He had been, perhaps, a fool not to let her go at once when she had bought her book. He knew that when she left, he would still seeher sitting there with her lighted eyes in his dark shop. He would dream of her. And who was he to dream of such a woman?

She was saying, "I adore Keats. My father was the editor of a country newspaper and his only really valuable possession was a library of old books. He made me learn pages of poetry. When I began to teach school I found it a great help with the children to pass on to them what I had learned."

So she was a school teacher! He had not thought that. It did not fit in with the expensiveness of the silver slippers and the fact of her sojourn at the big hotel. Yet even country mice have now and then a holiday. And he was glad to know her as not one of the rich barbarians whom he hated.

"These were left to be mended."

Scripps reached out a hand for them and looked inside. "Fifth avenue shop and old French buckles. Who brought them?"

"The girl I saw on the rocks."

"You don't mean it."

"I do. It's a bit queer a thing like that—two meetings in two days."

Scripps, examining the heel, asked, "How did she do it?"

"She was dancing in the woods. She caught the heel in a root."

After that the little shoes were set on a shelf, where, shining amid the clumsy footwear they seemed to draw light to themselves and to illumine the dreary day.

"So you've seen her again?" Scripps said, as he returned to his bench. "What do you think of her?"

"I'd hate to say."

"Why?"

"You'd tell me my language was extravagant; that I was a darned poet, or words to that effect. That I was seeing rose-color when I ought to see drab."

"Is it as bad as that?"

"Worse . . ." Giles was smiling. Scripps was not sure he was in earnest. He didn't want him to be in earnest. Not Giles . . . who mustn't fall in love with anybody.

But there was no time to say more about it, for the door opened and a young woman entered.

"Dilly," the two men said in a breath, and Giles went with both hands outstretched to meet her. "You were a darling to come."

"Oh, well, your birthday, my dear." She set a basket on the table and uncovered it. From it she took a parcel wrapped in a napkin, and a great cake set on a pink plate and protected by waxed paper.

"There," she said, "what do you think of it?" She whisked the paper from about the cake and showed it, snowy with coconut and circled with tiny pink tapers. "Thirty-three of them, Giles," she indicated the candles, "it doesn't seem possible . . ."

"Eight years older than you, Dilly," her cousin reminded her.

She nodded and smiled at him . . . "Thirteen when I was five. What glorious times we had together."

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, August 7th

While there may be great liveliness and excitement on this day, judging by the lunar operations, yet these are not without their adverse aspects. There is sign of tumult, impetuous and even tempestuous conduct having its reaction on the business as well as the personal life. In the latter the intrusion of this hectic proclivity may result in a regrettable or unfortunate entanglement between the sexes. In business rash and impulsive judgments may cause loss in speculation or extravagance. Beware private indulgences and squandering of funds.

Those whose birthday it is are on the verge of a year in which rash, impulsive and turbulent actions may precipitate many disagreeable and regrettable occurrences, both in private and business affairs. In the former, speculation, gambling and squandering, and in private affiliations extravagance, excesses or romantic entanglements may menace the standing and personal comfort.

A child born on this day may be disposed to be indulgent, extravagant, showy and impulsive, although talented and popular. It should succeed in employment.

For Wednesday, August, 8

The conspicuous place of Mercury in conjunction with Luna, justifies the forecast of a particularly lively and interesting day, with affairs progressing at an extremely gratifying pace. This aspect signifies also good news as well as much activity for the young. Be alert to petty deceptions or minor secret animosities'

If it is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of much activity and liveliness, especially in those matters involved with writings, study, publishing, promotions, with commercial angles of these thriving. Believe Foul Play In Leswick's Death

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7. (CP). — Authorities pressed investigation to-day into the mysterious circumstances surrounding the disappearance of Jack Leswick, 24-year-old Saskatoon member of the Chicago Black Hawks, hockey team, and the subsequent recovery of his body from the waters of the Assiniboine river.

Positive identification of the body as that of Leswick was made last night by friends at about the time police announced they were investigating the possibility that the young hockey player had been the victim of foul play at the hands of holdup men.

The holdup theory was strengthened by the fact that valuables, known to have been carried by the youth, were missing from the body.

Leswick had been missing five days when his body was dragged from the muddy Assiniboine Saturday.

"George Blake",
Secretary.

NEW BANDSTAND COBOURG OPENED

Between 3,00 and 4,000 People Attend Opening Ceremonies.

SPLENDID PROGRAM.

The official opening of Cobourg's new shell bandstand, Sunday night, attracted an audience roughly estimated at three or four thousand, quite a number of whom were from Peterborough.

Major McKinnon, chairman of the special committee which undertook the building of the new stand, which is obviously one of the finest in Canada, formally presented it to Mayor John Delanty, who offficially declared it open, and on behalf of the citizens thanked the committee, for their efficient management of the enterprise.

The Kilties Band, under the direction of Joseph Goldring delighted the big crowd with a splendid program the highlight of which was the selections from "Faust." The Kilties are a credit to the comparatively small comunity of Cobourg. Their tone is excellent, but they lack numbers and strength in their reed section. Special mention should be made of their soloists in the "Faust" number, Edward Cowan and Edward Laycock, cornetists, and Fred Hempstead and Eward Hazel, two competent euphonium players.

Mr. Hazel was eight years with Charles Shaw's famous Huntsville Band, and is one of the outstanding musicians of the Kilties.

The program included a group of vocal solos, the feature of which was Mrs. Lettice Bingham's singing of her recent composition, "The Hills of Old Northumberland," dedicated to the Cobourg Kilties. It is a graceful, melodious and fluent number, was effectively sung by Mrs. Bingham, and was warmly encored.

Mrs. Leslie Groombridge of Peterborough, the first lady to sing from the new stand last Thursday night, was heard again in two solos, "Until" and "The Pipes of Pan," repeating the very favorable impression of last week.

Highlights From White City Stadium

London, Eng.—Canada had many British Empire Games track and field heroes to-day —Scotty Rankine of Preston, Sylvanus Apps and Sunny Gilbert of Hamilton. But there was only one heroine—and it was the woman who paid.

When Hilda Strike dug her spikes into White City's cinders late in the afternoon to make up a big deficit on the last peg of the 440-yard relay, she tried too hard. Hilda pulled a leg muscle in that drive down the stretch and probably will be unable to compete in the women's world games here Thursday and Saturday. The pretty little Olympian had taken second in the Empire 100 yards final and apparently was fast returning to peak form. She was conceded a real chance of beating Stella Walsh of Poland who barely defeated Hilda in the last Olympics, this week.

The other heroines of the day were swimmers and divers. Here was Phyllis Dear, the Moose Jaw, Sask., girl who won the women's 100 yards free style title in a terrific finish with Irene Pirie of Toronto.

"I am just so tickled to death I don't know what to say," gasped Phyllis to a Canadian Press reporter after the race, which was too close to be comfortable. "I just swam that's all."

And was pretty, dark-haired Judith Moss pleased. The Winnipeg girl came to the Games on the strength of private subscriptions after the Canadian committee had decided against her. She was entered in the springboard diving against the wishes of some officials who thought 18-year-old Lynda Adams of Vancouver had a better chance. But Judith was on the spot and she went into action. The Manitoba beauty won decisively from Lesley Thompson of Australia. And the other Canadians came behind, Doris Ogilvie of Toronto third and Margaret Stoneburg of Toronto sixth.

"Gee, I'm too proud to even talk," said Judith. "How did I do it? Just luck, I guess."

ANOTHER HIGHLY elated young lady was Florence Humble of Montreal who swam the second leg on the victorious women's relay team.

"I was very pleased with my own work," she said, "but it was teamwork that won. It makes me feel good to know I increased the lead of a few yards."

TORONTO'S most famous swimming pair, Irene and Bob Pirie, figured in the relay victories, but they had little individual luck. Irene lost by inches to Phyllis Dewar in the 100 yards final and Bob was beaten by a yard and a half by Noel Ryan of Australia in the 1,500 yards final.

PHYLLIS HASLEM of Saskatoon was up against the toughest opposition of any Canadian when she faced Claire Dennis of Australia in the 200 yards breast stroke. Miss Dennis holds the Olympic championship. The Australian had to set a new world's record of 2 minutes, 51 seconds to beat Phyllis by three yards.

THE POPULAR RANKINE, regarded by British critics as one of the best distance runners in the world on his showing here, was nothing more than pleased to finish second in the six miles.

"I didn't really think I had a chance until the last mile," said Bobby. "But I felt great then and I am tickled to death to have done my best running in the games.

THE UNSUNG HEROES of the 1932 Olympic Games were both Canadian runners, Alex Wilson and Phil Edwards. They forced others to world's record, broke records themselves and failed to win an event.

Edwards isn't in that category to-day. The tall British Guianan, running for his own country, won the 880 yards final to-day to the immense satisfaction of the Canadian contingent. There was no more pleasing result.

"OUR FINEST efforts of the day were Worrall's hurdling and Rankine's running," thought M. M. Robinson, manager of the Canadian team. Ray Lewis proved most disappointing in the quarter-mile but Canada is hopeful Eileen Meagher will win the 220 yards final."

Bethany

The members of the W.A. of the United Church motored to Fleetwood on Wednesday afternoon, and along with Yelverton branch, gave the program at the afternoon session. At the conclusion of the meeting the guests, numbering fifty-seven, sat down to a most sumptuous repast, which had been prepared by the Fleetwood branch.

A field day, sponsored by the Athletic Association, was held at the grounds on Thursday afternoon. Owing to very inclement weather which prevailed until late afternoon, the assemblage was not as large as usual, but well contested games of baseball were run off. The visiting teams came from Elizabethville, Millbrook and Garden Hill, Elizabethville winning from the local team and Bethany from Millbrook.

A dance was held in the Town Hall. Music provided by a local orchestra.

Mrs. S. Jamison received word of the critical illness of her little grandson, Gerald Jamison, of Port Perry, who had to undergo an operation for appendix trouble.

Mrs. Kenneth Thorndyke will be at home to her friends and neighbors on Wednesday afternoon from two until six o'clock at her home on Wilson street in reception for the first time since her marriage.

..It's the little things that count in golf. A small pebble jogging the club as it goes back from the ball or a bit of paper on the ground near the ball to take your eye can spoil the shot.

Most players pass over such things little realising that they prevent the concentration needed for a successful shot.

One of these items commonly overlooked is looking right into the sun just before playing a shot. The sun blinds you and keeps you from seeing the ball properly during your regular swing.

When you have to play a shot into the sun it's best to get your line before having to look into the sun.

Keep your eyes, after that, pretty much on the ground until after you've hit the ball.

FOUR HUNDRED IN ATTENDANCE AT COMBINED CHURCH OUTING

Congregations of Millbrook and Centreville Churches Meet at Orono.

GOOD SPORTS PROGRAM

MILLBROOK, Aug. 7. (Examiner Correspondence).—Four hundred or more were in attendance at the union picnic of the Millbrook and Centreville Presbyterian and the United Church Sunday Schools held at the new Memorial Park, Orono, on Thursday, these grounds, acquired only last year by the central village of Durham county, proving peculiarly appropriate for the gathering.

Swings and slides for the children, a large swimming-pool that was constantly patronized during the picnic hours, conveniently located tables for the service at the tea hour, rustic bridges over the stream and seats here and there throughout the grounds, with plenty of space set apart for the athletic events, make up some of the attractions of this new park. Evidently the initial visit to Orono's community amusement grounds stirred up a decided desire in the hearts of Millbrook residents to agitate for a similar park here, the need of a public swimming pool and tennis courts, being particularly felt for the good of the young people of the village and immediate countryside.

A visit to the Ontario Forestry Station, immediately adjacent to the Memorial Park, was one of the highlights of Thursday's outing, guests from the picnic party being continuously seen throughout the beautifully-kept grounds during the afternoon and early evening. Two hundred and eighty acres are included in the Forestry Station and at present fifty men are employed, and according to the head gardener approximately one million and a half young trees have been shipped out so far this season. Flowers, in infinite variety, and in full bloom, are everywhere in evidence in the artistically-arranged beds, and the English garden, with its wonderful hedges and roses, and its lily pool and gold fish, proved a point of peculiar interest.

Ball games between old and young, bachelors and married men, with swimming in the pool, social converse and strolling about the grounds, filled the time happily until the supper hour when all were seated in rows on the greensward, teachers and officers of the three schools being responsible for the service of the many hungry guests. The Durham Regimental Band, under Lieutenant W. Tamblyn, arrived during the tea hour and were given a glad hand of welcome; when they too had been given asubstantial meal, with F. W. Bowen, M.P. for Durham, also having a place at their table, a musical program was supplied that added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

Good Sports Program

The sports' program, under W. F. Fallis, J. H. McKnight, Archie Deyell, Stewart McGill, L. W. Smith, B. B. Dawson and other helpers, was run off after the picnic tea had been fully enjoyed, each school following the practice of having its races separately and of giving big nickels as prizes, the recipients patronizing the nearby booth for ice-cream cones, soft drinks, etc., as the outcome. The prize winners were:

WARSAW W.M.S.

Girls Take Part in Program, Miss Iris Darling Conducting the Lesson.

WARSAW, Aug. 7.— (Examiner Correspondence.) — The United church W.M.S. met in the S. S. room on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. G. G. Taylor resided in the absence of Mrs. Wilkinson.

Mrs. Anderson, leader of Group B, took charge. Mrs. Brethour read 'Somebody'; Marjorie and Marion Foster kindly sang in their sweet childish voices, 'Do No Sinful Action'; Miss Iris Darling took the lesson from the study book, 'Training the Sharers.' These two numbers were a special feature of the gathering as it is only during vacation time that children can attend, or a young girl be present to give the study for the day. Mrs. David Miller read Dr. Robert's article on the Ten Commandments today.

Next meeting will be in charge of C group and the quarterly tea will be held.

At the Institute meeting on Thursday, Aug. 9, Mrs. Arthur Payne will give the report of the district annual held at Hall's Bridge.

Among those who went to Toronto over the week-end were Mr. Vivian Jackson, ex-service man, who went to attend the celebrations, Mrs. W. S. Anderson and Mrs. David Miller. David Miller, ex-service man, was at the last minute, prevented from going.

Best Dressed Equestrian

GRACE HANNEFORD

Grace Hanneford, one of the shining stars of the famous Hanneford family of bare-back riders, is said to be the best dressed equestrian in all spangleland. Her costumes are the envy of her feminine admirers wherever she goes, in fact, the costuming, for the women in the act, is said to have cost a small fortune.

There are three female members in the troupe, Grace, pictured above the wife of "Poodles," world famous riding clown; Elizabeth, Jr., and and Mrs. Elizabeth the mother and "Poodles" and their ring clothes which are all original creations, and made from the best of fabrics, denote the very latest in ring attire.

The famous Hanneford family, with "Poddles" Hanneford dean of riding clowns, head the list of many noted equestrian acts with the Great Al G. Barnes Circus, coming to Peterborough To-morrow for performances at 2 and 8 p.m. The doors to the immense menagerie will open at 1 and 7 p.m.

THROUGH LOCAL EFFORTS

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 7.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Many trout streams in this district will be restocked with fry and applications have been approved for several others, B. K. Williams, deputy game warden, of Warkworth, has informed the press. Of those for which applications have recently received the approval of the Government through the medium of the local member, H. N. Carr, M.L.A., of Campbellford, are O'Grady's Creek, Vallieau's Creek, Indian Creek (Roseneath) and Beaman's Creek.

Several small streams have already been restocked and many more will shortly receive the attention of the Department of Game and Fisheries. This was made possible through the efforts of Mr. Williams and R. B. Dawson, Castleton; Col. John Odell, Cobourg; H. Aylsworth, M. Davey, Robert Pegman, Fred. Black, John O'Grady, Frank Noble and Charles Quinn.

The number of fry in each of these streams is as follows: Woodiano's Creek, 35,000; Black's Creek, 20,000; Baltimore Creek, 20,000; Dawson's Creek, 20,000; Burnley Creek, 25,000; De Long's Creek, 5,000; Sandy Platt, 20,000, and Duncan's Creek, 7,000, in all a total of 187,000. Streams that are not restocked will be looked after shortly by the department.

Sandy Platt, Quinn's, Beaman's, Black's and Woodlands Creeks are open. Burnley is open except on the premises of William Macklin. Dawson's Creek is open to Lawson's Pond, and Sprague's and Dundas' Pond. De Long's is open except on William Macklin's and Boyes Bros.' properties. O'Grady's Creek is open from the source almost to No. 2 highway. Valleau's is open except on the farm of Percy Moore. SEWING MACHINES FOUND DISCARDED

WARSAW, Aug. 7.— (Examiner Correspondence.) — A young man living near Burnbrae found two old sewing machines in a stone pile near Burnbrae church. The smaller one is not over twelve inches in length, a hand machine, which used a single thread, making chain stitches. The enamel is not badly marred and the gold leaf and floral pattern are quite clear. By long soaking in coal oil and persistent polishing the young man succeeded in getting the machine to work. Even the stitch regulator works. How it came into the stone pile and to whom it once belonged are unknown.

The other is a heavier machine, probably of later make, as it evidently had a shuttle, The needle is larger and longer and is deeply grooved all the way up one side. So far this machine will not work, but the enamel and trimmings are in good condition. The shuttle is gone, but the carrier is there. The movements of the shuttle were controlled by two steel rollers with a bias groove running around each, through which a ball turned as the machine worked; that is, the ball was stationary and the steel rollers ran back and forth with the bias groove making the shuttle carrier move back and forth. It is quite a heavy looking machine. This machine stood on a table and was run by a foot treadle, as there is no handle on the fly wheel and there is a grove for the band.

The finder is quite proud of both machines.

The driver escaped injury, but Edward Freer, also of Toronto, the other occupant of the car, sustained injuries to his left leg and foot, necessitating treatment in the office of Dr. M. Wellman. The car turned completely over as a result of the impact.

Reid and Ayling Hop to Bagdad

Fliers Are Sighted Over Peterboro at 6.01 Averaging 105 m.p.h. for 86 Miles.

NO RADIO ABOARD.

Canadians in Old Mollison Plane Have Gas for 65 Hours, Food for 4 Days.

WASAGA BEACH, Ont., Aug. 8.—(CP)—James Ayling and Leonard Reid guided their plane, "The Trail of the Caribou," into the air from Wasaga Beach at 6.12 a.m. E.D.S.T. this morning and pointed its nose toward Bagdad on what they hoped will be a record-breaking long-distance flight, which includes the dangerous Atlantic hop.

The fliers were sighted over Peterborough in The Trail of the Caribou at 6.01 Standard Time. They were only about 500 feet up and headed due east. The approximate 86 air miles was covered in 49 minutes or at about 105 miles per hour.

LOG OF "THE TRAIL OF THE CARIBOU"

Wednesday, August 8

6.12 a.m.—Takeoff from Wasaga Beach, Ont.

7.01 a.m.—Passed over Peterborough, Ont.

7.56 a.m.—Passed over Kingston, Ont.

9.34 a.m.—Sighted over Terrebonne, Que.

11.05 a.m.—Passed over Quebec City.

11.36 a.m.—Reported over Isle Verte, Que., 610 miles from Wasaga Beach.

The heavily loaded plane made a run of about a mile and a half down the beach before it took off into the east. There was a slight off-shore breeze. The large plane, formerly the "Seafarer," was the one in which Captain James Mollison and his wife, Amy, attempted to take off from the same beach last year on a long distance flight only to crash up because of the weight carried.

The load on the machine this morning was not much greater than that carried last year when the Mollisons failed. It has more power, however, as it had been fitted with new contrivances.

"The Trail of the Caribou" carried 2,750 pounds more than its normal load. There were 600 gallonsof gasoline aboard, a weight of 4,200 pounds, compared to 60 gallons or 420 pounds in a normal load. The total weight, including the men, was 7,350 pounds.

Food for 4 Days.

Sufficient food to last four days by careful eating was packed into the plane. There were sandwiches, pork and beans, roast pork, hard boiled eggs, coffee, orange juice, apples, tomatoes, butter, marmalade and brown bread, prepared by Mrs. Lee Murray.

Lee Murray, manager of the firm that built the plane, and Jack McDonald, official of a flying firm aided the airmen in take-off preparations.

Both aviators are strangers to long distance flying. Reid, 36 years of age and was born in Montreal but lived for several years in Newfoundland where his father was manager of the Government owned railway. He also worked for an aeroplane company in Toronto and also in England. Ayling is 30 years of age and has had a adventurous career, serving for some years with the Royal Air Force at Singapore, Straits Settlement.

Although most trans-oceanic hops in the past have started from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, Reid preferred to come to central Canada to launch his first long-distance journey that will take him across the Atlantic. For months he has

PROWLER PAYS VISIT AT NIGHT TO DIONNE HOME

No Extra Guard Added But Man is Kept on Day Duty, Another Night.

NURSE IS BURNED.

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 8 (CP) —Prowlers are the latest menace to the peace and quiet of the Dionne household, where the quintuplets to-day celebrated their 22nd day of life.

Dr. A. R. Dafoe said to-day a noise was heard outside the Dionne farm home Monday night, but upon investigation the prowler was not found.

Oliver Dionne, grandfather of the quintuplets, expressed uneasiness, but it is generally believed the "snooper" was trying to gratify his curiosity and not mischief-bent.

No added guard has been placed about the Dionne home, Dr. Dafoe said. There is a man for day duty and another for night, while Grandpa Dionne lends assistance at any time.

Scores of tourists stop outside the Dionne farm gates daily. It was believed the "prowler" may have come from a tourist camp under cover of night and sneaked up to the house in an effort to get a peek at the babies through a window.

NINE VIENNESE POLICE ON TRIAL

Face Gallows for Share in Dollfuss Murder—Seven Married.

NAZI BEING WIPED OUT.

VIENNA, Aug. 8. —(AP)— Nine members of the Vienna police force went on trial for their lives today before a court martial, charged with high treason for participation in a raid on the Chancellery July 25 which resulted in the assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

Seven of the men who may go to the gallows before the day is over are married. One of them is an inspector and two are surgeons.

Fey, who performed yeoman service for the last Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss in the suppression of Socialists last winter, is under orders to wipe out Nazis influence. To achieve this end he is given sweeping powers, including the right to discharge private employees suspected of Nazi sympathies.

Fourth Hanged

The fourth Nazi to die on the gallows since the drive opened a few weeks ago was hanged yesterday. Ernest Feike, a soldier, went to his death for participating in the putsch in which Dollfuss was assassinated.

While Fey plans his drive, the cabinet awaits reaction to its approval of Franz Von Papen as Germany's special envoy to Vienna.

Acceptance of the appointment which was made nearly two weeks ago by Chancellor Hitler, has been hanging fire because of the strained relations between the two countries.

The length of Von Papen's stay, it is generally believed, depends upon the actions of the Hitler government rather than upon what the envoy does here.

His appointment was laid both to Hitler's desire to remove him from the cabinet, in which he was Vice Chancellor, and to assure foreign papers Germany is not meddling in Austrian affairs.

Expense Accounts of Ontario Air Service Basis of Inquiry.

MAXWELL ABSENT.

Witnesses Signed Expense Accounts at Request of Director.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 8. (CP)—Expense accounts and used aeroplanes figured in the resumed inquiry to-day into the Ontario Air Service. The inquiry is under the chairmanship of D. W. Lang, K.C.

J. W. Hyde, plant superintendent of the service at Sault, and W. J. Hill, assistant superintendent, testified they had signed expense accounts at the request of Captain W. R. Maxwell, Director of Air Services, for trips to Western stations. These accounts were each for more than $70, although expenses of Hill and Hyde, they testified, were from $30 to $40.

A trip by Hill and Captain Maxwell to Chicago at another time was handled the same way, Hill testified.

Hill in his testimony said Captain Maxwell spent a large part of last year in Toronto "negotiating for another job" and this evidence prompted D. C. Coaffey, counsel for the commission, to inquire if "the director was away negotiating for another job during the season of fire hazard?" Hyde's reply was "Yes."

Hyde testified that seven new and seven with a year and half service of the "H.S. M." type were taken over from the Laurentide Air service when the Ontario Service was formed. A letter by Mr. Coaffey, stipulating the machines would cost $5,500 each and had not previously been flown, was "news" to him, Hyde said.

SILVER SHIRTS SAID DRILLING

Band on Pacific Coast Reported to Have Supply of Stolen Arms.

ENEMIES OF REDS.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8. — (A.P.). — The Congressional Sub-Committee investigating un-American activities focused its attention to-day on the spread of Communism on the Pacific coast after spending nearly a week inquiring into an alleged plot by a reputedly pro-Nazi organization to overthrow the Government.

Before ending its scrutiny of an organization known as the Silver Shirts, allegedly organized by William Dudley Pelley, New York writer, the committee wants to hear Dr. George Gyssling, German vice-consul here.

"The committee will have to get the consent of the German Embassy in Washington," Dr. Gyssling said.

Corporal Edward T. Grey of the Intelligence service of the United States Marines, and Virgil Hayes, a former marine, gave the committee yesterday a startling account of the alleged plot of the Silver Shirts, who, they said, are drilling with stolen arms in secuied areas near San Diego.

Corporal Grey, who helped to drill the Silver Shirts while engaged in intelligence work, said they had planned to "capture" the San Diego City Hall in the wake of a communistic demonstration, last May. The Silver Shirts, Grey said, are avowed enemies of the Communists.

HYDRO REPORT SHOWS DEFICIT OF $2,221,034

IN NIAGARA SYSTEM.

TORONTO, Aug. 8. —(C. P.). — A report prepared for the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission by Chief Municipal Engineer R. T. Jeffery and Chief Accountant W. H. Pierdon shows the commission during 1933 paid $2,221,034 more for power supplied customers and companies of the Niagara System than the revenue derived from sale of the power.

The report says:

"The commission supplied power to private companies and customers of the Niagara System under flat-rate contracts during 1933 which cost the Commission including provision for sinking fund and renewals of $742,000, $6,038,932. This was $2,221,034 more than the revenue derived from the power thus sold."

T. Stewart Lyon, Commission chairman, said power supplied in the Niagara System in 1933 cost $4,281.09 more than the commission obtained for it when making his announcement of his inquiry. The chairman also announced that in the next two and a half years the Commission had to accept delivery of 260,000 horsepower under contracts already existing with Beauharnois and Maclaren, Quebec.

In 1933 the total cost of power generated by the Commission for the Niagara System was $18,902,854 and power purchased in east cost $6283,276, a total cost of $24,326,130. The net cost to the muncipalitites in 1933 was $22,300,558.

BARTON HEADS MARKET BOARD

New Chairman Will Still Retain Post as Deputy Agricultural Minister.

DETAILS READY.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8 (CP) — The Canada Marketing Board will have as its first chairman, Dr. G. S. H. Barton, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, it was learned to-day. For some time Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, has been working out plans for the board, which will operate under his supervision. The final details will be before the Cabinet this week, and the board will be in a position to operate at once.

The duties of chairman of the board will not necessitate Dr. Barton surrendering the position of Deputy Minister, to which he was appointed in 1932. He came here from McGill University where he was Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture of MacDonald College.

Submissions have been received by the department urging several lines of products being made regulated products and put under the Marketing Board. Of course, the most pressing is apples, with the crop soon entering the market, although it is not so abundant as last year except in British Columbia.

MOTION PICTURE PLANT BE SOLD HEPBURN ORDERS

Province Cannot Afford Technical Staff and Equipment Premier Declares.

NEW DEPARTMENT.

Hon. David Croll Sworn in as Minister of Municipal Affairs.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Hon. David Croll, Minister of Public Welfare in the Ontario Government was sworn in as Minister of Municipal Affairs today thus setting up a new department which will provide a direct contact between the government and municipalities. Mr. Croll is mayor of Windsor. He will receive no additional salary as head of the new department.

In making the announcement today Premier Mitchell Hepburn said the government had in mind the financial reorganization of many of the municipalities, particularly those in bankruptcy and near bankruptcy. A drive is to be made to lower the interest charges on municipal debts in order to enable the cities and towns to meet their relief and other local expenses.

To Sell Plant

Plans for the sharp curtailment of the operations of the Motion Picture Bureau as part of the governments economy drive had been completed. Mr. Hepburn said today the motion picture plant at Trenton and all production equipment would be put up for sale. The government is going out of the production end because it is too expensive on the present basis and also not worth while as it had not and cannot afford the technical staff and equipment to produce high class pictures.

Any pictures on hand of educational value will be turned over to the Department of Education and if pictures of this type are available in future from other sources the government may distribute them.

Printer Resigns

The resignation of Herbert Ball, King's Printer and that of his assistant R. B. Magill, has been requested. T. E. Bowman, principal clerk will carry on the office for the time being and no decision has been reached as to new appointments. Premier Hepburn said he believed the office was still over staffed with the retirement of the two officials.

The auction sale of automobiles will be held in about 10 days although a few cars have yet to come in. It is possible the "Wasp", the Lands and Forests department yacht which is to be sold may be disposed of in Northern Ontario. It was first planned to bring it to To-

HITLER BUCKLES DOWN TO SAVE SINKING NATION

Financial and Foreign Trade Situation Worst in History.

CUTS REGISTERED MARKS.

(By Walter E. Brockman, Associated Press Foreign Staff).

BERLIN, Aug. 8. —(A. P.). — Adolf Hitler put aside the role of funeral orator to-day and turned to the task of guiding Germany through grave problems which enmesh it in one of its most critical mazes since the world war.

The Chancellor—President in all but name—returned to the capital by aeroplane yesterday immediately after he had spoken a eulogy at the bier of the late President Paul Von Hindenburg.

Germany's economic situation is grave. A sharp decline in foreign trade and ensuing foreign exchange difficulties have necessitated a programme of rationing raw materials which recalls war-time measures.

The financial dilemma was re-emphasized yesterday by the announcement that registered marks would be barred to foreigners living in Germany.

Hitherto foreign diplomats, journalists and business men have bought registered marks at rates varying from 2.80 to 4.05 marks to the dollar. Now they will have to buy ordinary marks, beginning on Oct. 1st, at the rate of approximately 2.50 to the dollar.

The Reichsbank said the move was necessary because of "the extremely difficult foreign exchange situation."

Powers Suspicious.

Hitler must move cautiously in foreign relations. Many foreign powers eye with suspicion Nazi methods in Austria, where a threat of intervention looms.

What to do with some 40,000 Austrian Legionnaires in camps around Munich, close to the border, is a growing problem. They are expressing discontent at Hitler's

GREAT CROWD ON HAND TO SEE AL. G. BARNES CIRCUS UNLOAD

To-day is Circus Dy in Peterborough—Opens With Pageant.

TWO PERFORMANCES

Today is circus day!

Peterborough youngsters went to bed last night dreaming of clowns with funny painted faces, giraffes with necks that reach up into the clouds, elephants with swaying heads, flopping ears and wiggling trunks, pretty girls in pink tights and fluffy skirts blowing kisses while cavorting upon the backs of broad beamed horses fat as butter and goodness knows what else.

And today the dreams come true for the Great Al G. Barnes Circus came to Peterborough this morning on their own special trains from Kingston over the C.N.R. There were great crowds on hand in the railroad yards to watch a very interesting feature of circus day, the unloading of the vari-colored wagons, dens and allegorical floats from the flat cars, and how quickly they were whisked away toward the circus grounds. A veritable army was on hand to see the erection of the many tents in Exhibition Park, and it seemed no time until the side shows under the direction of Doctor Arthur Windecker were in readiness and open for business.

The afternoon performance was

Pity Old Soldier

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 8—(CP) —If an old soldier, one who has seen 60 summers, can clog his way right from Toronto to within a few miles of home in Westminster township, County Magistrate C. W. Hawkshaw would not send him to jail. What if he had had a little too much beer? The lads of the Canadian Corps don't meet every day.

It wouldn't do, either, to put his name in the paper. It was his first slip, hi, first appearance in court in all his 60 years. He was extremely sorry it all happened and left the court room happy when the magistrate let him go without paying a fine or even court costs. The nominal charge was disorderly conduct.

High Constable Rex Caverly found the soldier lying asleep in the ditch on the highway west of the city Tuesday night. He had walked all the way from the corps reunion and was dead tired, he explained.

Hungary's index of production for the first quarter of this year was 21 per cent higher than that of the same period of 1933.

AUTO PLUNGES OFF HIGHWAY AT HUNTSVILLE

ON WAY TO TORONTO.

Kirk Guilty Manslaughter of Fiancee's Father Was Free Pending Appeal.

HUNTSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 8.—(CP)—Creighton 'Curly' Kirk, 22, was fatally injured; his brother George, 10, was instantly killed and Betty Sim, 'Curliy's' sweetheart, for the 'Curly's' sweetheart, for the was convicted of manslaughter charge and appealed, was seriously injured early today when their automobile overturned near here. Another brother, Charles Kirk, 18, was thrown clear of the machine.

'Curly' Kirk was driving the car when it suddenly left the highway at Novar, seven miles north of Huntsville. Before he could right it, the auto rolled over.

George Kirk was dead when help arrived. 'Curly' died in hospital here where Betty Sim and the uninjured Kirk were also brought. The four were returning to Toronto from Sudbury when the accident occurred.

Girl Badly Cut

Upon examination, it was found Betty Sim suffered several fractured ribs and lacerations all over the body. Charles Kirk suffered minor cuts and bruises, while Creighton's skull was fractured, causing death.

Alex Cowden, a farmer, and his wife were the first to reach the scene of the accident. They gave first aid and telephoned to Hunts-

Sir Maurice said to-day he will meet members of the Commonwealth Government and "all sorts of people" and he will talk over with them anything they like, both as secretary of the British cabinet and secretary to the committee of Imperial defence, which promptly led unofficial observers to forecast that he was going as an emissary to tighten Imperial defence.

Jewish-Arab Outbreaks Spreading

BLOODY COMBAT CLIMAXES FEUD CENTURIES OLD

Casualties Mount as Cities Around Constantine Join Conflict.

NO QUARTER GIVEN.

French Legionnaires, British Marines Work in Vain to Bring Peace.

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 8. — Fighting between Jews and Arabs has spread to towns surrounding Constantine, reports reaching here today revealed, giving rise to fears that the death toll may be considerably higher than officials have stated.

Perhaps the most uncongenial neighbors on earth, Jew and Arab, are obliged by fate and historical circumstance to live to-day side by side in hundreds of cities and thousands of miles of territory in northern Africa and Asia Minor.

Between them is a dark feud which has simmered for centuries, and which occasionally breaks out in savage riots, such as started at Constantine, Algeria, last Friday.

Fights between Moslem and Jew are fierce while they last. Firearms, torches, knifes and clubs are used ruthlessly. No quarter is given, and in every flare-up of the ancient animosities between the ill-suited neighbors there are instances, some well authenticated, of barbaric cruelties.

Powers Step In

The bloody encounters usually end when some European power exerts military force to stop the butchery. The responsibility for restoring quiet has fallen by turn to Italy, Great rBitain and France, which own or administer under mandates the regions in which the conflicts most frequently occur.

Even the great European powers, striking sternly with modern weapons, cannot suppress the bitterness of a hate which took root centuries ago.

They restore quiet, but they do not establish peace. The French Legionnaires and the British Marines separate the combatants, but fail to prevail on them to live together harmoniously.

The fundamental differences between Jew and Moslem are racial and religious. The latest repercussion of the age-old fight is in Algiers, but its focal point is Jerusalem. In the Holy City the temperaments of the two peoples clash most sharply.

The Wailing Wall

The heart of the quarrel and the symbol of the historic dispute is the Wailing Wall of Jerusalem. Access

Air Rations

Mrs. Murray prepared fare for three days. Here it is: Four pounds of roast pork; one dozen hard-boiled eggs; two quart Thermos jars of coffee and two of orange juice; apples, tomatoes and barley sugar, by way of dessert.

The pilots took only six cans of pork and beans, butter, marmalade, and four loaves of brown bread. To help them keep awake they carried 24 caffein pills.

TAX PAYMENTS SHOW INCREASE

$10,000 More Collected to Date This Year Than Last.

$347,100.88 COLLECTED.

How well Peterborough ratepayers discharge their duties as citizens can best be gauged by the efforts they put forth to pay their taxes.

Despite the fact that the depression is now closing upon its fourth year and the prosperity corner has not yet been rounded, citizens here have succeeded this year in paying more than $10,000 toward municipal tax obligations than they did during the same period last year. This encouraging fact was made known yesterday by Frank Adams, city treasurer.

This increase in tax payments may reflect the slow but sure drive of Petergorough up from the depths of the depression, but more certainly it shows that citizens here have determined that the city's financial solidity must be maintained—and they have scraped hard to meet their taxes.

This year, to the end of July, local citizens have paid $347,100.88, which is $10,917.52 more than they succeeded in paying during the same period last year when tax collections amounted to $336,183.36, according to the city treasurer's figures.

Although only one instalment of the taxes has been due Peterborough has already collected 30.43 percent of this year's taxes.

A comparison of tax payments for the first seven months of this year with last is as follows:

Arrears of taxes	$ 8,513.98	$ 3,447.16
Taxes 1931	10,329.89
Taxes 1932	36,909.41	13,567.17
Taxes 1933	278,670.17	40,841.25
Taxes 1934		275,244.30
Total tax receipts	336,183.36	347,100.88

However, there still remains a total in unpaid taxes for 1932 and 1933 of $135,806.30, of which $31,775.04 is outstanding from the 1932 roll.

THOMAS TAIT PASSES AWAY

FUNERAL THURSDAY.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — A prominent citizen and merchant of Campbellford for the past half a century, Thomas Saunders Tait passed away at 9.30 p.m. on Monday evening, in the Belleville General Hospital, where he had been taken that day for an operation following an illness which he sustained on Saturday. He was in his 80th year.

Active and respected in the life of the community as a citizen well beloved of a very large circle of friends, and as an active participant in sporting circles, he was born at Amhurst Island, Ontario, in 1854, living with his family in the Picton district. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tait.

Coming to Campbellford fifty-two years ago he entered the hardware business of Gillespie Bros., later being in partnership in the firm of Douglas and Tait. Later he acquired his own business, which he operated with his son, Edward Tait, until his death.

A prominent and devout member of Christ Church, he was an Anglican of note. Always fond of sport, in his early life he was active in furthering the game of cricket in the community, and his activity and backing was responsible for the prominence of that game in the district some years ago. He was also a very able and active curler and fond of the game of lawn bowling. The late Mr. Tait was a member for many years of the Campbellford Lodge of Oddfellows. He is survived by his wife, one son Edward and one daughter, Helen.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from Christ Church, interment being made in Christ Church cemetery. The service will be conducted by the rector, Rev. T. H. Floyd.

ONTARIO CROPS VARY WIDELY

"Never Better" Grey Reports —Essex, Welland Selling Stock Feed So Short.

MANY BUYING HAY.

TORONTO, Aug. 8. —(C. P.)— The weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture reveals a varied picture over the farming country with excellent crop reports appearing in some areas and others stricken by drought and suffering from feed shortage.

Grey County reports crops were never better" Wheat is all cut and haying completed. Perth roports harvesting well advanced with corn acreage much greater than last year and fine stands appearing. Recent rains in Grey and Perth and other western Ontario counties have proved of great benefit to the crops and pastures.

In Southern Ontario, the picture is different with Essex dairy farmers described in the report as "driven almost to distraction" in attempting to obtain sufficient feed to keep the milk flow near normal. In Norfolk the severe drought has affected tobacco crops, with a reduced yield promised.

Livestock will be greatly reduced in Welland district as farmers are disposing of their cattle, horses and pigs so they will not have too many to feed. Pasturage is also short in Wentworth, especially in the southern part of the county where many farmers will be forced to buy hay with others selling cattle before the winter feed demands appear.

DENIES COUPLE FOUGHT.

Sometimes Argued — Says Thompson in Room Morning Wife's Body Found.

TORONTO, Aug. 8. —(CP)— Inquest into the death of Mrs. Alwynne Thompson, found slain early on the morning of July 19, will be resumed Friday afternoon with the jury in the meantime visiting the spot where her body was found, the head crushed by a stone. Alwynne Thompson, the husband, is in jail, charged with perjury in connection with an attempt to obtain a marriage license when he is claimed to have stated he was unmarried.

The husband's 15-year-old sister, Grace Thompson, collapsed on the witness stand last night while giving testimony at the inquest. She insisted her brother and wife had never indulged in "fights" although she recalled they had had arguments. She told the jury Thompson had been in his room at 4.30 o'clock Tuesday morning prior to the discovery of the woman's body and she said he was fully clad.

Following this statement Miss Thompson placed her hands to her head and slumped backwards. The girl was assisted from the courtroom.

Evidence also was given by Mrs. Emils Emery of Guelph, Ont., another sister, who described visits made to Guelph by Mrs. Thompson a week before her death. The woman had a wedding ring during the visits, she testified, but she was unable to identify one shown her by C. Frank Moore, K.C., Assistant Crown Attorney.

Officer Identifies Clothes

He said the woman's arms were in the sleeves of her coat but the coat was gathered around the top of her body. He said the front of the woman's dress was torn from the neck downwards and that the dress was "practically gathered around the waist."

"At least it was well above the knees," the officer said. "The front was quite open. The arms were in the sleeves." Some of the woman's clothing was torn, he added. Wit-

Fifteen Years Ago To-day King Succeeded Laurier

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—(C.P.)—Fifteen years ago to-day at a National convention held in Ottawa, Mackenzie King was elected leader of the Liberal party, succeeding Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who had died a few months earlier. By an odd coincidence, to-day also marked the fourth anniversary of the Liberal leader's step-down from power in 1930 and the accession of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett.

In the 15 years since 1919, the Liberal leader has been Prime Minister twice, from 1921 to June, 1926, and from Sept., 1926 to 1930. He now is leader of the Opposition in the House. He was born in Berlin, Ont., now Kitchener, in Dec., 1874.

TWO HAVELOCK MEN INJURED AT ROAD WORK

HAVELOCK, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—Many casualties are reported among the Havelock workers on No. 7 Highway, east of the village. Mr. Leon Breen Jr. injured the muscles and tore the ligaments of his left arm, while lifting a heavy boulder, which necessitated medical attention and carrying the injured member in a sling for some time.

Mr. William Copp was injured internally in the same manner, and is now confined to bed. Mr. Abe Fillion suffered ivy poisoning, and only returned to work to-day after ten days' illness, from the effects of the poison weed.

KIWANIANS SEE PRE-VIEWING OF TWO FILMS

"Picturesque Peterborough" and "Kiwanis Activities" Are Sent to Florida.

DEDICATE TREE.

Tribute is Being Paid on August 13 to Extraordinary Service of Local Club.

Kiwanians last night witnessed a pre-viewing at the Roy Studios of two films entitled, "Picturesque Peterborough' and "Kiwanis Activities," which were to-day forwarded for public exhibition to the Hollywood Florida Kiwanis Club. The films have a total length of 800 feet and take half an hour to run through the projector. They are 16 millimeter gauge.

The films are being sent to the Hollywood Club as the contribution of the local Kiwanians towards a special program that is being staged in tribute to the extraordinary service rendered to Kiwanis International by the Peterborough Kiwanis Club.

Meeting August 13

As further evidence of the recognition of the worthwhile work that is being carried on by the local Kiwanians, particularly in the operation of the Jackson Park Health Camp, it is announced by the Hollywood Club that a cocoanut or palm tree is to be planted on the Hollywood Boulevard, to be dedicated "to your good deeds." The occasion on which Peterborough's praises are to be sung will be at a special meeting of the Florida Club on August 13.

"Picturesque Peterborough" as the name of the film implies, shows to good advantage the city's main points of beauty, its pubic buildings, manufacturing and mercantile establishments, and sports facilities, and so on. It was made up by Fred L. Roy mainly from "shots" obtained by him quite recently, but it also embodies "cuts" from other films taken by him during the past ten years; particularly is this true of the splendid fishing scenes which the film contains.

Made to Order

While the film is the property of Mr. Roy, the other reel entitled "Kiwanis Activities" was made by Mr. Roy and sub-titled by him specially to the order of the Kiwanis Club. It is the property of the club and upon its return from the south will be used on many subsequent occasions both locally and by any other clubs who desire to exhibit it.

The idea of having the film made as the club's contribution to the special program was conceived by the club executive following receipt of the following letter, which is self-explanatory, from C. P. Hammerstein, chairman Inter-Club Relations Committee of the Hollywood Club. It reads as follows:

To Pay Tribute

"Again the Kiwanians of Hollywood, Florida are scattering bouquets among the Kiwanians of Canada and the United States while they are still alive. It is our belief that good works among men should be recognized; therefore, during the year 1934, we will pay tribute to those clubs of Kiwanis International which have rendered extraordinary good service to the communities in which they are established.

"On Monday, August 13, at a meeting of the local club in the Spanish Grill, we will honor the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough, Ontario. Due to your effective work our inter-club relations committee will set aside any suggestions from your club, or better still, will be happy to have any suggestions from your club, or to have any member or representative with us to tell us something of your activities in your good city. . . ."

To Dedicate Tree

"Upon adjournment we shall dedicate to your good deeds a cocoanut or royal palm along our beautiful Hollywood Boulevard and trust that at some time in the future many of your citizens shall pay their respects to this living monument of the occasion.

"As a further tribute to your city we officially welcome, not alone the members of your club, but all the citizens of your community and neighbours of the surrounding district who contemplate visiting the tropics of Florida at any time."

The Club's Answer

The film of "Kiwanis Activities," which is most complete in every detail, paying special attention to the work being carried on at Jackson Park Camp and the Chest Clinic among under-privileged children, is the answer of the local Kiwanians to the invitation of their brethren in the south. It is a most effective answer too, as all who witnessed the special showing of the films last night will agree. The film contains intimate studies of Dr. C. B. Waite, the camp physician undertaking physical examinations of the undernourished little charges, and shows equally delightful scenes of the children entering into camp life with joyous and carefree abandon. Close-ups reveal splendid studies of Kiwanians James Skinner, John I. Allen, L. J. Pettit, A. R. Piper, Harold Scott, Al. Sharpe, Dr. J. J. Craig, Isaac F. McNabb, Ivan T. Lillico and others, with characteristic studies of President A. B. Gates presiding at the annual club picnic held at the camp.

Splendid Panorama

"Picturesque Peterborough" opens with some splendid "shots" of George Street and is followed by a picturesque panorama of the city filmed from Armour's Hill. Market Day scenes present displays of farm, garden and dairy produce of which the district might well be proud, while pictures of Lake Katchewanooka under the caption, "Early Morning Reflections" are fraught with great possibilities as an inducement to tourists who have not yet made themselves acquainted with this district.

Peterborough is also depicted in the film as a sport loving community, there being "shots" of dinghy sailing, regattas, the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, Peterborough Golf Club, baseball, skiing, etc.

Factory Buildings

The Lift Locks features prominently in the picture, as also does George Street Wharf, while views of public buildings include St. John's Church the Collegiate Institute, the Armories, and Normal School. Manufacturies shown in the film include Quaker Oats Limited, J. J. Turner and Sons, The Western Clock Company, Bonner Worth Mills, The De Laval Company, A. Wander Ltd., The Canadian General Electric Company Limited and the Colonial Weaving Company.

Mayor Roland Denne who incidentally sent an official message of congratulation to the Hollywood Kiwanians on behalf of the citizens generally, is featured in a series of pictures filmed at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition of which he is president. Other pictures of the Exhibition convey a splendid idea of the magnitude of the big stock parade and the thrill with which the big crowds of spectators follow the trotting races.

CLERKS TAKE 16-10 BATTLE

FOR SECOND PLACE.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—A tough break in the first innings sent the Saints to defeat before the Clerks by a 16-10 count last evening, when these two aggregations played off in the first of the play-off games in the Campbellford Town Softball League, to decide second place in the group standing, the winners to meet the Mill, league headers, for group champaionship. Two out of three games will feature both these rounds.

The game was an exceptionally fast one, but started bad for the Saints, when they had chalked up against them an eight-run lead in the first frame, registered through several errors in the outfield. This was a big part in their defeat, for although they registered six runs in the third, the odds were against them. The game, however, was fast, with three of the seven innings being blank.

Although both pitchers did excellent work, Holmes for the Clerks played an exceptionally fine game, registering in all four strike-outs. After many games from which he was absent, "Huck" MacArthur was behind the plate for the winners, and did his usual good work, while Little for the Saints did some spectacular work in the outfield as well as Weston on first base. The second of these games will be played off on Friday. The teams:

Umpires—Plaie, H. Tinney; bases Charles Holmes and William Sarginson.

Score by innings:

TRAIL CARIBOU LEAVES WASAGA

2,750 Pound Lead

WASAGA BEACH, Ont., Aug. 8. (CP).—James Ayling and Leonard Reid, enroute for Bagdad and a new world distance air record are flying a plane overloaded by 2,750 pounds—more than a ton and a quarter.

Most of the load of the "Trail of the Caribou" is gasoline. Six hundred gallons was pumped aboard in the small hours of this morning a weight of 4,200 pounds in comparison with a normal gasoline load of 60 gallons or 420 pounds.

The Trail of the Caribou started at a speed of about 110 miles an hour, air speed, and will taper down to around 80 miles an hour if and when she nears Bagdad.

Enroute she will consume gasoline at the rate of 9.3 gallons an hour, dropping from her load about 65 pounds an hour. Her fuel load is expected to keep her in the air 65 hours. If she reaches Bagdad she will be flying at less than her normal weight fully loaded.

The Plane's Markings

The Trail of The Caribou on which James Ayling and Leonard Reid are seeking a world air distance record on a flight to Bagdad may be identified by these features:

Black fuselage and wings bearing registration markings, G-ACJM; an orange stripe running the length of the fuselage and a small Union Jack painted on the rudder.

The machine is a twin-engined biplane. The overall length of the plane is 39 feet and the greatest wing span 46 feet. It carries no radio.

BLOODY COMBAT

to this bit of unimpressive masonry has been the direct cause of several riots.

The Wailing Wall is an object of veneration to Christians; but to both Moslems and Jews it is most sacred. The wall is reputed to be the left wall of the ruins of Solomon's temple. Today it serves as part of the inclosure of the Moslem Mosque of Omar.

Friday evenings devout Jews go to the wall and, gazing at the weathered stone, repeat the lamentations of Jeremiah. Frequently prayers, written on sheets of paper, are thrust into crevices and left there in the hope the petitions will receive divine consideration.

COUNCIL MAKES $100.00 GRANT

Sullivan being opposed to the expenditure.

Asset to Town.

Requesting the grant from the Council, Mr. Hopkins pointed out that a main building at the fair grounds was the one thing that Campbellford did not possess, and that such an addition would be a great asset to the town as well as the Fair, and would prove one of Campbellford's biggest advertisements. The building could be used at any time by the town for any purpose, which would be a great advantage to the citizens as a whole.

Mayor H. N. Carr, who presided over the meeting, stressed the worthwhile work of the society, and commended the expenditure as a good one, although some members of the council strongly opposed the move on grounds of economy. Councillor O'Sullivan was in sympathy with the project, he stated, but pointed out that the town was short of money as it was and the assessment here was much work required to be done in the municipality if only they could afford to do it, stressing the need for the proper housing of the town's tools and machinery.

Deputy Reeve McKeel was of the same opinion regarding the expenditure, stressing the fact that at present there was a great relief problem to be faced; the accounts for this being over $300 for the past month.

Councillors Bennett and Long favored the action on the grounds of good business and advertisement, while Councillor Sarginson opposed it on the grounds that the town needed a parking area for the visiting public, as well as proper toilets and facilities for visitors, and that this sort of work was more important to Campbellford.

"I have made a hundred dollars while you are talking about it," declared Councillor Battisby, who was in favor of the expenditure, pointing out that although the fair was not Campbellford's, to the many people who attended it, it was Campbellford, and he did not feel like crossing swords with adjoining municipalities.

One stipulation however was made in giving the money, that at least half of the labor cost was to be spent on local labor.

Continue Work

The matter of the Queen street sewer again came before the council, and it was decided to proceed with this work, which will be done by day labor, the solicitor, D. J. Lynch, being instructed to proceed with the preparing of the necessary by-law. The work will be done under the Local Improvement Act, the motion to proceed being sponsored by Councillor O'Sullivan and Deputy Reeve McKeel.

The matter of a milk vendors license, referred at the last meeting of the council to the police committee, came up again for attention, when Clerk J. F. McGregor read a report from the M.O.H., Dr. Fred Free, in which he stated that Stuart Stillman, who sold milk to the residents of the town, did not comply with the conditions laid down in the milk by-law regarding the proper facilities for the handling of it. The Stillman plant consisted of one small room, the report read, in which was no running water and no refrigerator. He would not recommend the granting of a license, the council deciding to abide by the doctor's report, which was received.

Councillor O'Sullivan, as chairman of the road and bridge committee, reported that all street signs which were down, had now been erected, with the exception of one. The matter of a suitable place for the storing of the town's tools was left with him to arrange.

Parking signs in Campbellford will also be painted this summer, the work to be done under the voucher system, Deputy Reeve McKeel and Councillor Long sponsoring this motion, the work to be looked after by Councillor O'Sullivan. The September meeting of the council will be held on September 10, being adjourned from Labor Day. All members were present with the exception of Reeve N. A. MacColl.

A VILLAGE DETECTIVE.

The way of the transgressor is going to be harder if village police continue to develop the sleuthing ability shown by Constable Herb Nicholls of Bobcaygeon.

On the morning after R. A. Kennedy's store was broken into, Constable Nicholls observed finger prints on a piece of glass which he carefully packed and sent to Ottawa.

Recently a store was entered at Thessalon and two men were caught. One of them was identified from the Bobcaygeon finger prints as a thief who had robbed the Kennedy store. Two years at Burwash was the penalty meted out to him, while his companion was sentenced to five years at Kingston.

The so-called "Nick" policeman of movies and "funny paper" fiction and ridicule is a different figure from that of an intelligent small town officer like Constable Nicholls, many of whom are to be found in the smaller communities of the province, capable of handling most of the duties and problems of maintaining law and order.

ADVERTISING FOR RAIN.

The potency of newspaper advertising has been demonstrated in so many causes from the every-day service of restoring lost articles to their owners to the emergency of helping to win a war that it has become a universal first aid on the one hand and a medium of last resort on the other.

This is not the place nor the occasion to catalogue the achievements of the advertising columns the unfailing handmaiden of business, the occasional confederate of cupid, and broadcaster of the most efficient mousetraps, to say nothing of such commonplace but urgent utility as the engagement of a new cook.

Public faith, so often surprisingly rewarded by ubiquitous newspaper space, should, however, place some limit to its demands.

Down in Kansas, distracted by the prolonged drought that has stricken the middle west states, merchants have recently flattered the newspapers by advertising for rain.

Thirty merchants signed their names to a full page display "ad" captioned, "We Want Rain." And the Hutchinson News carried a half-page inviting a "gully washer" to make a long overdue visit. This advertisement was paid for by twenty merchants who appended their signatures.

These merchants must be modernists with a great faith in an institution which they have seen performing works that looked like miracles. Possibly it is George Babbitt's notion of a striking public appeal to Providence.

OTHER CIRCUS DAYS.

Once upon a time circus day was a major event in the crowded summers of boyhood.

It meant a rendezvous at dawn in the dewy grass by some strangely populous railway siding where a long row of huge cars, bearing such magic names as Barnum, Bailey and Forepaugh, housed many of the exotic, Biblical creatures of Noah's Ark, "assembled at vast expense and danger for the education of the public."

Wide-eyed boys of eight and ten followed rumbling wagons to the Exhibition grounds, and gazed at the rough efficiency of the crews of laborers driving great pegs, unrolling acres of canvas, and gradually raising the "white tops" of the tented community to dizzy heights where trapese and wires were swung at hazardous altitudes.

The economy of the kitchen and the promptly-timed breakfast hour, the preparations for the parade, glimpses of the wild animals and bespangled queens of the circus were only a few of the incidents such memorable mornings afforded.

And on these days boys who knew nothing of the caprices of life learned something of the deception of a phrase they were to ponder later when they read of the "equality of opportunity."

Here was an early bitterness and heart-burning approaching the pathos of tragedy. A small and eager and observant boy somehow drew a job of carrying water to the elephants. Breakfast was missed and the cool morning broadened into the heat of a torrid summer day. It was noon hour before the job was done, with the penalty of a headache that precluded use of the promised pass.

De Quincey has written of the tragedies of boyhood so comprehendingly and revealingly that it is a real loss to youth that his writings are so little known to average readers. And of such pathos as his is the man's sympathy for the plight and overwhelming disappointment of boy whose circus morning ended in what to him was a virtual disaster.

Boys of to-day are being cheated by the depression, excessive transportation costs and other inimical influences, out of an experience of thrills which only circus day could bring to them. The last circus here was four years ago. The movies are all that is left to them.

But, for those boys of other years, the posters recall indelible impressions, that seem so long ago, of the glamour of the circus.

BUSINESS GAINS

From a long-range viewpoint it is more than evident that Canadian business conditions have shown a steady improvement in recent months, with the majority of business indexes recording a marked increase over last year, says the Monetary Times. With statistics covering industrial activity for the first six months of the current year now available, it is interesting to note that, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the higher level of productive activity in the last six months, with considerable recovery from the low point of the depression, was indicated by the rise in the index of the physical volume of business. During the first six months of 1934 the index averaged 92.4 compared with 72.9 in the same period of 1933, a gain of more than 26 per cent. Sharp gains were recorded in March and May followed by slight recessions in April and June, the trend being markedly upward for the half year. The low point in the first half of 1933 was reached in February at 67.0; the gain from that point to 95.3, the index for June last, was no less than 42 per cent.

The index of manufacturing production averaged 89.7 in the last half-year compared with 69.0, a gain of 30 per cent. Gains in this comparison were fairly general among the principal factors. Flour production was up 8.2 per cent. in the first five months. Cattle slaughterings at 646,336 head showed a gain of 22.3 per cent. Cigarette releases recorded a gain of 23.1 per cent., while cigars were up 9.1 per cent.

The power industry was favored by expansion in productive operations generally, the gain in the output of central electric stations being from 8,085,000,000 kilowatt hours to 10,267,000,000, amounting to more than 26 per cent. While contracts awarded showed a gain of 85.1 per cent., the total in the first half of 1934 being nearly $61,000,000, building permits showed a gain of 1.4 per cent. only.

Carloadings were 1,094,000 in the first half of 1934 compared with 900,800, a gain of 21.5 per cent. The gross operating revenues of the C.N.R. and the C.P.R. showed gains of 16.9 and 13.0 per cent., respectively.

Considerable expansion was shown in the external trade of the Dominion. Imports were $247,400,000 compared with $167,800,000, a gain of 47.3 per cent. The increase in exports was 40.3 per cent., the total being $209,100,000 compared with $208,900,000. The excess of exports over imports was $46,700,000 compared with $40,900,000, an increase of 11.6 per cent.

HANDSOME APOLOGY.

The city of Liverpool in England is £5,000 to the good because a certain firm wants to set itself right with public opinion. A few weeks ago King George and Queen Mary went to the English seaport to open the Mersey Tunnel. During the ceremony an airplane appeared overhead. It whirred and zoomed and made a terrific noise while the King was delivering his address. Annoyed people were even more vexed when they looked up and saw the airplane was advertising a certain product. Public opinion was against the interruption of the royal address in such a noisy manner.

Liverpool gets the £5,000 because the affair was drawn to the attention of the head of the company, whose product was being mentioned in this manner. He sat right down and wrote a letter to say that when he agreed to have the airplane go up it was understood the craft would not interrupt the royal addresses and would only be seen when it would not upset the program. Although the chief of the firm was upset about it, he accepted full responsibility and asked that the incident be pardoned. Just to show his good intentions he enclosed a cheque for £5,000 to the Lord Mayor of Liverpool with the request that the money be accepted as an atonement and used for the benefit of the different Liverpool charities.

People have a sense of the fitness of things and public opinion is quick to take offence at an untoward incident like the one of interrupting the King's speech. The power of public opinion is indicated by the anxiety of the company concerned to make a substantial cash gift to charity in a gesture of atonement.—Border Cities Star.

BUSINESS RECOVERY IN CANADA.

It is now 15 months since Canada passed the nadir of business activity following the boom of the post-war twenties. In that period, economic recovery in the Dominion has been not only remarkable, but extremely encouraging. As we swing into the second half of 1934, the key facts of what has been achieved to date are worthy of consideration.

Notably we have achieved two things. We have recovered almost half of the decline which took place in business activity between 1929 and 1933; furthermore we have achieved that recovery by steady, healthy progress, and in spite of the handicap of a notably poor agricultural year and a greatly restricted market for our principal commodity—wheat.

Since the low point of the depression, the volume of business activity as shown in a special six-month business survey elsewhere in this issue, has increased approximately 40 per cent. Not only does this compare very favorably with the improvement in the leading industrial countries of the world, but it is a gain which is fairly well distributed throughout the country. As this survey shows, transportation, mining, industrial operations, employment, trade and financial factors have all shared in the general improvement. Another very significant gain is a lessening of the gap in the price which Canadian farmers receive for their products and the prices to be paid for things they buy.

Two weak spots are apparent from the survey, namely, failure of the construction industry to make a satisfactory showing, and secondly, a continued lag in our exports of wheat and wheat flour. Confirmation during the past week of a probable further decline in bank interest rates which should eventually draw funds into building and similar activity, may be considered a good omen in respect of construction. An equally favorable indication is the continued strength of the bond market with high-grade bonds now selling at the highest point in 15 years. The wheat situation also, from Canada's point of view, appears more satisfactory than it has for many months.

In brief, the business outlook at the present time as far as this country itself is concerned, is undoubtedly better than at any time in the past four years. But if the gains thus made are to be held and even exceeded in the next five months, it is obvious that uncertainties as to the situation in Europe and the United States, if not definitely removed, must at least show evidence of a change for the better. At the moment these external factors are causing much concern among informed business and financial circles and must be reckoned with in any appraisal of the Canadian business outlook.—Financial Post.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U.S. Patent Office. By STANLEY

What's in The NAME of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

MACLEOD, ALBERTA.

The original name of this town was Fort Macleod, in honor of Col. James F. Macleod, following his arrival with the first contingent of Mounted Police in 1874. This was the first post or fort in southern Alberta, and for many years it served as the police headquarters for the district.

It was known as Fort Macleod until December, 1892, when the town of Macleod was incorporated. By gracious permission of Mrs. Macleod, the family crest was adopted as the official crest of the town.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Mastin.)

NOW I'LL CONFESS

A young fellow came in and tried to get me to subscribe for some magazines. I didn't want any of the magazines he was selling. Either I was already a subscriber or I didn't want to be. . . . But I knew about this young fellow and I wanted to do something for him.

You see, he'd been in prison and he was trying to stay out. He'd been guilty, all right. I suppose he'd been a tough kid and had finally gotten into a trouble that he couldn't bluff out of. . . . I don't know any of the details, but he'd served his time and now he was having a tough time trying to get along. I ought to subscribe for a magazine if I could. And he didn't want any charity; all he wanted was my subscription, for which I'd get my money's worth. . . . So finally I told him I'd take a magazine that I usually buy from a news stand and read going home.

That was swell. He gave me a blank to fill out. I did it. Then I wrote a check. The blank said I must make out the check to the publishing company, not to the agent. That's to prevent crookedness. That's to keep the man who takes the order from taking the money and fading forever. . . . But when I started to make out the check, he asked me to make it out to him, personally. That way he could get his commission right away, and he needed it to eat on.

I hesitated. (I don't know whether he noticed the hesitation.) And then I made out the check to him. . . . I couldn't do otherwise. If he hadn't just gotten out of prison I would have said: "It says to make it out to the company." But, somehow, I couldn't do that to him. Couldn't tell him I didn't trust him. So he took my check and went his way. . . . And the days went by and I didn't see him and I didn't get my magazine, either. . . . And I had almost made up my mind that I'd been Mr. E. Z. Mark again, just a simple sap in a predatory world, a weakly sentimental idiot, who never would know any better. I was angry and also I was sad.

But yesterday the magazine came from the publisher. . . . And I was glad. And now I can tell the family all about it. If the magazine had not come, I wouldn't have said a word, but now I can. . . . I trusted that young fellow and he was all right. That's worth telling.

$750,000,000 In Gold Shipped To London

(By W. R. Duff, Associated Press Financial Writer).

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(A.P.) — The flow of hoarded gold from India to London, which began with Britain's suspension of the Gold standard not quite three years ago, has now exceeded the sum of $750,000,000.

This movement of metal from the hide-aways of the East is a major factor in strengthening the financial basis for economic recovery, in the opinion of many commentators. Much of the gold has gone into the vaults of Central Banks where it provides the foundation for credit and currency.

When Britain suspended the gold standard in September, 1931, the Indian rupee, the local currency which is tied by statute to the British pound sterling, depreciated along with the pound. The price of gold in London, meanwhile, rose steadily in direct proportion to the decline of the exchange.

These shifting prices meant that hoarders of gold in India could obtain more rupees for their metal than ever before. Since the general level of commodity prices did not keep pace at all with the depreciation of currency, sellers were the gainers in terms of their command over the materials of living.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN

Approximate prices track shipping point: Wheat, 87c to 92c; oats, 35c to 38c; barley, 49c to 50c; corn, 80c to 82c; rye, 80c to 82c; buckwheat, 60c to 62c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter prices moved lower on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

At the weekly Board of Trade auction 880 boxes of Quebec butter sold at 18¾c a pound. The general market was later quoted from 18¾c to 19¼c a pound. To retailers solids were 20c, and prints 21c a pound, off a cent. Receipts were 461 boxes.

Cheese held unchanged at 10¼c to 10¾c a pound for No. 1 Ontario, and 9¾c to 9¾c for No. 1 Quebec. At the auction 790 boxes of No. 1 Quebec brought 9 13-16c a pound. Arrivals totalled 3,149 boxes.

Eggs were firm at 21c to 22c for A-large, graded shipments in carlots or less, 20½c for A-medium, 18½c to 19c for "B," and 18c to 18½c a dozen for "C." A total of 703 cases arrived.

New Quebec potatoes were steady at 80c to 85c per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Evidence that people abroad have made a right-about-face, and are recognising serious conditions with respect to world food supplies, uplifted grain prices anew yesterday.

For the first time in nearly four years wheat in Liverpool reached and surmounted $1 a bushel. Largely as a consequence all deliveries of wheat corn, oats, rye and barley in Chicago rose to fresh high price records for the season, and, despite heavy selling to realise profits, all closed with net gains for the day. Ominous adverse crop damage reports continued, especially from the United States corn belt and from the wheat Provinces of Canada with trade expectations that the world's crop will fall probably 400,000,000 bushels or more below the final return of last season.

Wheat in Chicago closed firm, ½c to ¾c above Monday's finish; corn, ½c to 1c up; oats, ¼c to ⅜c advanced, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 15c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Swinging along with advancing markets abroad, futures prices surged upward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday and a dollar-bushel wheat paid a fleeting visit to the big pit before a slight reaction carried the market down from top levels to close 3¼c to 3¼c higher.

Maximum gains were 4¾c, with the May option touching a top of $1 for the first time since July 18, 1933. Dollar wheat in 1933 ruled a little longer than to-day's short-lived quotation, but even then, with speculation keen and crop prospects none too promising, the almost mythical figure lasted only three days. August, 1932, was the last previous appearance.

Close Is Strong.

Yesterday's prices finished strong with October at 93¼c, December at 94⅝c and May at 98½c. Leadership from Liverpool and Argentina plus a big export demand for Canadian wheat lay behind the upturn.

Trading was large in volume and mixed in character. It was estimated at least 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was bought for shipment aboard, though as trading quietened the movement might aggregate an even more handsome figure.

Liverpool was up 4d at one time, the largest gain seen in the English market in several years, while Buenos Aires, though closing fractionally off, represented a bullish position in view of Monday's five-cent advance, while Winnipeg was closed. Chicago also was steady after wide upturns of Monday.

Spreads of top grades of cash grains improved and coarse grains led by Rye showed sharp advances at the close.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Red Williams

A TILT OVER TITLE.

On this date in 1892, Sir Daniel Wilson, the president of Toronto University, died. Although an eminent scientist and a hard working head of the university (then very small as compared with that of today) Sir Daniel is remembered not so much because of his intellectual greatness but as the man who objected because the royal honor conferred upon him was not to his taste.

Sir John A. Macdonald was in the eighties "fostering the monarchial idea in the colonies" "by some gradation of classes", this meaning knighthoods for persons he selected. In pursuance of this policy he suggested to the governor general the name of Dr. Daniel Wilson for a mark of royal favor in the form of a knight bachelorship. Dr. Wilson saw fit to decline that honor when it arrived, not from any want of sympathy with the principle of associating Canadians in the bestowal of imperial distinctions, but because the proposed honor was not a K.C.M.G.! He wrote to Sir John: "I feel that if letters and science are to be distinguished by a mark of royal favor it ought not to be less than that conferred on men who have attained to eminence in political life. I am an old antiquarian, very familiar with the relative value of the various orders of knighthood and could scarcely feel myself to have received a distinction of a title that must stamp me with inferiority in the presence of any K.C.M.G. of the Dominion or elsewhere."

On the announcement of his declination of the honor, Dr. Wilson was hailed by the Liberal press as "a sturdy democrat" who "cared not for tinpot titles". This highly amused Sir John, who, however, never divulged the truth and it was not known until after his death. Meanwhile, Dr. Wilson, the "sturdy democrat", finding that he could not get the riband and star, accepted the minor honor and was known as Sir Daniel to his death, his title dating from July 30, 1888, instead of from June 18.

to a filled tent, and every indication would point to a packed one tonight when Robert Thompson equestrian director blows his whistle that will start the opening spectacle "Priests of the Rio Grande" promptly at 8 o'clock. The doors of course will open at 7 p.m. to enable every one ample time to inspect a menagerie that for hugeness and variety of wild animal life has never been equaled with any show every to play Peterborough before.

"Some Circus"

And if you believe half of what the circus man says, it is "some circus", answering even the dreams of a Nero and better than the most gorgeous dreams a kid ever had. No need fussin' through the dictionary, says the circus man, to give vent to pent up enthusiasm, for Webster never made provision for such a bunch of thrills as the circus promises to uncork here today in the five rings, the steel arena and upon two stages, upon the hippodrome oval and giant aerial enclave. In addition to the time honored acts and features, without which no circus would be complete, there will be a whole flock of new acts.

Italy contributes the Canestrellis family, daring and intrepid equilibrists, whose daring work on unsupported ladders, the like of which you will probably never witness again.

From England come the Great Clarkonian troupe of serialists who will thrill and amaze you with their exploits high up in the dome of the big top; pitted against them will be the Flying Wards, American champions of the flying trapeze. Poodles Hanneford, Europe's foremost riding clown will appear along with the ten riding Hannefords. The dancing, tumbling, double somersaulting acrobat of the tight rope, Phil Escalante, is a direct importation from Mexico, also Dixie Whitaker, petite and dainty elephant trainer from the Ural Mountains of Continental Europe. Mabel Stark, interpid queen of wild animals will be seen with a group of 20 finest bred royal Bengal tigers. Sixty clowns will be on hand to entertain the little folks including 20 European funmakers. There are 1,000 people with the show. The menagerie contains nearly half a hundred dens and cages along with 21 elephants and the largest blood-sweating hippopotamus in captivity.

Open With Pageant

A monster pageant with scores of story book characters beloved by the children starts the circus performance proper. It is participated in by upwards of 1,000 men, women, horses, elephants, camels, yaks, and other strange beasts of the forest and jungles. There are 100 dancing girls; choruses of trained singers, vast bands and golden toned organs.

The Al. G. Barnes Circus under the management of S. L. Cronin has made an extensive tour of Canada this year having played from Vancouver to Halifax, and in every province with the exception of one. This is the first visit of this circus to the Dominion in four years and everywhere has been proclaimed by press and public as the last word in tented entertainment.

Reserved and general admission tickets are on sale up until five o'clock at Bond's Drug Store, while on the show grounds the white ticket wagon is continuously accessible for the purchase of reserved seats. General admission tickets will go on sale at the red ticket wagon simultaneously with the opening of the doors.

At midnight the last of the circus trains will be pounding over the C.N.R. rails towards Oshawa where the big show will exhibit Thursday.

Doug Copperthwaite Slightly Injured

PORT CREDIT, Aug. 8.—Over 80 panes of glass in the front of the Bird's-Eye Barbecue near Lakeview remained intact Monday when a car driven by Norman Hazleton, Wellesley street, Toronto, smashed into the front of the building. According to police, Hazleton was forced off the highway by a car operated by Dr. C. R. Baby of Hamilton. Dr. Baby was arrested and charged with reckless driving by Provincial Officer W. H. Delaney of Port Credit.

The whole front of the barbecue building was shoved in, Hazelton's car coming to a stop a few feet from the dining room where a number of patrons were eating.

Douglas Copperthwaite, peterborough, who was riding with Hazelton, suffered lacerations of the head and face when thrown against the windshield.

Bar Silver Highest To-day In 5 Years

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(A.P.)—Bar silver reached the highest price in almost five years to-day, advancing ¾ of a cent to 46 cents a fine ounce.

This quotation represented a gain of almost 2 centt since the end of July and was a new peak since late in 1929. The record low price for the white metal was 24½ cents in January, 1933.

Silver futures were .30 to .35 of a cent higher for near months, with quotes ranging up to .8.70 cents.

Some of the strength was attributed by traders to reported buying for the U. S. treasury.

INDUSTRIAL ISSUES GAIN IN PLENTIFUL BUYING MART

Healthy Advances Seen in Distiller, Oil, Food and Steel Issues.

SMELTERS UP TWO.

TORONTO, Aug. 8 (CP).—Buying orders were a little more plentiful in the late afternoon on the industrial section of the Toronto Exchange and to fill them, brokers were obliged to raise bids substantially above the morning level. Smelters moved up 2 points, and gains of healthy fractions were shown in the final prices for the distillery, oil, food, steel and utility stocks.

Nickel was again a board leader, heavy volume going through at 24 and the close at 24 1-8 showing a small net gain.

Smelters stood at 142 bid at the close, up 2 points. Gains of a half point were registered for Walker's Common and Distillers Seagrams and Industrial Alcohol gained 3-8 to 7 7-8 bid.

Canada Bud and Brewing Corporation Pfd. were the gainers in the beverage group and Canada Malting slipped back 1-8. C.P.R. was up at the close by more than a point and Brazilian, in active demand, pushed up to close at 9 1-4 for a net gain of 1-2.

Advances were registered for Consolidated Bakeries, Canners A, Loblaw B, and Westons. Cockshutt had 3-8 to the good. Goodyear Pfd. added 2 points.

ADVANCES HELD WINNIPEG GRAIN

Outside Markets Lend Strengthening Influence to Offset Light Volume.

GAINS AT CHICAGO.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8 (CP).—Wheat clung tightly to the high points today on the Winnipeg grain exchange as outside markets sent a strengthening influence to offset light volume.

Ending with gains of 7-8 to 5-8 of a cent, the October future closed at 94 1-8 cents; December at 95 3-8 cents and May 99 3-8 cents. The final prices were only 1-8 of a cent from the peak.

Hopes of dollar wheat in the May future were high for a while but the option could not quite touch the mark it held for a fleeting moment yesterday.

Officially however it is not conceded that Sir Maurice has any mission. He leaves with his wife for South Africa for a brief stay before going on to Australia where they will be guests of the Commonwealth Government. They will return by way of New Zealand and Canada.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (AP).—Stocks rallied rather briskly in the last hour today. Previously the market had been steady, but with few signs of strength. Advances of fractions to around 2 points occurred in most groups, including the recently depressed rails. American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Howe Sound, Western Union, U. S. Smelting, American Can and Union Pacific rose 7 to 2 points. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8 (CP).—Under the leadership of the utilities securities on the Montreal Stock Exchange spurted upward in the late portion of today's session. With the improved trend, trading quickened, sales approximating 7,000 shares.

Montreal Power was the leader with a rise of 2 1-8 points at 35 3-8 and Shawinigan Power was right behind with a gain of 1 1-2 points at 20 1-2. Consolidated Smelters rose 1 1-2 points at 142, while Canadian Pacific Railway was 7-8 higher at 15.

GRAINS AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP). — Broad speculative buying deluged the grain pits again today and swept prices upward for the third consecutive day to new high records for the year.

The rush to acquire holdings was renewed vigorously after prices had sustained early setbacks. Bull market sentiment completely overcame heavy profit-taking sales.

New York, Aug. 8th:

Frequently it is best to consider the market as a whole, but under prevailing conditions such an approach is most likely to result in added confusion and the drawing of wrong conclusions. The shrewd speculator must consider the well-defined cross currents that are lost to those who view the market as a complete unit.

Several stocks under liquidation have scored outstanding records and have won high investment rating. Some may attribute weakness in these issues to lower earnings or prospective rate cuts, but the more fundamental reason for the movement away from some stocks is fear of what will happen if this nation continues to move toward outright money inflation at its present rate.

Likewise the prospect of further money inflation is the primary motive behind the accumulation in the second grade group of stocks. It seems to us that under prevailing conditions investors should give more thought to protection of principal than to dividends, etc, and should continue the policy of maintaining a substantial portion of their capital funds in stocks which offer an avenue of escape from the dangers of money inflation.

Brokers' Opinions.

New York, Aug. 8th—

Munds Winslow Potter: "We think that combination of basic factors is about to initiate a forward movement in stock prices and that this will be accompanied by a generally better expansion in activity and a notable change in psychology."

Cassell & Co.: "Recent bearishness has been overdone and the market is entitled to a greater recover than it has thus far experienced. For trading purposes we favor purchases."

Waldo Young: "If there is any decided action in the stock market today it probably will not come before the afternoon. Prices of industrials rallied from the low of Monday and have lost about half of the rally. Railroad stocks as measured by the price averages closed yesterday at a new low for the year, although the extreme low of Monday was not broken at any time yesterday but the rails at the close last night were in a decidedly delicate position.

Breaking of the October lows would be a presumptive evidence of a major down trend of which there has been no signal up to this time. In such event of a general decline the market would become oversold and in a position to rally.

Kirk, known as "Curly," was taken into custody following Sim's death last November 30. A corner's jury said Sim's death was caused by injuries received during "an altercation" with Kirk.

The coroner's jury did not attach specific blame, nor did it determine whether Sim's injuries were caused by blows or a result of a fall.

Made Two Statements.

Following the death of Sim, Kirk appeared voluntarily at police headquarters to make a statement. A second statement was made later the same day, according to police, in which Kirk said he had quarreled with Sim and there had been blows struck. He maintained Sim fell to the floor, striking his head. Later when he took Betty home from a party, the girl found her father's body, clad in pyjamas, lying upon a sofa.

Kirk originally was arrested on a charge of murder, but on the manslaughter count was convicted and sentenced to three years and a half in penitentiary. Defense counsel presented medical evidence to show Sim had been troubled with blood pressure, and it was contended his death followed a cerebral hemorrhage brought on by nervous excitement and a burst of temper.

Russia is considering the construction of a bridge across the Behring Strait, which at its narrowest point is 30 miles wide.

LEAD GOLDS HOLD STRONG

Advance in SilverHas Cheering Effect on Base Metals.

GENERAL LIST FIRM.

TORONTO, Aug. 8 (CP).—Buyers were not bidding up stocks to any extent today through the demand for the best grade of issues in all metal groups was sufficient to maintain a firm market in the mining section of the Toronto Exchange. The day's advance in the price of bar silver had a cheering effect on silver and base metal stocks and narrow advances were recorded. The big gold issues as well as the secondary gold group were firm to strong.

At the close Lake Shore and Pioneer were up a little, Dome was off 10 cents and Buffalo-Ankerite, Siscoe, San Antonio, Read Authier and Macassa closed on the up side, while Bradian dropped 20 cents and Coniarum was down 5.

Quotations on the base metals responded to the improved buying demand by adding 5 to 70 cents to the Tuesday closing prices for Hudson Bay, Falconbridge, Base Metals Corporation, Sudbury Basin and Waite-Amulet. In the silver section trade in Eldorado was small in comparison with its recent market performance, but the price was narrowly higher at the close. Bear Exploration gained 2, White Eagle 2 1-2 and Premier 3.

An active demand for Ashley developed in the early afternoon, accompanied by a price advance of 6 cents to 64. Reno lost 5 cents. Calgary and Edmonton firmed 5 cents and Chemical held stdady at 7.40. Dome oil dropped a couple of cents.

ronto and sell it with the automobiles.

A Toronto auctioneer will have charge of the sale but he will have two assistants from outside Toronto, one of whom will be T. Merritt Moore of Elgin County.

The Board of Motion Picture censors will be reduced from six to three in another economy move. No decision has yet been reached as to appointments.

The Cabinet will not proclaim the Marketing Act passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, until it sees how the Federal Marketing Act works out, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, said to-day.

"We want to see what is proposed first," said Mr. Marshall, commenting on the Ottawa report that Federal control of marketing of apples and pears would start at once. "We want to assure ourselves that the plan of control is a reasonable and feasible one."

Mr. Marshall said co-operation with the Federal Department of Agriculture would depend upon the plan of control decided on."

He said no communication had been received from Ottawa on the proposal to get the Marketing Act under way immediately.

He said Ontario fruit growers have a good voluntary marketing plan in operation now, with Andrew Fulton, their representative in England, guarding the Ontario men against glutting the overseas market by cabling advice on when to ship.

Resignation of the entire Niagara Falls Park Commission, was requested to-day by Premier Hepburn. He also ordered the dismissal of General Manager Jackson and Major Bond, Assistant General Manager.

Premier Hepburn's action followed receipt of a report by Armand Racine, Windsor barrister who headed an inquiry into the administration of the Commission, in which Mr. Racine charged the commission and management with gross extravagance.

The whole inquiry had cost the province less than $1,500, said Mr. Hepburn. The new commissioners will be residents of the Niagara district and will act without pay. The Premier said it was not practicable to have commissioners for the park scattered all over Ontario.

Armand Racine of Windsor, has been appointed a commissioner to make a preliminary investigation into the operations of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. It was Mr. Racine, along with R. J. Welsh of Toronto, who recently conducted the investigation into the affairs of the Niagara Falls Parks Commission.

Many complaints have been received in connection with the T. and N.O. Railway Commission, said the Premier. The Commissioner would make a thorough inquiry and would report to the Government his recommendations for economy and efficiency.

LONDON, Aug. 8 (C.P. Cable) — M. M. Robinson, manager of the Canadian British Empire Games team and a member of the Ontario Athletic Commission, said when he left home for the games here he understood the old commission was to carry on until Sept. 1 when the members would automatically retire. He said he knew nothing of reports the members would be asked for their resignations.

"I quite anticipated there would be a chance, following the Ontario election in which the government was defeated, and planned to tender my resignation upon returning to Canada," Mr. Robinson said.

scotching of their long-expected march into Austria.

One of Von Papen's first missions is expected to be the obtaining of amnesty to permit these men to return.

Domestically, Hitler appears strong.

The plebiscite August 19 on approval of his merger of the duties of Chancellor and President apparently can have little practical effect on the domestic political future. Hitler has placed this campaign in the hands of Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda.

"Der Fuehrer" is banking more and more on the Conservatitve Reichswehr, or regular army, to the exclusion of his own Nazi storm troops, close observers hold. This is considered an indication of a definite break with his early "radicalism."

COUNCIL FEARS GREATER BURDEN RELIEF COSTS

City Council Views With Disfavor Move of Federal Government.

PASS RESOLUTION.

Sidewalk Be Placed on Both Sides of Westcott Street.

Viewing with disfavor the proposed action of the Federal Government in reducing its percentage payments toward relief costs, the City Council last night passed a resolution urging the Government not to entertain the plan to reduce its relief appropriations but rather to increase them and relieve the municipality of some of the relief burden which it is already bearing.

This resolution, which will be forwarded to Ottawa, read: "Whereas there is a feeling of uncertainty respecting the action of the Dominion Government in the matter of relief for unemployed;

"And whereas in the City of Peterborough there are still a large number of men who are unemployed and dependent upon public assistance;

"Resolved that this municipality can not increase its expenditures for unemployment relief, and that the burden for this purpose upon the taxpayers of the city at present is more than they can bear, this Council urges that the contribution from the Government should not be reduced but that the Government seriously consider relieving the municipalities of part at least of the burden they are now carrying."

On motion of Alderman Sloan the Council decided to put sidewalks on both sides of Westcott street on both sides of the railway tracks. Aldermen Sloan and Macdonald urged that this paving was badly needed. A storm drain will also be laid on Downie street north of Charlotte street, for a short distance.

One morning whilst sitting by the lake, they saw what appeared to be a head with a pair of wagging horns, coming up-stream; soon a large water snake, with a fish about ten inches in length in its mouth, came out of the water on to a rock, evidently to have a quiet meal, but seeing the girls it slid back into the water and went elsewhere.

Mr. Michael Teagnor, of the Oregon Trail, who recently underwent a major operation at St. Joseph's Hospital, is reported to be progressing favorably.

Mr. Andrews, the Director of Industries in the Pennsylvania State Prisons, who was taken suddenly very ill last week, was able to start on his journey home on Friday.

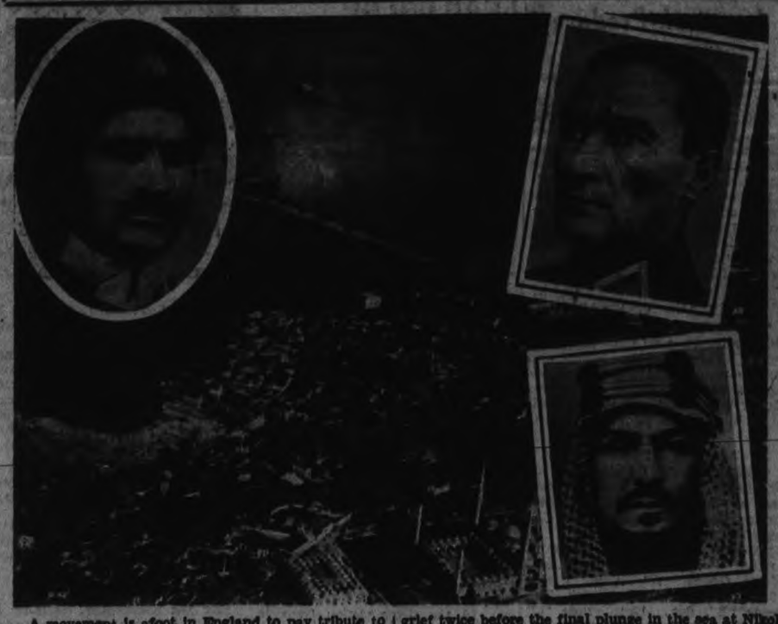
MOVE FOR UNITY IN NEAR EAST PROMOTES FEARS OF REBELLION

Ancient Days of Moslem Rule Recalled as Nations Add to Power



A movement is afoot in England to pay tribute to the 10th anniversary of the First British Round World Flight which came to grief 10 years ago this month at Nikolski, Siberia. Leaving Calshot Airport, England on March 25, 1924 Major Stuart MacLaren as navigator, Flying-Officer Pienderleith at the controls and Sergeant Andrews acting as mechanic, the large Vickers Vulture aeroplane winged her way across the continent on a pioneering flight around the world that would herald a series of similar flights in later years. Dogged by misfortune, the flight came to grief twice before the final plunge in the sea at Nikol'ski. The first mishap occurred at Corfu and the second at Ayab, India. In the praise given the American Round World Flight which left Santa Monica, California, on April 6, 1924, and returning there successfully on September 28th of the same year, the British Round World Flight was practically forgotten in its pioneering efforts. The layout shows: TOP, the rescue steamer Tiepval from Vancouver, which rescued the British crew. BELOW ,the cracked-up aeroplane. UPPER RIGHT is Major Stuart MacLaren, navigator of flight. LOWER LEFT if Officer Pienderleith, pilot.

STEVENS LAUDS GOVT'S RECORD

Confident Achievements Will Lead Dominion Back to Normal.

EXPLAINS PAMPHLET.

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 8. (CP) What he proclaimed a record of Government achievement that promised to lead the Dominion out of her troubled state into one approaching normal was paid before citizens of Edmonton by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Detailing problems of the Federal Government, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, referred to difficulties prevailing during the past few years and defended the Conservative administration against criticisms. The Government had, he said, increased Canada's trade by four, five and six times in some instances by means of agreements and treaties.

Commenting on the release of a pamphlet purporting to be his attitude towards the Government investigation into mass buying and price spreads which he instituted, Mr. Stevens declared it was a stenographic record of an address which he delivered six weeks ago to the Parliamentary Study Club in Ottawa.

The club, he maintained, had the speech mimeographed as is done with al speeches delivered before it.

"Someone in the club gave copies of this pamphlet to some journalists, or reporters, and then the fat was in the fire," asserted Mr. Stevens.

"But there is nothing to fear in this situation, and nothing to be ashamed of. For the benefit of taxpayers and to allay their fears, let me say thatp roduction of the pamphlet was at my expense, and not coming out of public funds."

BALLYDUFF, Ont., Aug. 8 (CP) —The funny part of this story is that the horse is well. When Nelson McMullen began to look for his favorite horse, the animal was nowhere to be found. Finally he discovered it—at the bottom of a 40-foot well. With the aid of neighbors, Dobbin was hoisted out, uninjured.

ROBERTS FAMILY HOLDS REUNION AT COBOURG

Three Generations of Alnwick Township Pioneers Gather for First Time in Years — Head of Family Born in Scotland.

ROSENEATH, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence.) — Three generations were represented at the re-union of the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, at Victoria Park, Cobourg, on Sunday last. Many had arrived at the park in time for luncheon at noon, but between thirty-seven and forty had gathered and sat around the supper table at six o'clock, which was set and arranged by the ladies.

Ray Montgomery, of Vancouver, B.C., a grandson of James Roberts, being home on a visit, was the one to suggest this outing and was responsible for all the arrangements.

The Roberts' homestead is situated in the south-west corner of Alnwick, and is now owned and occupied by Cecil Roberts, oldest son of William Roberts, of Roseneath village and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Roberts.

Born in Scotland.

James Roberts, who was better and more widely known as "Jimmy" Roberts, was born in Scotland, coming to Canada with his parents when a boy, his wife, Isabella Howson, was of English descent and was born at Mathers' Corners near the village of Keene, in Peterborough county.

In this happy union were born ten children, seven of whom are still living and are: William Roberts (the oldest of the family), of Roseneath village; Christopher (Bob), of Riverhurst, Sask.; Minnie (Mrs. William Sewell), of Detroit, Mich.; Ida (Mrs. William Campbell), Norham; Belle (Mrs. George Montgomery), of Oshawa; Eva (Mrs. Leslie Rogers), Vancouver, B.C.; and Amy (Mrs. J. M.Baker), of Hastings, the latter being youngest of the family. The deceased are: Fannie (Mrs. Nicholas Doidge), of Doidge's Landing, Rice Lake. She was the first organist in the Centenary Church, and her work in this church is still spoken of today. Joseph Roberts died at Biston Lake, Sask., a few years ago, and Annie (Mrs. J. B. Stewart), died at her home at North Bay.

Interesting are the accounts of the olden days which were talked over by the family of these noble pioneers. They spoke of the time when Centenary Church had a Roberts' choir, Fannie being the organist and her father the leader or choir master. The gift of singing, music and teaching is born in the Roberts family, and now the community in which each family is living is benefited by these talented people.

Resident for 70 Years.

For nearly 70 years, Mr. Roberts lived in this community. He was noted for his wonderful memory and had a sense of humor which made him a boy with the boys and a man with men. This pioneer gentleman moved from his farm to the village of Roseneath about 40 years ago and like all other talented people he, at times, was no doubt imposed upon for often the ministers would ask him to take charge of a church service, which he willingly would do, and today lives many who can remember the texts of his sermons and messages, and say that his influence and teachings are still a living monument to their memory. His work in the Methodist Church Sunday school, where he was superintendent and teacher, was also of much value. His energetic life was also valuable in the business area of the municipality, helping in any way to benefit the progress of our country. He was active in township affairs, taking the position of township clerk for several years.

Coming from various points in the country, the son and daughters and their families, at the celebration were: Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery, Messrs. Gerald, Fred., Melville, Miss Oressa and Master Jackie Montgomery, of Oshawa; Mrs. W. Wheatley and Master Billie Wheatley, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Baker and Mr. Clifford Baker, of Hastings; Master Leslie Tate, Toledo Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Roberts, Miss Doris Roberts, Fenella, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Montgomery, Vancouver, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Norham; Mrs. J. A. Blair, Master Jackie Blair, North Bay; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hendricks, Master Donnie Hendricks, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Doidge and family, Dorothy, Tommie and Jimmy, of Castleton; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Turney, Miss Euncie and Master Billie Turney, of Morganston; Mr. W. J. Roberts, Messrs. Lewis and Burton Roberts, of Roseneath.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Edwin A. Gledhill,
535 Gilmour St., City.

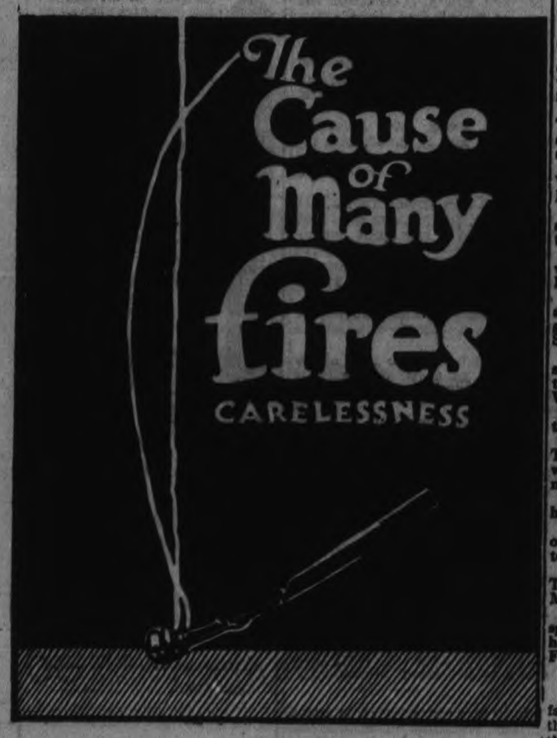
It is very nice to know that you are interested in my character analysis from handwriting, for it is quite a deeply scientific study. Handwriting is definitely proved as the means of direct communication from thought-waves of the brain, and so you can readily appreciate how correct the study must be. One's health and disposition can be easily seen at a glance through the trained eye of a graphologist. Yours is rather a pleasant disposition, but the health is of a delicate nature, though not what might be termed 'sick'. You are just not one of the over-robust type. Kindliness is depicted in the fine pressure, and a slight simpulsiveness is noted in the forward leaning manner in which you form all your letters. Your capitals portray artistic tendencies and also show that you may be inclined to be too generous with your worldly goods. The long, soft, 't' bar designates the fact that you are easily discouraged, but will not as a rule give in to your depressed feelings, because you have a very refined instinct and do not wish to expose your feelings to the whole world. The small letters in your signature indicate a reserve which is excellent in business. I wonder if you are thinking of 'banking' as a career? Or perhaps you have definitely decided upon art, both would be suitable to you, because you have splendid business ability.

Merle Nixon,
Apsley, Ont.

Your handwriting delineates you as a very friendly person. As a rule you are quite outspoken, and I think you have a slight inclination to hurt the feelings of others through this trait, though you have no intention of doing so. Those long 't' bar crossings portray a tendency to enter into arguments just for the sake of gaining your point of view, because you are very keen mentally, and love debates, but not disputes. Your capital letters indicate musical interest, and the 'J' in July gives you the ability to enter into out-of-door recreation with a view to expressing your emotions through the medium of physical culture. This should create better health for you, and assist you to develop mentally as well.

Your disposition is usually about the same, but you do not enjoy having your well-made plans interfered with by 'nosey' people. Do you? If you were born under the sign of Gemini, as your writing suggests, I should try to encourage every line of acitvity which pertains to literary work, for many Gemini People are quite adept at this sort of thing, but usually later on in years. However, one must understand that any work which is to be successful must be commenced while in the early years of mental training, as in school.

I mentioned the above fact, in order that you might understand how essential it is for one to begin a definite training for one's life work when the brain is in the habit of acquiring knowledge daily, instead of leaving the ultimate outcome of a career to chance, as so many do in later years, then wonder why success does not come. So if you wish to write, learn to write; don't enter into this most choice of professions haphazardly for there is not a more exacting career in existence than that of a writer. You have quite sufficient genuine imagination with which to extol your thoughts on paper. The other outlet for your mental power would be teaching, and perhaps nursing if you prefer, for teaching and nursing, lend almost the same characteristics in one's writing.



Hapsburg Restoration May Be Next Move In Austria

An exiled royal family, the former Empress Zita and her eight children, were pictured at Steenockerzeel castle. The royal hopes of this family are vested in the Archduke Otto, extreme left, who is being groomed for the throne vacated by his father, the late Emperor Karl, according to observers of monarchist activities in Austria. The monarchists are said to be planning a coup in his favor—more trouble for Austria.

Two Brake Shoes On Chrysler Products

Attached Separately to Brake Support, They Give Equal Power in Backward and Forward Speeds.

The hdraulic brakes on Chrysler Motors products, which are of the advanced type, is a subject of a recent announcement by Mr. W. E. McGraw, Chief Engineer of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada Limited.

His explanation of these brakes, which wil lbe of interest to ever good driver, follows:

"The driver of a car can feel absolutel safe only when he is certain that the pressure he applies to his brake pedal will have a corresponding reaction on h ishrakes. The type of hydraulic brake used on all Chrsler Motors products insures that the control of the brakes is strictly in accordance with the pressure applied to the barke pedal. A second advantage is that the driver is certain of equal braking power in obth backward and forward speeds.

"A cylinder operating two separate brake shoes assures the superior safety and efficiency of these brakes. This cylinder in turn operates according to the pressure applied to the barke pedal. It is the only type of hydraulic barke in which the two brakes are attached sepaarely to the brake support. It is the only type of hydraulic bra%e where the driver knows exactly how much pressure to exert on the brake pedal for an ycondition of driving."

PARIS FASHIONS RIOT O FCOLORS

Designers Sponsor Bewildering Potpourri—Leaving Old Standbs.

IN LUXURY FABRICS.

(By Adelaide Kerr, Associated Press Staff Writer.

PARIS, Aug. 8. —(A. P.). — The dimdest array of hybrid luxury fabrics Paris ever displayed is the outstanding feature to-day of the fortnight of Dressmaker's Winter Exhibits now drawing to a close.

Designers no longer are content to cling to standbys, but sponsor a bewildering potpourri, mingling two or three materials into one fabric. There were changeable lame velvets, quilted lame taffetas, cellophane silks, pailleted laces and quilted, elasticised crinkled velvets in vivid and subdued colors for evening wear.

Other items included gunmetal, gold and silver lames, woven on a base of black; white, pale, green, pink, purple and vivid red day fabrics stressing rubberized cellophane and bumpy, crunkled wools, cloque crepes, quilted taffetas and satins with numerous lame weaves and lame ribbon trims.

Evening gowns of softly blended fabrics are designed for the season's favorite slender silhouette, sometimes with modified kneelength tunics. Skirts generally fall in narrow but easy fitting lines to the floor, but are no longer cut in under the hips. Often they are slit and sometimes trained.

FORMULA FOR PEACE IS SOUGHT AMONG THE FASCIST COUNTRIES

Carnegie Endowment Finds Difficulty in Working in Dictator Nations.

HEADED BY DR. BUTLER

BY EDWARD HUNTER
(Central Press Canadian Writer)

PARIS, August 8. — Wanted: A formula. No monetary reward is being offered by the seekers, the European Centre of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. But whoever supplies it can be given more last ingfame than any movie star, this correspondent was told to-day, at the headquarters of the organization in Paris.

The formula is not to be one of those involved affairs, t is only to be the means of procedure to enable international peace organizations to continue at serious work in countries under a dictator.

Although tactfully kept off the agenda, this was the main problem which faced the round table of statesmen and political experts who attended the annual meeting of the European Centre.

It was decided, for lack of this formula, to follow the lines of a "watchful waiting" police.

Work was suspended, for instance, in Germany, where Carnegie Endowment was well established. The foundation never has been able to penetrate into Russia or Italy. So far as Austria is concerned, although the organization hitherto has sent speakers there, and conducted other activities, it was decided not to bring up a delicate problem with a foregone conclusion. The Carnegie body will abstain from trying to send anybody into this new addition to the dictatorial countries.

Ease Balkan Situation

However, in spite of the setback along the dictatorial front it was pointed out that the work is advancing towards success in other respects. The situation in the Balkans, where the Carnegie group has been especially active, is considered especially gratifying.

As a result, it was declared that the Balkans no longer is the "tinder box of Europe." The Carnegie Endowment has been working towards the formation of a loose union among the Balkan countries so as to remove the petty jealousies which made that section the powder magazine which set the world war going.

The Balkans can compose the second largest country in Europe, with its population of 55,000,000, if has been maintained all along. The European Centre of the Carnegie Foundation has set the pace for an economic and intellectual combine among all the Balkan states. A model treaty even was drafted.

The governments of the various countries concerned have shown deep interest in this work and even sent unofficial observers to the Balkan conference held by the Carnegie group. Observers also came from the League of Nations, and the International Labor Office at Geneva. Although the Carnegie Endowment does not claim the credit for whatever advance has been made along these lines in the Balkans, it feels that it certainly occupied an important role in the show.

The committee of the European Centre, which met in Paris under the chairmanship of Nicholas Murray Butler, director, included statesmen of international renown, many of which were former premiers or ministers. Some are exiles to-day. Others still are occupying important posts.

Probably nowhere else could men both on the political good and bad books of their countries, be found sitting together, discussing international relations.

Heat Wave Returns To Mid West States

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 (AP)—Scorching temperatures burned again today the mid-continent of the United States already hard hit by heat waves and drought.

The new heat wave extends from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachian Highlands, and southward into the Gulf States, further damaging crops in sections that have been suffering all summer.

Temperature readings of 100 degrees or more are common throughout the stricken area. Hot winds in some parts aggravate the situation, particularly in Missouri, which with Kansas is among the sections hardest hit.

Kansas City had an official high of 108 yesterday; St. Louis and Wichita had 104; Springfield, Mo., and Oklahoma City, 102; Springfield, Ill., 104, and Concodia, Kan., 108.

Four deaths were attributed to the heat in Iowa where many readings above 100 degrees were reported.

The East escaped excessively hot weather.

A New Calendar

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 8.—C. P.)—A 12 month year with five weeks in each month and six days in each week is the simplified calendar which Alexander J. Gilmore of Detroit has before the world to-day. He would eliminate Saturday.

His plan would have a working year of 360 days, during which time the calendar would be unchanged from month to month. Sundays would always come on the seventh, 13th, 19th and 25th of each month. There would be no Friday, 13th.

To take up the remaining five days, Mr. Gilmore would have them follow Christmas, being a series of festival days. They would end with New Year's Day%

Magistrate's Court

Alleged to have been driver of the car that was wrecked early Sunday morning after crashing through a guard rail down a ten-foot embankment at Waterford and Dublin streets, William Cobourn, 54, of Manilla this morning faced a charge of driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition. He appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., and entered a plea of "not guilty."

Defendant was represented by Emmett F. Sheehy who consented to adjournment of the hearing until August 22. The prosecution stated they were not ready to go on with the case.

Joseph Hagerman of 18 Dixon street charged with breaking and entering the Foley and Wilson garage at Reid and McDonnel streets elected summary trial and was remanded without plea for one week. Defendant who is alleged to have broken into the garage in the early hours of this morning and to have stolen a sum of money was arrested by Sergeant W. Wigg and Constable J. Thompson.

Trembling as though seized with the ague, the defendant upon being asked if he wished to plead, replied, "I was drunk when I went in there. I haven't any record or anything. I guess I did it all right."

Harry Peers of Udora entered a plea of "guilty" to operating a motor vehicle in Smith Township without a driver's permit or chauffeur's license. He was fined $10 and $3.25 costs.

Mrs. Peel was one of the foremost of Britain's domestic journalists and a shrewd chronicler of social changes. Her early associations were with Woman. Lord Northcliffe, it is reported, paid her the highest salary ever offered to a woman writer.

PREMIER RAMSAY MACDONALD BIDS FARE WELL TO CANADA

Starts Short Trip to Newfoundland After 5 Weeks in Nova Scotia.

HEALTH IMPROVED.

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 8. (CP).—Standing in the stern of a speeding motor launch, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain waved farewell to Canada as he started the short sea voyage toward Newfoundland and the next stage of his vacation in search of health.

A cheering crowd saw the Prime Minister and his daughter Ishbel leave Nova Scotia. Strains of "Auld Lang Syne" rang across the sunlit water as their launch sped between flag bedecked craft of the Royal Cape Breton Yacht Club toward H.M.S. Dragon, anchored a half mile upstream.

Bronzed after close to three weeks in the open and apparently in fine health, the Prime Minister appeared to enjoy it all. Before leaving the Club's dock he shook hands with many persons and for each he had a cheerful smile and a word of greeting. Afterwards he and Ishbel posed laughingly for photographers.

Will Study Gaelic

They were mostly of Scottish extraction, the Cape Bretoners, Mr. MacDonald met, and his one regret appeared to be that he could not exchange amenities with them in his native Gaelic. "But I'll be able to do it then ext time I come," he promised, fingering the sprig of Cape Breton heather in his buttonhole.

Carefree though he was, the several weeks more of vacation in prospect, it was clear the Prime Minister was keeping an eye on affairs of state. Even while he waited to be taken out to the cruiser, telegrams kept arriving. He scanned them briefly as he went on with the handshaking.

His interest in Nova Scotian matters was manifested also when he remarked on the Stellarton strike to Hon. Michael Dwyer, Nova Scotia's Minister of Mines, who had come here as the Provincial Government's representative.

Great Arkansas River Dwindles To Creek

At Little Rock, 176 miles above its mouth, the river which drains 157,943 square miles in Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, is scarcely wider than a creek. An all time low stage of 3.9 feet below zero was recorded here today on the official gauge.

Hemmed in by long hidden sandbars the river can be forded at several points near Little Rock.

The veteran riverman who remembers another century when the river was navigable the greater part of the year, said boys can throw rocks across bends where the Arkansas was once two miles or wider.

Premier Taschereau Refuses To Comment

MONTREAL, Aug. 8. — (CP) — Premier L. A. Taschereau today declined to comment on the open letter addressed to him by Right Rev. John C. Farthing, Lord Bishop of Montreal, concerning blasphemy cases before the Quebec courts.

The premier pointed out that he was unable to make any statement on the letter as one of the cases alluded to in the letter of the Anglican bishop was still before the courts and therefore would be subjudice.

In the letter Bishop Farthing deplored the "change of attitude on the part of our civil authorities" with regard to trials completed and still pending in court. The bishop begs the premier, who is also attorney-general for the province to "do all you can to stop the persecutions in this province."

"As you know," one section of the letter declares, "we English people value above all civic things our liberty of speech and the liberty of the press.

"We do and must claim the liberty to speak freely concerning those things which affect our religious, moral and civil life. If this spirit of persecution should arise in our midst it would cause great bitterness, which none would regret more than we English citizens."

Admiral Byrd Lost In Antarctic

Conqueror of icy wastes in both the north and south polar regions, Admiral Richard E. Byrd, is lost alone in a small shack 123 miles south of his base camp at Little America, while a 50-mile-an-hour blizzard is sweeping away the last faint chance of his rescue. Stranded out on the vast ice sheet, where he has spent many weeks alone making observations for his exploring party; Byrd waits for the rescue crew who may or may not be able to reach him. A tractor party which set out to return him to the camp was forced to return, admitting that they had failed to locate the flag-marked trail which would lead them to their chief. Meanwhile the driving snow is rapidly obliterating any hope of finding the trail, and is leaving the admiral's life hanging in the balance. Admral Byrd is shown above equipped for travel in polar regions.

Chinese Coolie May Be Inspiration Of Chapeau

Betty Furness poses i n hats inspired by, reading from lef t to right: a Chinese coolie; second, a sunbonnet maiden; three, a sch oolgirl; right a barefoot boy.

By LISBETH

Where do little hats come from, come from? Well, modern milliners search the world over, and draw their inspiration from many sources.

Always on the lookout for something new, this season some have turned to the mysterious Orient, and copied the headdress of various peoples, the Chinese coolie, for instance, as shown in the sketch at the extreme left of the picture, with the copy in up-to-date millinery posed by Betty Furness, screen actress, below. It's a faithful copy, but very charming, as you see, in dark blue linen.

Who but the milkmaid, very possibly the one in the old nursery rhyme, who "milked the cow with the crumpled horn," was the motif for the next hat worn by Betty? Doesn't the style of this baby-blue line chapeau, with its bandeau at the side, resemble the sunbonnet of the milkmaid above?

Remember the wide, upturned hat of your early childhood? Well, the next model in which Betty poses surely is a replica of that. Betty's is navy blue starched linen, with a white band.

There is a real outdoor feeling in the charming "lid" at the extreme right of the picture. It's a leghorn trimmed with a deep blue linen band. The barefoot boy, above, who obviously is going fishing, is the answer to where its designer found a model.

The central point in the war threat that broke over Europe with the assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss of Austria is pictured in the airplane view above. It is the People's Garden in Vienna, with the Austrian parliament building in the background, toward which the anxious eyes of civilization are turned in fear of another European conflict. PLAYING FOR TOP SCORE.

A good pair in duplicate matches, playing carefully, always obtain good scores, but they may seldom, if ever, obtain top scores. Those are awarded to the pair walking away with top scores on one or two hands upon which other good players tied scores.

Net point scores are now seldom used. Match point scores are in general use. The pair obtaining the highest net point score on a hand is awarded 1 point for each pair sitting the same way of the table, which it beats.

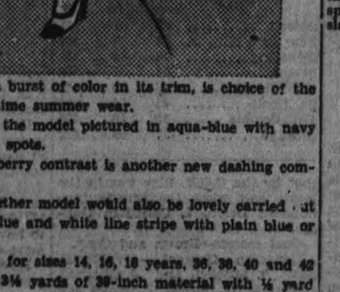
Suppose you play against 12 other N and S pairs. On a particular hand your score is higher than the scores of the remaining 12 pairs. Your match point score is 1. If you tie with another pair for top score on a hand, each of the two tying pairs receives 11-1-2 match points.

Often scores are very close. Three weeks ago I won a top score of 62 1-2 points. The nearest pairs had scores of 62, 61 1-2 and 61 points, respectively.

To make the game more realistic, hand 1 has neither side vulnerable, hand 2 only N and S players are vulnerable, hand 3 only E and W players are vulnerable, and hand 4 has both pairs vulnerable. Each later series of 4 hands considers player vulnerable or not vulnerable in the same rotation.

The laws of duplicate bridge, also social bridge (pivot or progressive) may be obtained for 50 cents, from the American Bridge League, Guranatee Title Building, Cleveland, Ohio.

Top score might have been won readily last week at the Knickerbocker Whist Club, by any pair using feature showing on the following hand, where all the best E and W pairs tied scores upon bids of only 5-hearts. With opening leads of a club a grand slam may be made. An opening lead of a spade will hold the score to a small slam.



Bidding went: East, 1-diamond; West, 2-no trumps; East, 3-hearts; West, 4-hearts; North, 5-clubs; East, 5-hearts (whereas the bid should have been 6-clubs, to allow West to bid 6-hearts or 7-hearts, as deemed best. He should have bid 6-hearts).

During the depression many players of rubber contract, for stakes, have turned to duplicate games for economy sake. Others have turned to pivot games, with a small fixed stake for the evening. The stake to be divided 3 parts to the Biggest winner of the session, and 1 part for the second-highest score.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The convention of the American Medical association at Cleveland was held from the 11th to the 15th of June, so an account of what was reported there is no longer news. Still, any contribution to medical science is news for a long time. In brief, the following reports of the convention seem to me of most importance:

The use of an abdominal belt to relieve the breathlessness and wheezing of elderly people who have the disease known as "emphysema".

Delayed operation in appendicitis was discussed, and it was suggested that frequently it gives better results than early operation.

The new disease, agranulocytic angina, and its cause—"Those who are habitual users of sleeping powders, tablets, or drugs of this order, seem to be those mostly affected."

The treatment of eczema in childhood by carefully planned diets, local treatment and X-rays.

Accidental poisoning of childhood—500 children under the age of five years died in the United States in one year of poisoning. Insect powders, rat powders, poisons in paints, poisons in cosmetics, fireworks, and in drugs used for adults were the commonest causes.

Vaccination against smallpox during the first day of life has been found safe and practical.

Vaccination against whooping cough in nearly 500 children indicated that the disease occurred less commonly in them than in those not vaccinated.

Vitamin A and the common cold. Feeding of vitamin A had no effect on either the incidence or the severity of colds.

The best treatment of the common cold is the use of small doses of opium derivatives, such as papaverine.

The effects of staying awake. A normal healthy man, 24 years old allowed himself to be kept awake for 250 hours. Sometimes he could not help falling asleep, but he never slept longer than 65 minutes. All sorts of mental and physcial tests were made on him, and no important differences from normal were noted. He was able to pull himself together at any time, and only towards the end of this long period did he show marked irritability. After it was all over he slept 12 hours and then resumed his normal sleep rhythm. Six months afterwards he has shown no effects from his experience.

Growing importance of the use of X-ray in cancer, especially cancer of the breast.

Alcohol and automobile accidents. Chemical tests for alcohol in the body fluid performed on individuals involved in 100 automobile accidents, show that alcohol is concerned in more accidents than is ordinarily reported. Controlled experiments with intoxicated drivers explain why the drunken driver is a menace.

Hypodermic syringes as mosquitoes. In an outbreak of malaria in New York City most of the cases occurred in drug addicts who passed the disease from one to the other by loaning each other hypodermic syringes which were not sterilized in between times.

Editor's Note: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Change of plans between persons who are to meet a a certain destination is responsible for many a tedious wait on the part of some of the group, and a long, tiresome, and hectic search on the part of others, and frequently an entire failure to meet at all. In this vacation period when everyone wants to make the most of her time, delays in starting on outings are very annoying. They may ruin the entire good humor of the occasion, and an outing without the right humor is a sorry affair.

* * * * * * *

It is imperative that there be definiteness, and that each one of the party has a clear understanding of when and where to meet others. Even when the time and destination prove inconvenient for one of the party, they must be followed or sufficient notice be given to every other person in the group, if trouble is avoided.

* * * * * * *

I know of one recent incident where Miss Smith was to meet Miss Brown at a college gate at a certain time after her research work at the college library was completed. Miss Brown finished her studies earlier than expected, and went home, telephoning Miss Smith from there to come to her home. But Miss Smith (who was to meet Miss Brown in her car) was not at home, and Miss Brown had to come all the way back to the college or fail to keep her appointment, which was too important as well as pleasant to be allowed to pass by.

* * * * * * *

Another incident comes to mind. Two families were to meet at a definitely chosen and understood place, and take the excursion boat which left at a certain hour. There were several sailings of the boat but one in particular was chosen. One family arrived before the other, and when the time approached for the boat to leave they went to the gangway and waited there instead of remaining at the place decided upon, which was not in view of the gangway.

* * * * * * *

The other family arrived very soon after the first one had left, and in time to catch the boat but with little extra time. However as the place was the one chosen, the second family waited, but in vain. The first family took the boat, and waited at the destination for the other part of the group. But in vain. The crowd was large, and no place had been considered for meeting there. So they had to enjoy themselves without the others, who took the next boat and had their outing alone also. Each family was always on the lookout for the other and this attitude interfered with the relaxation and the pleasure.

* * * * * * *

But it is not necessary to pile up incidents. Everyone has had some experience of failure to meet others just because there was indefiniteness of arrangements, or a failure of one of the group to follow explicit directions.

BE BEAUTIFUL

The charming Helen Hayes, whose sweetness and talented acting have endeared her to the public, believes that lipstick can do a great deal to enhance or detract from a girl's loveliness. Helen had an experience that convinced her of this fact not so long ago. When she first started playing in "Mary of Scotland" on Broadway, she modeled her lips after an old painting of Queen Mary. She made her lips full and passionate. And while they probably did become that beautiful Scottish Queen, they didn't become Helen.

As soon as Helen realized this fact, of course, she quickly changed her methods. Because of the part she was playing, she continued to make her lips up to appear quite full. But at the same time, she made sure that they harmonized perfectly with the remainder of her features.

That's the trouble with some girls, however. They're too inclined to imitate, without considering their own features. The sweet young thing who paints a Sadie Thompson mouth on her face because it became Joan Crawford, is bound to look rather grotesque. And the exotic, sophisticated damsel who adopts a pursed Cupid's bow, is certain to look just as fantastic.

So much can be done to mold the mouth along harmonious lines through the skillful use of lipstick, that no gal should ever permit herself to misuse this cosmetic. If the lips are unbecomingly thick, for instance, the lipstick should be kept well within the line of their edge. This will tend to make them appear thinner. If the lips are too thin, the lipstick, when applied, should be pushed with the finger a little above and below the natural line of the lips, to thicken them a bit. This must be done very delicately of course, so that no obviously artificial effect results.

Again, if the mouth is very long, the lipstick should not be blended out to the mouth corners, while the Cupid's bow on the upper lip should be exaggerated a bit. And if the lips are too small, the lip rouge should be blended out to the very ends of the lips at the mouth corners. This will tend to make them appear longer, and more alluringly soft and tempting.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Scars

Worried: The scars you mention will probably fade in time. For complete and enective eradication, the services of a competent skin specialist are necessary.

Fair Hair

Polly: The egg shampoo and lemon rinse process described in my "Beauty Culture" booklet is, in my opinion, the best method of cleansing blonde hair to keep it from darkening. The process is too long to print here.

Back

Mrs. Downs: The sun should indeed help to eliminate the blemishes on your back. Be careful not to overexpose yourself, however. In addition, amend your diet with attention to normal elimination.

Scalloped Potatoes.—Peel potatoes and slice them into a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Scald milk in which a tablespoon of butter has been melted, pour over the potatoes, top with breadcrumbs or crumbled corn flakes, sprinkle grated cheese on top and bake for three-quarters of an hour in a fairly hot oven.

Green Apple Sauce.—Wash apples, cut out blossom ends, stems and any bad places, then cut up, skin, cores and all, add water and cook gently until very soft. Put through a coarse wire strainer to remove skins, cores and seeds, sweeten to taste, let come to a boil, and it is ready to serve.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Celery

To dice celery, freshen the stalks in cold water and wash thoroughly. Then cut the stalks in small sections, lengthwise. Lay several stalks together on a board and cut crosswise. Tiny leaves may be used for garnishing, while larger leaves may be dried for soups.

Bran Muffins

One heaping cup bran, one heaping cup flour, one-fourth cup sugar, one-fourth cup molasses, one teaspoon soda, salt, one teaspoon shortening. Mix well with three-fourths cup milk, then add one-half cup boiling water. Drop into hot muffin pan and bake in quick oven.

WIFE PRESERVERS

After extracting the juice from the lemons to make lemonade, put five or six of the skins in a quart of water and let them come to the boiling point. Remove from fire, squeeze out skins and add one and one-half cups sugar, stirring to dissolve. Let cool and add to juice and as much cold water as desired. Improves flavor of lemonade.

EKIE, AGAIN—Equipoise leads stable mates out for morning workout at Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

THE HAMILTON meeting is stepping along in very good style with Arthur Hullcoat still putting over the winners. He seems to have the happy faculty of taking a cheap plater and transforming him into a handicap performer. Take what he did for Barry the other day. Hullcoat claimed him out of a claiming event a short time ago and on Monday of this week he won the Civic Holiday handicap, beating such good ones as Shady Well, Crofter and Finalist. Last summer he claimed Minoy Myerson for a moderate sum, took her down to Baltimore and cleaned up several big handicap events.

Pat Gaisty is about to cop one of these Canadian bred events over a distance of ground. He is still a mean horse at the post but once they get him away he can turn on the juice with any of them. The McLaughlin steeds have yet to win a race at Saratoga although one of their number a short time ago, but who has since changed hands came across on Monday in Deduce. The meeting lasts for three more weeks and the Canadian motor magnate's stable still has plenty of chance. Village Vamp at the same place looks headed for a winning effort. He is a real consistent sort and is always trying. Golden Spar is also down there and has his eyes on one of those six furlong sprints.

OVER AT Detroit Art Halliwell has Don Vern and Tarnish both ready to do their stuff. The first mentioned can sure turn it on especially when the track is fast. The latter prefers a route and the longer it is the better he likes it. Halliwell sure has a nice prospect in young Cochrane who has been doing the saddle work for him. Veteran horsemen say he is a wonderful judge of pace and has a fine pair of hands. These are the two main things in a successful jockey's make-up.

The Detroit meeting has now been going about three months and there is no sign of business falling off and they still have another month to go. The Ford City fans love the racing game and we can all see now, why they flocked across the river and patronized the three Windsor tracks for years before betting became legalized in the state of Michigan. . . . Before Hamilton opened we told you that Canny Age would account for a couple of wins and he has not let us down as he not only won an opening day but came right back on Monday and made it two in a row. He is one of the Campbell-Foden combination and they always get their share especially in the fall season.

ANOTHER OF their crew called Carlydon finished second on Monday in the race won by Dark Mission and he will cop one about his next time out. Last spring there was a horse campaigning around the Toronto tracks by the name of Butter Beans and he did not win a race so they shipped him down to Rockingham where he did not fare any better, now he is down at the new Rhode Island plant and we think he will do the trick there.

TERRIERS TAKE GAME LEAD IN JUVENILE PLAYOFFS

LOCAL O.B.A.A. CLUB CLICKS FOR THREE COUNTERS IN 9TH TO DEFEAT MOTOR CITY 7 TO 5

Well-matched Minors Dish Up Smart Ball in First of Playdowns.

HEAVY HITTING.

Better Pitching in Pinches and Superior Defensive Play Gives Petes the Edge.

Pounding in three runs in the 9th inning, Terriers took a 7-5 win over Oshawa yesterday in the Motor City to open their O.B.A.A. playdown series. Nearly three hundred fans watched a nifty struggle between the well-matched minors, who dished up smart ball most of the way. Better pitching in the pinches and superior defensive play gave the Peterborough squad a slight edge. It is a two-out-of-three series.

Tip Anderson hurled for Terriers and gave a good exhibition of fliging, although eleven hits were gained off his delivery. But he struck out eleven and bore down hard when runners were on the pathways. His support was good mostly, despite two miscues and several scratchy hits. Jack Hobbs started for Oshawa and went good till the ninth when he was hammered out and Dan Normile took up the task with fair success. Their support was wobbly.

Vitarelli, with two hits in twice up, topped the locals at bat, while O. Clark, Kingdon and A. Clark also hit safely twice each. Grant Clark hit a triple and Dunkley a double. O'Leary cleared the fence once but was two feet foul and missed a homer. Young, Brockman and Hobbs of Oshawa had two hits apiece, with Pearse and McCullough clouting two-baggers. The fielding of Kingdon, A. Clark, Dalton and Young stood out.

Terriers got three cheap ones in the fourth on Kingdon's single, a fielders' choice, three miscues and three pilfered sacks. Oshawa got two back in their half on singles by Young and Brockman and Pearse's double. The Ralph crew got another in the fifth, Anderson walking, moving up on A. Clark's hit and home on an error. Oshawa got that back right away on McCullough's double and Young's single. They tied that score in the seventh when McCullough walked, took second on an out and home on a single by Brockman.

O. Clark started the ninth off with a screaming triple to deep left. He tallied on Kingdon's single. The latter stole and scored on A. Clark's hit, Al moving up on the throw-in. He took third on a passed ball and scored on an out before Normile took the mound. Oshawa got one back in their half on Highfield's hit, a steal and an error. A smart pickoff at first by Anderson and a strikeout ruined a budding Oshawa rally.

According to a report from Lenngrad a perpetual motion machine invented by a still maufacturer ran for almost 20 minutes.

TORONTO DROPS OVERTIME TILT

Senators Score Four in Ninth and Eleventh to Take 14-10 Decision.

ROYALS HOLD PLACE.

(By The Associated Press)

It begins to appear as though only a complete collapse can prevent Newark Bears from leading the International League field to the finish wire.

The Bears have not been particularly impressive on the road, but they have piled up such a heavy margin of victories at home that their rivals have been hard-pressed to remain within hailing distance of them.

They dropped a 6-4 decision to Buffalo Bisons in a night game at Buffalo last night, but maintained their 5½ game lead when the second-place Rochester Redwings were beaten by Baltimore, 4-2.

Buffalo was outhit, 11-9, by the Bears, but made good use of their scoring opportunities, taking the lead with a three-run rally in the fifth and maintaining it to the end. Gregory Mulleavy connected for three doubles, drove in three runs and scored two. Dale Alexander and Bobby Gibson clouted homers for for the league leaders.

Beryl Richmond pitched fine ball to give Baltimore its victory over Rochester. He blanked the Wings for seven innings and allowed only eight scattered hits. The Orioles, meantime, thumped John Berly for two runs in each of the first and second frames. Thereafter the Rochester hurler was more effective than his rival but the damage had been done. Tommy Carey, Wing shortstop, led the batters with three hits.

Ray Fritz' great relief pitching helped Montreal down Syracuse and maintain its hold on fifth place. The Chiefs drove Lauri Myllyniemgas from the box in the eighth, but Fritz was invincible in the last two frames. He walked two men but allowed no hits and fanned five. Nub Walker, with a triple and two doubles, led the Royals' 14-hit attack.

Leafs Again Lose

Albany's swatters came through with four runs in the ninth to tie the score and four more in the 11th to beat Toronto Maple Leafs, 14-10, in a wild night game. The victory left the Senators trailing third-place Toronto by only three games.

GRAY SCORES DELORO'S GOAL AGAINST PETES

C. G. E. Loses Two League Points as Winners Go Into Running for Championship.

SMELTERS 2, ELECTRICS 1.

A smartly taken goal by Percy Grey, of Deloro, caused the defeat of the Canadian General soccer eleven, in an engagement under league auspices on King Edward Park, last night, before a good attendance of spectators.

William Brown got the first counter for Deloro on an individual effort, that Curtis saved but visiting inside left made no mistake with the rebound drive. Vic Post got the C.G.E. tally on a first timer. This win puts the visitors in the running for the league championship. They play Lindsay next Saturday night.

Visitors More Aggressive

Right from the kick off, Deloro penetrated the C.G.E. defense with Brown testing the C.G.E. goalie with a terrific drive. Brooks met the rebound to again witness the custodian divert the ball out of danger. The local defense of Mitchell Brothers repulsing the onslaughts with accuracy as the Deloro right wing men harassed them to get a fruitless flag kick. A break away by Darling ended with a smart drive finding the outside of the net. Bradley sent Brooks away to the C.G.E. territory where the full backs mis-kicked to let Brooks send a lighining drive over the bar from close in. He returned again to bring Curtis to his knees with a stinging low grounder which was well saved and worthy of a counter. C.G.E. went on the rampage to confine the play to the visitor's goal. Cousins and Hart intercepted the combination plays at the logical moments to give O'Neill every opportunity to save his charge. Two corner kicks brought naught to the local boys. Brown sending his wing man along the wing who centered across to Brooks. The pivot man evaded the full backs smartly but his parting shot went sky-ward to his own astonishment.

Brown Scores

From the throw-in by Sproul, his inside left man trapped the ball to send his winger along the wing who sent the sphere back to him. While on the run, Brown drove hard against Curtis who blocked the shot but the Deloro man connected with a terrific drive that bulged the net. From the centre kick, Jones carried the play up the centre to McMaster who dribbled his way towards goal and finished with a splendid effort that skimmed the cross-bar. With only three minutes to go of the first half, Deloro gained the advantage of the midfield play when Bradley stopped a C.G.E. attack. He sent a drop shot into goal. Brooks run in to connect as the full backs held him out of danger but they neglected Grey who jumped in between them to put his team ahead. Deloro 2, Canadian General 0.

Goal In a Minute

Within a minute, the Electrics were inside the Deloro goal area where Post met a first timer that O'Neill partially saved but not sufficiently to prevent the ball landing inside the upright. For the next ten minutes, the Deloro boys went back on the defensive to offset the C.G.E. continuous attack that worked close inside the goal area. Bradley falling back to help his full backs and still act as a defense man. While R. Smith, acted at centre half, and inside right to hold the situation in hand. O'Neill during that period making some spectacular saves from the feet of Darling, Clark and Earle, while McMaster awaited the opening that never presented itself. On one occasion, the local boys had the Deloro team down in the goals until Cousin relieved the pressure as he took the ball off the toe of McMaster. Jones sent the ball back again but Hart stopped the dangerous rush by punting clear to his forwards. They gained possession when the full backs were caught napping. Brooks travelling into goal with only the custodian to beat but Curtis run out of goal to save his charge. Ex changes continued even for a while with the custodians being visited in rotation.

With only ten minutes to go, the C.G.E. put up a brilliant attempt to reduce the lead but the Deloro boys were unbeatable with smart defensive tactics that played havoc on the combination attacks that was backed up by a half back line acting as extra forwards when inside the goal area. Repeatedly Gray, Smith and Simeon Smith broke away on the wings to test Curtis in goal. As darkness fell, with sufficient light to see the ball in the closing minutes, the C.G.E. gained two corner kicks that were kicked clear. While O'Neill threw the ball up-field when he stopped it from a shot by the C.G.E. Play was in the locals half when the whistle announced Deloro 2, Canadian General 1.

Canada Second

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(C. P. Cable.)—Despite the bad beating she took in the water events, England actually strengthened her position yesterday at the top of the British Empire Games aggregate points standing. England and Canada were far out in front, the Mother Country having scored heavily in track and field; Canada in swimming.

DEAN WHITEWASHES REDS 2-0 FOR HIS 20TH WIN OF SEASON PIRATES DEFEAT CUBS 4 TO 1

Jackson's Triple in 9th Inning With Bases Loaded Gives Giants 6-4 Game.

BRAVES BEAT PHILLIES.

Tigers Pick Up Half a Game on Yankees by Subduing Browns 12-8.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer)

Whether or not Dizzy Dean's spring prediction that he and his brother Paul would win 50 games for the Cardinals this season and pitch them right into the National League pennant is fulfilled, it seems that the voluble Jerome Herman Dean is to be the pitcher of the 1934 season.

Dean became the first major league flinger of the season to win 20 games yesterday when he shut out the last-place Reds 2-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. And since he has reached that mark in 103 games for his club, he appears to have a good chance of taking 10 more out of the remaining 49.

Dizzy had quite an elbowing argument with Al Johnson before he won out, each giving six hits and four walks. The Cards, however, put together a pair of singles in the eighth and a sacrifice and two Red errors turned them into runs. Then, just to give the St. Louis pennant hopes another jolt, Allyn Stout limited the Cardinals to five blows in the second game while the Reds rapped Bill Hallahan for a 9-2 victory.

Giants Again Win

The division of games left St. Louis seven games behind the league-leading Giants, whose habit of beating Brooklyn was not broken although seriously threatened. It took an eighth inning triple with the bases loaded by Travis Jackson and some good relief flinging by Carl Hubbell to give the league leaders their 11th victory in 15 inter-borough games. The score was 6-4. Hubbell's shutout streak ended at 24 1-3 innings when the Dodgers scored in the eighth but he got credit for his 10th victory.

The second-place Cubs took a worse setback than St. Louis when a 4-1 defeat at the hands of the Pirates cost them a full game. Arky Vaughan's homer with two on in the first provided the deciding runs.

The Braves rounded out the National League program by beating the Phillies 3-1 when they did all their scoring off Russ Moore in the first then relied on Al Brandt's hurling to hold the lead.

Tigers Gain On Yanks

Detroit's Tigers picked up a half game on the Yankees in the American League race but they had to pull through a couple of alarming situations to beat St. Louis 12-8. Schoolboy Rowe, Tiger mound ace, pitched only three balls before a "stitch" in his back forced him to retire. Elden Auker, going in cold, was found for three runs in the fifth and after the Tigers had blasted their way to the front with an eight run outburst in the seventh St. Louis put on a counter-rally for four runs in the last inning.

Yanks Break Even

Meanwhile the Yanks could get no better than an even break with Washington, winning the opener 4-3 on Johnny Murphy's five-hit flinging and a ninth inning rally capped by Frank Crossetti's hit, but going down in the second half, 6-3, when the Senators belted Johnny Broaca around freely.

Other first division clubs ran into plenty of trouble as the White Sox trimmed the third-place Indians 8-2 with some hefty hitting behind George Earnshaw, who turned in a seven-hit job for his 16th victory, and the Athletics pounded out a 9-4 decision over the Red Sox behind Johnny Marcum.

ORPHANS GAIN FINAL SERIES SOFTBALL LOOP

Waifs Whitewash Brintons 2-0 Behind Super Pitching of Shine.

HOLD EDGE ON PLAY

The Orphans made a home for themselves in the City Softball League finals last eve at Central School grounds, laying the Brinton Carpets in the dust, 2 to 0. The Waifs played errorless ball behind the superb pitching of Shine and clearly had the edge on the night's play.

Bill Abbott, on the mound for the rug-makers, turned in a game ordinarily good enough to win. But the Orphans took advantage of two hits and two errors in the third to score their two runs. With Board on third, Pat Calladine threw into center field attempting to throw Fleming out stealing second. Board scored on the play and Fleming slid across a moment later when Pat dropped Playford's throw to the plate.

Shine eased out of a bad hole in the seventh when he struck out H. Dormer and Smith with none out and the bases full and then made Playford ground out. This was the only time during the game that the Brintons really threatened.

Each team made but five hits, Playford and Bill Calladine fashioning two each for the Brintons while Shine helped himself to a brace of blows in his own cause.

The Johnston Tires team meets the Orphans in the first game of the finals tomorrow night at 6.00 p.m. at the Central School grounds.

Highlights From White City Stadium

LONDON.— Bobby Robinson of Hamilton, Ont., former news editor, who conceived the British Empire Games and staged the first show four years ago in his home city to prove it could be done, said to-day he was immensely pleased with the showing of Canadians in the track and field meeting that closed yesterday.

"We closed up this section of the meet in a blaze of glory," said the Canadian team manager. "The last two flags to go up on the Stadium were Canadian. We forced our rivals to set new records to beat us and, consiging the strength in these competitions and the number of setbacks encountered by our athletes in training, we have every reason to be satisfied.

"The Canadian team was young, inexperienced in such company. The games convince me that Canadian athletes, to secure better results, must widen the scope of their competition.

"Once again we have learned the mistake of sending a large athletic team abroad without an adequate number of officials. The games themselves have been the greatest possible success—as great as those in Hamilton in 1930, except that the fraternising spirit of the Hamilton games is missing. But this is due to the various bodies of competitors being scattered all over London, whereas in Hamilton they were lodged under one roof.

TWO CANADIAN girls who lost yesterday were just as pleased as if they had won. One of them, Eileen Meagher of Halifax, forced Elsie Hiscock of England to run the fastest 220 yards in record time.

"I'm sure they'll be glad down home, as I am the only girl runner from the Maritimes," said Eileen after the race. The Halifax girl was second.

"My ambition is fulfilled," declared George Burleigh, blonde Toronto speedster, after winning the men's 100 yards free style swimming title. "I trained months for that one event. But it was certainly worth it."

* * *

"OH, THE BEST man won." smiled George Larsen of Hamilton, who finished a scant two yards behind Burleigh. "I think I did well and I'm glad a Canadian won." Larsen said his swimming had greatly improved since he started training under Dave Billingham of England, former world's champion.

The next time the Jamaican swimmers come to England they will be prepared for cold water. The water in Empire oPol was much too cold for the West Indies watermen, who are accustomed to swimming in water of 78 or 80 degrees. Empire Pool water never exceeds 75, which the Britons considered too warm.

The next time we come to England, we'll train first in cold mountain springs," said one Jamaican swimmer.

After Phyllis Dewar of Moose Jaw had completed her "double" by winning the 440 yards free style, she only said: "Why, I didn't' expect to win at all. I thought Irene Pirie would win, but she must have swam too strongly in the early part of the swim." As it was Miss Dewar shot past Irene and Jennie Maakal of South Africa near the finish and won going away.

LAKESHORE PLAYOFFS

PORT HOPE, Aug. 7.—Playoffs for second position in the Lakeshore Ladies' Softball League will takep lace at Oshawa on Thursday and Saturday nights between the Tavernettes and the Malleables, with Aug. 12 set for the third contest, if necessary. The winners will then meet the Port Hope Alerts in the finals for the right to advance in the Ontario playdowns.

Armour Wins Canadian Open Golf For Third Time

Between Tommy Armour and Leo Diegel, this Canadian "Open" golf tournament is fast becoming a closer affair. Leo has won it four times, and Tommy three. Armour is the latest holder of the crown winning it from a brilliant field by steady, though not brilliant golf. Diegel led the first round with a smashing 68 but faded in a sudden collapse on the following rounds. The layout shows Tommy Armour with the Rivermead trophy and set-up on the 18th green at the Lakeview club. Ken Black (right) of Vancouver, is holeing out while Armour is getting ready to play his last shot.

Herb Ralph's Terriers started off on the right dog in their juvenile hunt for the O.B.A.A. title—a tougher task for local teams than Galahad found in chasing around and looking for ye Holy Grail. They went to Oshawa yesterday in their first playdown game and won out, 7-5, but not without a struggle, lads and lassies. Going into the ninth inning with the count 4-all and the Oshawa players and fans—three hundred strong—shouting the ears off a brass monkey, the gloom around Terriers' dugout was thicker than a bride's first pie-crust!

* * * * * *

But then, a lad named Grant Clark whammed into the ball and drove it clean up against the clubhouse in deep left for three cushions... He was followed muy pronto—as we used to say when smuggling Chinese over the Mexican border—by singles from the trusty bats off Kingdon and brother Al Clark. These, plus a passed ball and an out, chased in a mere three runs and a lot of gloom away from the locals' bench. The homesters gallantly set to work in their half of the ninth, got one run in and two on base with only one out. Again the noise was disgustingly loud—at least to Peterborough ears—but a snap throw caught a lad dozing off first base, and the next buckaroo waved at three to finish it up.

* * * * * *

'Twas a nice embroglio!—okay, then, game—and Terriers turned in good ball, though not their best at that, we think. They massed up a few and let some soft hits through. On the other hand, they turned in some nifty defensive plays and hit hard and timely. Then, too, Oshawa booted half a dozen around to help the Ralph lads to some unearned runs. Tip Anderson, though hit hard at times, hurled steady ball, going good in the pinches and fanning eleven. This juvenile team will take a lot of licking this summer, but we imagine Oshawa—with their ace, Normile, pitching the next game here—will put up a stiff argument before dropping out of the hunt.

So it's good-bye Brintons for this year! Orphans, playing inspired softball behind the grand twirling by Frank Shine, rubbed the Carpetmen out of the picture at Central last eve in the deciding game of the semi-finals. It was 2-0 and a dandy tilt before a mammoth crowd. Shine held his opponents to five scattered hits and fanned seven. Abbott also turned a smart game, but his teammates couldn't get him two runs, so he lost. It's been a good series between good teams, but Orphans proved a little the better to get the nod. They now meet Johnston's Tires in the five-game finals, first game Thursday and second one Saturday.

Another communication from the president of the Provincial Women's Softball Union reached us yesterday, in which she enclosed a copy of their playdown regulations, an invitation for the Peterborough gals' loop to send a representative to their next annual meeting in the spring, and the promise that she would try to visit this town toward the end of the local schedule or during the playoffs in order to see the calibre of gals' softball up this way. Evidently, this Union is anxious to have the Peterborough Girls' Softball League join it next year, since this loop passed up the opportunity the past spring.

Two senior ball games today, Belleville in Kingston and the Petes in Oshawa. If the Ponies can knock off the Nats while we're beating the Dukes, we could move into a first-place tie with Belleville. Of course, we might lose while Belleville is winning—which would be just this side of a calamity. We had been banking on Oshawa beating Smith and the Bellevillians in the Motor City Saturday, but the Dukes played poor ball to lose a loose tilt before their biggest crowd of the season. This week's game may have quite a bearing on the playoffs. Kingston is here again this Saturday in their last Peterborough appearance of the season—unless maybe in the playoffs.

Percy Bond, Peterborough proxy of the O.H.A., was home again yesterday after carding for Tommy Armour while the Chicago Scot was winning the Canadian Open golf championship for the third time. Percy has scored for him every time he won this title, but got his biggest kick out of the competition this year when Armour had to come from behind, after slipping a bit, and play grand golf to ride home in front. Incidentally, a number of rule changes, as published in the Royal Canadian Golf Assoc. year book, will be run in today's paper, and for the next day or two. Should be of interest to all golfers.

Golf Rule Changes

The 1934 year book of the Royal Canadian Golf Association contains a number of rule changes submitted by the Ontario Golf Association that should be of interest to every golfer. They became effective this year and will be memorized by the conscientious player on the links. Following are several of these changes:

Definitions: No. 6 — A path, a bush and all tracks are now excluded from the definition of "hazard." No. 22 — "Committee," "Referee" and Marker." This definition no longer provides for an umpire. The duties and powers of an umpire as formerly defined are now consolidated in one official, a referee. A "Marker" is a scorer, not a referee. "Committee" is the committee in charge of the competition. No. 23 —A "Rub of the Green" occurs when a ball in motion is stopped or deflected by any agency outside the match.

General Rules: Rule 8, dropping and placing—When a ball is dropped it must come to rest not nearer the hole. If, owing to the configuration of the ground, it is impossible to drop the ball without it rolling nearer the hole, it must be placed. The old rule did not contain these provisions. Rule 9, Sub-Section 2— Where the opponent's ball has moved the player's ball in a hazard or on the putting green, the opponent has the right to place the ball as near as possible to the spot from which it was moved. Old rule required the ball to be droped.

Rue 11, removal of obstructions— This rule has been substantially changed by making it more general including "bridge, bridge panking, seat, hut, shelter." The last paragraph is entirely ne wand gives the player the right to lift and drop, if the stroke be interfered with by an immovable obstruction within two club lengths of the ball. Rule 12, removal of oose impediments— Except when the ball lies in, or touches a hazard the removal of loose impediments is now permitted even though they are more than a club's length from the ball and even if the loose impediment lies in a hazard.

Rule 17, moving ball stopped— This rule and definition 23 cover the old rule except the new rule omits the instance where a ball is stopped by a forecaddie. Rule 19, ball striking player—There is added to the new rule, "forecaddies"; otherwise there is no change in substance.

ELECTRICS DROP 7 TO 5 DECISION

Seventh Inning Rally Nipped in Bud With Injury to Helen Newson.

TOUGH ONE TO LOSE

C.O.E. girls failed to shake the jinx which has been following them in the second half of the City and District Softball Loop, last night when they went to Keene and lost a tough battle 7 to 5. They secured their five counters in the last frame and were headed for the lead when Helen Newson was injured running to the plate, and this accident, besides robbing the Electrics of a run, took the punch out of the players and the battle was over.

Electrics played a snappy game behind the steady twirling of Helen Newson. They found the opposing pitchers hard to hit but nevertheless capitalized on every walk and their base running was perfect. They failed to tally until the seventh, when Marilyn McCarthy, who had fanned six and held the city team hitless, weakened. She allowed a single and loaded the bases with a walk and an error at short. The next batter walked also to send the first counter across. With one down and three on Mary McCarthy went to the mound. A free pass, a double by Dot Self and a fielder's choice sent four counters over. Helen Newson was out when she fell running from third and Dot Millar field to centre to retire the side and the game was called on account of darkness.

Keene cracked out three singles in the second for the same number of runs, added one in the third and three more in the fifth. Grace McCarthy, who has been out of the game with an injured hand, took her place in the line-up and played a perfect game at centre, taking three flies. She hit twice out of three.

Lawn Bowling by Herb Martin

A WEEK from to-day the biggest event ever attempted by our bowling club will be well under way. And when we say biggest, we mean biggest.

IT IS the intention of the tournament committee to put this thing over big; and with that object in view, every member is going at full speed.

THESE BOYS have worked hard, are working hard, and will keep on doing so until the very last minute. They are backed up by the entire membership of the club and the manufacturers of the city and by many merchants.

EVERY MAIL that arrives brings in more entries. Oshawa, Port Hope, Bowmanville, Cobourg and Toronto are already represented. Up till last night there were sixteen local entries.

WE ARE just printing all this because we want all our bowlers to realize the importance of getting their entry in early. Remember we are only accepting 64 rinks; the first in, gets the call. We don't want to be too optimistic, but we will get all of our quota. Already we have twenty-five official entries. And we have a week to go yet. So take a tip from some of us who are on the inside and get busy and line up a rink and be in at the finish.

THE FIRST round in the schedule play-offs proved to be a washout. In both cases the losers were completely outclassed. Maybe Lady Luck played her part to some extent, but then the winners must be given credit for bowling a good game. Enid after end George Coleman was up against a stone defence; the front end of his rink giving him very little support. With Billy EZelhr it was about the same as it was with Coleman. However, tomorrow will be another night.

Cady, 6-1 and 6-4;

Men's doubles—H. Hammell and R. Friend upset the first seeded veterans, Bowness and Jackson, in three sets. The lobbing game of the older men gave them a wide margin in the first set but from then on the younger team wrecked that with their smart play. The score was 1-6, 6-4 and 6-2.

Baer Referees Bout In His Own Fashion

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 8. (CP).—To find himself floored is something unusual for Max Baer, world's heavyweight champion, but that's just what happened to him in a local ring.

However, the boxing champion soon had the situation in hand. During a wrestling bout he was refereeing, "Wild Red" Berry beat Jean Labelle into a groggy condition. Then Berry proceeded to put Baer on the floor with a wild blow.

Labelle was not able to arise and defend himself so Baer attended to the matter for both. He let fly an uppercut and down went Berry.

CHAPTER 8

Dilly stripped off her raincoat, handed it to Giles and flung her little hat to Scripps, who lighted-up and laughing, caught it. Her short fair hair, thus revealed, framed a fresh-cheeked, smiling countenance. Her nose had little golden freckles, and in the gray eyes under the long fair lashes were twinkling lights.

She began to lay the table, deftly, having brought a cloth, and going back and forth to Scripps' cupboard for the dishes.

"There's coffee in the thermos bottle," she enumerated as she bent over her basket, "pickles," she set a bottle on the table, "olives," another bottle, "open them, Giles, and then we're ready."

Giles drawing out a chair for her, said, "Scripps tells me the baby is better."

"Yes. I left her with William. And he is scared stiff. He has lived five years in a lighthouse and he's never been afraid of anything. But baby has him petrified. She's so helpless and little. He handles her as if she were going to break."

Dilly was pouring the coffee. "Cream for you, Scripps, and none for Giles. What a pair you are, doing everything differently, yet such friends."

Scripps flared: "Does drinking my coffee with cream make me different from Giles? We're absolutely alike in everything except that I won't accept his philosophy. He believes that everything works together for good. Which is archaic . . . rot . . ."

Dilly's eyes met Giles' and saw a warning. "Oh, well, we're not going to quarrel about it on anybody's birthday, are we? And you haven't told me how you like the sandwiches."

"Delicious," Giles said, "how do you do it, Dilly?"

"Do what?"

"Take care of a house and a baby and a garden and look after that husband of yours . . ."

"Keeping house," Dilly told him, "in a lighthouse has its advantages—with no neighbors running in, and nothing to interrupt, and William and I get up early. . . . He helped me make the sandwiches . . . buttered 'em and sliced the roast chicken. . . . He's to have the wings and legs for his dinner, and I baked a little cake for him. . . ."

"Lucky William."

Dilly was complacent. "Yes, he is. And so am I. And so's the baby . . ." she sent her smiling glance to meet their smiles. "And now, will one of you light the candles?"

Scripps did it, touching each pink tip with flame, his white hair and young face illumined by the growing brightness.

"And now," Dilly prompted, as they gazed upon that rosy effulgence, "make a wish, Giles, and if you blow all of them out at once it will come true."

"What shall I wish?"

"It must be a secret. In your heart."

"What if I have no heart?"

"Then in your soul."

"Why should I have any secrets from you and Scripps? I shan't make a wish. I'll drink a toast instead." He raised his glass, "To the silver slippers."

"What slippers?" Dilly demanded.

"Those on the shelf."

She turned and looked at them. "Whose are they?"

He rose and brought them over, showed her the tag. "Joan Dudley."

"Never heard of her."

"She's at the hotel. A school teacher she has squandered a month's salary on these shoes."

"So Scripps says."

Dilly's voice was wistful. "How wonderful it must be to wear slippers like that, and the gowns to go with them. Yet you say she's a school teacher."

"So she told me. But there's a rich aunt, who probably pays for luxuries. Miss Dudley motored down with her."

"I wonder if I'd dare try them on?"

"Why not?"

Dilly's feet were small, and the silver shoes fitted perfectly. "I feel like Cinderella," she said, delightedly, "at the ball," she essayed a few dancing steps, humming a tune. "Come on, Giles . . ."

He danced with her, until suddenly she stopped . . . and said with a sort of quick decision, "The ball is over. And my William doesn't dance. . . . Take back your slippers, Scripps. They're too . . . disturbing."

Giles was aware that beneath the light words was some emotion not seen on the surface. But he said nothing, at the moment, and presently they were all laughing together as Giles blew out the gutted candles, and Dilly cut the cake.

When, however, Giles carried Dilly's basket back to the boat, he asked a straight question. "Happy, little Dilly?"

"Yes. What made you ask that?"

"Because when you stopped dancing there was something . . . as if you were wishing for pleasures you didn't have, Dilly?"

She smiled up at him. "Everybody yearns now and then for—the fleshpots. And sometimes I'm fed up a bit on solitudes. But there's always William and the baby . . . and the great light . . . and love . . ."

It was bravely said, and beautifully. He laid his hand on her shoulder and looked down at her, "What a dear child you are . . ."

"Not a child any longer, Giles. I'm the mother of a baby."

"But always a child at heart."

As he helped her into the boat, she asked, "How are things going on the island?"

"No better."

"If you could only get away for a bit."

"I can't leave Scripps alone to bear it."

"Oh, you deserve a halo."

"My dear child, it is Scripps who deserves the halo."

As he untied the rope he said:

"More rain. But you're such a little duck you won't mind."

"You taught me to swim . . ." she reminded him. The motor began its "plop, plop," and Dilly, standing up, steered expertly. "Good-by," she called over her shoulder.

Giles watched her until she was a mere speck on the gray surface of the harbor. Such a brave soul, little Dilly, living there in the lighthouse at the end of the sandy peninsula with William and the baby. Her grandfather and Giles' had been brothers, sons of a sturdy English merchant who had settled in Salem. Giles' grandfather had studied law and had loved his books; the other son, Mark, had been a rover and a ne'er-do-well. Thus it had happened, as it often happened on that rocky coast, that one branch of the family had advanced in wealth and influence, and the other had gone back. Young Giles and Dilly had been the best of friends. But Giles had had private schools and college, while Dilly as she came along had taken education as she could get it in Granitehead and she had been in the same classes as William Tucker, whom she had married. William was fine and upstanding, but now and then young Giles had sighed to think of the waste of Dilly's charms.

He said something of the kind to Scripps when he returned to the shop. "Sometimes I think if she had not married William and could have seen the world . . ."

"You and I have seen the world," said Scripps, "and what good has it done us?"

Giles Armiger had that to think about when he returned to his books. There were few customers for the rain continued, and below stairs in his shop, Scripps tapped and sewed, and old Peter slept and waked to preen his feathers and slept again.

It was almost six when the two men went down to the float and stepped into the gray boat with the bright bronzes. They had a longer way to go than Dilly. They swept around the lighthouse and into the open sea. Then a mile along the coast, and a low island lifted its head. They steered towards it, and as they came up to the landing a man came to meet them. Jose, a Portuguese, was man of all work, and Margarida, his wife, looked after the house. The house as they approached it showed as a long low structure built to conform to the outline of the rocks so that it seemed almost a part of them with its shingles silvered by the weather. There were vines growing over it—wisteria, which roofed it with lavender in the spring, and roses with their pink in June. Just now the riot of color was in the garden in which bloomed all the old-fashioned flowers which are at their gayest in midsummer. Even the pouring rain could not deaden their brilliance. It seemed rather to intensify it as it washed down on larkspur and four-o'clocks, lady slipper and phlox.

The outer door of the house led into the living room, which was faintly illumined by a fire on the hearth and by its shine on dark old woods and on the rich blue of two huge Chinese vases, by the red of lacquer and the gold of all the small heathen gods in a cabinet inlaid with mother-of-pearl. In the dining room beyond was the glimmer of glass and silver, with two tall unlighted candles, white as ghosts amid the gloom.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, August 9

A day of surprising and quite unforeseen events and circumstances is presaged from the ruling lunar aspects. There is likely to be a sudden change, of a devastating nature, disturbing affairs generally and having a far-reaching effect on the future life. This may have strong reactions on the domestic, affectional or social relations, with the influence of an elderly female molding decisions. In fact there may be intriguing, sentimental or spectacular phases in such affiliations.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of unsettlement, change and sudden disruptions in all the affairs, this having a radical influence on the entire course of the future life. There may be the element of the sentimental or romantic as the actuating force, with the affiliation of an elderly female dominating. There may be mystical, spiritual aims or angles of intrigue.

A child born on this day may have unusual or original talents, with leanings toward the novel, curious and mystical or occult. It may be restless, unsettled and may travel far from its birthplace.

TORONTO. — Declaring that the Ontario Government had made a "grossly unwarranted assumption of dictatorial power," and blaming animosity for the motive behind it, Major S. J. Robins stated to-day he would not resign from his eight-year-old post as general manager and secretary-treasurer of the Hotel Association of Ontario without finding out the exact reason for his requested resignation. Major Robins, admitting his resignation has been requested, said the matter resulted from a pre-election meeting in Windsor.

Needs Training

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (AP).—George Martin Lott, Jr., of Chicago, is back from England to-day with what he thinks is the answer to the question: "How can the United States recapture the world's tennis supremacy?"

"It sounds simple enough and I honestly believe it's just as sound," said the 27-year-old Chicago doubles veteran, who with Lester R. Stoefen of Los Angeles scored the only point for America in the Davis Cup challenge round against England at Wimbledon last month.

"In my opinion," Lott said, "Stoefen potentially is the greatest player in the world. He needs to be taught how to train. 'Stoef' has all the shots and knows plenty about court generalship. But he needs somebody to train him."

STORRAR WINS GIBSON MATCH

Queen's Own Rifles' Rifleman Shoots a Possible in 300 Yard Range.

LONG BRANCH COMPETITION

(By Foster Barclay, Canadian Press Staff Writer).

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 8.—(C. P.). — Marking himself master of rapid firing competition, Lieut. R. Storrar of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, to-day captured the Gibson Memorial match at the 60th Annual Meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association.

The Toronto rifleman rammed his seven shots home for a possible at 300 yards and had the bolt of his gun thrown open and resting on his elbow when the cease fire whistle was blown. Second prize went to Toronto when Sgt. J. Kirkaldy of Toronto Regiment notched 34 in the one-minute time limit allowed for the seven rounds.

An easterly breeze, blowing earlier in the morning, had died down by the time the marksmen took the butts for the match and the scores were better than last year.

In third place six marksmen turned in scores of 33.

Lt. Storrar's possible was scored with about 50 men yet to shoot and the remaining riflemen practically conceded him the match. The winner receives the O. R. A. silver medal and a cash award of $15.

Earlier eight marksmen scored possible in the first relay of the match. The match will be completed on the 600 yard range this afternoon.

Mother Loses Grandson Assumes Noted Chief's Post

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 8 (CP)—History has repeated itself on the Garden River Indian Reserve, situated ten miles from the Sault, in the election of William E. Shingwauk, better known as William R. Bine, as Chief.

The new Chief, who will lead his people for three years, is grandson of the renowned Chief Shingwauk, last hereditary leader of his people. Last century the old Chief walked from the Sault to Toronto to ask that a school for Indian boys and girls be built.

Two other descendants of the old Chief were elected as members of the council on the reserve. They are Danny Pine, famed Indian pitcher, grandson, and Mark Pine, great grandson.

PROVINCE HOLDS WORK ON BRIDGE

Delay in Erecting New Bridge Laid to Province by Federal Member.

MONEY GRANTED.

Replacement of the old bridge spanning the Trent Canal on Highway No. 7, is a project that is being held up by the Provincial and not the Federal authorities, according to E. A. Peck, K.C., M.P.

In a recent interview with The Examiner, Mr. Peck stated that so far as the Federal government was concerned erection of the new bridge had been sanctioned, and appropriations had been made for that purpose.

According to his understanding of the matter as it stood prior to the Provincial election, a new draw bridge was to be erected to replace the present structure long since condemned for the use of heavy vehicular traffic, under a joint agreement between the Federal and Provincial authorities.

Commenting on the announcement made by T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P.-elect at the Liberal-Conservative nomination meeting attended by ex-Premier the Hon. George S. Henry in May last when he said, "The Ontario Department of Highways received an assurance last week that the work would be undertaken at once"—Mr. Peck provided the assurance "the work is not being held up by the Federal Government."

He understood that at the time Mr. Lancaster announced "installation of the new Federal draw bridge across the Trent Canal is now an absolute certainty," that the Provincial Department or Highways had determined to go right ahead on their part of the agreement. Mr. Peck assumed that since the Provincial election plans of the Department had been altered and he imagined that it was solely on that account that the proposed work was being delayed.

Mr. Peck was unable to even hazard a guess as to when the work might be undertaken, emphasizing that it was now solely up to the Provincial Department of Highways. Meanwhile heavy traffic approaching the city from the east is still being detoured into the city by way of the road north of Downer's Corners and west on Hunter street.

A scow is anchored in the canal just north of the present bridge and it is understood that drilling operations have started preparatory to abutments for the new bridge being constructed.

Big Muskies Caught Trent River Resort

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—Two of the largest fish of the season were caught here over the week-end. The larger maskinonge weighed 20 pounds, measured 32 inches in length, was caught by Charlie Symonds of 69 Greenwood Ave. Toronto, who is holidaying at Charlie McNicholl's cottage. Mr. Symond was casting from the wharf using a muskill spoon for bait when to his great surprise he landed the monster. He sent the head to Toronto to be mounted.

To Reg Taylor of 1086 Queen street, West Toronto, who spent the week-end at his summer home "Idlewood" goes the honor of landing the next big one while trolling near the big pier at the bridge—the muskie weighed 19 pounds and measured 30 inches in length.

2 Austrian Nazis Sentenced To Hang

VIENNA, Aug. 8 (A.P.) — Court martial to-day sentenced two members of the Nazi Putsch against the Government of Chancellor Dollfuss to be hanged.

One death sentence was pronounced at Klagenfurt against Karl Kostelnig. The other was ordered in Vienna against Ernst Feicke, a regular army soldier and the first such man to be brought to trial in connection with the Putsch.

Into Feicke's testimony was brought the name of Emil Fey, the Minister of Security, who was present at Dollfuss' death. The court rejected the defence counsel's demand for a hearing by the new Chancellor, Kurt Schuschnigg, as to whether safe conduct had been granted Dollfuss' assassins.

When the death sentence was pronounced, Feicke raised his arm in a Nazi salute and cried: "Heil Hitler." He was pulled back to his bench by a guard.

TOURIST TRADE SLACKENING UP

Hotels Are Not So Crowded —Fewer Licenses Being Sold.

COTTAGES IN DEMAND

A definite slackening of the tourist movement through this district with the arrival of August is indicated by reports from several sources. While several resort hotels expect a sustained business to the end of the month, a number report that their registration is down considerably from July. Sellers of fishing licenses in the city state that the demand for authorities has eased off.

Many tourists from the United States and western Ontario who are interested primarily in fishing, pushed into more northerly lake regions this year, it is believed. An increase in the number of tourist families renting cottages and living under tents in this region has been noted, however. Only a few cottages are available for renting on Stoney Lake, Rice Lake or in the Deer Bay region at the present time.

Cars bearing American license markers are still plentiful on Peterborough streets. Ohio markers seem to be most prevalent with New York a fair second. An unusual number of New Jersey cars were to be seen this year.

Issuers of fishing licenses state that the new $1.00 three-day license made available this season has been popular while, at the same time, there has been little demand for the $8.00 family license. The popularity of the three-day license has cut in considerably on the business in the regular $5.50 season license.

S. S, STAPLES SELLS FIVE JERSEY COWS

Orville Thompson of Aurora Purchases Cows From Cavan Farmer.

S. S. Staples, well known Jersey cattle breeder of Cavan Township, has sold five Jersey cows to Orville Thompson, Aurora, Ontario. Included in the lot is the R.O.P. cow Bess of Edendale with a record of 10,090 lbs. of milk containing 486 lbs. of fat, made at 5 years of age. This splendid cow is accompanied by her prize-winning 2-year-old daughter. Then there is the young cow Nellie's Silver Belle that is just completing a splendid record this year. The other two cows are daughters of cows that have made good records and all are safely in calf to the grand champion bull Nutgrove Gipsy Lad, whose dam has an R.O.P. record, and her average percent of fat is 6.9 per cent. His first daughter to complete a record has been awarded a silver medal certificate by The Canadian Jersey Cattle Club.

Mr. Staples has also sold two Jersey cows to Mrs. Kathleen McKay, Heath St., Toronto, Ontario. Both cows are splendid producers, one of which, Ruth You'll Do, has already completed a record of 7,748 lbs. of milk and 432 lbs. of fat at 2 years of age.

WINDSOR.—Mrs. E. J. Baxter, a Windsor war memorial trustee, has asked for police protection, saying she feared her home would be bombed in reprisal for her tearing an inspiration ribbon from a wreath placed on the cenotaph Saturday night by Communists, posing as members of an anti-war organization. Mrs. Baxter objected to the inscription "To our comrades who died in vain."

NO COMPLAINTS.

TORONTO, Aug. 7. —C. P.). — E. G. Odette, Ontario Liquor Control Board Commissioner, on his return to Toronto to-day said no complaints had reached him regarding behaviour in Toronto Hotels last night.

"There were a large number of visitors in the city," he declared, "and it is not our duty to look after them. It is a matter of police and law enforcement. Our concern is with the authority holder and if people drink too much and get on the streets it is for the police to deal with them. If the authority holder is at fault the Board is prepared to discipline him."

WEED KILLING FISH

SHAWVILLE, Ont., Aug. 7.—(CP)—Local anglers report that fishing is slackening off in the Bay of Quinte, believed because of the presence of huge floating masses of slimy algae in the water. It is said that this kills them by suffocation when minute particles of the weed enter their gills.

HITLER'S RULING TOTAL SURPRISE FOR THOUSANDS

Reds, Others Plotting Against State or Attempting Life Are Exempted.

MANY ARE EXILES.

Prison Terms Less Than 6 Months, Fines Under 1,000 Marks Cancelled.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—(C.P.-Havas) — Several thousand prisoners were expected to benefit from a general amnesty proclaimed by the German government today. Certain classes of political prisoners were included in the amnesty order.

Decision to establish amnesty was stated to have been reached at the time the offices of President and Chancellor were merged, but the announcement was made only today.

All prison sentences of less than six months and all fines less than 1,000 marks will be wiped out where they involve first offenses.

Sentences of less than three months' duration and fines not exceeding 500 marks are cancelled without condition.

Judicial proceedings begun prior to Aug. 2, date of the death of President von Hindenburg and proceedings relative to offenses before the date, will be quashed.

Partial political amnesty, which excludes most Communist and Social-Democratic prisoners by a stipulation excepting persons who will not cease "to conduct themselves as enemies of the Nazi state," was ordered.

Exemptions

Specifically excepted from the operation of the amnesty were plots against the safety of the state, treason, divulging of military secrets, attempts against life, and violations of the Explosives Law causing injury or death to a human being.

Persons interned in concentration camps should be released, Chancellor Hitler informed state governments, when their offense was small and it can be seen that they will cease to act as enemies of the Nazi state.

Political offences for which amnesty was granted were: Insults to the Chancellor; words or writing directed against the good or prestige of the nation, provided that the words were not inspired by an attitude of hostility to the state; faults committed through oversealousness in the cause of National Socialism; insults or hurts inflicted during political discussions prior to Aug. 2, 1934.

JEW-MOSLEM RIOTS FLARING

Senegalese Troops Are Rushed to Several Cities Around Constantine.

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 9. —(C.P.-Havas)—Race riots between Jews and Moslems broke out again today in various parts of Algeria.

One of the gravest of the new clashes took place at Beeida, near Constantine.

Senegalese troops were rushed to Beeida and elsewhere by command of General Kieffer, military governor of the region who has kept close watch for developments since the racial-religious riots first broke out last Saturday, catching French authorities, unawares.

Although Governor-general Judes Carde returned to Algiers last evening, believing the situation was in hand, it was expected he would hasten back here later in the day if police and soldiery found themselves unable to cope with the new outbreaks.

For the first time it was being alleged that professional agitators were behind the bloody events of the past week and that they were still here, disguised as Arabs and hidden in native fanatic quarters, inciting the Moslems to new pogroms on religious pretexts. The agitators, it has been charged, are attempting to stir up a revolt against the French administration.

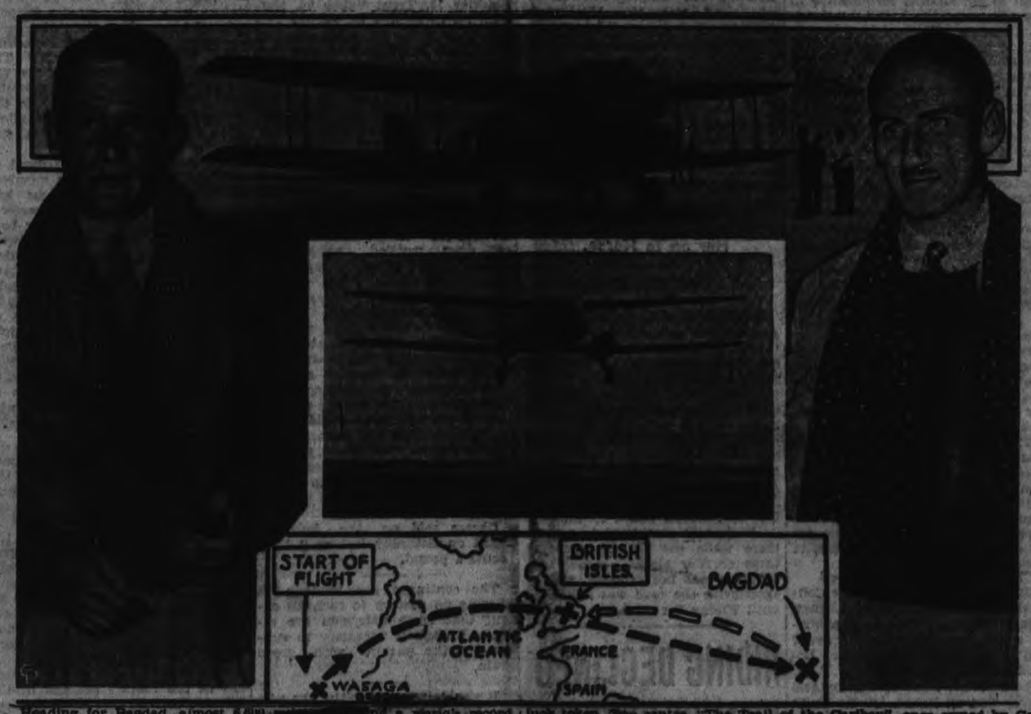
Failing Gas Ends Wasaga Beach-Bagdad Flight in London



Heading for Bagdad, almost 6,000 miles away and a world's record, James Ayling and Leonard Reid ran low of gas after battling Atlantic storms for hours and landed outside London, England at 12.07 E.S.T. today noon. The "Trail of the Caribou" left Wasaga Beach yesterday morning at 5.13 a.m. carrying 600 gallons of gas brought from England for the trip. The fliers also had a miniature Buddha aboard as a good luck token. Top centre, "The Trail of the Caribou", once owned by Captain James and Amy Mollison, as it stood on the sands of Wasaga Beach just before the take-off, and (second) climbing into the air for a perfect start. WOMEN'S EVENTS OPEN.

WEMBLY, England, August 9 (CP Cable).—Terry Evans, Toronto middleweight, gave Canada her first ring title at the British Empire Games to-day, by scoring a fall over Harcus of Scotland after 8 minutes, 17 seconds of wrestling in the final.

Evans' triumph was in the only final staged at the first session today, but Canadians moved ahead without a slip in other divisions, and appeared likely to sweep the wrestling championships. Evans used a half-nelson and bar to get Harcus' shoulders to the mat.

LONDON, Aug. 9 (CP Cable) —The Council of the British Empire Games Federation decided to-day to circularize all the Dominions as to their willingness to hold the next games, probably in 1938. MOVIE COLONY IS SUSPECTED Police Claim Several Stars, Directors Sponsoring Red Activities.

PUT UP FUNDS.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9. (AP).—Hollywood's motion picture colony was drawn to-day into a Congressional investigation of Communist and Silver Shirt activities in southern California.

"Several prominent motion picture stars and directors," said police Captain William Hynes, "are supporting an asserted Communist movement here."

Hynes' statement was made after he had left the Congressional sub-committee's rooms, where he described the growth of Communistic activities in Southern California, principally in Los Angeles. At the conclusion of the hearing yesterday, Representative Charles Kramer, committee chairman, said economy forced a discontinuance of further sessions.

Hynes, head of the Los Angeles police intelligence squad, said he possessed the names of the contributors and would present them "at the proper time."

"Most of those who have contributed thousands of dollars to advance the Red cause in America believe they are guided by philanthropy," he declared.

He said most of the donors were once poor and felt obligated to "help out the poor man."

ALL U.S. SILVER IS NATIONALIZED BY ROOSEVELT

Sets Price 50.01 Cents Per Ounce—Must be Sent Mints Within 90 Days.

CERTAIN EXEMPTIONS.

By BENJAMIN COLBY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (A.P.)— President Roosevelt to-day nationalized the United States' store of silver and called for its delivery to the United States mints within 90 days at a price of 50.01 cents an ounce.

The action was taken by executive order under authority granted by Congress in the silver purchase act passed last session. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau made public the order and an accompanying presidential proclamation at a press conference.

In taking over the silver, Morgenthau told reporters the government was exercising the right of eminent domain.

Leave Coins Out

"I am much relieved that it's over," was the secretary's only comment on his announcement.

Nationalization of silver followed by a little more than a year somewhat similar action with regard to

Circus Girls Helped Five-Year-Old Chap

Roy was one of the hundreds of kids attracted to the Exhibition Grounds yesterday morning by the ever-powerful lure of the Al. G. Barnes' Big Top. He was wandering about the lot somewhat lonesomely with a wistful eye on the side shows and the main entrance when several riding girls of the circus took him in hand. For a starter, they bought him a fine new shirt, and then provided him with a dinner. As the afternoon performance got under way, they had him escorted to one of the best seats in the tent. A collection taken up among the girls after the performance netted about $10 and he was taken uptown and outfitted with a complete suit of clothes by way of a parting gift for the day.

The girls select some lucky lad for similar attention in almost every city and town they visit. "It's their motherly instinct," an official of the show explains.

Cancelled

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (CP) — Three beer and wine authorities issued to hotels have been cancelled, E. Odette, Commissioner of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, said to-day. One is in Brantford, one in Belleville and the third at Holland Landing.

"These authorities were revoked," said Mr. Odette, "for the simple reason the premises were not satisfactory and the proprietors were not living up to the promises made in the applications."

Mr. Odette declined to give the names of the hotels.

"The point is," he said, "the law has been in operation now for about two weeks, and we intend to tighten down and see that the rules and regulations are complied with."

PASTURES DYING OVER NEBRASKA

Fifty Per Cent. of Cattle Will Be Sold for Lack of Feed.

CORN, HAY STUNTED.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 9.—(A.P.). —Heat-seared pastures and fields of stunted brown corn are mute evidence of the worst drought in Nebraska since pioneers first broke its prairie sod.

Thousands of head of cattle are being eliminated from herds developed after years of breeding, and 50 per cent of the state's cattle may have to go for lack of feed.

The Nebraska farmer whistles to keep up his courage. Few have abandoned their farms and practically all are planning ahead, hoping to produce some forage to help carry stock through the winter.

Two-thirds of the state has been stripped of crops, and crops elsewhere are damaged badly. More than 70 of the State's 93 counties already are classified by the United States Government as primary or emergency drought areas. The rest are listed as secondary drought districts.

To-day one can drive for hundreds of miles in central Nebraska and see nothing but fields browned and corn wilted so badly that the king crop of the cornhusker state won't even make forage.

For months farmers have pastured cattle along railroad rights-of-way, in weeds between highways and farm fences and even on the leaves of fallen trees.

Fast Going

Exactly 30 hours and six minutes after the airplane, "Trail of the Caribou," flown by two intrepid British fliers, James R. Ayling and Leonard Reid, had zoomed over Peterborough on its attempt at a record-breaking non-stop flight from Wasaga Beach to Bagdad, the airmen set their black biplane down at Heston Aerodrome.

It was at 6.01 yesterday morning that a representative of The Examiner sighted the Atlantic fliers over this city and at 12.07 E.S.T. to-day that they suddenly appeared over London, England.

Failing fuel supply forced them down. They averaged better than 120 miles an hour for the 2,700 miles.

NO NUDIST CAMP IN ALL ONTARIO SURVEY SHOWS

Settlement at Iroquois Island in St. Lawrence Fails to Materialize.

SOME NUDE BATHING.

Majority of By-laws Obsolete —Cities Leave Matters Entirely Up to Police.

(By Canadian Press).

At the numerous summer tourist bureaux in Ontario they will tell you that within the vast stretches of the Province there is every attraction one possibly could wish. But there's one thing you won't find. Ontario has no nudist colony.

If there is, it is not known to police or newspapermen. It was with their aid the Canadian Press conducted a survey in Ontario and the closest they came to finding such an instituton or establishment was hearsay. But there is no really honest-to-goodness camp whereone might cavort in nature's own attire, at least, not legally

A settlement was planned for Iroquois Island, among the other 599 of the Thousand Islands, where one was going to be able to appear more daring than pictures portray even Adam and Eve. But that has failed to materialize, and from sentiment manifest along that section of the Canadian border the New York promoters will encounter many obstacles in attempting to carry out their project next year.

Brockville Tolerant.

However, the city of Brockville in the heart of that district, appears to be about the most legally tolerant in regards to nude bathing. Municipal by-laws, of course, demand wearing of a "proper and sufficient bathing dress." But that's only between the hours of six a. m. and 10 p.m. apparently leaving the dress at other hours to one's discretion.

However, there are no official complaints of nude bathing or "indecent exposure" within the city limits, though reports of nude bathing along the St. Lawrence banks are often heard.

Most of the by-laws covering bathing attire, the survey discloses, are of early legislation and, in many cases, obsolete, leaving the entire matter to the discretion of police. Wearing of "shorts" by men are banned on some beaches while on others swimmers are prohibited from leaving the designated bathing areas.

No Measuring Sticks

Nowhere in the province are laws so modern as to require measurement of trunk lengths. Otherwise, yardsticks would have been required in the days when most municipal bathing laws were formed.

Stratford, Kitchener, Brantford, Guelph, Galt and Windsor all leave the matter, generally speaking, to police discretion. Stratford prohibits Sunday bathing "in the river," but a new swimming pool is being well patronized seven days a week.

Northern Ontario, which affords the greatest possibility for those desiring a "full-dress" sun tan, reports no complaints. It would be a short season for a nudist camp up there. Reports from Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury and North Bay districts all say black flies and mosquitoes would play an important part in enforcing demands for partial dressing.

REID AND AYLING FORCED TO QUIT BY FAILING GAS

Appear Suddenly Over British Capital and Land on Outskirts at 12.07 Noon.

COVER 3,700 MILES.

Battle Atlantic Storms For Many of 30 Hours in Air Controls Jam.

LONDON, Aug. 9. —(C. P.). — In a gallant but unsuccessful bid for a new long-distance flying record, two British aviators set their plane down here early this evening after a flight of nearly 31 hours across the Atlantic ocean and Eastern Canada from the take-off point at Wasaga Beach, Ontario, early yesterday.

James R. Ayling and Leonard Reid, flying the re-built "Trail of the Caribou," successfully covered roughly half of their Wasago-to-Bagdad flight venture before they landed.

The fliers who disappeared leaving the North American continent near Belle Isle, late yesterday, turned up unexpectedly right in the heart of the Empire. Their last sighting was near Belle Isle; the next report was their black, two motored biplane was seen over Stag Lane Aerodrome, here at 5.55.

They set the plane down on the ground at Heston Aerodrome. Their take-off was at 5.12 a.m., e.s.t. yesterday; their landing at about noon, so they were in the air a few minutes short of 31 hours.

The couple covered approximately 3,700 miles. Their original objective, Bagdad, called for a 6,300 mile flight.

The aviators landed at 12.07 p.m. E.S.T. Their time in the air was 30 hours and 55 minutes.

KILLED HUSBAND.

OSSINING, N. Y., Aug. 9. —(A. P.). — To-night, save only for the power and pity of His Excellency the Governor, Anna Antonio must keep her thrice-broken rendezvous with death.

The courts again have shaken their heads in negation to this self-widowed mother's plea for life, Governor Herbert Lehman, himself —like the condemned woman —a parent of three children, is the only remaining hope.

The death chamber, thrice cheated, is ready again. Not since 1927 when Ruth Snyder—a husband killer, too—sat down to the dynamo's humming death, has a woman died there.

Three times before Anna Antonio, only 29, has seen her number go up, and three times come down. Each time it was the Governor who saved her by the mere lifting of a telephone receiver, the mere scratching of a pen. As simple as that.

But to-day? The governor has has given no indication of his intention. "I have taken no action," he said. Did he mean "I will take no action?" Anna Antonio, watch-

Bagdad Fliers Winging Way Over Ocean

REID AND AYLING LAST REPORTED NEAR BELLE ISLE

Plane Reported by Government Steamer Off North Newfoundland.

DISAPPEARS IN FOG.

Daring Pair Have Tail Wind to Aid Them on 6,300 Mile Dash.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 9. —(C. P. Cable)—Two daring young aviators, confident they can finish the job abandoned by the Mollisons, were believed winging their way over the Atlantic today in an attempt to set a new long-distance aeroplane record.

With Bagdad as their goal, James Ayling and Leonard Reid hopped off from Wasaga Beach, Ont., yesterday morning carrying more than enough gasoline to see them over the projected 6,300-mile flight.

Their twin-motored biplane "The Trail of the Caribou" was last reported late yesterday afternoon when it passed near Flat Island, in the Strait of Belle Isle. It was then headed directly for Belle Isle, but dense fog probably hid it from the few people on that tiny upthrust of land off the Northern tip of Newfoundland.

The report was flashed to the Canadian East Coast Radio Station at Belle Isle by the Canadian government steamship Aranmore.

No more messages were received and it was presumed the flyers had pierced the fog barrier and continued on their way.

Light Tail Wind Aids

They had a light tail-wind to speed them and weather reports from further out on the ocean were more favorable.

Their black-winged machine was the former "Seafarer II" in which James and Amy Mollison started just such a flight last year but abandoned it after the plane was slightly damaged on the take off at Wasaga Beach. Ayling and Reid had added power and effected other improvements.

Although Reid was born in Montreal 36 years ago, Newfoundland is particularly interested in his flight because he spent some years here when his father was manager of the Government railway. Ayling, 39, has had no more experience than his partner in long-distance flying but is a competent aviator, having served with the Royal Air Force at Singapore and done some flying in England.

SAN FRANCISCO FEARS TONG WAR

Chinese in Dispute Over Control of Rich Coast Lotteries.

POLICE SEEK TEMPLE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9. (AP) threats of a tong war over lottery profits stirred San Francisco's Chinatown and Oakland's Chinese settlement last night. Police became unusually alert.

A peace meeting between the leaders of the powerful tongs was called in Oakland, but police said they could not learn the location of the temple where the Chinese planned to gather.

The dispute, said Police Inspector Jack Manion of the Chinatown squad, arose over control of the rich lotteries with headquarters in Oakland, across the bay.

RUMOR TORIES PLAN OCTOBER PARTY CAUCUS

Aim to Select Leader to Replace Henry Says Toronto Paper.

LANDS CLEAN-UP COMING.

Prices Paid Farmer, Milk Producers Must be Increased Says Official.

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.) — Rumbles of activity were heard in the Ontario Conservative party today that promised strong opposition to government forces while in the meantime the new Liberal administration continued its reorganization of government departments, determined to cut down expenditures.

The latest drive on government departments, according to the Mail and Empire, will be launched against the Department of Lands and Forests, now headed by Hon. Peter Heenan, former Labor Minister of the Dominion when the Liberals held power. An exhaustive survey of the department's administration during the Conservative regime will be made the Mail and Empire says.

The same paper declared "interested party groups" in the Conservative organization planned efforts to hold an October convention to select a new leader who would succeed former Premier George S. Henry. If the plans materialize, the Mail and Empire says, announcement will be made shortly of the October convention which would produce "a new deal."

The Western Ontario Conservative Association is described by the paper as the source of the convention request. "In that demand the Western Association will have, subsequently, it is said, the emphatic support of the Eastern Ontario Association," the Mail and Empire adds.

Newer, More Active Blood.

Under re-organization of the Conservative party, it concludes, new organizers would appear; a publicity campaign launched and "newer and more active blood" placed behind the cause.

E. G. Odette, head of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, left no doubt of the board's intention to enforce beer and wine regulations when he addressed the Ontario Hotelmen's Association Convention. He declared the administration intended to have hotels abide by the law.

Mr. Odette also declared the board planned to make hotels spend some of their profits from sale of beer and wine on improving premises. The work of inspectors which would be appointed to see regulations were carried out would be "strict", he stated.

Little possibility of sale of wine and beer in restaurants was seen in Mr. Odette's remarks. He said the sales had been confined to standard hotels as the board considered this provided better control.

Better Milk Prices.

The Government would throw its support to the farmer-producers, J. R. Heintz of the Ontario Milk Control Board, told the milk distributors' association. Prices paid producers must be increased, J. A. MacFeeters, chairman of the board who also addressed the association meeting, declared.

"If moral suasion won't serve then we will employ more severe measures," was Mr. MacFeeters' warning.

Woman's Husband Claims Accused Lassoed and Dragged Her on to Horse.

TAKEN IN PARADE.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9—Eugene Pardee, rope-swinging cowboy, known to the Winnipeg Exhibition and Stampede fraternity as Bar Bee, faced a charge of assault, following the alleged lassooing of Mrs. Cecil J. Welwood, during the exhibition parade here last Saturday.

The woman's husband laid the complaint. He alleges his wife was lassoed as she stood on Portage Avenue, Winnipeg's main thoroughfare, dragged a distance of thirty feet to Pardee's horse, forced onto its back, and compelled to remain there while the parade journeyed three or four blocks.

Pardee was not arrested, and by agreement, the case was remanded until Friday for trial.

RIDING DECLINED BY MRS. HEPBURN

Will Not Contest Federal Seat in Elgin West Premier States.

ONE MEMBER "ENOUGH."

TORONTO, Aug. 9.—One member of the Hepburn family in politics is "enough"—Mrs. Mitchell F. Hepburn will not contest the Federal riding of Elgin West left vacant by the resignation of her husband.

This, at least, is the edict as delivered by Mrs. Hepburn's husband last evening. Whether the husband's authority extends so far beyond Queen's Park is another question.

"Mrs. Hepburn has no intention of running," stated Premier Hepburn last night when asked about the report. "She has neither the intention nor the desire. She has been offered the Liberal nomination, and, while she appreciates very much the honor, she will not accept it."

BURGLAR LOOTS PASTOR'S HOME

Rev. H. B. Herrington, Thomasburg, Finds Old Clothes Left for Good Ones.

CHURCH BOXES EMPTY.

THOMASBURG, Aug. 9. (Examiner Correspondence).—A thief has again been busy in Thomasburg. On returning from their holidays on Friday, Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Herrington and daughter Lucille, found one of the parsonage doors open. On looking around Mr. Herrington discovered he was minus his best suit, hat, a pair of shoes, a pair of socks, a shirt, a suit of underwear and money from church boxes which had been left in the house.

The robber had evidenty changed his clothing at the parsonage as Mr. Herrington found a pair of old shoes, a hat, socks and underwear in the house, and in the barn he found a shirt and vest.

The police from Belleville were called and are trying to trace the intruder.

Magistrate's Court

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 9 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Appearing before Magistrate J. M. Bygott in police court here, Clifford Cassan of Campbellford, was assessed $5 and costs for a traffic violation. He was charged by Special Constable William Normington with not having lights on his car between the hours of sunset and sunrise.

The Wrong Door

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 9.—(CP) — Anton Fego, Oliphant store keeper, remembered the old proverb and went to lock his stable door with the horse still there.

When he returned to his store, the door of which he had left unlocked, he found thieves had stolen $30 from the cash register.

Dairy Notes

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 9 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Cheese offered for grading at the Campbellford grading station were registered from the various factories as follows: Roseneath 26, Brickley 16, Trent Valley 70, Norham 24, Crow Bay 34, Spring Valley 19, L.X.L. 37, Kimberley 40, Woodlands 19, Trent Bridge 49, New Model 20, Prince of Wales 40, Stanwood 31, Beaver 26, Rylstone 58, Brae 23, Seymour West 14, Burnley 59—in all a total of 607 boxes graded.

The following list of defects in cheese appear on the grader's reports: Flavor defects—Slightly rancid, not celan, rancid, fruity, slightly off, off, stable, feed; Mechanical defects—Acid, weak, gas, open mottled, coarse, stiff, lumpy, mealy, crumbly, rag holes, sweet holes, swiss holes, uneven size, cracked rinds, greasy rinds, poor finih, poor boxing.

At a meeting of the Central Ontario Cheesemakers' Association held at Belleville on Tuesday evening, after listening to a deputation from Picton asking for the convention, it was moved by F. M. Little of Campbellford and seconded by George Pollock of Belleville, that the 1934 Central Ontario Cheesemakers' Convention be held in Picton on December 4 and 5.

Cheese sold on the Belleville board on Saturday last at 9 15-16 cents a pound.

The continued dry weather is burning up pasture to such an extent that some dairymen are already finding it necessary to supplement the pasture with green grain.

It would appear that the one who has been directing the drilling for water at Rylstone and Stanwood cheese factories, is able to locate the subterranean veins, for while Stanwood had to drill further, the success of their quest for water has been equally as good.

WALLACE POINT ENTRY WINNERS KEENE REGATTA

Keene Girls Capture Softball Tournament in Two Straight Wins.

MUCH TOO HOT.

Men's Single Canoe Proved Feature Battle of the Contest.

[By a Staff Reporter]

SERPENT MOUNDS, Aug. 9. — Competition of a high calibre was witnessed by five hundred spectators who turned out for Serpent Mounds' annual program of aquatic contests, land races and softball tilts yesterday afternoon. The counter attraction offered by the Chemong regatta was responsible for a noticeable lightness in the aquatic competition but the afternoon lacked none of its usual flavour of success.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Cardwell of Wallace Point and other members of Rice Lake Aquatic clubs had the water program to themselves in the absence of the Jopling boys and girls and the rest of the formidable Chemong regiment. Their wins will give them an important advantage in the race for the individual trophies awarded annually by the association on the basis of points garnered at the various Rice Lake meets. Bill Taylor, Wallace Point, Frank Grey, Zack, Earl and Bill Smoke, all of Alderville, and Pat and Lillian McClellan of Hiawatha, were among those who made hay while the sun shone.

Fine Weather

Although the thermometer hovered a bit too high to suit the grandstanders, the day was otherwise ideal for the meet. Toward the end of the afternoon, a gentle breeze blew up obligingly as the officials were getting the children's races under way and the softballers were getting ready for action. The entire card was handled in an efficient manner by the body of officials responsible for the meet and disputes over decisions were conspicuous by their absence.

The men's single canoe proved one of the feature gestlies of the regatta. Bill Smoke, Herb. Godfrey and Frank Grey fought it out for the honours with well-matched strokes; Smoke won the decision by scarcely a half-length and Godfrey and Grey finished in a dead heat for second money.

Willens Wallace of Keene, a newcomer to the season's regatta lists, won a creditable victory over Mrs. Flossie Selby of Hiawatha and the McClellan girls in the ladies' single canoe event. Mrs. Selby placed a good second. In the upset canoe races, Herb. Cardwell again demonstrated his finished ability in the art of emptying and refloating a canoe to nose out his club cohort. Bill Taylor, in a hard run.

Ruth Sutton slid through the water for an easy victory over Marjorie Browne of Keene in the ladies' swim.

Keene Girls Win

The Keene girls' softball team won an undisputed championship in the ball tournament. With little opposition, they first swamped the Sixth Line club by a score of 17-8 and then proceeded coolly to trounce Bailieboro by a count of 20-10.

To the accompaniment of excited cheering by the large gallery, the final game saw the Bailieboro girls in their poorest form of the season. Keene began their scoring activities in the first frame and

Office Hours

HANKOW, China, Aug. 9.—(AP)—A Chinese district magistrate near here has concluded even gods must keep office hours. "No gods received after noon," says the sign appearing over his door, in Chinese characters.

The searing drought is responsible. Farmers roundabouts have been bringing their household gods to town each day to participate in mass prayers for rain.

Chinese custom demands the deities first be taken to visit the magistrate, and this one found himself inundated beneath a stream of heavenly visitors day and night.

FAMOUS ABERDEEN ANGUS HERD REALIZES $51,060

BALLINDALOCH, Banffshire, Aug. 9. —(C. P. Cable).— High prices prevailed to-day at the sale of the famous Aberdeen Angus Herd of Sir George MacPherson Grant. For the greated part of a century most of the herds of the breed have drawn some of their stock from the Grant cattle and buyers were eager to obtain the prize animals.

The sale realized a total sum of $51,060 for 112 head including 23 calves. The highest individual price was paid for a cow which brought $2,205. A bull brought $2,100 and a year old heifer sold for $2,047.

A London woman recently sold her collection of 1600 candle snuffers.

TERRIFIC STORM DELAYS TRIAL ARCTIC CIRCLE

Party on Judicial Way to Coppermine is Held Up at Cameron Bay.

NO FOOD ARRIVES.

Butter Soars to $1 a Pound—Planes Grounded—Pilot Reports Snow.

CAMERON BAY, N.W.T., Aug. 9 —A terrific storm of rain and sleet to-day was enveloping a 1,000-mile section in the Coronation Gulf area, on the Arctic Ocean, halting food supply boats and preventing departure of a judicial party to hold a murder trial at Coppermine, on Coronation Gulf.

Word of the storm, coming as a climax to bad weather conditions of the past week, was received by radio stations here. Several lesser storms were whipping the Great Bear area. The Arctic shore gale was reported to have reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour. Planes were grounded.

Fears were felt for the safety of three men who left here three weeks ago by boat on a 190-mile trip to Junk Point. They were Herbert Cole, Frank Dwelle and Frank Morrison. An aeroplane was being held in readiness to take off in the search for them.

Snow Falling

Pilot Walter Gilbert, tied up here several days, was able to make a flight yesterday to Contact Lake, where mining camps are located. He reported weather conditions bad with some snow falling. River boats have been delayed with food supplies, and eggs here are selling at $1.50 a dozen, cabbage 70 cents a pound, lemons 25 cents each, and butter $1 a pound. Lettuce and radishes are home grown and not affected much by the price rise. The trial of Ah-in-jak, an Eskimo, charged with the murder of Armariak, has been indefinitely postponed because of bad weather delaying departure of the judicial party from here to Coppermine, where the trial will be held. Magistrate J. M. Douglas, who will preside, and other court officials, are ready to take off as soon as weather permits.

BEVERAGE ROOMS OPEN IN HASTINGS HOTELS

HASTINGS, Aug. 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—Beer went on sale in Hastings for the first time on Wednesday afternoon. Beverage rooms were filled on Wednesday night, but there was no sign of any disorderliness. There were a few, and very few at that, that showed any signs of indulging too heavy.

DRAKE JOPLING WINS HUGHES CUP IN SINGLES CANOE ENTRY

SMALL ATTENDANCE.

"Youth must be served" might have been the slogan of the annual Regatta at Chemong Park, yesterday afternoon. It was the Senior event, with the Junior Regatta slated for a week ahead, but it was the young fry who romped away with the honors.

The contrasting attractions of the day had their effect on the attendance. The lady in the rose-pink tights who stood on her head on the back of a galloping steed and the gent who imitated a drunk on the slack wire, at the circus, along with the fact that the usual half-holiday failed to materialize this week, combined to make the gallery that arranged itself on the hillside, stop short at a scant two hundred mark.

But it was a mighty good regatta, with plenty of stiff competition throughout, right from the first event, canoe sailing in which a suggested error on the part of one of the contestants might have led to a protest, on to the finale, a tilting game in which one of the contenders, Jim White, entered in all the glory of white flannels and fresh shirt—and ended up in the lake in a burst of applause for his good sportsmanship.

Several of the events were extremely close finishes. Drake Jopling took the J. K. Hughes' cup from Art Wood of Ottawa by a small margin, in the men's single canoe entry. This is the second time that the cup has passed into Drake's hands, and a third win will see him the possessor for good. Many times in the past, however, this elusive cup has fallen to the lot of sundry contestants for a second time, and the third win never transpired. It does not require successive years, only a series of three wins.

The open ladies' tandem canoe event also saw a very close victory. In the first running, Jean Macfarlane and Mary McPherson captured first place, with three other boats tied for second. In the run-off, second honors resulted for Phyllis Jopling and Isabell Duffus, while third place went to Beverley Rogers and Marion Harvey. Prizes for this event were bon-bon dishes and curling irons. Third-place holders do not receive prizes, but the generous-hearted announcer, Fred Jopling, having insisted on naming them, a report should do no less.

Canoes Well to Fore

All the canoe events were especially strong. Skiffs were conspicuous by their absence, this being explained by one of the judges as owing to a lack of these older favorites, the canoe having displaced the heavier boat in popular fancy. A lack of pie-plates in Chemong ("The ladies out here don't make many pies"), also accounted for the changing of the pie-plate race to a mixed fours contest.

In the victorious race of youth, the two fair-haired McPhersons, Douglas and Mary, children of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. McPherson, were outstanding contributors to the success of Regatta. Douglas, with 35 points, stood second in line in the final counting of points for the boy and girl under sixteen years of age contesting for the special prizes of silver cups donated by Ross Thompson and Dr. McPherson.

Ross Pulkinghorn, with thirty-seven points, and Mary McPherson, with thirty-four, were respective boy and girl winners of these special awards.

The first place, with a prize in a silver cup and pennant, in the canoe sailing contest for the W. H. Bradburn trophy, went to Ross Pulkinghorn, with the second prize of a watch, won by Frank Ephgrave. There were five entries in this event.

An extremely large number of dinghies, a round dozen in all, competed for the Peterborough Canoe Challenge cup and pennant, over a course of six miles. The winner was William McLean, of Sturgeon Point, while the second prize, a watch, went to Don Fitzgerald, and Red Eastwood of Chemong was on their heels in a close finish.

The G. N. Gordon Trophy (silver cup and pennant), in the Open Sailing contest, was won by Gordon Matthews, in a 'walkover' for the "Bootlegger". Ellsworth Flavelle's "Cutty Sark" won the second prize, a utility chest. Four boats contested this race.

Sundry Events

Other events were won as follows: Men's single canoe (open, with only six entries): 1, Drake Jopling (silver cup); 2, Art Wood (paddle). Ted Hiland was third.

Girls' single canoe (16 years and under), with 3 entries: 1, Mary McPherson (cup); 2, Jean Macfarlane (pencil); 3, Beverley Rogers.

Mixed tandem canoe (16 years and under), with 3 entries: 1, Frank Jopling and Mary McPherson; 2, Art Wood and Jean Macfarlane. The winners in this event, for which prizes were cups and playing cards, had a spill directly after crossing the finishing line. Ward Wright and Beverley Rogers came third.

Boys' tandem canoe (16 years and under), with 3 entries: 1, Douglas McPherson and Ross Pulkinghorn (cup); 2, Allan Clark and Jack Jopling (pencil). Third place was won by 'Mike' Wood and David Rogers.

Gunwale race (16 years and under), with 6 entries: 1, Douglas McPherson (cup); 2, Ross Pulkinghorn (flashlight). Jack Jopling, 3rd.

Men's tandem canoe (open) with 7 entries in a close finish :1, Art Wood and Drake Jopling (cup); 2, Perry and Ralph Jopling (key cases); 3, Ted Hiland and Jack Jopling.

Men's fours (open), with 5 entries: 1, J. Sherwin's crew; Douglas McPherson, Ted Hiland and Ross Pulkinghorn; 2, Art. Wood's crew: Frank, Perry and Ralph Jopling. Prizes were pencils and playing cards.

Mixed tandem gunwale (open) with 6 entries, and prizes of 'Tiny Tim' clocks and bonbon dishes; 1, Mary McPherson and Ross Pulkinghorn; 2, Frank Jopling and Jean Harvey; 3, Isabell Duffus and Art Wood.

Boys' single canoe (16 years and under), with 3 entries: 1, Jack Jopling; 2, Ross Pulkinghorn; 3, Douglas McPherson. This was a very finely contested event, with awards in a cup and paddle.

Mixed tandem (16 years and under), with 3 entries: 1, Beverley Rogers and Jack Jopling (cups); 2, Mary McPherson and Ross Pulkinghorn (photo albums).

Verne Janeway made a conspicuously fine win in the one mile swim from the floating bridge. With a beautiful long stroke, he made a brilliant and loudly-applauded finish for the silver cup. William Gerow of Rubidge street was second winner of another cup, with Charles Cawker of Bowmanville third, and Frank McNulty fourth. There were six entrants.

George Spencer of Bowmanville was winner of the Boys' Swimming contest for 16 years and under, with Jack Jopling second and David Rogers third. A silver cup and pencil were prizes.

The 75-yard swim for men, with 8 competitors, found the entrants so enthused that they dived off the floating stand anchored by the judges out in the lake, and used as a starting-point, before the gun was fired, and came back for a second attempt. The silver cup for first place went to Charles Cawker of Bowmanville, with the second prize, a key-case, to John Scott, and Ward Wright in third place.

Ladies' swimming, 75 yards for a cup and a bon-bon dish, were five in all: 1, Mary Kingsbury; 2, Jeanne Harvey; 3, Isabell Duffus.

War Canoe Race

Girls' swimming event (16 years and under), with 3 entries, was won by Jean Macfarlane(silver cup); 2, Dorothy Bestard (bon bon dish; 3, Beverley Rogers.

In the mixed four's which took the place of the scheduled pie plate race, there were 6 entries and plenty of thrills. Art Wood's crew came first: Drake and Phyllis Jopling and Lillian McClellan; 2, Ross Pulkinghorn's crew: Douglas McPherson, Mary McPherson and Jean Macfarlane.

Two contestants battled ferociously for watermelons and suckers in the War Canoe race, with seven in a boat. Art Wood's crew won, with Terry Hall's bunch in second place, and a good ducking for the winners administered by the losers, before landing.

Crab races, as usual, provided plenty of amusement for the onlookers. Cups and pencils were the prize. In the open event, with 6 entries, Douglas McPherson and John Scott were winners, with Art Wood in third place, and in the crab race for 16 years and under, first place went to Douglas McPherson, second to Ross Pulkinghorn and third to David Rogers.

Tilting for cups and key cases also provided excitement, when most of the gallery had departed from the hill, but a faithful contingent watched from the boat-house.

Final winners in a hardfought series were Ralph Jopling (paddled by his brother Perry); 2, Douglas McPherson (paddled by Ross Pulkinghorn).

Prizes were presented last evening at the Pavilion by Mrs. Gordon Matthews. The dance was largely attended.

Chairman of the regatta was J. K. Hughes, with assistants in Fred Jopling, announcer; James Matthews, J. C. McClenaghan and Terry Hall, starters; Dr. A. W. McPherson, R. Abbott, Dr. E. H. Wood, C. H. Rogers. Gordon McElhiney acted very efficiently as clerk.

Several years were required to convince many long-distance swimmers that unless they are top-notchers the Marathons at the Canadian National Exhibition are not for them. The result is that none but rugged, courageous, capable swimmers now race the starting gun.

COUNTY ROAD IS REQUESTED

Ratepayers of North East Part of Seymour Ask for Outlet to Highway 14.

1934 RATE STRUCK.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 9. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Steps were taken yesterday by the Seymour Township Council sitting in regular session with Reeve William J. Duncan in the chair, to have joint municipalities take over a portion of the township road as a county highway, connecting with Highway No. 14 at Springbrook, and so give easy access from Campbellford, through the township, to outside points in a north-easterly direction.

The matter came before the council when Fred Barnum, William Alan and others, appeared as a deputation from that part of the township, requesting that the road running from Campbellford north through Petherick's Corner, and so out to Highway No. 14, be taken over as a county road, as that portion of the township had no such highway.

After discussion it was decided to approach adjoining municipalities affected by such an action, to seek their co-operation to furthering this scheme, which has been mooted for some years, with the result that the following resolution was passed and forwarded to the Rawdon Council, the Hastings County Council and the United Counties' Council of Northumberland and Durham.:

"That whereas a deputation of ratepayers from the northeast part of the township waited upon the council of Seymour, requesting that a township road between Campbelford and Springbrook be assumed as a county road, that this council seek the co-operation of the municipal council of Rawdon, the county council of Hastings and the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, to have the road assumed and maintained as a county highway."

The striking of the rate for 1934 also featured this session of the council. This was as follows County rate, 13.8 mills (same as last year); Township rate, 5 mills, (decrease of two mills); general school rate, 4.8 mills, (down one tenth of a mill); High School debenture rate (S.S. No. 8 only), 4 mills, (same as last year).

The accounts amounting to $1,694 were passed and ordered paid. All members of the council were present.

carried on in each of their six appearances at bat. The visitors tried hard to stop the deluge but weak fielding and uncertain moundsmanship spelled their defeat.

At the same time the winning lasses were not up to their best form in the game. Loose work in both the infield and outfield accounted for more than one of the ten counters hung up by Bailieboro. In comparison, the Bailieboro delegation looked particularly good in their final appearance at the plate when they ran in three runs in quick succession. They were far short, however, of a victory.

Score by innings:

Keene	201 434 x—20

Superior Ball

Keene played much superior ball in trimming the Sixth Line aggregation in the first game of the day. The locals hit everything Agnes Weir, the Sixth Line twirler had to offer and then some, enjoying a field day each of the four times they went to bat. In the field, their work was tidy.

Mary McCarthy chalked up four runs for the victors; Grace McCarthy and Irene Short three each, and the rest of the team contributed gallantly. Kate Nelson, Agnes Weir, Millie Edwards and Isabel Davis scored for the losers. The score by innings:

Something DIFFERENT for breakfast

IF you haven't tried Carnation for creaming your breakfast cereal, you have a delightful surprise in store. You'll find it appetizingly different when you add that distinctive Carnation flavour, Carnation's double richness and smooth creaminess. Just as with coffee or fruit, Carnation is so much better for cereals because it is evaporated to twice the richness of ordinary milk, and is homogenized to make it equally smooth and creamy through every drop.

Try Carnation for creaming both coffee and cereals. Very economical at today's price. Write for two free booklets—"100 Glorified Recipes" and "Contented Babies". Carnation Co., Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

MOTION PICTURE BUREAU CLOSED.

As a stroke of economy the closing of the Provincial Government's motion picture studio and production plant at Trenton will be generally approved by citizens who are in favor of the progressive adjustment of public expenditure more closely to the reduced incomes of the people.

This bureau has cost the province $1,600,000, an item that might have been disregarded in the condition of prosperity a few years ago. But with the people demanding that unnecessary costs be discontinued, the motion picture department found itself in an exposed position when the axe was being swung by the new stewards in Queen's Park.

When the account of this department is examined it produces some accomplishments that must be listed in the credit column. Motion pictures taken by Government camera men and developed in the Trenton plant were used effectively in the publicity enterprises carried across the border to stimulate the valuable tourist trade of Ontario.

Results from that service alone might be found to justify the Ferguson Government's investment in the motion picture branch of provincial publicity campaigns. Some day when our finances have been repaired Ontario will renew by similar means its plans to attract visitors from the United States to our summer playgrounds.

Inability of the Government to establish some policy of employing motion pictures as an aid in the objective field of education remains a disappointment to laymen, who have felt that there was an opportunity of expanding educational methods in that direction. Such an idea entailed costs of installing equipment in schools for the use of pictures in teaching some subjects, that presented the most difficult obstacle to the promotion of the idea to the stage of practice. To-day it is farther removed than ever, especially when educational frills are frowned upon by hard-pressed taxpayers.

BOYS AND BAND CONCERTS.

A correspondent's complimentary reference to the concerts played by the 57th Rangers Band in Victoria Park this season is a timely appreciation of its programs during the last few years. And his complaint of the clamor of a numerous group of boys playing around the bandstand will be endorsed by citizens who attend the concerts.

Considerable is being directed toward the welfare of under-privileged children, but for an instance of over-privileged boys and under-privileged adults social investigators need go no farther than Victoria Park on nights when the band is playing.

One of the causes of the partial eclipse of local bands everywhere is the radio broadcasting of excellent programs by such organizations as Goldman's Band of New York. Another discouraging factor that may be observed here in Peterborough is the license permitted to small boys in shouting and running about the park to the annoyance of persons who go there for rest and music.

On other nights these boys find various amusements that keep them gratefully absent from their homes, but they are regular and disturbing devotees of the Rangers' programs. Some of these young hopefuls are so keen about music that they climb up on to the stand and try to grab instruments out of the bandsmen's hands.

Are such ambitions to be discouraged? Apparently not by the present generation of indulgent parents.

Meanwhile the city contributes a substantial grant to the band for a series of park programs which are virtually the accompaniment of noisy urchins who are a public nuisance. They need a few lessons in the social school that recognises the rights of others, an old school whose maxim that children should be seen and not heard has been discarded in an age that stresses alleged advantage of youthful expressionism.

These children should be excluded from the park on band nights unless they are accompanied by adults. The presence of a policeman should have the effect of maintaining order for the benefit of citizens who desire to hear the music and not the noise of these over-privileged and unruly boys.

A U. S. CALAMITY.

A major disaster threatens some of the states of the middle west if saturating rains fail a vast drought-stricken area within the next two weeks.

Press reports from Michigan and Illinois to Texas and Nevada all sound the same note of distress and calamity, piecing together a picture of agricultural ruin that confronts the eastbound president with new and grim realities that confront Mr. Roosevelt with a tremendous national problem.

Glimpses of the plight of many thousands of American farmers can be reflected from the news columns of United States papers.

Between three and four hundred thousand families will have to be given relief during the coming winter, according to the estimates of federal officers; and thousands of these rural families will have to be "bodily transplanted in greener climes."

Half a billion dollars have already been allotted to combat the relief in its various phases, and it is now realized that this appropriation will have to be largely supplemented.

"Oaklahoma is in the grip of the most devastating drought in its history," says one despatch, which records heat as high as 117 degrees. Nearly 40,000 Oklahomans are already on relief rolls because of the drouth, and the Federal Government is spending $200,000 a month in addition to regular relief funds. Congressmen a few days ago recommended a $10,000,000 federal appropriation for the state.

Heat has been almost incessant in Missouri since the middle of May, setting new death toll records. Virulent typhoid has resulted from a parched population drinking from wells, cisterns and streams that are polluted, and the State Board of Health reported 261 cases within a recent period of a few days. An order for 600 pounds of quinine to be distributed among families on relief in combating malaria was recently authorized. Two-thirds of Missouri's corn crop is already destroyed, the monetary loss alone being $250,000,000. Farmers are cutting down trees for feed. The oat crop is less than a 10 per cent. yield, the hay crop has been virtually wiped out and pasture land is only 10 per cent. of normal.

In North Dakota there has been no rain since July 5, and farmers are storing away straw, cornstalks and even thistle weeds for stock feed.

"Iowa, with its vast corn crop threatened with the poorest yield in 30 years, is among the states most cruelly hit."

"The hottest summer and worst drought Kansas has ever known," is the report from that state, and without early rain farmers would go into winter on the shortest rations since early pioneer days when vegetation was ruined by grasshoppers and a long dry spell.

It is also stated that the Federal Government is buying cattle from the drought area at the rate of 200,000 animals a day.

Similar gloom is found in reports from Texas, Nevada and even Illinois and Michigan on the eastern fringe of the drought area.

Without the aid of state and federal relief funds thousands of farmers in the middle west would be facing a condition close to starvation.

Ontario farmers have experianced the heavy blow caused by the killing of their fall wheat and clover last winter, but the summer crops have compensated for much of that loss. Pasturage is scared and rain is badly needed, but fortunately there are no farmers in this district on relief.

THAT OUNCE OF PREVENTION.

A tip reached the Ontario provincial police that a plot was in the making for the kidnapping of a prominent Toronto business man, who was to be held for $100,000 ransom. Presumably they found evidence to support the suspicion and they arrested five men, charging three of them with conspiracy to commit a crime, holding two others as material witnesses, keeping all of them in custody without bail.

United States newspapers sought details of the affair, expressed amazement that the plot was not permitted to mature, members of the gang taken in the act of committing the crime. Apparently that is the way the case would have been handled in their country, where kidnapping is shockingly prevalent. But Ontario officials say this would have been "poor police business," and so it would. They would have taken chances of word getting back to the alleged conspirators that the police were watching them; or on the other hand, would have assumed responsibility for whatever occurred in the eventual round-up on the scene of the crime. These risks would have been run that the charge should be "kidnapping" or "attempting to kidnap" rather than conspiracy.

The Ontario police took the safer course. They worked on the theory that prevention is better than cure, which is as sound in police work as in any other field of life.—Ottawa Journal.

THE SUCCESSFUL CITY MANAGER.

Four hundred and forty-two cities in the United States have city managers administering their governments. Summing these up, Dr. Clarence E. Ridley and Orin F. Nolting, director and assistant director of the International City Managers' Association, have been able to write a book, "The City Manager Profession," in which, by a study of age, education, salaries and other facts concerning the 600 managers who have served during the years 1931 to 1933, inclusive, they have been able to present a composite picture of a man who makes the running of municipalities a business. In this composite picture reads as follows:

"The 'tipical' city manager graduated from high schcol and attended college to study some branch of engineering. He engaged in some engineering work after leaving college and he had held one or more public positions other than managership, usually an administrative post such as department head. He held a public position when he received his first appointment as city manager, at the age of 37.

"He was likely a resident of the city when appointed city manager, but if appointed previous to 1930 he was more likely an out-of-town man. He has served as city manager for five years and eight months, including all cities served, and he has been in his present position four years and nine months.

"He is married and is now 47 years old. He is a member of the International City Managers' Association and holds membership in a local civic organization. In addition to Public Management (the organ of the association) he subscribes to three other professional or technical journals."

Information on salary and other matters are also given. If his town is in the 30,000 to 50,000 population group, his salary is about $6,500. If he is in a city of more than 200,000, it is over $14,000. Sixty-three per cent. of the managers questioned attended college, 75 per cent. held some governmental position prior to assuming the post of manager. The qualities such a man must possess headed by by honesty, force and tact and he must be industrious and systematic, have vision to enable him to plan for the future, have a sense of humor, for lacking it, he is "doomed to failure," in the opinion of these judges; and he must be loyal to the interests of the city as a whole, refusing to "play politics."

In other words, the truly successful city manager must be one man in a million.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

A shower of Perseid meteors visible during the week-end won't be as interesting to farmers as last night's rain.

The "man on the flying trapeze" was well worth seeing. In fact, the Barnes circus left a fine impression here.

Signs of old times are increasing in beer and a circus.

Mr. Hepburn's sale of Government automobiles looks like opposition to the used car market.

Dollar wheat will mean a little icing on the western farmer's cake.

If they are making soundings at the Locks, probably somebody intends to build a new bridge after all.

The Biblical assertion that there's nothing new under the sun scarcely goes down with the man or maiden who has just collected a beautiful bevy of beach blisters.—Border Cities Star.

RANGERS' BAND

The Editor, Examiner:

Sir:

The old saying, "no man is a hero to his valet" is ably verified in your issue of Tuesday.

It is understood of course, the "shell band stand" is the theme of the editorial, and the facts concerning same are appreciated, but we have a band in our own town sadly in need of a boost.

Using your own words: "Musicians cannot thrive on neglect", would not a line in your paper occasionally help along? I have listened to several concerts this season, that I am sure would compare with any given around this district by other bands, and from what I have heard, the band gave an excellent account of itself in Midland last month.

At no time have I seen a comment, good, bad or indifferent in your paper about the Peterborough Rangers Band, this season, or any other season, during the few years I have lived here.

Their efforts are so little appreciated, that small children are let run loose on concert nights, shouting, clapping shingles together, and generally annoying the musicians, so they can hardly be expected to do their part.

Musicians cannot thrive on neglect, Mr. Editor, so "shell band stand" or not, how would it be to give your own town band a little attention now and then?

Encouragement goes along way!

Yours truly,

"CITIZEN."

A VISIT TO MUSKOKA

Mr. Editor:

An unexpected opportunity came our way, enabling us to take a trip to Gravenhurst, for the week end, to visit our daughter, her husband and family. The variety and beauty of nature as seen in the trees, shrubs, herbs, wild flowers, towering rocks, lakes and rivers were to us truly wonderful and pleasing to the eye. It was good to see the crops of farm produce, all along the route, on the whole in good condition. Buckwheat was out in full bloom, oats cut and stooked and more being cut and more ready to cut. A great variety of other farm and garden products looked fine. A lot of fallow ground is already plowed ready for future seeding. I particularly noticed what great quantities of the bonset herb growing but ready to pluck for future use. This is a valuable herb, an excellent tonic. It will break up the worst kind of typhoid fever. You have it growing right here at Peterborough; be sure and secure some. These beautiful things of nature and the kindness of friends make it seem like a forstaste of paradise, when the earth shall be brought into Edenic conditions.

Mrs. Butcher enjoyed seeing the harvesting machines cutting and binding the grains into sheaves, and the men stooking up the sheaves. Gravenhurst is a pretty little town, with city privileges, and has a fine lot of business houses, well stocked with goods at reasonable prices. The people, with few exceptions, have their own flower and vegetable garden. This section of Canada, with its many lakes, rivers, small islands, and wild woodland with towering rocks, make it an ideal summer resort. I suppose there are hundreds of summer houses occupied by tourists. Mrs. Butcher and I had a real enjoyable trip and visit. The C.N.R. railway employees were very courteous and obliging.

"SOCIAL BARRIERS TOSSED ASIDE"

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear sir:

This caption taken from your front page column (Saturday's Examiner) on the great re-union of ex-servicemen being held in Toronto, shows the critical readers, and those who wish to believe that they live in a democratic constitution that the hope of a true democracy is as far from being a reality, as is communism.

"Democracy does not mean, I am as good as you are; but, "you are as good as I am."

Twenty years ago social barriers were thrown aside. What for? To make the world safe for democracy. Shall we then say, that after four years of the most horrible sacrifice that ever beset the human race, the suffering and poverty endured by the majority of those who took part in that great catastrophe. Democracy is only another social pill, like patriotism (and must be taken as an emetic) given by the good doctors of Oligarchy so that the populace may expell from the system those parasites, which are forming bacteria in the existing order of things.

What a glorious spirit has been inaugurated by the re-union of old comrades. In that re-union there was not the least sign or visage of what the press terms social barriers, yet lurking in the minds of many these barriers are a reality. During the war, twenty years ago, and in the army, the barriers of a social order were staunchly supported. In one sphere only, was Jack as good as his master and that sphere was in the front line trenches. No; it was not so then, it is not so now (excepting this brief period of re-union). We are graded in a social scale, and only when we come face to face with that great inevitable (death) do we throw off the mask of superiority and stand on common ground. But while the spark of patriotism and democracy still survives to animate the life of the British race, we have hope that in the future out of this re-union shall come a greater unionism, with higher ideals for the betterment of the social irregularities which we know do exist.

Unionism is strength, we have only to look towards Italy and Russia to acknowledge that fact. But, that unity has only been accomplished by dictatorial power, and we may term it, unity by force.

The unionism of the British Empire is a voluntary unity, the same applies to the peoples of the empire. This is a greater and nobler unity and could be carried to perfection if those who are selected and elected to positions of authority acted, and carried out their resolutions and solutions as they love to present them to the people, while seeking office. But the power of wealth is the bane of contention at which the "dogs" of office have been nibbling, and which has turned many from their path of truer ideals and nobler conceptions.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

GOLDEN, B.C.

Early in April, 1884, F. C. Lang, still a resident of Golden, with a companion started from Laggan (now Lake Louise Station) and snowshoed down the Kicking Horse River, arriving on the present site of Golden five days later.

About May 1, Major Rogers and Fred W. Aylmer, two civil engineers engaged in mapping out the country, met with Mr. Lang to choose a name for the new settlement at the mouth of the Kicking Horse River where it empties into the Columbia.

Mr. Aylmer suggested Golden City for no particular reason, and the others agreed on the choice. Two years later the "City" was dropped.

SMOKING A PIPE.

After many years I decided to go back to smoking a pipe again. . . . It seemed a good idea . . . Those fellows in the advertisements who sit in an easy chair and read a book and smoke a pipe always look so placid and so comfortable . . . And the old prospectors who advertise smoking tobacco on the radio have such friendly, easy-going, tolerant voices. . . . Perhaps a pipe and a package of tobacco would make ME placid, comfortable, friendly, easy-going and tolerant of everything . . . It takes so little, far less than one thinks to change a fellow . . . So I'd get a pipe.

But I haven't noticed any great difference, and I hardly believe anybody else has, either . . . We may not become "fixed" at birth, but it does not take very long for us to become whatever we are to be. And I suppose it was asking too much of a pipe to do all that . . . I like the thing, to be sure, and, barring the number of matches it requires and the number of times you have to clean it, I find it a pleasant experience, smoking a pipe again—and I've trained it so it doesn't burn my tongue. And I polish it on the side of my nose as other pipe smokers do.

But those other pipe smokers will not let me be . . . They're always asking me what brand of tobacco I'm smoking. They sniff doubtfully before they ask, and they sniff disdainfully afterwards, because it's never the kind that THEY smoke. If I smoke Blackstrap they smoke Tannery Special. If it's Tannery Special I'm trying they wouldn't smoke anything but Motorman's Glove. And if mine is Honey Boy their's is Gang Fight . . . And theirs is the best-darned tobacco any man ever crammed into his old jimmy-pipe and mine would make an elephant hate me for a million years. Theirs is fit for the angels and mine would drive all the devils out of hell. If I tried theirs just once I'd never use those hoof parings that are in my pipe now . . . Just try it and see. Just a pipeful. So I do try their stuff, and I'd just as soon smoke gunpowder and asafoetida.

Cigar smokers aren't like that. Nor cigaret smokers. Nor the old-time chewers . . . But pipe smokers are a different breed. Every one of them's a born missionary, a nicotine propagandist . . . And despite myself, I think I'm slipping. Come around some day and try a pipeful of my Whittler's Delight and that stuff you smoke will never taste the same again.

One-Minute Pulpit

I have stuck unto thy testimonies; O Lord, put me not to shame.—Psalm 119:31.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

AN HISTORIC DAY AT DAWSON.

On this date in 1902, Edward VII. was crowned in Westminster Abbey with all the ceremonial befitting the occasion. On the same day, far up in the northern section of his wide-flung empire, the coronation was celebrated at Dawson City. The coronation had been set for June 11, but the King's sudden illness forced a postponement and, instead of rejoicing, the miners and officials of Yukon attended a service of intercession in the little Anglican church partially completed, built of logs by kindly hands of "rough men".

When his majesty recovered and the coronation was fixed for August 9, the people of Dawson determined to make the day one of dual celebration. The coronation rejoicings should be marked also by the dedication of the new St. Paul's Church. Despite strenuous work, the church was not completed on the eve of the dedication. The windows, Gothic in shape and paned with cathedral glass, had not arrived from Vancouver, and the rector (Rev. J. R. H. Warren, now at Long Branch, Ont.) spent part of August 8 in tacking cheese cloth over the vacant spaces. A stained glass window for the east end of the chancel, the gift of some young men of Dawson, had not come from Toronto, but boards and a large Union Jack made up the deficiency.

And so the church was made ready for the ceremony which was made the first item in the coronation day programme. The Yukon Council, headed by the Commissioner, Hon. J. H. Ross (a good Presbyterian), the members of the town council, headed by Mayor Macaulay (a Roman Catholic) and the Mounted Police attended, with the Dawson Rifles, in dress uniform, as a guard of honor. All classes and conditions of men were there—Canadians, Englishmen, Scots, Irishmen, Australians, New Zealanders, South Africans, men from all the seven seas, as well as many citizens of the United States. Now St. Paul's is the pro-cathedral of Yukon, the mother church of the Territory, with organ and spire, still firm on its foundation of logs despite the bitter cold of winters, and the heat of summers. It is a typical Canadian church, and all Dawsonites, past or present, are proud of it and of the historic fact that it was dedicated on the day when Edward VII. was crowned King of the Britons.

Popular Astronomy

THE SUN

The Light Sphere

BY H. W. L. MAHOOD

The Photosphere, the innermost portion that can be seen of the bright surface of the Sun, is commanding and will be the study of all astronomers for a long time. It covers the innermost surface with a cloud-like garment, composed of intensely heated metallic vapours. Through a powerful telescope the sight is one never to be forgotten. From this gossamer-like inner surface covering, comes most of our heat and light.

With the eye protected by a piece of smoked glass, note the Sun disk edge. Out there the light sphere is darker than at the center. Another phenomenon is just as compelling. Calmness seems to prevail on the surface of the Sun. A powerful telescope brings into view a storm-tossed sea. The whole surface is in a cyclonic storm. A calm spot has never been discovered on the Sun surface.

The surface is not one of emitting-white light. Through an instrument it is greyish. The grey seems to be thickly dotted with snow flakes. One view of this Sun scene, will quicken the zest of most any young person, in the study of the heavens. So much of our time is spent with the nothings, The Sun occupies such a prominent place in our lives that we can profitably and with increasing delight take to this study.

Above this turbulent light sphere lies the calm layer. It is composed of glowing gases. In thickness it is a thousand miles. Because it is cooler than the Photosphere, the color is somewhat darker. Many of the elements are like those of the Earth. Scattered through this outer surface there is a cloud of little particles. Astronomers of merit have concluded that these particles tone down the fierce heat of the inner surface layer. Were it not for these tiny particles, the Sun heat reaching the Earth would, in a moment, burn it into a cinder.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 87c to 92c; oats, 35c to 36c; barley, 50c to 53c; corn, 60c to 62c; rye, 68c to 67c; buckwheat, 60c to 62c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Egg prices advanced on the Montreal Product and Dairy Market yesterday.

Graded shipments of Ontario eggs in car lots or less were quoted at 22c to 22½c a dozen for A large, 21c for A medium, 19c for B and 18½c for C. Western eggs were 21c to 21½c for A large, 20c to 20½c for A medium, 19c for B and 18c for C. Receipts were 944 cases.

No. 1 butter in car lots or less was slightly lower at 18¾c to 19c a pound. To retailers, solids were 20c and prints 21c a pound. Only six boxes arrived.

Cheese was unchanged at 10¼c to 10¾c for No. 1 Ontario and 9¾c to 9¾c a pound for No. 1 Quebec A total of 548 boxes arrived.

New Quebec potatoes held steady at 50c to 55c per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Shattering this season's high price records for the third day in succession, all grains yesterday made turbulent responses to fresh outbreaks of general speculattive buying.

Sensationally new incentives to purchase grains came from estimates of much enlarged world wheat import requirements and from Washington official reports indicating the United States 1934 corn crop was practically a failure over a wide area—suggesting the Government August forecast of corn yield would be more than 450,000,000 bushels uider official July figures. In addition, Winnipeg trade advices pointed to a shrinkage of wheat crop prospects in Canada to below any previous minimum heretofore predicated this season.

Wheat closed flurried at a moderate reaction from the day's top, but ⅝c to 1⅛c above Tuesday's finish; corn, ⅜c to 1⅛c up; oats, 1⅛c to 2c advance, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to a rise of 17 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Wheat prices held firm within a small fraction of the dollar-a-bushel mark on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, to close with gains of ⅞c to ⅝c. Demand for wheat slackened considerably from Tuesday's frenzied buying, and strength in outside markets was the greatest factor in the advance.

The top figures were only ⅛c away at the close, where October held at 94⅛c, December at 94⅝c, and May at 99⅝c to 99¾c.

Export sales of Canadian Wheat were on the slim side, but there was little or no pressure to sell, and the market was easily influenced by outside firmness.

With world demand expected to be greater this season than last year, when it amounted to only 620,000,0000 bushels, Broomhall has made his first preliminary estimate of import requirements for 1934-35, giving Canada a liberal share of the market.

World requirements Broomhall figures at 876,000,000 bushels, with the demand filled as follows: Canada 268,000,000 bushels United States, 8,000,000; Argentina, 160,000,000; Australia 90,000,000; Danube and France, 24,000,000 bushels.

Cash grains trading was quite appreciable with spreads on the top grades about ⅛c better. Coarse grains ascended with wheat.

SILVER MOVE ADDS STRENGTH MINING TRADE

Altthough Base Metal Shares Respond With Greater Alacity Than Silvers.

GOLDS HOLD GROUND.

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (CP).—Silver came to the rescue of a dis-spirited mining market today, an upward surge in both volume and prices following the Washington announcement that the government was taking over the country's stock of bar metal. Base metal shares responded with greater alacrity to the inflation involved in the silver move than did the silver shares on the price advance of metal. Golds appeared a little confused about the turn of events and they did little better than hold their ground.

Until just before the close when an advance was general, Noranda, Hudson Bay, Base Metals Corporation, Falconbridge and all the other active base metal shares moved up sharply, Noranda adding $2 on heavy volume. Hudson Bay gained 23 cents to 13.75 and Falconbridge registered about the same gain to 3.75. Mining Corporation got up to the $2 for a gain of 10 cents.

The Great Bear Lake issues, Eldorado, White Eagle and Bear Exploration were the best movers in the silver group, and all had gains 2 to 10 cents on heavy volume. Premier and Nipissing responded with advances of 10 to 15 cents, the former going to 1.41 and the latter to $2.40, Castle moved up to 67 for a gain of 9 cents.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9. —(A. P.).—Stocks rallied briskly in the late trading to-day. Early market movements were erratic but heavy buying in the last hour pushed the entire list uniformly higher. Metal issues and others were in brisk demand. U. S. Smelting got up around 5 points, while advances of 1 to 2 or more were recorded by Cerro De pasco, Howe Sound, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Santa Fee, Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck. Transfers approximated 1,300,00 shares.

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (CP).—Metal and liquor shares got a kick out of the New York rally today but the general board refused to get excited over the inflation in the Washington Silver Nationalization Plan and the government's declaration of war on the bootleg interests. Nickel hopped up to 25 for a gain of a point and Consolidated Smelters gained 4 to 146. Advances up to a point were registered in the distillery and utility groups and the foods had gains.

Trading picked up moderately this afternoon in the brewery issues, and at the close gains of 1-4 to 3-8 were showing in the Brewing Corporation stocks and Canada Bud. Canadian Wineries added 1-2. Gains of 1-8 each for British American and International Pete were the only changes in oils.

Toronto Elevators was in demand on a price advance of a point. Steel shares lagged with Dominion Bridge up 3-4 to 32 and Steel of Canada Pfd. off a full point.

In the interlisted group, Ford "A" made no headway and gains in C.P.R. and Brazilian did not exceed 1-4.

County Cricket

The touring Australian cricketers to-day took a good lead over Warwickshire in the three-day fixture, finishing tomorrow.

Scores.—Australians, 221 and 194 for five (Coom four for 33, Georgehpaine, four for 68, McCabe 77, Darling 50); Warwickshire 179 (Croom 51, Santall 61, Grimmett five for 76).

REID AND AYLING FORCED TO QUIT

gas forced them to change their plans and land in England, the fliers said.

"It was a wonderful trip," said Reid, "but we surely are disappointed we couldn't continue on to Baghdad.

"We had bad weather most of the way across the Atantic. Then the controls jammed several times. So when the gasoline supply seemed to be dropping we thought it best to land.

The fliers said they had been running into increasingly unfavorable weather. They landed in a private flying field at Heston in Middlesex, shortly after flying over London.

On getting out of the plane Reid rushed to a telephone. The Trail of the Caribou" seemed to be functioning well as it appeared over the northern part of London. The flyers seemed to be in no hurry to land. They circled over the Hendon port several times, as if looking it over, before starting for the Middlesex landing field.

One of the first people to be told of the landing of the plane was Lady Reid, mother of Leonard G. Reid, one of the two daring flyers.

She had been waiting at the home of a married son in Surrey when she was told that the plane had landed at Heston.

"That's too bad" she said. "Really too bad. But I am glad they are safe."

First Canada-England Flight

TORONTO, Aug. 9. (CP).—"Glad to hear they landed safely; that's the first successful Canada-to-England flight," was the comment of Lee Murray, managing director of the de Havilland Aircraft of Canada, Ltd., when he heard James Ayling and Leonard Reid had landed their "Trail of the Caribou safely in Engand to-day.

"Naturally I am disappointed they could not continue on to Bagdad," he said, "but they are the fellows doing the flying and they know what is best to do."

Drag Muskoka Lake For 2 Missing Men

PORT CARLING, Ont., Aug. 9. —(C. P.). — Dragging operations continued to-day in the deep waters of Horseshoe Bay on Lake Muskoka for the bodies of H. B. Armstrong of St. Mary's and Joseph Dawson of Mortimer's Point, believed drowned on Sunday. A paddle from their sea-flea was found yesterday but searchers uncovered no trace of the boat.

A forestry plane from the Ontario Air Service base at Parry Sound made a thorough search of Lake Muskoka area yesterday but was unable to locate anything. Police believed the men who left Port Carling for Mortimer's Point late Sunday night struck some obstacle in the bay.

Armstrong and Dawson had engine trouble about three hours after leaving Port Carling. The trouble was cleared and they continued. They were last heard of behind Horseshoe Island, 15 minutes later. Dawson could not swim but Armstrong could.

The sea-flea was driven by a 16-horsepower outboard motor and carried a one-horse stationary engine and it was believed if the light boat struck anything it would sink rapidly.

GRAIN GAINS AT WINNIPEG HIGH FOR YEAR

Roosevelt's Nationalization of U.S. Silver Paves Way for Further Advances.

CHICAGO ALSO UP.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9. —(C. P.)— President Roosevelt's Nationalization of silver in United States paved the way for further advances in grains to-day and closing figures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange represented the highest final figures since July 18th, 1933. The net advance was ¾-⅞ cent.

The May option ended at 99⅞ —$1.00 after making a new high for the year at $1.00⅛. October finished at 94⅞ and December at 96¼ cents.

Exoprt sales of 500,00 bushels of Canadian wheat helped the advance while profit-taking sales left top levels just beyond reach at the close.

GAINS AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—(A.P.)—New high prices for the year for all grains were written on the Chicago market's huge blackboards to-day, the fourth consecutive trading session in which broad speculative buying has hoisted quotations above previous peaks.

Floundering below yesterday's close, the market near mid-session was electrified by announcement of United States nationalization of silver and wheat prices bounded up 2¾ cents almost instantly.

Local Buttermaker Wins Dairy Trophy

The cup presented for monthly competition for cheese and buttermaking is held for the present month by B. Comba of Silverwood's Peterborough Dairy. He won the award in contests held at Lindsay yesterday, by the Kawartha Butter Club.

C. R. Kennedy, buttermaker at Silverwood's Peterborough Dairy and president of the club, was runner-up in the contest. Fergus Healey of Canada Packers Limited took third place.

Well attended, the meeting held at Lindsay Creamery was addressed by Newton Smale of Lindsay, on the subject, "Two Creditors, Both Imaginary." The first part of the address was devoted to a clear-cut exposition of the war debt situation. In the second part of his address, Mr. Smale eloquently stressed the plight of youth today, pointing out that there was no place in the economic or industrial world for thousands who were graduating from high schools and universities.

Harry Johnston, manager of Lindsay Creamery, entertained the members of the club following the meeting at Olympia Restaurant.

2 Men Share Fate.

Two men share her fate. They are the ones, Vincent Sestta and Samuel Feracci, who stabbed and shot her husband dead the night before Easter, 1932. She schemed the crime, greedy for Salvator's $5,000 insurance. They did him in.

There are three children: Phyllis is nine, Marie is seven and Frankie is only three.

To-day is Marie's birthday. Each succeeding year—unless the Governor acts—Marie will mark her birth anniversary; for she will see, dancing in the light of the birthday candles, a woman sitting in a chair—strapped tightly — a hood over her head; her mother.

Leahy Barn Burns Sixth Line Douro

The barn and other out-buildings containing the season's crop of hay and grain on the farm of John F. Leahy, sixth line of Douro, were destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon.

The cause of the fire which broke out in a log barn could not be determined. The flames spread to the other buildings, which were dry as tinder, and were an easy prey. The implement house and some machinery were included in the afternoon's loss.

While the fire was wiping out the group of buildings, it ignited a fence and continued on its way down to a swamp, requiring the assistance of many of the neighbours to put it out.

The buildings are reported to have been insured but the amount would not cover the loss of hay and grain needed as feed for the livestock.

Team Disqualified

The Canadian relay team of Peggy Matheson and Mildred Yiszell of Toronto and Betty White and Audrey Dearnley of Hamilton was disqualified after placing second to Germany in a 400 metres heat at the women's world track and field games here to-day.

Officials ruled Miss White took the baton from Miss Frizzell outside the passing area to start the third leg. Germany won the heat easily by 10 yards in the fast time of 48.6 seconds. Japan was third and qualified for the final when the Canadians were disqualified.

Miss M. Grieme of Germany won the high jump at 5 feet, 1 inch while four British Empire jumpers, all of whom reached better heights a few days ago, placed behind her. Mary Milne of England was second, Margaret Bell of Vancouver third, Eva Dawes of Toronto fourth and Marjorie Clark of South Africa fifth.

All five got over 5 feet, but the German girl was the only one to clear the bar when it was moved an inch higher. In the Empire games Miss Clark won with a leap of 5 feet, 3 inches and Miss Dawes jumped 5:2. Today Miss Milne won the jump-off between the four Empire girls.

Another German triumph came in the eight-pound shot, Miss Maurermeyer winning with a throw of 44 feet, 1½ inches. A team-mate, Miss Fleischer, was second.

C.S.M. G. M. Emslie, member of the 1924 Canadian Bisley team and one of the most consistent shots in the Dominion, dropped one of his shots on the longer range for 34, giving him 69 and placing him in a tie with nine others for second place.

'Frisco Tong War Turns To Arbitration

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9 (AP) — Fears of a tong war faded from Chinatowns of San Francisco and Oakland to-day as the Chinese General Peace Association announced it would arbitrate the dispute involving control of Chinese lotteries.

Chinese had fled from settlements of Oakland and San Francisco, while others had come in from other northern California towns while the Suey Sing and Sen Suey Ying tongs argued over who should control the business.

Tom Lowe, secretary of the Chinese Six Companies and a member of the Suey Sings, claims $250,000 from the estate of his father, reported to have been heavily interested in lottery companies of the region. This would give him virtual control of the companies. Yip Lock, Oakland, member of the Sen Suey Yings, claims his large interest in the companies should give him control.

Rumors of a possible war spread rapidly, but the Peace Association, created 21 years ago for just such a purpose, met last night and announced both sides had agreed to arbitration.

GERMAN PROTESTANT PASTORS MUST SWEAR FEALTY TO HITLER

New Rules Will Deliver Church Completely Into Mueller's Hands.

NO INDEPENDENT THOUGHT

(By Walter E. Brockmann, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—Germany's Protestant pastors and church officials will be required to take an oath of fealty to Chancellor Adolf Hitler, just as Nazi Storm Troops and members of the regular army did last week.

This important step to obtain Hitler uniform support following his assumption of the powers of President, was announced by Dr. August Jaeger, Nazi Commissioner for Protestant churches.

Jaeger at the same time explained new rules to be imposed by the National Synod to-day which will deliver the Protestant Church bag and baggage into the hands of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller, Hitler follower, and the German Christians (Nazi Churchmen).

They appear designed to stamp out independent thought and action by the clergy, a considerable number of whom have strongly opposed Mueller's dictatorial steps toward achieving the Nazi program of a unified Protestant church.

The new measures, as Dr. Jaeger put it, "will end all foolish talk about violation of law and justice."

They will be voted into effect by Mueller's rubber stamp Synod, called into session without the knowledge of the general public. At the same time the Synod is scheduled to disenfranchise itself.

A clause will be adopted so that in the future "not balloting but brotherly discussions will be used," explained

Claim Photos Prove Monster In Loch Ness

LONDON, Aug. 9 (C.P.) — The Loch Ness monster is in the limelight again. Emerging from temporary eclipse since some authorities declared the so-called monster to be nothing more than a small whale that had found its way into the lake, it has splashed its way back into the headlines of metropolitan newspapers.

As a rebuff to the sceptics, Sir Edward Mountain, noted British financier, declares he has positive proof of the monster's existence in Loch Ness. He claims it has been seen 21 times during the past four weeks and that he has photographs to prove it.

Sir Edward recently organized a team of 20 watchers who equipped with cameras constantly patrolled the lake in search of the elusive marine serpent. He declares their vigilance was rewarded with success and that several pictures were obtained. The photographs had revealed a strange form of life with two or three humps and a small head in proportion to the rest of its body.

Several London papers reproduced photos said to be of the monster, one of which showed the wash it left in crossing the lake.

FORMER RESIDENT RETURNS TO TOWN

Manley Waller Visiting in Hastings After Absence of Fifty Years.

HASTINGS, Aug. 9 (Examiner Correspondent)—After an absence of fifty years Manley Waller of Flint, Michigan, is on a visit to his sister, Mrs. James Stinson.

During an informal chat with The Examiner on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kelly, Mr. Waller related how, at the age of sixteen, he decided to see the world. Although only really more than a mere child he had learned the brick-laying trade.

Taking the train from Hastings to Peterborough he took a boat from there to Bobcaygeon, where he quickly found work on a hotel that was being erected in that village. On the completion of this job, the State of Michigan was the next step. The city of Saginaw was the first port of call, where he joined a lumbering crew and in the short space of eight months he had saved enough money to enter the building trade for himself, in which he has prospered ever since. Being slightly advanced in years, he retired from his boyhood trade after building for himself the most modern, up-to-date service station in Flint, Michigan.

Hastings has gone back considerably in the last half century in the eyes of this very interesting visitor. There are a number of old buildings that are familiar to his keen eyes but the majority have disappeared.

Mr. Alex Wilson is the only merchant doing business now that was here when Mr. Waller left.

Italy has ruled that 90 per cent of the wheat used in flour manufactured there must be grown in that country.

Flaky, flat-shaped particles
That's why
Old Dutch doesn't scratch

This is so because Old Dutch is made with pure "calsmotite" (pronounced cal'-so-tite), a fine, flaky, cleaning and polishing material of volcanic origin, free from harsh, scratchy grit or crude abrasives. You can use Old Dutch on any surface where water may be used for cleaning.

Old Dutch costs less to use. Its flaky, flat-shaped particles cover more surface than do the chunky, gritty particles present in ordinary cleansers. As a result Old Dutch goes farther and does more square yards of scratchless cleaning per penny of cost.

Old Dutch is ideal for all cleaning from kitchen utensils and floors to glassware and metals . . . it polishes as it cleans porcelain, enamel, tile, etc. No other cleanser can do so much at so little cost, nor so well at any price.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing mars the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light
No unkind word can like shall mar,
No envy sway the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind.

MILLBROOK BRANCH

"Lifting the Depression Atmosphere in the Home," was the seasonable topic discussed by a group of Institute women at an informal gathering last Friday evening, the subject having "just developed from a little talk over the brightening effect of new wall paper, and other improvements that cost little, but have a cheering outcome on the family nerves and atmosphere."

The improvement on disposition of new wall-paper "that cost a small sum and which I put on myself, and that certainly transformed my dingy kitchen walls from having a gloomy effect to one of cheerfulness," was spoken of first by an active lady who was well known for her industrious life. That started the discussion off and led on to many suggestions of a practical type.

The fact that new paper for the walls need not necessarily be expensive, nor of exclusive designs, was strongly stressed, many instances of a "simple little paper at 15 cents a roll and put on by members of the family" being given to show the exhilarating effect on the spirits of the homemaker and the members of her household. "It really seems to illuminate the room and certainly helps improve your disposition," was the lady's statement.

"I always felt dull and drab the minute I entered my kitchen in the morning, and seemed to easily remain in the dumps all day," declared another, "until my daughter and I decided to cover those gloomy walls with a brighter pattern, though it had to be in a cheap paper because of the state of the family purse. Now I feel brighter and happier since the kitchen is so attractive in its 'new dress' and we went on and papered other rooms once we found we could do the work in a fairly satisfactory manner; papering is one of these things you do a lot better with practice."

Mention was made of one home in the rural community "where every room, and especially the entrance hall, seems to greet one cheerfully the minute you enter." Someone vouchsafed the information that the mother and her two daughters in that home did the papering themselves—"and I always feel as though I had been met with a pleasant smile when I go into their living room, indeed as soon as I enter the front door; and to go into the kitchen is just as cheering, for it, too, and every room the house through, has bright, happy-looking walls."

From a visitor present it was learned that tests have been made in hospitals to show if various colors have any effect on the recovery of patients. "It has been proved conclusively that this is so; yellow, for instance, has been found beneficial in cases of shell-shock, and diseases of the nerves. A depressed and morbid patient has been noted to grow in desire to recover with a red tint, verging on orange, much in evidence; and when a high-strung patient is undergoing treatment and a quieting, sedative effect is required, green, which is a combination of blue and yellow, helps in the end in view."

"We are staying at home more since the depression hit us," said one woman who had not previously spoken; "and we are getting a lot of pleasure out of our homes, too, entertaining our friends, and our families, in a quiet way. I remember my mother always maintained that clean, bright walls, and a nice floor covering, even if it was but a well-painted or stained surface, with some nice mats of her own making, made a room look well furnished. Any of us can accomplish that much if we but set our minds to the task."

"You can do anything you want to do, if you just make up your mind to it," was a final word as the gathering, with many expressions of the help received, broke up.

Mae's New Picture To Be Censor Proof

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 9. — (A.P.)— Mae West again plans to write the scenario for her next film and will make it censor proof, it was announced at the studio today.

Her most recent picture, which has been revised both as to title and in the film itself, has now been approved by the Will Hays Censor Board. It will be shown as "The Belle of the Nineties."

Miss West said her new production would be modern, in contrast to the gay nineties offering.

EX-FOLLIES GIRL HELD CAPTIVE

Bars Penthouse Door in Tiff With Hotel Over $600 Room Rent.

ONCE HAD $1,000,000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9. — (A.P.) — Betty Randolph, former Follies beauty, was a voluntary prisoner today in a penthouse on the 16th floor of an hotel as a result of a tiff she is having with the management over $600 back rent.

The hotel, cutting off the electric lights and elevator service, left Miss Randolph with 18 flights of steps as her only means of getting to and from the street. Miss Randolph accepted the challenge. She locked the doors and refused to budge.

Miss Randolph, who has been married several times and who once had $1,000,000, told the World-Telegram over her private telephone:

"I owe them $600. I have lived here five years and the rent is $200 a month. I have always paid my rent until June, when I was short $100. I have been without food for three days. I will defend my home and furniture forever."

The furniture, she explained, was worth about $8,000 to $10,000 on the market and she was willing to put up something of value, say the grand piano, as a security for the debt.

gold, although in the case of silver the government will not withdraw coins from circulation.

Newly-mined silver, which is regularly being purchased at 64½ cents an ounce under the president's proclamation of Dec. 21, 1933, is exempted from the order, and will be bought as heretofore.

Also exempted in addition to United States coins are foreign coins, ore, silver owned by foreign governments and foreign central banks, and silver in fabricated articles.

Senator Thomas (D., Okla.), a Senate silver bloc leader, hailed the move as the "overthrow of the world-wide gold bloc."

He said the world would have to follow the same course and thus lead to a new international monetary system. He also forecast it would bring an international agreement on money "which will be the beginning of a new era of prosperity."

SENATOR AGAINST SEAWAY, FEARS EUROPEAN GOODS

READING, Pa., Aug. 9.—(AP)—U. S. Senator James J. Davis, Pennsylvania Republican, has switched from support of the opposition to the N.R.A. because, he says, of changes "confusing and detrimental to business."

"The sooner business is back in the hands of businessmen the sooner will business begin to function", he asserted last night in disclosing his change of attitude at a University Club banquet.

The St. Lawrence waterway he opposes, he said, on the grounds "It would place the nations of Europe and Asia right at our very back door, with goods and commodities on which they can far undersell us."

MATADOR FINED, BALKS AT BOUT

Amateurs Who Leap Into Ring to Substitute Also Assessed.

PIG PLAYS PART.

ALBACETE, Spain, Aug. 9. —(U.P.). — Yesterday's bull fighting card had its encore in the civil courts. Julio Chico, matador, who refused to go on for a scheduled bout, was fined 500 pesetas for failing to live up to his contract. And that was not all on the calendar.

A fine of 100 pesetas each was assessed against two amateurs who jumped into the ring to substitute for him. They weren't invited.

Another fine of 100 pesetas each was set down against two more enthusiasts who protested against the arrest of the amateurs who wanted to substitute for Chico.

The third and gravest offense was that of the spectator who enthusiastically carried a pet pig into the ring during the excitement. This brought a fine of 250 pesetas.

The pig was chased off — and let off with a warning.

VISITORS ATTEND CAVAN GATHERING

Springville and Fairmount W.M.S. Members Guests at August Meeting.

CAVAN, Aug. 9 (Examiner Correspondence).— On Thursday afternoon, Cavan W.M.S. held their regular monthly meeting in the church, the President, Mrs. J. W. Perrin, in the chair.

Springville and Fairmount Missionary Societies had been invited to be present, and several members from each society motored over to the Missionary Meeting and the social hour which followed. Mrs. (Rev.) Trumpour had charge of the devotional period; her comments on, and explanation of, the Scripture lesson, were both interesting and instructive.

During the business session, arrangements were made for the packing and gathering of the material for the annual missionary bale.

Mrs. Ray Syer was appointed to purchase the hose and Mrs. Trumpour was appointed secretary for the Missionary Monthlies.

The summer school to be held at the Whitby Ladies' College, August 27-28, was announced. Mrs. Swain read an article on temperance.

A series of articles on the vacation of missionaries were read, Mrs. Swain taking Africa, Mrs. Matchett, China; Mrs. Perrin, India; Mrs. R. S. Staples, the Home Land; Mrs. Ray Syer, Korea; Mrs. Rowan, Trinidad and Mrs. F. Staples, Japan.

Mrs. Hunter, President of the Springville W.M.S., spoke a few words concerning the W.M.S. work, as did Mrs. Hanbidge, President of Fairmount W.M.S. Lunch was served by the hostess society and a social time enjoyed. Several ladies from the community came in at the tea hour.

Bridgenorth

On Thursday evening the community of Selwyn was well represented at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott, to present gifts to the latest bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pratt (nee Miss Mae Elliott).

About nine o'clock the bride and groom were ushered into the living room. And a very appropriate address was read by Miss Beatrice McConkey while Opal Preston and Gladys McIlmoyl carried in a beutifully decorated basket overflowing with gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt both thanked their friends and the remainder of the evening was spent socially.

The girls of the community left Tuesday morning for Mondamin Camp at Ingoldsby, where they have planned to spend a very pleasant week. Among those going from this district were: Loretta McDougall, Wilma Telford, Madge Jopling, Phyllis Moore, Irene Murray, Mrs. K. Hardill and Mrs. F. Moore, all of Bridgenorth; Opal Preston, Gladys McIlmoyl, Thelma Galvin and Vera Cameron of Selwyn, Opal Roxborough, Ferne Armstrong and Olive Bell of Fairview.

Messrs. Melville McWilliams and Peter Nichols motored to Ingoldsby, Ont., Wednesday.

Trent River

In the report of the regatta events the name of Marilyn Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ellis of Havelock, aged 8 months, was omitted as taking second prize in the baby show. Miss Joan Scott, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Scott, won first prize with Marilyn Ellis of Havelock, a close second.

Owing to the funeral of the late Claud Insley of Healy Falls (formerly of Trent River) the meetings of the Women's Institute has been postponed Thursday till Thursday, August 16th.

Gate receipts for the regatta day resulted in over $150.

Miss Vaughan Brown returned Tuesday from Norwood where she spent the week-end and holiday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hendren.

Peeved Truck Driver Runs Amok On Avenue Kills Dog, Hits Dozen Cars In Few Blocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Residents around Foster avenue and 47th street, in Queens, remarked today that the next time James Hines gets a notion to drive his truck down that way they will call in the dogs, shut the windows, bolt the doors, hold their hands tightly to their ears and hope for the best.

Mr. Hines, who owns a big truck, drove down 47th street yesterday without missing hardly any parked car. He banged into one sedan, stove it in, kept right on going and bang into another, and another.

The owner of a damaged car set out in a machine which Mr. Hines' truck had overlooked, and succeeded in trailing Hines by the simple system of observing scratched fenders and dented bodies enroute.

Hines agreed to return to the scene of the first motor casualty, but unfortunately while en route he banged into a couple of more innocent motorcars.

Finally arriving, Hines soon tired of waiting for a policeman, and started on his way again. A bus was parked unsuspectingly at a curb. Hines' aim was still good, and he put some marks on it. His own truck was standing up well in its roles of battering ram. Mr. Hines, however, was getting a bit indignant at all these obstructions that seemed to jump up and challenge his progress, so he decided to turn around and give the bus driver a good talking to for being in his way. On the way back his truck ran over a dog, killing it.

By this time a policeman had arrived and Hines was taken to jail and held for a hearing today for reckless—as half a dozen damaged car owners insisted—driving.

Weddings

SUTTON—McKIM

CAVAN, Aug. 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—On Saturday afternoon in St. John's Anglican church, West Toronto, the marriage took place of Vera Isobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKim of Ingleswood to Reginald Armitage Sutton of Ida. Officiating were Rev. C. W. McKim, recently of Vancouver, B.C., assisted by his brother, Rev. R. P. McKim, recently of St. John, N.B., who forty years ago was rector of St. John's church, Toronto Junction. Both are cousins of the bride's mother.

Meredith McKim, brother of the bride, was groomsman, and Mrs. C. W. McKim of Toronto attended the bride, who was becomingly gowned in beige triple sheer and French lace with mohair hat and other accessories to match. Organ music was supplied by J. Meredith McKim of Nice, France, brother of the officiating ministers, who had also played the music at the wedding of the bride's parents about thirty years ago.

The ceremony was attended by only intimate friends and relatives, who included Mrs. Wurth of Zurich, Switzerland, and Mrs. E. H. Allen of Kingsheath, England.

After the party had dined at the King Edward Hotel the couple left by motor for Northern Ontario. On their return they will take up residence in Ida, Ontario.

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding Piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt, known as HEM-ROID and sold with your money back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by relieving congested circulation and helps to heal and restore the sore surfaces.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Mcdermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and other good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets to-day—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

Half Holiday

We take great pleasure in announcing to our many patrons and friends, our sincere appreciation of the passing of the recent by-law as to the weekly half day closing during the summer months, but yet we regret that its enactment had not been made earlier in the season, as many employees in some organizations are required to work longer hours during the other week days and are necessarily in need of a respite for rest or recreation.

Our employees, however, have the minimum daily hours as well as a weekly summer half holiday, and if this legislation is productive of the desired results we know that many less fortunate employees will be greatly benefited.

All our stores will close Wednesday, August 15th at 12.30 and every Wednesday afternoon during the month. We will therefore thank you for your cooperation in shopping early on these special days.

MRS. W. D. SCOTT LONG RESIDENT IN CITY PASSES

Late Adela Raymore Prominent in Religious and Social Life.

LIVED HERE 45 YEARS.

Prominent in the religious and social life of the city during her residence here extending over a period of nearly forty-five years, the death occurred early this morning at Nicholls Hospital of Adela Raymore, the dearly loved wife of Dr. William Dixon Scott.

The passing of Mrs. Scott is widely mourned throughout the city and more particularly by the congregation of Murray Street Baptist Church with which she was actively identified. For almost twenty-five years the late Mrs. Scott was president of Peterborough Women's Baptist Association besides having held similar office for a number of years with the Women's Missionary Circle. She was also a member of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board, a position she reluctantly resigned on account of ill health.

While her home and church were her chief interests, she lent her support to many other organizations for the welfare of the community and at the time of the laying of the cornerstone at the Y.W.C.A. was president of the Board of Directors of that institution.

A daughter of the late Henry Stimpson Raymore and Sarah Charlotte McGill, Mrs. Scott was born at Lunenburg, Ontario, but spent a greater portion of her early life in Toronto, where her parents were well known.

She took up residence here shortly after her marriage almost forty-five years ago, and had since won the love and respect of a wide circle of friends. Surviving are her husband; one son, Dr. G. Raymore Scott of this city; a daughter, Mrs. Alexander Roberts of Toronto; three sisters, Mrs. B. O. Britton of Gananoque, Mrs. J. M. Denholm of Blenheim, and Miss H. Raymore of Toronto; and one brother, C. T. Raymore of Toronto. Five grandchildren also survive.

The funeral will be held at her late residence, 286 Hunter street West, on Saturday, August 11, 1934, at two-thirty o'clock (Standard time), with interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

Weddings

VINT—LATCHFORD

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was the scene recently of a pretty wedding, when Muriel Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Latchford of Best's Station, became the bride of Mr. Samuel Vint of Peterborough, son of Mr. Robert Vint and the late Mrs. Vint, of Ireland.

The Rev. D. A. McKenzie officiated and Mr. M. B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dainty frock of white satin, made on long fitted lines, with a long veil of net caught in cap fashion by a wreath of orange blossoms, and white accessories. Her bouquet was of roses, carnations and maidenhair fern, tied with long white ribbons.

Mrs. D. Armstrong of Belleville, matron of honor, was in a pretty gown of pink crepe, with pink hat and white accessories and bouquet of sweet peas tied with pink ribbon.

Mr. D. Armstrong supported the bridegroom.

After the ceremony, which took place at six o'clock in the afternoon, a wedding supper, attended by thirty-five guests, was served at the home of the bride's parents, where decorations were in pink and white. The bride's cake centered the table which was done with flowers. Mrs. Latchford, mother of the bride, was gowned in printed navy blue and white crepe, with a hat of grey lace straw and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Vint, who received many useful and handsome gifts, spent their honeymoon in Toronto, the bride travelling in an ensemble of poudre blue crepe with white hat, shoes, purse and gloves. They will live at 533 Rogers street.

DR. MARY VIOLETTE DOVER

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 9.—(CP)—The body of Dr. Mary Violette Dover, famous for her petroleum researchers and a United States government consultant on explosives during the Great War, was enroute to her Canadian birthplace today for burial.

She was born in Peterborough, Ont., the daughter of Frederick and Annett Wood Dover, and for many years had been associate professor of chemistry at the University of Missouri. She died late last night following an operation.

Dr. Dover's authoritative research in lubricants and combustion heat of gases and petrol won her an international reputation. After she received her B.A. in 1898 and M. Sc. in 1900 from McGill University, she joined the staff of that University as demonstrator in chemistry, serving until 1905. She joined the faculty of the University of Missouri in September, 1915.

Dr. Violette Dover, whose death occurred at Columbia, Missouri, following an operation, was well known in Peterborough, where she received her early education and was a frequent visitor. She was a descendant of Stephen Wood, one of Otonabee Township's earliest settlers, and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dover. The family residence was at the north-east corner of Armour Road and Hunter street.

The late Dr. Dover attended the Peterborough Collegiate and early showed brilliance in her studies. In her dress she was an eccentric, refusing to wear the customary female garb, but always wearing a Christy hat.

The funeral will be held from Comstock's Funeral Home on Friday at 2.30 p.m. with interment in the family plot at Little Lake cemetery.

Great Speed King To Race Again

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Aug. 9. (AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell's Bluebird, the fastest car on earth, likely will thunder again over the sands of Daytona Beach next Winter.

In a telegram received here by city officials, Campbell, who more than a year ago raised his own speed record to 272 miles an hour, formally accepted an invitation to race his car on the beach sometime during the Winter. He hopes to boost the mark to 300 miles an hour.

PLANES CIRCLE ALGERIAN AREAS AS FEUDS BREW

13 of 27 Known Slain Have Throats Cut—Girls Among Victims.

300 ARABS ARRESTED.

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 9 (A.P.) — Seven Military agroplanes circled constantly over a wide area about Constantine to-day following reports trouble between Arabs and Jews was brewing at several points.

Thirty-six Arabs, armed with shotguns, were arrested as they sought to enter Constantine in automobiles.

The city grew quieter, following days of bloodshed in religious rioting between the two races. Military forces are under the personal direction of Jules Carde, governor general who returned hurriedly from Paris yesterday.

Violence was reported to have broken out in outlying districts of the state having large Jewish quarters, including ain Beida and Tebessa. Authorities refused to confirm or deny the reports.

The throats of 13 of the 27 known killed here were slashed while others were beaten to death with clubs. Three little girls, their ages ranging from four to 10, were among the victims. They were virtually decapitated with native knives.

Authorities said they believed the death toll was much higher, for Arabs apparently hid the bodies of many Jewish victims. Some 300 Arabs are now under arrest in Constantine.

HAROLD DAVIS TO PAY $41.15

Local Resident, Convicted of Reckless Driving Forfeits Permit for Week.

ON WRONG SIDE OF ROAD.

"I am satisfied that Davis was driving on the wrong side of the road and that it is evidence within the meaning of the Act," stated Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in disposing of the testimony of a case which lasted until mid-afternoon yesterday.

Harold E. Davis, 20, of 221½ Brock street, convicted of reckless and negligent driving was ordered to pay a fine of $20 and $21.15 costs, in addition to forfeiting his driving permit for one week.

A similar charge against Alfred Mason, 27, of Haddington avenue, North York Township, as driver of the other car involved in collision at Springville on the evening of July 27 last, was dismissed by His Worship on the suggestion of J. A. O'Brien, counsel for the defendant, Davis. Mason was represented by A. L. Elliott.

Near Springville Garage

In evidence Mason told the court he was driving north on Highway 28 on the evening in question, and when in the neighborhood of Springville Garage he saw a car driven by Davis approaching. The Davis car was on its own side of the road witness stated when he first observed it. Later it swung over to the east side of the road and continued on in that course. Witness said he applied his brakes and slowed down from 40 miles per hour to 25-30 miles per hour; then realizing that he would be unable to pass the Davis car on the right side had gone over to the west side of the highway in an attempt to pass it on the wrong side. The Davis car started to go back to the west side of the highway at the same time, and a collision resulted.

"The who'e of the Davis car was on my side of the road, I would say," witness stated in reply to Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C.

Moves for Dismissal

After the Crown had presented its case, Mr. O'Brien, who was a passenger in the Davis car on the evening of the accident, moved for dismissal, but the Magistrate ruled that he must call his defence.

Going into the witness box, Davis, described as a student at law in Mr. O'Brien's office, declared that the Mason car was approaching on the wrong side of the pavement when witness first observed it. Driving south at an approximate speed of 30 m.p.h.; witness said he had Mr. O'Brien and Miss Cameron as passengers in the car.

At the time of the impact, Davis stated the car he was driving was not in motion.

A Denial

Referring to evidence given by Hilliard Strong, who resides near the scene of the accident, Davis denied having heard Mr. O'Brien state, "I told you to keep on your own side. You're fired."

Mr. O'Brien, in evidence, stated he was a passenger in the Davis car. He had always considered Davis to be a careful driver. He did not see the Mason car, he stated, until it was ten or twelve feet away. At that time the Davis car was to the right of the centre of the pavement.

"I specifically state I did not tell Davis that he was told by me to keep on his own side of the road, either on that occasion or on any other occasion. Nor was he told he was dismissed from my employ."

Mr. McElderry, cross-examining, asked, "Did you tell Mr. Clarke when you were in his house after the accident that you had told Davis to keep on the right side of the road?"

"Not to the best of my recollection," Mr. O'Brien replied.

"Did you say the accident was the fault of your driver?" Mr. McElderry queried.

"No. I am firmly convinced that he was not to blame for the accident."

Following adjournment, the Crown in reply, recalled Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark of Springville, and also Constable David Silvester. The latter provided evidence relating to measurements of skid marks on the pavement. Skid marks showed that the Davis car was slightly on the east side of the pavement and that prior to the impact had travelled in a diagonal direction southwest for a distance of 39 feet. The marks started 5 feet 11 inches from the east edge of the pavement, the constable stated.

The Weather

Local citizens rolled and tossed in bed last night through the hottest night that has gripped the city and district for several summers. The mercury failed to get below 68 degrees, Walter Peters, official weatherman, reported today. "It was certainly the hottest night this summer," Mr. Peters said.

Setting out on what may prove to be another heat wave, a high temperature of 90 degrees was recorded officially yesterday.

Shorty after 2 o'clock to-day Mr. Peters reported that the mercury was up to 87 degrees and was still climbing. There may be thundershowers, he said, but there is no cool weather in sight immediately.

Last night's record heat of 68 degrees, acording to his records, was theh ottest night since 1926 when that summer the mercury failed to fall below 70 degrees one night.

RICH MAN'S 'POVERTY' DINNER COST $3,000 FOR 12 PERSONS

Pals See and Enjoy Tableau of Gold Operator's Life

DRINK RARE WINES

Brighton.—A man who has made a fortune out of the gold share boom staged one of the most remarkable dinners ever held in Brighton, in the Hotel Metropole.

There were twelve guests and the dinner cost about $250 a head.

When the guests arrived they went to an hotel bedroom on the first floor, and found themselves in a room carpeted with sackcloth and furnished with a deal table, hard wooden chairs, a bare dresser, and a broken-down bedstead.

There the guests assembled and in the flickering light of candles which were stuck into the necks of old beer bottles the guests drank the toast to their host and swapped yarns of old times.

The wine that they drank was poured from an old brown jug. But it was sherry of the rarest vintage.

Made Two Fortunes

That was to suggest to the guests the days when the financier was not a millionaire, but was comparatively "down and out."

They called the dinner "The 8.5 Old Boys' Reunion." The man who gave it used to travel up to London from Brighton every day on the 8.5 a.m. train. Now he lives in Park Lane. He has made two fortunes in his life.

The guests walked out of the barely furnished room along a thickly carpeted corridor, down a flight of stairs, to a scene of luxury without parallel in the history of Brighton's hotels.

They sat at a long table, and before them was displayed a tableau symbolic of the financier's life story.

On the left was a bag, from which poured a deluge of golden sovereigns —symbolic of his days of wealth. In the middle was a broken-down cottage humbly furnished. On the right was a wonderful villa suggestive of his new wealth.

This was all done in sugar, and was specially executed by the chef.

Special soup brought from China was the first course. It was birds' nest soup, the most expensive in the world. Stock was served at $25 a bottle. The richest Tokay, an original Green Chartreuse, and vodka followed.

CITY'S YOUNG PEOPLE GO BACK TO NATURE

Nude Clerks and Typists Present "Absurdity of Clothes" Dance

Somewhere in Surrey. — Thirty young men and women, all naked, dancing to throbbing beats on a tom-tom and the drone of a brass gong—that is the scene a reporter watched in a Surrey wood.

The dancers were bank clerks, city typists, stock exchange experts, ordinary members of suburban families, inaugurating the official opening of the sun bathing societies season by demonstrating the latest continental rhythmic exercises.

In this thick wood on a hillside looking down on the red roofs of a suburb were 150 men, women and children completely unclothed, swimming, running, jumping or just lying beneath the trees luxuriating in the warmth of the winds and the speckled sunlight that dances over their pink and brown bodies.

In the middle of a large sand-covered square stood a well-built girl, brown as a berry and strong, holding a tom-tom and a gong and shouting orders to two groups of men and women dancers.

The dance went on for more than half an hour, the swaying dancers' bodies shining in the sun.

After this came a bathe and after lunch the sports, preceded by cabaret items given by members of the camp.

The first was a balloon dance given by three girls, long limbed, lithe, slim and brown.

Then followed some ballet dances by a young man and a Titian-haired young woman. One of these dances was designed to show the absurdity of clothes. The young man wore nothing but a pair of gloves, a white waistcoat and tie, shoes and socks. The girl wore only a hat, a string of beads, gloves, pair of silk stockings, and carried a white powder puff.

GIRL CHOOSES ALTAR RATHER THAN COURT

Bench Dismisses Charge on Her Wedding Day

Leeds.—A Batley girl found herself in the dilemma of having been summoned to appear at police court at the same hour as her wedding was due to take place.

She went to the church and not the police court. This is the letter she sent to the magistrates:—

"I hope you will be very lenient with me, as I cannot possibly be present. I am getting married, so please forgive me this time. I will promise that it will not occur again."

The girl, Miss Constance A. Hudson, was alleged to have caused an obstruction by leaving her car too long, but when the prosecution said they did not wish to press for a conviction on her wedding day, the bench dismissed the summons.

JUNE HARSH TO SAILOR

Saved Third Time After Stopping Leaks With Margarine

Aberdeen.—Charles Dick," second engineer of the Granton trawler, James Evans, believes that the month of June is unlucky for him.

When, with other members of the trawler's crew, he was brought into Aberdeen after the James Evans had sunk in the fishing grounds he said: "I have now been shipwrecked in three Junes in succession.

The small boat in which the crew took refuge just before the James Evans went down was leaking so badly that a blanket fastened to an oar was hoisted as a distress signal. Then one of the crew caulked the leaking seams with margarine salved from the wreck.

SIMILAR BEQUESTS LEFT BY SPINSTERS

Sisters Together in Death as in Life

Rawtenstall.—The striking affinity between two spinster sisters who had lived together all their lives and died within twenty-four hours of each other was revealed by the publication of their wills.

They were Miss Sophie Noule, aged 83, and Miss Louisa Annie Noble, 80, of Haslingden Rd., and their wills show that they were: Drawn up on the same day; referred to exactly equal estates, and contained identical bequests to exactly the same charities.

The executors are the same, and the only difference is that the net personalty disposed of by Miss Sophie Noble was three pence greater than that of her sister.

They were buried in the same grave.

GRAFT BROTHER'S SKIN TO HIS INJURED SISTER

Young Miner Rides Bicycle Twenty Miles After Each Operation

Cardiff—The courage and self-sacrifice of a young unemployed Ogmore Vale miner, who in the past two years has six times submitted to operations to give pieces of his skin to be grafted on to his injured sister, is to be recognised by the miners of his valley.

He is David Woosman, whose sister, Mrs. Dorothy Owen, was admitted into Cardiff Royal Infirmary in June, 1932, with severe burns received while bathing her child in front of the kitchen fire.

The story of his heroism is best told in the words of Dr. Armstrong, medical superintendent of the hospital, in a letter he sent the testimonial committee.

"At vairous times Mrs. Owen had skin grafts performed," he wrote. "Her brother came down on each occasion on his bicycle, gave the grafts from his thighs and cycled back home. In coming from the hospital this young hero has had to cycle at least 20 miles with the dressing on the wound caused by the skin graft."

The employees of the Wyndham and Penllwyngwent collieries are responsible for the testimonial.

GEN. HIGGINS 'GOING SLOW'

Salvation Army Head to Visit America Upon Retirement

London.—No farewell tour, an unostentatious vacation of office, a visit to members of his family in America, and then some quiet, plain "soldiering" at home. This is how General Higgins, who in five months' time will cease to be head of the Salvation Army, is thinking about his future.

He is, he will tell you, "going slow" just at present—obeying the doctors and taking things easy. More or less.

TELEPHONE CALL ENDS CONVICT'S PRISON DAYS

Appeal to Highest Court in Land Makes Legal History

Leeds.—The telephone bell rang in the governor's office at Leeds prison. "Hullo! Hullo! The home office speaking. William Maxwell is to be released immediately. . . ."

Less than an hour later a 75-year-old Hull herbalist walked through the prison gates a free man—and disappeared.

William Maxwell had won a dramatic fight for liberty—and won it in the last round.

His appeal was allowed by the house of lords, the highest court in the land.

A legal authority said that he believed it was the first time the house of lords had allowed an appeal previously dismissed by the court of criminal appeal.

The law lords regarded their decision as so important that Lord Sankey instructed his secretary to telephone the home office.

Maxwell was sentenced at York assizes for the manslaughter of a woman, on whom he was alleged to have performed an operation.

The case went to the court of criminal appeal. The conviction was upheld. That, normally, would have been the end of Maxwell's fight against his sentence. Only in the rarest cases can a criminal case go on to the house of lords.

The attorney-general, however, decided that a point of law was at stake, and issued a fiat for the case to be heard by the lords.

Maxwell's appeal was on the ground that his trial was prejudiced by counsel cross-examining him about a charge of manslaughter of a woman some years ago, when he was acquitted. The court of criminal appeal held that the question was admissible, because Maxwell had first given evidence about his "good, clean moral past."

LADY PEARSON'S SON BECOMES PRO BOXER

Protests "Unnecessarily Strict" Rules of Amateurs

London — A sensation has been caused in boxing circles by the statement of John Buckmaster, the son of Miss Gladys Cooper (Lady Pearson), that he intends to fight as a professional.

Mr. Buckmaster, who left Eton two years ago and is now nineteen, told reporters that his decision was a gesture of protest against the "unnecessary strict" rules of the Amateur Boxing Association. He has been coached by an ex-champion, Johnny Summers, since the age of nine, and one of his first fights as a "pro." will be at the Ring, Blackfriars, this month.

Mr. Buckmaster, a welterweight, intends to fight under his own name and give all the proceeds to charity.

FIND ANCIENT PAINTINGS

Norwich.—Traces of beautiful early fourteenth-century paintings have been found in Norwich cathedral after being covered for many years with whitewash.

It is hoped soon to be able to reveal them in their complete and original condition, with all their brilliance of color.

In the opinion of the dean, H. S. Cranage, the paintings date from about 1300.

SINCE BELINDA SHED SKIN SHE FEELS CANTANKEROUS

Bird-Eating Spider Now Must Subsist on Cockroaches

WAS ONCE FRIENDLY

London. — Belinda is causing anxiety to her keeper and her friends at the London zoo. Belinda is a bird-eating spider with a fatal bite, but for the last year she has been obliged to subsist on cockroaches, and a reporter found her very much "sunk," peevish and sulky, to which the carefully electrically warmed insect house apparently offered no relief. Her keeper said that she had been in that condition ever since she shed her skin in February, 1933.

"Yes," he said regretfully, prodding the six-inch span of furry body with one cautious finger-tip, "I'm afraid Belinda's temper is not what it was. There was a time when she would sit on the palm of your hand as happy as you please, but now she struggles and you have to be careful. If she ever dropped on the floor she would burst."

There is another reason, too, which the keeper did not mention. If Belinda ever bit, as most of her relations do at the slightest opportunity, it would mean death swift and terrible or, at best, a serious illness.

This great bird-eating spider from Brazil is one of the very few in the zoo not to have come over in a crate of fruit. Unlike all the other spiders, she hates fruit and prefers a diet of six cockroaches a week. A resident of nearly four years' standing, she is a comparative veteran among insects and there would be mourning among her keepers if she died.

KING GREETS CHILD ON COMMON GROUND

London.—A nurse was seated in charge of a child in a perambulator on Rotten Row.

A horse pulled up alongside and a voice said, "what a beautiful child." The speaker dismounted. He was the King.

"Would you like to pat my horse?" he said to the child. The child was held up to do so, and then his majesty mounted and rode away.

FROGS' LEGS FOR MONTANA

Dillon, Mont.—Montana has a new industry. W. G. Squires and H. L. Tolley have imported a number of Louisiana bullfrogs, whose progeny, they contend, will soon be supplying Rocky Mountain states with succulent "frog legs." So far as is known, this is the first time that frogs have been raised commercially in Montana.

NEW X-RAY MACHINE BURNS THROUGH STEEL

Powerful Invention Discloses "Permanence" of Hair Waves

London. — An X-ray machine ten times more powerful than any other in the world is being constructed at the famous Davy-Faraday Laboratory of the Royal Institution, London. It will have a power of fifty kilowatts, or nearly seventy horse-power. The new apparatus will be used for "high-speed X-ray analysis."

This process, which shows exactly how the innermost atoms of materials are arranged, was developed by Sir William Bragg, director of the Royal Institution, and his son, Professor W. L. Bragg, of Manchester university.

One of the mysteries which has been solved by "X-ray analysis" is that of the permanent wave. Beauty specialists found various methods to produce the waves, but even scientists did not know why they were "permanent."

Now X-rays have shown that when the waving specialist has finished with a girl's head the arrangement of the billions of atoms in each hair has been completely changed.

The new machine can also produce rays of heat so intense that if trained on a block of steel several feet thick, they will instantly burn through it.

TRYING TO REACH LOST HAT MAN IS SLAIN BY LIONS

Women Faint as Animals Maul Zoo Worker in Den

RESCUE ATTEMPTED

Dunstable.—A scene recalling the coliseum of ancient Rome was witnessed by visitors to the Whipsnade zoo when a man fell into the lions' enclosure and was mauled to death. The victim was Stanley Louis Stenson, aged 25, an employee of the zoo catering department, who lived here.

The accident occurred shortly after four o'clock, when between 200 and 300 visitors were walking through the zoo.

Stenson was apparently standing near the high iron railings surrounding the lion enclosure when he was told that somebody's hat had been thrown over. He immediately climbed up the railings to the top.

What happened then was described by Dr. G. M. Vevers, superintendent of the zoological gardens, who lives at Whipsnade:

"After climbing over the barrier which surrounds the dell," Dr. Vevers said, "Stenson crawled along the top of the inside railings until he got to a point beyond which he could not proceed.

"At this point two of the lions seized hold of his arm through the bars and held him pinned against this particular piece of railing.

"The man whose hat was in the dell climbed along and held on to Stenson and tried to pull him away from the railings.

Lost Hold on Man

"Meanwhile some people told one of our men who was at the other side of the dell of what had happened, and he came along and also tried to rescue Stenson.

"After a time the first man who was holding Stenson had to release his hold.

"Stenson fell right into the pit, a drop of about 16 to 17 feet.

"Two lions dragged him further into the pit and killed him. They were eventually driven off and shut in their 'catch-up' enclosures. It was then possible to get the body out."

An alarm was immediately given, the keepers blowing their whistles and summoning about forty employees from all parts of the zoo. Meanwhile two of the zoo painters, who were painting the railings, secured a ladder, climbed to the top and seized hold of Stenson.

They made a gallant attempt to drag him out, although he was seriously injured, but one of the lions immediately sprang at his legs and tore him away again.

He had been savagely mauled before help could arrive and pieces were torn from his legs by the lions before they could be driven off.

Stenson's companion screamed for help when he saw the man's plight and a number of women who were standing nearby fainted.

Keepers who beat off the lions and held them at bay with poles managed to cage two of the animals. The other two refused to leave their prey until beaten off.

The curator, Mr. Simmonds, fired five shots from a revolver he was carrying in an attempt to scare the animals.

DIES ON MERCY ERRAND

Boy Killed Obtaining Fruit For Sick Sister

London. — When asked to obtain fruit for his sister, who was ill, Peter Redman, aged 12, of Summer lane, North Finchley, mounted his cycle and rode off to the shop.

He took a wrong turning, and in an effort to remedy his mistake was bowled over by a tram car and fatally injured.

PAL'S STRONG GRIP SAVES FALLING MAN

Climber Hauled to Safety on Edge of Precipice

Fountain Heath.—While climbing Crib Goch, in the Snowdon range, Morris John Allan, a post-office engineer of this place, lost his foothold and slid 80 feet down the mountain side to the brink of a 1,000-foot precipice.

Just as he was about to disappear his friend, Sidney H. Gauston, another post-office engineer, sprang forward and stopped his fall.

Gauston was able to retain his hold on Allan whose right leg was fractured, and to move him to safety. He was taken to Portmadoc hospital.

'LIVE' GARDEN NETTING ELECTROCUTES WOMAN

Receives Fatal Shock by Touching Fence While Watering Flowers

Bexley Heath. — How a woman, while watering her flowers, was electrocuted by a "live" wire running along her neighbor's fence was told at an inquest.

The woman was Ivy Florence Pike, aged 33.

Neighbors who heard screams found her hanging on to the wire netting separating her garden from the next.

Along the netting ran a lead-covered electric cable from the sitting room next door to a shed at the bottom of the adjoining garden.

The ground where Mrs. Pike was standing was saturated and her shoes were wet.

Ernest Edward Lasham a neighbor, who went to her assistance, said he found her gripping the netting with both hands and, thinking she had fainted, tried to revive her by dabbing her forehead with water. As he did so he received a shock.

John Roberts, a printer, living next door, said the extension from his house to the shed was done by his nephew, who was not experienced in work of that kind.

A. J. Abrahams, engineer to Bexley council, said a copper conductor was in contact with the lead covering of the cable. Contrary to regulations, neither the cable nor the wire netting was connected to earth. In consequence both the lead covering of the cable and the wire netting were "alive" at 200 volts.

DAD'S PERSEVERANCE SLOWS UP DAN CUPID

Daughter, on Way to Lover, Loses in Wild Race

St. Heller. — Father and mother racing across France, quenched the romance of twenty-three-year-old Anne Perets, fleeing to Australia to marry Leslie Downie.

Anne was the manageress of father's business in Jersey. Father was in Guernsey, mother in Paris, when Anne cut the parental painter.

She flew to London. She boarded the liner Orsova. Anne sighed with relief as Tilbury faded away.

Next day father returned to Jersey. No Anne. So father closed the shop, gave the staff a holiday, and rushed to join mother in Paris.

Together father and mother sped across France. The Orsova put into Toulon. Father and mother were there. Anne's heart sank.

Mother fainted as she boarded the liner, leaving father to argue with Anne. Father won.

Then father, mother and Anne came home. Father reopened the shop and dismissed the staff because he said they ought to have told him of Anne's secret.

BOYHOOD CHUMS MEET AFTER HALF-CENTURY

Five Jews Reunited at Bar-Mitzvah Jubilee

London.—A reunion of five Jews, who were all confirmed together 50 years ago, took place at the Great Synagogue recently.

Jewish custom decrees that after reaching the age of thirteen the person shall attend Bar-Mitzvah (confirmation) at the synagogue on the Saturday immediately following the birthday.

Fifty years ago five boys—Louis Green, E. R. Levy, L. Harris, J. A. Samuel and D. L. Solomons—attained their thirteenth birthday within a day or so of each other. They attended the Bar-Mitzvah together.

After half a century these same Jews, now men of 63, celebrated the jubilee of their Bar-Mitzvah at the synagogue.

During the 50 years the five men had not seen each other regularly, and they are all in different trades.

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS FROM FAR CORNERS OF THE WORLD

SIGHT OF RED LEAD KILLS AUTHOR OF GRUESOME YARNS

Thrilled Readers With Murders But "Blood" Too Much for Him

WAS ALL IN FUN

Paris.—After devoting years of his life to thrilling people, Gabriel Bernard, well known Parisian writer, died of fright himself.

His delight, as well as his living, was composing gruesome yarns that would make the chills run up and down the spines of the Parisian public. Women fainted when his horror dramas were played at the Grand Guignol. Red-blooded he-men were afraid to go to bed after reading such of his mystery tales as Les Campaymons de la Haine or Les Cinq Detectives.

But in none of his plays or novels did he ever invent a situation as bizarre as the one which was accountable for his own death. He died of fright at seeing a point of red!

Bernard was walking through the rue Montmartre at 10.30 o'clock one Sunday evening. From the other direction approached Maurice Kuppefend, whose business in life is to make people laugh—and buy things they don't want from his street-corner stand. Kuppefend was feeling in a festive mood. Bernard, doubtless thinking of a new mystery tale, was lost in thought. On the sidewalk between them was a bucket of red lead.

Ah, a Joke

The hawker's eye fell on the bucket of paint and the absent minded author at the same time. Acting on an ill-fated impulse, he seized the brush dripping with red paint, and thrust it in front of Bernard's eyes. Bernard stopped abruptly, went white and let out a string of Gallic. Regretting his would-be joke, the jovial hawker tried to tell his victim that it was all in a spirit of good, clean fun.

By this time a crowd had gathered and the inevitable policeman had popped up. Bernard, frantic with anger, demanded Kuppefend's arrest, then he suddenly collapsed. At Charite hospital he died a few hours later—"Pulmonary congestion following strong emotion" was the official explanation.

Arrested, Kuppefend waved his arms and talked of committing suicide when he learned of the writer's death.

"To kill a man with a paint-brush!" he cried excitedly to newspapermen. "Did you ever hear anything like it? In the meantime I'm a ruined man."

DEATH PROPHECY BECOMES REALITY

London.—Almost exactly a year ago T. G. Saville, brilliant young actor, who died recently, prophesied his death—from the stage.

It was in May, 1933, at the Piccadilly theatre in London. Saville was appearing in Pirandello's play, "The Man with a Flower in his Mouth," which was running as a curtain-raiser to the longer play, "Caesar's Friend."

Pirandello's play, a tragic emotional study, centres round a man—brilliantly played by Mr. Saville while under the shadow of death—who has about a year to live.

About a fortnight ago Mr. Saville complained of feeling unwell. His friends persuaded him to see a doctor. He was removed from a nursing home to St. Bartholomew's hospital where he died.

ARMY KEEPS TAB ON FRENCH AUTOS

Foreigners' Cars Listed, Too, for War Precaution

Paris.—Just in case the French army ever needs some extra automobiles, all motor car owners in France—including Americans and other foreigners with cars registered here—must report their cars with a description of make and length of operation to the prefect of police in view of an eventual requisition by the military authorities.

If a car gets worn out, or burns up, or is smashed in a crash, or is sold, loaned or pawned or becomes separated from the owner in any way whatsoever, this fact also must be reported within thirty days.

Failure to do so will cost a fine and may cost a jail sentence if the owner, after being warned, fails to make the proper report.

QUAINT BRETON PLAN UNITES SHY ELIGIBLES

Happy Marriages Said to Result From Gay Bachelors' Fair

Mouren.—Reviving a picturesque old custom which has not been observed in Brittany for half a century, the municipal council of this little Finistere village staged a bachelors' fair with joyous and highly successful results.

Invitations had been sent far and wide to all young men who were thinking of getting married but had not yet found a suitable mate, and the word was passed around among the unmarried girls of the entire region to be on hand with their best frock and smile. By the middle of the Sabbath morning, large autocars packed with eligible youth of both sexes began arriving in Mouren from dozens of small and large towns of Brittany.

Immediately after lunch, the lovelorn guests assembled in the square before the 16th century cathedral, most of them dressed in the quaint costumes of Brittany. The girls were put in charge of the bachelors' fair, and for an hour there was a scene of hilarious gaiety as they went among the multitude of prospective husbands selecting their partners for the gala luncheon.

After the ice had been broken by a generous meal accompanied by an appropriate number of glasses of cider, maybe a shot or two of applejack, the newly acquainted couples proceeded to the open country on the outskirts of the town. There they engaged in a rustic dance, for which a naval band furnished the music. As the afternoon wore on and the dancers got better and better acquainted, couples started wandering off to the nearby Grotte aux Fees, the famous Dolmen of Pen'rach and the romantic forest of the Hospice. Late in the evening, the autocars started back to their destinations, with their loads of sentimental young folks. It is claimed that in the past many happy marriages have grown out of these fairs, and, judging by the number of dates that were made before the party broke up, the revived bachelors' fair is also to terminate at the altar for many of the participants.

CURIOSITY FINISHES TOWN'S HERO WORSHIP

Honored Bones, Sealed for Years, Prove Those of Girl

Sassenage.—This quaint Dauphiny village has long been proud of possessing the bones of Pierre du Terrail Bayard, the Chevalier sans Peur et sans Reproche who heroically served king and country in the early sixteenth century.

The honored remains were in an authentically sealed casket under the bust of the republic in the local city hall, and all newly married couples were invited to bow before it so that bridegrooms might find inspiration in the chevalier's heroic past.

Dr. Allibe, local physician with a sacrilegious curiosity, recently had the idea of casting an osteological expert eye on Bayard's bones.

He wanted to see of what stuff such medieval heroes were made. He obtained permission to break the sacred seals and open the more sacred casket. He blew away the centuries of dust and came upon a femur which seemed weak indeed for a chevalier who had fought for three kings and alone had fenced with 200 Spaniards. A few vertebrae of extremely delicate structure were the doctor's second surprise. Then came the discovery which was just too much; the pelvis was that of a young girl.

The Chevalier Bayard was a miss of some fifteen summers!

MOTHERS SEEK TO CLEAR DEAD SONS OF COWARDICE

Shot as Warning to Battered Poilus Who Refused to Re-attack

DRAWN BY LOT

Paris.—A suit brought by four widowed mothers to clear the names of their sons, who, with one other, were shot for cowardice during the war, was heard by the court-martial appeal court.

Major Dubosc gave evidence. He took the court back to 1915.

The famous fifth battalion of the 53rd infantry regiment (which the major commanded), after being practically wiped out, left the line for rest.

Immediately the survivors were ordered back again because a strong point had been captured.

The men went back, exhausted and demoralized, to ground "every yard of which was strewn with their dead comrades."

They were ordered to attack again. Officers advanced a few yards into "No Man's Land" under tremendous machine-gun fire. "The men did not follow," said the major. "I do not blame them."

General Deletoille ordered the entire battalion to be court-martialed. "It would have been a hecatomb," said Major Dubosc. "I protested. Finally I was ordered to select one man per company. There were six companies, but only five men, chosen by lot, were shot. Lieutenant Boulant, commanding the fourth company, refused point blank to carry out his orders."

Five fatal names were drawn out of hats. Five French poilus died. The court-martial recommended them to mercy. General Deletoille refused it. The condemned men would not plead for their lives. Each said: "It would only mean one of my comrades . . . It may as well be me."

The court reserved its verdict.

WEDS FRENCHMAN REMAINS BRITISH

British Girl Overcomes "Red-Tape" to Retain Citizenship

Paris.—An English girl of twenty-one has turned a new page in the story of English women's fight for equal rights with men.

For pretty Ina Ginn, of Stanmore, Middlesex, has become Mme.—or rather Mrs. Lucien Albert of Paris—and retained her British nationality. She is the only Englishwoman to have married a Frenchman—or any foreigner—and remained British.

She wrote to the home secretary on her engagement, explaining her patriotic desire; after long negotiations with French and British authorities. She came to Paris to be married.

Her new passport reads: "British subject under the provision of the British Nationality and Status of Aliens Act, 1933, wife of a French citizen."

SEEK "MYSTERY" MAN

French Authorities Issue Warrant For British Banker

Paris.—Colonel Frank Norris, British banker, who has lately been called the mystery man of German finance because of his operations in converting blocked marks into foreign exchange which are rumored to have mounted to the staggering total of $300,000,000, will be called upon to explain the mystery before a French court if he is caught in France.

Examining Magistrate Rousselet issued a warrant for him, allegedly on the complaint of the English Unilever soap interest.

SMUGGLERS ACTIVE

Rye.—Thousands of pounds' worth of contraband is entering the British Isles every week at this part of the south coast; and officials responsible for guarding, because of their small number, the coast, are unable to prevent the smuggling.

Drugs, liquor, silks and tobacco are handled in the great "racket" which is known not only to the preventive officers, but to the home office.

Shepherd, an unemployed ex-service man, who as a matter of public duty informed the police of the outbreak of fire at West Woods near here, and then on request spoke to the headquarters of the Folkestone fire brigade, has been presented with a bill for $85 for the firemen's services.

The owners of the forest, which was saved from damage, have repudiated liability. They are a government department, the forestry commission, who recently broadcast an appeal to the public for assistance in preventing forest fires.

Neither side was vulnerable. Bidding went: West, 1-spade; East, 2-diamonds; West, 2-hearts; East, 3-clubs, which was the first evidence of ambition; West, 3-hearts, to show that he was bidding long suits, with the same number of cards in each; East, 3-spades; West, 4-spades, which should have ended the auction; East, 4-no trumps, to show the aces of both suits not bid by West; West, 5-diamonds, to show his K, after his partner had shown the ace; instead of bidding 5-spades, leaving the rest to his partner, East bid 6-diamonds to show the Q, and forcing West to bid 6-spades. Fortunately East bid no more, but South doubled.

The opening lead was the 4 of diamonds. The 7 was played from dummy and South covered with the J. Declarer's lone K won.

West felt that the doubler might hold some heart strength, but almost surely he held the K of clubs and a certain trump trick. West led his top club. Dummy's ace won. Upon the good ace and Q of diamonds West discarded his last club and his lowest heart. The Q of clubs was led from dummy. South's K went up. West ruffed with his 5, giving him his fifth straight trick.

The ace and K of hearts won the next two tricks. Dummy ruffed the third lead of hearts. The declarer discarded his last heart on a lead of dummy's good J of clubs.

Nine tricks had been won. Dummy led a spade. South played low. Declarer's J won. The lone 10 dropped at his left. West held nothing except trumps, and so did South. The declarer led his 8 of trumps, having left the ace and Q. South's 9 won the trick, but he had to lead from his K-6, giving West his doubled 6-odd.

Can West Make a Small Slam?

West has bid 6-hearts. The opening lead is the Q of spades. Before tomorrow see if West can make his small slam against subsequent perfect defence.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The problem of keeping your wardrobe spic and span when travelling or on a vacation, and at the same time not increasing expenses materially, is one of the suggestions given today should help to solve. Speed of the work is needed also. When garments are sent to be laundered, several days are generally required for the job. In the meantime you are minus cloths which may be much needed.

* * * * * *

If there is space in trunk or large suit case to pack a tourists folding ironing board, and an electric iron, you can do most of the work yourself, that is if you are willing to expend the effort and take the precious moments away from actual vacationing. If not try cold water pressing to remove wrinkles. Put a paper on a table or bed, and over it lay two thicknesses of hand towel, or a bath towel.

* * * * * *

Lay the article to be pressed smoothly on it, or in pleats according to the way the garment is made. With a damp piece of cloth (a clean handkerchief or a face cloth will do), rub the wrinkle gently until it disappears. The moisture will do the work quickly. Continue rubbing lightly until dry and smooth. Many wrinkles can be taken out in a few moments. Mussed places respond to this same treatment. Hang garments carefully on coat hangers being sure to have shoulders fitted smoothly over hangers.

* * * * * *

Handkerchiefs can be laundered well by washing in cold water first, and then in hot preferably. Stretch smooth on any hard smooth surface. Window panes offer just the right surfaces but it is unwise to use them as they show from the outside, and objections will be raised. A mirror or the marble top of a wash stand or table, is excellent. The porcelain slab back of a set wash bowl, or the sides of a bathtub—if you are so fortunate as to have a private bath—any of these places supply good surfaces.

* * * * * *

Stockings and wash gloves of all kinds can be kept spotlessly clean with very little labor. When worn they will stretch smooth. Fancy cuffs to gloves can be carefully pressed and smoothed by rubbing as in cold water pressing. Then arrange smooth and flat and put under a weight. If a book or magazine is used for the weight, be sure to cover it well with paper, and place a sufficient thickness of dry white cloth (a thickness of towell for instance) over the gloves to absorb any dampness. Never use any but an old or cheap book.

* * * * * *

It is wise to have crinkly crepe night gowns, silk crepe of this sort can be bought, and gowns made of it also. These will launder beautifully and should never be ironed anyway. Glove silk lingerie is recommended for easiness of laundering at no extra cost.

RUSH POINT

Mr. William J. Puffer of Norwood who is spending the summer camping at Seeney's Landing at Round Lake caught a 5-pound black bass while fishing in Round Lake this morning. The fish is 19 inches long and 13 inches in girth and sure put up a sporty struggle.

CAVAN

Mr. Burton Bell of Toronto is visiting Mr. and Mrs. David White.

Miss L. Syer has returned after spending a week in Bowmanville.

Mrs. McGuire has returned to her home in Bowmanville after visiting friends in Cavan and Peterborough.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Do not hang up to dry white silk shirts and blouses which you fear may turn yellow. Roll in white cloth after washing, and iron while still damp, but not wet.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

If it is difficult to convince yourself that emotional disturbances may result in changes in the body functions, if you believe every symptom must be due to bodily disease, think of stage fright.

Here is a young singer waiting nervously before the microphone to make his first broadcast. An hour before he has announced in a mellow and beautiful voice that he is not particularly desirious of meeting an angel so long as he is in the society of "you-o-o-o." An hour before he had perfect control of his voice. But now! Now the music begins and he is supposed to repeat his private opinion of angels. He opens his mouth and not a sound emerges. Five minutes later he will be able to speak or sing with perfect control. What has happened?

There is no paralysis of the muscles, no change in the vocal cords, there is no injury to the nerves, there is no disease of the brain, and heaven knows, he had the will to sing; it was not because he was stubborn or that he had changed his mind. But with all the apparatus at his control, the emotion of fear had overwhelmed him to such an extent that he was the same as paralyzed.

Many speech disorders are of the same character, although I believe that the most prominent, stuttering, is due to a fundamental change in the natural habits of the individual. In short, I believe that stuttering is present in naturally left-handed individuals who have been taught to become right-handed.

Speech is such a complicated bodily mechanism that it involves many structures, and hence is very likely to get out of order. The same thing is true of sleep.

Most disorders of sleep are functional. Of course, it is possible, as in the case of sleeping sickness, to have an organic disease which produces prolonged sleep, and also organic disease of the brain which produces long periods of wakefulness. Insomnia, however, as usually encountered, is, as I say, functional in character, and due to the formation of a habit or to emotional disturbance.

Insomnia is harmful, depending very largely on how much it bothers the individual who is afflicted with it. I have known many people who had insomnia for years and claimed never to get more than one or two hours' sleep, who have been perfectly healthy because they had learned to be philosophical about it. They realized that they would get the required amount of rest if they simply lay still without going to sleep. They rest by letting their minds wander. It is the people who think that insomnia is the cause of insanity, or that it reduces their efficiency, who suffer bad consequences of it. It should be stated in the plainest terms that insomnia is not a sign of any mental weakness or disturbance, and that it does not result in insanity. In fact, some of the sanest and most efficient people in the world have been those who required very little sleep and, sometimes, none at all.

BE BEAUTIFUL

Back in the late eighteenth century, David Everett, a very popular but extremely sensitive poet, once replied to one of his hecklers, "Don't view me with a critic's eye, but pass my imperfections by". That's the way a good many women seem to feel. They resent criticism. But I really don't think they should. For sometimes, you know, criticisms can be constructive.

Just the other day, for example, I was chatting with a well-known orchestra leader and crooner who is as popular amongst movie fans as he is amongst night club habitues. We were discussing the present summer fashions. And he told me that the only styles he didn't quite like were the backless bathing suits and backless frocks that so many gals sport during the summer time.

It wasn't the styles themselves that he disliked, I finally wormed out of him, but rather the fact that so many women expose backs that are hardly a credit to them. Such a women, he maintains, should never wear backless creations of any sort. And he sure is right about that.

That's the sort of criticism that I'd call constructive criticism. For it's bound to make any self-respecting damsel sit up and take notice of whether or not she has the sort of a back that is exposable. And unfortunately, too many gals are so intrigued with backless styles during the torrid season, that they do not consider their backs at all.

Any gal who wants to wear those frocks with suntan backs, and those two-by-four, backless bathing suits, should first give her back a careful inspection. In the first place, she should examine it from the standpoint of shapeliness. Thick pads of fat are hardly pleasurable for the beach Adonises to behold. And thin, scrawny shoulder blades and vertebra that protrude detract just as much from a gal's attractiveness.

In addition, to be really lovely, a gal's back must be smooth and clear-skinned. Blemishes that mar the back just about ruin its loveliness. So if you wish to expose your back during the summer season, first give it a strict examination. And if there are any of the above flaws present, you'll find their remedy in my next two articles.

Petes Triumph Over Dukes in Oshawa 13 to 6

LEE CLAN IMPROVES BERTH IN C. O. B. L. BY DECISIVE VICTORY OVER MOTOR MEN

Rose Goes Good in Relief Role When Calladine Yanked in Sixth.

DUKES' FIELDING SLOPPY.

Calladine, Konopka, Batten and Burton Each Connect For Two Safeties.

The Petes hammered out a 13-6 win over Oshawa in the Motor City last night to creep up in the C.O.B.L. standing. The game, played before about four hundred fans, was a weird and draggy affair, being called at the end of the eighth owing to darkness. The Petes had too much punch for the homesters and pulled ahead whenever they were threatened.

Bill Calladine started for the Lee gang and went good till the sixth frame when a single, double, walk and error made things look dark for the Petes, and Bill was yanked. He had held Oshawa to three hits till that frame and fanned four, but he was inclined to be wild and issued four walks. Abbie Rose went in and did some fine relief flinging. He walked the first man to fill the bases and then fanned the next one. He fanned two in the seventh, gave a walk and hit and fanned the next. And he fanned two in the next inning, though a run was scored.

Knox lasted five innings on the Dukes' mound, pitching fair ball but getting shaky support. Frink finished and was hit hard. The Dukes' fielding was sloppy at critical times, while the Petes turned in a smart defensive game. Calladine got two doubles in twice up for the Petes while Konopka, Batten and Burton also hit twice safely each, the latter getting a triple. Knox and Mathews led Oshawa at bat with two each.

How They Scored

Two walks, Batten's hit and two errors let in three runs for the locals in the first. Oshawa got two back in their half on a walk and Red Hollingsworth's double. The Petes scored twice in the second on a walk, error, sacrifice and Konopka's single. The homesters got one back on a walk, two passed balls and a double by Knox. Calladine doubled in the fourth, took third on Konopka's hit and home on an out. Whatley walked the next inning and tallied on Calladine's second two-bagger. In the sixth, Batten was safe on a miscue, moved up twice on outs and home on Burton's single.

Oshawa got two in the sixth on Mathew's double, Elliott's single, an error and two walks. The Petes made it safe in the seventh with four on singles by Dallin, Batten and Murray, a hit batsman and a triple by Burton. They added one in the eighth on a walk, error and out. The Dukes got their final counter in the eighth when Peacock singled and raced right home on Kitchen's double.

Play-Offs Arranged Trent Valley Loop

MARMORA, Aug. 9. (Examiner Correspondence)—At a meeting of the executive of the Trent Valley Baseball League held in the Royal Hotel, Marmora, on Wednesday evening, under presidency of P. Yuill, the position of the Havelock team came under consideration, that team having found it difficult to continue its scheduled games.

A motion was passed that all Havelock games be thrown out and scheduled games be continued to determine winner and in the event of a tie sudden death games be played on August 17th and 20th according to a draw, otherwise a winner and the second place team play two out of three on the 17th and 20th of August with third game on the 22nd if necessary.

KINGSTON PONIES WHITEWASHED BY BELLEVILLE NATIONALS 2-0

G. Arniel's Error In Sixth Paves Way for Only Runs of the Game.

A PITCHERS' DUEL.

KINGSTON, Aug. 9. — Kingston Ponies, champions of the Central Ontario Baseball League last year, were shoved deeper into the league cellar here last night, when they were beaten by the leading Belleville Nationals 2 to 0. It was the second straight game in which the Ponies have been whitewashed.

G. Arniel's error in the sixth, when, with two out, he dropped Mills's fly, paved the way for the only runs of the game. Weir followed with a hit that bounded away from Arneil and went for a three-bagger, Mills scoring, and R. Smith with a single that counted Weir.

The game was otherwise a great pitching battle between St. Louis and Williams. Smart fielding by "Sonny" Green at second for Belleville featured the game, the visiting keystone sacker accepting thirteen chances without an error.

ROYALS CHALK 3RD STRAIGHT DEFEAT CHIEFS

Syracuse Scores 6 Runs in Fourth But Loses to Montreal 11-8.

BUFFALO BEATEN 14-11.

(By the Associated Press.)

Although playing good ball to gain ground under ordinary circumstances, Montreal Royals are finding it difficult to make any headway toward the play-off division in the International League.

The Royals chalked up their third straight victory yesterday in defeating Syracuse Chiefs 11-8, but still found themselves four games back of the fourth place Albany Senators who accounted for their sixth successive game, beating Toronto Maple Leafs 5-4. The Senators' triumph reduced the gap separating them from the third place Leafs to two games, all on the winning side.

Montreal was forced to stage an uphill battle after the Chiefs had counted six times in the fourth inning but they sent at least one run across the plate in every inning except the eighth, while Orilin Collier hurled shutout ball the last five innings.

Chasing Jim McCloskey from the mound in the fifth, the Royals continued their 15-hit attack off Ad Liska, John Merena and Elliott. Ben Saneky, Montreal shortstop, led the attack. He connected with four hits in five times at bat, drove in two runs and scored twice.

Albany and Toronto opened up with fireworks in the first inning, scoring two and three runs, respectively, and then settled down to a hard fought game and it was not until the last three innings that the Senators were able to push over the needed tallies. Bill McCorry's men nicked Walt Hilcher for five hits in the last three frames, scoring a run in each. Ed Chapman was credited with his second victory of the series, taking over the hurling duties at the start of the seventh. He held the Leafs to two blows the remainder of the game.

Newark and Buffalo used just about every available player in their slugfest, won by the Bears 14-11. Nine pitchers were blasted for a total of 30 hits with Newark collecting 16 blows off the five hurlers Ray Schalk sent to the mound for Buffalo. Floyd Newkirk received credit for the victory and George Milstead was charged with the defeat. The hitting honors went to Dale Alexander and Moe Mulleavy. Each connected with four hits in five times at bat.

Wings Run Wild.

Led by Buster Mills, who was hitting right up to his name, the second-place Rochester Red Wings ran wild in a night game and submerged Baltimore Orioles 15-5. Mills accounted for nine of the runs as he clouted two home runs, a double and a single. He drove in seven tallies and scored two in addition to the pair of homers. The Red Wings failed to tally only in the second inning as they battered three pitchers around for 17 blows.

MARMORA MEETS 13 TO 3 SETBACK

McTavish Hurls Good Game for Triumphant Coe Hill Outfit.

MARMORA, Aug. 9.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—Marmora, Trent Valley League leaders, failed at home on Wednesday afternoon be victorious by the score of 13-3. McTavish on the mound for the winners was in his best form and received good support. Brady, who started on the box for Marmora, was relieved in he 10th by McInroy.

Two errors by the homesters and some good hitting gave Coe Hill four runs in the initial innings. In similar fashion five more runs were gleaned by Coe Hill in the 6th.

REFRIGERATOR COPS 32-2 WIN

Engineers Swamped Under Barrage of Hits in First of C.G.E. Playoffs.

31 SAFETIES.

Refrigerator Department team smothered the Engineers with a barrage of base hits totalling 31, last night at King Edward Park, when the two teams hooked up in the first of a two-out-of-three series for the championship of the C.G.E. inter-department softball league, and the game dragged to a close with the Refrigs winning by the lopsided count of 32 to 2.

Ev. Thomas and Osterland pitched for the losers, and the opposition pounded the offerings of both hurlers at will, securing four homers, four doubles and 23 singles. Stan Clarke, B. Ashmore, Harry Ferguson and Eric Howe topped the winners with the willow. Ace Powell turned a good performance on the slab for the winners, while his support was first class, only two miscues being registered.

The teams:

Refrigerator—Vitarelli, ss; Clarke, cf; Howe, 3b; Ashmore, c; Weir, 2b; Kearney, 1b; Griffin, lf; Ferguson, rf; Powell, p.

Engineers—Gore, c; Jones, 1b; Williams, 2b; Osterland, 3b, p, 3b; Emery, ss; Price, ss; Thomas, p, 3b, p; Allen, rf; English, cf; Tracy, lf.

Score by innings:

Engineers	020 000 000	2	5
Refrigerator	200 003 03x	32	21

Umpires—De Sproule at the plate, Fred Martin on the bases.

COCHRANE HIT IN THE TENTH WINS FOR CATS

St. Louis Browns Drop 7-6 Verdict to Fast Stepping Tigers.

YANKS TROUNCED 9-2.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer)

Mickey Cochrane not only has turned out to be a fine inspirational leader who has piloted Detroit Tigers into the American League lead, but if the occasion demands it, "Mike" can do a lot of the actual work of winning games.

Cochrane proved that point yesterday when he struck the blow that defeated the St. Louis Browns 7-6 in a 10-inning struggle and gave the Tigers one of the longest leads they have enjoyed this season, 2½ games over the second place Yankees.

Trailing by three runs at one time, the Tigers staged one of their last-minute rallies that have marked this season's games and tied the score in the ninth by nicking Ed Wells for a pass and three singles that netted two runs. Going into the 10th at 6-6, Bill Rogell started things with a single, Hank Greenberg sacrificed and Marvin Owen walked. That brought Cochrane up and he smacked a base hit that brought in Rogell with the winning run.

2nd Loss For Yanks

While the Tigers were pulling the game out of the fire, the Yankees suffered their second straight setback at the hands of Joe Cronin and his Washington club, 9-2. A six run spurt against Charley Ruffing in the first settled the dispute in short order although Russ Van Atta did some fine relief flinging for New York. Like Cochrane, manager Cronin was leading figure, hitting two triples and a single.

To make things tougher for the Yankees, while Lou Gehrig, the home run leader, was held hitless, Jimmie Foxx smashed his 35th four-bagger for the Athletics in the course of their 11-9 defeat at the hands of the Red Sox. The blow, which came with the bases full, left Foxx only one behind Gehrig. It couldn't win the game as Boston already had piled up a 10-1 lead but when Ed Coleman followed with another circuit smash it nearly ruined Wes Ferrell and Lefty Grove had to come in and subdue his former teammates.

The Indians completed a day of hefty hitting in the American League by downing Chicago 11-4 with the aid of four homers, two of them by Hal Trosky. The Sox were in bad shape for the game with Al Simmons, Zeke Bonura, Jack Hayes and Mule Haas on the injured list.

CONSIDERING CANDIDATE

GUELPH, Ont., Aug. 9.—(CP)—If the proposal receives enough support during the next few days, the local Co-operative Commonwealth Federation group will run a candidate in the provincial by-election here August 20. Famous Old Oriole One of the Greats In Big Time Circle

Baseball Veteran Piloted Brooklyn Dodgers to Two Pennants in National League.

HEADS ATLANTA CRACKERS

Succumbs to Hemorrhage of Brain in Georgia Hospital—Spent All His Life in Game.

ATLANTA, Aug. 9.— (A. P.)—That famous old Oriole, Wilbert Robinson, is dead.

Death came just as Uncle Robby, one of baseball's greatest figures, wished it—quickly and with little pain.

He succumbed to a hemorrhage of the brain last night at 10.30 o'clock and his last words were about the Atlanta baseball club of which he was president.

Robinson was 70 years old. His span of life saw him as catcher and captain of the Baltimore Orioles; saw him win two pennants at Brooklyn in the National League and finally saw him worry himself literally sick about his club here.

For the last three days Robinson had felt badly. His Crackers were in a slump after playing good ball nearly all season. He fell suddenly while emerging from his bath just before dinner yesterday and broke his arm. He was taken to hospital.

At the hospital it was discovered he was suffering from a hemorrhage of the brain. The last sacrament was administered by Rev. Edward McGrath.

As Robinson awaited the ambulance he said to the doctor:

"This broken arm doesn't hurt me. I'm an old Oriole. Wrap it up and let me stay here."

Robinson was born in Hudson, Mass., in June 1864. He started his baseball career with the home team and later joined the Philadelphia Athletics after a professional year with the Haverhill team.

From 1886 until 1889 he was with the Athletics.

Former Giant Coach

In 1904 Robinson went into retirement, John McGraw sent for him in 1911 and he joined the New York Giants as coach. He went to Brooklyn in 1914 as manager. Under Robinson's guiding genius Brooklyn won two pennants and became the richest franchise in the National League and the second richest in all baseball, topped only by the New York Yankees.

He was president and manager from 1926 to 1930—too heavy a burden. He retired in 1931 but two years later he was persuaded to come to Atlanta as president.

Set Baseball Record

He established a baseball record that still stands—six singles and a double in one game.

He will always be remembered as the first catcher who crouched close behind the batter all the time instead of moving up first for the third strike.

During his latter years as Brooklyn manager the club was known as the "Robins" in his honor.

One of his great difficulties in his last few years with the Dodgers was remembering the names of his players and such odd substitutes as "lumbago" for Ernie Lombardi and "Sauté" for Joe Shaute cropped up frequently.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Joe Cronin, Senators—Hit two triples, a single, drove in two runs and scored two runs against Yankees.

Mickey Cochrane, Tigers — Drove in winning run against Browns.

Van Mungo, Dodgers — Held Giants to three singles.

Ben Cantwell, Flint Rhem, Braves—Checked Phillies with six hits.

Babe Herman, Cubs—Drove in five runs with two triples and a single in second game of double bill with Pirates.

Jerome Dean, Cards—Pitched effective relief ball against Reds to receive credit for 21st victory of year.

KIRKWOOD WINS JUNIOR SINGLES

Howard Hammell Beaten in Hard Fought Four-set Match in City Tennis.

A FAST STRUGGLE.

Gordon (Chick) Kirkwood won the junior men's singles finals in the city tennis tournament yesterday, defeating Howard Hammell in a hard fought four-set match. Despite the heat, play was fast and hard all through. Howie started off well driving deep to the baseline to keep Kirkwood away from the net and chasing his drives out of reach to win the first set, 6-4. Chick changed his tactics in the second and third sets, placing his tricky chop shots deep to the corners and coming to the net for frequent placements. This style played havoc with Howie's drive, and Kirkwood won the next two sets, 6-3, 6-4. After the ten-minute rest, both boys opened up and hit the ball hard. Kirkwood found his drive for the first time during the match and outdrove his opponent to win the set, 6-4, and the match.

In ladies' doubles semi-finals, Mrs. J. A. Dewart and Miss M. Donaldson defeated Misses Cutting and Lundy, 6-4, 6-1 and Misses G. Carvolth and A. Macdonald won from Mrs. Langley and Miss Benson, 6-4, 8-6. In men's doubles, R. Friend and H. Hammell defeated M. Clarke and W. Young, 6-1, 6-1; while A. Ward and W. Perks, playing a steady game, defeated the Swartz brothers, who faltered badly after the first set, 4-6, 6-0 and 6-2. In mixed doubles, Miss Donaldson and W. Perks were successful over Miss Macdonald and R. Maybee, 6-4 and 6-2.

Matches Friday at Peterborough Club: at 5.00— W. Jackson and Miss M. Jackson or Miss B. Cutting and A. Rutter vs. Miss G. Dewart and Cotton or Miss Benson and Donaldson vs. Miss Donaldson and Perks; at 5.00 at Kawartha—Fanjoy and Holgate or Cotton and Cowling vs. Shields and Rishor.

Orphans and Johnston's Tires tangle tonight at six in Central in the first game of the Men's Softball League playoffs. This is the final series ,best three out of five games, and no need of advising softball fans to be there. They know this should be a grand series between two classy squads fighting for the city title, the Taylor Trophy, and the right to represent Peterborough in the O.A.S.A. playdowns. Orphans knocked Brintons out of the race while Johnston's were sitting back resting up. It's hard to say which is the better thing, to keep playing steadily, or to lay off for a week. This series may settle the point. Second game will be up there Saturday night.

• • • • • •

Following the game, there will be an executive meeting of the men's loop in the "Y". The main business will be to deal with the resignation of Dave Lecther as secretary. As we said before, we don't think the meeting should accept his resignation. Not only has he been a hard worker in this league for years, but he is also a member of the O.A.S.A. executive—and don't forget the O.A.S.A. convenes here next Spring. Some of the players were inclined to pin the blame for the recent ruling on the local softball playoffs on the secretary. But this is unfair. Neither he nor the president had a thing to do with the draw which resulted in Johnston's getting the bye. It was the other three teams—Brintons were the exception—that worked it. If this is the cause for Dave's resignation, he should reconsider, as anyone who knows what went on will realize his hands were tied completely on this point.

The Petes copped another one in Oshawa last eve, the score being 13-6. It was a sloppy, draggy tussle with four pitchers used and only eight innings played, darkness interfering. The Petes pranced into a nice lead right at the start and kept it, though threatened at times by the battling Dukes. But the locals always seemed to have the punch to go out and shove across a few more runs when Oshawa crept up on them. Some four hundred fans were on hand and made more noise than lots of crowds twice that size that we've heard.

• • • • • •

Probably the feature of the tilt was the relief flinging of old Abbie Rose. The veteran, who is closer to forty than thirty-five, has taken up the task of relief work three times so far this year and has made a fine job of it every time. He is cool, experienced and has a nifty slow hook—a real change of pace from any of the Petes' pitchers. He stopped Oshawa cold, with the bases loaded, and only gave them one run the rest of the way, after starting in the sixth. He fanned six in less than three frames. Not bad going for an old chap, eh?

• • • • • •

Bill Calladine wasn't going so badly at all, but just inclined a little toward wildness. He didn't allow many hits and seemed okay till there were a couple of hits, an error and a walk in the sixth. As the Dukes seemed to be rallying to tie it up, Knotty Lee decided to change hurlers, so he pulled Bill for Rose. The whole local squad looked good hitting and in the field, whereas Oshawa didn't hit so well in the pinches and kicked in with five miscues. 'Twas a long drawn out and dull affair, but a win for the Petes—so who cares?

• • • • • •

With Jack Williams pitching three-hit ball, Belleville took a 2-0 win over Kingston in Ponytown yesterday to keep their slim lead over the Petes. With the race rapidly drawing to a close, the Ponies and Dukes will have to get in there fast and win some games or they'll be left out of the playoffs. Kingston is here Saturday for its final game of the season and no doubt the Ponies will be fighting mad and ready to put up a man-sized struggle for a win. Russ Kitchen may do the locals' hurling. Yesterday in Kingston, both Williams and St. Louis pitched fine ball and it must have been a sweet scrap.

• • • • • •

Cogs, local intermediate winners, will have to wait a while longer before meeting the Lakeshore League winner in O.B.A.A. playdowns. The semi-final playoffs in that loop don't start till Saturday, with Port Hope and Bowmanville meeting. Second game is next Wednesday. The victor then tangles with Cobourg in the finals. These playoffs should have been hurried up to have a winner declared by August 15th, as it's not the best thing in the world for Cogs to be sitting around waiting to play for three weeks or so.

• • • • • •

City tennis championship matches are moving along daily and the tournament should be completed about the middle of next week. Gord Kirkwood copped the junior men's singles title yesterday by beating Howie Hammell in four lively sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 and 6-4. It must have been mighty hot work tearing around the courts yesterday afternoon for a total of thirty-nine games! In ladies' doubles, Mrs. J. A. Dewart and Miss M. Donaldson took one bracket of the semi-finals, while the Misses G. Carvolth and A. Macdonald won the other. Some smart net work is being shown coming down the stretch by the surviving players.

Golf Rule Changes

Following are some further changes in golf rules, as published in the year book of the Royal Canadian Golf Association: Rule 22, lost and unplayable ball—The only substantial change is that if a ball be lost or unplayable from the putting green, the ball shall be placed and not dropped as heretofore. Rule 26, hazards—There is included an entirely new provision that if any fixed steps or planks interfere with a player's stroke, the ball may be lifted and placed as near as possible to the spot where it lay in a similar lie and position without penalty. The rule also permits the removal of any loose impediment not in a hazard; whereas formerly only loose impediments on the putting green could be lifted.

Rule 27, ball in water hasard—Where a ball is played from the teeing ground into a water hazard, the next ball may be reteed and played from the teeing ground with penalty of one stroke. The old rule required the ball to be dropped. Subsection 2—A ball which lies or is lost in casual water may be dropped on "dry ground." Formerly it had to be dropped within two club lengths of the margin of the casual water. Subsection 3—A ball in casual water on the green may now be placed "in the nearest position to where it lay," where formerly it had to be placed within two club lengths or in the nearest position affording a clear shot to the hole.

Rule 31—If a player on the putting green play when his opponent should have played, the new rule requires that the stroke "shall" be at once recalled. Formerly the word "may" was used. This carries into effect Rule 1 which requires that players shall not agree to exclude the operation of any rule or waive any penalty incurred, under disqualification of both players.

Rule 32—This rule has been changed in several minor respects; the most important being where a player has holed out and the opponent's ball has come to rest, the player may knock away the opponent's ball. This is the very opposite to the former rule.

Weston Eliminated In Western Finals

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8. —(C. P.). — Roaring down the championship trail that took them into the Dominion finals just a year ago, Prince Albert City Reds were back in the running to-day for premier soccer honours. Victors over United Weston, in a spirited overtime game here last night, a fighting Saskatchewan squad won the Western Canada title and the right to meet Verdun Park, Eastern champions, here in the final.

Reds won the western crown for the second time by setting the Manitoba champions back on their heels in a whirlwind game that stretched into overtime play. The 4-1 victory enabled hhem to break a deadlock that carried the series into four games.

RUSS KITCHEN MAY PITCH ON SATURDAY

Ponies Here for Their Final C.O.B.L. Game of Season Against Petes.

Russ Kitchen may be seen on the mound here Saturday when Kingston comes back to play their final C.O.B.L. game of the season with the Petes at three o'clock in Riverside Park. The big right-hander, back from vacation, is working out, and if ready by that time will get the assignment. It will be his first Central League start in Peterborough this year, if Kitchen is selected. The ace right-hander in the loop last season is about ready to step in there now and take his regular turn. Probably Speedy St. Louis, with Lefty Gallagher in reserve, will do the Ponies' flinging.

Smarting under two shut-outs in one week, one here and one at home to Belleville, Kingston is sure to make it a real fight in Riverside on Saturday. They are battling for a playoff berth now and cannot afford to drop any more tilts. The Petes have won two in a row this week and will try hard to make it three in order to keep up there in second place. As it will be the Ponies' last league appearance here of the year, and in view of the fact that this team draws the largest local crowds, it looks like another huge gathering of rooters to see a whirlwind struggle Saturday.

Hack Wilson Let Out By Brooklyn Dodgers

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—Lewis Robert ("Hack") Wilson, the pudgy outfielder who walloped 56 home runs for Chicago five seasons ago, was cast adrift by Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday to find himself another big league job if he could. Wilson, who is 34, was notified before yesterday's game with the Giants that he had been given his unconditional release.

A few years ago he was one of the highest-paid players in the big leagues, drawing $33,000 from the Cubs for his 1930 feats of belting homers and driving in runs. But after hitting .356 in that season his batting average dwindled as his waist-line increased and before the 1933 campaign he was traded to St. Louis and then to Brooklyn.

CUBS CUT INTO GIANTS' LEAD TWIN TRIUMPH

Chicago Takes Double Decisions From Pirates While Terrymen Lose to Dodgers.

CARDS BEAT REDS 10-4.

While the gap in the American League widened to 2½ games, it narrowed to the same margin in the National when the League leading Giants took a 2-0 shellacking from Brooklyn and the second place Cubs swept a doubleheader with Pittsburgh, Van Mungo, who has been gunning for his 14th victory for some time, earned it by limiting the world champions to three hits and driving in the first run himself.

A six run rally in the third, featured by Manager Charley Grimms' home run with two aboard, won the opener for Chicago 7-4 while the combination of seven-hit flinging by Guy Bush and a 16-hit assault on Bill Swift and Burleigh Grimes, brought an easy 14-2 decision in the after piece. Grimes, recently released by the Yankees, signed a Pirate contract just in time to get into the game.

The third-place Cardinals also registered a gain as they cut loose suddenly in the 12th inning to score six runs and beat the Reds 10-4 but it was a bigger triumph for Dizzy Dean, the league leading hurler. Dean, who went to work in the 10th, was credited his second victory in two days and his 21st of the season.

The Braves and Phillies waged one of the day's keenest battles, Boston winning out 5-2 on a ninth inning run that came when Phil Collins passed Marty McManus with the bases loaded. Collins took the hill after Curt Davis was spiked in the hand in the sixth.

GIBBARD "B'S" TAKE LEAD

NAPANEE, Aug. 9.—Opening with a batting rally in the first inning, securing seven runs, Gibbard "B's" defeated Enterprise in the first game of the County League playoffs by 12 to 2 yesterday afternoon. The second game will be played at Enterprise on Saturday afternoon. Three pitchers were used by the visitors. On the other hand, Bishop pitched a neat game for the locals allowing only one hit up to the fifth. He had six strike-outs while the visiting moundsman, Spratt, had four. The locals on the whole played bang-up ball and every man secured a hit or more.

King Edward School Wins Bantam Honors

King Edward School won the bantam championship of the City Baseball League last night by nosing out St. Peter's, 4-3, in the second playoff game at Riverside Park. Snappy fielding, and some good hits for extra bases marked this fixture, the best one of the season. Conroy and Todd were the opposing flingers and both worked good, proving stingy with hits. Todd fanned eight while Conroy whiffed three. The winners had a little the better support. Thornton's fielding was a feature, with Scollard and Todd topping the rival hitters. The teams:

New World's Record By Calumet Dubuque

SALEM, N.H., Aug. 9 (AP) — Calumet Dubuque, 2.02, the bay gelding owned by John C. Thompson of New York, was driven to a new world's one-mile and one-sixteenth record by light horse Harry Thomas in winning the first dash in the 2.10 past at the Grand Circuit meet here yesterday.

The great-son of Peter the Brewer, 2.02½, and Gertie Guy won by a nose in a four-horse driving finish from Alan Wilson's Logan Scott in the fast time of 2.15 2-5, slicing almost two seconds from the former world's figures held by King Grattan.

Escobar Holds Title In Montreal Battle

MONTREAL, Aug. 9 (C.P.)—Upon the sturdy, shoulders of Sixto Escobar, flashy little bantamweight from Puerto Rico, recognition in Montreal as world's bantamweight champion still rested to-day. The smiling, swarthy little Central American successfully withstood the challenge of Eugene Huat, of France, here last night, to defend the title recognition he won by knocking out Mexico's Baby Casanova about a month ago.

Relatives Celebrate Richardson Triumph

TORONTO, Aug. 9. —(C. P.). — When 18-year-old Sammy Richardson, coloured city play-ground boy, won the broad jumping championship of the British Empire, the achievement started a family reunion in Toronto that didn't end until parents, aunts, uncles and cousins of the young negro gathered with one accord under the paternal grandmother's roof in celebration and jubilation. Sammy's victory was the only subject talked of but the talk was long, loud and laudative.

Highlights From White City Stadium

There was some bellowing along the boxing front of the British Empire Games to-day. The British system of keeping the referee outside the ropes had won few friends from the Dominioners. "All contests," said Dennis White of Montreal, manager of the Canadian boxing team, "should be staged under International Amateur Athletic Federation rules, not British A.B.A. rules. I do not think Joe Palmer of England should be Empire champion. He was beaten last night by Maxie Berger."

]:[

White had support from other quarters. The Canadian was emphatic in stating Berger would have beaten Palmer in the flyweight final last night under international rules which give points for aggressiveness and clean hitting. "Sammy Tomlinson," White said, "also would have beaten the Welshman, Jones, under international rules.

]:[

The South African contingent minced no words in declaring Leibrandt, their light heavyweight boxer, was disqualified for a foul he never committed. Leibrandt was giving Brennan of England an artistic lacing when the referee stopped the fight for an alleged low blow by the South African. The dressing-room controversy was loud and long. White was among those who believed the blow was fair. Brennen went on and won the title by beating Holton of Scotland in the final.

]:[

In winning all five preliminary wrestling bouts yesterday, Canadians did what was expected of them. Every Canadian is defending a title won in 1930 at Hamilton. On the other hand, the boxers are striving for a first Empire title. Canada didn't win any in 1930.

]:[

The impression was prevalent in London that the next Empire Games would be staged in Cape Town, South Africa. But there are difficulties to overcome. South Africa would have been awarded these games had the Cape Town authorities been willing to permit colored athletes to take part. The colored barrier is high in South Africa. It would have shut out two 1934 champions—Phil Edwards of British Guiana and Sam Richardson of Toronto.

]:[

They won't decide until 1936 about the 1938 games, but it was believed virtually settled that Cape Town would be the venue.

SILVER SLIPPERS BY Temple Bailey

CHAPTER 9

Entering this house, Giles and Scripps went at once upstairs. When an hour later they came down they had bathed and changed. In the dining room the candles were lighted and the table set for formal service. The two men stood until a girl in evening dress arrived. She was dark with a pale skin, and her dress had a golden glow like that of the midsummer flowers outside.

She went straight up to Giles. "Why are you so late?" she demanded.

"Are we late?"

"Yes. I watched . . . I wanted to talk to you. About Margarida. She baked a cake and was putting candles on it when I caught her at it. She said it was your birthday. But it isn't. Your birthday is in April. Don't you remember? There was always dogwood."

He drew out her chair for her. "Was I born in April, Scripps?"

Scripps said, promptly, "Of course. Fancy a man forgetting when he was born, Amelie."

She paid no attention to him. "You must speak to Margarida, Giles. She was very obstinate. I just happened to go in the kitchen. And I made her take the candles off."

When they had finished their canapes and Margarida brought the soup, Amelie said, "I was right, Margarida, his birthday is in April."

Margarida, placing a soup plate, kept a frozen silence.

"You hear, Margarida?"

"Yes, I hear."

"How did you make such a mistake?"

"I am old . . . the old forget . . ."

"Well, then, you may serve the cake for dessert, but there must be no candles."

When the cake appeared the two men ate and said nothing of that other cake which they had eaten at noon. Nor did they speak of Dilly. They talked of the rain and of books and of things that were in the evening paper which they had brought over with them in the boat.

After dinner, the men smoked, and Amelie played for them. A little later Scripps read aloud. Amelie listened for a time, then demanded, "Why don't you read to me, Giles?" She was impatient and impolite.

Scripps looked up from his book and said, passionately, "Doesn't my voice mean anything to you?"

"What should it mean?" Amelie had risen and stood looking down at him. "You are always saying things like that. And I wish you weren't here. I want to be alone—with Giles . . ." She turned away from him. "I'm going to bed. I hate the rain. When I'm asleep I forget it . . ."

After she had gone, Scripps said, "Giles . . . how can ever stand it?"

His friend laid a hand on his shoulder, "Hereafter I'll do the reading."

"But I thought that Aucassin and Nicolette—years ago we read it together."

"I know," the grip of Giles' hand was comforting.

When Scripps went finally upstairs for the night, Giles made his way to the kitchen. Jose sat before the glowing kitchen stove with his feet on the shelf of it. Margarida was kneading bread, the elastic dough puffing between her strong fingers.

"What happened," Giles asked, "about the cake?"

Margarida's hand, sticky with dough, went up in the air. "I was such an old fool. I wanted you to know I had not forgotten. So I baked the cake and was going to bring it to you and Mr. Stephen tonight after she was in bed. And then she came through the kitchen. And I was caught."

"You couldn't help it, of course."

"What I hate," Margarida was vehement, "was that I was made to tell lies. Which is a sin on my soul . . ."

"May you never have a worse one, Margarida."

He talked after that to Jose about the garden and the chance of more bad weather. Jose and his wife had been on the place before Giles' mother had died. It had been the summer residence of the Armigers in her time. But since the war Giles had lived in it all the year around, and there was his friend Scripps to share it, and Amelie.

But tonight Giles refused to think of Amelie. He went back to the living room and hunted for a book. It was a little book with green and gold binding and yellowed pages.

He turned the pages and read:

"The ladies of St. James',
Go swinging to the play,
Their footmen run before them,
With a 'stand by! Clear the way!'
But Phyllida, my Phyllida,
She takes her buckled shoon,
When she goes out a-courtin',
Beneath the harvest moon."

He turned another page:

"The ladies of St. James',
They're painted to the eyes.
Their white it stays forever,
Their red it never dies.
But Phyllida, my Phyllida,
Her color comes and goes.
It trembles to a lily,
It wavers to a rose. . . ."

He stood there, reading, beneath the light of the standing lamp. He had hunted for the poem because it made him think of the girl of the silver slippers . . . her color comes and goes . . . it trembles to a lily . . . it wavers to a rose . . .!

And he wanted to think of her. As he had seen her high on the rock with her white wings bearing her up—as he had seen her in his dim shop bending over the old letter—as he saw her in imagination, dancing in the wood!

In the bookshop was a tall ladder with little wheels. By means of it books on the highest shelves could be reached.

Giles, sitting on the topmost step of the ladder on Tuesday morning, had a bird's eye view of the tables below him, of the square of sunlight framed by the open door, the moving feet of people on the boardwalk beyond, and a brief glimpse of water between the moving feet.

So absorbed was he in his task, however, that he did not notice when the sky darkened and the feet hurried fast and faster. Four of the feet took refuge in his shop, and a man's voice said: "There's no one here. Fancy leaving a shop like this."

And a woman's voice: "I'm drenched. Such a sudden shower!"

"You deserved to get wet, Nancy. You would come."

"And you didn't want me. But I had to talk to you about Joan."

"You've done more than talk. You've nagged unmercifully."

"Thank you. Y,t all my nagging hasn't done any good. Here you are, engaged to sweet and 20, and you don't know how to treat her."

"You're making a lot of it."

"I can't bear to see Joan hurt."

"I have told you I didn't intend to hurt her."

"But you called her stingy, Drew. And there's really no reason why the child should not have her slippers mended."

"She should have bought new ones."

Giles could see the pair of them plainly now. The woman was without a hat, and had opened that it might dry a gorgeous paper umbrella, on which white storks flew against a background of lettuce green. Her hair was copper-colored, and in the green sweater that she wore was a little line of copper thread which matched the hair. She stood with her hands back of her leaning against the table. "You simply didn't want to call for the shoes, and you gave her a bit of your temper," she declared.

"I hate petty economies. You know that, Nancy. You and I have always spent as we pleased."

"Yes, and you and I know there isn't much left to spend."

The man blazed at that. "Well, and if there isn't? I am going to marry Joan. And she's worth millions."

Giles, sitting up aloft, felt the world rock under him . . . millions!

He was aware that he was eavesdropping and that he must end it. He made a strategic move, however. He descended the ladder noiselessly, and rounding a bookcase, seemed to have just come in. "Can I do anything for you?" he demanded.

Drew said: "Miss Dudley asked me to get her slippers."

"Sorry. They are not quite ready."

"She was to have them today."

"I will bring them up to the hotel."

"Tonight? She wants to wear them."

"Tonight."

Giles had known he was stretching the truth when he said Joan's slippers were not ready. Scripps could have finished them in a moment. But was it simply to hand over to this pair those ineffable little shoes that he had waited for this day? Why the morning had seemed glorious, because it was Tuesday and she was coming. And he would see her yet, in spite of the unkind fate which had kept her from him.

FAIRBANKS MAY RETURN TO U. S.

Movie Magnate Been Trying Week for Reconciliation With Wife.

"MARY WANTS HIM BACK."

LONDON, Aug. 9 (A.P.)—British and American business associates of the two men concerned agreed to-day that whether Douglas Fairbanks Sr. returns from the Riviera to America or England "all depends on how fast Joe Schenck talks" before they reach Gibraltar to-night.

Joseph M. Schenck, motion picture executive, is known to have been busy for the last week trying to effect a reconciliation of Fairbanks' and his wife, Mary Pickford. Schenck made a long distance call to Miss Pickford from London early last week and as a result hurried to the Riviera proposing that Doug join him on a trip to the United States.

A prominent American film official here who claimed to know the nature of the conversation between Schenck and Miss Pickford said, "She wants Doug back badly."

Fairbanks' lawyer denied statements by British film officials that Fairbanks had applied to become a British subject, was rejected, and was to return to America by October.

It was recalled that the divorce trial of Lord and Lady Ashley, in which the husband named Fairbanks as correspondent is slated for October. Friends here said that Lady Ashley still is in the Riviera but reports that she did not know yesterday that Doug suddenly had decided to leave with Schenck could not be confirmed.

As Germany Bid Farewell to Von Hindenburg

Germans living today never will forget the solemn ceremony surrounding the removal of Paul von Hindenburg, the late president of Germany, from Neudeck castle where he died, to his last resting place at Tannenburg, 40 miles away. Few more impressive funerals are recorded in history. This radiophoto rushed from London shows officers who served under the beloved soldier-statesman, when he commanded the kaiser's troops during the World war, tenderly draping the casket after placing it on the gun caisson, while Oskar von Hindenburg, his son, stands at salute on the steps.

Three thousand children were "lost" in the Canadian National Exhibition's mile-and-a-half maze of boulevards, buildings and lawns last year. All were taken in charge by police and nurses at the children's shelter, provided with milk, chocolate bars, ice cream and toys and eventually returned to their parents.

BEHIND the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 9.— It's a chuckly item they tell of the luncheon group at the United Artist's studio, which was discussing JohnBarrymore's trophies from his various cruises. The most gruesome of the collection is a shrunken human head, a relic of New Guinea, where the Indians practice this unique method of preserving souvenirs of their enemies.

It was Leonard Praskins who flipped:

"Well, anyway, he is the first Barrymore who ever had a shrunken head."

WHEN IT

Comes to trophy rooms, even Barrymore will take second place after Darry Zanuck sreturn from Africa. The diminutive 20th Century producer is shipping back 75 mementos of his big game hunt near Nairobi. In addition to the rhinoceris, photographs of which already have been printed ,Xarryl baggedanelephant a water buffalo, a lion, and practically every variety of animal known to the hunters of the dark continent.

Darryl Zanuck

All this was assured in an agreement drawn up just like a movie contract before the producer and his wife left Europe. The promise of a shot at 75 varieties of game is said to have cost Zanuck more than $5,000. In addition, the film pair had to go through eight weeks of innoculations against tropical diseases'

JOE E. BROWN

Has come into his own, as one of the few great comedians of the screen.

Those who have liked him have always felt his potentialities of greatness. Those who have thought that he was funny simply because nature had provided him with an extraordinary large and mobile mouth, need only to see him in the new First National Picture "The Circus Clown", which opens at the Capitol Theatre on Friday, to acknowledge their error. For in this hilarious comedy he "has everything".

Joe E. is at his comical best when he has plenty of "stunts" to perform, and "The Circus Clown" is filled with them. He has a brush with a lion, in which, incidentally, he nearly lost his life; his escapades on the flying trapeze; his being made the object of a knife thrower's jealousy; his experiences with hyenas, elephants, the chimpanzee, all are thrilling, and all are funny.

AMUSING THAT

Dolores Del Rio, married to Cedric Gibbons, perhaps the most famous of Hollywood directors, should decide to redecorate her boudoir, entirely according to her own idea. The most novel feature will be walls covered with sheets of ecru parchment.

DAVID MANNERS

Has just conducted a one-man survey through 15 states of public reaction to the movement for clean pictures. Motoring across the country to his old home in Toronto, Canada, the actor talked to waitresses, bellhops, cashiers, gas-station attendants—perhaps 150 people in all. And he found an overwhelming sentiment in favor of the cleanup. Also a much stimulated interest in motion pictures generally. Many of the fans he questioned criticized sex films. But against one thing they were unanimous—the gangster story. Which should drive just one more nail into the coffin of the screen racketeer.

KNICK-KNACKS—

Mrs. Stanley Lupino, Ida's ma, is going to leave the Paramount starlet for the first time since they came to Hollywood a year ago. She goes to London for five weeks. Ida will be chaperoned in her absence by Elsie Ferguson II's mother. . . . Rumor of the boulevard is that William A. Brady is out here to dispose of the talkie rights to "Way Down East". One film company is said to have upped and bid already to $100,000. . . . Fox Films are in a dither to locate Marjorie Main, New York radio songstress, who was due to arrive here for work in "Music in the Air." She was on a certain train but didn't get off it and her berth hadn't been slept in since Chicago. . . . To the dozen friends of Ralph Rainger and Leo Robin who called to put me right—I'm sorry. It was this song-team which composed the tuneful "Love in Bloom", and not Gordon and Revell, as I reported in a film review. . . . What's this between Cecilia Parker and Nelson Eddy? . . . Praise to Jimmie Grier and Bing Crosby for working 12 hours recording numbers for the National Welfare association program. . . . And congratulations to Allison Skipworth, who just passed her fifty-eighth birthday without anybody making a fuss over it.

Dinty's Inn Wins Out At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Aug. 9.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Dinty's Inn (Peterborough) copped the big end of the score in the inter-county league game of box lacrosse at the Cosmos rink on Tuesday, at 8.15 p.m., carrying off the laurels by a score of 9-5. The game was scheduled as between Port Hope and Peterborough to be played here, and Millbrook filled in on a last minute message from the lakeside squad that they would not be able to be on hand.

Dinty's Inn: Goal, Lefebre; defence, McGregor, Weir; centre, Gardiner; wings, Williams, McGee; rovers Routley; subs, Olaveson, Reynolds, McDougal.

Millbrook: Goal, Larmer; defence, Lebarr, Creighton; centre, Nattress; wings, Ingram, Scott; rover, Edmunds; subs, Sloan, Reper, Prestlove.

Umpire—B. B. Dawson, Millbrook.

Magistrate's Court

William Gilroy, of Galway Township, pleaded guilty before Magistrate Langley to-day to a charge under the Fish and Game Act of having two beaver pelts in his possession out of season. He was fined $40—$20 for each skin—and $2.60.

Peter Gosselin was sentenced to seven days in the county jail on a charge of operating a car while intoxicated on the evening of July 31 on the Norwood road. He was arrested by Constable Piercy after his car had run into the ditch.

A Toronto man, said to be in a hilarious mood due to imbibing beer, pleaded guilty to stealing a 50-cent basket of tomatoes from a Charlotte street fruit store. He was granted suspended sentence.

Another of the big new shows at the Canadian National Exhibition this year which will be highly interesting to the public and which will have a special appeal to the business man is the national business machines show. Some of these remarkable time-saving and labor-saving devices are "almost human."

Obituary

CLAUD WILSON INSLEY

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 9. (Examiner Correspondence).—The death took place Tuesday morning of Claud Wilson Insley, 52, at his residence, Healy Falls, after a lengthy illness of heart conditions.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Insley of Trent River, Mr. Insley served overseas as military police sergeant in the 139th Contingent of Northumberland in the Great War.

Surviving are his wife (formerly Mrs. Lillian Liberty of Trent River) and one sister, Mrs. James Owens of New York state. The late Mrs. John Ruttan was a sister of the deceased. The funeral took place Thursday at 3.30 under military orders of the Canadian Legion of Campbellford, of which the deceased was a member. Funeral service at the house was conducted by Rev. M. WILLIAM H. McCARTNEY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BETHANY, August 8. — With the passing of the late William H. McCartney, the community has suffered the loss of one of its finest citizens and churchmen. The late Mr. McCartney was born in Cavan, on the fourth concession where he spent his boyhood, and while quite young learned the trade of carriage maker and painter. Later coming to Bethany, he and his brother, George, who predeceased him some few years ago, carried on a very successful waggon shop. Disposing of that line of business Mr. McCartney was given an appointment at Queen's Park, which he followed until four years ago. He held the Township Treasurship for Manvers for a period of forty-five years.

The late Mr. McCartney is survived by his sorrowing wife, who was formerly Polly Hancock of Bethany, and two sons, Victor, of Cornwall, and Aubrey of North Bay. A daughter, Mrs. Dr. Galloway, of Alexandra, and one son, Dr. Gerald McCartney of Estevan, predeceased their father. One sister, Mrs. Joseph Medd of Bethany, also survives.

In politics the late Mr. McCartney was a staunch Conservative and a loyal churchman, and never failed to be present at a service when his health permitted. He possessed a most kindly, generous disposition, and will be mourned and constantly missed by his many friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Payne, and little son, are spending a few weeks with Mrs. Payne's father, Mr. Aitkens. Mr. Payne goes daily to Peterborough.

Mr. R. W. Payne, with Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Hooper and Mrs. Hagerman, motored to Greenhurst and Penelon Falls on Saturday. On Sunday they went to Healey's Falls.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan of Kellwood, Man., who are visiting Mrs. Albert Deck, of Peterborough, there was a gathering of the clan at Gilcrest Park on Monday, August 6th. About 50 took part in the day's celebrations, boating, swimming, fishing and games being thoroughly enjoyed. Meals were served at shady tables in view of the falls. The party broke up at 7.30 p.m., having spent a very enjoyable day at the beautiful park.

Among those present were: Mr. G. McMillan, Kellwood, Man., Mrs. Phoebe Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. John Drain, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Deck, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Deck, and family, of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carpenter, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Deck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deck, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Deck, and Elsie, all of Peterborough, Mr. George Deck, Mrs. Reg. Cash Relief System Meets With Opposition

VOUCHER PLAN WORKED WELL MAYOR CLAIMS

Officials Await Announcement of Government's Relief Plans.

NOT ADVISABLE HERE.

Relief Policy Not Yet Settled Premier Hepburn Declares.

Awaiting clarification of the Government's announcement that cash relief payments are to begin immediately in Ontario, Mayor Denne and other officials on the local Relief Board this morning expressed themselves as out of sympathy with the change as far as Peterborough is concerned. "We have been getting along nicely," the Mayor said. "The voucher system has been quite satisfactory here."

Paying Regularly

Uncertainty as to the authority or the intention of the government to dictate the change to communities such as Peterborough which have been paying regularly their shares of the relief bill prevailed. No official word had reached the city this afternoon.

"We ought to have some say in regard to the distribution of relief," Mayor Denne said, stating at the same time that he did not wish to stir up trouble over the matter. "In a number of centres, the governments have been paying the whole bill. Possibly it is to those places that the change will apply. Peterborough has been paying its one-third share regularly. I do not know whether the Government will try to make us pay cash or not. I think the cash system would be unadvisable here."

James Dutton, chairman of the Relief Board, stated that he was opposed to cash relief in Peterborough yet ready to fall in line with the Government's finding in the matter. "The main problem I see in connection with cash relief is where the relief responsibility will finally land," he said. With cash instead of vouchers at their command, relief recipients can not be forced to meet their responsibilities, he pointed out. If they neglect their rents, for instance, who is to face the responsibility—the landlord, the city or the province? he asked.

"However, I shall be greatly surprised if, when the regulations are clarified, there is not some provision for local preference in the cases of cities such as Peterborough which have been handling their relief problem satisfactorily. I disapprove of any departure from the system we have."

Alderman Walter Stocker, a member of the Relief Board, voiced

A Tragic Story

Tragic is the story of Miss Betty Sim, of Toronto, shown here swathed in bandages as she languishes in hospital at Huntsville. A year ago Betty had a father and a boy friend and all was well. Then early this year the boy, 'Curry' Kirk was convicted of manslaughter following the death of Betty Sim's father. He appealed the case and was released on bail pending re-trial in the fall. A few days ago, "Curley" his two brothers and Betty went holidaying; on the way home the car crashed and "Curly" and one of his brothers were killed. To-day Betty has no father, no fiance, and but one relative in far-off England.

BANDIT FAILS BANK HOLD-UP

Lone Man Runs for Door When Simcoe Teller Yells "Hold-up."

CARRIED GUN.

SIMCOE, Ont., Aug. 11. —(C. P.). —An attempted holdup of the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch by a lone bandit proved unsuccessful to-day when the bank employeees yelled "hold-up," and the man turned and fled.

The man entered the Bank police said, handing a note to the teller which read, "hand over the money and make no false moves."

The teller dropped to the floor behind the counter and yelled. The bandit ran for the door. It was believed a companion awaited him in an automobile.

Police immediately began a search and notified other towns and cities.

The man was said to have carried a gun, partly concelled in his clothing.

RECORD ENTRY FOR EXHIBITION BEING EXPECTED

Exhibition Board Will Invite Premier Hepburn to Open Fair.

ENTRIES CLOSE AUG. 11.

Special Program is Being Arranged for Wednesday Afternoon.

Effort is being made to get Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn here to officiate at the opening of Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, it was disclosed at a meeting of the Fair Board held in the offices of the district agricultural representative last evening.

Fair dates have been advanced this year, and with the opening date set for noon on Tuesday, August 21, the board, under chairmanship of Thomas Brown, vice-president, reported final arrangements about completed.

Vivian Milburn, managing director of the board, sharing the optimistic outlook held by his co-workers, forecasts that this year's Exhibition will be outstanding in many respects.

Entries Heavy.

Judging by the increased number of enquiries from prospective exhibitors and the heavy amount of entries already made in various classes, he said he felt justified in predicting that new records might be set in that direction.

Then, coupling that possibility with the fact that the fair dates have been advanced to enhance the probability of better weather conditions than have been experienced in former recent years, and taking into consideration the splendid grandstand attractions and midway that has been engaged, he believed there was genuine cause for anticipation of wider public support. No effort had been spared by the directorate, Mr. Milburn urged, to justify Peterborough's claim to having an exhibition ranking among the first three in the province.

Prospective exhibitors, with exception of horticulturists, are asked to note that all entries close on Saturday night of this week. Horticulturists will note that their entries close the week following on the evening of Saturday, August 18, and further, that flower and plant exhibits must be placed not later than

ENGINE TROUBLE IN CARBURETOR FOILED RECORD

Froze Open Causing Motors to Use 17 Instead of Usual 10 Gallons Per Hour.

FLEW BLIND 8 HOURS.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (CP Cable).—After a sound night's sleep Leonard Reid and James R. Ayling are today fully recovering from their fatiguing flight over the Atlantic Ocean, after battling fog and dense clouds on the first successful crossing from Canada to England.

Although disappointed at their failure to reach Bagdad, their objective, which would have given them the world's non-stop record, the fliers as yet have made no plans for another attempt.

"The most splendid thing I ever saw," was the way Reid described the waters of the Atlantic when he caught a glimpse of them after flying blind for eight hours. Dense fog on the surface and extending up to mingle with heavy-low-lying clouds was the chief worry the fliers encountered in their flight from Wasaga Beach, Ontario, to Heston aerodrome near here.

Flew Blind 8 Hours

The fliers encountered the fog early Wednesday night and it was about eight hours before they were able to see clearly again. An hour and three quarters later they sighted Ireland.

Carburetor trouble which used up their gasoline supply at a rapid rate forced them to abandon their record-breaking attempt. They opened the carburetors to climb out of the fog and they froze open. The engines used 17 to 18 gallons instead of the usual 10, and they had only about 200 gallons left when they landed.

At that point they had travelled approximately 3,700 miles while the total distance to Bagdad is 6,500 miles and the long distance record they were seeking to better is 5,657.6 miles.

British Officials Censor 504 Films

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(C.P.-Havas) — More pictures met with disapproval from the British Board of Film censors in 1933 than ever before, it was revealed today.

The board's annual report shows 504 films were censored. The examiners dealt with 5,469,317 feet of film and rejected 111,256 feet.

Reasons given for rejection of 33 films and cutting of 1,713 subjects were: Offensive burlesque of marriage service; extreme vulgarity and suggestiveness; cruelty to animals; crime capable of imitation; industrial unrest and violence; British officers in uniform in representative situations, and misleading themes to illustrate parts of the British Empire.

SENEGALESE NIP FRESH MOSLEM SLAUGHTER PLOT

Arabs Gathered in Algerian Market Change Plans as Troops Arrive.

$3,500,000 LOSS TO DATE.

Both French and British Involved in Attempt to Restore Peace.

BONE, Algeria, Aug. 10 (CP-Havas).—Rushing Senegalese infantry from Constantine to occupy the native quarters here and landing French Marines from a destroyer in the harbor, authorities last night nipped in the bud another race riot, it was revealed to-day.

Another bloody anti-Jewish outbreak—in which 46 have already lost their lives—was averted by the drastic action of Governor-General Jules Carde, who turned from the dangerous situation in constantine to give his personal attention to the new menace here.

Unusually large numbers of Moslems gathering grimly in the native market here yesterday aroused suspicion of the authorities that a concerted attack on the Jewish populace was imminent. No Jewish shops opened and the Jewish quarter here was almost deserted, the inhabitants fearfully keeping indoors or fleeing from the city.

Authorities summoned Black troops from Constantine and rushed them into the native quarter, where they took up stations at strategic points, heavily armed. French Marines from a destroyer lying in this port were ordered ashore.

Europeans were warned to remain out of the Moslem and Jewish districts and municipal officials, summoning Arab and Jewish leaders, urged them to preach calm counsel to their cohorts. As a result, smouldering hatreds among the Moslems who converged on Bone yesterday from all parts of the region were not given a chance to flame. Those who gathered in the market quickly became aware that they were being not only watched by police, but that troops were pouring into the native and Jewish quarters.

A damages committee was at work totalling the amount of injury done property by the disorders, during which five Jewish buildings were fired by the Moslem fanatics. Damages were estimated at a minimum of 50,000,00 francs ($3,500,000).

SCHOOL COURSE NEEDS OVERHAUL

Teachers Believe Alterations Should be Made to Meet Changed Times.

A LIVING, MAIN GOAL.

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (C.P.)—The elementary school course in Ontario needs overhauling according to the report of the Ontario Public School Men Teachers' Federation submitted to-day to the Canadian Teachers' Federation in convention here.

"For several years there has been a decided opinion expressed by teachers and others that the course is overloaded, that parts should be deleted and alterations made to meet the conditions of a changing world, and the children should be trained for living rather than to meet the artificial demands of an examination," the report said.

A report of the elementary education survey committee is being prepared, the statement added, and a questionnaire is being presented to teachers' organizations, public and separate school inspectors, trustees' associations, home and school clubs, women's institutes, farmers' clubs, service clubs and various other organizations.

The Ontario Federation of Women Teachers reported the surplus of teachers in Ontario last September was about 1,000. Reports showed an average salary of $2,305 for all collegiate and high school teachers in Ontario, a reduction of 8.77 from 1932-33.

ENGLAND HOLDS BOWLING TITLES

Toronto Pair Takes Second Place With Six Wins in Doubles Competition.

BRITISH EMPIRE GAMES.

(By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Aug. 10, (C.P. Cable), England retained two of her three British Empire Games lawn bowling championships to-day.

T. C. Hills and G. W. A. Wright, 1930 doubles champions, made sure of victory yesterday and wound up their schedule to-day with a clean sheet. They won eight straight matches without a defeat. W. G. Hutchison of the Toronto St. Matthews Club and A. A. Langford of London, Ont., took second place with six victories against two defeats.

The Canadan doubles rink bowled superbly all through the round-robin tournament, losing only to England and Wales. The Welsh pair were tied for third place with Hong Kong. Hutchison and Langford made certain of the runner-up berth by defeating Rhodesia, 23-13, to-day.

Ranks Second

W. S. MacDonald of Tillsonburg, Ont., was second in the singles competition to Scotland's Robert Sprot who won nine straight. The Ontario bowler had only two lapses, losing by a narrow margin to Sprot yesterday and dropping his second game of the tournament to A. Harvey of South Africa. Actually MacDonald and Harvey were tied in the standing with seven wins and two losses but the Canadian was given second position because his average of winning shots was better.

A similar situation arose in the rinks championship as England and Ireland finished on top with eight victories against one defeat. England won on the basis of the plus-shot averages. South Africa was tied with Scotland for third place and the Canadian rink, skipped by Hon. W. D. Euler of Kitchener, Ont., tied with New Zealand for fifth with four wins and five losses.

Ayling And Reid Hope To Try Again

LONDON, Aug. 10—(C. P.-Havas) —James Ayling and Leonard Reid want to do it again.

The two airmen who landed here yesterday, falling short in their attempt to break the world's distance flight record, declared they hoped to make another attempt before the end of the summer if the present record still stands. They will use the same plane "The Trail of the Caribou," on their next attempt.

The aviators likewise announced they will participate in the London-Melborne race in October, if M. A. S Rutler, who has engaged the plane will ask them to pilot it.

PICKS DORLAND AS ONE OF GROUP IN TORONTO JOB

Stock Yard Branch Stenographer Recognizes Valkoff But Not Other Two.

LETTER TO PLAY PART.

Mrs. Hoare, Taken in Detroit With Alderman, Says Dorland Introduced Them.

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP)— Albert Dorland, Ray Alderman and John Valkoff were committed for trial to-day on charges of armed robbery in connection with the holdup of the Bank of Montreal Stockyards Branch here, last July 26. Cash to the amount of nearly $35,000 was taken in the robbery.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(C. P.) — James Dunlop, teller, identified all three accused as the "men who held me up" when he entered the witness stand today at the preliminary trial of Albert Dorland, Ray Alderman, alias Gauvreaux, and John Valkoff, of Montreal, charged with armed robbery in connection with the holdup of Stockyards branch of the Bank of Montreal last July 26.

Dunlop's identification came after Miss Maxime McClure, stenographer, told the court Valkoff was one of those who robbed the bank of nearly $25,000, but that she could not identify Dorland or Alderman.

A torn letter from Dorland was found in Valkoff's room in Montreal, Detective Sergeant Wilfrid Bourdon of the Montreal force testified. The defense objected to this testimony and the Crown replied that the letter would be produced.

Evidence was given today that money was found in Valkoff's room and at Alderman's Detroit apartment, where he was apprehended.

Mrs. Effie Hoare testified she had been in Detroit four days with Alderman when Toronto and Detroit police raided the apartment. She said she had known Dorland 10 years and that he had introduced her to Alderman five weeks ago.

Detective Sergeant H. S. McCready of Toronto told of coming to Windsor and Detroit and communicating with Detroit police. He said a search of Alderman's apartment was made and that in a suitcase more than $8,000 in Canadian currency was found. In the same case was an automatic pistol.

Detective Sergeant Bourdon said when he went to Valkoff's rooming house in Montreal at the request of Toronto police he found Valkoff and a woman named Bessie Harris, alias Gill. The officer said $1,000 was found in a trunk and $133 under Valkoff's pillow, and a .38 calibre revolver was found in a bureau drawer.

'SALVY' ANTONIO DEATH AVENGED AS 3 DIE TO BALANCE LAW'S BOOKS

Wife Leads Way to Chair, Her Plea For Mercy Refused—2 Men Follow.

REPORTER FAINTS.

(By Dale Harrison).

OSSINING, August 10.—(A.P.)— Salvatore Antonio—"his house was always full of dope and guns" — is finally avenged.

First to pay last night for his murder was his wife, Anna. Then came the surly Sam Paracci; and finally Vincent Saetta, death-house gallant, speaker of the beautiful lie.

Before mid-night struck these were dead. New York had exacted its threefold payment for a petty racketeer's murder.

Mrs. Antonio, 29 years old, thin almost to a point of emaciation had prayed to the last that mercy would be shown. Governor Herbert Lehman however, declined to interfere.

She had said they would have to carry her; that she could not go the short way from her cell to the death room on foot. Two guards picked her up and took a few

3 Robber Suspects Die In Gun Battle

EMPORIA, Kas., Aug. 10 —(A. P.). — Three men suspected by officers of planning to rob the Lebo State Bank at Lebo, Kansas, were shot and killed by Kansas State Highway patrolmen in a gun battle on a side road.

The men had not been identified late last night. Officers were checking a possibility the men may be Raymond Hamilton Irvin (Blackie) Thompson, and Joe Palmer, condemned convicts who escaped from the Texas State prison at Huntsville, July 28.

Cash Relief May Replace Voucher Plan In Ontario

BREAD AND MILK TICKETS GIVEN, REST IN MONEY

New Weekly System for Ontario to be Effective Immediately.

RESULT, FEDERAL OFFER.

Odette Bars Women From Men's Drinking Rooms—Separate Premises Ordered.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Latest move of the Ontario government will bring a change in the unemployment relief system with the cash idea to replace the voucher plan. The government, it is learned will make the change immediately.

Under the new plan, it is understood, tickets will be given relief recipients for bread and milk and then they will receive a cash allowance weekly, using the money to make purchases instead of vouchers.

Following the Dominion government's alteration of its relief assistance, allowing the provinces sum required for relief, the Ontario administration, it was learned, decided on the cash relief policy. This had been urged upon the government by jobless delegations and certain municipalities for some time.

The beer sale system is also to be altered, according to Edmund G. Odette, Liquor Control Board Commissioner, who announced separate beverage rooms for women and their escorts. He ruled that women no longer will be permitted to enter the men's drinking premises.

Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn also delivered an ultimatum regarding the beer problem. He declared the government would not heed political influence in distributing beer and wine sales authorities. There will be no intermediaries and all authorities will be issued on the merits of each case "without the action of any middlemen," he said.

"In future," the premier declared, "recommendation for authorities will not be received from members of the Legislative Assembly, indeed, they will have nothing to say as to the granting of authorities to hotels or clubs."

It will be left entirely in the Commissioner's hands, those desiring authorities to deal directly with this official.

Farm, Creditors Bill Ready Next Week

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—(CP)—The Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act will be brought into operation by proclamation by the end of next week, it has been announced.

Provisions of the legislation, in all probability, will be applied first to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Extension to cover all the other provinces will be made at a later date.

Passed at the last session of parliament, the purpose of that act is to facilitate compromises and arrangements between farmers and their creditors. The regulations are being drafted by former Attorney General M. A. McPherson of Saskatchewan.

WORLD SILVER CENTRES HAPPY AT U. S. ACTION

Foresee States Doing Much Buying Abroad—Likely to Boost Price.

BENEFIT CANADA.

London Financiers Puzzled—Taken By Some as Inflationary Move.

(By the Associated Press)

World silver centres are both pleased and perplexed over the United States' "Nationalization" of the metal.

The belief prevails in some that the United States would have to do much buying abroad, with a resultant boost in the price of silver.

Interpretation of President Roosevelt's action as inflationary forced down, temporarily at least, the price of the dollar on some world markets.

Canada and Mexico, neighboring producers of the white metal, anticipated benefits. In far-off China some experts said two silver prices might result—one American and one world.

TORONTO—Paul Leduc, Ontario Minister of Mines, said "The greatest benefit it will be the feeling of security which the producers have that 50 cents will be the minimum price."

During 1933 the price for Canadian silver averaged about 37.33 cents an ounce.

Wheat advanced to new high prices for the year at Winnipeg. Mining shares climbed on the Toronto Stock Exchange and the United States dollar was depressed at Montreal.

Speculators Cautious.

Shanghai: — Speculators moved with extreme caution on the opening of the market Friday. The first transactions since the news of the American step was received.

Silver prices registered only slight fluctuations, tending downward. The market was uncertain as to whether the United States plann-

FAMINE RIDES THROUGH CHINA

Five Hundred Thousand in Anhwei Province Send Out Appeal.

TERRIBLE DROUGHT.

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

SHANGHAI, China, Aug. 10.—The horseman that is death rode throughout China to-day, gathering the harvest of thirst and starvation in the wake of a searing drought.

From the province of Anhwei came an appeal to the National Government for help. Five hundred thousand face starvation there, the message said.

The drought is described as one of the worst in centuries, one of the worst in a nation where vast treeless lands encourage drought.

Conditions are worst in Anhwei, in the heart of China, but other provinces are also suffering severely. Almond eyes, searching the skies for rain, have been disappointed many times since June in Hunan, Hupeh and Honan, in Shensi and Shantung.

Crops have shriveled under intense heat. Temperatures in many regions have reached as high as 115 and 120 degrees—for weeks at at time.

Now banditry as a result is on the increase as farmers turn to pilliage to insure their lives.

A BIG DAY.

LA VALE, Md., Aug. 10. — (C. P.). — The Junior Volunteer Fire Company nearly lost its chance for fame.

Every adult fireman was out of town when an alarm sounded. The juniors rushed to the station only to discover none was old enough to drive the fire truck.

Finally a passing motorist was prevailed upon to drive. The juniors efficiently extinguished a brush fire.

Hungry

NORTH BAY, Ont., Aug. 10 (C.P.)—There are flying fish in Ontario, according to E. L. Banner, secretary of North Bay Board of Trade. While fishing in Lake Nipissing with a companion, he had a "strike." Reeling in he found only the bait, a frog, on the line. But as he held the frog up, a fish broke water and, leaping for the bait, landed in the boat. It was a fine two-pound bass.

Toronto Livestock Review

LIVESTOCK REVIEW

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(C.P.)—All classes of livestock with the exception of hogs, recorded gains on the Toronto livestock market during the week and all offerings were practically disposed of at the close, Monday was a holiday on the market and runs of all classes were consequently below normal.

Cattle trading was more active with prices up 15 cents on steers and heifers and 25 cents higher on butcher cows. Lambs and calves gained 25 cents and 50 cents, respectively, at the opening and held unchanged for the balance of the week. Hogs declined 25 cents on the opening market but managed to hold steady to the close. Sheep remained unchanged.

Weighty steers sold at $5.00 to $5.50 for choice with common downward to $3.25. Good and choice butchers brought $4 to $4.50. Common boning steers and heifers brought $1.75 to $2.25.

Butcher cows held at $2.75 to $3.00 with canners a shade stronger at 85c to $1.00. Good bulls were steady at $2.25 to $2.75 with bolognas at $1.75 to $2.00. Choice fed calves were firm at $6.00 to $6.50, with mediums selling downward to $4.50.

A few lots of light stockers sold at $2 and $3 with several head left unsold at the close. Good milkers and springers were stronger at $40 to $45 each with Quebec buyers paying the top prices.

Calf receipts were 1,200 head. The market advanced 50c on vealer at the opening and held firm to the close. Choice calves sold at $5.50 to $76 with common vealers downward to $3. A few grass calves sold on Thursday at $2.25 to $2.50 cwt.

Hog receipts were light at 2,500 head but the packers succeded in cutting prices 25c below last week's closing level. Bacons sold during the week at $7.50 f.o.b. for bacons, $7.25 off truck and $6.25 off cars. On Thursday, with only a few of truck hogs offered small buyers took most of the supply at $7.25 or 10c above packers' bids. Early cables from England anticipate an advance in bacon prices this week-end.

Sheep and lamb quotations were 2,900 head. Lambs gained 25c on Tuesday and held firm to the close. Good ewes andn wethers sold at $6.50 with culls and bucks mostly $5 to $5.50. A top load of choice lambs made $6.65 on Thursday. Sheep were unchanged at $1 to $2.50 cwt. according to quality. A few yearlings sold at $3 to $4 cwt.

U.S. ARMOURIES LOOTED OF GUNS

1,027 Including Pistols, Rifles, Machine Guns Stolen Since January 1, 1932.

USED BY CRIMINALS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—William Stanley, Acting United States Attorney General, said yesterday the Department of Justice had called attention of the War Department to the theft of 1,027 guns, including machine guns, from National Guard Armories in thirty-one States since Jan. 1, 1932.

Stanley said in a press conference, that the Department of Justice regarded the thefts as "A very serious matter."

"Criminals have to get guns somewhere in order to operate," he declared. "We hope the people of the States will become interested in protecting their arms."

He said the War Department was anxious to co-operate, and had agreed to communicate with the Governors of the various States in an effort to stop raids on the Armouries.

A formal statement made public by Stanley, showed 23,110 rounds of ammunition had been stolen in addition to the guns taken.

He said efforts of the Division of Investigation of the department had resulted in recovery of 211 automatic pistols, 14 automatic rifles, five other rifles, and considerable ammunition.

Speed

WALKERVILLE, Ont., Aug. 10 (C.P.) — City Council here lays claim to the speed record for getting through business at regular council meetings. In a recent meeting, six minutes was all that was necessary to clear up all affairs which included a town collector's report, moving adoption of the industrial committee's report and endorsing a Guelph council resolution protesting dismissal of district health officers.

Hopes to Pilot Mass Buying Probe to Successful Conclusion.

VACATIONING ON COAST.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10. —(C. P.).—Hon. H. H. Stevens, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, rested here to-day after a hectic trip from the East during which a political tempest arose over the circulation in pamphlet form of an address he delivered concering the price spreads and mass buying committee of the Dominion Parliament. The pamphlet, not intended for public circulation, was finally recalled, but not until after it had aroused considerable controversy.

The minister, beseiged by reporters and friends, denied anything was wrong within Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's cabinet; expressed determination to pilot the mass buying committee to a successful conclusion—and then vanished.

Somewhere to-day, probably along the cool shores of the lower mainland, Mr. Stevens is with his wife and friends. And he will probably remain in that peace and quiet for several days, for once he returns to the city with his brief case, the Minister of Trade and Commerce will have scores of persons to receive, numerous local problems to discuss and at least two public speeches to deliver.

With reporters all about him, Mr. Stevens submitted himself to a barrage of questions on his arrival here Thursday.

FRENCH ARMY DOUBTS PEACE PREPARES FOR EXPECTED WAR

Struggle With Austria and Possibility of General European Conflict.

HITLER—WIN OR LOSE?

Central Press Canadian Correspondent.

PARIS, Aug. 10.— The French foreign office and the French army do not agree about the situation in Germany.

M. Louis Barthou, minister of foreign affairs, and his experts, are convinced that Hitler, for economic reasons, will lose; that disorder will result to such an extent that measures may be necessary to protect the Lorraine territory with its vast coal deposits and steel works, mostly under the control of the de Wendel family.

These measures would certainly include troop movements into the Rhineland.

The French army and its chiefs, of whom General Maxime Weygand is the most important, feel that Hitler will win, but that to maintain his prestige, he will have to make what is euphemistically described as "an exterior diversion."

This would be a war with Austria and the possibility of a general European conflict.

Army Watching.

As a result, the French army is on its toes and ready.

This is not the first time that the foreign office and the army have disagreed. M. Barthou has drawn a ring around Germany that includes Soviet Russia.

"So much tissue paper!" army chiefs complain.

This is also the attitude of high diplomats and financiers. They do not feel that a general European war at this time would be serious. It would simply be a general movement to restore order in central Europe and numerous articles in the French press admitting that "imperial government is what suits Germany best" show that the French attitude has changed. The French now, would welcome the return of the Hohenzollerns.

ed to begin large purchases abroad Chinese bankers felt the action was of little importance to the world silver market.

London: — Financial quarters were puzzled by the move. Several writers expressed doubt the program would have great effect outside of the United States.

Some ascribed the step as an inflationary move and the silver dropped on yesterday's market.

Mexico:—D. F.:— Silver specialists predicted a continued rise in the prices of silver because of limited world production, not because of the United States' move.

America will be forced to buy heavily abroad to carry out its programme, they agreed. Bankers said the steps meant important financial benefits to Mexico, asserting this country may become a principal silver market.

Radio Transmitter Largest In Britain

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Great Britain's largest radio transmitter has been completed at Droitwich by the British Broadcasting Corporation, and as soon as final testing has been accomplished it will be placed in operation.

The new station, with power of 150 kilowatts, is more than twice as powerful as stations hitherto operating in England, and broadcasting is expected to commence over it late in August.

At present the country's regional transmitters, which are the highest powered stations in England, operate on 50 to 60 kilowatts. There are to be increased to 70 kilowatts, after the new station is put into operation.

The manging director was given power by the board to make arrangements for a special program of attractions for the Wednesday half-holiday when record crowds might be reasonably expected. Flat racing for local colt entries and motorcycle racing were some of the possibilities suggested.

Attractive trotting race cards featuring some of the fastest horses in the trotting world are slated as chief attractions on the afternoon programs for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with a purse totalling $1,200.

Following some discussion of the matter, the directorate decided to provide the Central Charity Relief Board with free admission tickets to be distributed by the relief officer to families on relief.

On recommendation of the Supervision Committee, under chairmanship of E. F. Mason, the secretary, the treasurer and the grounds superintendent were re-appointed at reduced remuneration.

Acknowledges Co-operation

Mr. Mason, in stating that each of the three officials concerned had been willing to co-operate with the board in accepting the reductions, paid tribute to the efficient manner in which they had discharged their respective duties in the past. He referred to F. J. A. Hall, Fred. Holmes and Jack Gillespie.

Messrs. D. B. Falkner, V. Milburn and R. M. Glover were appointed a committee to look after the interests of the board in its negotiations with the midway show.

An appropriation of $50 for prize money and an additional $10 for advertising was made for the Horseshoe Pitching Association, who have announced the staging of a big contest under Dominion of Canada Horseshoe Pitching Association rules.

To general questons concerning his rumored retirement from the cabinet, his intention to lead a new political party or to seek leadership of the Conservative Party, Mr. Stevens replied in definitely negative terms but with grins and smiles.

"A bit of foolish noise has been made about a trifling incident," concluded the Minister as he walked down the platform to a crowd of several hundred who greeted him with cheers and "welcome home."

THOMAS TAIT LAID TO REST

Services at Christ Church, Campbellford, Held Under Masonic Auspices.

DIED ON MONDAY.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10. — Mourning the death of a beloved friend and citizen, Campbellford and district paid homage yesterday afternoon to the late Thomas Saunders Tait, when he was laid to rest in Christ Church Cemetery, Campbellford, following a service in Christ Church, conducted by the rector, Rev. T. H. Floyd. Held under Masonic auspices, the service was an impressive one and bore testimony to the esteem and respect in which the late Mr. Tait was held by the community at large.

Passing away in Belleville General Hospital on Monday last after a brief illness, the deceased was for many years a prominent merchant of Campbellford. Born at Amherst Island, Ontario, eighty years ago, he lived for many years at Picton, coming to Campbellford on May 24, 1852, where he was employed by the Gillespie Brothers hardware. He later went into the same line of business with Don. Douglas, eventually owning a business of his own, which he operated with his son, Edward, until his death.

Always a lover of sport, he was a keen curler and lawn bowler, and in his early days did much to further the game of cricket in the community, a game of which he was extremely fond, and at which he was a very able performer.

Interested in the welfare of the community, the late Mr. Tait was for many years a member of the Town Council. He was a devout Anglican and a regular attendant at Christ Church, in politics a Liberal, and a member of the Masonic and Oddfellow Orders. The service was under the auspices of Golden Rule Lodge, A.F. and A.M., the pallbearers being all members of the lodge, W. J. Armstrong, G. A. Kingston, Neil Thompson, N. A. MacColl, J. P. Archer and Major J. M. Bygott.

Surviving are his widow, one son Edward, and one daughter, Miss Helen Tait, at home. One brother, Jack of West Superior, Wisconsin, and one sister, Miss Margaret Tait of Rochester, N.Y., also survive.

Tanners Win From Elgin Nine 7 to 6

HASTINGS, Aug. 10. (Examiner Correspondence).—In one of the snappiest games in the local softball league schedule Tanners nosed out Elgin 7 to 6 before a big crowd on Thursday night.

The Rural boys opened the scoring in the first when Scott singled and came in on two successive errors by the Tanners. Hahn's long drive to deep right to bring Turcotte in ahead gave the winners the lead in their half of the first. Elgin took command again in the second when M. Preston hit for the circuit with one out.

Hahn, on the mound for the winners, pitched good ball, having five strikeouts and holding the hard hitting losers to seven hits. Lemoire was the big noise with the willow, with a single, homer and double in four trips to the plate.

DON'T LET COMMON CONSTIPATION DULL THE JOY OF LIVING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skins, pimples.

Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to help overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than dosing yourself with patent medicines! Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor—ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1934

LOSING DAYLIGHT.

If you are interested in diurnal phenomena observable these August days as the sun moves leisurely down toward the equator you probably have noticed that the shades of night are deepening at eight o'clock.

At that hour, if you chance to be in Cobourg or Toronto or some other community which treats its clocks in summer time as servants and not as masters, you are aware that the sun is still with you, although the day is beating a slow and measured retreat toward the west. They simply transfer that hour after dawn when only the birds are wide-eyed and chirruping to the sixty minutes before dusk when the housework is just finished and no one is thinking of sleep, especially when August is humid and drowsy.

Peterborough knows all about this expedient. We have had a lucid interval or two, but for some reason, which need not be surveyed at this late date, we prefer to be benighted while we still might have daylight with us.

In the long days of June and July you don't miss that extra hour, but when August sets in there are many people who acknowledge the wisdom of making the clock yield another hour of daylight. Possibly a compromise plan of daylight time from August 1 to September 15 might silence some of the chestnut objections that deprive Peterborough of an extra hour of the sun at this period of the waning summer.

THANKS, MR. MITCHELL.

Peterborough needs more extra-mural citizens like Frank J. Mitchell, former mayor of Windsor, and president of Border Transit, Limited, operating the bus lines of this city.

Mr. Mitchell is manifestly "sold on Peterborough." He has expressed his optimistic convictions in good times and bad, bringing a note of cheerfulness and encouragement, based on his knowledge of the business of the buses, that renews the occasionally drooping faith of local "boosters," and possibly tinting the grey horizons of the pessimists with brighter color.

It is months since The Examiner published a series of interviews with Peterborough manufacturers, indicating splendid gains both in production and employment during the first quarter of the year.

Now comes Frank J. Mitchell with the sustaining impressions of an interested outsider, and the chart of the operating returns of the bus lines before him.

We repeat them as recently published in the news columns because repetition lends emphasis.

"Peterborough is coming back faster than any other town in Ontario I know of," said Mr. Mitchell. "That is not just talk. It is shown by the tax figures. It has been fortunate in having someone with foresight enough to encourage diversified industries, which have been its salvation during the years of depression."

As an evidence of Mr. Mitchell's sincerity, the same statement appears in the Border Cities Star, and we admit that its significance struck us more forcibly than when we read it in our own columns. We are all so close to the local scene that we have no other background for comparisons.

At any rate, Mr. Mitchell's heartening assertion was most welcome because it comes at a season when business everywhere and annually is in the doldrums, and because it is not the opinion of some casual, complaisant visitor unprovided with the facts Mr. Mitchell knows perhaps more accurately than most resident citizens.

THE PERTH COURIER'S CENTENNIAL.

Perusal of the thirty-two pages of the centennial edition of the Perth Courier finds new evidence of the fact that the history of the province is faithfully chronicled in its newspapers.

The Perth Courier began publication in 1834, founded by Malcolm Cameron, a young Canadian of Highland Scotch parentage, to further his political ambitions presently realised by his election to Parliament as a Reformer. In 1862 it was acquired by G. L. Walker and has remained in the family's hands for eighty-two years, W. W. Walker being the present proprietor and publisher.

The centennial edition of the Perth Courier profusely illustrates the town's progress, and its columns are replete with historical sketches of Perth's early days, their social customs, prominent personalities of the community, and a review of its industrial advancement.

The typography of the special edition enhances the commendible quality of its editorial work, and is a credit to the Courier and Ontario's weekly press.

Only a few Canadian newspapers have attained a full century of continuous existence and service, among them notably the Quebec Chronicle, whose first issue was produced in 1764; the Montreal Gazette, 1778 the Kingston Standard, 1810; the Brockville Recorder, 1821; the Picton Gazette, 1830, and the Port Hope Guide, 1831.

They were milestones marking the westerly penetration of Canada by the pioneer settlers.

WITHOUT BENEFIT OF DIVORCE.

The gossamer texture of the bonds of many a Hollywood marriage has been repeatedly demonstrated in the divorce courts, but George Bancroft, mentioned as a portrayer of two-fisted screen roles and once a star, is alleged to have regarded his first ties so lightly that he neglected to toss them off with judicial benefit when he took a second wife.

In other words, Mr. Bancroft is precariously in the position of a bigamist unless he can recall where, when and why a decree of divorce was granted.

Even if Bancroft and his second wife have a seventeen-year-old daughter, it is hardly credible that he would be unable to remember the circumstances of the divorce from his first wife, if he did have recourse to a court.

His first wife seeks temporary alimony of $1,000 a month pending trial of her separate maintenance suit. Her counsel said he had proved there was no divorce, and that Bancroft admitted he was never in a court room on that mission.

"If the law allowed a man simply to announce that he was divorced, the entire structure of marriage would be destroyed," the lawyer stated.

Hollywood has certainly given that well-known institution quite a teetering.

JUST LIKE EVERYBODY ELSE.

New light on the so-called inferiority complex has been obtained by Professor Harry R. De Silva at Amherst.

Professor De Silva teaches a course in abnormal psychology. As an exercise he had his students compile "unexpurgated" mental autobiographies, each of them setting down the bad facts as he saw them.

The thing that impressed the professor was the astonishing prevalence of inferiority complexes. He said:

"Nearly every one had a round half-dozen feelings of inferiority about this or that. The commonest source of inferiority was not fitting into the social group. Other factors were physical appearance, general bashfulness, physical weakness and inability to dance."

We had never supposed that Amherst men felt like that.

However, if everybody carries a number of inferiority complexes around why should anybody worry about it?

For in that case, what the supercilious Freudians despise as abnormal is simply being normal in the sense of being no different from anyone else. And that realization, by the rules of psychoanalysis, would put an end to inferiority complexes forever.—Chicago Herald-Examiner.

POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL.

It appears that when Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Durant were divorced six years ago, the motor magnate set aside a trust fund of $1,000,000 for his daughter, then an infant two years of age. Since that time, money has depreciated, and the grandfather of the child, who is her present custodian, has arranged a new deal whereby he will not spend more than $20,000 a year upon her until she is 12 years of age. After that the amount increases gradually until it attains $17,500 a year when she reaches her majority. Then, presumably, the fortune will be hers to do with as she pleases.

Just how anybody could spend $20,000 a year on a child of eight to 12 is hard to figure out. Or $25,000 a year at 15. A child could not possibly know enough to ask for dresses, or tours, or food, or gee-gaws that could use up $20,000 a year. How is a guardian to spend that sum on her? She would have to emulate the famous Brewster who had to get rid of one fortune in order to qualify for another.

In any event it is evident she is going to be surrounded with wasteful and unnecessary luxury in order to live up to that income. What sort of young woman will be developed, only time can tell. But as she is not being brought up to appreciate the fact that for all except a comparatively few people money is hardly won and has to be husbanded carefully in order to live in reasonable comfort, the probability is she will just be a reckless spendthrift, never counting what things cost, flinging it away in a daily orgy of spending on her own selfish pleasures.

Those who have the guiding of this young miss are doing her a great disservice. If her allowance was cut to $2,000 a year it would be plenty, and would teach her to understand the value of money. At present it is coming to her as from an inexhaustible well, which some day may dry up, then the price she will have to pay in tears and recrimination will outweigh all that has been paid for it.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

TOO MUCH PARTYISM.

In a recent pronouncement upon political affairs in general, the Winchester Press offered a declaration which we believe is worthy of wide publicity, to start people thinking, and to wean them away from narrow views in the matter of provincial government. It said:

"When will the public mind clear itself of the farce of provincial partyism? It does not exist in our municipal affairs except in rare cases where there are men whose interests are personal, and who are clever enough to keep up the deception. It does not exist in the county councils so far as the Press can learn, and certainly not in the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengary. Why should it be so pronounced in our provincial affairs?"

There is no doubt that there is plenty of room for improvement in the character of government in this country. If we are to have political parties in provincial affairs, we are convinced that the two-party idea is the best—but like the Winchester Press, we are of the opinion that there is altogether too much partyism connected with the conduct of public business in Ontario.

There is too great a disposition for one party to allow its conduct to be of such a character that political ammunition will be stored up for the next election campaign.

Under the party system elections naturally are animated and often severe in the character of criticism one party offers against the other. This is difficult to avoid, possibly, but when the issue is decided we can see no reason for continuing the election animosities. It would be better if the members of both parties would settle down to a course of harmonious and co-operative action to get on with the business of the province and allow the next election to look after itself. There will be no reason for any man to fear an appeal to the people if his actions have been honest; and if he has been able to convince the people by his deeds and accomplishments that he has an intelligent grasp of the real needs of his province.—Chatham News.

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY
By Fred Williams

A DARING FEAT OF SEAMANSHIP.

On this date, in 1864, the harbor of Halifax, N.S., was the theatre of one of the most thrilling naval incidents of the American civil war. The Confederate States had purchased in England the steamer Atlanta, built at Millwall, on the Thames, for the Chinese trade. She was an iron twin ship, 700 tons gross and 200 feet long, with two engines which made 14½ knots per day on her trial trip. Taken down to Wilmington by a British crew she was handed over to a crew of Confederate volunteers and re-named the Tallahassee.

When equipped as a raider, she made her escape from blockaded Wilmington, reached the open sea, eluded the northern cruisers, destroyed and sank several merchantmen and, then, being in need of coal, stores and repairs, she made for Halifax, which she reached in safety. But the ships of the Northern States were sharp on her heels and took up positions outside the harbor.

Navigated into Halifax harbor by a fisherman, Captain John Taylor Wood, her commander, called upon Sir James Hope, naval commander of the British North American station, and upon Sir R. G. Macdonell, the then lieutenant governor, who invited the visitor to breakfast the next morning. That invitation could not be accepted since the Queen's proclamation of neutrality stipulated that no belligerent ship could remain longer than 24 hours.

The United States consul, Judge Jackson, bombarded the authorities with protests and demands that the Tallahassee be seized, but so long as she did not overstay her limit she was safe from seizure. Captain Taylor Wood managed to get a supply of the best Welsh coal; (there were people who asked how that happened since the only holders of Welsh coal were her majesty's dockyard and the Halifax Gas Company, which was owned by men fearful of violating neutrality laws). He also got a new spar from a medical gentleman (afterwards Senator W. J. Almon), and ample stores.

The Tallahassee's escape through the eastern channel of Halifax harbor was one of the most daring exploits in the history of the sea. Piloted by Jack Fleming, a tall 60-year-old fisherman, who knew every inch of the waters, she crept out under cover of darkness, eluded the enemy patrol and put to mid-Atlantic to resume her raids on northern shipping.

At the end of the civil war, Captain Taylor Wood took up his residence at Halifax and for nearly 40 years was a much respected citizen, living until July 9, 1934.

GERMANY.
Nazis Quitting Hitler

HITLER is rapidly coming to the end of the way. The murder of Roehm, and von Schleicher, and Dr. Klausner has not heightened the prestige of Hitler among the Nazis. Outside the Nazis other forces such as the Communists, the Protestants, the Catholics, the Industrialists, the farmers, and other middle class groups have lost all faith in Hitler. To the Socialists he made extravagant promises. In keeping them Hitler has failed. To the Thyssens and the Krupps he promised great profits. Every unprejudiced person in Germany, and with his eyes open cannot fail to see that Hitler is bringing economic ruin upon the Father Land.

The Communists have been fearless in their opposition to the whole Nazi movement. That group is now strongly entrenched in Germany. Among the groups in opposition the Communists are the best organized and strategically hold the advantage. Hitler had declared that to end Communism in Germany would be an easy matter. Communism has steadily gained strength from the first day he assumed the role of Dictator. The Nazis have lost faith in his ability to uproot Communism. The killing of so many strong men by Hitler to weed out suspected Communists from the Nazi ranks, has augmented the opposition numbers and has made them more determined and resourceful.

Wagner, Bavarian Minister of the Interior, recently declared: So long as Bolshevism sits on one side of Germany and Democracy on the other, so long as there are still in Germany so many opponents of the rejuvenation of our nation, we shall never have peace.

The Storm Troops are the center of Nazi dissention. True, the numbers have been reduced from 3,000,000 to 800,000. The Storm Troops have been a deterant. Before this date, the masses of the people would have swept Hitler out of the Dictatorship. The Storm Troops 3,000,000 strong have stood in the way of a general uprising. The outlook has changed. It is full of foreboding. Two million Storm Troops are now in civilian clothes. They are giving vent to their disillusionment. Sixty-two per cent. of these men are industrial workers and farmers. Nineteen per cent. are white collar workers. To the masses of the people these men in civilian garb are no longer a symbol of fear. They are fellow sufferers from tyranny. These men have hot grievances. Uniforms have a tendency to silence men. They have found their voices. Authority silenced them. There are voices that no human authority can silence. Men who have been in communication with Ultimate Reality have no fear of what rulers or men can do. The voice of the church has never been silenced nor ever shall.

The two million men sent back to their homes have taken dismissal as a mark of disgrace. In their homes and to all comers they are not sparing in denunciation of Hitler and his advisers. One million of them are Communists. Since the dismissal they have left the Nazis and are now Red Communists. One million of them have joined the ranks of the Socialists.

These men are now back home. They are back to their families and neighbors and friends. When the Storm Trooper has poured out his story of resentment he will find willing ears. The home folks will tell of the rising prices; of all they have to eat and wear. The poor quality of the food, and the flimsy garments to wear will deepen the hatred.

They will go on to tell of the exhorbitant taxes. Hungry people by the thousands will pour out their tale of woe. Many who received a dole for a while and who are without work, and have been for two years, are in the mood of revolution. These the returned Troopers will find in fighting temper. Then unions have been broken up by Hitler's direction. The resentment of the Storm Trooper will take on the strength of a storm. There is the real danger of a great uprising of the masses of the people against the capitalists, the militarists, and foreign imperialists. Should this dark cloud burst, the whole Nazi regime will be swept clean.

Dismissal of the Storm Troopers was the act of a man beside himself with fear. Instead of getting free from them he has arrayed them against him.

Fathom a little deeper the mental mood of these men who joined the Hitler colors. They were to help put over a great program of public welfare. Public utilities and banks were to be socialized. In industry profit sharing was to be introduced. Large land holdings were to be confiscated for the common good. These promises have not been fulfilled. An insight has been gained by these returned men into the realities of the struggle in which all Germany is now involved.

Let us go deeper still. The farmer boys returned home from the ranks to be startled by the change in the Nazi inheritance laws. Their birthright has been taken away from them. Only the oldest son can now own title to the land. The other sons in the family shake their fists in hate. These laws have divided families. They have deepened hate into fierce rage. Domestic life will not for a long time be what it has been. The inheritance laws touch every home in the nation. Wreck home ties and there is but little left worth while.

ONLY BALANCES PAID IN CASH.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir, — Your correspondent, Mr. Wiggins, represents a large class who will persist in thinking that business is done by means of "cash." It is only balances that are paid in cash (or billions). The business of the world is like bank clearings, done nearly altogether on credits. Surely no one imagines that a ship coming out or going back with a few millions of gold means the total of the international business of that week. The rush for cash takes place only when this vast system of credit and their cancellation has been shattered at the present by reason of attempting to do more business on credit than the "market" will stand. This falling-back of the "market" to the actual needs and desires of the people has caused the cessation of a lot and was always the cause of false employment. The employment market became glutted worse than usual as a consequence. The remedy lies in going back so far as possible to normal conditions.

Supplying other people has been terribly overdone. It now leaves an immense number of people with nothing to do. These people do not want relief. They want work. Hunger marches are really protests against "relief" and a craving for work. Surely that desire is not unworthy. What are people to do if the original idea of producing their own needs out of land is not practicable? The supposition of socialists that producers will gladly work to keep the rest in idleness is silly. It has never worked for an hour and would ruin the morals of the world.

J. H. BURNHAM.

THE HARRIS CASE.

Mr. Editor,—

Would you oblige me by allowing space in your paper for me to discuss this case?

In the first place, the Council criticises Mr. Harris, not for going to Toronto, but for the sign he carried in the parade, "Peterborough feeds its children on 25c per week per child." But what has stung so hard and is the seat of all this trouble is the national publicity that the press gave to this placard.

Now, when you come to think of it, Mr. Harris used the best and, I might say, the only weapon he had—that was publicity. The truth, which always does hurt vain and intolerant people, seems to have struck the tender chord. The Council, in a mad rush to justify their former actions, only drive themselves deeper into the mire before any people who think or try to think.

They bring out a lot of figures under the banner of "Liberality," but when we take a good look at these figures they only make us wonder how in the name of heaven he really managed to live on so little. For instance, $619.91 for 18 months, or about $34.00 per month, roughly $1.13 per day. Now we will look and see how this is apportioned out to Mr. Harris. He gets some in wood, some in rent and rest in food. You can see there is still the hundred and one little necessities still unprovided for which are so necessary to keep within the bounds of civilization.

This will, I hope, correct the impression that this $619.91 was for food alone, which a number of people would get by the way it was worded in the press. Further, the publicity that was given about the family receiving help from other sources is in no relation to reason, for it's plain to be seen that they needed all the outside help and dollars they could get to help them in their struggle to exist.

Also, another point they forgot to remember was that Mr. Harris was a delegate from the "Peterborough Unemployed," and to heap this uncalled for contempt and puble ridicule on this man was to heap it on the organization he represented.

And again, it should be pointed out that this organization is needed and all the unemployed should get behind it.

The unemployed, as well as the workers, can see plainly by now that the Council is a poor representation of labor; also the Relief Board seems to be nothing but the usual gauntlet of red tape and some place to pass the buck.

Therefore, the unemployed will have to struggle for the abolition of this board—that is, if they want to better themselves. And it's plain enough to be seen that the liberality of these men is not liberal enough for the immediate needs of the unemployed people.

The question still remains unanswered after all their justification, "Does Peterborough feed her children on 25c per week per child?"

PETERBOROUGH

To Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir.—The following editorial and letter appeared in The Providence, R.I., Journal recently, relative to John Smith's attempt to cross the ocean in a canoe. The writer of the letter is Kelsey Hall, a former Peterborough resident, a brother of the Misses Hall on Charlotte street, and was and likely is an enthusiastic philatelist.

It's Peterborough

As two correspondents of The Journal, whose letters are printed elsewhere on this page, remind us, the Ontario town from which it has been announced that a young sailorman has determined to paddle across the Atlantic Ocean this summer is not Petersborough but Peterborough; and, moreover, the English town which is his chosen destination is Peterborough also.

We regret that we inserted in our editorial reference to each of these two excellent communitis a superfluous "s." We never felt the nineteenth letter of the alphabet to be quite so crooked before.

However, the incident has been of real value in eliciting two such interesting letters from Journal readers. We like the cheerful spirit in which they are written, and we promise to write "Peterborough," not "Petersborough," in every reference we may make hereafter to the thrilling voyage of 24-year-old John Smith. May the ocean gales and tides be kind to him, and may he paddle his adventurous little craft in safety to its predestined port.

John is a hardy spirit indeed. He proposes to use no sail on his journey but rely entirely on a paddle. Which recalls a famous old quatrain:

"Voyager upon life's sea:—
To yourself be true,
And whatever your lot may be,
Paddle your own canoe."

Good luck, John Smith. May you wield a sturdy paddle—and, we suggest, have an extra one stowed snugly aboard.

A Voice From Peterborough

To the Editor of The Providence Journal:

I am a daily reader of the editorials in both The Journal and Bulletin, and invariably have found them to be like Caesar's wife "sans reproche."

I confess, therefore, to a mild surprise on noting your spelling of "Peterborough" in the editorial of the 5th inst. Otherwise the editorial appealed strongly to me, as I am a native of the pretty little Ontario city of Peterborough, named after the founder, the Hon. Peter Robinson, and with a world-wide reputation as the home of the Peterborough canoe.

The lovely old cathedral city in England might very well take exception to your misspelling of its historical name.

Sincerely,
W. KELSEY HALL.

Iowa Heat Hits 115 Cool Wave Coming

CHICAGO, Aug. 9. —(A. P.). — The Central West, heart of the drought and heat ridden area of the United States, counted on a cool wave from Alaska and north-western Canada to-day to break the present hot spell.

Warmer weather, however, was forecast for the middle Atlantic and south portion of the north Atlantic states.

Temperatures soared yesterday to new record-breaking heights in the central west. At Iowa, all known heat records were smashed when the mercury sky rocketed to 115 degrees at Ottumwa.

Central Illinois was also hard hit, with an all time record of 107.5 at Springfield. Several deaths in Illinois were reported. Quincy, Ill., had one and four prostrations when the temperature jumped to 110.

What's in The NAME
of Canadian Cities and Towns?
By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

KELOWNA, B. C.

There is quite a legend attached to the choice of Kelowna as the name of this town, the Okanagan Historical and Natural History Society informs me.

The original name was "Nor-kwastin" of Indian origin, which means "hard, black rock," which the Indians used to sharpen their flints.

August Gillard, an early resident, built himself a dwelling, half dugout and half shanty. The story goes that one day the Indians were passing by and saw smoke issuing from the rude chimney. Gillard heard them chattering and crawled out of his dugout in much the same manner as a bear might emerge from its den. This thought must have occurred to the Indians, for they called to the others, "Kim-ach Touche, Kim-ach Touche," meaning "Black Bear, Black Bear." The Indians continued to call the house and man "Kim-ach Touche." The settlers, hearing that the Indians had given Gillard the name of Brown Bear, changed it to Kelowna, or Grizzly Bear, which is much easier to pronounce, and the name has been used to this day.

THE THINGS WE CAN'T STAND

Have you a list of things you Can't Possibly Stand?

Can't you stand cabbage . . . or spinach . . . or egg plant . . . or bad coffee . . . or a man with a droopy mustache . . . or certain kinds of music . . . or that motion picture actor who is so popular right now . . . or the smell of a pipe . . . or dirty finger nails . . . or "Anthony Adverse" . . . or gushy women . . . or fussy men . . . or crowds . . . or having people touch you . . . or being criticized . . . or being flattered (too openly) . . . or interrupted . . . ignored . . . or eating in restaurants . . . or eating every night at home . . . or eucalyptus trees . . . or barking dogs . . . or screaming cats . . . or camping . . . or stiff collars . . . or last year's styles . . . or this year's, either . . . or a thousand other things that other people seem to stand without complaining?

That list could go on and on and on and contain nearly everything that some people like and other people can't endure at all.

For so many of us get into that habit of being unable to "stand things"—and the habit gets in our way.

And the way we get into the habit is by Going on Record.

Something annoying happens and we say, "I can't stand that sort of thing!" . . . Then we are on record.

We have announced publicly that this particular person will have none of that as long as this particular person lives. That's the way we are and we will NOT change.

We are Strong Characters who have announced our dislikes and we will never be so weak as to change our opinion.

That's what was wrong with Hamlet. He wavered. He couldn't make up his mind whether to live or to die, to avenge his father or to let it pass, to be a Murderer or a Victim. . . . But WE won't be like Hamlet. We'll let everybody know just where we stand; if they don't like it they can lump it.

So we waste a great part ourselves every day we live in keeping the record straight and living up to all those things we Positively Can Not Stand. And that's a pity. Because we certainly do get into trouble when we mistake Stubbornness for Character and make a virtue of it.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP).—The mining section of the Toronto Exchange experienced today a carry-over of yesterday's flare up in the silver group, while base metal and gold stocks dropped back to normal flow of business. The heavy turnover in the silvers, however, produced few gains of any importance, the group appearing to be in good supply. Over the board the close was firm to strong.

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP).—Volume shifted to the leading oils and Loblaw "A", Ford "A", Massey Harris and Consolidated Smelters in today's operations on the industrial section of the Toronto Exchange. The general tone was slow and barely steady, the upward surge which developed yesterday having practically disappeared. As groups the foods and the utilities closed higher.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10 (CP).—After moving in narrow confines throughout the day, prices on the Montreal stock exchange closed irregular today. Trading was dull with the ticker standing still for minutes at a time.

Montreal Power reversed its early trend by rising 5-8 to 35 7-8, while fractional gains were recorded by Quebec Power, Steel of Canada, Shawinigan Power, McColl-Frontenac, B.C. Power, Massey-Harris, and National Breweries.

Canadian Pacific Railway eased 5-8 at 13 1-2, while International Nickel was down 5-8 at 24 3-8. Brazilian Traction eased 1-2 at 9 3-4 and Consolidated Smelters dropped 3-4 at 146.

CANADA'S FINANCIAL RECOVERY MORE ADVANCED THAN THE U.S.

Barnes' Circus Box Office Returns Greatly Improved in Current Tour.

NO DEPRESSION IN NORTH.

Despite the lack of national measures corresponding to the N.R.A., Canada's recovery from the economic depression is definitely more advance than that of the United States, Bernie Head, an official in close touch with the box office of the A. G. Barnes Circus, told a reporter yesterday. In almost every section of the Dominion greatly improved conditions have been encountered by the circus in its tour this season.

Circus box office returns have long been regarded as one of the most accurate barometers of economic conditions, Mr. Head pointed out. In view of this fact, it is significant that the circus has experienced an average improvement in its turn-over of about 25 per cent in the United States and Canada as a whole this year, he said. On the west coast of the United States, in British Columbia and in the gold mining areas of Northern Ontario, the improvement has often amounted to as much as 100 percent.

"Significant in connection with the recovery of your country is the fact that this is the first year since 1930 that we, or either of the other two big rail circuses remaining, have found it advisable to come up into Canada for a general tour" Mr. Head stated. "It has proven a highly successful tour despite the fact that two years ago our scouts reported that a venture above the border would be entirely impractical for a circus the size of ours."

No Depression in North

Mr. Head explained that a large circus has to gross many thousands of dollars each day before a cent of profit is made. Timmins proved to be one of the circus' best stands in Canada with Calgary running close to second for the honors. The people in the Timmins area, living on the newly-flowered wealth of Ontario's gold mines, have not yet heard of the depression, he said. The only area in the United States which seemed to boast conditions definitely better than any to be found in Canada was the Pacific coast.

Last year the Al. G. Barnes Circus found it necessary to disband for the winter after twenty-one weeks on the road, the official said. The circus has already been out nineteen weeks and the prospect is for fifteen more.

U.S. DOLLAR DROPS ON LONDON MARKET

American Currency Closes at $5.09½ to Pound, Down 2½ Cents.

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP).—The United States dollar dropped 2 1-2 cents to the pound today, closing at $5.09 1-2 to the pound compared to yesterday's unofficial close of $5.07 on short selling by traders as a result of the United States silver program.

Trade demand caused temporary improvement from a weak opening of $5.09, but renewed offerings depressed the rate to near the day's lowest.

The French franc continued unchanged at 76.32 to the pound.

Price of bar gold was unchanged at 138 shillings, 1 penny ($35.14), a fine ounce and an amount valued at 85,000 pounds ($432,650) was purchased. The prices of silver likewise was unchanged at 21 7-16 pence an ounce. Offerings from China wiped out the effect of other buying.

WHEAT FOLLOWS CHICAGO SLUMP

Price Drops 1 1-8 to 7-8 Under Previous Close After Setting New High.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Wheat succumbed to Chicago selling on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today and after rising to a new high level at $1.00 1-2 for May, slumped to finish 1 1-8 to 7-8 cents under the previous close.

Profit-taking operations also played a part in the decline as a heavy volume of trade entered the pit. Export sales of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were insufficient to stop the downturn.

October operation closed at 93 3-4, December at 95 and May at 99 cents.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP).—Profit taking contributed to the quiet unsettlement in stocks today, following the brisk advance yesterday. Several attempts to rally the list were disappointing. The late tone was heavy. Losses of around 1 to 2 points were shown by Du Pont, U.S. Smelting, Santa Fe, Case, U.S. Steel, General Motors, Howe Sound and Chrysler. Transfers approximated 750,000 shares.

LAWYER FACES FRAUD CHARGE

Joseph A. O'Brien Remanded on Two Charges in Magistrate's Court.

BAIL SET AT $10,000.

Joseph A. O'Brien, local lawyer, was remanded to-day by Police Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., on two charges under the Criminal Code.

One of the charges on which Mr. O'Brien stands indicted reads "Between March 31, 1933, and July 30, 1934, both inclusive having as administrator of the estate of Sarah Menzies, late of the City of Peterborough, widow, deceased, received moneys to the amount of $4,565.62 on terms requiring him to pay the same to heirs-at-law of the said Sarah Menzies namely Thomas Bradfield, William Bradfield, Fred Bradfield, Rolland Bradfield, Sophia Therese Kelly, May Ellen Wade, Anastasia Marie Weyer and James Weyer, fraudulently converted the same to his own use and thereby did commit theft contrary to section 356 of the Criminal Code."

The second charge concerns the purchase by Mr. O'Brien of a motor car from W. H. Magee on July 31. It is charged that he obtained the car by false pretences, namely giving his cheque for $200 when he did not have sufficient funds at the bank to meet the cheque.

The charge of conversion of funds is result of an investigation into the Menzies' estate during the past few months in Surrogate Court here. Judge Ruddy on July 25, 1934, recorded the agreement arrived at between Mr. O'Brien and Hon. G. N. Gordon, acting on behalf of heirs. It was the failure of Mr. O'Brien to act upon the terms of this agreement that caused the criminal charge to be laid. Mr. O'Brien was arrested two days ago by Provincial Constable D. Silvester.

On neither of the charges has Mr. O'Brien entered plea on election. Magistrate Langley stated this morning that he does not propose to try the cases, but after preliminary hearing will send the accused before a superior court for trial.

Mr. O'Brien, through his counsel, T. J. Carley, requested a remand until Thursday. Previously he had said that he was prepared to proceed and would be content with bailment for trial to a Superior Court on the evidence of one witness. To-day he said he was not ready to proceed with this preliminary hearing.

He was granted a remand until Thursday, bail being set at himself $5,000, and two other suretise or more totalling $10,000, such sureties to be satisfactory to Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C.

PROPOSALS TO CHANGE B.N.A. ACT EXPECTED AT OCTOBER PARLEY

Heavier Burden Result of Depression Likely Fall on Dominion's Shoulders.

NO DEFINITE DATE.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10. (CP).—Proposals to change the British North America Act—Canada's constitution—will be up for consideration at the next conference of Dominion and Provincial Governments. When the conference last month concluded, Premier R. B. Bennett suggested to the provincial premiers they meet again in October. This was regarded as a tentative date. It may be earlier or later but in any event it will be before the next session of Parliament.

Under the B.N.A. act, social services, direct relief and similar responsibilities were placed on the shoulders of the province and the fields of taxation were defined as between the provinces and the Dominion with these responsibilities in mind. In view of the wider field of taxation alloted the Dominion, it was provided that the provinces be given annual subsidies from the federal treasury. These have been revised from time to time.

The depression has entailed so much relief and social assistance that it has been contended they have become national problems and should be a Dominion responsibility. The Dominion has recognized this by carrying a considerable portion of the financial load.

Different Policy

At the last conference the Dominion changed its policy in this connection and instead of bearing a percentage of the direct relief regardless of how extensive it might be, in the future will make monthly grants of stated amounts to the provinces and the latter will look after administration without interference on the part of Ottawa.

The Dominion also contributes 75 percent of Old Age Pensions paid by the provinces and there is also a movement to have unemployment and health insurance inaugurated. All these are provincial responsibilities although it is frequently argued they could be better administered as national undertakings instead of piecemeal with each province having a distinct system.

The provinces, particularly Ontario and Quebec, have been jealous of their provincial rights and on many occasions appeals have been carried to the Privy Council in London when they felt the Dominion was infringing on their jurisdiction. Not infrequently the provinces have been successful in these appeals.

Changes Necessary.

The Dominion takes the view that changes are necessary in the B.N.A. Act if it is to undertake relief and social services on a national scale. It might be necessary to change the subsidies to the provinces as well as extend the Dominion's jurisdiction.

At the conference in Jan. 1933, Premier R. B. Bennett laid down proposals in an agenda to broaden the Federal powers to cope with such situations, but at that time some provinces were not prepared to surrender their jurisdiction. There have been many changes in provincial governments since then. Many are insistent that the Dominion carry a considerable portion of the load of relief because they claim the provinces are not to blame for conditions that have caused widespread unemployment. They may be more inclined to give the Dominion the power necessary to make unemployment a national obligation.

Although minor changes have been made in the B.N.A. Act no such fundamental changes as now suggested have ever been made since the Act was passed uniting the provinces into the Dominion.

Great permanent edifices, many of them costing more than $1,000,000 each, reflect the solidity of the Canadian National Exhibition as an institution for the future instead of a temporary "fair" without tradition and without promise. This is the fifty-sixth consecutive year of Canadian's great exposition.

VOUCHER PLAN WORKED WELL

the opinion that considerable relief money will find its way to beer parlours and motion picture houses if Peterborough is forced to adopt the cash system. "I think the voucher system has been quite satisfactory. We have had a definite control over the relief expenditures. With cash we shall have no control whatever beyond cutting a man off the lists when we catch him in a beer parlour or a movie."

Favors Free Vouchers

Alderman Fred Tuggey, another member of the Board, declined to be quoted as favoring cash relief but said he has been a st rong advocate of a free voucher system. Under the present system, relief recipients are given vouchers and allowed practically no choice in regard to stores where they may use them. "It is not fair to a decent citizens who, in normal times is quite independant of charity, that he should be forced to go to a store where he is not known and get his supplies. I don't know but what the cash system will be preferable to the restricted voucher system."

Merchants Skeptical

Merchants look with considerable skepticism upon the supposed advantages of the inauguration of cash relief in municipalities.

Several merchants interviewed by The Examiner, were unanimous in expressing the belief that the voucher system as enforced here can hardly be improved upon. Under the present program of relief administration, it was pointed out, those receiving the vouchers can secure their needs from merchants cheaper than they could obtain them for cash. A proportion of those on relief, it was said, would be unable to properly budget their cash allowance and would live "high" for a few days and then have to go hungry.

J. D. Fitzpatrick, of Fitzpatrick and Geraghty Stores, said, "The present system is much the better of the two. It is better from every standpoint. It is better for the municipality, better for the merchant and infinitely better for those receiving relief. On many staple lines of groceries those on relief, owing to the arrangement made between the grocers and the Relief Board, get a real discount in price. There is a percentage of those on relief, who find themselves in need because they are poor managers. Give them cash and they would spend it recklessly and then expect the corner grocery store or somebody else to carry them over the lean period until they obtained the next cash relief. Under the present system those on relief are getting a fair deal and their needs are being cared for in the best possible manner."

C. E. Smith, manager of Agnew-Surpass Shoe Store, said, "With cash relief I think want among Peterborough's unfortunate would only increase. Some families would administer their cash allowance carefully and they might properly benefit under the cash system, but there is the other percentage that would spend it unwisely. Under the present system goods are obtained by those on relief at a discount over the regular retail price. I think the local board has endeavored always to administer relief fairly, and the system evolved is working well."

E. P. Mason, of Mason's Groceterias, also considered that the introduction of cash relief here would be a mistake. "By the arrangement made between merchants and the Relief Board prices are set and everything in connection with the purchase of goods for the vouchers is carefully administered and checked. Those on relief secure goods at a reduction over the retail price. Under the cash system a proportion of those on relief would certainly not properly administer their allowance. I think the present system is best for those on relief in general, and I know that the majority of those receiving the voucher see the advantage of the system and are perfectly satisfied."

TORONTO, Aug. 10. (CP).—As yet the Ontario Government has not settled on its relief policy, Premier Mitchell Hepburn said today. Payments for the vouchers now issued to the unemployed but Hon. David Croll, Minister of Public Welfare, said this report was only partly correct.

Mr. Croll is now working on a plan, the Premier said, and when it is completed will issue a statement. The Government wishes to complete its relief plans before Mr. Hepburn returns to Ottawa to resume negotiations with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett over the amount of Federal contribution to relief Ontario should receive.

Reports negotiations between Mr. Bennett and himself had been broken off were wholly untrue, Mr. Hepburn stated. He added he intended to get in touch with Mr. Bennett to-day to arrange for an interview possibly some time next week.

The proposed inquiry into the Department of Lands and forests will be by a commissioner and will be conducted along the same lines as the probe into the Air Service and the Niagara Falls Park Commission, said Mr. Hepburn. Until Hon. Peter Heenan, head of the Department, returns from Northern Ontario no definite plans would be made. Mr. Heenan, he said, had submitted two or three names as suggested appointees to the commission but no selection had been made.

One of the things the Government proposed to get cleared up in its probe is the handling of unaudited accounts in departments. Mr. Hepburn wants to find out where the funds for these accounts come from, how they get out of the treasury department without full explanation and how they are used.

The Premier will address a picnic at Streetsville this afternoon arranged in honor of Duncan Marshall, Ontario Minister of Agriculture. He will then go to his home at St. Thomas for the week-end.

MODERN YOUTH IS DEFENDED

L. J. Pettit Addresses Kiwanis Club at Weekly Luncheon.

"We older folk are bundles of inherited prejudices and inhibitions" declared L. J. Pettit of the Collegiate Institute staff as he voiced a defence of modern youth at the Kiwanis Club luncheon today. "Our honesty, morality and much of our religion is based upon fear and is therefore negative—fear of God, fear of public opinion and chiefly fear of being found out. The rising generation is largely above these petty motives."

"Naturaly the young folk differ so materially from ourselves that we of the passing age look askance at their antics and their experiments. In this respect, of course, we are no different from the old folk who have preceded us. That attitude is as old as the race."

Relating the conversation of a woman he heard at a prayer meeting to the effect that the boys at the Collegiate all carry flasks on their hips, he ridiculed the unfounded fears of the older generation. Inevitably there is a small wayward section of modern youth but it is not to such young folk that the world must turn for a new heaven and a new earth, he declared. "This group will of necessity continue to be hewers of wood and drawers of water."

"Touching on three characteristics of present-day youth—freedom, frankness aid faim—Mr. Pettit said, "They are seeking reality through the release of their own personalities. The Great War, more than anything else, has shown them the breakdown of the old system and they have concluded that they can not do much worse. They are apostles of freedom — not the political freedom sought by Italy under Mazzini and Garibaldi but a personal liberty that shall be the fruit of the tree of knowledge. They believe implicitly that 'truth shall make them free'."

Speaking of youths' freedom from the "skin deep" inhibitions of their elders, he declared that the freedom of dress of modern youth is evidence of their healthy, wholesome outlook in the realm of morality. "In spite of the judgment of the

SEE SCRAMBLE TO BUY SILVER RAISING PRICE

U. S. Experts Hope Move May Lead to International Conference.

UNIFORM CURRENCY.

Stocks, Wheat, Corn, Cotton Rise—Bonds, Dollar Drop.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The United States Government's silver coup rang all the bells in the economic carillon to-day and echo answered everything from joy to bewilderment.

President Roosevelt's order taking possession of silver at a price of 50.01 cents an ounce brought forth such varying reactions as these:

1.—Leaders of the "silver bloc" expressed gratification. Senator Elmer Thomas (D., Okla.), predicted an international scramble for silver that would force a world conference to draft a uniform world currency for exchange purposes. He foresaw a "new era of prosperity."

2.—Stock and commodity markets sensed inflation. Stocks rose $1 to more than $3 yesterday. The dollar dropped, wheat, corn and cotton rose. Bonds sold off.

3.—Many observers said that, aside from its possible implications, the announcement did not mean inflation. Treasury officials pointed out that silver certificates—for the present at least—would be issued only against the actual cost of the metal to the Government, 50.01 cents an ounce.

Up to $100,000,000.

The amount of new currency turned out thus would be relatively small, but estimates of the amount ranged from $25,000,000 to $100,000,000.

4. One prominent Wall street banker called the "nationalization" move merely a concession to the "silver crowd" of "no great importance.

5. Around the famous silver lodes of the west, there was hope that silver might go up to its old-time price of $1.29. Senator Key Pittman hailed the order as a "process that will hasten the complete absorption of the silver surplus in the world."

6. The first reaction in London's financial centre was puzzlement. This was shared by the average American man in the street, to whom details of monetary theories are largely Greek.

7. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, keeping his own counsel, said merely: "We are going forward with our program of rehabilitation of silver." The capital awaited the return to-day of President Roosevelt, to see if he would disclose future steps in the program.

90-Day Delivery

Seizing the silver by the right of eminent domain, the Government says all the metal, except coined and industrial must be turned into the Treasury within 90 days. The price is about half a cent higher than the figure quoted in the New York market yesterday.

It is a move in the policy, laid down by the last Congress, which says the Government shall purchase silver till it reaches a ratio of one to three with gold in the currency backing. Last year the Government took over gold.

Senator Thomas forecast a slow, but material rise in the domestic price level. He said eventual fulfillment of the silver program would mean at least $500,000,000 of new money in circulation.

Although silver certificates will be issued, for the present at least, only against actual cost, 50.01 cents an ounce, the Treasury has discretion for the future, it could issue $1.29 in currency against every ounce of metal bought at 50 cents.

Europe's Political Troubles No Barrier To Stork

Crown Princess Maria Jose — Signora Mussolini — Frau Dollfuss

Unofficial reports disclose that the stork is preparing to descend on Italy's rulers and the widow of Austria's dictator. Signora Benito Mussolini, publicity-evading wife of Black Shirt Il Duce, is awaiting the birth of her sixth child soon, while her friend, Frau Englebert Dollfuss, widow of the assassinated Austrian chancellor, is now visiting her and making tiny clothes of her own for the coming months. To top the ancient bird's prodigality, Italy's royal family too is preparing to greet a possible heir to the throne, in the person of the first child born to Crown Prince Humberto and his Belgian princess, Maria Jose, due to arrive early in September.

THIRTY YEARS OF PROGRESS

FORD 4-CYLINDER 1904

Ford V-8 Victoria

1934 FORD V-8

THIS August marks the Thirtieth Anniversary of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited. Years move fast in the automobile business and time brings many changes.

Just thirty years ago the first Ford was making its appearance on the roads of Canada. It looks strange and old-fashioned to us now, but in its day it was a great car. Many Canadians still remember their pride in it and speak kindly of its performance. It was a pioneer and it blazed new trails.

The Ford V-8 of today is far different from the Ford car of 1904. Different in appearance. Different in design. Different in almost everything except the fact that it runs on four wheels.

Yet it, too, is a pioneer—blazing new trails of performance and value — bringing a new kind of transportation within reach of all the people. Now, for the first time in the history of the automobile industry, a V-8 cylinder automobile is available at a low price. No other car under $4000 gives you the matchless speed, power and smoothness of a V-8 engine.

Such quality would not be possible if it were not for Ford policies and Ford methods of production. Back of the Ford V-8 are thirty years of progress in engineering and production. Built into it are the reliability and economy that you have always associated with the Ford car and a sincere desire to give you the most for your automobile dollars.

"THE CANADIAN CAR"

Ford cars sold in Canada are made almost wholly in Canada, of Canadian materials, by Canadian workmen. In the last ten years, the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has spent in Canada $262,000,000 for materials, wages, etc. This expenditure represents a substantial contribution to the prosperity of Canada.

'SALVY' ANTONIO DEATH AVENGED

steps. She struggled down them, and walked the rest of the way.

She sat down in the chair. She wore a simple, blue gingham dress. It had been cut on the left side, permitting access to the leg, which was bare, for the electrode.

The prison chaplin stepped forward, crucifix extended toward the mask that dropped from the headplate. He stepped back. It was 10:12 p.m., eastern standard time.

At 10:16 p.m. she was dead.

A reporter for a New York city newspaper slumped forward in a faint.

Samuel Faracci, 43, came next. The wrist watches said 10.18 p.m. He entered easily but sullenly.

Thanks, For Nothing"

"I'm going to the chair, all right," he said, "but I'm innocent. That's all I've got to say—and thank you, for nothing."

At 10.23 p.m. he was dead.

Finally came Vincent Saetta, 23. He was cheerful. "Hello, guard," he called out.

Of them all, Vincent Saetta alone died smiling. Several hours earlier his mother and four sisters had come to say goodbye. One by one he kissed them.

Vincent Saetta, gay knight of the death house, was dead at 10.30 p.m.

With his death, the books in the case of Salvatore Antonio were balanced.

The Wife's Story

Mrs. Antonio persisted in her innocence. Before she died, however, she told Warden Lewis Lawes:

"I did not tell those men to kill my husband for his insurance money of $5,000. I could have killed him a dozen times. The house was always full of dope and guns. One of these men came to me and said they were going to kill my husband, and I said:

"I do not care what happens to my husband. I care only for my three children."

After the three were dead Governor Lehman issued a statement. He had studied the case most thoroughly, he said. He had hoped something would be found that would give him reason to spare her life. Nothing was found. Court after court had turned down her appeals. The evidence had been sufficient to lead a jury to convict her.

Salvatore Antonio was murdered April 15, 1932.

Recent Bride Is Honored At Social

MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 10.—(Examiner Correspondence). — On Tuesday evening, August 7, about forty members of the United Church of Mount Pleasant gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiriam Best in honor of their daughter, Grace, who recently became the bride of Tom Laidley, of Omemee.

During the evening the young couple were presented with a beautiful occasional chair and a walnut sewing cabinet. The presentation was made by Miss Dorothy Morden and Gordon Fee, and the address was read by Mrs. N. Fee.

Mrs. Laidley called on her father, Mr. Best, to speak a few words of appreciation for her, after which Mr. Laidley, on behalf of his wife and himself, thanked all for their thoughtful gift. Following the presentation a short program, consisting of the following was given:

Song, "The Little Mouse," Florence Lawson; reading, Mr. T. Graham; solo, Miss June Shield; duet, Lois and Pearl Windrem; mouth-organ solo, Tom Best; reading, "The Knothole in the Fence," Mrs. Thos. Graham; solo, Mrs. Lawson; reading, "Driving from the Rear," Miss Ruth Tully; mouthorgan and piano, Mr. and Mrs. Shield.

Mr. Chester Best, the capable chairman, then called on several of the gentlemen for stump speeches, which were much enjoyed. After the program Miss Ruth Tully conducted a very appropriate contest, "A Flower Romance," which caused much merriment. Refreshments then brought a happy evening to a close.

DOURO FARMER SUFFERS LOSS

Barn on Farm of John J. Leahy is Completely Destroyed by Fire.

PARTIALLY INSURED.

WARSAW, Aug. 10.— (Examiner Correspondence.) — John J. Leahy, of the Sixth Line, Douro, suffered heavy property loss last night, when the barn on his farm, together with parts of its contents was completely destroyed by fire. Mr. Leahy together with the help of some of the neighbors managed to get the livestock out of the building but the hay, wheat and barley crops were lost, also some machinery.

The fire started shortly after darkness set in and although a bucket brigade was quickly formed, the flames had too great a hold. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Plan Field Day For Bridge Opening

MARMORA, Aug. 10. (Examiner Correspondence). — Original plans for a dance on the new cement bridge on Aug. 22nd under auspices of Marmora Agricultural Society have been changed to that of a Field Day and Street Dance. At the former, the Marmora baseball team will play an exhibition game with C.G.I. of Peterborough and a softball tournament for the J. R. Cooke Cup will be played by teams representing Madoc, Springbrook and Havelock. For the dance Jack King and his Harvesters have been engaged and a high class vaudeville program will also be staged.

"I'M just as good in this Powder form!"

Yes, just as good as the well-known Bon Ami Cake! In fact, we have the exact, same ingredients—different in form simply because some women like a handy Cake while others prefer a sifter-top can of Powder.

Whichever form of Bon Ami you use, you're sure to like it. For it's the finest, safest cleanser you can buy. Fine, because it cleans so quickly and so thoroughly. Safe, because it doesn't scratch or dull the many things it cleans so well.

Buy a package today and see for yourself how much better than other cleansers Bon Ami really is.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN

Approximate prices track shipping joint—Wheat, 97c to 99c; oats 35c to 36c; barey, 50c to 53c; corn, 80c to 82c; rye, 55c to 57c; buckwheat, 60c to 62c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter and cheese prices declined, while egg and potato quotations were higher on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

No. 1 butter in cariots or less eased ¼c at 18½c to 18¾c a pound. To retailers solids were 20c and prints 21c a pound. Receipts by rail were 39 boxes.

Cheese was off ¼c at 10¼c to 10¾c a pound for No. 1 Ontario, and 9¾c to 9¾c for Quebec. A total of 2,779 boxes arrived.

Graded Ontario eggs in less than cariots moved up ½c to 1c at 22½c a dozen for A large, 21c to 22½c for A medium, 19c to 20c for B and 18½c to 19c for C. Graded Westerns in cariots were ¼c to ½c higher at 21½c for A large, 20½c for A medium, 19c to 19½c for B and 18c to 18¼c for C. Arrivals were 868 cases.

New Quebec potatoes advanced 5c at 55c to 60c per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Despite enormous profit-taking sales, all grain values made feverish advances yesterday following announcement that President Roosevelt had ordered the nationalization of United States silver.

The greater relative strength displayed by corn was ascribed to general belief that the Government August crop report due today would show sensational new shrinkage in official estimates of 1935 corn yield.

Wheat closed flurried at almost the day's highest love, 1⅛c to 1⅛c above Wednesday's finish; corn, 3¾c to 3¾c up; oats, 1¾c to 2¼c advance; and provisions showing 17c to 32c gain.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Narrow and nervous, but displaying great powers of recovery, wheat prices yesterday ended at the highest closing figures in more than a year. Nationalization of silver in United States was the main bullish factor and accounted for net gains of ⅞ to 1⅛ cent.

After touching a new 1934 high, May wheat closed at 99⅞c to $1.00 while October and December options closed at their top levels of 94½c ad 96¼c respectively

Export sales of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was figured in the advance, and one generally authentic course reported a full cargo of Canadian wheat had been sold to South Africa.

Prices started strong, lost ground on Chicago's weakness and then made the new high levels on the silver developments. Profit-taking sales erased the gain, but before the close a late rally carried the market again to the top.

Liverpool wheat made a strong start, but eased on the forecast of 5,780,000 bushels of wheat being exported from Argentina this week. Buenos AiBres prices were firm and Chicago showed substantial gains.

Good demand continued for top grades of cash grains and course grains prices were strong.

KISLING DIES PRINCE ALBERT

Father of Six Children Dies on Scaffold for Murder of Young Trapper.

VISITED BY WIFE.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug 10.—(CP)—Thomas B. Kisling, 44-year - old farmer of Bruno, Sask. paid with his life on the gallows here today for the murder on June 10, 1933, of his young trapping partner, Oskar Schwab, 28. The trap was sprung at 8 a.m. M.S.T.

Kisling did not waver one moment from the time his hands were secured in his cell until the end, said nothing during the march from his cell. He previously had written messages thanking prison officers and his spiritual adviser for their kindness.

Mrs. Kisling, who reached Prince Albert last night, was permitted to see the condemned man for about five minutes. Kisling was the father of six children. He was convicted at Melfort last February. Schwab was killed in the lonely trappers cabin shared by the two men on the Saskatchewan River, 26 miles northeast of Nipawin, Sask.

JUDICIAL PARTY ARRIVES IN NORTH

All Are Ready to Start Trial of Eskimo Charged With Murder.

COPPERMINE, N.W.T., Aug. 10.—(CP)—Battling stormy weather to the shores of the Arctic Ocean, a judicial party today was ready to open the trial of Ahigiak, Eskimo charged with the murder of another native, Aniruak.

Headed by Magistrate O. W. Douglas, who presides in the North West Territories with the authority of a supreme court justice the judicial party prepared to open the trial. Aniruak is alleged to have been slain in the autumn of 1931.

There is no jail or detention cell at Coppermine, but close tab is kept by Royal Canadian Mounted Police on the activities of Ahigiak who has been allowed to live in his own Igloo. He was brought 360 miles to stand trial.

The flight from Cameron Bay was completed late yesterday after being delayed several days by storms.

Ahigiak was dressed up in his best clothes for the trial. So was his wife, who came here with him when he was arrested. They had their picture taken with the judicial party when it arrived.

HASTINGS SOCIAL SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Ladies of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Hold Annual Event.

(Examiner Correspondent)

HASTINGS, Aug. 10.—Over six hundred persons packed the lawns of Our Lady of Monte Carmel Roman Catholic church for the annual lawn social on Wednesday night.

The ladies of the congregation upheld their reputation for serving a supper when they furnished an abundance of fowl and other good things to eat. The long tables which were prettily decorated were located in the church sheds and from 5 o'clock until long after 8 were filled. Mrs. T. A. Walsh who was in charge of the supper was unable to be present on account of illness. However the ladies appointed a committee which worked out very satisfactorily.

Numerous games of chance dotted the lawns and all did a rushing business. The wheel of fortune with Rev. Father Kelley in charge assisted by Messrs P. Turcotte and J. Crowley, had a very large supply of high quality merchandise which was run off at bargain prices. The "horses" which always enjoy a big play at socials were in charge of Miss Mary Walsh and the Misses Collins. P. Doherty at the bingo booth had little difficulty in disposing of his tickets. For the marksman P. Bailey with the Mickey-Mouse target looked after their wants. The heat wave proved to be just what was needed for W. Armstrong to do a brisk business at the refreshment booth.

The pie eating contest had no less than 22 entries and it was necessary to divide them up into three heats which were won by Jimmie Smith, Jack Walsh and Albert Scriver. Philip Simpson captured the doughnut eating contest.

The all day sucker proved to be the closest event when the Simpson brother, George and Lloyd were tied, both received a prize.

On Monday night the draw for the special prizes will be made. Also the balance of the goods will be run off on the wheel of fortune and there will be special races for the kiddies.

Rev. Father Kelley who has worked tirelessly to make the social such a marked success was quite pleased with the financial returns. An orchestra from Peterborough delighted the large crowd with their selections, also their instrumentals and vocal selections.

Preacher Confident Faith Will Save Him Near Death of Snake Bite, Refusing Aid

SYLVA, N.C., Aug. 10. (AP).—This little mountain town watched with amusement to-day as Albert Tester, 39-year-old Holiness preacher, neared death's brink still adamant against medical treatment for rattlesnake bites received when he sought to demonstrate to his flock how the "faithful are immune."

The mountain preacher had often claimed he could handle fire or undergo other human tortures without injury because of his faith. Sunday night he stood in his pulpit, held aloft a rattlesnake and called upon the congregation to witness the reptile could not hurt him.

Twice the snake's head flashed. Twice its fangs sank into Tester's arms. His faith had been strong, but fear, for the moment at least, was stronger. He leaped from the pulpit, ran to the church yard and rolled, agonized, in the grass.

A friend offered corn whisky—time-honored snakebite antidote of the mountaineer — but Tester would have none of it.

"Whisky only makes the snake madder and the poison will sink deeper," he cried. "I am a disciple of God. He will take care of it."

His composure returned, but he had to be carried to his cabin near here. No doctor would he have, no medicine.

Weddings

DION—CAVANAGH.

The wedding of Julia Hazel Cavanagh, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cavanagh of 614 Reid street, and Mr. Francis Joseph Dion, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dion of Flinton, Ontario, was solemnized on Wednesday at St. Peter's Cathedral by the Rev. J. V. McAuley of Ennismore.

The bride, who was daintily attired in a gown of white silk crepe trimmed with lace net, and a lace net veil trimmed with orange blossoms, carried a white muff and a bouquet of American Beauty roses, lily of the valley and maidenhair fern. She was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Loretta Cavanagh, as bridesmaid, and her cousin, little Marcella Crough, as flower girl.

Mr. William Cavanagh was best man and ushers were Messrs. Malcolm and Emmett Cavanagh, all brothers of the bride.

The bridesmaid was in pink stiffened chiffon with wide brimmed pink hat. She carried a pink muff and bouquet of American Beauty roses and sweet peas.

The flower girl's frock of yellow organdie was worn with matching hat and she carried a basket of snapdragon and sweet peas.

The wedding music was played by Miss Veronia Scollard, A.T.C.M.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, with pink and white decorations of the rooms. Nearly fifty guests were present.

The bride and bridegroom are spending their honeymoon in Detroit, Chicago and Niagara Falls. On their return, they will live at Tweed.

The bride travelled in an ensemble of blue romain, trimmed with lace, and matching hat, shoes and accesories.

The gift of the bridegroom to his bride was a diamond pendant, to the bridesmaid a marquisette pendant, to the flower girl a silver mesh bag and to the groomsman a silver cigarette lighter.

WELLS.—In loving memory of William Thomas Wells, who passed away one year ago to-day:

The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought the end was near,

That lies within our hearts concealed.

Estimate Bones Centuries Old

DUBLIN, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Head and antlers of a giant Irish elk, dug up in Ballybetagh Bog near Dublin have been placed in the Free State National Museum.

Professor Knud Jessen and H. Jonassen of the botany section of Copenhagen University who are studying Irish peat strata, made the discovery and museum authorities here estimate that the elk lived between 20,000 B.C. and 40,000 B.C. Near the bones were the remains of an Arctic fox or hare also buried since the Ice Age.

3 YEARS HANDED TO ORVAL SHAW

Arner Blacksmith of Skunks Misery Fame, Convicted for Theft.

CAUGHT WITH GOODS.

CHATHAM, Ont., Aug. 10 (C.P.)—Orval Shaw of Skunk's Misery fame and for some time past a "village blacksmith," at Arner, was sentenced to three years in the Kingston Penitentiary here to-day by Magistrate Arnold, following his conviction of three charges of breaking and entering and theft. In addition Shaw pleaded guilty to five charges of "being in possession of stolen goods knowing the same to have been stolen."

Shaw was placed under arrest by the provincial police at Arner on July 18. A search of his shop and home, revealed goods subsequently identified by owners to have been stolen.

One of the places alleged to have been visited by Shaw was C. W. Reynold's blacksmith shop at Highgate.

As a result of Reynold's visit to the Arner shop to have some work done during which time the Highgate man noticed tools similar to those missing from his own shop and a subsequent search of the premises and the home by provincial police, three charges were preferred of breaking and entering and theft from the Reynold's shop.

Where 100 Died In Religious Riots

Senegalese troops, aided by martial law, are attempting to prevent a repetition of the religious massacre at Constantine, Algeria, in which 100 persons were killed and more than 300 wounded as Jews and Arabs fought in the streets. Crying "Death to Jews" the Arabs swarmed into the Jewish quarters, reopening the feud of long standing, following the beating of a Jewish soldier after he allegedly desecrated a mosque. Above, the bridge and gate to Constantine; below, the Arab quarter.

AUXILIARY MEETS IN HATHERLY HOME

Millbrook Girl Wins Second in Durham Garden Contest.

MILLBROOK, Aug. 10.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. Irwin Hatherly was hostess for the August meeting of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of St. Andrew's church, the largely attended gathering being at her home, east of the village, on Wednesday at 3 p.m. The vice-president, Mrs. J. McKnight, occupied the chair, and Mrs. F. J. Smith took the devotional topic, "The Resurrection", with appropriate scripture lesson.

A responsive service, based on Psalm 10, gave opportunity for all to take part, and in the business session, Mrs. (Rev.) A. L. Slote was elected president by unanimous vote. The sectional rally at Springville in mid-September was announced, also the School for Missions and Leaders at the O.L.C., Whitby, August 27-30 which anyone interested may attend. The Supply Secretary, Mrs. J. Spence, announced the allocation for the annual sale, one quilt, one woollen sweater, underwear for children, two scarves and two pairs children's mitts or stockings, and good, second-hand clothing. The sale must be shipped as soon after September 1 as possible.

The treasurer, Miss M. E. Hetherington, reported total raised to the end of July $131.69, with $120 remitted to the Presbyterial treasurer. The president suggested that all members save their coppers for the ensuing month and bring them into the September meeting, as one way of augmenting that funds; sixteen small coppers make one foot, and the length of coppers brought in will be counted. Group E, Mrs. A. J. Brown, convenor, will take the October gathering.

Mrs. Hatherly, convenor of Group H, took the chair for the program, which included an interesting study of "Our Missionaries on Holiday", those assisting being Mrs. Sisco, Mrs. Muspratt, Mrs. W. A. O'Brian, Mrs. J. H. Might, Mrs. Eric Hunter, Margaret Smith, and Mrs. L. W. Smith. A duet, "Jesus Loves Me" by Mary Muspratt and Evans Hatherly, with Dorothy Smith at the piano was much enjoyed, as was also the violin solo by Kathleen Smith, her sister, Margaret, accompanying.

The hostess, assisted by her committee, served dainty refreshments at the close.

Wins Second Place

Kathleen Davis has received word from Mrs. A. E. Summer, Agricultural Representative, that in the East Durham Garden and Canning Club, for girls, she has attained second highest standing, the girl coming first only exceeding Kathleen by one-half point.

Quoting from Mr. Summers' letter: "Under the heading, 'Freedom from weeds, disease and insects,' add two and one-half points, bringing your total up to 94½. You will be interested to know that there is only one garden out of the whole twenty-six that scored higher than yours; it was scored at 98 points. Had the grass not shown in your carrots, your garden score would have been the highest. In the other garden I was unable to find a weed."

The girls entered the garden contest can the vegetables grown and these are judged later.

The local branch of the Women's Institute sponsored the entry of girls in this vicinity in the Garden and Canning Club competition.

Fence Jumping Has To Cease Says Board

Effective measures are contemplated by Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board to curb the common practice of "fence jumping" at the grounds during fair week.

That the practice of "fence jumping" is not confined to young boys, but is freely practised by other persons of adult years, was a point stressed during discussion of the subject at a meeting of the Fair Board last evening.

The board warned that the practice which is causing considerable financial loss on gate receipts and through property damage has got to be stopped this year, and offenders are to be strongly dealt with.

The matter of policing the grounds was left in the hands of the managing director of the board to employ Inspector James Reid, and for the inspector to secure a sufficient number of special policemen to deal effectively with the problem that "fence jumpers" present.

With these frank denials to questioning reports who met him as his train pulled in here, Mr. Stevens moved along the station platform to be greeted by a number of prominent Conservatives and many personal friends.

"The one thing I'm absolutely solely concerned with now," declared the Minister, "is to complete the hearings and report of the price spreads and mass buying committee. This is the immediate task in hand, to which I will devote my energy until its successful completion.

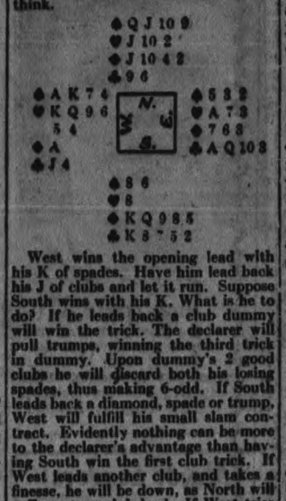
CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

Can East Make a Small Slam?

"Dear Mr. Shepard: My partner played this hand at 6-hearts doubled. He went down a trick. He has bet me 5 to 1 that no expert in his place could have fulfilled the contract. The opening lead was the Q of spades. Please settle this bet for us." Certainly the contract is an ambitious one. Five to one are stiff odds. West should feel rather certain of his ground to offer them. Look it over. See what you think.



West wins the opening lead with his K of spades. Have him lead back his J of clubs and let it run. Suppose South wins with his K. What is he to do? If he leads back a club dummy will win the trick. The declarer will pull trumps, winning the third trick in dummy. Upon dummy's 2 good clubs he will discard both his losing spades, thus making 6-odd. If South leads back a diamond, spade or trump, West will fulfill his small slam contract. Evidently nothing can be more to the declarer's advantage than having South win the first club trick. If West leads another club, and takes a finesse, he will be down, as North will ruff a return club lead. If West tries to shut out North, by ruffing high, that player must later on win a trump trick.

Have West stop leading clubs at present. Have him lead his K of trumps, to prevent South from ruffing the later spade lead. For the fourth trick have West lay down his ace of spades, then give North a spade trick—the first trick for his side. What will you have North lead back? If he leads a spade, dummy will ruff with the 7, then lead the ace of trumps. The declarer will gain entry to his hand by leading a diamond. After that he will pull North's last trump. When ready West will win his twelfth trick with dummy's ace of clubs, thus fulfilling his small slam contract.

If North leads a heart, instead of a spade, dummy will win the trick with the ace. Declarer will enter his own hand by leading a diamond. Dummy will ruff declarer's fourth and last spade. The declarer will ruff a diamond and pull the last opposing trump. Again his tactics will give a small slam.

Instead of leading back either a spade or a trump, North may lead a diamond or a club, but the results will be the same in either case. The small slam is always there for West. All he has to do is to see it, and play for it. But his first lead must be the J of clubs, followed by a trump, if South refuses to win the first club trick.

WOMAN MAY OPERATE ON PRAJADHIPOK'S EYE

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP)—A San Diego woman doctor, May Turner Riach, may perform a delicate opertaion in an effort to save the failing eyesight of King Prajadhipok of Siam, she disclosed today.

Dr. Riach, through her secretary, said she had been consulted on the operation and that it may be performed as soon as the monarch is able to travel to the United States.

Dr. Riach is a former student and protege of Dr. John W. Wheeler, and was the only woman to serve as interne in the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. She is a resident of suburban Chula Vista, where she moved five years ago with her husband, Col. William Riach, British eye surgeon, to whom she was married in Egypt.

Dr. Wheeler several years ago performed the first operation to remove a cataract from the eye of the Siamese ruler.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The wear and tear which results from a last minute rush is all too familiar to the many who are in business or professional life, and do not have a retinue of servants. If there were any insurance against this situation, how many would welcome it, if not with dollars, at least with effort. In the measures described today the latter alone is needed.

* * * * * * *

The prescribed remedies are largely those of timing. In life as in the world of mechanical things, timing is of the utmost importance to smooth running. Some of us have had experience with the vicissitudes of faulty "timing chains" in the driving of cars. If not correctly adjusted the motor gets overheated, may refuse to go and gives no end of trouble.

* * * * * * *

To have the machinery of our lives be well ordered and smooth running, there are certain well tried rules. Those of us who are busiest will have to do the most "thinking ahead" to be prepared for events and seasons which have a way of seeming to arrive unannounced. Persons who have help in the house must, of course, do this also to a considerable extent, but not nearly as intensively as those who are without assistance.

* * * * * * *

Whether the point to be considered is that of emergency-shelf in the pantry which the hostess needs for unannounced guests, whether it is the matter of wardrobe for the girl whose popularity consists, in part, of her always being ready for an outing without long notice, or whether it is the matter of promptness to an interview at which a woman in business must appear, well attired and unhurried, the matter is of more than casual importance. The way to achieve the ideal condition is to anticipate ones needs as far as possible in advance, and to have all possible preparation made which one's time and mental foresight can permit.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Returning from the American Medical association convention in Cleveland, I passed through Chicago and revisited the Century of Progress.

There are two medical exhibits—one in the Hall of Science, the other where the Midway used to be. The second one is Ripley's Believe It or Not Odditorium.

Four doctors with me wandered around trying to explain the physiology of the freaks we saw at Ripley's. We did not make very much more headway than so many laymen would.

One of us tried to explain the man who sewed his socks to his skin and stuck needles into his cheek and drove a nail into his nose, on the basis of a disease called "syringeomyelia". But it was pointed out that syringomyelia does not affect the nerves of the face, and that this fellow stuck most of his needles into the cheek. So we decided the explanation was just that he could take it.

"All you can say about the man who could turn his head around so that his face was looking straight at you over his back, was that he had a very flexible set of ligaments around his axis.

We figured that the fellow who drank thirty glasses of water in about two minutes, and then became a living fountain by opening his mouth and spurting the water all out again without any apparent effort, was an example of cardiospasm. This means that the water never entered his stomach. He could control the muscle which separated his gullet from his stomach, and the water accumulated in the esophagus, and by acquiring voluntary control over his esophageal muscles, he could spurt it out again.

But the man who could suck in his abdominal muscles so he looked like a mummy, really had us all buffaloed. Does he have a diaphragmatic hernia? In other words, an opening through his diaphragm which allows the organs of the abdomen to enter?

At any rate, if you go to the Century of Progress do not miss Ripley. I am not sure that it is educational, as the barkers say, but he certainly has added to the amusement and gaiety of the nations in our generation.

Turn to seafoods for a dinner menu. Here is a simple one that the family or guests will enjoy.

Today's Recipes

Deviled Crabs—One pound cooked crab meat, four tablespoons butter, five tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups milk, one-half cup cream, salt, pepper, paprika, one teaspoon lemon juice, one cup buttered crumbs, 12 crab shells. Look over crab meat. Melt butter, add flour and when blended add milk and cream slowly. Stir constantly and let boil one minute. Season. Add lemon juice and crab meat. Fill crab shell with above mixture, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees Fahrenheit, until golden brown.

Lobster Newburg—Two tablespoons butter, salt, pepper, paprika, nutmeg, one cup cooked lobster meat, diced, two tablespoons salted sherry flavoring, two egg yolks, beaten, one-half cup cream. Melt butter in double boiler; add lobster and cook three minutes, stirring constantly. Add seasonings and sherry and cook one minute. Mix the egg yolks and cream. Remove from fire, add cream and eggs and beat until smooth. Return to fire and cook until mixture just begins to thicken, about one minute. Remove from heat at once and serve on toast.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

C. J. R.: "I would like to know if food cooked in aluminum cooking utensils will give you cancer or poison?"

Answer: No. This question comes up every so often, and it appears to be very difficult to lay the ghost of the superstitution upon which it is founded.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

DURHAM CORN STARCH

By GLADYS GLAD

TOBY'S BACK IS LOVELY, SO TRY HER EXERCISES

The charming Toby Wing, who is considered Hollywood's perfect chorus girl, has a very beautiful back. Toby doesn't mind exposing her back, either. Her sports frocks during torrid weather are usually backless. Her bathing suits all have suntan backs, too. And her summery evening gowns are usually cut daringly low.

However, no one can blame Toby for giving her back plenty of exposure. For any lass with as beautiful a back as Toby's certainly deserves to let it receive the admiration that is due it. Unfortunately, however, there are a good many damsels who sport backless frocks and bathing suits during the summertime without giving the condition of their backs a single thought. And as I told you yesterday, that's a very foolish thing to do. For an unlovely back is bound to detract from any girl's charm.

In the first place, the girl who wants to go in for backless styles should make sure that her back is shapely. Those thick, heavy rolls of fat that adorn some women's backs certainly are unattractive. And scrawny, bony backs are just as ugly. To be considered shapely, the back must be softly contoured.

It is possible to acquire such a back, however, by proper exercising. Toby has a couple that she particularly advises for this purpose. And I consider them excellent, too. They are:

Lie on the floor on your back with legs straight and arms stretched overhead. Swing the arms forward in a great arc, and raise the body to a sitting position. Keeping your feet on the floor as you raise yourself, bend your body forward till your fingertips touch your toes. Then return to first position.

Stand erect, arms extended sideward, upward and back, describing circles in the air with your fingertips.

Stand erect, arms at sides. Swing arms up past the ears and clasp the hands overhead. Then swing the arms apart, describing wide arcs downward through the air, and clasp the hands together again in back of the body.

Greatest Values Ever This August

Especially is This So in Furniture and House Furnishings—Opportunities to Save.

In all lines of business there are certain months in the year when merchants offer such temptingly low prices on their regular stock that their sales during those specific months are eagerly looked forward to by seekers of exceptional bargains. With dealers in furniture and house furnishings August is the best month in the year for unloading on a big scale, and the yearly August Furniture Sale of the Home Furnishing Co. is accepted by lovers of fine furniture as a fixed institution at which the biggest bargains of the whole year are offered and quickly snapped up.

All Records Broken

For 26 years the Home Furnishing Co., 204-206 Charlotte street, have never missed an August Sale, and this year they opened their great August selling event with opportunities to save that break all previous low price-smashing records. And a feature of this sale is, that the startlingly generous price marking down is on this beautiful store's "regular lines" of "better" Canadian furniture and NOT on inferior merchandise brought in for sale purposes.

August is the month when housewives look forward to a change in living needs, and prepare for indoor comfort by adding to and replenishing their home furnishing. It is to meet this annual Fall renovation that August Sales are implemented, and that of the Home Furnishing Co.—now in full swing—invites its regular and prospective patrons to share in savings that are colossal.

Amazingly Generous

A reference to the Home Furnishing Co.'s large ad in last Friday's Examiner will reveal bargains that are amazingly generous—yes, price reductions that are proving a merchandising sensation.

WOMEN STAND MONOTONY FAR BETTER THAN MEN

LONDON, Eng., Aug. 10. (C.P.) Women can adapt themselves to monotonous work with far greater success than men, Dr. Sibyl Horner, home office medical inspector of factories, has concluded in her annual report. Dr. Horner remarked that women alone of the industrial groups can bring themselves to the daily performance of monotonous work without losing their interest in life.

Dr. Horner said the effect of industrial life on the 2,000,000 women and girls employed in it in Great Britain is "good and getting better." But such work, she commented, causes girls to age quickly. Physical attractiveness is early attained and quickly lost.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

THE KING'S PARK Jockey club who tried twilight racing for twelve days out of their recent fourteen day meeting have decided it was not a successful venture. They counted on a larger attendance than could come in the afternoons but the opposite was the result. So for the present at least twilight racing is all washed up as far as Canadian tracks are concerned. This winds up the Montreal racing season unless they are successful in their plea for permission to use the Dorval charter for another fourteen day meeting at Blue Bonnets.

Charlie Rolls leads the riders by a wide margin at the Quebec metropolis and it is too bad that he is in the bad graces of the C.R.A. as we could use a boy of his experience and ability on all our tracks. But maybe he can get matters adjusted before the fall season at Toronto opens up . . . . Tom Clarke made a great hit as a starter and will be right on edge for the coming Long Branch and Dufferin autumn meetings.

HAMILTON is still going strong with the attendance and wagering keeping up wonderfully well. Eddie Seagram lost the good sprinter Lady Hockberger via the claiming route to the Erindale stable. Nick Wall, the Seagram stable contract rider who was seriously injured over a month ago at the first Hamilton meeting is progressing favorably but it will be some time yet before he will be able to don silks again. Conflagration is up at Hamilton and if ever a horse was due to win a race it is him. He has been finishing well up in the money all season but his winning efforts have been as scarce as hen's teeth.

Altcheh finished third in a mile race over the turf on Tuesday and the next time they will probably put him in his proper distance which is six furlongs and then watch for fireworks. Pewter Crest is another at the same place that will bear watching from now on, when he is in with Canadian breds . . . . Over at Detroit there is a steed called On Leave who is said to be all primed for a win in a distance event. He possesses a lot of class and is quite capable of holding his own with any in the plater ranks. At the same track is one called The Crane and his connections figure he will just walk his beat any day now.

Wins Mound Duel Against Walter Beck Before Large Attendance of Spectators.

CLOSE VICTORIES.

(By Associated Press).

Always known as a 'hitters loop' the International League apparently has set out to prove that its pitchers aren't so bad either.

All eight clubs swung into action yesterday and when the firing was over only 26 runs had been scored and every contest had been decided by a margin of one run. That may not have set a league record for low run-production for a full schedule but it certainly came close to it.

Newark Bears, still 5½ games in front of the pack, dropped a 3-2 decision to Buffalo Bisons but lost no ground because the second place Rochester Redwings succumbed to Baltimore 6-5.

Earns His 9th Win.

Fabian Kowalik allowed the league leaders 10 hits but was tight in the pinches and earned his ninth victory of the campaign. He also contributed three singles to his own cause and drove in the winning run in the eighth. The victory enabled Buffalo to cut Montreal's lead, in fifth place, to one game.

Geo. Darrow's five-hit pitching and Woodley Abernathy's 25th homer helped Baltimore to down Rochester in the last meeting between the two clubs this year. The victory was the Orioles' sixth in 22 encounters with the Wings. The game was finished under protest by Rochester. Manager George Toporcer disputed Umpire Parker's decision in the seventh when Parker called Darrow safe at first after the Baltimore pitcher had walked away from the bag.

Toronto finally found the winning combination against Albany checking in witih a 2-1 victory in a duel between Walter Beck and Al. Hollingsworth. The latter gave the Senators only five hits, Hal Finney's double driving in the only run in the fourth when the Leafs scored their two counters. The victory came after Toronto had dropped four in a row to the Senators and enabled the leafs to stretch their lead, in the third place, over Albany to three games.

Zach Taylor's single in the ninth drove in the run that gave Syracuse a 4-3 decision over Montreal.

Old Time Rivalry In Saturday Game

C.O.B.I. standing to date:

Teams:	P.	W.	L.	T.
Belleville	19	11	6	2
Petes	18	10	7	1
Oshawa	16	6	10	0
Kingston	17	6	10	1

The Petes, playing their third game of the week tomorrow at three in Riverside, hope to make it a clean sweep within seven days. They have won twice and will be after Kingston's scalp Saturday again. As the schedule has only three weeks to go now, and every game is of the utmost importance, a huge crowd is looked for at this fixture. It will be Kingston's final appearance of the season here, unless the Ponies hit a winning streak and make the playoffs, and the Petes also cinch a berth.

All the old Kingston-Peter' rivalry may be looked for in this tilt. Jamieson or Gallagher will likely hurl for the Ponies, with Deyell and Kitchen local possibilities. It should be another grand old C.O.B.I. contest.

HEAVY HITTING FEATURES FIRST SOFTBALL FINAL

Tiremen Outhit Waifs 17-15 But Fail to Get Run to Break Deadlock Across.

SEE-SAW STRUGGLE.

Orphans and Johnston's Tires battled to a 16-all draw at Central last night in the first game of the men's softball finals. It was called at the end of the eighth owing to darkness. A huge crowd saw a see-saw struggle, with good and bad softball mixed up and heavy hitting by both teams. Johnston's tied it up with two markers in the last of the seventh and neither team could push over the winner in the eighth. The game will be replayed tonight at six in Central.

Shine started for Orphans but was hit hard from the start. Bothered with a sore leg, he left in the second, and Hefferman hurled fair ball till Martin took over the job to retire the opposition in order in the last frame. Parsons went fairly good on the Deckmen's mound till the fourth. Elliott went in to start the fifth and, aside from a bad sixth canto, twirled nice ball. The batters had an edge on all the flingers, while the fielding wasn't so hot on either side.

Cadd and Miller led the Harrison team at bat with three hits each in five times at the plate. Shine got a homer, and Board and Hope doubles. For the Johnston squad, Dorrington led with a triple, double and two singles in six. McQuade and Crary got three bingles apiece, the latter's including two doubles, and McQuade hitting a homer. Nice catches were pulled off by McQuade and Weese.

GIANTS BACK SCHUMACHER, BEAT DODGERS

Young New York Right-hander Garners His Eighteenth Victory in Easy Fashion.

ONE GAME PLAYED.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Giants hit every day the way they so often do when Hal Schumacher is pitching for them, they probably would have the National League pennant all folded up and ready to stow away in the clubhouse by now.

Schumacher, second only to Dizzy Dean among the league's pitchers, was credited with 18 victories against five defeats today, chalking up his 18th yesterday, when the Giants belted out a 16-5 decision over Brooklyn Dodgers. And in those 18 victorious games, his club mates have backed him up with a total of 215 hits, averaging nearly 12 each time. Even when he could not win they did almost as well for him. Those figures are somewhat better than their season's average of 10 blows a game for 107 contests.

The big right hander from Dolgeville, N.Y., did pretty well by himself yesterday, giving the Dodgers only six hits, including a pair of homers by Len Koenecke, but the team's hitting was the real feature of the contest. They connected 15 times against Ray Benege, Watson Clark and Owen Carroll and didn't waste a hit. Every blow counted in the scoring as they batted around twice in the first two innings to score seven times, added three more runs in the sixth and six in the eighth when Travis Jackson tripled and George Watkins hit for the circuit, each wallop coming with two on base.

Increases Giants' Lead

The triumph increased New York's lead to three full games over the second-place Cubs as Chicago's game with Pittsburgh was rained out. The other National League clubs enjoyed an open date.

Games Highlights

THE MAIN BODY of Canada's British Empire Games team left to-day for Liverpool from where they will sail for home aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Montcalm. The boxers, who do not finish their work until to-night, and the girl athletes taking part in the World Games were left behind.

"We all had a good time and are sorry to leave," said M. M. Robinson, team manager. "We are only sorry the athletes didn't have a better chance to see London, but they were too wrapped up in training."

TWELVE WOMEN swimmers, including Phyllis Dewer of Moose Jaw, Sask., 100 and 440 yards free style champion, and Judith Moss, Winnipeg's Empire springboard diving titlist, were invited to tour Scotland with all expenses paid, but officials did not wish to split the team and turned down the offer.

* * *

FRANK SAXON, manager of the wrestling team that won three of seven titles, thought Ted McKinley of Toronto should not have had a fall called against him in his bout with Melrose of Scotland.

"The officials were fair until they called that fast fall on McKinley," said the manager. The Canadian was on the verge of winning when he fell over backwards and his shoulders accidentally touched the mat together.

THE FACT Howie Thomas hit his head on a railing outside the ring cost the Montreal lightweight veteran his title, Saxon thought. Howie's Australian opponent also struck his head but after a five-minute rest he appeared less tired than Thomas and won the decision in a hectic bout.

THE WOMEN'S World Games at White City Stadium seemed destined to bring together two of the world's greatest sprinters in the 100 and 200 metres events. They are Stella Walsh of Poland, the Olympic champion, and Elsie Hiscock of England, the British Empire titleholder.

If there is any sprinter in the world capable of beating the great Stella, British experts believe it is Elsie, who ran an amazing 220 yards in the Empire Games. Her time was 25 seconds. Both are expected to reach the finals in the two sprints.

* * *

EILEEN MEAGHER of Halifax, who gave Miss Hiscock a terrific battle in the Empire furlong final, also was expected to qualify for the final. They will have to shave records to beat the flyer from the Canadian Maritimes.

N.Y. Jewish Star?

Phil Weintraub, hard-hitting outfielder of the Nashville, Vols, Southern association club, is the latest hope of the New York Giants in their quest for a Jewish baseball star, to please Gotham's great Hebrew population. The Giants have tried a number of other Jewish ball players before, none proving to have the necessary stuff. The late John McGraw tried Moses Solomon, an outfielder, in 1925. Later, Pitcher Jack Levy and Infielder Andy Cohen were taken on but did not last long.

DETROIT ALSO ADDS TO LEAD WITH 13-2 WIN

Manager Cochrane Leads Tigers' Attack on St. Louis Hurling.

SOX TROUNCE MACKS.

Two American League contests completed a day of one-sided games which saw Detroit Tigers follow the Giants' example in increasing their lead to three games. Following the 16-5 Giant score came the Boston Red Sox' 15-3 triumph over the Athletics, which was accomplished in five innings and the 13-2 beating the Tigers administered to the Browns.

The Red Hose belabored Merrit ("Sugar") and Cain and Alton Benton for nine runs in the third and got to Ed Lagger for five more in the fifth. The A's put together their two hits off Johnny Welch, a single by Ed Coleman and a homer by Frank Hayes, just before rain ended the game after the fifth.

The Tigers put on a slugging performance that in some ways surpassed the Giants' feat as they won their ninth successive game to a new mark for the big league season. They belted Buck Newsom, who stayed in and took his punishment all the way, for 20 hits, winning the game with a six run outburst in the sixth. Tommy Bridges coasted through to his 16th victory of the season.

The nine-game streak surpassed the best previous marks of the season, eight straight by the Yankees and the Cubs. Chicago's streak was interrupted by a tie game.

Rain was as costly to the Yankees as it was to the Cubs, putting them a half game further behind Detroit when their game with Washington was postponed. Chicago and Cleveland had no game scheduled.

WESTCLOX WINS 16 TO 6 VICTORY

Mary Hall Holds Sixth Line to Six Hits in Good Mound Display.

Westclox made their first appearance since the holidays at the Bowl last night and won handily from the Sixth Line girls, 16 to 6, for their forth straight victory in the second half of the City and District Loop.

Mary Hall held the visitors to six hits, four of which came in the sixth innings when the Liners nabbed three counters. She fanned two and passed two. Alberta Would hurled five and a half frames for the losers when she retired in favor of Agnes Weir who finished the game. The former was hit freely, and her teammates gave her poor support. Weir who tossed them in for half an innings was no mystery to the Clockmakers.

Mary Hall and Grace Hawkes both hammered out home runs for the winners, while Gladys Mortimer singled in three trips out of five. Lil Bowie and K. Nelson led the Sixth Line at bat, the former getting a double and single in four tries.

The teams:

OLD MAN DEPRESSION TAKES RAP FOR U. S. TENNIS DEFEAT

Wailing and Gnashing of Teeth in New York, the Aftermath of Britain's Sweeping Victories in Davis Cup Matches—Outlook Black.

By L. S. B. SHAPIRO
Central Press Canadian Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Squawks and excuses are old stories in sports circles, but New York has thought up a new twist to the old story. It all developed out of the general mourning here when Messrs. Frank Shields and Sidney Wood went down to defeat before England in the Davis Cup final.

There is nothing easier than to "blame it on the depression." Whether it be your wife's grouchiness, or your child's inability to get by the second grade after three tries, or your favorite putter's ability to do everything but deposit the white ball in the cup, the depression may be used as a fine, foolproof excuse. Most of the time it means nothing and it sounds swell—which are two very necessary attributes to the perfect excuse.

The foregoing will serve as a prologue to a discussion which took place the other night in one of the many "restaurants" bordering on Madison Square Garden. Your correspondent wandered it at an early hour of the evening to find two well-known sports writers, a nationally known radio announcer, a famous foot-race promoter and several assorted boxing managers wrestling with the problem of the Davis Cup.

Your correspondent, after being warmly greeted, stood—this being one of those "restaurants" where there are no chairs—and cocked a dutiful ear, hoping to catch some inside stuff on the situation. He discovered several startling things, to wit: Frank Shields can't play tennis, he is all muscle, no head; Sidney Wood might have had a chance if he had been given encouragement by the cup committee during the last two years; George Lott is the best doubles player in the world but won't be for very long; R. Norris Williams is a good captain; and the United States hasn't a chance to regain the cup next year.

Here's the Last Word

But the most interesting angle on the situation was contributed by one of the sports writers. He reduced the entire Davis Cup situation to terms of economics.

"Take America," he stated, pounding his fist on a long narrow piece of mahogany furniture. "In the post-war years when America was having a boom while the rest of the world was recovering from war effects, we developed little Bill Johnson and big Bill Tilden. They carried on for us until 1927 and then what happened? France had then reached the prosperous stage. She was having a boom no other European country could approach, and along came Cochet, Lacoste, Borotra and Brugnon. And now what do we see? England, the first country to be emerging from the depression, develops Austin and Fred Perry. I tell you, there's no two ways about it. If it hadn't been for this little depression, Mr. Davis's cup would still be on this side of the water."

Your correspondent was about to ask the speaker to adapt his argument to Canadian tennis, but on second though he refrained. Even the depression can't explain away Canada's failure to develop one ranking international star.

Golf Rule Changes

Following are a number of changes in stroke rules in golf, as taken from the annual Royal Canadian Golf Association magazine: Rule 1—Now permits the committee to send out more than two competitors at a time in a stroke competition. Rule 6—This rule prohibits practise "on the day or days of the competition" on the putting greens. The old rule limited practice to the "day of the competition." Rule 8, Subsection 2—Formerly if a player played two consecutive strokes with the wrong ball he was disqualified. Now if a competitor play "one or more strokes" with a wrong ball he incurs a penalty of two strokes.

Rule 9—The penalty where a competitor's ball strikes himself or his caddie or his club is raised from "one" stroke to "two" strokes. Rule 13—Where a competitor on a putting green strikes the ball of his fellow-competitor the penalty is increased from "one" to "two" strokes.

Etiquette of the game: No. 3—Now requires a player not to play until the party in front is out of range; No. 4—Requires players to leave the putting green when result is determined; No. 7—Requires players to fill "all holes" in a bunker, where formerly No. 7 only required a player to fill all holes made by himself; No. 10—Requires players at all times to play without undue delay. Copies of the Rules of Golf, as approved and adopted by the Royal Canadian Golf Association, may be obtained from the secretaries of the provincial golf associations in quantity lots or individual copies may be secured from R. L. Anderson, 357 Bay St., Toronto.

Londos Is Winner In Vancouver Bout

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10 (C.P.)—Jim Londos, claimant to the world's heavyweight wrestling title, took a two-fall decision from Joe Malcewics of Utah in the main event on Thursday night's wrestling card here.

Londos was awarded a fall in the fifth round when he tossed Malcewics out of the ring and the latter failed to get back inside the ropes in the alloted time.

A body-slam and body press gave Londos the second fall and the match in the sixth.

Londos weighed 201, Malcewics, 196.

CANUCK ATHLETES SUCCESSFUL IN WINNING THREE MAT TITLES

Forced to Divide Honors With Australia, South Africa and Scotland.

GAMES NEARING END.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 10 (C.P. Cable)—The second British Empire Games were on their last legs to-day. Track and field honors were in England's hands, Canada had snatched most of the swimming glory and a major share of wrestling titles. The last of the boxing championships will be decided to-night and the bike-riders will have the spotlight Saturday.

This was an off-day, too, for White City Stadium where the women's world games opened yesterday with virtually all the outstanding feminine competitors in the Empire Games taking part. Europe's starry delegation did better than hold its own yesterday and when the games resume to-morrow German and Polish girls were expected to make it hot for the best in England, Canada and South Africa.

Canada won three of the seven wrestling titles distributed last night as against a complete clean-up in 1930. Australia, South Africa and Scotland succeeded in breaking through the Canadian defences to share four titles, Australians winning two.

Canada's winners are Terry Evans, Toronto middleweight; Joe Schleimer, Toronto welter and Bob McNab, Montreal featherweight. Two others, Pat Meehan of Edmonton, heavyweight, and Ken McKinley, Toronto, lost close decisions and came back to capture second place in their division.

Swiftest Triumph

McNab scored the swiftest triumph in the tournament when he pinned White of Scotland to the mat in the final in 20 seconds. As soon as they met in mid-ring, McNab picked up his foe and slammed him to the mat. He dropped on him and fastened him with a half-nelson.

McKinley was on his way to an almost equally quick victory in the bantam final against Melrose of Scotland. He was putting the finishing touches to a fall when he fell backwards and his shoulders touched the mat, automatically giving the helpless Melrose the title.

Fall in Boxing

Having failed to win any of the first four boxing titles decided, Canada will send out four more to-day in a final attempt to win. Eddie Heathfield, bantamweight from Drummondvilleen, Que.; Joe Marsh, Montreal lightweight; Len Wadsworth, Hamilton, middleweight and Bill Maitch of Brantford, Ont., heavyweight make up the quartet.

Scottish Trundler Wins Singles Title

MacDonald Beaten After Great Battle—Doubles Honors to Britain.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(C.P. Cable)—Robert Sprot of Scotland won the British Empire Games singles lawn bowling title yesterday by running his string of victories to eight in the round-robin tournament. The doubles title was retained by England's veterans, T. C. Hills and G. W. A. Wright.

Sprot won his only difficult match today when he defeated W. S. MacDonald of Tilsonburg, Ont., by 21 to 19. The Canadian gave the Scot a great battle all the way. It was MacDonald's second defeat, and when Sprot captured his afternoon match he was assured of victory.

MacDonald will place second if he wins his final contest tomorrow.

Hills and Wright clinched the doubles title by winning this afternoon from the strong Canadian pair, W. G. Hutchison of Toronto and A. A. Langford of London, Ont., 16 to 9. The Britons won seven straight, and they can afford to lose their only remaining match. The Canadians retain a chance to finish second or third in the standing.

The Canadian four, skipped by Hon. W. D. Euler of Kitchener, Ont. kept in the running for a place somewhere near the top by breaking even on the seventh and eighth draws. The Canadians won in the morning defeating Scotland 19-17, but succumbed in the afternoon to England, 19-13.

T. T. Watson's rink from Ireland was the only unbeaten four, but victory was not yet certain for the Irish. England has lost only one and may finish in a tie for first place if Watson's rink should lose its final match.

In The Semi-final round last night Penrose defeated Coleman 23-11 and Dyer was successful over Zeihr by 15-11. Taking the bowling all around it was a big improvement than on the first night. In the Zeihr-Dyer affair, while we think that Dyer would have won.

Soccer Notes

Gordon Stewart, clever outside left of the Deloro team will be out of the game for the season, although he is anxious to get into action but Manager Hart doesn't like to take any chances, after the spinal accident while playing baseball.

It was real sportsmanship on the part of the C. G. E. team congratulating the Deloro team when they gained the decision over them.

There is not a Scotsman in the Caledonian team but the eleven is composed mostly of local boys who have graduated mostly from local Public School League.

Archie McPhate, now of the North country, is renewing acquaintances in the city. He is playing soccer in the Northern League.

George Blowers, C. G. E., is playing cricket this season but occasionally comes out when his services is required. Perhaps, he will be out in the league game next Tuesday against the Packers. It will be a thriller. Referee Alex. McKinley.

There is in the city two men who have acted in the capacity of official referees in other parts of the country and one of them—Mr. Morgan—will be given a chance to show the fans his ability in the game scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 18th, when the Packers and Caledonians meet in a league engagement. The proceeds from this game will be handed over to a soccer player who has been sick for a long time.

There are two games scheduled for Saturday. In the afternoon, the Packers meet the Caledonians in the Peck Cup. Kick off at three o'clock. At 5.30, Lindsay and Deloro meet in return league match on King Edward Park. W. Harrington will officiate in the afternoon; and Alex. McKinley at 5.30. The game must start at this time if they desire to play 45 minutes.

The Canadian General were anxiousto get a game with Oshawa City who are holding second place in the Major league but their officials stated that they had not the finance to come to the city but would like them to go to Oshawa. They are making arrangements to go to Trenton.

Kingston Ponies make their final appearance here this year tomorrow in Riverside Park. That is, it's their last time here unless they get to work and earn a playoff berth—always provided we can keep on winning and grab one ourselves. The Petes have been hitting the high spots this week with two straight wins, and they figure strongly on making it three. Kitchen or Deyell will do the flinging, while it will likely be Jamieson for Kingston, though either St. Louis or old Lefty Gallagher may get the job. Anyway, it rates another huge crowd and there'll likely be fireworks before all the votes are in. Oshawa plays in Belleville tonight.

Johnston's Tires and Orphans opened the final playoff series in men's softball last eve at Central, before a large crowd. It wound up in a 16-all draw, and wasn't much of a battle. Both teams can and will play better before it's over. Darkness forced it to be called before the ninth frame, so it's just a tossup which crew might have won. None of the five hurlers proved any great mystery to the clouters and hits showered all over the field. Then, too, the fielding was just so-so, though some smart defensive play was shown in spots.

• • • • • •

This has all the earmarks of a grand old series, and don't lay too many shekels on either team for another day or two. Orphans have been going great guns all along, and may continue. On the other mitt, Johnston's have what it takes and with the right breaks will be tough onions to spill. This tie-game will be run off tonight at six in Central, and the teams will clash again tomorrow eve up there. As the Lindsay winner is sitting back waiting, the local series has to be hurried through, playing practically every night if it goes the limit.

The executive—most of them—of the men's loop met later last pan. in the "Y" to consider Dave Leather's resignation as secretary. At the start of the season, President Fred Scates advised them not to accept it, but stated he himself was resigning, feeling things might run more smoothly if he did. After much chatter back and forth, the meeting was unanimous in declining to accept either man's resignation, and decided to work on these two hustling officers and try to get them to reconsider.

• • • • • •

All were out for harmony and letting bygones be bygones. They admitted there had been misunderstandings in the past but felt that this should be forgotten, and good officers should not be allowed to drop out. We believe they had the right angle and both Dave and Fred should stay in there. At least till the end of the season, and then—if they insist—drop out, though there is no reason for this move at all. The league is drawing toward a successful close, and large crowds are seeing smart playoff games, so why not help pilot the ship along? Good workers and experienced officers aren't picked up by the roadside.

Westclox gals, back with that vacation tan and a lot of vigour and vim, slapped over Sixth Line without too much trouble at the Bowl last gloaming. Mary Hall held the Lang lasses to six hits and her teammates did the rest. This was the only other game of the week since Monday, and is a break for the men softballers in their playoffs. C.G.E. go to Omemee tonight, while Electrics entertain Sixth Line here Monday. Belleville damsels may play Keene here a week from to-night, though this is not definite. Port Hope Alerts have finished in first place in the Lakeshore Loop and are now awaiting the playoffs. One of the local teams might be able to arrange an exhibition tilt with them.

The return juvenile ball game between Oshawa and Terriers will take place in Riverside Park at five bells next Wednesday, a third tussle if necessary being played on neutral grounds. Terriers won the first, 7-6, and hope to take it in two straight. Winner will likely meet the Toronto winner in the semi-finals. Meantime, Terriers go to Lindsay to-night for an exhibition game with Orange Crush of that town. We don't know just what our bantams, King Edward, will do yet.

Barnyard golf—horse-shoe tossing to you—gets a play at the local Exhibition this year, said Ex. starting a week from Tuesday. The Eastern Ont. horse shoe pitching championships will be held Friday, the 24th, for Eastern Ontario singles, Eastern Ontario doubles, and Class B singles. Nifty trophy and other prizes up. All entries should be in to Art Moffatt, 169 Princess street., city, with four bits entry fee for each player in each event, no later than August 22nd. The folder sent out states" Please bring your own shoes", and we imagine this means to bring your own hoss shoes, as those in charge would hardly kick if a chap decided to pull a "Shoeless Joe Jackson" and play in his stockinged feet.

Picking 'em off the grapevine: Next Friday, Trenton meets the local junior O.A.S.A. entry here . . . . DeLaval Shop League playoffs are under way now at King Edward Park, three teams in the league all being in the playoffs . . . . No city tennis matches tomorrow as Oshawa will have players at the Peterborough Club at two o'clock tomorrow . . . . Time the entry fees for the city tournament were paid to Jack Kirkwood . . . . Committee hasn't yet named the most valuable player in the men's softball circuit, who wins the Cowan Cup for a year . . . . Don't be too surprised if Kingston shakes up its team here tomorrow and pounds out a win.

No city tournament matches will be played to-morrow as the Oshawa tennis players are here to play at the Peterborough Club. Players are reminded that their entry fee for the local tournament is overdue and is payable to Jack Kirkwood.

DIVISION OF RING CLASSES NEW YORK PROMOTERS' IDEA

In an effort to correct abuses such as set-up matches and other unfair tactics in the matching of fighters, the New York state athletic commission plans to establish classification of boxers so the fans will know whether or not a bout is between well-matched scrappers or just a warm-up.

The plans call for four classes in each weight division—A, B, C and D. A, the "major leaguers", would include the champion and all logical, in the opinion of the commission, contenders.

B and C would, of course, include all scrappers falling short of contendership. Class D is for novices and veteran fighters who are away off their peak.

The suggestion is that all fighters be subject to reclassification every three months.

The plan may not work. However, it certainly is worth trying and it is hard to see where under such a system boxing could be any worse off than it is under present chaotic conditions.

Of course, there may be times when a boxer will suffer through no fault of his own or the commission's. For instance, a first-class light heavyweight campaigning among the heavies might rate only as a class B boxer among the big boys, though he is class A in the group of his own weight. Since a fighter is allowed but one classification he would have to choose between being a class A light heavy—which would hurt him as a heavyweight attraction—or a class B heavy—which would hurt him as either a heavy or light heavy.

Risko, Loughran, Levinsky in Class A

It is interesting to see just who the New York commission considers class A mittmen.

The scarcity of good heavyweight material is apparent in the fact that such fellows as Tommy Loughran, Johnny Risko and King Levinsky are still considered in the logical contendership group.

Max Baer, Primo Carnera, Steve Hamas, Walter Neusel, Max Schmeling and Art Lasky are the rest, and even this group is none too attractive when compared with the first flight heavyweights of the past.

In the lower weights there are many boxers listed as class A who are not generally known to the pugilistic public throughout the country. These include:

Middleweights Young Stuthley, Solly Dukelsky, Gustave Roth, Kidd Tunero, Fred Henneberry; Welterweights Werther Arcelli, Cerifino Garcia; Lightweights Bobby Pacho, Jackie Wilson; Featherweights Johnny Pena, George Hansford, Victorio Tamagnini; Bantamweights Lew Ferber, Jo Tei Ken, Little Pancho, and Flyweights Valentin Angleman, Ginger Foran and Maurice Huguenin.

Recalling Baseball's Scrappy Maskmen

The recent brawl between Jimmy Wilson, scrappy manager of the Phillies, and rotund Coach Otto Miller of the Brooklyn Dodgers recalls that catchers have always been able to more or less hold their own in impromptu bouts on ball fields.

Wilson and Miller are catchers—or, rather, Wilson is and Miller was.

Old Dutch Schmidt and scrappy Eddie Ainsmith of the Tigers, Ott Smith of various National league clubs; Frank Snyder, the masked mauler of the Giants; Belting Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox—are a few catchers of the historic past who knew how to handle their dukes, and did.

Just a season or so ago, it will be remembered, Catcher Bill Dickey of the Yankees broke Outfielder Carl Reynold's jaw and cost the Washington club Carl's services for many weeks.

No, it isn't surprising that Catcher Wilson and ex-Catcher Miller began slapping each other.

However, what is positively astonishing is the subject over which the two were battling—a Brooklyn Philadelphia ball game which, as these things go these days, is a new high—or low—in unimportance.

LEO DIEGEL WINS ROCHESTER GOLF

Jittery-nerved Veteran Equals Course Record in Hagen Tourney.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Aug. 10 (A.P.)—Leo Diegel's parting shot at the Oak Hill Country Club's east course—a sizzling 66 that equalled the course record—has earned the jittery-nerved veteran first money in the Rochester Centennial-Walter Hagen Golf Tournament.

That grand finish, five strokes under par, enabled Diegel, now pro at the Philmont Country Club, Philadelphia, to wind up with a two-stroke lead over Denver's perennial runner-up, Ky Laffoon.

Art Hulburt of Toronto finished with 285, in a tie with Herman Barron of New York for seventh place. Andy Kay of Toronto carded a 295-total.

Youthful Gordon Taylor, third Torontonian to compete, led the amateur brigade with 282.

Series Is Resumed For U.S. Defender

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 10 (AP)—Three tall sloops, candidates for the nomination as defender of the America's Cup against the British challenger, T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour, resumed their rivalry to-day.

They are Yankee of Boston, skippered by Charles Francis Adams, former Navy Secretary and far out ahead as the leading contender to date; Harold S. Vanderbilt's new Rainbow, which has rather consistently followed Yankee home, and Frederick Prince's Westamoe, which throughout the past series has never been out of the Yankee's wake.

SILVER SLIPPERS BY Temple Bailey

Joan Dudley, vacationing in the Maine woods with her wealthy aunt, Adelaide Delafield, is engaged to marry Drew Hallam who is twice her age. Leaving the resort run by Penelope Sears, a widow, Joan and her aunt, Hallam and his sister, Nancy, decide to go to Granitehead. On the way they meet Rose Carter, a former sweetheart of Drew and her mother who decide to accompany them. At Granitehead there is a bookshop owned by Giles Armiger, below which is a shoemaker's shop run by Stephen Scripps. They had become fast friends in France. As a result of his war experience, Scripps was obliged to turn from law to a trade and his friend, Giles, remained close by. Arriving in Granitehead, Joan Dudley brings her slippers to Giles' shop to be mended downstairs. She recognizes him as a man she saw in a boat near Gloucester. They talk about books. After she leaves, Dilly, Giles' cousin, arrives at Scripps' shop with a birthday cake. Giles and Scripps go home following Dilly's visit. There a young woman, Amelie, reprimands Giles for being late. The next morning Drew and Nancy come into Giles' shop for Joan's slippers.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 10

Drew and his sister had started out of the shop when Nancy's eye was caught by a flash of color among certain dingy volumes in a locked cabinet. "What a delectable binding." She leaned down to look closer. "Thackeray—the Four Georges . . . such a nice fat little book, and that red and gold."

"It's a first edition," he said, and laid the book in her hands.

"How much?" she asked.

He named the price and she said, "Outrageous."

He laughed, "You know it isn't."

He found she had a nice taste in leathers, knew a lot about collections, and had made some rare finds of her own. "Picked 'em up for a song. That's the only kind I dare indulge in."

She pounced on another. "The Amber Witch . . . how adorable! May I see it?"

He got it out of the case for her. "It's not for sale."

Drew, who had been showing signs of impatience while they talked, broke in rather insolently, "You'd sell it if you got your price for it, wouldn't you?"

"It hasn't any price."

"You mean that you won't take any offer?"

"Yes."

"Why not?"

His tone was insufferable, but Giles, leaning back against a table, surveyed him with calm eyes. "I won't sell because I got the book from my grandfather's collection. He lived in Salem and pleased himself by studying the history of witchcraft. He was a gentleman and a scholar."

After he had said it, Giles hated himself. Why should he fling out the facts of his ancestry in that crude way, as if he had to prove it? He was glad when Nancy interposed, before her brother could speak. "Lucky for me The Amber Witch isn't for sale. I might pawn my jewels to get it."

She smiled at Giles, and he found himself rather liking her in spite of her storks and her lettuce-green and the too-high color in her cheeks. "My tastes run beyond the limits of my pocketbook," she added.

After that, she held the conversation, while her brother stared moodily at the floor. Giles wished they would go. He wanted to be alone to consider this matter which had seemed to be so amazingly thrust upon him.

So this was the man the dryad was going to marry! For this man the light had been in her eyes as she had bent over the book, the rose in her cheeks. This was the man with whom she had danced in the moonlight. This man with his impeccable clothes, his air of owning the world, his abominable insolence, was, heaven save the mark—Apollo!

When at last they left him, he swung his foot as he sat on a corner of the table and considered it. A school teacher with millions! And the man was marrying her for her money. Would take to himself all that lovely innocence, and give in exchange his egotism, his sophistication, his uneven tempers.

He found himself pacing the shop like a caged animal. He couldn't get the thing off his mind. That exquisite youth and idealism linked to materialistic middle-age. The thought of it was preposterous!

There was, too, the somewhat confusing conflict between what the girl had told him and the things he had overheard. He had had it from her lips that she had earned her living, yet here was her lover crediting her with a fortune.

Her lover . . .! Giles, sitting down to his desk, found it difficult to keep his mind on his accounts. There were customers, such as came in he waited on, then went back to his uncongenial task. He hated figures, but felt he could not afford a bookkeeper.

On a sudden impulse, he dropped his pen, closed the ledger, and took from a drawer a journal in which it had become his habit in his somewhat lonely life to write of the things which happened in the day.

He began without preface: "She shall not marry him. That is as settled in my mind as if I had the right, like a guardian in an old melodrama, to forbid the banns. And why shouldn't I forbid them? Why should not any man of chivalrous purpose set himself against such a catastrophe? If I saw a ship heading for the rocks, wouldn't I have a right to save it? And this child must be saved. I have met her but once, but I am as sure of what she is as I would be if I had known her forever. Everything about her speaks of simplicity and sincerity, and grace of spirit. Married to such a man, in a month she would hate him. It would be his darkness against her light. His worldliness against her innocence. She would never have the power to drag him up to her. He might have the power to drag her down.

"In finding a way to save her, I shall ask nothing for myself, except perhaps a little fire of friendship at which to warm my hands. I can ask no more than that. I would not if I could. Such an undertaking must be selfless . . .

"Scripps would call me a fool. Perhaps I am a fool. But I see no other way. Her little ship of life is heading for the rocks. I cannot stand by and see it wrecked . . ."

He put the book away and going downstairs later, Giles further relieved his mind by describing the precious pair to Scripps. "And people like that come and high-hat us . . . you and me whose grandfathers were sailing ships when theirs were digging potatoes. Oh, you should have seen them, Scripps. The kind you and I have laughed about at Trouville and Nice and Paris—the type is unmistakable. Bizarre and self-satisfied."

"I know. Amelie always hated them," Scripps' voice died away. He remembered a day at Trouville with Amelie. It had been cool and clear and she had worn a rose-colored wrap. The next night when he had gone back to the trenches he had thought of the coolness and clearness and of Amelie's face like a pearl against the rose.

He put the memory from him. "If Miss Dudley's friends had waited a moment the shoes would have been ready."

"I didn't want them to wait. I am going to take them to her. I want to see her again, Scripps."

Scripps flashed a glance at him. So that was it. Giles was thinking about that girl. He would fall in love with her. And then what would happen?

For Giles had not told his friend what he had overheard. He had not told him that Joan was engaged, or that she had money. He had in fact said nothing except that her friends had come for the slippers, and that he wondered that they could be her friends.

While the two of them talked, the telephone rang. Giles answered it and came back. "It was Margarida. She says that Amelie wants me. She has grown very excited and insistent. Thinks that something has happened to me, and that she must see me."

"You'll go, of course?"

"If I do, it means that I must close the shop."

"Well, why not?" Scripps argued, his voice shaken and almost hysterical, "why not? When you come to it, why are you selling books, Giles? Just to keep me company."

"What better can I do than sell books?"

"Oh, there are a thousand things . . . travel, adventure. If I didn't tie you, and Amelie."

They were silent for a moment, then Giles said, with gentleness, "Don't mull over things, old man. Do you think I should be happy, leaving you to bear it?"

"Oh, God help us," said Scripps brokenly, and his head went down in his hands.

Giles a little later, driving the gray boat towards the bright waters felt that only God could help them. He had a rather simple faith, held close in his heart in spite of all the things which might have made him skeptical; Amelie, Scripps, the great war. And now here was this lovely child, whom he had met once, seen twice, drifting towards a life of inevitable disillusionment. God must help . . . give strength and direction to the vague plans that were forming in his brain. As Giles reached the island and tied up his boat to the pier, the name painted on it came to him with new meaning—The Conqueror. One must fight if one meant to win . . . we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, August 11

This day's astrological forecast is for a complete reversal of the affairs with a change, upheaval or disturbance that may have a radical effect on the entire life, lifting to the pinnacle of place, power and achievement if some secret enmities as well as open hostilities and tenacious obstacles be successfully coped with. Wise judgment and good counsel from friends and able supporters in important places will make this possible, assisted by their co-operation as well as financial aid.

Those whose birthday it is seem to stand on the threshold of a radical "about face" in their lives, with change of far-reaching importance and with the vision of high goals to be attained, by vanquishing secret enmities as well as open opposition tenacious obstacles and by sound projects and good judgment enlisting the substantial support and friendly co-operation of those in places of power and authority. It should be a year of excellent opportunity to be worked for with decision and perseverance.

A child born on this day may be talented in many unusual directions and original investigations, studious but restless, with many opportunities in life.

MACDONALD IS PLANNING NEWFOUNDLAND CRUISES

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 10 (CP) —In Government House, a square rambling structure, set amid thick woods and surrounded by spacious grounds, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald and his daughter Ishbel were guests to-day of Governor Sir David Murray Anderson.

After his short sea voyage from Nova Scotia, the Premier intended to spend the day in complete rest. Later he would start out on short coastal cruises along the bold, broken coast of Newfoundland. The former revenue cutter, Daisy, recently recondition, will be placed at his disposal.

Here he hopes to rest as he did for three weeks in Nova Scotia. In September he will return to Downing Street to resume his duties as leader of the National Government.

CAMPERS HOLD 3RD FIELD DAY

G. Wilson Wins First Prize in Decorated Float Competition.

OTHER PRIZE WINNERS.

Under beautiful blue skies, and with Mother Nature doing her best the Otonabee Cottagers' Association held their third annual field day and regatta on Civic Holiday. About one hundred and seventy-five people took part and witnessed the many events.

The day opened with Homer Lundy of Park-Em-In Camp calling the decorated boats depicting many varied phases of life both pioneer and modern. G. Wilson of E. S. Camp won the first prize in this event. His float depicting a hunting scene with dog and gun and all equipment needed for hunting.

Art. Mitchell of Moose-In-Kamp won second prize; his boat depicting "Just Baby" with a baby's play house, rattle, milk bottle and little Shirley Mitchell playing in it. Frank Lundy's float deserves favorable mention as it depicted a "Cedar Grove" with a canopy of cedar boughs from bow to stern and cedar boughs and twigs encircling it.

Another boat, which was very unique, was depicting a modern beverage room. It had all the requirements—kegs, bottles, openers, glasses, trays, bar-tenders—everything except the singning of "Sweet Adeline."

A horse-shoe tournament for the lovers of barnyard golf was held with E. Johnson and Mr. Kidd winning. A softball game at night between two rival teams — McMartin's Field Cedars and Russel Field's Milkweeds—was a very keen contest and gave the spectators many exciting moments. It ended in a 16 to 17 score in favor of the Milkweeds with Captain Bern Ashmore accepting the trophy for the winners. The races were as follows:

Men's single canoe—1, L. Rodgers; 2, F. Lundy.

Car race—E, M. Cunningham; 2, L. Rodgers.

Ladies' double canoe—1, Mrs. L. Rodgers; 2, Miss L. Thompson.

Ladies' single canoe—1, Mrs. L. Rodgers; 2, Miss L. Thompson.

Men's double canoe—1, V. Rivard. F. Cairns.

Baby race—All winners.

Girls' 10 and under—1, Frances Neary; 2, Helen Leonard.

Boys' 10 and under—1, K. Kidd; 2, B. Cunningham.

Girls' 14 to 17—1, M. Lambert; 2, Margaret Lambert.

Boys 14 to 17—1, B. Thompson; 2, M. Cunningham.

Married men's race—1, L. Rodgers; 2, Herb Bradley.

Young ladies' race—1, E. Smallwood; 2, Margaret Royeau.

Ladies' boot and shoe — Mrs. Cunningham; 2, Mrs. Briscoe.

Men's boot and shoe — 1, Herb. Bradley and Stewart James.

Ladies' potato race — 1, Miss Bradley; 2, Margaret Lambert.

Ladies' balloon race—1, Mrs. Mitchell; 2, Miss Bradley.

Married ladies' race—1, Mrs. Ball; 2, Mrs. Mitchell.

Ladies' three-legged race — 1, Marorie O'Toole, Helen Leonard.

Mixed race—Bruce Cunningham.

Homer Lundy acted as general convenor for all the sports and he wishes to thank the energetic committee who helped so earnestly especially Mrs. W. Thompson of Aw-K-Mon-Inn, who gave so much of her time and effort to make this year's Field Day the great success it was. A big bonfire at night in front of Aw-K-Mon-Inn was a fitting climax to a perfect day.

White House Asks For Right-of-Way

In connection with the request of Gus White, proprietor of the White House, for a right-of-way over the city's property on King street so that the White House might have a rear entrance, a committee of the whole Council last evening inspected the route of the proposed laneway. It was agreed by the Council that before giving Mr. White's proposal any further consideration, he should endeavor to secure right-of-way privileges of the Parker Cleaners' property. It was considered that the two firms could arrive at some private arrangement of benefit to both.

The members of the Council also inspected Downie street, where it was decided that storm drains were needed. This work was passed at the Council meeting on Monday night, and the inspection last night served to prove to the Council members the necessity of the drains made both inspections.

GASPE IS READY HONOR COMING JACQUES CARTIER

Explorer's Arrival Will be Subject of Observance in Ottawa.

START AUGUST 24

GASPE, Que., Aug. 10.—The unveiling of a stone cross near the spot where, 400 years ago, Jacques Cartier, famous Catholic navigator, planted a wooden cross upon his arrival in Canada, will be a feature of the ceremonies to be held here this month in commemoration of the quatracentennial of the mariner's landing in Canada.

The celebrations here will begin on Friday, August 24, and will be attended by high dignitaries of the church and state. His Eminence Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, will officiate.

Two days later, the new cathedral under construction here will be blessed by the cardinal. On Friday evening a brief religious service will be held in the new cathedral, followed by a banquet for visitors at which the Most Rev. Francis S. Ross, Bishop of Gaspe, will preside.

On Saturday morning the official delegation from France to the Cartier centennial is scheduled to arrive and will be escorted through Gaspe Harbor by a fleet of fishing boats. In the evening a commemorative dinner will be held, to be followed by a display of fireworks.

The ceremony of Gaspe will be one of several celebrations to be held in various parts of Canada beginning on August 24. Other places where such rites will be held are Charlottetown, Quebec, Three Rivers, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

The itinerary of the French delegation, which includes among others the rector of the University of Paris and the Minister of Public Works in the Doumergue Cabinet, has been arranged so that the members may attend the ceremonies held in the different cities. Quebec's celebration will begin on August 27 and will continue until August 30. The following day Montreal will begin its observance of the centenary, while Ottawa and Toronto will hold their ceremonies September 2 to 5.

Interesting articles referring to the observance of the landing of Jacques Cartier in Canada four hundred years ago, entitled "Life in French Canada," by Dean O'Sullivan, are appearing on The Examiner's Church Page on Saturdays for the next four weeks.

Damage caused by heavy rains recently in Guatemala forced suspension of railway freight service between Guatemala City and Puerto Barrios for a week.

Of the 69 planes entered in the London-Melbourne air race, which begins October 20, 21 are American, 16 British and six French, and the others are from South Africa, Irish Free State, India and New Guinea.

Say Tourists Should Visit Northern Ont.

Tour Through Mining District Would be Education Trip and One of Pure Enjoyment—Car Trade Improving.

OSHAWA, Aug. 9.—Motor tourists who do not visit Ontario's mining north are missing a bet. As an educational trip, as well as one for pure enjoyment, a tour through the north cannot be surpassed. This is the view of C. E. McTavish, general sales manager, General Motors Products of Canada, Limited, who, impressed with the tremendous activity of the north country completely sold on the potentialities of Northern Ontario communities, is back at his desk after a two week's tour. Along with R. D. Kerby, zone manager, Toronto, and C. E. Hebert, Toronto manager, General Motors Acceptance Corporation, Mr. McTavish made a flying visit to General Motors dealers in the area between North Bay and Hearst, and North Bay and the Soo, and brought back enthusiastic reports.

"My views of the greatness of the northern area were completely confirmed," said Mr. McTavish. "The farmers of the Clay Belt were busy and optimistic; the pulp and paper industry seemed to show signs of improvement. As for mining, I can only say that it is impossible to measure the underground wealth. I had a glimpse of the "glory hole" of the Hollinger Mines and I recommend it as a cure for anyone who might be suffering from blues of any kind about the Dominion of Canada.

Many Bustling Centres

"It is no wonder the towns and cities of nothern Ontario are bustling centres. The street traffic and the rush in the stores of merchants generally simply reflect the progress that the mining country is making year by year. It was my privilege to be in Timmins on the day three of the big mining companies happened to have a simultaneous payroll distribution, and I will not soon forget the effect on business created by the payment of wages totalling half a million dollars in a comparatively small area."

With regard to automobile business in the north, Mr. McTavish said it was improving year by year. Dealers at Sudbury, Kirkland Lake and Timmins had a surprisingly high volume of sales this year. Mr. McTavish believes this business is due to increase still further because roads are being improved rapidly. In the nature of the country's chief industries, it is certain that more and more commercial cars, as well as passenger automobiles, will be used. The season's business upturn is well reflected by the fact that in some centres there was a definite shortage of used cars.

"I met a number of travellers in other lines of industry" concluded Mr. McTavish, 'a'nd they all reported business excellent in the north.'

BAN BATHING IN LITTLE LAKE

Water Unfit for Bathing, Tests Taken by M.O.H. Reveal.

WATER POLLUTED.

Little Lake contains bacteria of intestinal origin that makes the water totally unfit for bathing or swimming, tests completed by Dr. G. Murray Fraser, Medical Officer of Health, prove.

"Bacteria is present in numbers usually considered unsafe," the M.O.H., told The Examiner, in issuing a public warning against bathing in the polluted area, and in urging upon parents in particular the danger of allowing their children to continue bathing or swimming anywhere within the Little Lake.

He added that the pollution of the water, which was caused mainly by sewage, was particularly bad near the Marble Works shore, at the foot of Peck avenue.

It will be recalled that at the last meeting of the Board of Health Dr. Fraser, who only assumed office on the first of the present month, was requested by the Board to make tests of the water in Little Lake. The action of the Board was the result of a complaint made on the previous evening at committee meetings of the city council by Ald. James Ellis, as to the offensive condition that existed in the Little Lake near the Marble Works.

In disclosing the results of his tests of the water, in order that The Examiner might give publicity to his warning, Dr. Fraser remarked, "The situation is that the water in Little Lake is badly polluted."

Asked if he referred only to the section complained of by Alderman Ellis, the M.O.H. replied: "No, I mean the whole of Little Lake, but I might state that pollution is particularly bad on the Marble Works' shore."

Questioned as to the source of the pollution, Dr. Fraser exclaimed, "I am not sure about that. There is some sewage."

Notices the Medical Officer said are to be posted immediately warning that "This water is Polluted, and is Dangerous for Bathing or Swimming."

OFFICER FLEES WHILE BANDITS DIG HIS GRAVE

Victim is Lured to Alley and Shot Five Times With Own Gun.

ONE ARREST MADE.

Constable John Griffin of suburban Bellwood, shot fives times by a quartette of gunmen, escaped from his would-be assassins early today while they prepared to dig his grave.

The officer gasped out his story later as he lay in a hospital bed.

Four men seized him, he related, as he went to keep an appointment with a man identified only as "fat." They took his own pistol and fired point-blank. One bullet clipped his left ear, two pierced his abdomen and two entered his back.

Apparently believing their victim was dead, the assailants prepared to bury him.

His guard, Griffin said, relaxed their vigilance momentarily. Making a supreme effort, the officer said he rose and staggered to the automobile. He pulled himself in and whisked away. Motorists, attracted by the zig-zag course of the car, overtook it and hurried Griffin to a hospital.

Police went into immediate action. They captured Michael Rosso, 24, at his home, and reported he had Griffin's pistol containing five empty cartridges. They sought the others and also hunted the man "fat" on the theory he had "put the finger" on the constable.

Authorities regarded revenge as the motive for the attack.

LOVE TRIANGLE TAKES 3 LIVES

Ute Indian Brave Slays Young Ex-Wife and His Successor.

ENDS OWN LIFE.

FORT DUCHESNE, Utah, Aug. 11 (AP)—Three deaths were blamed to-day on an Indian love triangle involving two Ute braves and a 16-year-old girl of the same tribe.

Events leading up to the tragedy started several months ago when the girl, Stella Hump, was married to "Croppy" Mountain Lion, 37, in a tribal ceremony. A week ago she left him and was married to Henry Johnson, the other brave, in a white man's ceremony.

Johnson was shot and killed Thursday while pursuing an assailant who had threatened his bride. A few hours later the girl-wife was found dead, five bullets in her body.

While officers were seeking Mountain Lion last night, they found his body. He had hanged himself from a tree with a piece of wire.

Ute tribesmen said he had followed out a tribal tradition which decrees that when one kills to satisfy his own idea of justice, he must end his own life.

REV. C. WORRELL NOTED PRELATE DIES IN HALIFAX

Head of Church of England in Canada Succumbs After Month's Illness.

IN 82ND YEAR.

Revealed Amazing Vigor in Building Up Depleted Endowment Funds.

HALIFAX, Aug. 11. (CP).—Canada to-day mourned the loss of one of its outstanding church leaders, most Rev. Clarendon Lamb Worrell, Primate of the Church of England in the Dominion.

Following an illness of more than a month, the 81-year-old prelate died in a Halifax hospital at 9.10 last night.

Although realizing the end was near, he expressed the hope that he might be spared to lead, for the last time, the General Synod meeting at Toronto in September.

Stricken with an internal hemorrhage as he was about to leave the city to take part in a dedication service at Brooklyn in early July, he hovered between life and death for weeks. For a time he rallied, following blood transfusions but yesterday he grew steadily weaker and his family was called to his bedside.

Earlier in the day he was able to dictate a message to Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald who had shown keen interest in the Primate's condition.

It was one of his last messages. "I am a workman myself," Rt. Ramsay MacDonald. But my work is practically completed and I am ready to go as a workman who has done his best."

Chosen In 1931

Archbishop Worrell was selected as Primate of Canada by the Anglican General Synod, September 23, 1931, and brought to the post the same vigorous leadership that had characterized his work as head of the church in Nova Scotia.

It was he who gathered together the dismayed and bewildered forces following the financial disaster which overtook the church through loss of the endowment funds of five north-western dioceses. In a time of "depression" he determined that the endowments should be replaced and gave energetic leadership in the campaign set to raise more than $1,000,000.

In paying tribute to his work Premier Angus L. MacDonald said:

HOLD DERRY DAY IN MILLBROOK

Royal Black Knights of Ireland Celebrate Derry Day.

OVER 500 PARADE.

MILLBROOK, Aug. 11.—(Staff Special).—This pretty village was in fete today as more than 500 Royal Black Knights of Ireland took possession of its streets and park for an impressive celebration of the 244th anniversary of Derry Day.

More than a score of Preceptories of the Royal Black Knights, representing five counties, Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland, Durham and Ontario, participated in the celebration. The Knights wore their conventional garb, with black silk hats, black swallow-tailed coats, black sashes and white gloves, and made a smart appearance as they paraded about the village to the music of many fife and drum bands.

Millbrook extended a warm welcome to the Knights. The streets were decorated with flags, bunting and streamers.

The Peterborough Preceptory No. 261 was led in the parade by John A. Holden, Worshipful Preceptor and was headed by a combined Peterborough fife and drum band which numbered more than 30 musicians.

Peterborough Black Knights motored here shortly after noon. At the outskirts of the village they formed in parade and made a snappy entry. Other Preceptories of Knights were from Lindsay, Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, and smaller centres in the district.

The Millbrook Preceptory of Knights were hosts for today's great gathering, and all arrangements were carefully carried out.

Big Bad Bug

ST. JOHNSVILLE, N.Y., Aug. 11. (CP).—A new villain, the big bad bug, is blamed for the death of 50 of Fred Kretzer's chickens.

The insect flew through the hen yard and the 50 birds, eyes fixed on the luscious bug, started after it.

The chickens thrust their heads through the wire mesh at the end of the yard, were unable to extract themselves, and all died, apparently of suffocation.

GERMAN GIRL SETS RECORD IN 100 METRES

Fraulien Krauss Shatters Stella Walsh's World's Sprint Supremacy.

CANADIANS FALL SHORT.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WHITE CITY STADIUM, Aug. 11 (C.P. Cable) — Stella Walsh's sprint supremacy was taken from the sturdy Polish girl to-day by Fraulein Krauss of Germany who won the 100 metre dash final at the women's world games in the world record-equalling time of 11.9 seconds. The Olympic champion was second and Canada's ace, Audrey Dearmley of Hamilton, Ont., was fifth.

Miss Walsh, formerly of Cleveland, O., who represented Poland at the 1932 Olympic games and has since competed for a Warsaw club, finished two feet behind the flying Miss Krauss who had put up the danger signal by beating Elsie Hiscock of England, British Empire Games sprint champion, in one of the semi-final heats.

In the final Miss Hiscock was third, a scant foot behind Miss Walsh. Fraulein Dollinger was

ESKIMO KILLER GIVEN 5 YEARS

Found Guilty of Shooting Friend for Trifling With Wife's Affections.

MURDER DONE IN 1931.

COPPERMINE, N. W. T., Aug. 11 —(C. P.). —Caught in the arm of white man's justice a copper-skinned native of the arctic wastes today faced a term of five years imprisonment for the slaying of another of his tribe.

Magistrate J. Douglas, counsel, and a jury of six, holding court on the inner rim of the arctic circle in this tiny settlement heard through an interpreter yesterday the evidence in the case of Ahigiak, Eskimo native of King William Island charged with the slaying of Anirusk.

After a day of evidence from natives of the surrounding barren wastes a jury of six—trappers prospectors and Hudson Bay Company employees — pronounced the accused guilty of manslaughter.

Magistrate Douglas who had flown with his counsel more than 1,300 miles to the scene of the trial, pronounced sentence.

One native witness testified that Ahivak, who blamed his friend Anirusk with alienation of his wife's affection, had shot him to death in a fit of jealousy in front of the igloo they occupied.

The crime was alleged to have taken place in the Autumn of 1931 on King William's Island—800 miles from this settlement.

Last spring, the accused man was brought into Coppermine and preparations were made to try him.

CELEBRATING.

STRATFORD, Ont., Aug. 11.—(C.P.)—Upwards of 100 members of the Black Knights, many of them accompanied by their wives and families, left to-day for Goderich where they will participate in the Derry Day celebartion. The Stratford contingent will be headed by the Wodham Orange Band.

MODIFIED FORM OF CASH RELIEF IS CROLL'S PLAN

Recipients of Money Must Work for It at Standard Rate.

STRICT CONTROL.

Up to Each Municipality Whether Food, Rent Orders Given in Cash.

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (C.P.)—A new relief policy was before Ontario municipalities to-day from the provincial government with cash relief proposed instead of the voucher system. Hon. David Croll, Minister of Public Welfare, has announced some municipalities may implement the new form of relief on the department's approval.

Recipients of cash relief must work for standard rates of pay, the minister said. He suggested "municipal beautification" to supply such work with the minimum of expenditure. Strict control will be kept over relief administration, he emphasized in his announcement last night.

Abuses will not be tolerated and the government's motto will be "relief to workers, nothing to shirkers."

Mr. Croll in his announcement stressed that it was optional with each municipality as to whether food vouchers and rent orders should be replaced with cash relief. He declared the new policy would be followed until the provinces in the dominion can co-operate on a comprehensive scheme, including unemployment insurance and a national building program.

No Private Subsidies

In a plea for co-operation from the municipalities, the Minister declared the Government wished to provide adequate provision for the needy, "but it is not our purpose to subsidize private industry or private enterprise of any kind."

Those eligible for cash relief will include the sick, maimed, the widow with children and others considered unemployable. The minister warned that men must be given work to which they were adapted and that they must not "be pushed too hard as many are physically unfit through long idleness."

"Should a man by his own initiative succeed in earning a little extra money, he will be permitted to retain it and remain on relief providing it does not exceed one-third of the food allowance for himself and family for the calendar month," the announcement continued. "If he earns more than one-third, a deduction will be made for his allowance."

Brantford View

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 11.—(CP)—Mayor M. M. MacBride today expressed himself in favor of the cash system of relief and declared:

"It means the end of many of the objectionable features of the dole system. In Brantford we will be glad to change over as soon as possible from the direct relief system to the cash relief system.

"It will probably take us a couple of months to make our plans and get the work projects under way.

"We will improve every street in Brantford that needs improving and, under the new system, we will no longer be handing out money for nothing."

TWO PRISONERS DIE IN EFFORT TO ESCAPE JAIL

Six Others in Louisiana Are Wounded and Captured and 5 Surrender.

ALL LONG TERMERS.

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 11.—(A.P.)—Two convicts were to-day reported by Penitentiary Manager R. L. Himes to have been shot and killed when 13 prisoners broke from the State penitentiary at Angola.

The prisoners killed were Raymond Candler and Bill Bryant, both long termers. Six of the escaping convicts were wounded and caught, and the remaining five surrendered later.

Himes described the break as a concerted and apparently pre-arranged dash for liberty by a detail of the "Red Cap" gang of "incorrigibles" working in a garden at Camp "E" after breakfast.

He said the plan presumably was for the 13 convicts to scatter in all directions at a given signal in hope that some might get away.

TERROR SWEEPS SOVIET RAILWAY

12 Train Wrecks, 43 Bandit Raids, 2 Murders Blamed on Japs.

RUSE TO BUY ROAD CHEAP.

MOSCOW, Aug. 11 (A.P.) — A reign of terror on eastern line of the Chinese n Railway, attributed by the Soviet press to Japanese and Manchurian efforts to force Soviet Russia to sell the railroad line cheaply was described to-day in a report by Russian manager Rudi of the railway. It was published in a dispatch from Khabarovsk.

Rudi's report, made to the joint Manchukuo-Soviet board of direction, stated that conditions had grown alarmingly worse between June 17 and Aug. 5, enumerating:

Twelve train wrecks; 43 bandit raids; two murders; 24 railway employees wounded; 14 robberies; 28 cases of damages to the roadbed and rolling stock; two fires; nine cases of sabotage to telegraph and telephone lines.

Predict Higher Food Prices For U.S. In '35

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Food prices will be "materially higher" next year, says Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, but no shortage is expected.

The drought, which has driven prospective food and feed supplies down to the lowest point in 20 years, is responsible.

In 1935 consumers will not enjoy the "customary supply of sirloin steaks and pork chops," Wallace declared, "but there will be plenty of food to keep everyone in the best of health."

Yesterday's crop report estimated that production of 32 principal crops will be 22 per cent below the average of the past 10 years.

CAR DEMOLISHED WHEN IT STRIKES CEMENT BRIDGE

Former Chairman of Hydro Commission is Seriously Injured.

RIDING ALONE.

It is Thought Ex-Minister of Crown Suffered Weak Spell.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 11. — Hon. J. R. Cooke, former chairman of the Hydro Commission, was seriously injured near his home in Rawdon township when riding alone in his car. It is thought he suffered a weak spell.

The car hit a cement bridge and was demolished. Mr. Cooke suffered severe lacerations about the face and it is believed suffered internal injuries about the chest. He was removed to his home a mile distant from the scene of the accident and attended by Dr. H. H. Alger of Stirling. At the time, Mr. Cooke was returning from a visit to his cousin.

For more than an hour the former Hydro commission chairman lay unconscious on the road before he was discovered by nearby residents. Dr. Alber, who sewed up numerous cuts on Mr. Cooke's face declared his patient's condition "extremely grave."

"There is so much pressure above the heart he finds it difficult to breathe," sai dthe doctor.

Mr. Cooke did not regain consciousness until he reached his home and the doctor immediately called in trained nurses to assist him.

Premier Hepburn Plans to Fight Banks on Loans

SEES COLLUSION TO FORCE HIGH INTEREST RATES

Will Go to U. S. for Cheap Money, Also Extend Ontario's Banking System.

PICNIC FOR MARSHALL.

Premier Charges Henry Left $1,996,000 Unpaid Bills to Improve Budget.

STREETSVILLE, Ont. Aug. 11 — (CP) — High interest rates today were the targets at which Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario intended to launch an attack to "break the throttle hold of the banks in Ontario." In an address to a Liberal picnic here last night the premier sounded his warning to the banks and also attacked Hydro administration and the financing of the late Conservative regime.

The picnic was in honor of Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, and the 5,000 persons who attended heard the Ontario Premier praise the Minister and then launch his remarks against the banks.

He charged them with collusion in maintaining interest rates at high levels and declared the governments would extend its savings bank system or loan money from United States unless the banks heeded his warning. It was not a threat, he said, but he was merely serving notice.

Ontario government's refunding loan was referred to by the premier who said every bank had quoted the same price of 2.55, something he considered "obviously points to collusion."

"They can only go so far and then the public sentiment turns against them," he continued. "If they won't deal fairly with the public we have other courses open to use."

Two percent was the rate the Dominion government obtained on a loan in the United States and he declared Ontario's credit was just as good. If the banks in Ontario thought they held control "They are badly mistaken, he said.

Out To Break Hold

"I am out to break the throttle hold of the banks in Ontario, make no mistake about that. You people have a government at Queen's Park that is not in collusion with the banks or any other interests."

He urged Prime Minister R. B. Bennett to "ease up credit so we can expand" and to follow the example of President Roosevelt of the United States. "I appeal to Mr. Bennett to go further with the policy of revaluation of gold," the Premier continued "We are coming into an era of cheaper money and I welcome it."

Former Premier George S. Henry was accused of leaving $1,996,000 unpaid bills. Mr. Hepburn said an auditor had shown him a statement to this effect. These bills had been left unpaid in the last fiscal year, he charged, in order to create the impression of a balanced budget.

In his attack on administration tion of Hydro under the Conservative Government, Mr. Hepburn charged officials of the Municipal Underwriters' Association had made $30,000 a year "out of this company capitalized at $90." He named Alfred Maguire, T. J. Hannigan and I. B. Lucas, K. C., and declared the Goverment would take action to recover all this money.

"Racketeering" was the Premier's description of these activities and he said the methods employed by officials of this firm formed to handle Hydro Insurance, would "astound" the public.

FALSE MODESTY ABOUT PILES

Unfortunately there is a delicacy about mentioning this disease, even to the family physician. The dread of an operation keeps many from consulting their doctor. Seldom if ever is an operation necessary if Dr. Chase's Ointment is used. Relief from the burning, stinging sensations is obtained almost as soon as this Ointment is applied. Persistent use will usually overcome even the most serious case of long standing.

RUMOR $750,000 PAID PRINCESS

Settlement in "Rasputin" Case Said Hollywood's Largest Libel Balm.

ENDS OTHER SUITS.

(By Albert W. Wilson, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

LONDON, Aug. 11 (AP) — An exiled Russian princess who had, she says, an unwanted and implied role in the motion picture, "Rasputin and the Empress," has collected a huge sum—some sources said $750,000—from the producers.

The fortune was paid to Princess Irina Alexandrovna Youssoupoff by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as balm for the film's alleged libel of the former Russian noblewoman.

Miss Fannie Holtzmann, United States attorney for the princess, said to-day the settlement was the largest she "ever heard of" in a libel case.

The company paid the money out of court to forestall threatened suits in a number of other countries, after Princess Youssoupoff won a $127,000 verdict here.

Costly Film

Miss Holtzman stoutly declined to name the amount of the settlement, which makes the film one of the most costly in Hollywood history. But she said published reports the sum was $750,000 were erroneous.

She had said earlier the $127,000 award "looks sick" when compared to the total amount.

Princess Youssoupoff, in the sensational suit, alleged the character Natasha in the film represented her as an adultress.

Prince Felix Youssoupoff, husband of the princess, a highlight of the trial, testified he killed Rasputin, Russia's "Mad Monk," for patriotic reasons during the turbulent Great War days.

The Youssoupoffs recently have been the guests of the King and Queen at Windsor Castle. She is the daughter of Grand Duke Alexander, uncle of Czar Nicholas.

Corn Over Kansas Tenth Normal Crop

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 11.—(A.P.) —Kansas farmers, their crops hopelessly ruined, are scanning the skies for long-due rain to replenish dwindling water supplies and provide sub-soil moisture lest next year's crops also perish.

Water shortages in various cities have become acute and the city fathers in one of the State's larger ones, Emporia, have put into effect a "4-inch bath" decree.

Railroads report increasing movements of water to communities where supplies have failed.

The United States' federal crop report yesterday placed Kansas' corn crop at 15,750,000 bushels, the lowest in half a century and barely a 10th of a normal crop.

MRS. THOMPSON SEEN IN AUTO NIGHT OF DEATH

Passed His Store at 11.45 p.m. With Strange Man, Says Witness.

HUSBAND TELLS STORY.

TORONTO, Aug. 11. —(C. P.). — A surprise witness called at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Vila Thompson of Toronto revealed the woman was seen in an automobile with a man the night she disappeared. Evidence at the inquest was completed last night with the examination of this witness. Kelly Waldman of Toronto, and it was adjourned until August 22.

Waldma, a store-keeper near the Thompson apartment, said he saw the woman, found slain behind a lilac bush July 19, seated in an automobile with a man he could not identify. He said the man was not the woman's husband.

When found the woman's head was crushed with a stone and her clothing disarranged. Dr. E. R. Frankish, medical adviser to the Attorney General's department, testified the cause of death was concussion from a blow on the right side of the head.

Dr. Frankish also expressed the opinion the woman had been assaulted. He said his examination of the spot where the body was found revealed evidence of this.

In his testimony Waldman declared he saw the woman in the auto at 11.45 o'clock on the night of July 17.

Alwynne Thompson, husband, was questioned by Crown Attorney Frank Moore regarding his movements when his wife disappeared the night of July 17. Thompson is under arrest on a perjury charge in connection with a marriage certificate he is alleged to have obtained although already married.

Police Dog Bites Campbellford Girl

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 11.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent.) — Jumped on and bitten by a police dog this week, little Doreen Beaudoin, seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beaudoin, of Campbellford, is now under the care of Dr. F. B. Brintnell, suffering from bites on the head, forehead and cheek. Sitting on the lawn of her Canrobert street home on Tuesday evening, the little girl was playing by herself when the dog, belonging to a neighbor, came up and snapped at her. Sniffing blood when he seered the skin on her head, he started in to bite, and only the prompt action of the grandfather, Joseph Beaudoin, who was nearby and rushed to the child's assistance, saved her from severe injury. Mr. Beaudoin got badly scratched on the arm by the dog when pulling it away from the child. Doreen bled profusely and collapsed before the doctor arrived. Her condition is fair.

Sell Low Grade Stock To Aid Drought Area

WINNIPEG, August 11. — (C. P.) —Plans for the disposal of low-grade cattle to assist farmers in the dried out areas of south-western Manitoba, were announced yesterday by D. C. McKenzie, Minister of Agriculture. The proposed plans provide for the processing of meat for export. The Dominion Government will be asked to discuss the policy.

It is proposed freight charges in connection with the marketing of cattle be absorbed under a tri-partite arrangement between the Dominion government, the province and the railways, each absorbing one-third of the freight charges.

It is believed the removal of the low-grade surplus cattle will relieve the feed problem and strengthen price levels on the domestic market for the better-class cattle. Shipment of feed in dried out areas to feed low-grade cattle, the government believes, is an economic waste.

KEEN'S D.S.F. Mustard

Life in French Canada

(BY DEAN O'SULLIVAN)

WHEN one travels through the province of Quebec he notices that the parish church is the most imposing structure in the town or village, and that close by it is the school and convent. The church is the centre of the religious and social life of the people. The parish bell announces, in glad tones, the baptisms and the marriages, and tolls in sad notes the requiems. It also assembles the people for social gatherings or important meetings of the citizens.

From the very beginning of the colony the school has always been close to the church. These convents and schools are not a thing of yesterday. Bishop Laval established the first school for boys, which developed into the great university which bears his name, the many colleges throughout the province, and the Grand Seminaries of Montreal and Quebec, where, up to recent years, the majority of the Catholic clergy of Canada and a large portion of those of the United States were educated.

The first teachers in the convent schools which now dot the countryside were noble ladies from old France, who came to Canada about the middle of the seventeenth century. Sister Mary of the Incarnation established the Ursuline Convent at Quebec in the year 1639. Some time later Margaret Bourgeoys taught the little Indian children in a round tower which still stands within the enclosure of the Grand Seminary of Montreal. This modest school developed into Ville Marie, up to the time of its destruction by fire in the year 1803, one of the sights of the city and the most famous school for girls on the continent. That urbanity of manner, that politesse, so characteristic of French-Canadian women, may be traced to the training which they received in these parish convents.

There is a mistaken idea in Ontario that the French-Canadian does not speak good French, but rather a patois. It is true that the uneducated do not speak good French, just as the uneducated in this province do not speak good English. But just as the best English is spoken in Dublin, and not in London, so the best French is spoken in Quebec and Montreal and not in Paris. The reason for this is that the early educators who came to this country brought with them a knowledge of French as it was spoken in the days of Bossuet and Fenelon, in the days when French literature was at its zenith. In the old land the Revolution debased the language as it debased the people, but it was preserved in its purity among the educated people of Quebec, and expressions heard there, which to a Parisian may appear archaic, were really good French in the days of Louis XIV.

One of our great problems in Ontario is to keep the people on the land, and thus prevent over-congestion in urban centres. The French-Canadians have solved this problem, and it might be well for us to examine the causes of their success. To my mind the chief of these causes are, firstly, their system of education, and, secondly, their social life.

In Ontario it seems to be the aim of every well-to-do farmer to give his children a high school and, if possible, a college education. The result is that they are looking for white-collar jobs which are not to be found, and for which perhaps they are not qualified. In Quebec they do things differently. If a son or daughter shows more than ordinary ability at school, he or she is sent to college. The others receive a good practical education at home, which prepares them for their positions in life as farmers or farmers' wives. They have never been weaned from the land and are content to follow in the footsteps of their parents. Hence the well-cultivated countryside.

I might remark, in passing, that it is for the most part from the educated class that the leaders of the people and members of Parliament are chosen. This makes for sane principles in government. This accounts for the fact that the French members are among the most able and eloquent pleaders in the Federal House, even when speaking in English, which is to them an alien tongue.

As regards our social life, is it not true that there is something wrong? Is it not true that we have lost the art of amusing ourselves? Our young people, instead of singing the songs which are in their own hearts, merely listen-in to some warbler in the city. Instead of acting a play themselves they are content to look on at some sickly melodrama enacted on the silver screen. Many, too, instead of playing ball just read the sporting column and chatter about "Babe" Ruth, "Ty" Cobb, "Pepper" Martin and other celebrities of the diamond.

In rural Ontario much has been done in recent years by the Farmers' Institute and other agencies to help the young people in self-expression and to banish that ennui which, more than economic conditions, makes them dissatisfied with the farm. The French-Canadian is seldom lonesome on the farm, for the homesteads are so laid out that the houses are close together, just like an elongated village. The neighbors are sociable. Not only on New Year's Day, when the children and grandchildren visit the old folks to get their blessing, but on frequent occasions they have social gatherings when they sing, not the latest hits, but the good old songs of yesterday. They do not need to bring with them a storage battery to provide amusement, for the dynamos in their own hearts produce the mirth.

Simple yet intelligent, religious and patriotic, fond of their homes and families, with hearts full of native poetry, with three centuries of tradition behind them, the French-Canadians are very happy and contented in their little whitewashed cottages on the banks of the St. Lawrence. Truly their national poet, Cremazie, had reason to write:

"Heureux qui les connait, plus heureux qui l'habite,
Et ne quittant jamais pour cher-cher d'autres cieux
Les rives du grand fleuve ou le bonheur l'invite,
Sait vive et sait mourir, ou dor-ment ses aieux."

[Happy he who knows them, more happy he who dwells thereon and never leaving, to look for other skies, the banks of the grand river, where happiness invites him, knows how to live and to die where his forefathers sleep.]

YOUR PROBLEMS

Religious and Social Questions Answered By DR. WYLIE CLARK

In his sermon last Sunday our minister said, "Worry is caused by fear." I cannot see any sense in what he said. Is he wrong?—S.J.M.

I fancy your minister is right. Fear of something seems to be at the bottom of most of our worries. In the last few days I have had the following cases:

A man of 60 and his wife worrying because they were fearing the man would lose his job. A mother whose child was delicate fearing it would die. A student almost broken down fearing she would fail in her examinations. A middle-aged man in a bad state fearing he had committed the unpardonable sin. A woman heart-broken fearing her family would have to go on the dole. Thus it runs through the whole human family. Fearing something that seems to be possible we let it dominate our minds until worry masters us.

Dr. Wylie Clark

It is very easy to trace all worry to a state of fear.

Amidst all the fear of things to-day has our religion power enough to keep us from being brought to a state of collapse.—C.F.

This means is our religion big enough and strong enough to carry us through the hardships and disappointments of life without being defeated. As our religion is the gift of God—God Himself in our lives—then the question resolves itself into, "Can God be defeated?"

God can never be defeated where He can have His own way. It is necessary to yield our wills to His so that the power may be available for our use. Even Jesus had to be willing to bow to God's will before He received the strength to go on to the cross.

That is just the problem of our faith. The power is supreme. God is willing to supply it and that in abundance, but we must fit ourselves so that the power may work in and through us—that is the secret of triumphant Christian living.

In the time of the apostles they healed all the sick. Why do not all ministers do the same to-day?—H.M.

No, they did not heal all the sick. Paul himself had an infirmity which was chronic. Trophimus was left sick at Miletum. Epaphroditus was sick at Rome. Timothy was advised to take a little wine for his indigestion. Luke seems to have still remained a doctor.

The sick seemed to be healed as a sign of divine power and as a testimony to the authority and genuineness of the apostles and others who were starting the early church. Jesus spoke of His miracles as works or signs.

I would advise you to read E. Stanley Jones' book on "Christ and Human Suffering."

Where and what is the valley of decision.—D.R.T.

It is a valley mentioned in the prophecy of Joel 3:12-14. It is called the valley of Jehoshaphat as well as the valley of decision.

The prophet evidently had in mind some of the vales near Jerusalem and saw it as the gathering place of the nations where they would receive judgment.

The valley came to be regarded as the place of the final judgment and is considered by some to lie between Jerusalem and the Mount of Olives. Both Jews and Arabs believe in this tradition.

The Slim or the Curvatious Venus

Condensed from Miroir du Monde, Paris, by Magazine Digest.

WE live under the star of Venus the Slim. Plump women are out of luck. Fashion repudiates them. No Parisian woman would dream of questioning this article of faith were she to become a martyr or even die. Much less does she suspect that by accepting it so implicitly she is really working against her own country.

The century-old charm of the Frenchwoman is seriously threatened by a fashion which is not French and never was, and is imposed upon France with artifices amounting to the perpetual violation of nature.

The Parisian woman did not invent fashion. It is as old as is the first human female who conceived the idea of using the fur of the beasts killed by the caveman hunter for protecting herself against the cold. It was indeed an original idea, never conceived by any other living being. The creatures devour each other, but they don't sleep in each other's hide. When Eve of the Cave realized that under the new involucre her hidden form stimulated the interest and the curiosity of man, the first fashion was born.

Millions of years have passed. Man has learned to spin and weave silk and wool. The Greek, the Roman and the Gaul woman ruled in turn over the kingdom of fashion. But the Frankish woman did not inherit this art from them. The courts of the Merovingian kings were huge farms enclosed in fences and the castles of the Capets were inaccessible fortresses, the inhabitants of which accepted the word of the rare pilgrim from Byzantium in all matters pertaining to fashion.

The social life of Paris began to develop when the first students gathered on the mountain of Sainte-Genevieve to listen to the learned Abelard. The first Parisian woman mentioned in history was a co-ed of the Latin Quarter, Heloise.

That belle of the twelfth century and niece of a canon was clad in light-weight crepe silks, imported from the Orient and in Mossul muslins. Her flowing robes molded breasts and hips and stressed the curves, as do the tight fitting sweaters of our modern Venuses. Only the legs were hidden under the long pleated skirt.

There was a peculiar reticence about showing one's legs which has survived for centuries. Bodices changed, dresses were more or less tight-fitting, but skirts remained chaste. Only much later, in the Directoire period, did they begin to rise in front and display part of the leg.

In the beginning of the fifteenth century, under the debauched queen Isabeau of Bavaria, the dress bodices became very emancipated. The present vogue of the bare back, of dresses split from the neck to the waist, is not new at all: it was invented long ago by the great and daring ladies of the fifteenth century, while the gorgeous robes of the eighteenth century marchionesses displayed the breasts to their permissible limit, and over. But always the legs remained covered, sacred and chaste.

This has been the French fashion doctrine for full eight hundred years. Truly we may ask ourselves whether the short post-war skirt, which so treacherously showed the thighs of their wearers when they sat down, was not the first symptoms of a decadence, a sign that the refinement of fashion was fleeing from our shores.

But, decency aiding, the evolution stopped at that point. We have victoriously defended our legs, but we were, alas! less fortunate in defending our hips.

The true French tradition prescribes that dresses be not only long but also round. Round were the skirts and overskirts of the Middle Ages, the gorgeous garments of the Renaissance, round the barrel-shaped crinolines of later periods.

The booty which the Crusaders brought home from their marches enriched the simple muslines of Heloise with the oriental splendor of silks, turbans and other extravagant coifs. The relation with Italy brought the frilled upright collars a la Medici, perfumed gloves, heavy jewelry, while from Spain came red heels, ribbons and laces and the noble art of make-up. Under the reign of Louis the Fifteenth, which was one unceasing chase for pleasure, the dresses of the women acquired a flower-like loveliness.

But in vain would we seek among the fashions of ten centuries of French history a fashion that deprived the feminine silhouette of its two natural glories—breasts and hips—and glorified instead the eel-like silhouette, which is the ideal of the great modern couturiers.

It is a second attack waged by foreign taste upon French taste and tradition. And after all, why not? Since Waterloo, London has quietly imposed its garb upon all men. The elegant European male who for centuries followed the dictate of Paris has changed livery. He wears the uniform of the British gentleman which, having been evolved for long and bony bodies, does not fit him too well.

While the Englishman has won, the English or American woman may also win. The Anglo-Saxon man has imposed his silhouette upon us, and the Anglo-American woman will impose hers. It is her right and her interest. But is it ours? Esthetically and commercially speaking, there can be no doubt as to which answer is correct.

Moral calibre in the long run tells as nothing else.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

NO man can impart wisdom to another. For wisdom is not of man, but comes from God. Wisdom is from within, and cannot be received from without. All that any system of teaching can possibly do is to prepare and train the faculties of man, so that if, and when, he has wisdom, he will be better able to use it.

All this is as true of the ancient of the real man, yet those potentialities cannot be awakened without long and arduous effort, and when they are awakened they may not be used without wisdom. Furthermore, like every other faculty of the human economy, they come under the "law of use." That is, to be pre- and occult brotherhoods as it is of the mundane and secular schools; and while it explains why our modern systems of so-called education fail to turn out a uniform product of intellectually great men, so does it equally explain why in the great occult schools comparatively few of those who join as eager neophytes attain the goal.

For while in the brotherhoods we deal with the hidden potentialities served and strengthened they must be used, else they will become weak and finally atrophy, just the same as a muscle will wither and become useless if not exercised. Hence the inherent weakness of any purely theoretical system of religion or philosophy. It carries within itself the seeds of its own decay. To say, "I believe," is merely an expression of personal opinion, unless that opinion is translated into action. A theoretical Christian is no Christian at all; all he has is pious beliefs. Or let us put it on a more occult plane. Of what avail is it to set the forces of the soul into motion if we rest satisfied with the phenomena they produce? If we do not use them in the service of God for the betterment of mankind, how much is our working value in the kingdom?

And then, if we do so try and use them, we grow in spiritual value. Our aspiration to the above and our compassion to the below enables us and we grow in wisdom which must be attained. To attain it we have to seek and we must earnestly desire it above all earthly things, and lo, when at length we grow in our spiritual selves so that we possess it, we find that it is no longer called wisdom, but love, for love encompasseth all things within itself.—Frater IX., Rosicrucian Order, San Jose, Calif.

In every path experience is the warrant for advice.

Amos Pleads for Justice — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Amos, Chapters 5 and 7.

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Amos was a plain country farmer from the southern kingdom of Judah who went up north to the proud city of Samaria and denounced its wickedness in the gate of the city and predicted the city's destruction.

Amos condemned the rich for their injustice to the poor, saying, "Ye trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat. . . . Ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and turn aside the needy in the gate from their right."

The rich folks had their ivory palaces, their winter houses and summer houses, and abounded in luxury. 2 They were able to live in this luxury and self-indulgence because they robbed the poor. Amos said they "stored up violence."

Amos was the friend of the poor in their misery. He cried out against those who "sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes"; "making the ephah small and the shekel great"; and covering it all up with a false religion.

If our faith is false we are bound to renounce it; if it is true we are bound to propagate it.

No one ever tried to lift a big thing, who didn't risk its falling back on him.

AN ADMIRAL'S TRIBUTE.

A missing chapter in the reminiscences kindled by the Canadian Corps reunion was supplied by Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt in his tribute to an exploit of a Canadian aviator in bringing down a Zeppelin, described by the admiral of the fleet as "the grandest and bravest thing I have ever seen."

In all the Toronto press reports of the memorable reunion there seemed to be an omission of reference to the aviation branch of the service. Possibly it was simply overlooked in our reading. In any case Admiral Tyrwhitt, in his address to the Canadian Club of Toronto, supplied a note for which every Canadian should be deeply grateful. He recalled in detail the destruction of an enemy aircraft by Major Cully, a Canadian youth of eighteen years, who soared to 18,000 feet, after taking off from a tender towed by a destroyer at 32 knots an hour.

"It was the most exciting experience in my share of the war," Sir Reginald told his Toronto audience. "We watched that little plane for 56 minutes, climbing and climbing. It was a considerable task to attain a height of 18,000 feet in those days. So intense was our interest that now I say we would have been admirable prey for a submarine attack just then. Finally, the Zep and its tiny pursuer vanished from view. We gazed and gazed for five more minutes and then we saw a tiny speck. It rapidly grew into a smudge and then a tiny cloud. We knew the Zeppelin was gone. And back out of the east came our tiny plane, to settle safely on the lighter. The pilot of the plane was a Canadian, just eighteen and a half years old at that time. I don't recall his first name or initials, but his name was Cully, and he is now a major in your Royal Canadian Air Force."

Canada's airmen had no monopoly of courage and enterprise and bravery, but they were a numerous and distinguished company of the Royal Air Force. Their dramatic daring thrilled the hearts of their countrymen. Obscure youths from cities and little towns of Canada, they took to the air like eagles and ranked with the greatest aviators the war produced.

The names of Guynemer of France, Richthofen of Germany and Ball of England will live as long as the records of the war are read and remembered, and with them their Canadian peers, such as Bishop, Barker and Collishaw.

Other names that come to mind are Brown, Hobbs, Hallam, Hervey, only a few of Canada's splendid roster, for whom their contemporaries shall always retain the deepest pride.

CASH SYSTEM PROPOSED.

News from Queen's Park that the voucher system of distributing relief is to be replaced by weekly cash payments does not receive, on first thought, unanimous approval in Peterborough.

Under the organization that has proved satisfactory to ratepayers for the last two years, boards were appointed to administer relief supplied by the municipalities with the substantial assistance of the Government. Part of the duty of administration was to consider the most efficient method by which persons, and especially families, on relief should receive the largest possible returns from the money expended.

The experience of these boards has convinced them that the voucher plan offered the most effectual features. It guaranteed that weekly allotments of food would be delivered to the homes of applicants. Some of the details of its operation no doubt caused minor restrictions, and occasional friction, but the general relief plan has been retained to the present time because it seemed more satisfactory to the ratepayers. And as contributors to the relief fund, as charged to the municipal treasury, the taxpayers should have some voice in regard to the method by which relief is distributed.

The weekly cash payment system presents certain features which suggest that it might be the ideal plan. It has been frequently requested by groups of unemployed citizens. It affords the recipients of relief the freedom of buying the articles which they think they need most, of suiting their own preferences.

If every husband could be depended upon to spend his relief cheque for the sole benefit of his family, and perhaps that should also apply to every wife, there would probably be little objection to the adoption of this system. That is the element of idealism which is regarded with doubt by relief administrators who know most of the weaknesses of men and women, even if they are heads of families.

If the Government intends to institute the cash system plan generally throughout the province and assume the entire cost themselves, then that is the end of it. But if municipal taxes are still to be called upon to bear part of the cost of relief, it is likely that taxpayers will prefer that the present system be continued.

The possibility of the waste of relief money, and there are certain new opportunities of waste that have opened up recently, is the factor which influences the general public in favor of the voucher system. And in that statement there is no suggestion that every man on relief would be careless in the spending of the cheque he would receive by the proposed cash system. It is another instance of the majority being affected by the minority.

In any event public concern is directed only to the welfare of relief applicants, and to the ultimate purpose that families shall receive the most goods from the available money.

"RUGGED INDIVIDUALISM."

Opponents of the "New Deal," conceived by President Roosevelt as a means of extending Government assistance to the masses of the people, profess a fear that it will discourage the "rugged individualism" upon which the nation's progress and wealth were built.

These critics of the Roosevelt idea contend that the pioneering spirit of initiative and self-reliance will disappear as a national characteristic if citizens are encouraged to lean on the Government and look to it for assistance and direction.

"Rugged individualism" was as essential to the early development of our own country as it was in the United States. We have not heard the phrase used in recent public discussions in Canada for the reason that the Federal Government has adhered through the depression to the policy of avoiding interference with the affairs of business.

The farmer clearing his land, the shoemaker and tailor supplying the needs of their community, the owner of a gristmill were all individualists. The channels of opportunity were open in all directions. But when individuals began to pool their resources and their energies a new industrial era was begun. "Rugged individualism" still applied to these young corporations who were left free from Government interference to pursue business according to their own rules. Finally these "individualists" persuaded the people and their Government to set up tariffs, adopting the principle of protecting home industries against foreign competition.

Mergers, combines and amalgamations have followed so fast upon that change that hardly a trace of the old industrial order remains.

The will and franchise of the people were used as the means of effecting this change, but industrialists are, in many cases, prone to forget that thereby they vastly restricted the opportunities of the "rugged individualism" which they would invoke at the first sign of governmental interference with their affairs.

They were ready to jettison the principle of "rugged individualism" when they sought Government aid for their enterprises, but they are the first to set up protests of interference with "rugged individualism" when Government action, in the common interest of the people, loosens their control or means some other form of curtailment or loss of privilege.

Canadians still hold to the ideal of "rugged individualism." The country is young, it is underpopulated, its natural resources are great, and there is opportunity for self-reliance, aggressiveness and prudent thrift. But public reaction to the Stevens probe revelations disclosed a temper that demands some kind of new deal along a middle line between Government paternalism and fascism on the one hand and corporate power and ruthlessness on the other.

AUSTRALIA COMES BACK.

Raise a big cheer for the Commonwealth of Australia!

That enterprising, undaunted country takes a firm grip of prosperity, reduces unemployment, builds up a budget surplus, restores wage cuts, relieves taxpayers, and remits duties worth £600,000 on British imports.

It is a signal achievement. And the part which concerns British industry is a generous fulfillment of Australia's pledge to encourage this country in empire trade the moment her own house was put in order.—From the London Daily Express.

NOT A LUXURY.

Canada's newly-organized Travel Bureau, under the direction of Mr. Leo Dolan, a former well-known newspaperman, should not be regarded as a luxury nor merely another addition to the long list of Government departments.

When it is mentioned that tourists bring to Canada, annually, anywhere from $190,000,000 to $350,000,000, one can easily see the importance of giving careful attention to the industry and following up every opportunity to develop it. Students of the situation estimate that it is quite possible to bring the figure up to half a billion dollars.

Various departments of the Federal Government, including Customs, Immigration, Railways and Canals, Trade and Commerce, Agriculture, National Parks, Fisheries, Interior and the Government Motion Picture Bureau are co-operating with Director Dolan in his new work. There is to be emphasis on publicity and on courtesy. In connection with the latter, the plan is not only to make tourists comfortable when they cross the border, but to seek the co-operation of every citizen in welcoming the visitors and extending courtesies while they are travelling through our country. The idea, Ottawa intimates, is to place the responsibility of Canadian hospitality squarely on the shoulders of each citizen.

Little things make big impressions. A visitor who thinks he has been treated in a discourteous way at the border or somewhere inland, can do Canada much harm by spreading his complaint among the friends back home. Incidents of this kind, when multiplied, are important in their effects. One man's statement can easily keep three dozen others from coming to Canada. How important it is, then, that everything possible be done to avoid distressing incidents of even the most minor kind. Border regulations should not be severe and, above all things, officers of both the Customs and Immigration service should be encouraged to use their discretion rather than to stick to the actual letter of the rules at all times.—Border Cities Star.

NEWS OF OUR OWN VILLAGE

Circus day has come and gone in our midst, but Rolly Denne's fall fair aint but a little more than a week away, so the villagers is all agog and looking for more excitement at the same.

Trade Note: Among our busiest industries at the time of writing is the beverage rooms in the village taverns, although it looks like O. A. Langley, our magistrate, may soon be running them a close race if the boys don't behave.

Some of the folks working for the government of this fair province is afraid to open their mail these days, your scribe gleans, owing to Mitch Hepburn's habit of cutting off heads with short notice, if any.

A fellow from up near Lindsay, west of us, tried to drive his horseless carriage into Fred Tuggey's swimming pool the other nite. Evidently his only experience with water had been with the Scugog, and he didn't know a real river when he seen one.

Our ball team give the lads from Kingston, east of here, a fine shellacking Mon., Us getting 5 and Them none, and thus made a perfect Civick Holiday for the folks what stayed in the old home town for the day. Three cheers, and rousing ones too, say we, approvingly.

With new horseless buses chugging around in our midst villagers will be inclined to highhat friends from other parts where transportation clings to the prknitive, so to speak.

Pumpkins aint expected to be so big as usual at Rolly Denne's fall fair week after next, but the attendance should be bigger, and anyway they don't pay off in pumpkins.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

FRANCE.

SOCIALISM and Communism are the strangest of bed-fellows. In France they have found a united front. A united front has been formed, but they have not coalesced. They are not one. They remain two. Thinking together and acting together may rub out some of the differences. Agreement to co-operate for the protection of the working class is the motive. February, 1934, was a month of workers' riots. Then it was that the leaders of both parties came to the conclusion that co-operation was crucial. If the workers were to receive justice and the open acknowledgment of inherent rights, unity of action was imperative. The one-day strike on February the 12th was a convincing proof of the workers' unanimity, and of their strength.

The Domergue government is reactionary. Entrenched Capitalism dictates to Domergue. The policy of the government is one of pitiless deflation. Wages of the workmen have been chiselled to the marrow. If the workers tamely submitted, the social conditions of the masses would lead to another French revolution. Co-operation of Communists and Socialists has blessed France with some calm. It is the calm of a government afraid to carry out its policy. Storms arise out of the deepest calm. Wages must be adjusted. French workmen demand a living wage.

Take this to heart. It indicates a trend. Democracy is not losing out. Who would even suspect that Socialism and Communism had any concern about the fate of Democracy? In the Co-operative Agreement there is one article that will hold your attention. In co-operation both parties have agreed to stand in defence of "Democratic Liberties". Domergue's chief embarrassment is not in dealing with Germany. He is reducing the taxes of the rich. More burdens are placed on the working classes. France is in need of billions of dollars to pay her just obligations. France refusing to pay any more war debts to the United States before the whole war debt matter has been compromised, may lead the French workers to refuse to pay the higher taxes levied by the Domergue government. From this angle trouble is brewing.

Persistent efforts have been made to root Fascism in France. Between Italy and France there is rivalry and jealousy. Italy wants her navy ratio changed. Parity with France is her demand. France says "No". Her word is adamant. The introduction of Fascism into France is an undermining Italian movement. One factor, in making possible the rapprochement between the Socialists and the Communists in France, is to uproot Fascism already planted in French soil, and to prevent any more propaganda. When diplomacy fails intrigue undertakes to accomplish. In European affairs there is altogether too much intrigue. Intrigue is cunning, and craftiness, and duplicity and concealment all in one. No wonder Europe is a political mess.

The French people have but little chance to express themselves on national affairs. Nearly all government decisions are made through emergency decrees. Both Communists and Socialists are concerned about not having more responsibility in parliamentary action. Should wisdom prevail in their councels the confidence of the masses of the people will turn to them in crisis hours. Fasciam is breaking down in Italy and in Germany. On the economic field it cannot be made a success. This fact is so evident in both nations that the misgiving felt in Great Britain and in the United States is groundless.

This story leads on to the setting forth of the ideals of Communism and Socialism. They have several important common aims. One ideal is the abolition of private property. Both advocate the public ownership of the means to production. Another is the adoption of a method by which the income of all classes of society shall be equalized. The claim is made that the humbler classes of society would be benefitted physically and intellectually.

Here the ectype ends. The means to bring in the new way of life are in sharp contrast. Socialists teach by peaceful procedure. The people, and especially the workers, and the consumers, and the voters are to be taught, and to be practised in the technique of Socialism. Thus educated and organized, legislation for the welfare of every individual in society will be peacefully accomplished. The State is to become the owner of the means of production. The transition from the private owner to the State is to be gradual. Taxes on large incomes to be high. Inheritance taxes are to be practically confiscatory. The purchase money will thus in short time return to the State.

The methods advocated by Communists are violence, and defiance of the law. Capitalism just or predatory is denounced. Revolution alone can change the social structure, so strongly entrenched is Capitalism. All classes must be levelled. Property is to be confiscated. The workers are urged to prepare to bring in the new day by rising en masse, and by driving out all office holders. Dictatorship of the proletariat is to displace all other forms of government and to continue until all classes have been levelled. For Communism and Socialism to form a united front in France or in any other nation is a token of the might of peace today.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

OTTAWA, ONT.

The name of the capital city of Canada is derived from that of an Indian tribe which lived at the north end of Lake Huron and only came down the Ottawa River periodically to trade with Montreal merchants.

This tribe was referred to as far back as 1654 as Outaouak, later as Outaoua, but from 1700 the present spelling was used.

The city was originally called Bytown, after Col. John By, the Royal Engineer in charge of construction of the Rideau Canal. It was incorporated as the village of Bytown in 1827, but the name was changed to its present style in 1854, when the city of Ottawa was incorporated.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

END OF A BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

On this date, fifty years ago, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council gave judgment which ended a long drawn out dispute as to the boundary between Ontario and Manitoba. The history of the matter has been told in succinct form by L. J. Burpee, of Ottawa, whose aids to Canadian history in so many phases has made him a benefactor of all students of history. Mr. Burpee wrote:

"The Ontario-Manitoba boundary dispute began in 1871 in an entirely friendly agreement between Sir John A. Macdonald, for the Dominion and John Sandfield Macdonald, for Ontario, to appoint commissioners to define the northern and western boundaries of Ontario. It rapidly, however, assumed a political complexion, when Macdonald proposed, and Blake refused, the height of land as the northern boundary, and a line about six miles east of Port Arthur as the western boundary. Macdonald suggested an appeal to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, but Blake preferred a Canadian commission. When Mackenzie succeeded Macdonald, Sir Francis Hincks, Chief Justice Harrison and Sir Edward Thornton were appointed commissioners to arbitrate the question. Their unanimous award in 1878 put the western boundary a little west of the Lake of the Woods and the northern along the line of the lakes and rivers some distance beyond the height of land.

"Macdonald, on his return to power, refused to accept the award; and a long duel began between him and Sir Oliver Mowat. Quebec objected to the increase of territory to Ontario unless her boundaries were also extended; and Manitoba was brought into the dispute because Macdonald supported her claim to the disputed territory between Lake Superior and her existing eastern boundary. In 1883 both provinces tried to take possession of the area in dispute, their respective police clashed, and the situation grew so intolerable, that the two provinces agreed on a special case to the Judicial Committee, which on this date in 1884 decided in favor of Ontario.

"Mowat's stand for the rights of Ontario made him the acclaimed hero of that province. He had already been premier for 12 years. He remained for 12 years longer and could have stayed until his death had not Laurier persuaded him to join the Federal cabinet in 1896 as minister of justice. Mowat's slogan, 'Hands Off Ontario!' was justified by the highest court in the realm."

THINGS TO TALK ABOUT.

Does the "sensitive individual" get a better break from life than the duller fellow? Does the greater intensity of his pleasure make amends for the greater intensity of his pain?

Does spanking do any good?

What's the use of dieting?

Can a man, by taking good care of himself, increase the span of his life?

If you didn't have to work, what WOULD you do? Would you be happy?

Is joy higher or lower in the scale of human emotions than grief?

People are always talking about the "terrific tempo of modern life"—but is it actually any faster, for the average man, than for his grandfather?

He resided in this city for some years moving to the West in 1909, and while here he was most active as a sportsman. Several years ago he suffered a stroke, and since then had been declining in health.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

Approximate prices track shipping point— Wheat, 87c to 92c; oats, 35c to 38c; barley, 50c to 53c; corn, 80c to 82c; rye, 55c to 57c; buckwheat, 60c to 62c.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Uncertainty over the eventual effect of nationalization of United States silver did much to bring about sharp reactions in grain values yesterday. The reactions came both early and late with intermittent bulges in which wheat, corn, oats and barley outdid for the fifth successive day the season's high price records.

Corn led yesterday's advances owing to correct general belief that August Government crop estimates due after the close of trading would show terrific shrinkage of yields. On the other hand a pronounced disposition in many quarters was apparent to regard inflationary consequences of silver nationalization as likely to prove a good deal less striking than at first was expected.

Wheat closed weak, 1¼c to 1⅝c under Thursday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅝c higher, oats ⅝c off to ⅝c up, andprovisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 12c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Eggs were slightly higher, while butter and cheese tended lower on the Montreal produce market yesterday.

Graded shipments of Ontario eggs in less than carlots were up ¼c on the top grades, being quoted at 23c to 23½c a dozen for A-large, 21½c to 22½c for A-medium, 19c to 19½c for "B," and 18½c to 19c for "C." Western eggs in carlots were steady at 21½c for A-large, 20½c for A-medium, 19c to 19¼c for "B," and 18c to 18¼c for "C." Receipts were 1,132 cases.

No. 1 graded butter, in carlots or less, was off ¼c at 18½c a pound. To retailers solids were 20c and prints 21c a pound. A total of 1,183 boxes arrived.

Cheese eased ¼c at 10c to 10¼c a pound for No. 1 Ontario and 9½c to 9¾c for Quebec. Arrivals were 5,135 boxes.

New Quebec potatoes remained unchanged at 5c to 60c per 80-pound bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

The wheat market failed to digest heavy outside selling that entered the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, and, after establishing new highs, futures quotations dipped to close 1¼c to ⅞c under the previous finish.

October wheat closed at 93⅝c, December at 96c, and May option, after touching $1.00½, ended at 99c.

Export demand for Canadian wheat was limited to 500,000 bushels, and prices lost ground after Chicago selling struck the market aground mid-season. Liverpool strength imparted firmness at the start.

The English market was up 1d to 1⅛d at the close. Buenos Aires made further advances, but Chicago wheat declined.

Trade over the entire session was quite heavy, although there was a lull in the closing stages.

Cash and coarse grains displayed firmness.

WINNIPEG WHEAT IS DOWN 3 CENTS

Grain Recovers Half of Early Session on Exporter's Demand.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11 — (C. P.)— Wheat prices tumbled six cents on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today but recovered nearly half the decline as exporters augumented their supplies from Canadian stocks. At mid-season the market was 3½ to 3¾ cents lower.

An increase of 6,000,000 bushels in the United States estimate as compared to the estimate one month ago sent Liverpool wheat downwards and brought heavy liquidation to the Winnipeg pit. Chicago slumped five cents and then recovered about half the loss.

Wild trading had become quite orderly on the Winnipeg market by mid-season with October wheat at 90¼ cents, December at 91⅛ and May at 95⅛ cents.

Bottom Falls Out Of Winnipeg Mart

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.— (CP) — The bottom dropped out of the wheat market on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today as traders interpreted the United States government crop report and the Canadian Government report on crop conditions as bearish. Opening quotations showed futures prices 2¾-6 cents under the previous close.

Liverpool cables came 2⅞ lower. Chicago dropped the five-cent limit and in the rush to liquidate their holdings longs poured wheat in to the Winnipeg pit.

October and December futures dropped 2¾ and four to six .... cents respectively, starting at 91-89 cents with no regard for carrying charges. May wheat opened at 95-94 cents.

SILVER METAL REGAINS FORMER HEIGHTS IN THE WESTERN WORLD FOR FIRST TIME IN SIXTY YEARS

Fall From Favor Began in 1873 When Germany Demonetized Metal.

AFFECT FOREIGN TRADE.

U. S. Will Rank With China and Japan as Consumer if They Carry Out Buying Plan.

(By W. R. Huff, Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP).—Silver climbed back to a position of monetary importance in the western hemisphere today, for the first time in 60 years, as the result of President Roosevelt's nationalization of the metal.

The "Silverites," or advocates of silver monetization, triumphed thus over the opposition of many leading economists in Wall Street and elsewhere.

Silver's fall from monetary favor began back in 1873 when Germany demonetized the metal after adopting the gold standard two years earlier. Great Britain went on the gold standard in 1816. Toward the end of the 19th century, France, the Netherlands, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries took action of one kind or another which deprived silver of its monetary status.

In 1874, the United States dropped the silver dollar from its coinage system. During the 90's, Austria-Hungary, India, Russia and Japan chose the gold standard to the exclusion of silver.

Steady Crumbling.

Ever since 1 173 (except for the war period), the price of silver had crumbled until, in 1933, a reverse movement began which carried the price up 100 per cent. from the record low.

Ever since 1873, silver has been the bitterest financial bone of controversy.

The silverites assert that a rising silver price would increase their purchasing power and the opposition argues, with equal force, that an appreciating currency would reduce the ability of China to export abroad and therefore would restrict its ability to buy abroad, foreign trade consisting, in the final analysis of an exchange of goods.

If the United States should carry out its plan to buy enough silver to equal 25 per cent. of total metallic reserves, it would begin to rank with China and India as a consumer of the white metal.

Between them, China and India possess billions of ounces of the metal. No one can even guess how much has been bought and hoarded and turned into trinkets and baubles for the natives to wear.

The floating supply of silver, on the other hand, is relatively limited. The exact amount is not known to bankers here, but the total is considerably less, it is thought, than the 1,000,000,000 or more ounces which the treasury may have to obtain to complete its programme.

Brewing Corporation pfd. worked back ⅝ to 31.

In the oils McColl pfd. dropped a half point and Supertest preferred sagged more than a point to 20½.

Canners A lost a half point and Weston's common added that amount. The implement stocks remained steady with fair turnover for Massey Harris.

One on the Clerk

The telephone in a well known George street cigar store rang last night.

The clerk on duty answered.

"Have you got Prince Albert in the can?" an innocent female voice inquired.

"Yes, we have."

"Well, let him out," the caller ordered, hanging up.

Some fun, eh? Heh! heh! heh! But did the clerk laugh? No. It was the seventh time that gag has been pulled on him in the past month. He doesn't dare handle the calls as he would like to for fear some day someone will want to know if he has Prince Albert in the can.

Divine Belief Winning Battle For Pastor As He Defies Death With Rattler Bite

SYLVIA, N. C., Aug. 11.—(A.P.).—Credulous residents of the Balsom mountain fastnesses watched with awe to-day the workings of the "faith cure" on Albert Teester, 39-year-old holiness preacher who braved a rattlesnake's fangs to prove the power of divine belief.

"God will take care of it," the writhing Teester told his backwoods flock after the reptile had struck him twice Sunday night as he held it aloft in his pulpit.

Spurning medical care, as did his wife as she died of child birth several years ago, Teester said he handled the snake because Christ, as quoted in Luke 16, said "Thou shalt take up serpents."

His arm swelled to bursting. His tongue filled his mouth His neck and back inflamed. But he still held to the efficacy of faith as opposed to medical care.

And to-day he appeared to be recovering.

DOOR TO EXPAND U.S. CURRENCY BY SILVER-BACKED DOLLAR, OPEN

Gov't Announces It Will Print Certificates on Basis $1.29 an Ounce.

ENOUGH TO EQUAL COST.

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. —(CP)— The door to expansion of the United States currency through issuance of silver-backed dollars was open today, but the Roosevelt government stressed it had no immediate intention of taking such a step.

By proclamation, the federal treasury announced last night that silver certificates would be printed on the basis of the statutory price of $1.29 an ounce. That order displaced the previous issuance of such currency at silver's American cost price of $50.01 cents.

Thus the treasury was armed with the means of printing 2½ times the number of certificates it could previously, but it was stated they would not all go into circulation.

Enough to Equal Cost

An official statement said:

"For the present, the treasury will issue against this (already held) silver, an aggregate face amount of certificates equal only to its cost."

Certificates were now being printed against 62,000,000 ounces of silver, a treasury statement said. Cost of this silver, which includes some accepted in partial payment of war debts, was $46, 900,000. Certificates to the amount of the cost price — the latter figure—would be put into circulation, while the difference between the cost and face amount on the basis of $1.29 per ounce — rough $30,000,000—would be held in the treasury and shown on the daily Treasury Statement as seigniorage, or profit.

The statement pointed out that the plan to print these silver certificates at a ratio of 2½ times the cost of the metal to the Government applied at present only to silver now held. Silver acquired in the future, including that under the nationalization order issued Thursday, also would be valued at $1.29, but "for the present" currency printed against such metal would be on the basis of the cost of 50.01.

Wondering

To the man in the street, this latest currency step of the "new deal" government, and its possible ramifications, were far from clear.

It seemed only future trends and policies could determine how much actual expansion of U.S. dollars in circulation would grow from last night's announcement.

One point which no doubt troubled merchants and others with international commitments was the manner in which the new silver dollars would be received in other countries should the treasury start releasing its "silver profit dollars." If that situation arose, the world price of silver seemingly would have to be $1.29 before the U.S. silver certificates could be worth 100 cents on the dollar in word markets.

The New York Times touched on that point from a different angle. Discussing the government's silver purchases, it pointed out that what counts in maintaining a gold standard is the reserve of gold, then added:

"Silver, regardless of the 'monetary value' of $1.29 assigned to it by present legislation, would have only the value for which it could be resold to the world markets, and that would probably be far less than the extravagant price our government had paid for it."

DROUGHT BREAKS

Oklahoma. Earlier in the week, 36 victims were listed.

At Nowata, Okla., the temperature soared to 118, the highest ever reported there. Kansas City had an official high of 110, Oklahoma 104, St. Joseph, Mo., 109.6, and Manhattan, Kan., 114. St. Louis had 106.

In Dallas, Tex., a 21 year drought record was broken. The 97th day was passed with only .76 of an inch of precipitation. Only scattered showers were reported throughout Texas, with high temperatures still prevailing.

In sharp contrast to this some residents of San Francisco were wearing overcoats last night when fog put a fall snap into the air.

FORD TO BUY EDISON'S TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENTS

FORT ERIE, August 11. — (C.P.) —Some sixty years ago when the late Thomas Edison, then employed on the old Buffalo and Goderich Line of the Grand Trunk Railway, was learning to telegraph, he and Malcolm Colcleugh, for many years superintendent of International Railway Bridge between Black Rock and Buffalo, used to exchange brief telegraph flashes, as Mr. Edison, just graduating from a job as "train butcher" was learning the Morse code. Those instruments on which Edison learned the mysteries of dots and dashes, have long since been a treasured relic in the Colcleugh family here.

Negotiations were recently opened by Henry Ford's secretary covering their purchase, and to-day it was announced a grandson, Gordon Colcleugh, himself a telegraph operator, will receive an undisclosed sum for the instruments.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP).— Fresh buying of the non-ferrous metals gave the stock market a little firmer appearance to-day, but the rest of the list was all but neglected, and virtually unchanged. The closing tone was steady. Transfers for the two-hour session were only about 300,000 shares.

The federal issues declined rather sharply, and the dollar weakened in foreign exchange dealings. These were accepted as inflation signals but commodities, which should have gone up if the markets generally had been gripped by inflationary expectations, declined sharply.

Among shares of Canadian companies, aside from renewed firmness in Dome and McIntyre, changes were narrow. Canadian Pacific ruled about even, while International Nickel improved fractionally. On the curb Lake Shore and Hiram Walker were steady. Dominion Government bonds were quiet.

GOOD APPLE YIELD

Workers bored through a seam 67 inches thick it was discovered at a depth of 450 feet, less than 100 yards from the shoreline.

SILVER SPOONS, WATCHES, DIMES SAFE FROM U. S. GOVERNMENT

Exact Amount of Metal Called in Will Depend on Gold Stock Variations.

HOLD SHARE IN VAULTS

(By William L. Beale, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

WASHINGTON, August 11. — United States citizens may hold on to their silver spoons, watches and dimes. The government doesn't want them; and they need not expect their quarters and half dollars to turn into any different kind of money tomorrow from what they are today.

These things were not changed by the presidential order nationalizing silver stocks.

What Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenthau are doing is calling into the treasury stocks of bullion silver traded in on the commercial markets. These stocks may range anywhere from 45,000,000 to 250,000,000 ounces.

Buying in this silver at the rate of 50.01 cents an ounce, is what is meant by "nationalizing" silver. It is taking government ownership of floating commercial stocks not being used in industry and commerce.

Amount Depends on Gold

The president's order is part of the administrative work in carrying out the Act of Congress directing the treasury to build up a stock of silver which in relation to the gold stock will be one to three. The exact amount will depend on the variations in the gold stock, which now exceeds $7,000,000,000.

In giving this order Congress gave the President authority to take over domestic silver stocks at a price of 50 cents an ounce. That is what the President did yesterday.

The coinage value of silver is $1.2929 an ounce. That means one ounce of silver will be coined into $1.2929 in silver dollars.

But since Congress held the price to half a dollar, the treasury is not paying the coinage value. It keeps for the government 61 8-25 per cent. of the $1.2929, and pays the silver holder the remainder—50.01 cents.

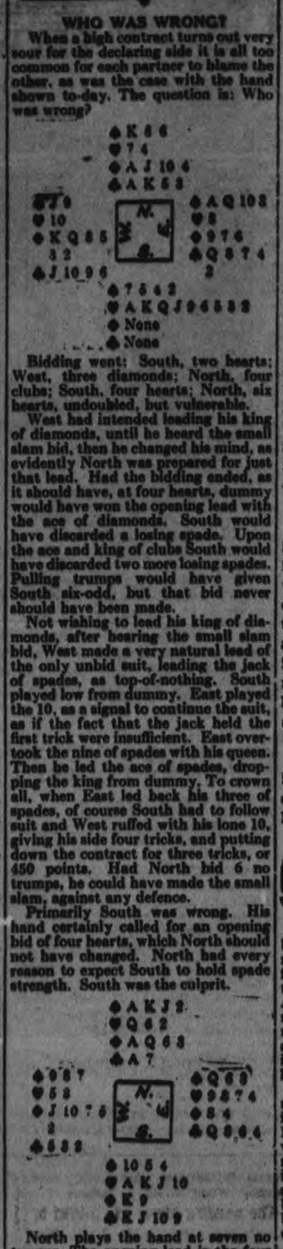
The Government's share is held in the vaults. The rest of the silver is coined into silver dollars.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Written for General Press
By E. V. SHEPARD

WHO WAS WRONG?

When a high contract turns out very sour for the declaring side it is all too common for each partner to blame the other, as was the case with the hand shown to-day. The question is: Who was wrong?



Bidding went: South, two hearts; West, three diamonds; North, four clubs; South, four hearts; North, six hearts, undoubled, but vulnerable.

West had intended leading his king of diamonds, until he heard the small slam bid, then he changed his mind, as evidently North was prepared for just that lead. Had the bidding ended, as it should have, at four hearts, dummy would have won the opening lead with the ace of diamonds. South would have discarded a losing spade. Upon the ace and king of clubs South would have discarded two more losing spades. Pulling trumps would have given South six-odd, but that bid never should have been made.

Not wishing to lead his king of diamonds, after hearing the small slam bid, West made a very natural lead of the only unbid suit, leading the jack of spades, as top-of-nothing. South played low from dummy. East played the 10, as a signal to continue the suit, as if the fact that the jack held the first trick were insufficient. East overtook the nine of spades with his queen. Then he led the ace of spades, dropping the king from dummy. To crown all, when East led back his three of spades, of course South had to follow suit and West ruffed with his lone 10, giving his side four tricks, and putting down the contract for three tricks, or 450 points. Had North bid 6 no trumps, he could have made the small slam, against any defence.

Primarily South was wrong. His hand certainly called for an opening bid of four hearts, which North should not have changed. North had every reason to expect South to hold spade strength. South was the culprit.

North plays the hand at seven no trumps. The opening lead is the four of clubs. Before Monday see how many can be made against any subsequent defence.

Lamb Stew With Vegetables
Raw Vegetable Salad
Rice Pudding With Lemon Sauce
Iced Tea

I have included recipes for cooling summer drinks in today's menus. They are nice to serve, when callers come, whether in the afternoon or evening

Today's Recipes.

Rice Pudding with Lemon Sauce.—One cup rice, one cup sugar, four eggs, one quart milk, one teaspoon melted butter, one teaspoon vanilla. Cook rice in boiling water, drain. Beat eggs well, add sugar, milk, butter, vanilla and a pinch of salt. Add rice and bake in 350 degrees until set and browned, about one hour. Sauce: One-half cup sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, one cup boiling water, two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons lemon juice. Cook the cornstarch, sugar and water over hot water for 20 minutes. Add butter and lemon juice with a dash of nutmeg.

Pineapple Lemonade. — One cup sugar, one pint water, one No. 2 can crushed pineapple, juice of two lemons, one orange; one quart gingerale. Boil sugar and water ten minutes, add pineapple and fruit juice. Chill and add gingerale just before serving.

Golden Goblet.—Steep one teaspoon tea for two minutes in one cup boiling water, strain. Add four tablespoons sugar and cool. Press one eight-ounce can apricots through sieve and add one cup orange juice and four tablespoons lemon juice. Serve over crushed ice with a garnish of sliced orange. Makes three cups.

Undercrust.

Warming a pan before putting in the undercrust of a pie keeps the crust from becoming soft and soggy when it is baking.

PLANT PICKETED

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 11. (AP).—Picket lines surrounded three strike-closed Aluminum Company of America plants in the Pittsburgh district to-day, marking the first day in an employees' walkout in which two men already have been injured and another arrested.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

There are straws which show which way the August wind of fashion is blowing, for straw in various guises is in vogue. It has been a long time since straw matting was in style. Today it is found not in the former guise nor for entire floor coverings, but for all sorts of household furnishings and accessories.

* * * * * * *

Mats, instead of being for the floor, are for the beach. They are light weight, roll into small compass for carrying and are used as beach mattresses when spread out on the sands. They protect from sand, and are particularly used by bathers who like to lie about on the beach without getting wet suits and sand covered which necessitate another plunge into the water to wash it off.

* * * * * * *

The straw matting which comes about cartons and chests of imported tea is excellent for these straw mattresses. If several pieces of this matting are sewed together they are used for protection against too hot sun on the beach, the four corners are nailed to posts which are thrust down firmly into the beach. Such an awning with its crude rusticity might have come from some South Sea island. It looks comforting and can be homemade, naturally, but is not easily portable. It certainly shows the drift of straw into fashion.

* * * * * * *

Straw hats for summer breakfast, luncheon, and supper tables have held a high place in favor this season showing a gain over last year both in vogue and variety. Tea matting types are to be found although the weave is finer and closer. Bound edges supply firmness and a note of decoration sometimes. There are several styles in this type. Among them there are those with evenly turned edges requiring no binding for strength nor ornament. These matting sets are newer than raffia, which is, of course, included in the straw vogue. Rusticity is not featured in raffia mats but a peasant decoration, some of which is handsome of its kind. Colors are beautifully combined. Raffia is much in evidence. There are trays of it in a great number of styles, and in many types of straw.

* * * * * * *

Straw is indeed in favor. One reason why it appeals to homemakers is that it can be kept clean with a minimum amount of work. Wiping off with a damp cloth will keep the material spotless, and anything like laundry work is eliminated.

BE BEAUTIFUL

Over in Cannes, that famous French beach resort, when a really smart woman now drops into a beauty salon for a facial, she doesn't expect the treatment to include her face alone. A facial, in that part of the globe, means not only a beautifying treatment for the face, but for the shoulders and back as well. And the treatment is a mighty popular one among the habitues of that gay resort.

Over in this country, some of the more progressive salons are now starting such treatments. But personally, I wish more of them would. For it would certainly help to make women more back-conscious. Unshapely, blemished backs are too, too ugly. And yet so many women expose such backs because of their liking for the backless bathing suits and frocks included in our summer styles.

Always make sure that your back is smooth and clear-skinned before you ever expose it. Pimples and rashes that break out on the back are usually due to improper diet. When large amounts of rich, heavy foods, sweets and starches are eaten, the blood stream becomes polluted with poisons. If the back is marred with blemishes the diet should be simplified. It should consist chiefly of fresh fruits and vegetables. Bran, agar, onions, spinach, oranges, figs, dates and the like should be eaten liberally. And plenty of water should be imbibed each day.

A vigorous cleansing of the back is also necessary each day so that the pores are kept free from all impurities. This can best be administered when taking the nightly bath. Before you step into your tub of water, apply a generous coating of cleansing cream to your back. Massage it well into the skin, and then step into your tub of warm water.

Relax in the water for a bit so that its warmth will stimulate the activity of the pores and enhance the cleansing abilities of the cream. Then scrub your back vigorously with a pure, bland soap, using a long-handled brush. And after the bath, apply a good, soothing astringent to your back. Such an astringent will not only close the pores and tone up the skin, but will also prove very soothing and healing for any blemishes on the back.

Camomile Tea Rinse

Karen: Boil a handful of camomile flower in a pint of water. Then strain the mixture through cheesecloth, and add a pint of clear water to the resultant solution.

Reducing

Ruth S.: Constipation may indeed be a cause of overweight. You will find full information on correcting constipation and reducing weight in my "New Figure" booklet. The information is too long to print here.

Superfluous Hair

Theresa: The superfluous hair bleach to which you refer is composed of two teaspoons of peroxide and half a teaspoon of ordinary household ammonia.

Editor's Note: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlets on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture" write, care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, and ten cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling.

Baptists In Berlin Rap State Meddling

BERLIN, Aug. 11 (A.P.)—Blows at state interference with religion and "unfair discrimination toward Jews" were the final acts of the Baptist World Congress, closing its convention in Germany.

"This congress deplores and condemns as a violation of the law of God, our heavenly Father," said one resolution, "all racial animosity in every form, oppression, unfair discrimination toward Jews, the colored people or subject races in any part of the world."

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Your Health

by DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The medical exhibits in the Hall of Science at the Century of Progress at Chicago this year are about the same as they were last year, but are more completely set up. One, which was entirely new to me, was the exhibit of the University of Michigan on diseases of the blood, an outcome of the work of the Simpson Memorial institute, at Ann Arbor, for the study of blood diseases.

It shows in small space a remarkably complete demonstration of the physiology of the blood and of its diseases. You see wax models of six quart bottles filled with blood, the amount which is in an average human being's body. The different types of blood cells, not only in man, but in other animals, are shown by wax models. These are magnified about 3,000 times, but modeled to scale so that you can see the comparative size of blood cells in different animals. The curious thing is that the blood cell of an elephant is smaller than that of a man, and hardly one-fifth the size of that of a frog.

The origin of the blood from the bone marrow, with the development of the red blood cell, showing how it loses its nucleus to become an adult cell, is beautifully clear. The relation of the stomach and the liver to blood formation is shown in a chart, and this explains the reason for the value of liver extract in anemia.

Finally, a picture of the Simpons Memorial building, with models illustrating the difference in the outlook for pernicious anemia now and as it was 10 years ago, brings vividly to mind the fact that this disease has lost its terror.

The other exhibit which I missed last year was the marvelous demonstration of microscopic water life. Hanging drops of pond water are placed under microscopes and projected on the walls of a darkened amphitheater. Visitors can walk around on a runway in front of these and study them at their leisure. The tiny animals are alive on the stage of the microscope behind you, and their gyrations enlarged thousands of times on the screen make you understand the teeming life of ordinary pond water.

Other exhibits which can be recommended are the Italian exhibit which shows the major influence which Italian physicians had on medical discovery. It is remarkable how many important medical advances were initiated by Italian physicians.

Another exhibit is a graphic illustration of great events in the history of medicine. The little cottage where Jenner proved that smallpox could be prevented, the hut where Manson robbed the tropics of their terror, the hospital where Florence Nightingale opened a new profession for women—all are here brought to life.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

John Grant, Bridgenorth, Ont.

Your handwriting portrays a rather delicate constitution. It would be well for you to give this serious consideration and attention. You are inclined to be quick tempered at times, yet you can be most sympathetic and generous when you want to be. Usually, your type have great courage, and drive themselves on to more definite attainment in life than many people who possess far greater physical strength. This characteristic has a tendency to rob them of health, and undermine the already delicate nerve centers; this, in turn, causes them to speak quickly, and I am afraid some times quite sarcastically when in reality they have no intention of hurting their friends. They usually are fond of music and fine arts, but can become very jealous of competition in any line.

One with your type of fine writing, with its uneven spacing and generous capitals, will be short tempered and impatient. No doubt you will admit that you do not enjoy having your weak points brought to your attention, yet you will be fair enough with me to smile over the above when you are alone, because you asked especially for all knowledge about yourself that it was in my power to delineate through your writing.

Your lucky number is four. You will find that many noted engineers, political leaders and mechanical men are born under the four vibration.

Your birthsign is Aries The Ram. You are ruled by Mars, and this should give you a fighting spirit, for Mars people as a rule persevere.

Your best day is Tuesday. Your most fortunate months are June and July.

Your Destiny number is also a four, and creates the ability to reason things out for yourself.

Your talent number is three, and gives you just sufficient artistic temperament with which to creat a desire for self expression. It also makes you enjoy social good times.

Your personality number is six. This number makes you reliable, competent and wholesouled, and attracting to others who desire your sympathy.

Your numbers correspond exactly to the delineation of your writing, so you should be a most interesting person.

Mrs. F. D. Relland, King Street, Preston, Ont.

Your handwriting reveals a pleasant nature when not pressed too heavily by the cares of the day, for when you are, you are very much inclined to worry, and cross many bridges which are non-existant. You are steady, reliable and honest. You can adapt yourself very easily to circumstances, but you cannot, and will not, accept all types of people as friends. You seem to probe deeply into the innermost thoughts of some people, and search for a reason for this and that, this in turn makes you just a little suspicious of the motives of certain deeds, and you wonder if people only do things for you because they expect you to do more in return. Don't you?

Your type, as a rule, make splendid housekeepers (in their own homes) not as in service. They also have the ability to teach as in school. They are most affectionate, but try to hide their emotions, fearing to be thought silly or easy-going, for simple expressions of devotion or love. Very often they are thought to be 'cold' when the heart is longing to grant emotional expression, in action or words, but they cannot allow themselves that privilege, though they respond heartily to deeds of kindness which are done for them by others.

Your writing reveals the ability to undertake responsibility, and really love being independent. It also shows that you would be most energetic and persevering, serious as to thought, generally diplomatic, and a tireless worker. You would be rather careful with money, and nearly always (if you have your way) put something away for a rainy day.

Many designers and milliners are classed under your type of writing.

Your birthsign is Capricorn The Goat. You are ruled by Saturn. March and November are your most fortunate months for important undertakings. Tuesday and Saturday are your lucky days. Six is your lucky number according to numerology.

Miss Rita Andrews,
Box 63, Post Office,
Norwood, Ont.

Your handwriting shows that you have a changeable disposition, and that you are not quite definite as to your future ambitions as yet. I might suggest that you endeavour to build up your constitution by physical culture, and so create a resistance to the cold in the coming winter, for it appears to me that you would be easily subject to head and throat colds.

Your capital 'J' portrays a characteristic which would be worth cultivating, that of leadership, either in teaching or selling as in store work, later on.

You have rather too much imagination, and this is depicted in the 't's' with their tall upstroke and soft light crossing. Your will power at present is not at all well pronounced, but may be developed with concentration, and determination.

You seem to enjoy social events, but become very easily tired, and then the affairs seem to be only troublesome and not even worth dressing for.

I think that you are quite a young person, and that many of the above characteristics will be developed into something strong as you grow older. I would advise you to study the psychology of color, and then study your natural complexion (using no make-up) for I do not think that your type would require any. Bring out your natural beauty through care of the eyes, skin and hair, and excellent knowledge of correct colors in dress. Try to avoid anything flashy, but make neatness your key-note.

Archdeacon Snowden Lauds Late Primate

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(C.P.)—Tribute to Most Rev. C. L. Worrell, Primate of the Church of England in Canada, who died at Halifax last evening, was paid here last night by Venerable Archdeacon J. M. Snowdon on behalf of the clergy and laity of the Archdiocese of Ottawa in the absence in England of Archbishop J. C. Roper of Ottawa, Metropolician of Ontario.

"The late Primate was a man of quiet and unobtrusive disposition, who did not take a specially active part in the synods and other church gathering before, by unanimous vote of the last General Synod, he was elected Primate of the Church of England in Canada," said Archdeacon Snowdon.

"Since his election he was most faithful at the meetings of the several boards of the church and the executive council, where he proved himself to be one of the most able presiding officers in the history of the church. Always courteous, but firm in his decisions, his wise leadership even in the short time that he occupied the position of Primate, has left a record that will not soon be forgotten by those who had the privilege of working and associating with him."

DECIDING DAY NEW ORLEANS

Troops Look on as Citizens Register for Primary Election in September.

FIGHT FOR PEACE GOES ON.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11 (AP) — Political New Orleans was tense today, as the "Battle of New Orleans" entered its 13th day of armed strife and interest turned from bullets to ballots.

Troops and ammunition, disregarded court orders, wild bullets and libelous invective strewed the battlefield of the "showdown" fight between Senator Huey P. Long and Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley.

Amid a rattle of arms such as the city has not heard since the Civil War, interest turned to the New Orleans registration office, where citizens must qualify before noon in order to vote in the September Congressional Primary election.

In that office were the troops of Senator Long, "Kingfish" dictator of State policies. Across the street, in City Hall, were the police of Mayor Walmsley, director of the New Orleans Old Regulars, one of the oldest and strongest political rings in the south. They looked into each other's guns across a narrow street.

On the names left in the voting books after noon, both sides said, depended the outcome of the election in which both Long and Walmsley are supporting rival candidates.

Civic organizations started action to conciliate the battling factions and restore the city to normalcy under a peace proposal, the terms of which were not disclosed.

There was no indication, however, that the troops would be withdrawn before election day.

Weddings

DRURY—DICKENS

The wedding of Lillian Dickens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Littlefair of Westcott street, to Mr. George N. Drury, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Drury of Elm street, was solemnized at the parsonage of George street United Church by the Rev. J. E. J. Millyard.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. J. Hopkins.

After the ceremony, a reception, attended by the immediate relatives, was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Drury have taken up residence at the Marlen Apartments in Ashburnham.

KNAPMAN—BALL

Wanstead United church, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding when Dorothy Ethel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ball, was married to Mr. John Sterling Knapman, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Knapman, of Peterborough. Rev. G. Lawrence officiated. The wedding music was played by his wife.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a long princess model gown of white satin and white tulle veil arranged in cap effect and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. Miss Clara Anderson, cousin of the bride, and Miss Zenda Ganyon, aunt of the bride, were bridesmaids, and wore frocks of blue organdie, trimmed with pink and carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

Little Marjorie Ball, sister of the bride, was flower girl in a quaint pink taffeta frock and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mr. Harold Knapman, brother of the groom, was best man and Mr. Harold Ball, brother of the bride, was usher.

Later a reception was held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Ganyon, aunt of the bride, where the bride's mother received in a flowered georgette dress, white hat and corsage of orchids. Mrs. Ganyon wore a blue georgette dress and hat and corsage of roses. Later the couple left for northern points. The bride travelled in a white ensemble of flat crepe with white accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Knapman will live in Toronto.

TURNER—ROSE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in St. James United Church, when Aileen, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Rose, became the bride of Sidney Ernest Turner of Peterborough. The Rev. J. H. Dudgeon of London officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father made a charming picture in her wedding gown of white bridal satin made long and form fitting with bouffant skirt. A short jacket of the satin was worn, with frills extending from shoulder to waist, forming loose sleeves.

Her veil was arranged in cap effect with coronet of orange blossoms and was prettily draped, ending in a long train of ivory silk hand-embroidered net. Her only ornament was a necklace of crystal. She carried a bouquet of butterfly roses and gypsophilia. White gloves and shoes completed her costume.

Miss Jean Rose, her sister's bridesmaid was lovely in a frock of pink silk georgette, made ankle length with sash ending in long streamers of pink satin ribbon. Her large white picture hat was of crochet straw with pink satin trimming. She wore white moire shoes and long white silk gloves and her bouquet was of premier roses with gypsophilia.

The groom was attended by Mr. Norris Williamson and Earl and Donald Wood acted as ushers.

The wedding music was played by the church organist, Mr. Frank Stevens, the bridal party entering to the strains of Wagner's Bridal chorus from Lohengrin. The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of gladioli, roses and ferns for the occasion.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Rose received with the bridal party, in a becoming gown of blue figured crepe.

The tea-room was very attractive the predominating color scheme being white and pink, with flowers everywhere. Assistants in serving included four friends of the bride, Mesdames A. Roeborough, P. Vannest, Wm. Anderson and Miss Jean Hammond, while Mrs. L. V. Wood poured tea.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Turner left by train for their wedding trip to Toronto and Hamilton and on their return will make their home at 196 Dalhousie street. For travelling the bride wore a royal blue ensemble with grey accessories including a lovely vicuna fox neckpiece.

BEHIND the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11. — Here's letting you in on a private laugh that Lyle Talbot has been having at the expense of Hollywood. Some of the biggest stars who now invite him to their homes once threw silver dollars, and even dimes, at Lyle—and right here in Los Angeles.

It's a page in his past that the Warner Brothers star reveals only when he is in a mellow mood, and among friends. Then Lyle will tell of the times when he sang without salary in a downtown night club run by Eddie Brandstatter, now proprietor of Sardi's, one of Hollywood's swankiest cafes.

THERE ARE
tears and smiles, shivers and heart-stirring thrills in "No Greater Glory," the Columbia production which opens for the first time at the Capitol Theatre on Saturday. If no single emotion dominates your impression, it is because this picture is a balanced drama that reflects life as you and I live it. Only it happens to be a story and a theme which no movie producer has heretofore undertaken to present.

"No Greater Glory" stands out from the ordinary run of pictures because in its making the screen play-writer did not butcher Ferenc Molnar's famous novel, "Paul Street Boys," in adapting it for the screen—instead he creates the scenes as the original author wrote them, without flinching from truth.

HOLLYWOOD IS
ever exciting because it is full of little dramas like this. Director Rouben Mamoulian wanted a Russian village blacksmith-philosopher for "We Live Again". He had to rivet the iron bands around the wrists and ankles of prisoners condemned to Siberia in the new version of the Tolstoi novel, and give them a parting word of advice.

An actor was lined up and tried out for the part, but they found he couldn't handle the sledge, hit the rivet and read his lines properly at the same time.

So, from the studio blacksmith shop; John Brunty, 72 year-old Scotchman, was recruited at a moment's notice. Made up and with only an informal rehearsal, he gave a performance that Mamoulian declares is one of the best bits of the year.

DISTINCTLY UNUSUAL
in treatment and theme describes "Channel Crossing," the Gaumont-British film to be shown at the Capitol Theatre next Monday.

"Rome Express" gave us actionful drama played on a speeding train, and "Channel Crossing" is as full of exciting incidents, the difference being that it takes place on a boat crossing from Dover to Calais.

A striking cast was assembled for this picture: Matheson Lang, Constance Cummings, Edmund Gwenn, Anthony Bushell, Dorothy Dickson, Nigel Bruce, Douglas Jeffries and Max Miller.

goes hand in hand with youthful romance, mother-love and intriguing comedy interludes, in May Robson's latest screen appearance in "You Can't Buy Everything," drama of high finance which opens at the Capitol Theatre on Monday.

The picture deals with the amazing career of a female financial wizard, who shakes Wall Street, sways the fates of banks and other institutions, and in her money-mad career forgets motherlove until an intense dramatic climax recalls to her a love more powerful than that of money.

KNICK-KNACKS—
A Chicago newspaper promoting a summer music festival sought Bing Crosby, but the crooner refused, even though they offered to send the zephyr-train all the way to the coast to carry Bing back in regal state. . . . Jimmy Cagney's fellow players will be glad when he finally completes his music lessons. The portrayer of hard-boiled roles has a portable piano carted onto his sets and practices between scenes. . . . While other stars surround themselves with bodyguards, Ann Harding made a two-day motor trip through Southern California ALONE. . . . One of the fans mags shortly will publish reproductions of a series of old song covers, and you'll die laughing at the ancient pictures of your favorite stars. . . . And the best laugh of the day is on Erich Pommer and Joe May, who are producing "Music in the Air" for Fox. They called a large group of male extras and went down the line choosing some and telling others they wouldn't do. A smart lad who got the negative nod quickly slipped on a mustache, slipped further down the line, was chosen and is still working in the picture.

20 Extra Constables Hired For Exhibition

Several hours after the Examiner appeared on the streets yesterday carrying the news that the Exhibition Board would hire 20 extra constables to police the fair grounds during exhibition week, the score of men were hired for the job. Inspector James Reid selected the men and was besieged with applicants.

The men will meet at the police station on Monday afternoon, August 20, to receive final instructions as to their duties at exhibition park. Their chief job will be to prevent "fence jumping." Inspector Reid pointed out that under the Exhibition bylaw those caught jumping the fence are liable to $20 fine.

Children From Shelter and Orphanage Enjoy Picnic Provided By Bus Company

Children of the Peterborough Shelter and St. Vincent's Orphanage together enjoyed a picnic at Chemong Lake yesterday afternoon that they will long remember.

There were gallons of lemonade and ice cream, mounds of sandwiches and cakes, fancy hats, noisemakers, and thrilling races with prizes for every competitor.

L. R. Mitchell, manager of the Peterborough Bus Company, was host at the joyful party. The children were conveyed to and from the picnic grounds by bus. Ladies of the Children's Aid Society assisted in giving the youngsters the good time.

The outing was so enjoyed by the youngsters that Mr. Mitchell stated that henceforth it will be an annual event.

One of the highlights of the day was the swim the children had along the sandy shore of the lake. They took to the water like ducks, although it was a new event in many of their young lives.

5,000,000 In China Facing Starvation

SHANGHAI, Aug. 11— (C. P. - Havas) — Five million persons are in danger of their lives from famine in various parts of China, reports arriving here indicated today as almost unprecedented drought conditions in some sections and torential rains and floods in others, struck terror into the peasant populations.

Prices of grain and rice have reached heights unknown for three years. Brigandage is rife. Famished peasant marauders roving in large bands are falling upon villages, ransacking them for every available scrap of food, then leaving the inhabitants to die of hunger.

From Hangkow it was reported that wolves and tigers, near starvation from the drought, attacked isolated peasant huts near Hupeh and devoured 10 persons.

WHAT A FALL!—Help Me is well named for here he is in sad need of aid after taking a tumble in a Saratoga steeplechase.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

THE LONGEST price of the current Hamilton meeting was recorded on Wednesday when Dan McCrimmon came down in front to the tune of $111.55 for the usual two buck investment. It was no fluke victory as he won rather easily. It is about time for Granite Rock to snap out of it and come through with a winning effort. He always was partial to the Ambitious City oval, and is in grand shape at the present time. Gay Sympathy is also up there and right on razor edge. Her second to Lineaman the other day was a dandy effort. Blue Damsel is another that is working up to a win. This one likes to go over a distance of ground.

Arthur Hallcost is leading all trainers as usual but he has not been able to get uncovered down in front as yet. He will succeed one of these days as he will not carry a horse that cannot win. The crowds at Saratoga while fairly large have not been quite as large as in previous years. The new track at Providence is being blamed for taking a lot of the patronage. The famous Equipoise is there and is being gradually brought back to racing form after his hoof ailment. They take him for long gallops each morning now in preparation for his expected meeting with Cavalcade this fall. The official name of the new track at Providence is Narragansett which is a real jaw twister. Most sporting pages including our own have just simply been calling it the Providence track which is easier to read, write, pronounce and spell.

× × ×

AT THIS new track is a sprinter called Grace Blotter who looks like the goods in one of her next few starts, also one called Lerack who is a real classy performer. Mr. Whitney also shipped his good racer Clotho down there and it is a mortal cinch that he will bring home the bacon, right smartly. This place is up-to-date in every respect and is catering to the largest crowds of any track on the continent at the present time, being so close to Boston and New York giving them plenty of population to draw from.

We don't hear any more talk of trying to run a second fourteen day meeting at Fort Erie and using the Devonshire charter. Guess some one just had a pipe dream. Over around Chicago the Hawthorne Track reports a good steady business. There is a steed at this place called Well Heeled whom we like very much. He finished second his last start and should have no trouble copping his next. Crowned Head at the same place looks headed for the winner's circle. They are expecting a number of horses from there to ship over here for the fall meetings at Woodbine and Thorncliffe next month. Le Brayere at Detroit is ready to do his stuff especially if track is a little on the heavy side although he is no slouch in fast going either. Getting back to Hamilton we would like to point out that this Canadian bred Pinesse who was winning a lot of races in the early spring and then slowed up, is rapidly regaining his top form again.

WIN AGAIN AT MILLBROOK

MILLBROOK, Aug. 11.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Port Hope failed again to appear for its scheduled game of box lacrosse in the inter-county league on Thursday evening, making it twice this week the lakeside boys have staged a disappointment. However Dinty's Inn journeyed from Peterborough, and out of courtesy the local lads, with a pick-up team, played an exhibition game, the visitors taking the top side of the score, the game closing 10-9 as the gong rang.

ROYALS THREATENING.

(By the Associated Press)

Beaten off, temporarily, in their bid for third place in the International League, Albany Senators turned toward a defense of fourth position today from the threatening advance of Montreal Royals.

Royals won the opening duel of a six-game series from the Senators last night, 8-4, and moved to within three games of the last place in the first division. Ray Frita' pitching was the principal ingredient in the Royals' triumph. He gave up 10 hits but fanned eight men. Albany rallied for two runs in the eighth to bring the score to 5-4 again; the Senators but Montreal came back with three in their half of the same frame when Billy Rhiel doubled with the bases loaded. Powell for Albany and Shevlin for Montreal clouted homers.

Toronto, in third place, cut idle Rochester's lead to two games by beating Newark Bears 7-5. The defeat cut Newark's lead over Rochester to five games at the same time. The Leafs scored all their runs in the sixth, pounding over six at the expense of Jack Larocca and another off Charley Devens who came to Larocca's rescue. Newark came back with a four-run rally in the seventh that drove Sheriff Blake to cover but Charley Lucas halted the rally.

Buffalo scored its seventh successive victory over Baltimore 7-6 in 10 innings and remained only one game back of the fifth place Royals. Bill Yohrman fanned seven men and blanked the Bisons for six frames but Buffalo made up a six-run deficit with three-run bursts in the seventh and eighth and then won out on Ollie Carnegie's 20th homer with one down in the 10th.

Rochester and Syracuse were held idle by wet grounds.

Big Six Tightens

The Big Six race tightened up considerably yesterday as Heinie Manush, the leader, failed to hit in five attempts and saw his average go tumbling down five points to .386, while most of the other leaders gained a few points each. Charley Gehringer, who walloped four hits in five attempts, captured second place from Lou Gehrig when he added five points to his mark for .371. Gehrig with two official times up without a hit, dropped a point into third-place tie with Paul Waer, who added three points to his mark with three blows in five times at bat.

Third Place Cardinals Take Decisive 17-3 Decision From Cubs.

PIRATES BEAT REDS.

The National League's "crucial" encounter saw the Cardinals draw a game closer to second place as they assaulted Chicago pitching for 21 hits, including Jim Collins' 34th homer, and defeated the Cubs 17-3. Six successive singles of Lon Warneke and Bud Tinning netted the Cards nine runs in the third while Collins' homer featured a five-run burst in the fifth.

While helping themselves, the Cards did the league leading Giants a good turn as New York took the home run route to a 6-3 triumph over the Braves and increased its lead to four games over Chicago. Mel Ott's 30th homer, which started a four-run rally in the sixth, was the biggest blow but Johnny Vergez brought in two more by the same method in that inning and Hughey Critz contributed an earlier four-ply wallop. All this went toward giving Carl Hubbell his 17th mound triumph.

Hefty hitting and one outstanding mound performance marked the day's less important games in both leagues. The Pirates gathered 18 blows off Paul Derringer but they didn't get the necessary runs to beat the Reds 8-7 until the last two innings, two doubles brought the winning run in the ninth after Paul Waner had tied the count with a circuit blow an inning before. The Dodgers pounded Philadelphia pitching for a dozen well bunched blows and turns back the Phils 5-3.

Tigers Make it Ten Straight in 6-5 Victory Over Indians.

YANKS ALSO WIN.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Sr., Associated Press Sports Writer)

Not contented with establishing a couple of season's records in the course of their recent winning streak which has given them a three-game lead in the American League pennant race, Detroit's Tigers have gone right on winning games in their last-minute style and stretching out these marks.

Yesterday's 11-inning 6-5 triumph over the third place Cleveland Indians was the 10th in succession for the club and 13th straight for Lynwood ("Schoolboy") Rowe. Their previous marks already had surpassed the best of other athletes this year but that was only a part of the story.

In the course of the 10-game streak the Tigers have had to come from behind on four different occasions to win, going into extra innings twice in the last three games and in two other contests they did most of their scoring in the late innings. Yesterday Rowe, who suffered a slight injury three days before, got into trouble in the seventh when Bob Seeds slammed a double with the bases full. But Detroit promptly rallied to tie the score in the eighth and three innings later the Schoolboy executed his favorite trick of winning his own game when he hoisted a high fly after three hits off Mell had loaded the bases.

Yankees Keep Pace

Detroit couldn't gain on that victory as the second-place Yankees belted out a 10-3 victory over the Red Sox, hitting a dozen hefty blows that gave Lefty Gomez his 19th victory of the season despite some unsteady pitching.

WAIFS STAGE NINTH FRAME RALLY TO WIN

Six Runs in Final Canto Settles See-saw Issue for Orphans.

TIMELY HITTING COUNTS.

Staging a six-run rally in the ninth inning at Central last night, Orphans beat out Johnston's Tires, 13 to 11, to cop the first game of the men's softball playoffs. A huge crowd thrilled to a highly exciting fixture and cheered the Waifs as they came from behind to grab the victory. This was a re-play of the tie game of the previous night. Next fixture will be tonight at six in Central.

Orphans got a soft five-run lead in the first frame, but were blanked then till they tallied twice in the eighth. Six runs in the last stanza gave them their total. Johnston's scored twice in the first, three times in the third and five more in the fourth. They could only get one back in the ninth. The Tinsmen played the better all-around game, out-hitting and out-fielding their opponents, but timely hitting—coupled with eleven walks—gave Orphans the nod.

The winners used three hurlers, Shine proving the best. He allowed only three hits in nearly six frames. Two twirlers saw duty for Johnston's, Price retiring in the first inning. Parsons finished and pitched great ball till he weakened in the ninth and allowed three walks and three hits, one a homer by Willshaw with the sacks loaded.

Leads With Willow

Hope topped the victors with the willow, getting three in five, Willshaw being next with a homer and single in four. Hefferman and Weese clouted doubles. For the Deckmen, Ellis had a great evening at bat, hitting a homer, triple and two singles in five times up. Starr, Stanger and McQuade got two safeties apiece. Crary and Parsons hit doubles. Fine catches were made by Jones, McQuade and Weese, while Parsons, Stanger and Miller turned in some neat defensive play.

CHANCE FOR PLAY-OFFS.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 11. —(CP)— Behind the steady hurling of "Moose" Matthews, Oshawa Dukes maintained a slim chance to finish in the play-offs in the Central Ontario Baseball League race by blanking the league-leading Nationals here last night in a twilight fixture, 6-0.

The Nationals are still leading the loop, and have to win but three of their five remaining games to make the play-off berth.

ELECTRICS TIE OMEMEE OUTFIT

Laura Bosley Ties Count at 10-all in Seventh Innings Tight Battle.

PITCHERS' DUEL.

A passed ball at the plate in the first of the seventh innings last night at Omemee, allowed Laura Bosley, C.G.E. third sacker, to score the run that tied the game ten all, and after the Ruralites had failed to tally in their half the game was called on account of darkness. The battle was a thrilling, exciting contest throughout, and only the great pitching by Marg Snowden gave the Electrics the edge in the last few innings.

Dot Sherin pitched the first frame for the homesters, and Jean Hickson, the regular hurler, took over the job in the second. The latter twirled a fine game, fanning five and allowing seven hits. She put herself in a hole in the sixth when she passed two after Newson had singled to load the sacks. A forceout tallied one run and a double by Eddie Hodson sent two more in. Dot Millar was safe at first on an error and the Electrics grabbed another run to come within one of tying. They knotted the count in the seventh. Helen Newson started for the locals, but the team failed to give her support and she retired in the third.

GLADYS CARVOLTH WINS JUNIOR LADIES' SINGLES TENNIS FINAL

Winner Plays Steadier Game to Shade Ann Macdonald in Straight Sets 6-2 and 6-2.

ALSO WIN IN DOUBES.

Gladys Carvolth won the junior ladies' singles finals in the city tennis tournament yesterday, defeating Ann Macdonald in two straight sets, 6-2 and 6-2. Play was closer than the score indicates but Miss Carvolth played the steadier game to shade her opponent in both sets.

This pair, Misses Carvolth and Macdonald, then teamed up to capture the ladies' doubles finals from Mrs. J. Dewart and Miss M. Donaldson, 3-6, 6-4 and 6-2. It was a hard fight with the losers weakening in the final set. Miss Carvolth again played a steady brand of tennis, while Miss Macdonald aided greatly in the victory two sets with an effective court crossfire and fine net play.

In men's doubles quarter-finals, Max Cotton and Jack Cowling eliminated Dan Shields and George Rishor, 6-2 and 7-5. Four doubles' semi-finals will be played Monday as follows:

Mixed doubles at four p.m. at Peterborough Club—Mrs. Dewart and M. Cotton vs. Miss Donaldson and W. Perks; men's doubles there at five—Roy Friend and Howard Hammell vs. Max Cotton and Jack Cowling—which should be a real struggle; mixed doubles, same club, at 5.30—Miss H. Jackson and W. Jackson vs. Miss Carvolth and Jack Kirkwood.

Men's doubles at five at the Kawartha Club—W. Perks and A. Ward vs. J. Donaldson and J. H. Bell.

Clever Acrobats At Ex.

One of the latest sensations has been engaged to appear at the Peterborough Exhibition this year. It is the Eugene Troupe, a quartette of splendidly built chaps, who appear in a lightning-like triple horizontal display. Each member of this famous troupe is a skilled gymnast and executes individual feats with a skill and precision that is only attained after long years of practice. Their routine is entirely original due to the fact that all four men are working on the bars simultaneously. How they miss colliding with one another during their reckless somersaulting is a positive miracle. As it is, they barely miss each other by the fraction of an inch as they bound from bar to bar. The work of the comedian in the troupe deserves special comment, for his humorous antics keep the audience in a high state of glee and serves as a high light for the tender moments during the act. For a number of years the Eugene Troupe has been appearing in all the principal circuses in Europe, where they have been the stellar attraction, as well as in America, where they have been the feature attraction with the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus. Their appearance at the Peterborough Fair will pack the grandstand to capacity.

LEAF MANAGER BOOSTS RECORD ABOVE POWELL

ALBANY MOVES UP.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (A.P.)—Although Ike Boone did enough hitting during the past week to hold top place among the International League batsmen, add a few points to his average and increase his lead over Jake Powell of Albany to seven points, it was down in the lower section of the league's "first 10" that the real improvements were seen.

Boone lifted his mark three points to .379 during the week which ended with Wednesday's games, hitting safely 16 times in 40 trips to the plate while Powell suffered losses of from three to nine points but down in 10th place among the "regulars" appeared Ollie Carnegie of Buffalo, who added 16 points to his mark to win that berth.

Carnegie, who has played in fewer games than most of his rivals, connected for 19 safe blows in 42 visits to the platter, scoring 11 times. Six of his wallops were home runs. His average Wednesday was .338.

Powell, although his average slipped, held the lead in two hitting departments with 117 runs and 174 hits. He scored five times on 14 safeties to remain far ahead of the opposition. Murray Howell of Toronto regained the lead in two-base hits from Ollie Tucker of Buffalo by smacking his 33rd. Other individual leaders were: triples, Clarence Blair, Syracuse, 12; home runs, Vince Barton, Newark, 27; runs batted in, Fred Sington, Albany, 130; stolen bases, Harvey Walker, Montreal, 31.

In the club batting list, the leading Albany Senators sent their mark back to .301, a three-point gain. Montreal forged to the front in fielding with a .973 mark.

Newark's pace setting pitchers, Walter Brown and Floyd Newkirk, chalked up a victory apiece, Brown his 15th, Newkirk his 11th. Each has lost four games.

Lawn Bowling by Herb Martin

We Just Want to pass on to a lot of bowlers that, so far, we have not received their entries for the big event next Wednesday.

There Are a Lot of goot fellows and good bowlers who are very anxious to get into this tournament and all they need is just somebody to ask them.

]=[

Anyone Who Wants a little assistance if they will only call us by 'phone at the "down town depot" we will be only too glad to assist.

]=[

We Hate to Think that any of our boys will be left out of this—the outstanding bowling tournament of the year.

]=[

About a Month Ago the ladies' section of our club held their annual tournament and it was without a doubt the biggest and best they ever held.

]=[

But This Was only made possible by the whole hearted support and co-operation of their entire membership.

]=[

We Will Pass on a little information that might be of some interest: Every member of our ladies' club played in their tournament; every local lady skip entered with her own schedule rink. The ladies were out to make their tournament a success and they did.

]=[

Now We Don't expect that our club will have its entire membership entered in this coming tournament; still, on the other hand, we do feel that many more could be accommodated.

]=[

Last Night twenty rinks came out to battle for the plums. It was a grand night and the bowling was just a little above the average.

By C.J.P.

The merry men softballers are at it tonight again at six bells—or maybe a quarter past—at Central, that is if the weather's obe. Orphans and Johnston's Tires tangle in their second tilt of the five-game playoffs. Last eve, they re-played the tie game of the previous night and Orphans copped the duke, 13-11. Now, tonight's fixture will prove no bed of roses, or even geraniums, for the rival players, as the teams are out to fight for the title tooth and nail—and they don't care where they sink said teeth and nails, either! Yeah, it'll be another battle royal and the Tiremen will be tough to take twice in a row.

• • • • • • •

When the shades of e'en were drawn yester p.m.—in fact, 'twas some little time after dark—the boys wound up a torrid struggle. And a big crowd, who had cheered themselves hoarse, dispersed chattering excitedly about the climax. The Orphans were trailing 10-5 going into the eighth. They sneaked across two markers that inning, and went crazy to grab six more in the ninth. Bert Dock's boys could only get one back in their half, so they lost out.

• • • • • • •

Wildness in this inning by Parsons, who had pitched great guns till that time, cost Johnston's the game. Wildness, plus a couple of timely singles and Jimmie Willshaw's homer into deep left with the bases congested. It was a dramatic windup to a lively ball game—a sweet one to win and a heart-breaker to drop. Frank Shine saw duty again and saved the game for the Waifs. After two flingers had gone the way of all flesh, Mister Shine came limping out on the diamond. This ace hurler got quite a hand and proceeded to hold the opposition to three scattered hits the rest of the way. He and Parsons both turned in smart performances. It's developing into quite a series—and it's still too early to lay much dough on the outcome.

C.G.E. gals and Omemee fought to a 10-all draw in Omemee last p.m., the tussle being called for darkness at the start of the eighth. The O's are coming along smartly in this half, having lost only two tilts, and they may be standing around in somebody's way when the Bond Trophy is being dished out. C.G.E. hasn't been hitting the high spots lately, but should get going again shortly. Both Marg Snowden and Jean Hickson tossed the oversized pill across in good style in this fracas. Incidentally, these gals' games are improving lately.

• • • • • • •

We heard last night that the Omemee management are insisting upon taking that Westclox game by default, claiming they were not definitely notified that Westclox could not play last week. Seems the O's came to town expecting to play, and found Westclox scattered to the four breezes on their vacash. So what? Well, it looks like it's a case for ye executive to decide upon. If Omemee is right, they win this game by default—but what about Westclox? Can they be given a loss when they acted in good faith? Well, it's no headache of ours!

Plans are being made, with plenty of advance notice, for the County L.O.L. softball tournament in the Oval on Labor Day. It is sanctioned by the O.A.S.A., open to all city and district teams, and will offer good prizes to the winners. Men's sections include senior and intermediate teams, there will be a ladies' series, and one of junior boys under seventeen. It being the final one of the summer up this way, a large entry is looked for. Teams interested should notify J. A. Holden at 503 Lock street, city.

Gladys Carvolth has just about swept all before her in the current city tennis championship tournament. After capturing the ladies' singles last week, this young netter yesterday took the junior ladies' singles finals, and, teamed with Ann Macdonald, then won the ladies' doubles finals. Not bad going, what? Four doubles semi-finals are listed for Monday, and should produce some grand tennis with the class of the racquet-wielders in the city battling to get into the finals. Two are mixed doubles, and two men's. Spectators may take a look-see at these matches free gratis.

Oshawa Dukes—quite in line with the screwy C.O.B.I. stunt this year of losing at home and winning away—journeyed to Belleville last night and beat the Nats, 6-0. Steady pitching by Moose Mathews, good defensive play and timely hitting, gave the Dukes the nod. It cut Belleville's lead over us to half a game, and shoved Oshawa into third place alone, three notches below the Petes. Of course, today's game here will also shift the standing a bit. If we win, we're tied with the Mills' squad. If Kingston cops it, they are tied again for third place and we're a full game back of Belleville. What a race!

U.S. Amateur Golf Is Limited To 180

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Seven hundred and fifty-four golfers would like to play in the United States amateur championship starting at the Country Club of Brookline, Mass., Sept. 10, an increase of 153 over the entries for the 1933 tournament.

The United States Golf Association has limited the field at Brookline to 180 players. Thirteen of these, headed by the defending champion, George Dunlap, automatically are assigned to the championship, leaving the other 167 hopefuls to fight it out for 741 places in a nation-wide 36-hole medal play qualifying round in 24 sections August 21.

Exempt from the qualifying test along with Dunlap are ten other former champions—including O. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, of London, Ont.

Yankee Holds Reign In N.Y. Club Waters

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11— (A.P.). —Yankee, officially undefeated in the trials to select a defender of the America's cup against T. O. M. Sopworth's challenger, Endeavour, to-day continues her reign over the cup waters.

Yankee yesterday defeated the cup yachts, past and present, on the first run of the New York yacht club cruise, from New London Conn., to Newport.

She had an eighth and a fifth second margin over Rainbow, second to finish, according to Van Santvoord Berle-Smith, a member of the America's cup committee, which is to select the defender.

Vanitie, Gerald Lambert's 20-year old cup yacht, which is acting as a trial horse in the series, made it an interesting three-cornered fight down to the finish, where she was four lengths astern of Rainbow. Westamoe, the third eligible for cup defense honors, was a poor fourth. This was Westamoe's first appearance since she was hauled out at Bristol for alterations to her keel.

CANADA FAILS BOXING SERIES EMPIRE GAMES

Britain Wins Six Ring Titles as Exhibitions Draw Near Close.

BIKE RACES TO-DAY.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 11 (C.P.) — The second British empire games were on their final legs to-day with a couple of bicycle races all that remained to be cleaned up. Wembly and White City were through with the empire's athletes and the scene changed to Manchester where the cyclists make a one-night stand to-night.

Finishing just as strongly as she started, and this time less expectedly, England won a major share of boxing titles yesterday and came from behind in the lawn bowling tournament to retain her supremacy there. Only her wrestlers let old England down. Canada failed completely in boxing.

Makes Good Showing

While England was sweeping up six of the eight ring championships, only Len Wadsworth of a Canadian contingent of eight was able to make a really dangerous bid. The Hamilton, Ont., welterweight reached the final last night and lost on a split decision.

An English welter, Shawyer, stopped Wadsworth rush towards the title by clinching and hanging on desperately whenever the Canadian welter got in close. At long range he outpointed Wadsworth and one judge and the referee thought he had earned the decision. The other judge voted for the Canadian.

On his way to the final Len scored two quick knockouts. McKillop of Scotland lasted less than a round with the Hamilton boy, and Smith, a clever boxer from South Africa, was holding his own until Wadsworth caught him with a terrific right hand blow in the second round. Smith didn't finish the round. He was on the floor five times.

Of the other Canadian boxers only Eddie Heathfield of Drummondville, Que., scored a victory. Heathfield, a bantamweight, got through the first round with a decision victory over Wade of Africa. But he was soundly beaten in the semi-finals by Barnes of Wales.

Takes Terrific Beating

Bill Matich, Brantford, Ont., heavyweight, and Joe Marsh, lightweight from Montreal, were beaten in first-round engagements. Matich took a terrific beating from Floyd, giant Englishman, before the bout was stopped in the second round. The Briton won by a technical knockout at the hands of Lord Douglas Hamilton of Scotland.

The burly Floyd, much the best heavyweight in the show, went on to clinch the title by knocking out Vanrensburg of South Africa in one round. The Briton packed a terrific right-hand wallop.

This was Canada's last stand in the London area. Sixteen titles were collected by the Dominion's athletes—five on the track, eight by the swimmers and three by the wrestlers. The boxers and lawn bowlers failed.

Gelbert Will Return To Cards in 1935

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 11.— (A.P.)—Charley Gelbert, star short-stop for St. Louis Cardinals until a charge of buckshot tore open his left leg in the fall of 1932, to-day looked forward to two things—return to the Cards' line-up and a boat ride.

Charley was all enthusiasm as he anticipated his first ride on the ocean. He is going to Bar Harbor by boat soon.

Still recuperating from the injury suffered while hunting, Gelbert was visiting friends in Portland and, incidentally, escaping the summer heat of St. Louis.

You can look for me in the line-up regularly next season," he said confidently. "I'll be in the pink next spring, and how are they going to stop me?"

With the optimism of youth, for he is only 27, Gelbert seemed to have forgotten that physicians once thought amputation of his leg would be necessary. Although he looked the picture of health, Gelbert still had his leg bandaged and is treated every few weeks.

Inside Sportin' Dope— By A. Wise Cracker

Stoney Lake, Aug. 9

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, here we are with the latest bulletin on the fishing situation which boiled down to the barest details ain't so hot. In fact it never was. It seems like I always get up here a week too late or a week too early or the fish is losing their teeth or something. Anyway I been calling around the spots where Mr. and Mrs. Musky has been known to lurk and up to this writing I ain't even seen a fish. Some of the gang whose ambition is easily satisfied has been bringing in a few bass so close to the 9-inch mark, I hope Fred Marshall skips this paragraph, but outside of these brislings they ain't been nothing to cause any loud hurrahs. However they's still time for a grand slam and I'll be out there trying. You know me, Al.

Been taking in a few of the regattas and while they was nothing new or novel in the boat contests the suntan garb most of the girls is wearing sure gives a fresh slant on spinal columns and vertebra. If they is health in old Sol's rays the healthiest folks in the world was gathered at Juniper Island Mon. to watch the regatta the Stoney Lake people put on for the benefit of the gang from Chemong and Rice Lake. I missed most of the races on account of the counter attractions but then a canoe race is only a canoe race after all.

Well Mac, I'm glad to see Mister Lee's lads cleaned up on the Kingston Ponies, Civic holiday. If course as Will Rogers see all I know is what I read in the papers, but from what I seen in The Examiner it looks like Mister Deyell had them Kingston lads eating right out of his hand. With a 4 hit shutout to his credit the big boy from down No. 28 Highway sure must a turned in a smart performance and I'm sorry I hadda miss it, especially since home wins has been as scarce as civil servants is getting since Mitch Hepburn started to swing the axe. This is being writ Wed. and at this time the Lee talent is in a nice spot, just a game outa the leadership and well in front of the Ponies and the Dukes. While they is quite a flock of games left and anything kin happen, it begins to look more and more like the Nats and the Petes will be the pair to battle it off for the league title. It's a sweet race all the way however and they'll be a lotta fun before Prexie Swanston has to start worrying about the empires for the play-offs. Belleville and the Petes has the edge in pitching and as always the superior gunners will win this particular baseball war.

Well, old timer, they's too much going on in this neck of the woods to waste much time doing long distance rambling on baseball and such so it is, me for the old swimming suit and a dive into the lake.

Mebbe more next week. Meanwhile take keer yourself.

Sportfully Yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

FINAL SOUTHEND SOFTBALL LEAGUE STANDING

Second Half

Teams:	P.	W.	L.	P.C.
Cogs	8	6	2	.750
Nationals	8	4	4	.500
Albions	8	4	4	.500
Orioles	8	4	4	.500

Results last week:
Orioles.....11 Albions 10
Cogs.....10 Nationals 4

Tuesday's game saw Orioles check in a win over Albions by one run. Albions came from behind to tie things up in the first of the ninth but the Birds were not through and rallied after two were out in their half to drive the winning run across.

Cogs clinched first place in this half and pushed the Nationals into a tie with Albions and Orioles for second place in the play-offs by winning Thursdays game with the Nats comfortably. Cogs secured a lead in the early innings and played good ball back of Ridley's steady flinging to win out.

With three teams tied for second place, two sudden-death games have been decided upon to settle the second place play-off berth. As Nationals drew the bye, the Orioles and Albions will clash Monday night, the winner to meet Nationals Wednesday. Both games will be played in the Brinton grounds, commencing at 6.15 p.m. sharp.

Reigns in Home Field.

ROME, Aug. 11—(A.P.). — Resignation of Primo Carnera as heavyweight champion of Italy to "open the field for youths" was announced to-day by the Italian Boxing Federation.

This is in keeping with Premier Mussolini's policy that no post in business, sports or any other line behold so as to shut off unnecessarily the rising generation. Carnera's action was described as entirely voluntary.

DEMPSEY IS BAER'S BOSS

DALLAS, Texas, Aug 11 (AP) — Max Baer, heavyweight champion, said yesterday he probably would defend his title next June and not before that time. Here for a four-round boxing exhibition against Joe Rice and Jack Van Noy, Baer said he would fight whenever Jack Dempsey told him to, and that probably would be next June. Max talked of a pending elimination series to determine a worthy opponent, and said he believed the former champion, Primo Carnera, would be the survivor.

SILVER SLIPPERS BY Temple Bailey

CHAPTER 11

Joan had not gone for her slippers because her aunt that day had been in a demanding mood. Adelaide had insisted that her niece stay upstairs for breakfast and read the morning news. "I must save my eyes and Farley mumbles her words."

Later, Mrs. Delafield had decided to go to Boston. She wanted to pick out bridge prizes. She and Joan would, she declared, have lunch in town, and return to Granitehead late in the afternoon.

Joan had hated the program. She had planned to swim with Drew, to sit on the sands and talk to him, to ride with him in the afternoon, or motor to some charming tea-house where they might be away from the prying eyes in the hotel—away from Rose Carter, who so often managed to make a trio of their duet, away from everything which had seemed of late to clutter up her life and keep her from her lover.

For no sooner had she arrived in Granitehead than she had known that the idyllic days in Main were over. Drew was much in demand. Everybody knew him and he was popular. He went among the hotel guests, gay, laughing, a good fellow. While there had been no formal announcement of the engagement, people had begun to take it for granted. Drew's attentions were unmistakable, and when her friends spoke of it Adelaide did not deny that an understanding existed. The thing which troubled Joan, however, was that she didn't care for Drew's friends. Most of the women were like Nancy and Rose Carter, good-looking, smartly gowned, and with a sort of hard brightness of manner. None of them were young, although with their short skirts and short hair they attained something of the effect of youth. As for the men they were absorbed in sports and spent their days on the links or the tennis courts, sailing their boats in the yacht club races, and at night giving themselves whole-heartedly to flirtation. They didn't seem to care with whom they flirted; married or single they sought simply the thrill of the moment. It had apparently no more meaning than that. Joan couldn't get on with the men in the least. She hated their light love-making. Now and then Drew laughed at her. "My dear, you shouldn't take it so seriously. It's just a game."

"But do you want them to do it?"

"Oh, well, it's nice to have you popular. And I'm not jealous."

And now this day which she had hoped would be her own was to be spoiled by a trip to Boston. She had run downstairs after breakfast to have a word with Drew, and had found him sitting on the porch with Nancy and reading the stock reports. She could not know, of course, that it was the stock reports which had set his temper on edge.

When she had made her request, "Will you call for my slippers, Drew? I've got to go to Boston," she had been startled to find herself precipitated into a situation which astounded her. Drew had been most unpleasant about it. He had been, in fact, unpardonably rude. She should not, it seemed, have had her slippers mended. People didn't. It savored, Drew emphasized, of miserliness. And he had said these things sharply as if she were a naughty child.

She had stood very still after that, the hot blood staining her cheeks, then had turned and fled. Upstairs she had found Adelaide ready for the trip, and with trembling hands had donned her own hat and coat. The telephone rang just as she was leaving her room. Drew was at the other end of the wire. "I'm a darned idiot, darling. Come down and I'll beg your pardon."

But she had to go to Boston and there was no time for anything but a squeeze of her hand as he put her in the car. "Come back soon," he had whispered, and her heart had leaped in her breast, and for a moment she had been happy.

The reaction had come, however, during the long ride. Oh, how could he have said such things to her if he loved her? She felt as if she never again wanted to see the slippers. She would buy a new pair, and fling the others into the sea. She wanted no reminder of that awful moment.

Yet, might there not be other moments? If Drew had done it once, why not again? Nothing in the wide world would have made her speak to him as he had spoken to her. Nothing. She was ready to excuse him, she knew he had faults, but there had been that in his manner which had deeply offended her. Joan was gentle, but she had a keen sense of her own dignity and what was due it. She had done nothing to call forth such invective. She knew that in all the intimate relations of life there will be, inevitably, friction, but she knew, too, that there are certain amenities which must be preserved if two people are to retain their mutual respects. Drew had not observed them, and she had been not only hurt but repelled.

As the day wore on she had helped Adelaide choose the prizes, had eaten her lunch, had bought another pair of slippers. Through all of it her mouth had been dry, her cheeks hot, there had been an almost physical ache at her heart. She did not know that the deadly thing which gripped her was fear of disillusionment. Her lover had been her god, she could not bear to think him less than that.

When she reached home there were flowers waiting for her, and written on a card, "For my lovely child . . ."

She dressed for dinner and when she went down, she found Drew waiting for her. Without a word he put his hand on her arm and guided her to a deserted card room, still and dark with its curtains drawn against the sun outside . . . There he took her in his arms. "I was a brute," he said.

She clung to him. She was not crying, but her breath came in little shivering sighs. He smoothed her hair with a tenderness which soothed and comforted her. "My little child . . . my dearest . . ."

His penitence was complete. "I've a nasty temper. Ask Nancy, and she'll tell you. But I never want to hurt you. You must believe that, Joan. I've been miserable."

He meant it. Even while he had talked to Nancy in Armiger's shop he had been suffering with the knowledge of what he must have made himself seem in Joan's eyes. He could not bear to think that he had lessened in the least the adoration which she had accorded him.

And now when she said: "It was silly of me to care so much," he answered ardently, "I love you for caring. You must never stop caring, my sweet."

They spoke then about the slippers. The man would bring them up, Drew said. They had not been ready. Joan, with her lashes lowered over her eyes, whispered, "I wish I could never see them again." And Drew had laughed at that and kissed her. And it had seemed to them then that the thing was ended.

It was during dinner that Rose Carter came over to the table which the Delafields and the Hallams shared. She wore a sheathlike gown of gold tissue, in her ears were gold coins, a wreath of them banded her sleek head. "I dressed for the costume ball," she said, "because I knew I wouldn't have time to do it after dinner."

"How nice you look," said Nancy.

"What do you think I am?"

Drew ventured: "The Yellow Peril?"

"Guess again."

"Gold-digger."

She laughed. "You're getting warmer. But I'm not going to let you guess any more. There's a contest, you know, and prizes. It wouldn't be fair to give myself away."

"You never give yourself away," Drew said, lightly.

She flashed a provocative glance at him. "Perhaps I don't. But I didn't come over to let you analyse me. What I want to know is whether you'll drive me down to Marion Stickley's. I'd like to have her come over for the dance and there isn't any one to bring her."

There was a second's hesitation before Drew said, "Of course."

Joan felt a hot flame of indignation. Not against Drew. There was nothing else he could do, was there? But Rose shouldn't have asked him. She had such a calm way of claiming him. Of setting Joan aside, though she knew of the engagement. Drew had said she did. She's an old friend, and interested."

For Sunday, August 12

Sunday's horoscope holds testimonies of activities of a religious, mystical or spiritual nature, with the faculties and talents turned in the direction of research or expression along these or other occult, secret or psychic lines. It would be well to be alert to deception, fraud or secret enmities. Also extravagance and loss.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which the unusual, singular, intriguing or subtle may dominate the affairs. It may be of benefit to wisely deal with rings, mergers, secret societies or to make silent agreements or use methods of tact, diplomacy or strategem in furthering the interests. Personal extravagances or inclinations to gambling should be held in check.

A child born on this day may have tendencies to the radical, altruistic or visionary, being impractical, subtle and secretive, and also having proclivities toward extravagances, curious indulgences and gambling.

For Monday, August 13

Monday's astrological forecast is a generally propitious one, with affairs moving on to prosperous channels through enterprise, initiative, practical and constructive work both independently and in employment. There should be financial gain and friendly support from superiors and those in important places as well as through the kindly interest of an elderly female or old institution. New contracts or agreements should be now made. Let not interior tumults disturb progressive efforts.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a prosperous and progressive year, with the faculties and energies keyed to constructive and practical work. In these the assistance and solid support of employers, elders and others in power and authority may be counted on. It is a time for renewing contracts and agreements but be not stultified by inner urges to unrest and tumult.

A child born on this day should be able, enterprising, adventurous and should be successful either on "its own" or in employment. Its personal life should be pleasant and prosperous.

COUPLE CELEBRATE DIAMOND WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Galloway of Oxbow, Sask., Former Residents of Cavan.

The daimond anniversary of their wedding was recently celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. William Galloway, for many years residents of this district, at their home in Oxbow, Saskatchewan. Commemoration of the event took place in the Oxbow United Church in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

William Galloway and his wife, formerly Miriam Jane Fell, were born in Cavan township. They were married on July 26, 1874, at Lindsay by the Rev. J. Brock and for some years lived in Bethany. In 1883 he went alone to Oxbow as a pioneer farmer, returning to Ontario to spend the winter. He spent the winter of 1883-1884 at Souris, Manitoba, and, in October, 1884, brought his family to the West. They resided on a homestead farm at Boscurvis, south of Oxbow, until 1918. Since the retirement of Mr. Galloway, they have made their home in Oxbow.

Four children, Rebecca Wylie, William and Dr. Harry Galloway and Miriam Etta Galloway, all reside in the West. There are eight grandchildren and one great grandchild.

SPYING ON SPORTS

"GOSSIP AND SUCH"

Once more a New York baseball club hopefully attempts to give Gotham a diamond here whose race as well as playing ability may be translated into extra clicks of the turnstiles.

* * *

Almost since the day, two generations ago, that professional baseball was introduced in New York club owners of the big burg have been trying to uncover a Jewish baseball star.

* * *

With New York's vast Jewish population ready to enthuse over a real diamond star of Hebrew extraction, the Giants now bring Phil Weintraub, a brilliant minor league outfielder into the fold.

* * *

Young Mr. Weintraub has more than his ancestry to recommend him to Bill Terry and company. For the first half of the Southern association season Weintraub was the bright particular star of the first place Nashville, Tenn., club. He hit around .400, led the league in batting, in hits made, runs scored and runs driven in.

* * *

And he is well experienced, having seen action from 1926 to 1933 in many leagues and with numerous clubs, including Rock Island and Danville, Ill.; Waco, Tex.; Indianapolis and Terre Haute, Ind.; Jersey City, N.J.; Dayton, O.; Dubuque, Ia.; Birmingham, Ala., and Nashville.

* * *

If Weintraub proves to be just what the doctor ordered by bringing the extra batting and defensive strength the Giants may need to wrest the National league pennant from the Chicago Cubs, there may be considerable wailing in the bailiwick of the New York Yankees.

* * *

At the moment the Yanks stand a good chance of finishing second to the Detroit Tigers in the American league race. And outstanding in the lineup of the Tigers is a giant first baseman who has played no mean role in keeping Detroit ahead of the New Yorks.

* * *

The young man is one Henry Greenberg, who is not only of Jewish extraction, and would therefore be a natural for the Yanks with their Brown following, but was born in the Bronx, the Tigers grabbing him from right under the collective noses of Owner Jacob Ruppert, Secretary Ed Barrow and other Yankee executives.

GERMAN FAVOR GREETS PLAN FOR UKRAINIAN INDEPENDENCE

Break-up of Soviet Forecast by Hitler Aide at Berlin Gathering.

SAY MANY STARVING

(By Pierre Van Paassen, Central Press Canadian Writer.)

ZUERICH, Aug. 11.—The plan to dismember the federation of Soviet States has advanced another step on the road to realization with the union of half a dozen white-guard Ukrainian organizations who were formerly bitter rivals. To Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, mystery-man in the supreme council of the German Nazi party, goes the credit of having brought the warring factions together. As seems only fair for having acted with such noble altruism, Germany will benefit by the reunion in that she will be allowed to exercise a protectorate over the Ukraine when Moscow's hash has finally been settled. The Caucasus moreover has been thrown in for good measure, Georgia may also share in the blessings to come. Nothing was said of Alabama or Timbuctoo. A German viceroy will administer the "independent" Ukrainian state when it exists.

Plans Are All Made

Of course Ukrainia isn't captured yet. But for the time being a dozen ex-landed proprietors, who live in exile in Paris, London and Berlin, have promoted themselves to the rank of brigadier-general, which is something. They are Messrs. Zmijenko, Kuntek, Bierozhko, Saleki, Jielenovski, Drabatni, Korolley and others. They have divided the Ukraine in provinces, districts, fiefs, departments and townships. They have thought of all their friends now occupying such humble position as taxicab chauffeurs and waiters in restaurants. Each man has been notified of the job he will occupy some day. Germany solemnly guarantees the jobs and the Swiss navy is rumored to be standing off the coast of Guatemala, ready to jump in at the first sign of trouble.

All this, joking apart, was decided at a strictly secret congress held in Berlin on May 30. Dr. Alfred Rosenberg was the chief speaker at that congress. He greeted the 200 Ukrainian delegates in the name of his chief Hitler, and assured them that they could count on the Fuehrer's ardent support and friendship. This pronouncement produced "indescribable enthusiasm."

Charge Suffering Under Russia

The two main Ukrainian organizations which have come together are the Ukrainskaye Narodnaje Respublika, or U.N.R., which means Ukrainian Popular Republic and the Ukrainskoye Natsionalnoye Objedenie, or U.N.O., which means Ukrainian National Union. Both are linked with a brief period of Ukrainian history. The first is the continuation of the regime of Hetman Petlura, whose regime was succeeded by that of the Hetman Skoropadski. Petlura is dead, assassinated in Paris by Chaim Schwarzbart, the watchmaker of the Rue de Rennes, in revenge for the pogroms that took place under Petlura. They cost 200,000 Jews their lives. Skoropadski lives in London where he is much seen in the company of my lord Rothermere.

Ex-hetman Skoropadski made a brief appearance at the Berlin congress. He entered the hall accompanied by the so-called Ukrainian general staff, among whom figured four German officers in uniform, one of whom is also Goering's aide-de-camp. The usual harrowing litanies about perennial famine in the Ukraine were recited. Seven million Ukrainians were said to have died of famine last year, six million the year before. People were eating human flesh, the electrification works on the Dnieper were said to be non-existent and the industrialization of Poltava existed only on paper. In short, it looked like a walk-over for the boys.

Reports from the Caucasus were even worse. Human flesh was not even available there. Stalin had it all confiscated for himself and his friends and shipped to Moscow.

Germany and Poland to Help

Much encouragement was derived by the congress members from the recent German-Polish treaty. This was described as the most hopeful feature of the European scene, because it indicated to the assembly that Poland might join Germany in an eventual raid on the Ukraine. Poland already possesses a chunk of the Ukraine. In Polish-Ukrainia the people were so horribly oppressed that the League of Nations was told about it. Since the German-Polish treaty, which has several secret clauses, this oppression has lessened, it was said. Ukrainians in Poland may now speak their own language at home and children are not required to denounce their parents.

These announcements brought a second burst of enthusiasm. Nobody seemed to be disturbed about having such powerful backers as Poland and Germany, who must do the fighting in an eventual war and who will cut of pure humanitarianism perhaps, leave the Ukrainians their names, although even that isn't certain.

Would Wipe Out Russia

Dr. Rosenberg outlined a preliminary plan of action. He said that the assembled guests were united in a single-minded detestation of the barbarians in Moscow. To take the Ukraine away from the Soviet Union would deprive Russia of her richest grain fields and of her formidable industrial apparatus. Once that part was safely in German hands—he corrected himself and then said: "Administered by Germany in behalf of the Ukrainian people"—once that was done, Russia would be no longer a great power, but just a mob of Asiatic tribes, whom it would be easy to subjugate.

Once conquered the whole of Russia would be a tremendous colony to be settled by European peoples, mainly Germans, who now had no breathing space. He assured his hearers that influential circles in London, Rome and Tokio were heart and soul with them for the establishment of an "independent" Ukrainia and for the destruction of the present Moscow government and that vast sums of money were at their disposal to organize. There was hardly a government on earth which did not take deep interest in their movement, as would be seen on the day when they could finally come out in the open and begin the too-long deferred attack on Russia.

He warned his hearers that they were not engaged in any small-time enterprise, but that they would prove the saviors of humanity. Future historians would point to the present congress as a milepost in the evolution of mankind. Upon that note the congress dispersed for the time being after voting to establish its headquarters in Berlin.

ROSENEATH W.I. HAS 64 MEMBERS

Thirty-six Enrolled in Recent Drive—July Institute Meeting.

ROSENEATH, Aug 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. Alfred Braithwaite and daughter, Miss Mary Braithwaite were hostesses to the ladies of the Women's Institute when they held their regular monthly meeting in the town hall on Thursday afternoon.

It was decided to write a few extra programs as the increase of membership during the drive was in all 36, making a total of 64 paid-up members on the list.

The September meeting will be held in the hall, with Mesdames Robert and George Mouncey hostesses. The volunteer assistant hostesses are Mrs. W. Pacey and Mrs. W. Smith, cakes; Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. M. D. Brown, sandwiches. Mrs. Barton Thackeray and Mrs. James Webb volunteered to act as program committee.

A house dress parade was then put on with Mrs. Crego, Mrs. O. E. Curts and Miss Jennie Karokowsky acting as judges. The prizes were won as follows: in married ladies' class: 1st, Mrs. M. D. Brown; 2nd, Mrs. Alfred Braithwaite. In unmarried ladies' class: 1st, Miss Ruby Blodgett; 2nd, Miss Gladys Blodgett. The leaders of the membership drive reported. Mrs. Ezra Sherwin having a total of 24 new members and received the first prize donation from Miss Annie Brown, a beautiful pair of pillow slips. Miss Ruby Blodgett reported 12 new members, and was given a piece of china as a reward from the Institute.

The program for the afternoon was community singing, led by Mrs. Delbert Briskin; a piano solo, "Country Gardens," by Mrs. Barton Thackeray; Mrs. Wesley Pacey gave a humorous reading, "House-Cleaning". A number of helpful hints on housework were given by several members in the absence of the topic leader unable to be present.

A hearty hand-clapping responded the vote of thanks to the hostesses and their assistants, and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. The president, Mrs. Frank Nichol took charge of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the close and a pleasant half hour spent in social conversation.

Famine Days

KAW CITY, Okla., Aug. 11—(C. P.). — Bill Coyle, farmer, whose acres have been despoiled by the drought, says he's going to keep his hogs shut up in the barn.

"If they could see how little they're going to have to eat next winter," he explains, "they would just lie down and die."

STAMP CORNER

By M. A. BESSEY

Just how many thousands of stamp collectors there are in the United States is uncertain. But certain it is that hard times or good, they are buying stamps for their collections, and it would seem that the United States government is doing its very best to get the largest proportion possible of the money that is being spent in stamp collecting. One can hardly censure their action in issuing so many new commemorative and pictorial stamps. If they did not do this, it would mean that untold thousands of dollars would be spent in foreign countries. As it is, so many new stamps are being issued by the home government that in many cases American collectors are confining their activities to the stamps of their own country.

Make Profit On Issue

We note in a U.S. paper of recent date that it costs the government approximately $3,000 to print $300,000 worth of postage stamps. Many of these new stamps are collected in mint condition by philatelists, and the profit derived from a new issue must be tremendous. Perhaps the government estimates that the sale of mint stamps to collectors will pay for the entire cost of a new issue.

Attractive designs will be in large demand by collectors, whose willingness to pay good prices for used copies may provide a strong incentive to commercial firms to use such stamps in preference to the quicker and safer use of meter stamps. More than one firm both in Canada and the U.S. has been offered such attractive prices for their used postage stamps that they reverted back to the use of them as offering a greater saving than through the use of the meter system.

This condition will exist just so long as collectors have the necessary funds to buy stamps, but there must be an end somewhere, and we often wonder when it will be.

Wisconsin Tercentenary Stamp

The three cent stamp illustrated was issued to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the arrival of the French explorer, Jean Nicolet, on the shores of Green Bay, who, according to historical records, was the first white man to reach the territory now comprising the state of Wisconsin. The stamp was placed on sale July 7 at Green Bay, Wis., and at other post offices on July 9. Color, purple.

National Parks Stamps

We now illustrate the one cent denomination of the new National Parks' series of the U.S., mentioned a few weeks ago. The color is green, and shows a scene in the Yosemite National Park, with the famous El Capitan at the right. It was first placed on sale at Yosemite National Park on July 16, and in other post offices the next day. There will be other values of this same series which we will illustrate as available.

New Australians

Further to our notes on Australia, we illustrate the two penny denomination of a series of three stamps, 2d., red; 3d., blue, and one shilling, black; the designs are the same, and commemorate the centenary of Victoria. The stamps are very attractive and will no doubt add further to the popularity of other issues of this British Commonwealth.

MAXWELL GIVES FLYING DETAILS

Claims More Fires Spotted in 1924 than in '23 Under Private Company.

PEAK REACHED IN '30

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 11. (C.P.) — Captain W. Roy Maxwell, Director of the Ontario Air Service, told D. J. Coffee, counsel for the commission investigating the service, that in 1934, the first year of the service, more fires were detected than in 1923, when the flying was done by a private company. He could not quote figures but the Forestry Branch had the information, he said.

"Were you not sufficiently interested to be able to give this information?" asked Mr. Coffee.

"Our job was to provide the flying," Captain Maxwell replied. "The Forestry Department kept the information on fires."

The peak of flying was reached in 1930 with 14,192 hours, but it has decreased since to 8,722 last year, Captain Maxwell testified.

"Has there been a reduction in the budget comparable to the flying reduction?" asked Mr. Coffey.

Picked Own Site

Witness replied that the costs per hour were down, being $41.20 in 1931-32 and $39.35 in 1932-33. The site for the airdorme was selected by himself, Capt. Maxwell said and was not suggested by Hon. J. Lyons.

"Did he suggest it might be in Port Arthur or elsewhere?" Mr. Coffey asked.

"No," the Air Service Director replied.

"How did he feel about your selection of Sault Ste. Marie?" counsel queried.

"He seemed quite happy about it," Captain Maxwell said.

Captain Maxwell said the payload of Moth planes was reduced 30 to 40 pounds by a change from short floats to Edo floats, and from Gypsy mark one engines to mark two engines. The engines were in good condition, he added, but the condition of the floats was doubtful and he did not care to take responsibility for mishaps.

"Why did you go to the expense of getting Edo floats?" asked counsel.

"Short floats were going out and hard to get," Captain Maxwell answered.

"I wasn't that you were anxious to get Edo floats that other things didn't count?" Mr. Coffey queried.

"No, sir; certainly not," said Capt. Maxwell.

DR. MARY DOVER IS LAID TO REST

Famous for Petroleum Researches and Work During War in Explosives.

BORN IN PETERBOROUGH.

Funeral services for the late Dr. Mary Violette Dover, former resident of this city, whose death occurred at Columbia, Missouri, following an operation, were conducted at Comstock's Funeral Home here yesterday afternoon by Ven. Archdeacon Dr. R. C. Blagrave, rector of St. John's Anglican Church. There was a large attendance of old friends of the deceased both at the funeral home and at the graveside in Little Lake Cemetery, where interment of the remains was made. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Fred Hills, Roy H. Parsons, E. A. Peck, K.C., M.P.; Mark Burnham and Dr. C. H. Amye, and Dr. Herman Schlandt. The latter accompanied the remains from Columbia, Missouri.

Native of Peterborough

The late Dr. Dover, famous for her petroleum researches and a United States government consultant on explosives during the Great War, held the position of Associate Professor of Chemistry at the University of Missouri at the time of her death. She was a native of Peterborough, being a daughter of the late Frederick and Annett Wood Dover, and descendant of Stephen Wood, one of Otonabee Township's earliest settlers.

After she received her B.A. degree in 1898 and her M.Sc. degree from McGill University she joined the staff of that university as demonstrator in chemistry, serving until 1905. After three years of study she received a Ph.D., from the University of Breslau, Germany, in 1908.

The next year she was called to Mount Holyoke College as chemistry instructor, and remained there until 1914. She joined the faculty of the University of Missouri in September, 1915.

Obtaining a year's leave of absence in 1918, she worked as an experimental chemist for the Hercules Powder Company and was a government consultant in explosives during the Great War. n 1920 she was promoted to an assistant professorship, a rank she held until 1927, when she was made associate professor of chemistry.

Widely Recognized

Miss Dover's authoritative research in lubricants and combustion heats of gases and petrol won her an international reputation. She was a member of the American Chemical Society with which organization she served as treasurer for the Missouri section in 1932, an held office as vice-president in 1932. She belonged also to Sigma Xi and Pi Delta Nu, honorary science fraternities. She was also a member of the American Association of University Women.

She acted as sponsor of the Cosmopolitan Club which later became the International Club. She was an Episcopalian in religion and was keenly interested in horsemanship, rarely missing a polo match.

"A Distinct Loss"

Walter Williams, president of the University of Missouri, paying tribute to her memory and expressing his deep sympathy at the loss occasioned by her death, said of her, "The death of Miss Dover is a distinct loss to the university. She had won deserved recognition as a teacher and in research, not only at the University of Missouri, but among scientists throughout the United States and elsewhere. She was one of the outstanding members of the University faculty and will be greatly missed."

Survivors are a niece, Miss M. E. Carruthers of Kent, England, and a half-sister.

WHOOPING COUGH MENACES BABIES

Dr. Dafoe Takes All Precautions as Epidemic Nears Quintuplets' Home.

MAY MOVE FAMILY.

CALLANDER, Ont., August 11. — (C. P.) — Whooping cough in the neighborhood of the Dionne farm, gave concern to-day to the parents and guardians of the famous 14-day-old quintuplets. The epidemic is of a mild type, said Dr. A. R. Dafoe to-day, and there is no present indication it will affect the five larger children, or other members of the Dionne household.

Should the disease make its appearance on the well-nigh isolated farm, said the physician, the whole family, except the quintuplets,and those necessary for their care, will be moved out.

"We don't want whooping cough in that house," said Mr. Dafoe. "There are a number of cases about but all mild; the nearest is half a mile from the Dionne home. We have taken all precautions against any of the larger Dionne children contracting the disease. They are not allowed off the farm and cannot play with other children. No other kiddies can come to the Dionne farm. This has been a rule for some time.

"The older children do not come in contact with the babies, and for that matter seldom do the parents. The youngsters play among themselves and sometimes go for a drive with their father, but they have no outside contacts."

Lakefield W.M.S. Hold Meeting

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 11.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Howard Bullock, with the president, Mrs. S. E. White, in the chair. The roll was answere by giving some economical hint and several excellent ones were given. One lady gave the original suggestion of putting a flashlight in a black stocking one was darning at night in lieu of a darning ball.

The program was under the direction of the Home Economics committee, with Mrs. G. W. Woodhouse as convenor. Mrs. Woodhouse gave two excellent papers on this subject, one a general matters of home interest and one on the preserving and storing away of supplies for the family — vegetables, fruit, meat, etc. The saving of dripping for home made soap and the rendering of fat for shortening. Meat can be kept by using care and proper methods and plays a very strong part in the variety of the meat dishes on the farm table. Home canned soup is excellent and well repays the effort of preparing it.

Tea was served and a general discussion held on the matter of raising funds. During the past year the Institute's contribution to the relief work of the village was a big one and the funds are in need of augmentation.

"News of his passing will be learned with profound regret not only on the part of his own community who had so long looked to him for guidance, but also by citizens of all creeds throughout Nova Scotia and Canada.

His widow, a son, C. Frank Worrell, provincial manager of the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles S. Kirkpatrick, Kingston, Ontario and Mrs. N. R. Desbrisay, Winnipeg, survive.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning at 10.30 o'clock from All Saints cathedral to Camp Hill cemetery.

Elected Primate in 1931

Selected as Primate of Canada by the General Synod on September 2, 1931, when he was in his 79th year, Most Rev. C. L. Worrell brought to the post the same vigorous leadership that had characterized his quarter century of services as Archbishop of Nova Scotia.

To direct the policies of the Church of England in Canada is a task for a man with youth and robust health. It was a love of service and devotion to duty that prompted Archbishop Worrell, Senior Metropolitan, to accept the important appointment when he was nearing the sunset of life. He succeeded the Most Rev. S. B. Matheson, Archbishop of Ruperts Landon who retired.

As his first official duty after being consecrated as Primate he represented the Church in Canada at the Lambeth, England, conference.

Hardly had he crossed the Atlantic on the return voyage when a pall of gloom descended upon the Church on the discovery that valuable endowments for the five missionary dioceses, sums amounting to more than $750,000, had been wiped out, misappropriated.

Immediately on receiving the news the aged leader entrained for Toronto to confer with officials. There might have been doubt in the minds of some as to what course to take. It was a time of "depression" and hundreds of thousands of dollars could not be replaced without gargantuan effort. But the Venerable Primate had made up his mind. The endowments for the most part came from England.

"The welfare and honor of the Church require that the work be maintained and that the lost endowments be replaced. This is the double task which now confronts the church," the leader said in issuing a call to lay and clergy.

Led Campaign

Here was a man nearing his 80th birthday travelling across Canada, stopping off in city after city to lead a campaign set to raise more than a million dollars. In Winnipeg he found church affairs in a state of despair over the low endowment funds. He restored confidence and hope. The campaign was marked for success long before the expiration of the allotted time.

Every morning at seven the Primate rose in his Halifax home. Before eight his secretary was taking notes and reading his mail from scattered sections of the Dominion. By 9.30 she was back at the office typing answers while His Grace was about other church business.

It was Archbishop Worrell who as chairman of the Board of Governors of Kings College played an important role in consummating the union with Dalhousie University, which ushered in an era of prosperity for the institution formerly situated at Windsor, N.S. He lent his steady hand to the work of securing adequate endowments for the college, and saw it develop from a time when it had but three students until it became the strong institution it is today, housed in fine buildings on Studley campus in Halifax.

"Central Churchman"

Clarendon Lamb Worrell, Archbishop of Nova Scotia, and sixth bishop of the diocese, was a "central churchman," holding moderate views on controversial points at issue between the two great parties in the Church, with unwavering convictions on the fundamentals. He was a man of unusual executive ability, and during his episcopate the prosperity of the Nova Scotian diocese, in things material and spiritual, was especially marked.

In the spiritual life of his country, the Archbishop was remarkably energetic and successful. For many years he carried on systematic visitations over his extensive territory throughout Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, doing a great deal of arduous travelling on the Atlantic coast and through districts unprovided with railways.

Archbishop Worrell's outstanding achievement on the material side was perhaps the building of All Saint's Cathedral in Halifax, opened for divine worship in September, 1910. The scheme to build a cathedral had taken shape in the eighties of the last century during the episcopate of Bishop Binney, but an appeal to the Canadian Church met with scant response, and the project was not actively revived until Bishop Worrell secured a commanding and central site and set about collecting funds.

His administrative capacity began to make itself felt soon after his election by the Synod of Nova Scotia in 1894, to the position made vacant by the retirement of the late Right Reverend Frederick Courtney. Diocesan funds began to show a steady and continuous increase, and the stipends of the clergy were raised.

In 1915, five years after the completion of the new cathedral in Halifax, Bishop Worrell was elected Metropolitan of Canada with the title of Archbishop of Nova Scotia. Four years later he was chosen first Bishop of Bermuda by the Diocesan Synod. This he provisionally accepted but later declined, under the strain of advancing years.

Archbishop Worrell, although lacking the oratorical gifts of his predecessor, Dr. Courtney, was a forceful and impressive preacher, and his administration was carried out with great impartiality and marked disregard for personal preference and prejudices. His personality made him a notable figure in the public life of the province, and his views on current questions were frequently sought outside the church.

The opening of All Saint's Cathedral, constructed of native Nova Scotia stone, was designed to commemorate the appointment of Bishop Charles Inglis, in 1785, as first Bishop of Nova Scotia; and the two hundredth anniversary of the first Anglican service held in Canada, at Port Royal, in 1710. The cathedral's consecration, one of the most imposing ecclesiastical events in the history of the Anglican Church in Canada, was held in conjunction with a Church congress in the city of Halifax. A host of church dignitaries from Great Britain and the United States were present, among them the Bishop of London, who preached at the opening service.

The distinction of Archbishop Worrell's career was foreshadowed at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont., where he won the chancellor's prize as head boy, and at Trinity University, Toronto, where e was Prince of Wales prizeman in mathematics and classics, taking his B.A. and M.A. degrees. He received the degree of D.C.L. from Trinity, and Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Que., and D.D. from Bishop's College and King's College, Windsor, N.S.

Previous to his consecration the Archbishop was professor of English at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., Archdeacon of Ontario and principal of the Collegiate Institute, Brockville, Ont. Among his parishes were Holy Trinity, Brockville; St. James', Morrisburg, Ont.; St. Mark's, Barriefield; and St. Luke's, Kingston.

Archbishop Worrell was born at Smith's Falls, Ont., July 24, 1854, the son of Rev. Canon Worrell, late rector of Oakville, Ont., and Elizabeth Lamb. He was twice married, first to Charlotte, daughter of the late surgeon general Ward, of Bombay, who predeceased him, and by whom he had two sons and two daughters and subsequently to Annie, daughter of the late Canon Abbott, rector of St. Luke's Cathedral, Halifax.

LANCASTER—KINDRED

HAVELOCK, Aug. 11. (Examiner Correspondence).—A quiet wedding of much interest was solemnised to-day at Belleville United Church, Bridge street, when Mrs. Kindred, widow of the late Dr. Kindred of Tweed, became the bride of Thomas Percival Lancaster of Havelock, member of the Ontario Legislative Assembly.

Rev. Dr. Semple of Belleville performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Arthur Hagar of Quebec, husband of the bride's closest friend, Katherine Van Arnan formerly of Havelock. The only witnesses were the two daughters of Mrs. Kindred, Madeleine Fawcett and Vyvian Kindred of Tweed.

The bride was attired in travelling costume of navy blue figured silk with hat and matching accessories in soft grey tones. She wore a corsage of Joanna Hill roses and lily-of-the-valley.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster left for a honeymoon in Northern Quebec. They will spend a time at the log cabin of the Seigneury Club on the Ottawa River, and at Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal.

While in Montreal, the groom will attend the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, of which body his is a member of the executive. After their return they will reside in Havelock.

Lindsay Protests Firing of Dr. Sutton

(Examiner Correspondence)

LINDSAY, Aug. 11. — The local Board of Health has gone on record as being opposed to the abolition by the Provincial Government of the office of District Medical Health Officer. The Board felt that it was a backward step in the organisation which is built to protect the public health. Tribute was paid to the excellent work of Dr. N. H. Sutton, of Peterborough, District Officer of Health.

Sentence was suspended yesterday by Police Magistrate Jordan on two Fenelon Falls youths who were charged with stealing a public telephone from the Kawartha Hotel, Fenelon Falls. They used a hatchet on the phone after their departure from the hotel in order to extract the money.

Furious Pursuit Climaxes $50 Hold-up of Drug Store in Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13.—(C. P)—The arrest of Daniel Nigra, and Maynard Richardson, both 17 years of age, early to-day, was the culmination of a strenuous week-end for the police here in which burglary and shooting figured. Arrested on charges of armed robbery, Nigra, a student, and Richardson, were today in the cells. It is alleged that both were in possession of revolvers and the latter, also of a rifle. The rifle was said to be the property of the Department of National Defence.

Both youths, it is alleged, admitted being the perpetrators of the hold-up late Saturday night of the drug-store of W. M. Blair on Bronson Avenue. After rifling the till of $50, the robbers made their getaway in a car that had been stolen earlier in the week from Senator Charles Murphy.

Pursued by City Detective Kedey, they sped along Wellington street to the west end and forced the detective to give up the pursuit when they ripped three bullets into the front tire of the car in which he was giving chase. However, they were picked up almost immediately afterwards by Ed Tutin, a motorcyclist member of the Royal Canadian Mounted police.

Firing at Tutin, they slightly wounded him, but he kept on, and firing at their car, pierced the mudguard. Swerving into a side road down Island Park drive, near Ottawa River, the thugs eluded the R.C.M.P. man momentarily. By the time he had swung round in pursuit again, the robbers had abandoned the car and made off into the bush.

ONTARIO TEAM IN FIRST PLACE

Great Comeback by Sandy Somerville Puts Ontario Outfit Ahead.

BRITISH COLUMBIA 2ND.

(By J. F. Sanderson—C.P. Staff Writer).

LAVAL - SUR - LE - LAC GOLF CLUB, Que., Aug. 13 (C.P.).—Due to a great comeback by Sandy Somerville of London, Ont., the Ontario team took the lead to-day at the half-way mark in the interprovincial team play for the Willingdon Cup.

When 18-hole scores had been posted, the Ontario team had 294 with British Columbia, defenders of the cup, trailing with 297.

Somerville, the London, Ont., shotmaker, got hot on the inward journey of his first round in the interprovincial team match to-day to bolster the hopes of his Ontario team. He took a shaky 42 going out, but came back in 33 for an 18-hole total of 75, four over par.

Leading at Nine Holes.

British Columbia had one stroke advantage over Ontario in the defence of the Willingdon Cup at the end of the first nine holes to-day.

Playing the same steady game that won them the interprovincial championship last year, the far western team aggregated 148 to 149 for Ontario.

The Quebec team was in the running with 154, but Manitoba and Alberta seemed out of the picture with totals of 169 and 165.

Phil Farley, Ontario amateur champion, posted the best score in the competition with a 35, one under par. Fred Hobiltzel and Don Carrick had an even par, 36's.

Ken Black, stocky Vancouver lad, who went to the final round of the Canadian amateur last year, and Stan Leonard, both posted par figures.

Dick Moore was one over with a 37, and Bob Morrison had 38.

Feathered War

ISTANBUL, Aug. 12.—(C.P.-Havas.)—A battle to the death between legions of eagles and storks in the air above Brusa, 60 miles southeast of here, was reported to-day. The storks won.

According to the despatch, country folk saw eagles attack a nest of storks, killing the mother and seizing and flying off with the babies. Immediately a mass of 300 storks gathered in surrounding marshes and flew like a cloud on the eagles which had carried out a mass attack on the nest. More eagles gathered until there were some 40 of the great birds wheeling about awaiting the oncoming of the storks.

The two swarms of birds became one in mid-air. Twenty eagles were killed and twelve storks. The eagles then scattered.

BRITISH SLOOP SINKS TANKER

Visiting Warship's Stern Swings in Current at Montreal Harbor.

CREW RESCUED.

MONTREAL, Aug. 13 (C.P.).—The British naval sloop, H.M.S. Dragon, struck the small oil-refuelling vessel Maplebranch and sent it to the bottom of the harbor here to-day. The crew of the Maplebranch all escaped.

The Dragon arrived here to-day from St. John's, Nfld., after carrying Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, British Prime Minister, there from Nova Scotia last week.

As the British war vessel prepared to berth in Victoria basin, she altered her course to avoid striking the small coast vessel Saguenay Trader, with the result that the current caught her stern and swung the vessel around. The Maplebranch was moored alongside the liner New Northland, and was struck amidships by the stern of the Dragon.

Tugs rushed to the rescue of the Maplebranch and started to tow her to the opposite side of the basin. The Maplebranch sank lower and lower as water rushed into her hold and tanks through the gash in her plates. The vessel finally sank to the bottom, leaving her top-deck and funnel above the surface of the water. Oil from her tanks appeared a thick film over the basin. The crew were taken off safely.

The Dragon was only slightly damaged, and was berthed near the scene of the mishap. No official statement on the accident was immediately available.

Meharry Picked Up By Passing Motorist

Police are still busily engaged in trying to solve the circumstances surrounding the murder of Robert Meharry on the outskirts of the city sometime during Sunday night, July 29. All clues are being carefully followed up, and police are still hopeful that the crime will be solved.

Chief Newhall told The Examiner this morning that he had information, that a man driving an old model car picked up Meharry just north of Byersville on Monaghan Road about 10.25 on the night of the murder. Police are anxious to have this motorist call at the police station for an interview.

Your Evening Smile

A GOOD PLAN, BUT—

Slowly, with a menacing look in his eye, the bulldog approached the two street musicians.

The men looked at him out of the corners of their eyes and then slowly edged away.

"I say, Bill," said the man with the banjo suddenly, "blow hard on your cornet, perhaps it'll frighten him away."

"Yes, that's all very well," said Bill, with a doubtful grimace. "But if I don't do the trick, where'll I get the wind to run away with?"

LYONS RELATES ECONOMY POINT IN FLYING COSTS

Suggested Province Set Up Own Service at Third Less Outlay.

LAUDS MAXWELL.

Claims Director May Not Be to Blame for Department's Heavy Upkeep.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP)—Mayor James Lyons, a former Minister of Lands and Forests for Ontario, took the witness stand to-day at the inquiry into administration of the Ontario Air Service.

The former minister related details of the service organization, and said the province had been paying from $125 to $180 for purchased flying. By buying its own planes, said Mr. Lyons, the province could establish its own service at a cost of $60 to $80 an hour, and the recommendation by him was accepted by the department.

J. J. Fitzpatrick told the commission he was given the contract for construction of the airdrome here with exception of steel and plumbing work. His price was $61,000, or $62,000 with the extras involved in rock excavation work. Supplies worth $30,000 were purchased by him from the Lyons Fuel Company. He said there had been no correspondence with the former minister.

Opening of the inquiry to-day was delayed by an error in the time on subpoenas sent to the two witnesses.

A Purchase Slip?

War-time regulations prevented purchase of 13 "HS 21" aeroplanes from J. Elliott of Hamilton for $7,500 each, Mr. Lyons told the commission. He said Elliott had been unable to get release for the planes from the United States because of the regulations.

The planes, he continued, eventually were purchased from the Laurentide Company at a cost of $5,500 each in the belief the machines were new. He said he was not aware any of the machines had

SHERIFFS OVERPOWERED.

ASHLAND, Miss., Aug. 13. —(A. P.). — Two mobs in different sections of Benton County overpowered officers and seized and lynched two alleged negro slayers early to-day, Sheriff R. H. Hudspeth reported here.

Just a Touch

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—(C. P.)—Very obliging is Martin Joyce, 45, alleged racketeer. Arraigned on a lottery charge, he was asked by Magistrate Anthony Lucas:

"How long have you been in this racket."

"A year," said Joyce.

"Then you are able to pay a fine?"

"Sure!"

"Would $50 be too much?"

"No, not at all."

Joyce paid and walked out.

Invaders?

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 12 (C. P.)—When George Reid, New York, tells this story they shake heads doubtfully.

Reid and a party were motoring late in the evening between Chester and Hubbards, N.S., when a moose rushed out of the woods.

He seemed dazed by the headlights of the automobile but as it passed he charged, crashed into its side, and then disappeared into the underbrush.

Reid examined his dented car and decide against repairing it so he could show his friends back home who happened when a moose ran into him.

LIP OF FALLS 150 FEET LONG IS BROKEN OFF

Maid of Mist Rocks, Tosses as 13,000 Tons Plunges Into Niagara.

BREAK 100 FEET DEEP.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 13 (C.P.)—Throwing a surge which raised the water under the falls by two feet, 13,000 tons of dolomitic limestone, broke off from the crest of the horseshoe at 8.10 this morning, John H. Jackson, general manager of the Niagara Parks Commission, made the first trip on the Maid of the Mist after the fall.

He reported that a section 150 to 200 feet along the crest near Terrapin Point closed to the U.S. side by about a hundred feet deep had broken away. The dolomite fell in huge chunks, one piece fifty by sixty by thirty feet plunged clear into the water, causing a surge which rocked the Maid of the Mist and threw the fireman off his feet. The shock was plainly felt at Table Rock House, 1,000 feet away, built on the same strata which was broken.

The fall was accompanied by a tremendous tearing, roaring noise. Although considerable rock has fallen the contour of the horseshoe is not changed to any extent, the place where the fall occurred having been a jagged broken line and the fall is more noticeable on the ledge where the debris fell which is very much higher than previously being covered by huge rocks weighing hundreds of tons. Mr. Jackson estimated the fall to-day at 13,000 which is compared with the fall of 80,000 from the American Falls in 1931.

Investigation Dropped.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (C.P.).—The constant erosion of the Horseshoe Falls at Niagara, which to-day caused a large slice of rock to fall away from the crest was the subject of investigation by the International Niagara Board a few years

Police Open Fire, Killing One as Farmers Charge Barricaded Gates.

STOCK SEIZED FOR TAXES.

CORK, Irish Free State, Aug. 13 —(A. P.). — One man was fatally injured and several others were less seriously hurt to-day in a riot during a sale of cattle which had been seized by the sheriff.

The seizure was from two farmers who were unable to pay their land taxes. Neighbouring farmers rushed the barricaded gates of the farm in automobiles, ripping them down in the manner of tanks going through the wartime barbed wire. Other farmers charged through the openings like infantry.

Detectives on duty at the sale tried to block the attack, firing revolvers and rifles point blank.

The fatally wounded man was shot through a lung. Others of the injured were attended by priests and doctors.

Disturbances broke out in other parts of the city and the police swung their batons in efforts to restore order.

DAUGHTERS TELL OF FATAL FIGHT

Jury Blames Sudbury Man's Death to Fracas With Brother.

IN EARLY HOURS.

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP)—Following eye-witness evidence by two daughters of Alex Raymond, allegedly kidded during an altercation with his brother Steve Raymond in the former's house near Garson, July 22, and testimony by Dr. E. R. Frankish, Toronto medico-legal expert, a conorer's jury under Coroner G. A. Henry returned a verdict that death resulted from injuries suffered in a fight with his brother, Steve.

The two daughters of Alex, Irene and Lorette, 18 and 19 year old, who were present when the alleged fight took place, testified that they were awakened at about 2.30 a.m. by their uncle driving to the house and knocking on the door. Their father told them to answer, and when they did he accompanied them. Steve struck him knocking him down, they testified. He got up again and tripped on a curtain and Steve jumped on him and beat him with both fists, they testified. Steve got up and went out, and Alex followed him to the gallery, where Steve struck him another blow, knocking him off the gallery. They called to their brother Fred and Cousin George, who were both sleeping upstairs. As he left Steve said, "Call them down and I will give them the same thing," according to their testimony.

Dr. Frankish said that on examining the body in the post mortem examination he found small bleeding points in the chest, but that that was not the result of violence.

Superstition

CALCUTTA, Aug. 12. —(A. P.). — Hundreds of terror striken native housewives today feverishly destroyed stoneware, water pots and other utensils of that material.

Their fear was caused by the mysterious appearance of black spots on the stoneware in many parts of the city and a superstitious belief that the stoneware had been attacked by smallpox which would spread to human beings.

Calcutta's health officers were besieged by crowds of the superstitious demanding protection from an angry goddess. The crowds refused to believe the official explanation that the phenomena was produced by an exceptional monsoon condition giving rise to a strange fungus.

FAR EASTERN SITUATION DARK

Soviet Press Seen Preparing Public for Grave Happenings.

RAILWAY TROULE.

LONDON, Aug. 13. —(C. P.-Havas). — Uneasiness over the far Eastern situation was marked in the British press to-day. Many newspapers expressed satisfaction over the sending of an important British Economic Mission to Manchukuo, but war fear occupied a more prominent place in the comment.

The News Chronicle flatly stated Japan was working to remove all trace of Soviet influence from Manchuria.

"For that reason she seeks to acquire entire control of the East Chinese Railways. Hirota stated that the Japanese offer that the U. S. S. R. rejected was final. The Soviet press is preparing public opinion for grave happenings. Possession of the railway, or possession of Manchukuo are not however, the real cause of the difference between the two nations.

"Japan is trying to apply the Tanaka plan to create an Asiatic empire including Manchukuo, Mongolia, China, Inner Tudkestan, and Rusia. Count Okuma had already said that there was no reason that Japan should not extend to the Indies.'

The News Chronicle stated that an influential part of Japanese opinion is in favor of a "preventive war" in Manchuria. "It is hard to believe," the paper concludes "that success limitations imposed upon the Soviet administration of the railways have not deliberately provocative character."

Italy's two 35,000-ton battleships will be constructed at Genoa and Trieste.

BODY IS FOUND LYING ON TRACK NEAR KALADAR

Tweed Officer Hints Sensational Evidence to Come Out at Inquest.

DATE SET AUGUST 20.

Second Kalador Man, Peter Highes, 85, Seriously Hurt by Car.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 13. — (CP)—Kenneth McGaw, 19, Actinolite, died in Perth hospital early Sunday morning, after being allegedly struck by a passing train in front of the railway station at Kaladar. The young man was found lying between the tracks and a passing freight rushed the injured youth to hospital but he succumbed shortly after his admittance.

Constable Hayes of Tweed investigated and stated today, that Dr. Dwyer, coroner at Perth, had ordered an inquest for August 20 but whether it would be held at Perth or Kaladar had not yet been determined. The officer also stated, that most likely sensational evidence would be disclosed at the hearing but would go no further as the probe into his death was continuing.

Second Accident.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 13.—(C.P.)—Peter Highes, 85, resident of Kaladar, was seriously injured and not expected to recover, when he was struck by a motor car driven by Delbert Lewis of Fermoy, Sunday. The aged man sustained deep abrasions, a fractured skull, and also fractures of the shoulder and ankle. He was rushed in Lewis' car to Tweed, where he was attended by Dr. George and to-day was brought to Belleville hospital, being attended by Dr. G. H. Stobie.

The man was hard of hearing and while walking along the road, three quarters of a mile west of Kaladar with Thomas Lloyd, a car approached, The man became confused and instead of leaping to safety jumped directly into the path of the car, being thrown heavily to the roadway. Constable Hayes of Tweed, who investigated, stated no charge would be laid against Lewis, the driver being blameless for the accident.

J. V. Buchanan Denies Taking Slush Fund

INGERSOLL, Ont., Aug. 13 (CP). —J. Verne Buchanan to-day denied he had "partaken of a Ontario Hydro "slush" fund to the extent of $3,500, as charged by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn in an address at St. Thomas Saturday night.

Buchanan said the statement of the Premier was "inaccurate" when it "accused me" of taking the money and "going around conventions posing as a great Liberal, but denouncing Premier Hepburn's stand on Hydro matters."

HEPBURN BACKS WILSON MILLS IN ELGIN WEST

Premier's Wife Is Among Seventeen Nominated at Federal Convention.

CORRECTS RACKET STORY.

Will Demand Early General Ballot if Liberals Win By-election.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 13. — (C. P.). — Liberals of the federal riding of Elgin West to-day threw their support behind Wilson H. Mills, their candidate for the by-election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons left by the resignation of Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn to head the Ontario Government. Mr. Mills was chosen at a nomination convention Saturday night when Mr. Hepburn was the chief speaker.

An early general election will be the Liberal demand if all five federal by-elections are won by this party, the Premier said. He was confident of victory, he added, "and I have the asurance the Liberal leader at Ottawa, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, will demand immediately a general election, because certainly it will mean the people of Canada are tired of the present administration at Ottawa and are out for a change."

Seventeen nominees appeared at the convention, all of them permitting their names to be voted on. Mrs. Hepburn was nominated but she withdrew, declaring one politician in the family was enough. On the fifth ballot, Mr. Mills, prominent fruit grower, was chosen.

Corrects Reports.

The premier renewed his criticism of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission under the Conservative regime and reiterated he intended to break "the throttle hold" of the bank. He corrected reports of his statement at Streetsville on Friday night about an "insurance racket in Hydro.

"I did not say that C. Alfred Maguire was directly connected with this insurance racket," he said. "I stated that Hon. I. B. Lucas, former solicitor for the Ontario Power Commission, formed the company known as municipal underwriters, Limited, with his own son, a son of the late Sir William Hearst and T. J. Hannigan

Alcoholic Nose Foils Hay Fever

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13 (AP) — A method of producing an alcoholic nose which drowns hay fever is reported by Myron Metzenbaum, M.D., of Cleveland in "the laryngoscope."

The alcohol anesthetizes parts of the nose. In effect the nose goes on a prolonged spree, in which the effects of one single dose of alcohol may last weeks, or even a year or two. During that time the nose becomes somewhat immune to the sufferings of hay fever, rose fever, hay fever asthma and to some forms of Autumn colds.

The alcohol is injected into the inferior nasal trubinate bodies. These, Dr. Metzenbaum points out, are the most sensitive and the most responsive areas in the nose. They are the causes of sneezes, of tears and swellings of the nasal tissues.

Dr. Metzenbaum has given the alcohol injections from a week to three months in advance of expected attacks.

BYRD RESCUED THIN AND WEAK AT LONELY POST

Weary Tractor Party Battles 3 Days to Cover 123 Miles in Antarctic.

FOUR MONTHS' WATCH.

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, Aug. 12. —(A.P.). — (delayed): Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's lonely five-months vigil on the frozen rim of the world is over.

A weary tractor party of three succeeded in reaching his solitary weather observation post, 123 miles to the south, yesterday after a three-day battle against elements of the Antarctic.

They found Byrd, commander of the second Antarctic expedition, thin and weak, but cheerful. The terse news that the little band fo three, balked twice before, had pushed through, was an immense relief to headquarters here. Deep concern had been felt over Byrd's situation.

"Admiral Byrd is quite weak, but he will be all right in a moment," reported Dr. Thomas C. Poulter, leader of the tractor party, by radio. "Admiral Byrd was even calmer than we were when we met in this place."

A few minutes later Byrd took the key himself.

"Tell my friends not to worry," was the message he slowly tapped out. "I'm all right, I've already come up a great ways. You fellows have done a splendid job and I want to thank you."

Last Seen March 28.

Byrd had not seen a human face since March 28. His hair was long and shaggy, Dr. Poulter reported, he had a several-days' growth of beard, and showed signs of weariness and physical depletion.

"Hello fellows," was his greeting to the three men who stepped from the tractor. "Come on down and get warm. I have some hot soup for you."

Admiral Byrd's weakness, it was assumed here—for messages from him have been few and terse, resulted from several causes. In June he was made sick by fumes from his kerosene stove, leaving him feeble.

He ran the stove as little as possible, because of the danger of fumes, causing him to suffer from cold. It was also believed he was unable to give proper attention to his diet.

Admiral Byrd said temperatures had reached as low as 80 degrees below zero, a record for the Antarctic.

The tractor party, composed of Dr. Poulter, Amory H. Waite, Jr., radio operator, and E. J. (Pete) Demas, mechanic, were forced to "nurse" the tractor through darkness over the icy barriers to the Bolling observation base. They were near exhaustion when they arrived.

Lad Aiming At Shed Shoots Girl In Thigh

MEAFORD, Ont., Aug. 13 (C.P.). —Miss Mary Tittmarsh, 19, of Toronto, was in hospital to-day, accidentally shot through the thigh at Kiowana Beach, where she and her mother have been spending the summer. Miss Tittmarsh, in company with two other girls, was standing close to a shed on the beach last night, and a short distance away were two lads with a .22 rifle. The lad with the rifle shot at the old shed, and the injured girl was standing in the path of the bullet, which entered the side of her thigh. She was brought to Meaford and later rushed to the Owen Sound General and Marine Hospital on orders from Dr. F. L. Eberhart, who found that an operation was necessary. APPLE MARKET OPEN IN EGYPT

Newtowns, Winesap, Winter Bananas, McIntosh Most Favored Varieties.

SPECIAL HANDLING CARE.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (C.P.). — The Egyptian market for fresh apples which up to a few years ago had been entirely neglected by Canadian growers, has now become the fourth largest foreign consumer of Canadian apples, writes Yves Lamontagne, Canadian trade commissioner in Cairo, in the Commercial Intelligence Journal. During the calendar year ended December, 1933, imports of Canadian apples into Egypt were valued at over $180,000.

Canada and the United States together exported from 130 to 140 carloads of boxed apples to Egypt during the last season¼ of which each supplied about 50 per cent., with Canada slightly in the lead. Canada's share would have been considerably greater had it been able to supply the quantity of large-sized apples which it is able to offer in a normal year, but which was materially reduced last season by the severe hot spell experienced in the Okanagan Valley.

The most popular apple in Egypt is the ewtown, followed by the Winesap. Canadian apple growers and shippers might do better with the earlier fruit, such as Winter Bananas, McIntosh and other varieties, pending arrivals of Newtowns in Egypt, if greater care were exercised in their handling. The demand is for large apples. Apart from the American and Canadian boxed apples, Egyptian imports are chiefly from Italy and Turkey, says Mr. Lamontagne.

Life Saving Medal Declined By Prince

BIARRITZ, France, Aug. 13 (AP). —The Prince of Wales has refused a life saving medal offered him by the French Government in recognition of heroism, it was learned to-day. The Prince aided in saving a boy from drowning in a swimming pool here a week ago.

Although he has received hundreds of laudatory letters and telegrams of congratulation, the heir to the British throne modestly declined to accept France's offer of a gold medal.

A long document in parchment from Paris asked him to accept the decoration and praised him for his heroism in rescuing the youth, who was caught by a huge wave and lifted from a beach into the pool.

The Prince at the time of the incident refused to be made a "hero," although scores of persons crowded around to congratulate him. He pointed out he was only one of many persons surrounding the pool at the time.

Pall Of Smoke Hangs Over North Dummer

ONTARIO PARTY GROUPS PREPARE FOR 7 ELECTIONS

Two Provincial Votes in North Grey, Wellington South Come on Aug. 20.

FIVE FEDERAL.

Liberals Intend to Enter Candidate in All Ridings in Dispute.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—(CP)—Party organizations were preparing today for seven by-elections in Ontario, five federal and two provincial, necessitated by deaths of members and entry into provincial politics of House of Commons' representatives. Nominations will be held today for the two provincial votes to be held Aug. 20 in North Grey and Wellington South.

The Liberal party is contesting all by-elections with Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario taking a leading role in maintaining Elgin west, his old seat in the Commons, for the Liberal fold. He promised full support for Wilson H. Mills, Sparta Fruit grower, chosen Liberal candidate in the Elgin West federal by-election at a convention in St. Thomas Saturday night.

Mr. Hepburn resigned as Liberal member in the Commons for this riding when he entered the provincial arena to lead the Liberal forces to victory.

Federal Elections

The federal voting occurs Sept. 24 and besides Elgin West the other ridings are Frontenac-Addington, Toronto East, Kenora, Rainy River and York North. Frontenac-Addington was made vacant by the death of Dr. William Spankie, Conservative member, and Toronto East by-election was caused by the death of Dr. William Spankie, Conservative member, and Toronto East by-election was caused by the death of Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, in the Bennett government.

Kenora-Rainy River was formerly held by Hon. Peter Heenan, now Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, representing Kenora in the Legislature.

The death of Col. T. H. Lennox, Conservative, resulted in the by-election in York North.

Acclamation was given Mr. Heenan in Kenora, eliminating the necessity of a third provincial by-election. Earl Hutchison retired in Mr. Heenan's favor when the former federal Minister of Labor was

BLACK KNIGHTS ONTARIO EAST HOLD DERRY DAY

More Than Half a Dozen Preceptories Represented in Walk.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Members of Millbrook Preceptory Provide Guard of Honor.

MILLBROOK, Aug. 13.—(By a Staff Reporter). — This village, nestled picturesquely in the valley of the Cavan hills, was en fete Saturday when the Royal Black Knights of Ireland, representative of the Royal Black Preceptory of Ontario East, took possession of its streets and park for an impressive celebration of the 244th anniversary of Derry Day.

More than half a dozen preceptories of the Royal Black Knights from the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario and Hastings were represented and "walked" under a sizzling sun to the shrilling of pipes and the throbbing of drums.

The Civic Welcome.

Reeve Percy Stinson opened the celebrations in voicing a warm wel come to the visiting Knights on behalf of the community. Referring in terms of pride to the picturesque location of the village, and speaking also of its churches, public buildings and places of business, the reeve stated, "While small in size, we are going to make up to you in hospitality."

His promise was amply fulfilled in the light of subsequent events connected with the program, which included speech-making, band selections by the Durham Regimental Band and ball games at Exhibition Park, and concluded with a well-attended public dance late in the evening.

Memorial Service.

Following his address of welcome delivered from the steps of the Village Hall, Reeve Stinson conducted a brief service of remembrance at the war memorial, calling upon Past Worshipful Preceptor Frank Millard of Peterborough to deposit a wreath in grateful memory of the war dead. This was followed by the placing of other floral tributes by relatives of the Millbrook and district war dead to whose memory the memorial was erected.

The Rev. W. Simpson, rector of St. Thomas' Anglican Church, offered prayer, after which Nassau L.O.L. No. 4 (Toronto) Drum and Fife Band rendered the selection, "In the Sweet By and By."

PASTOR'S FAITH SAVES HIS LIFE

Evangelist Preaches to Flock Week After Rattler's Bite.

HAD NO FEAR.

SYLVA, N.C., Aug. 13 (AP) — Albert Tessier, the rattlesnake evangelist of the mountains, exhibited himself before his flock to-day as living proof that miracles exist.

A week ago Tessier bared his arm to the fangs of a deadly rattle as a test of faith, and although the venom brought him down with convulsions of pain, his arm swollen and his tongue so thick he could not talk, he had virtually recovered today, so much that he walked six miles to preach to his followers.

He credits his recovery, without medical aid, to the "greatest of all healers—Jesus Christ."

"I did not let the snake bite me for personal glory," he said. "I did it so people all over the world who need the Word of God might see the light. God told me to pick up that rattlesnake and I had no fear. I'd do it again. I'd do anything that God told me."

Amid shouts of "Hallelujah" and "Praise the Lord," the backwoods evangelist exhorted his audience to follow the "Faith," and after the sermon, he led his "Saints," the ranking personages of his church—in a "healing service."

Kneeling in a circle around the "Miracle Man," the Saints, the youngest a 5-year-old boy, prayed and sang hymns, all the time rubbing Tessier's mottled right arm. They swayed and danced until a number of them, overcome by emotion or sheer weariness, fell in their tracks.

WARSAW, Aug. 13 (Examiner Correspondence) — George Payne, aged 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Payne, of Dummer Township, suffered a bad injury to his foot Saturday evening when a can of water fell upon it. The boy was helping his father draw a milk can of water from the river, their well having gone dry. The second Re-Union to celebrate the arrival in Canada of the founders of the McDonald family was held last week by their descendants at Colborne, with members coming from Toronto, Bowmanville, Peterborough, Cordova Mines, Keene, Norwood, Campbellford, Warkworth, Brighton and Colborne. The gathering was an outstanding success, both in numbers and enthusiasm. Following a very enjoyable repast, Mr. Neil McDonald, president, called the gathering to order and welcomed the members. Silence was observed in memory of the late Mrs. Victoria Johnson of Colborne. The secretary, Miss Muriel McDonald, read the minutes of the last meeting, after which the present officers were re-elected for another term. Added to the list of honorary presidents were Mrs. M. Fortune of Keene, Mr. George Walker of Colborne, and Mr. Ira Purdy of Bowmanville. Prizes were presented to the oldest gentleman and lady in the gathering, Mr. George Walker, of Colborne, aged ninety-seven years, receiving linen handkerchiefs, and Mrs. George Purdy receiving stationery. A colored ball was given to the youngest child, six months old Baby Marion, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Branscombe of Colborne, while a lace set was presented to the family coming the greatest distance, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McDonald, of Thornhill having covered a distance of one hundred miles to be present at the re-union. The afternoon was spent pleasantly in renewing acquaintances and in an interesting program of sports, consisting of runing races, a shoe-kicking contest, a stepping stone race, "Calling John to Dinner," throwing the rolling-pin, and softball games. Music was provided by the Ernest Turney family of Colborne and Mrs. James Black of Warkworth, and Mr. Fred McDonald officiated as "caller" for some much enjoyed old-time dances. A very enjoyable supper was served later, after which the tables were circled and a friendship chain formed by singing "Auld Lang Syne." Next year, the re-union will be held on Civic Holiday at the Ocean of Barley Camp in Bowmanville.
